b. He mistrusted the Prophets wordes, and as one more politike than godly, cast more perils than needed.

13 And one of his seruauntes answered, and sayde, Let men take, I pray you, fiue of the horses, that remaine and are left in the multitude: (beholde, they are euen as al the multitude of Israel, that are left in the citie: beholde (I say) they are euen as al the multitude of the Israelites, that are consumed) and we will sende, and see.

14 They toke therfore the horses of two charets, and the king sent after the host of the Syrians, saying, Go and see. C

15 And they went after them euen vnto Iordane, and loe, all the way was full of clothes, and vessels, which the Syrians had cast from them in their haste: and the messengers returned, and tolde the king.

16 And the people went out, and spoyled the tents of the Syrians: and so it came to passe that a bushel of fine flowre was solde for a sicle, and two bushelles of barley for a sicle, according to the worde of the Lorde.

17 And the King appoynted that Lorde (on whose hande he leaned) to be at the gate: and the people (c) trode vpo him in the gate, and he dyed, according to the worde of the man of God, which he sayde, when the king came downe to him.

c. The faythlesse derider of gods prophets punished.

18 And so came the thing to passe, that the man of God had spoken to the king, saying, Two bushels of barly for a sicle, and a bushel of fine flowre for another, shalbe to morow this time in the gate of Samaria. 3. Reg. 7. 8.

19 Whereunto that Lorde answered the man of God, and sayde, Yea, and if the lord made windowes in heauen, might it come to passe? And hee sayde, Beholde, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, and shalt not eate thereof.

20 And euen so chaunced it vnto him: for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed.

The. viij. Chapter.

1. Elisa propheseth vnto the Sunamite, the dearth of seuen yeares. 11. Hee prophecieth to Hazael that he shal be king of Syria. 15. Hazael raigneth after Benhadad. 16. Ioram raigneth ouer Iuda. 20. Edom falleth from Iuda. 29. Ohozia succeedeth Ioram.

A 1 Then spake Elisa vnto the woman (whose sonne hee had restored to lyfe againe) saying, Up, and goe thou and thine house, and sojourne wheresoeuer thou canst: for the Lorde hath called for a dearth, and the same shall come vpon the lande seuen yeares.

4.Reg.7.a.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, and went both she and hir household, and sojourned in the lande of the Philistines seuen yeares.

3 And at the seuen yeares ende, it fortuned, that the woman came agayne out of the lande of the Philistines, and went oute to call vpon the king for hir house, and for hir lande.

4 And the King talked with Gehezi the seruant of the man of God, saying, Tell me I pray thee, all the great deedes, that Elisa hath done.

5 Hee tolde the King howe hee had restored a dead bodye to lyfe agayne: but in the meane time the woman, whose sonne he had rayled vp againe, cryed to the King for hir house, and for hir lande: and Gehezi sayde, My Lorde, O king, this is the woman, and this is hir sonne, whom Eliza rayled vp agayne.

6 And when the king asked the woman, she tolde him: and so the king deliuered hir a chamberlaine, saying, Restore thou vnto hir all that is hirs, and all the (a) fruites of the fielde, since the day that she left the lande, vnto this tyme.

a. The king caused that to be iustly restored, which was wrongfully holden from hir.

7 And Elisa came to Damasco: and Benhadad the king of Syria was sicke, and one told him, saying, The man of God is come hyther.

3.Reg.19.c.

8 And the king sayde vnto Hazael, Take a present in thine hande, and goe meete the man of God, that thou mayst inquyre of the Lorde by him, saying, Shall I recouer of this disease?

3.Reg.14.a.

9 And so Hazaell went to meete him, and toke the present with him, and of euery good thing of Damasco, euen as much as fortie Camelles coulde beare: and came and presented himselfe before hym, and sayde, Thy sonne Benhadad king of Syria, hath sent mee to thee, saying, Shall I recouer of this disease?

10 And Elisa sayde vnto him, Goe, and say vnto him, Thou shalt (b) recouer: howbeit the Lorde hath shewed me, that he shal surely die.

b. Meaning that he should not die of that disease, yet he should die by the hande of Hazael the messenger.

11 He loked vpon him stedfastly, vntyll hee was ashamed: and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael sayd, Why weepeth my lord? He answered, For I know the euill things, that thou shalt do vnto the children of Israell: for their strong Cities shalt thou set on fyre, and their yong men shalt thou slay with the sworde, and shalt dashe oute the braynes of their sucking children, and all to teare their women with childe.

13 But Hazael sayde, What, is thy seruant a dogge, that I should doe this great thing? And Elisa answered, The Lord hath shewed me, that thou shalt be king of Syria.

14 And so he departed from Elisa, and came to his maister: which sayde to him, What sayde Elisa to thee? He answered, He told me, that thou shouldest recouer.

C

15 And on the morowe it fortuned, that hee toke a thicke cloth, and dipt it in water, and (c) spread it on his face: and he dyed, and Hazael raigned in his stead.

c. Hazael vnder pretence to refresh the king, stifeled him with this cloth.

16 The fifth yeare of Iozam the sonne of Ahab king of Israel, Iehosaphat being also king of Iuda, Iozam the sonne of Iehosaphat king of Iuda began to raigne.

17 Thirtie and two yeares old was he when he beganne to raigne, and he raigned eyght yeares in Hierusalem.

2.Par.21.1.

18 And he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israell, as they that were of the house of Ahab: for the daughter of Ahab was hys wyfe, and hee did euyll in the syght of the Lorde.

19 And the Lorde would not destroy Iuda, (and that) bycause of Dauid his seruant, as he promised him, to giue him alway a light among his children.

2.Reg.7.i.

20 In those dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hande of Iuda: for they made them a king of their owne.

2.Reg.8.i. 3.Reg.22.g. 1.Par.21.i.

21 So Iozam went to Zair, he and all hys charets with him: and he rose by night, and smote the Edomites, which compassed him in with the captaynes of his charets, and the people fled into theyr tentes.

D

22 But Edom rebelled, so that he would not be vnder the hande of Iuda vnto thys day: Then Libnah rebelled that same time.

23 The rest of the wordes, that concerne Ioram, and all that he did, are they not written in ỹ booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iuda?

24 And Iozam rested with his fathers, and was buryed beside his fathers in the Citie of Dauid: and Ahaziahu his sonne raigned in his steade.

2.Par.21.i.

25 In the twelfth yeare of Iozam the sonne of Ahab king of Israell, did Ahaziahu the sonne of Iozam king of Iuda beginne to raigne.

26 Two and twentie yeares olde was Ahaziahu, when hee beganne to raigne, and he raigned raigned one yeare in Hierusalem: and hys mothers name was Athaliahu, the daughter of Omri king of Israel.

27 But he walked in the way of the house of Ahab, and did euil in the sight of the Lorde, (euen) as did the house of Ahab: for he was the sonne in lawe of the house of Ahab.

28 And he went with Iozam the sonne of Ahab, to warre against Hazael king of Syria in Ramoth Gilead, and the Syrians wounded Iozam.

4.Reg.9.c. 29 And king Iozam went backe againe to be healed in Iezrael of the woundes, which the Syrians had giuen him at Ramoth, when hee fought against Hazael king of Syria: and Ahaziahu the sonne of Iozam, king of Iuda, went downe to see Iozam, the sonne of Ahab in Iezrahel, because hee was sicke there.

The.ix.Chapter.

6. Iehu is made king of Israel. 24. And kylleth Ioram the king thereof, 27. and Ahaziah, otherwise called Ochozias the king of Iuda. 33. And causeth Iesabel to bee cast downe out of a window, and the dogges did eate hir

A 1 AND Elisa the prophete called one of the children of the prophetes, and sayd vnto him, Gyrde vp thy loynes, and take thys boxe of Oyle in thine hand, and get thee to Ramoth (in) Gilead.

4.Reg.4.c.

2 And when thou commest thither, looke where is Iehu, the sonne of Iehosaphat, the sonne of Nimsi: and go to him, and make him rise vp from among his brethren, and carrie him to a secrete chamber.

3 Then take the boxe of Oyle, and powre it on his head, and say, Thus sayth the Lorde, I haue annoynted thee to be king ouer Israel: and then open the doore, and flee without any tarying.

4 And so the seruaunt of the prophete gate him to Ramoth Gilead:

5 And when hee came in, beholde, the Captaynes of the host were sitting together: and hee sayde, I haue an errande to thee, O captayne.

3.Reg.19.D. 6 And Iehu sayde, Unto which of all vs? He sayd, To thee, O captaine. And he arose, and went into the house, and he powred the oyle on his head, and sayd vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, I haue (a) annoynted thee to be king ouer the people of the Lorde, euen ouer Israel.

7 Thou shalt smyte the house of Ahab thy maister, that I may auenge the bloud of my seruauntes the Prophetes, and the bloud a This anointing was for Kings, Priests, and Prophets, which were al figures of Messias, in whom these three offices were accomplished.

B of all the seruants of the Lorde, of the hande of Iezabell:

8 For the whole house of Ahab shal be destroyed, and I will destroy from Ahab (euen) him, that maketh water agaynst the wall, and him that is prisoned and forsaken in Israel:

3.Reg.21.k.

9 And I will make the house of Ahab, like the house of Ieroboam, the sonne of Nabat, and lyke the house of Baasa, the sonne of Ahia.

10 And as for Iezabel, the dogges shall eate hir in the fielde of Iezrael: and there shall be none to burie hir. And hee opened the doore, and fledde.

4.Reg.19.k.

11 Iehu came oute to the seruantes of hys Lorde, and one sayde vnto him, Is al well? Wherefore came this mad fellowe to thee? And hee sayde vnto them, Ye know what maner of man it is, and what his communication is.

12 They sayd vnto him againe, It is not so: tell vs. He sayde, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde, I haue annoynted thee to be king ouer Israel.

13 Then they hasted and toke euery man his garment, and put it vnder him on the top of the stayres, and blewe with trumpets, saying, Iehu is king.

14 And so Iehu the sonne of Iehosaphat, the sonne of Nimsi, conspired agaynst Ioram: (Iozam kept Ramoth Gilead, hee and all Israel, because of Hazael king of Syria:

C

15 And king Iozam returned to be healed in Iezrahel of the woundes which the Syrians had giuen him when hee fought wyth Hazael king of Syria:) And Iehu sayde, If it be your myndes, then let no man depart, and escape out of the Citie, to goe and tell in Iezrael.

4.Re.8.g.

16 So Iehu gate vp (into a Charet) and went to Iezrael, where Iozam lay: and Ahaziahu King of Iuda was come downe thither to see Iozam.

17 And the watchman, that stode on the towre in Iezrahel, spyed the companie of Iehu as he came, and sayde, I see a companie. And Iozam sayde, Take an horseman, and sende him to meete them, that hee maye aske, whether it be peace.

18 And so there went one on horsebacke, to meete him, and sayde, Thus sayth the king, Is it peace? And Iehu sayde, What hast thou to do with peace? Turne thee behinde me. And the watchman tolde saying, The messenger came to them, but hee commeth not againe.

19 Then he sent out another on horsebacke, which which came to them, and sayde, Thus sayth the king, Is it peace? Iehu answered, What hast thou to doe with peace? turne thee behinde me.

D 20 And the watcheman tolde, saying, Hee came to them also, and commeth not again: and the driuing is lyke the driuing of Iehu the sonne of Nimsi: for hee driueth the charet as he were mad.

21 And Ioram sayde, Make readie. And the charet was made readie. And Ioram king of Israel, and Ahaziahu king of Iuda, went out eyther of them in his charet against Iehu, and met him in the fielde of Naboth the Iezrahelite.

22 And it fortuned, that when Ioram sawe Iehu, he sayd, Is it peace Iehu? He answered, What peace should there be, so long as the whoredomes of thy mother Iezabell, and hir witchcrafts are so great?

23 And Ioram turned his hande, and fledde, and sayde to Ahaziahu, there is falshode, O Ahaziahu.

24 And Iehu toke a bow in his hande, and smote Ioram betweene the armes, and the arrow went thorow his heart, and hee fell downe flat in his charet.

25 Then sayde Iehu to Bidkar a captayne, Take (him) and cast him in the plat of the ground of Naboth the Iezrahelite: for I remember, that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father: the Lord layd his heauie burthen vpon him:

26 I haue seene yesterday the bloud of Naboth, and the bloud of his sonnes, sayde the Lorde: and I will requite it thee in thys ground, sayth the Lord. Nowe therefore take (him) & cast him in the plat of ground, according to the worde of the Lorde.

E 27 But when Ahaziahu the King of Iuda sawe this, hee fled by the way of the garden house: and Iehu followed after him, and sayde, Smyte him also in the charet, at the going vp to Gur by Iebleam. And he fled to Megiddo, and there dyed.

28 And his seruants caried him in a Charet to Hierusalem, and buried him there in hys Sepulchre with his fathers in the Citie of Dauid.

29 And in the eleuenth yeare of Ioram the sonne of Ahab, began Ahaziahu to raigne ouer Iuda.

30 And when Iehu was come to Iezrahel, Iezabel hearde of it, and paynted hir face, and tyred hir head, and looked out at a window.

b. As though she should say, treason can haue no good successe.

31 And as Iehu entred at the gate, she sayde, Had (b) Zimri peace, whiche slue his maister?

32 And he lifted vp his eyes to the wyndow, and sayde, Who is of my side? who? And there looked out to him two or three chamberlaynes.

33 And he sayde, Throw hir downe. So they threw hir downe, and hir bloud dashed towarde the wall, and towarde the horses: and he trode hir vnder foote.

34 And when he was come in, he did eate and F drinke, and sayde, Go and visite, I pray you, yonder cursed creature, and bury hir: for she 3. Reg. 16. c.
is a kings daughter.

35 And so when they came to burie hir, they founde no more of hir than the skul, and the feete, and the palmes of hir handes.

36 Wherefore they came againe, and tolde him, and he sayde, This is the worde of the Lorde, which he spake by the hande of hys seruant Elias the Thesbite saying, In the 3. Reg. 21. f.
fielde of Iezrahell shall dogs eate the flesh of Iezabel.

37 And so the carkasse of Iezabel was euen as dung vpon the earth in the fielde of Iezrahel, so that no man might saye, This is Iezabel.

The. x. Chapter.

6. Iehu causeth the seuentie sonnes of Ahab to be slayne. 13. And after that, fortie and two of Ahaziahs brethren. 25. He killeth also all the priestes of Baal. 35. After his death his sonne raigneth in his steade.

1 NAhab had threescore and ten sonnes in I Samaria: and Iehu wrote letters, and Iosua. 8. a.
sent to Samaria, vnto the rulers of Iezrahel, to the elders, and to them, that brought vp Ahabs children, saying,

2 Nowe when this letter commeth to you, (ye that haue with you your masters sonnes, ye haue with you both charets and horses: a strong citie haue ye also, and harneste,)

3 Looke whiche of your maisters sonnes is best and most meete: and set him on his fathers seat, and fight for your Lords house.

4 But they were exceedingly afrayde, and sayde, See, two kings were not able to stande before him: howe shall wee then be able to stande? Ie. 2

5 And hee that was gouernour of Ahabs house, and he that ruled the citie, the elders also, and the tutours, sent to Iehu, saying, We are thy seruaunts, and wyll do all that thou shalt bid vs: wee will make no man king, therefore doe thou what seemeth good in thine eyes.

6 Then hee wrote another letter to them, saying, If ye bee myne, and wyll hearken vnto my voyce, then take the heades of the men

men that are your maisters sonnes, and come to mee to Jezrahel by to morow this tyme: (and the Kings sonnes were threescore and ten persons, and they were wyth the great men of the Citie, which brought them vp.)

7 And when the letter came to them, they toke the kings children, and slue them, euen threescore and tenne persons, and layde theyr heades in baskettes, and sent them to him to Jezrahel.

8 And there came a messenger, & tolde him, saying, They haue brought the heads of the kings sonnes. And he sayde, Let them lay them on two heapes in the entring in of the gate, vntil the morning.

9 And when it was day, he went out, and stode, and sayde to all the folke, Ye be righteous: behold, I conspired against my maister and slue him: but who slue all these?

10 Learne here, that there shall fall vnto the earth nothing of the worde of the Lorde, which he spake, concerning the house of Ahab: for the Lorde hath brought to passe the things, that hee spake by the hande of his seruant Elias. 3.Reg.21.f.

11 And so Jehu slue all that remayned of the house of Ahab in Jezrahel, and al that were great with him, and his kinsfolkes, and his Priestes, so that he let nothing of hym remaine.

12 And he arose and departed, and came to Samaria: and when Jehu was in the way of the house, where the shepheards did sheare their sheepe, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziahu king of Juda, and sayde, What are ye? They answered, The brethren of Ahaziahu are we, and go downe to salute the children of the King, and of the Queene.

14 And he sayde, Take them aliue. Whom when they had taken aliue, they slue them at the well, which was beside the house, where the sheepe are shorne, euen two and fortie men, neyther left he any of them.

Jer.25.a. 15 And when he was departed thence, he met with Jehonadab, the sonne of Rechab comming agaynst him, and hee blessed hym, and sayde to hym, Is thyne heart right, as mine heart is true wyth thine? And Jehonadab answered, Yea, that it is. Then giue me thine hande. And when he had giuen him his hande, hee toke him vp to hym into the charet.

16 And sayde, Come with mee, and see the zeale that I haue for the Lorde. And so they made him ride in his charet.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slue al that remayned vnto Ahab in Samaria, tyll hee had wyped him out, according to the saying of the Lorde, which hee spake to Elias.

18 And Jehu gatherred al the people together, and sayd vnto them, Ahab serued (a) Baal a little: but Jehu shall serue him more. 2.Reg.16.g.

a. Baal signifieth Astharoth, the Idol of the Sidonians.

19 Nowe therefore call vnto me al the Prophetes of Baal, all such as serue him, and all his Priestes, and let none bee lacking: for I haue a great sacrifice to doe to Baal: and therefore whosoeuer is missed, he shall not liue. But Jehu did it for a subtiltie, to the intent that he might destroy the seruauntes of Baal.

20 And Jehu sayd, Proclayme an holy conuocation for Baal. And they proclaymed it.

21 And Jehu sent vnto all Israel, and all the seruauntes of Baal, came, that there was not a man left behynde that came not: and they came into the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was ful from one ende to another.

22 And he sayde vnto him that was the keper of the vestrie, Bring forth garments for all the seruants of Baal. And he brought them out garments.

23 And when Jehu went with Jehonadab, the sonne of Rechab, into the house of Baal, he sayd vnto the seruants of Baal, Searche, and loke, that there be here with you none of the seruants of the Lorde, but the seruants of Baal onely.

24 And when they went in to offer sacrifice, and burnt offering, Jehu appoynted fourescore men without, and sayde, If any of the men whome I haue brought vnder your handes escape, he that letteth him goe, shall die for him.

25 And it fortuned, that as sone as hee had made an ende of offering the burnt sacrifice, Jehu sayde to the men of warre, and to the captaynes, Goe in, and slay them: let none come oute. And they smote them with the edge of the sworde: and the men of warre, and the captaines cast them out, and went to the citie of the temple of Baal.

26 And fet the Images out of the temple of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they brake the Image of Baal, and brake the house of Baal, and made a draft house of it vnto this day.

28 And so Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 But from the synnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sin, Jehu departed not from them, (neyther from) the golde calues that were in Bethel, and in Dan.

30 And the Lorde sayde vnto Jehu, Because thou thou hast done right well, in bringing to passe the thing that is right in mine eies, and hast done vnto the house of Ahab according to all things that are in mine hart, therefore shal thy children vnto the fourth generation sit on the seate of Israel.

4.Reg.15.c.

31 But Iehu cared not for this, to walke in the law of the Lord God of Israel with all his hart: for he departed not from the sinnes of Ieroboam, which made Israel to sinne.

32 In those dayes the Lorde beganne to cut Israel short, and Hazael smote them in all the coastes of Israel.

4.Reg.8.c.

33 From Iordane Eastwarde, euen all the land of Gilead, the Gadites, the Rubenites, and them that were of Manasses, from Aroer, (which is by the riuer Arnon) euen Gilead, and Basan.

34 The rest of the woords, that concerne Iehu, and all that hee did, and all his power, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

35 And Iehu slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in Samaria, and Iehoas his sonne raigned in his steade.

36 And the time that Iehu raigned vpon Israel in Samaria, is twentie & eight yeares.

The.xi.Chapter.

1. Athalia putteth to death all the Kings sonnes, except Ioas the sonne of Ohosiah. 4. Ioas is appoynted King. 15. Iehoiada causeth Athalia to bee slayne. 17. He maketh a couenant betweene God and the people. 18. Baal and his Priestes are destroyed.

1 AND Athalia the mother of Ahaziahu, when she sawe that hir sonne was dead, shee arose and destroyed all the Kinges seede.

2 But Iehosaba the daughter of king Ioram, and sister of Ahaziahu, toke Ioas the sonne of Ahaziahu, and stale hym from among the kings sonnes that were slayne, and his nurse with him in the bed chamber: and hyd him from Athalia, that hee was not slaine.

3 And hee was with hir hyd in the house of the Lord sixe yeares: and Athalia did raigne ouer the lande.

4 And the seuenth yeare Iehoiada sent, and set the rulers ouer hundreds, with the Captaynes, and them of the garde, and toke them to him into the house of the Lorde, and made a bonde with them, and toke an othe of them, in the house of the Lord, and shewed them the kings sonne.

5 And he commaunded them, saying, This it is, that ye must doe: one thirde parte of you, whose duetie is to come in on the sabboth day, shall keepe the watche of the kings house:

6 And another thirde parte shall keepe the gate of Sur: and another thirde part shall keepe the gate, which is behinde them of the gard: and so shall ye keepe the watch of the house of Messah.

7 And two partes of you, that is, all that go out on the sabboth day, shal keepe the watch of the house of the Lorde about the king.

8 And ye shall compasse the king rounde about, and euery man shall haue his weapon in hys hande: and whosoeuer commeth within the ranges, let him bee slaine: and see that ye be with the king, as he goeth out and in.

9 And the Captaynes ouer the hundreds, did according to all things that Iehoiada the Priest commaunded: and they toke euery man his men, that were to come in on the Sabboth day, with them that should go out on the Sabboth, and came to Iehoiada the priest.

2.Pa.24.8.

10 And to the Captaynes ouer hundreds, did the Priest giue king Dauids speares and shieldes that were in the temple.

11 And they of the garde stoode, and euerie man had his weapon in his hande rounde about the king, from the right corner of the temple to the left, along by the aulter and the temple.

12 And hee brought out the kings sonne, and put the crowne vpon him, and deliuered him (a) the witnesse, and made him king, and annoynted him: and they clapt their hands, and sayd, God saue the king.

2.Par.23.b.

13 And when Athalia heard the noyse of the running of the people, she came to the people into the temple of the Lorde.

14 (b) And when she loked, beholde, the king stoode by a pyller, as the maner was, and the singers and the trumpetters by the king, and all the people of the lande reioyced, & blewe with trumpettes: and Athalia rent hir clothes, and cryed, Treason, treason.

b. Where the kings place was in the temple.

15 But Iehoiada the Priest commaunded the Captaynes of the hundreds, that had the rule of the host, and sayde vnto them, Haue hir forth of the ranges: and if any followe hir, kill him with the swoorde. For the priest had sayd, She may not be slaine in the house of the Lorde.

16 And they layde handes on hir, tyll shee came into the way, by the whiche the horses went into the kings palace, and there was she slaine.

17 And Iehoiada made a bonde betweene the the Lorde, and the king, and the people, that they should be the Lordes people: and also betwene the king and the people.

18 And all the people of the lande went into the house of Baal, & destroyed it: his aulters also, and his Images brake they downe lustily, and slue Mathan the priest of Baal before the aulters: and the priest set watche ouer the house of the Lorde.

19 And toke the rulers ouer hundredes, the captaynes and them of the garde, and all the people of the lande: and they brought the king from the house of the Lorde, and came by the way of the gate of them of the garde, to the kings palace: and he sate him downe on the seate of the kings.

D 20 And all the people of the lande reioyced, and the Citie was in quiet: and they slue Athalia with the sworde, beside the kings palace.

21 Seuen yeares olde was Iehoas, when he began to raigne.

The.xij. Chapter.

6. Iehoas maketh prouision for the repayring of the temple. 16. He stayeth the king of Syria by a present from comming against Hierusalem. 20. He is killed by two of his seruants.

A 1 AND Iehoas beganne to raigne in the seuenth yeare of Iehu, fortie yeares raigned he in Hierusalem: and his mothers name was Zebiah, of Beersheba.

2 And hee did that whiche was good in the sight of the Lorde, as long as (a) Iehoiada the priest enformed him.

a. So long as rulers giue eare to the true ministers of God, they prosper.

3 But the high places were not taken away: for the people offered and burnt incense yet vpon the highe places.

4 And Iehoas sayde to the priestes, All the siluer of the dedicate things that be brought to the house of the Lorde, that is, the money of them that were numbred, the money that euerie man is set at, and al the money that euery man with a willing heart giueth, and bringeth into the house of the Lorde:

5 Let the priestes take it to them, euery man of his acquaintaunce, to repayre the broken places of the house, whereseuer any decaye is founde.

6 And so it came to passe, that vnto the three and twentieth yeare of king Iehoas, the priests had mended nothing that was decayed in the temple.

B 7 Then king Iehoas called for Iehoiada the priest, and the other priests and sayde vnto them, Why repayre yee not the broken places of the temple? Nowe therefore see that ye receyue no more money of your acquayntance, except ye deliuer it to repayre the temple withall.

8 And the priestes consented to receyue no more money of the people, except to repayre the decayes places of the temple.

9 But Iehoiada the priest toke a chest, and bored a hole in the lydde of it, and set it beside the aulter, on the right side as euerye man commeth into the temple of the Lord, and the priests that kept the vessels, put therin all the money that was brought into the house of the Lorde.

10 And it fortuned, that when they saw there was muche money in the chest, the kings scribe and the high priest came vp, and tolde the money that was founde in the house of the Lorde, and put it into a bagge. 4.Re. 22.8.

11 And they gaue the money sealed into the handes of them that executed the worke, and that had the ouersight of the house of the Lorde: and they brought it out to the Carpenters and buylders that wrought vpon the house of the Lorde, 12 And to Masons, and hewers of stone: and they brought timber and free stone, to repayre the decay in the house of the Lord, and to al that went out to mend the temple.

13 Howbeit, there was not made for the house of the Lorde bolles of siluer, instruments of musicke, basons, trumpets, or any vesselles of golde, or vesselles of siluer, of the money that was brought into the house of the Lorde.

C 14 But they gaue that to the workemen, and repayred therewith the house of the Lorde.

15 Moreouer they reckened not with the men into whose handes they delyuered that money to bee bestowed on workmen: for they did their businesse faythfully:

16 Howbeit, trespasse money, and sinne money, was not brought into the house of the Lorde, for it was the priests.

17 Then came Hazael king of Syria vp, and fought against Geth, and toke it: and Hazael set his face to go vp to Hierusalem.

18 And Iehoas king of Iuda toke all the hallowed things that Iehosaphat, Iehoram, and Achaziahu his fathers kings of Iuda, had dedicate, and that he himselfe had dedicated, and al the golde that was founde in the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and in the kings house, and sent it to Hazael king of Syria, and so he departed from Hierusalem.

20 And his owne ſeruants aroſe, & wrought treaſon, and ſlue Iehoas in the houſe Millo, when he came downe to Silla:

D 21 Iozachar the ſonne of Semaath, and Iehozabad the ſonne of Somer his ſeruaunts, ſmote him, and he dyed: and they buryed him with his fathers in the citie of Dauid, and Amaziahu his ſonne raigned in his ſteade.

The.xiij. Chapter.

3. Iehoahaz the ſonne of Iehu is delyuered into the handes of the Syrians. 5. He prayeth vnto God, and is delyuered. 9. Ioas hys ſonne raigneth in his ſteade. 24. Hazael dyeth. 26. Eliſa dyeth.

A 1 IN the three and twentieth yeare of Ioas the ſonne of Ahaziahu king of Juda, Iehoahas the ſonne of Iehu began to raigne ouer Iſrael in Samaria, ſeuentene yeares.

2 And hee wrought that which was euyll in the ſight of the Lorde, and followed the ſinnes of Ieroboam the ſonne of Nabat, which made Iſrael to ſinne, and departed not therefrom.

3 And the Lorde was angrie with Iſrael, and deliuered them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hande of Benhadad the ſonne of Hazael all their dayes.

4 And Iehoahas beſought the Lorde, and the Lorde heard him: for he conſidered the trouble of Iſrael, wherewith the king of Syria troubled them.

5 (And the Lorde gaue Iſrael a deliuerer, ſo that they went out from vnder the ſubiection of the Syrians: and the chyldren of Iſrael dwelt in their tentes as before tyme.

6 Neuertheleſſe, they departed not from the ſinnes of the houſe of Ieroboam, which made Iſrael ſinne, but walked in them: and there remayned an Idols groue ſtyll alſo in Samaria.)

B 7 Neyther did he leaue of the people to Iehoahas but fiftie horſemen, tenne charettes, and tenne thouſande footemen: for the king of Syria deſtroyed them, and made them like threſhed duſt. 4.Re.8.b.

8 The reſte of the wordes that concerne Iehoahaz, and al that he did and his power, are they not written in the booke of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael:

9 And Iehoahas ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Ioas his ſonne raigned in his ſteade.

10 In the ſeuen and thirtieth yeare of Ioas king of Juda, began Iehoas the ſonne of Iehoahas to raigne ouer Iſrael in Samaria ſixtene yeares:

11 And did that which is euill in the ſight of the Lorde, and departed not from all the ſinnes of Ieroboam the ſonne of Nabat that made Iſrael ſinne: for he walked therein.

12 The remnant of the wordes that concerne Ioas, and all that hee did, and his power wherewith they fought agaynſt Amaziahu king of Juda, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

13 And Ioas ſlept with hys fathers, and Ieroboam ſate vpon his ſeate: and Ioas was buried in Samaria among the kings of Iſrael.

14 When Eliſa was fallen ſicke, of the ſickneſſe whereof he dyed, Ioas the king of Iſrael came downe vnto him, and wept before him, and ſayde, O my father, my father, the charet of Iſrael, and the horſemen of the ſame. C 4.Reg.11

15 Eliſa ſayde vnto him, Take bowe and arrowes. And hee toke vnto him bowe and arrowes.

16 And he ſayde to the king of Iſrael, Put thine hande vpon the bowe. And he put his hande vpon it: and Eliſa put his handes vpon the kings handes, 17 And ſayd, open a window Eaſtwarde. And when he had opened it, Eliſa ſayde, Shoote. And he ſhot: and hee ſayde, The arrow of health of the Lorde, and the arrow of health agaynſte Syria: for thou ſhalt ſmyte Syria in Aphec, till thou haue made an ende of them.

18 And hee ſayde, Take the arrowes. And hee toke them: and he ſayde vnto the king of Iſrael, Smite the ground. And he ſmote thrice, and ceaſſed.

19 And the man of God was angrie wyth him, and ſayde, Thou ſhouldeſt haue ſmitten fiue or ſixe tymes, and then thou hadſt ſmytten Syria till thou hadſt made an ende of them: where now thou ſhalt ſmite Syria but thrice.

20 And ſo Eliſa dyed, and they buryed him: and the ſouldiers of the Moabites came into the lande (a) the ſame yeare.

a. Other: the yeare fo lowing, w beſt agree with the Hebrues.

21 And it chaunced, as ſome of them were burying a man, and ſpyed the ſouldiers, they caſt the man into the ſepulchre of Eliſa: and when the man was rolled downe, and touched the bones of Eliſa, he reuiued, and ſtood vpon his feete. D

22 But Hazael king of Syria vexed Iſraell all the dayes of Iehoahaz.

23 And

23 And the Lorde had mercie on them, and pitied them, and had respect vnto them, bycause of his appoyntment made with Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, and would not destroy them, neyther cast he them from hym as yet.

24 So Hazael the king of Syria dyed, and Benhadad his sonne raigned in his steede.

25 And Iehoaz the sonne of Iehoahaz wente agayne, and toke out of the hand of Benhadad the sonne of Hazael, the cities whyche he had taken away out of the hand of Iehoahaz his father in warre: For three times did Joas beate him, and restored the cities vnto Israell agayne.

The.xiiij. Chapter.

1. Amaziahu the king of Iuda, putteth to death them that slue his father. 7. And after smiteth Edom. 15. Ioas dyeth, and Ieroboam his sonne succedeth hym, and after hym raigneth Zacharia.

1 IN the seconde yere of Joas, sonne of Iehoahaz, king of Israell, raigned Amaziahu the sonne of Joas king of Juda.

2.Par.25.a. 2 He was twentie and fiue yeeres old when he began to raigne, and raigned twentie and nine yeeres in Hierusalem: and his mothers name was Iehoadan of Hierusalem.

3 And he did that which is good in the sight of the Lorde, yet not like Dauid his father: but did according to all things as Joas hys father did.

4 Neyther were the high places taken away: For as yet the people dyd sacrifice and burnt incense on the high places.

4.Reg.12.d 5 And as sone as the kingdome was setled in his hande, it came to passe, that hee slue his seruauntes whiche had killed the kyng hys father.

6 But the children of those murderers he slue not, according vnto it that is written in the booke of the lawe of Moses, wherein ẏ Lord commanded, saying, Let not the fathers dye for the children, nor let the children be slayne for the fathers: but let euery man be put to death for his owne sinne.

2.Par.25.c.

8 Then Amaziahu sente messengers to Iehoas the sonne of Iehoahaz sonne of Iehu king of Israel, saying, Come, (a) lette vs see eche other.

a Let vs fight and trie it by battayle.

Iudi.9.a. 9 And Iehoas the king of Israell sent to Amaziahu king of Juda, saying, Did not a thistle that is in Libanon, sende to a Cedar tree that is in Libanon, saying, Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife? And the wilde beast that was in Libanon, went and trode downe the thistle.

10 Thou hast smitten Edom, thyne hart hath made thee proude: Enioy thys glory, and tarrie at home: Why doest thou prouoke to mischiefe, that thou shouldest be ouerthrowē, and Juda with thee?

11 But Amaziahu would not heare: And Iehoas king of Israell went vp, and he, and Amaziahu king of Juda, sawe eyther other at Bethsames, which is in Juda.

12 And Juda was put to the worse before Israell, and they fledde euery man to theyr tentes.

13 And Iehoas king of Israell toke Amaziahu king of Juda, the sonne of Iehoas, the sonne of Ahaziahu, at Bethsames, and came to Hierusalem, and brake downe the wall of Hierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim, to the corner gate, four hundred cubites.

14 And he toke all the golde and syluer, and C all the vessels that were found in the house of the Lorde, and in the treasures of the kinges house: and the children toke hee to bee hys wardes, and returned to Samaria agayne.

15 The rest of the actes of Iehoas whiche he did, and his power, and how he fought with Amaziahu king of Juda, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of ẏ kings of Israell?

16 And Iehoas slept with his fathers, and was buried at Samaria among the kings of Israell, and Ieroboam his sonne raigned in his steede.

17 Amaziahu the sonne of Joas king of Juda liued, after the death of Iehoas sonne of Iehoahaz king of Israell fiftiene yeeres.

18 And the remnant of the wordes that concerne Amaziahu, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kynges of Juda?

19 But they conspired treason against hym in Hierusalem, and when he fled to Lachis, they sent after him to Lachis, and slue hym there.

20 And they broughte him on horses, and hee was buried at Hierusalem with his fathers, in the citie of Dauid.

21 And all the people of Juda toke Azaria D (which was sixtiene yeeres olde) and made him king for his father Amaziahu. 2.Par.26.a.

22 He built Elath, and brought it agayne to Juda after that the king was layde to rest with his fathers.

A 1 IN the twentie and seuenth yeere of Jeroboam king of Israell, beganne Azaria son of Amazia king of Juda to raigne.

2 Sixtiene yeeres olde was he when he was made king, and hee raigned two and fiftie yeeres in Hierusalem: and his mothers name was Jecholiahu, of Hierusalem.

3 And he did ỳ whiche was right in the sight of the Lozd, accozding to all thinges as dyd his father Amaziahu.

4 Saue that the high places were not put away: For the people offered and burnt incense still on the high places.

Leui.14.a. 5 And the Lozd smote the king, and he was a lepze vnto the day of his death, and dwelt in a seuerall house at libertie: and Iotham the kings sonne gouerned the palace, and iudged the people of the land.

6 The rest of the wozdes that concerne Azaria, and all that he did, are they not wzitten in the booke of the Chzonicles of the kynges of Juda?

7 And so Azaria slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the citie of Dauid, and Iotham his sonne raigned in his steede. B

8 In the thirtie and eyghte yeere of Azaria king of Juda, did Sacharia the sonne of Jeroboam raigne vppon Israell in Samaria sixe moneths:

9 And wzought that which was euill in the syghte of the Lozde, as dyd his fathers: and turned not away from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, whiche made Israell to synne.

10 And Sallum the sonne of Jabes conspired against him, and smote him in the sight of the people, and killed him, and raigned in his steede.

11 The rest of the wozdes that concerne Zacharia, beholde, they are wzitten in the booke of the Chzonicles of the kings of Israell:

12 This is also the wozde of the Lozde whych he spake vnto Jehu, saying, Thy sonnes shal syt on the seate of Israell in the fourth generation after thee. And so it came to passe. 4.Reg.

13 Sallum the sonne of Jabes beganne to raigne in the nine and thirtieth yeere of Vzziah king of Juda, and he raigned a moneth in Samaria.

14 For Menahem the sonne of Gadi went C from Thirza, and came to Samaria, and smote Sallum ỳ sonne of Jabes in Samaria, and slue him, and raigned in his steede.

15 The rest of the wozds that concerne Sallum, and the treason whiche hee conspired, beholde, they are wzitten in the booke of the Chzonicles of the kings of Israell.

16 The same tyme Menahem destroyed Thiphsah, and all that were therein, and the coastes thereof, from Thirza: and bycause they opened not to him, hee smote it, and ript vp all the women with childe.

17 The thirtie and ninth yeere of Azaria king of Juda, beganne Menahem the sonne of Gadi to raigne vpon Israell ten yeeres in Samaria.

18 And he did euill in the sight of the Lozde, and turned not away all hys dayes from the sinne of Jeroboam, the sonne of Nabat which made Israell to synne.

19 And Phul the king of Assyria, came vpon the land: and Menahem gaue Phul a thousand talents of syluer, that his hand myght be with him, and stablishe the kingdome in his hande.

20 And Menahem made a proclamation for the money in Israell, that all men of substance substance, should giue the king of Assyria fiftiene sicles of siluer a peece: and so the kyng of Assyria turned backe againe, and tarried not there in the lande.

21 The rest of the wordes that cõcerne Menahem, and all that he dyd, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of ỹ kings of Israell?

22 And Menahem slept with his fathers, and Pecahia his sonne did raigne in his steede.

23 In the fiftieth yeere of Azaria king of Juda, beganne Pecahia the sonne of Menahem to raigne ouer Israell in Samaria two yeeres.

24 And did that which was euill in the sight of the Lord, and left not off from the synnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, whyche made Israel synne.

25 But Pecah ỹ sonne of Remaliahu, which was a captayne of hys, conspired agaynste him, and smote him in Samaria, euen in the place of the kinges house, with Argob and Aria, and with him were fiftie men of the Gileadites: and he kylled hym, and raigned in his rowme.

26 The rest of the wordes that concerne Pecahia, and all that he did, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israell.

27 In the two and fiftieth yeere of Azaria king of Juda, began Pecah the son of Remaliahu to raygne ouer Israell in Samaria twentie yeeres:

28 And did euil in the syght of the Lorde, and turned not away from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat that made Israell to synne.

29 In the dayes of Pecah king of Israell, came Thiglath Pelesar king of Assyria, and toke Jion, Abel, Beth maacha, Janaoth, Kedes, Hazor, Gilead, Galilee, and all the lande of Nephthali, and carried them away to Assyria.

30 And Hosea the sonne of Ela, conspyred treason against Pecah the sonne of Remaliahu, and smote him, and slue him, and raigned in his steede in the twentieth yeere of Iotham the sonne of Uzziath.

31 The rest of the wordes that concerne Pecah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israell.

32 The seconde yeere of Pecah, the sonne of Remaliahu king of Israell, began Iotham the son of Uzziath king of Juda to raigne.

33 Fiue and twentie yeeres olde was he whē he began to raigne, and he raigned sixtiene yeeres in Hierusalem: hys mothers name was Jerusa, the daughter of Zadoc.

34 And he did that which is right in ỹ syghte of the Lord: euen according to all as dyd his father Uzziath, so did he.

35 But the high places were not put away, for the people offered and burnt incense still in the high places: he built the higher doze of the house of the Lorde. F

36 The rest of the wordes that concerne Iotham, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

37 (In those days the Lorde beganne to send into Juda, Rezin the king of Syria, & Pecah the sonne of Remaliahu.)

38 And Iotham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father, and Ahaz his son raigned in his steede.

1 The seuentienth yeere of Pecah the sonne of Remaliahu (king of Israel,) (a) Ahaz the sonne of Iotham king of Juda began to raigne. A

a. A wicked sonne of a godly father.

2 Twentie yeeres olde was he when he was made king, and raigned sixtiene yeeres in Hierusalem, and did not that whiche was right in the eyes of the Lorde his God, lyke Dauid his father.

3 But walked in the way of the kinges of Israell, yea, and made hys sonnes to goe through the fyre, after the abhominations of the heathen, whome the Lord cast out before the children of Israell. Deu. 18. b.

4 And hee offered and burnt incense in the hygh places, and on the hilles, and vnder euery thicke tree.

5 Then Rezin king of Syria, and Pecah son of Remaliahu king of Israell, came vp to Hierusalem, to fyght: And they fought against Ahaz, but could not ouercome hym. Esay. 7. a.

6 At the same time Rezin king of Syria, brought Elath againe to Syria, and rid the Jewes thence: and the Syrians came to Elath, and dwelt therein vnto this day. 4. Reg. 14. k.

7 So Ahaz sent messengers to Thiglath Pelesar king of Assyria, saying, I am thy seruaunte, and thy sonne, come vp and deliuer me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israell, which ryse vp against me. B

b. Neglecting Gods help, he spoyled the temple of God, to procure mans help.

Eſay.8.b. 9 And the king of Aſſyria conſented vnto hym: For the king of Aſſyria went vp againſt Damaſcon, and when he had taken it, he carried the people away to Kir, and ſlue Rezin.

10 And king Ahaz went to Damaſcon, to meete Thiglath Peliſar king of Aſſyria: and when king Ahaz ſawe an aulter that was at Damaſcon, he ſent Uria the prieſt the paterne of the aulter, and the faſhion of it, and all the workmanſhip thereof.

c. There is no prince ſo wicked but he ſhall vſe ſorcerers and falſe miniſters to ſeruc hys turne. 11 And Uria the prieſte made an aulter in (c) all poyntes like to the paterne which king Ahaz had ſente from Damaſcon, euen ſo dyd Uria the prieſte make it, agaynſt king Ahaz came from Damaſcon.

12 And ſo when the king was come frō Damaſcon, he ſaw the aulter: and the king went to it, and offered thereon.

13 And he burnt his burnt offering, and hys meate offering, and powred his drinke offering, and ſprinkeled the bloud of his peace offering beſyde the aulter, ¶ 14 And by the braſen aulter whiche was before the Lorde, and ſet it without the temple, betweene the aulter and the temple of the Lorde, and put it on the North ſyde of the aulter.

15 And king Ahaz commaunded Uria the prieſt, and ſayde, Uppon the great aulter, ſet on fyre in the morning the burnt offering, and in the euen the meate offering, and the kings burnt ſacrifice, and his meate offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meate offering, and their drinke offerings, and powre thereby all the bloud of the burnt offering, and all the bloud of the ſacrifice: and the braſen aulter, will I come and ſee.

16 And Uria the prieſte did, accordyng to all things as king Ahaz commaunded him.

3.Reg.7.d. 17 And king Ahaz brake the ſydes of the bottomes, and toke the lauer from off them, and toke downe the lauatorie from off the braſen Oxen that were vnder it, and put it vpon a pauement of ſtones.

18 And the vayle for the Sabboth that they had made in the houſe, and the kings entrie without, turned he to the houſe of the Lorde, for feare of the king of Aſſyria.

19 The reſt of the wordes that concerne Ahaz what he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

20 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and was buried wyth hys fathers in the citie of Dauid, and Hezekia his ſonne raigned in hys ſtede.

Jer.25.b.

C 14 Notwithſtanding, they would not heare, but rather hardned their neckes, like to the ſtubbernelle of their (b) fathers, that byd not beleeue in the Lord their God. Deut.21.g. Pſal.3.b. b This not ſhew to followe our fathers, except we can proue them godly.

15 For they refuſed his ſtatutes, and hys appoyntment, that he made with their fathers, and the witneſſes wherewith he witneſſed vnto them, and they folowed vanitie, and became vayne, and went after the heathen that were rounde about them, concerning whome the Lorde had charged them, that they ſhould not do like them.

16 But they left all the commaundements of the Lord their God, and made them images of metal, euen two calues, and (made) idoll groaues, and woꝛſhipped all the (c) hoſt of heauen and ſerued Baal. 3.Reg.12.c. c That is, the ſame, the moone, and the ſtarres.

17 And they ſacrificed their ſonnes and theyr daughters in fyre, and vſed witchcrafts, and enchauntments, euen ſelling them ſelues to woꝛke wickednelle in the ſight of the Lord, and to anger hym. 3.Reg.21.b. 3.Eſd.1.a. 2.Reg.17.d. a. Aſſarhaddon the Meder and Perſian was ſubiect vnto Aſſyrian.

18 And the Lord was exceeding wroth with Iſrael, and put them out of his ſighte, that there was left but the tribe of Juda only. B

19 Neuertheleſſe, Juda alſo kept not the cõmaundements of the Lorde their God, but walked in the ceremonies of Iſrael, whych they made.

20 And the Lord caſt off all the ſeede of Iſraell, and vexed them, and deliuered them into the handes of ſpoylers, vntill he had caſt them out of hys ſyght.

D 21 For he (d) cut off Iſraell from the houſe of Dauid, and made them a king, euen Ieroboam the ſonne of Nabat? And Ieroboam dꝛewe Iſraell away, that they ſhoulde not folow the Lord, and made them ſinne a great ſinne. d. That is, the ten tribes.

22 For the children of Iſraell walked in all the ſinnes of Ieroboam which he did, and departed not therefrom.

23 Untill the Lorde put Iſrael away out of his ſight, as he had ſayde by all his ſeruants the prophetes: and ſo was Iſraell carryed awaye out of their owne lande to Aſſyria, euen vnto this day.

e. Of theſe people came the Samaritanes, of whom mention is made in the Goſpel. Deut.4.

24 And the kyng of Aſſyria brought menne from Babylon, from (e) Cutha, from Iua, from Hamath, and from Sepharuaim, and put them in the cities of Samaria, in ſteede of the children of Iſraell: and they poſſeſſed Samaria, and dwelt in the Cities thereof.

25 And it fortuned, that at the beginnyng of their dwellyng there, they feared not the Lorde, and the Lorde ſente Lyons among them, whiche ſlue them.

26 Wherefore they ſpake to the king of Aſſyria, ſaying, The nations whiche thou haſte tranſlated and put in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the lawe of the God of the land: therefore he hath ſent Lyons vpon them, and behold, they ſlay them, becauſe they knowe not the manner of woꝛſhipping the God of the lande.

27 Then the king of Aſſyria commaunded, ſaying, Carrie thither one of ỹ prieſts whom ye brought thence, and let him goe and dwel there, and teache them the faſhion howe to ſerue the God of the countrey.

28 And then one of the Prieſts whome they E had carried from Samaria, came and dwelt in Bethel, and taught them how they ſhould feare the Lorde.

29 Howbeit euery nation made them Gods of their owne, and put them in the houſes of the high places, which the Samaritanes had made, euery nation in their cities wherein they dwelt.

30 The men of Babylon made Socoth Benoth, and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Aſima, 31 The Anites made Nibbaz and Tharthak: and the Sepharuites burnt their children in fyre for Adramelech, and Anamalech, ỹ gods of Sepharuaim.

32 And ſo they feared the Lorde, and made them prieſtes of the baſeſt of them, which ſacrifiſed for thẽ in the houſes of ỹ high places.

33 And ſo (f) they feared the Lord, and ſerued their owne goddes, after the manner of the people whome they caried thence. f. We can not worſhip God and idols.

34 And vnto this daye, they do after the olde manner: and neyther feare God, neyther doe after their ordinances and cuſtomes, and after the law and commaundement which the Lorde commaunded the children of Jacob, whome he called Iſrael.

35 And the Lorde made an appoyntmente F with them, and charged them, ſaying, Feare Gene.32.c. none other Goddes, nor bowe your ſelues to them, nor ſerue them, nor ſacrifice to them: Jud.6.b.

36 But feare the Lord whyche brought you Jere.10.a. out of the land of Egypt with great power, and a ſtretched out arme, him feare, and to him bowe, and to him do ſacrifice.

37 The ſtatutes, ordinances, lawe and commaundemente whiche he wrought for you, ſee that ye be diligent to doe for euermore, and feare not any other goddes.

38 And the appoyntmente that I haue made with you, see ye forget not, and feare none other goddes.

39 But the Lorde youre God ye shall feare, and he shall deliuer you out of the handes of all your enimies.

40 Howbeit, they did not hearken, but dyd after their old custome.

41 And so these nations feared the Lord, and serued their images also, like as did theyr children, and their childers children: euen as did their fathers, so do they vnto this day.

The.xviij. Chapter.

4 Hezekia king of Iuda putteth downe the brasen serpent, and destroyeth the idolles, 7. and prospereth. 11. Israell is carried away captiue. 30. The blasphemie of Sennacherib.

A 1 IN the third yeere of Hosea sonne of Ela king of Israell, it came to passe, that Hezekia the sonne of Ahaz king of Juda did raigne.

2.Par.29.f. 2 Twentie and fiue yeeres olde was he whē he began to raigne, and raigned nine and twentie yeeres in Hierusalem. His mothers name also was Abi, ẏ daughter of Zacharia

3 And he did that which is right in the sighte of the Lord, accoyding to all as did Dauid his father.

2. It perteyneth to a good prince, to purge the Church of god Num.21.f. b. That is to say, a peece of brasse, so called by contempt, bycause it was abused to idolatrie, although it was set vp at Gods cōmandement.

4 He (a) put away the high places, and brake the images, and cut downe the groaues, and all to brake the brasen serpente that Moses had made: For vnto those dayes the children of Israel did burne sacrifice to it: and he called it (b) Nehustan.

5 He trusted in the Lorde God of Israell, so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Juda, neyther were there anye such before him.

6 For he claue to the Lord, and departed not from him: but kept his commaundementes, which the Lord commaunded Moses.

B 7 And the Lorde was with him, so that hee prospered in all thinges whiche hee toke in hande: And he rebelled againste the kyng of Assyria, and serued him not.

8 He smote the Philistines euen vnto Azza, and the coastes therof, both castels wher they kept watches, and strong cities.

9 And in the fourth yeare of king Hezekia, (which was the seuenth yeere of Hosea sonne of Ela king of Israell) it fortuned that Salmanazar king of Assyria came vp againste Samaria, and besieged it.

10 And after three yeeres they toke it: euen in the sixth yeere of Hezekia (that is to saye, the ninth yeere of Hosea king of Israell) Samaria was wonne.

11 And the king of Assyria did carrie awaye Israel vnto Assyria, and put them in Halath, and in Habor, by the riuer of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes:

12 Bycause they would not hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord their God, but transgressed his appoyntment, and all that Moses the seruaunte of the Lorde commaunded: and would neyther heare them, nor doe them.

13 Therefore in the fourteenth yeere of kyng Hezekia, dyd Sennacherib king of Assyria come vp against all the strong cities of Juda, and toke them. 2.Par.32.a. Esay.36.a. Ecclu.48.b.

14 And Hezekia king of Juda, sente to the king of Assyria to Lachis, saying, I haue offended: departe from mee, and all that thou puttest on me, that will I beare. And ẏ king of Assyria appoynted vnto Hezekia kyng of Juda, three hundred talentes of syluer, and thirtie talents of golde. C

15 And Hezekia gaue him all the syluer that was found in the house of the Lorde, and in the treasures of the kings house. 4.Reg.24.

16 At the same season did Hezekia rent of the dores of the temple of the Lord, and the pillers (whiche the saide Hezekia king of Juda had couered ouer) and gaue them to ẏ kyng of Assyria.

17 And the king of Assyria sente (c) Tharthan, and Rabsaris, and Rabsakeh, frō Lachis, to king Hezekia, with a greate host against Hierusalem: and they wente vp, and came to Hierusalem, and gate them vp, and stood by the conduite of the vpper poole which is in the way of the fullers fielde. c. After seuen yeeres when Hezekia refused to pay appoynted, but toke his of Assyria his cap against him.

18 And when they had called to the kyng, there came out to them Eliakim the sonne of Elkia, which was steward of the housholde, and Sobna the scribe, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the recorder. Matth.16.

19 And Rabsakeh sayd vnto them, Tell yee Hezekia, I pray you, thus sayeth the greate king, euen the king of Assyria, What confidence is this that thou hast?

20 Thou thinkest surely, I haue eloquence, but counsell and strength are for the warre: On whome then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Doest thou trust to the staffe of thys broken reede Egypt, on whiche if a man leane, it will goe into his hand, and pearce it: Euen so is Pharao king of Egipt vnto all that trust on him. Esay.36.a. Ezec.29.a. D

22 If ye say vnto me, We trust in the Lord oure G O D: Is not that hee, whose hygh places, and whose aultars Hezekia 2.Par.32.a.

hath hath (d) put downe? and hath sayde to Juda and Hierusalem, Ye shal worshyp before this aulter here in Hierusalem.

d. Idolaters thinke that gods religion is destroyed, when idolatrie and superstitiō are removed.

23 Nowe therefore, I pray thee, gyue hostages to my Lord the kyng of Assyria, and I will deliuer thee two thousande horses, if thou be able to set riders vpon them:

24 Why thinkest thou scorne at the presence of one of the least dukes of my maisters seruauntes, and trustest to Egipt for charettes and horsemen?

25 Moreouer, am I come nowe without the bidding of the Lord to this place, to destroy it? The Lorde sayde to me, Goe vp to this land, and destroy it.

26 And Eliakim the sonne of Helkia, and Sobna, and Joah, sayde vnto Rabsakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruauntes in the Syrians language (for we vnderstande it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tong, in the eares of this people that are on the wall.

27 And Rabsakeh sayd vnto them: Hath my maister sente me to thy maister and thee, to speake these wordes? Hath he not sent me bycause of the men which sitte on the wall, that they may eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne pisse with you?

C 28 And so Rabsakeh stode, and cryed with a lowde voyce in the Iewes language, and spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the greate king, euen of the king of Assyria.

29 Thus sayeth the king, Let not Hezekia beguyle you, for he shall not be able to deliuer you out of my hand:

30 Neyther let Hezekia make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord shall surely deliuer vs, and this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Assyria.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekia: for thus sayeth the king of Assyria, Deale kindly with me, and come out to me, and then eate euery mā of hys owne vine, and of hys owne figge tree, and drinke euery man of the water of his owne well, 32 Till I come and fetche you to as good a land as yours is, a land of corne and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oyle, of Olive trees, and of hony, that yee maye liue, and not dye: And hearken not vnto Hezekia, for he beguileth you, saying, The Lord shall deliuer vs.

Esay.10.b. 33 Hath euery one of the goddes of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

34 Where is the God of Hamath, and of Arphad? and where is the God of Sepharuaim? Hena, and Iua? Dyd they deliuer Samaria out of mine hande?

35 And what God is among all the Goddes of the nations, that hath deliuered hys lande out of mine hande? (e) Shall the Lord deliuer Hierusalem out of mine hand? F

e. An execrable blasphemie, to compare dead idols with the liuing God.

36 But the people helde their peace, and answeared not him a worde: for the king had commaunded, saying, Answeare him not.

37 Then Eliakim the sonne of Helkia which was the steward of the household, and Sobna the scribe, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the recorder, came to Hezekia with theyr clothes rente, and tolde hym the wordes of Rabsakeh.

The.xix. Chapter.

6. God promiseth Isai victory to Hezekia. 35. The Angell of the Lorde killeth an hundred and fourescore and fyue thousand men of the Assyrians. 37. Sennacherib is killed of his owne sonnes.

1 SO it came to passe, that whē king Hezekia heard it, he rent his clothes, and put on sacke, and came into the house of the Lorde, I Esay.38.a.

2 And sent Eliakim, which was the steward of the household, and Sobna the scribe, and the elders of the priestes clothed in sacke, to Isai the prophet, the sonne of Amos.

3 And they sayd vnto him, Thus sayeth Hezekia, This day is a daye of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: For the children are come to the birth, and there is no strēgth to be deliuered.

4 Peraduenture the Lorde thy God wyll heare all the wordes of Rabsakeh, whome the king of Assyria his master hathe sente to rayle on the liuing God, and to rebuke hym with wordes whiche the Lord thy God hath hearde: and lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnaunt that are left.

5 So the seruauntes of king Hezekia came to Isai.

6 And Isai sayd vnto them, So shall ye say to your maister, Thus sayth the Lord, Be not afraide of the wordes whiche thou haste heard, with which the yong men of the king of Assyria haue rayled on me.

7 Behold, I will put him in another minde, and he shall heare tidings, and so returne to his owne lande, and I will bring to passe, that he shall fall vpon the sword, euen in hys owne lande. B Esay.37.d. 2.Par.32.d

8 And Rabsakeh went backe againe, & found the king of Assyria fighting against Libna, for he had heard howe that he was departed from Lachis.

9 And when he heard men saye of Thirhaka kyng of the blacke Moores, Beholde, he is come out to fight againſte thee: hee departed, and ſent meſſengers vnto Hezekia, ſaying, 10 Thus ſpeake to Hezekia king of Juda, ſaying, Let not thy God deceyue thee in whome thou truſteſt, ſaying, Hieruſalem ſhal not be deliuered into the hand of ỹ king of Aſſyria.

11 Beholde, thou haſt heard what the kinges of Aſſyria haue done to all lands, howe they haue vtterly deſtroyed them: And ſhalt thou eſcape?

12 Haue the goddes of the heathen deliuered them, which mine auncеſtours haue deſtroyed? As Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the childzen of Eden whiche were in Thelaſſar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and ỹ king of Arphad, the king of the citie of Sepharuaim, and of Hena, and Iua?

14 And Hezekia receyued the letter of the hand of the meſſengers, and read it: and Hezekia went vp into the houſe of the Lozd, and layd it abzode bekoze the Lozde.

15 And Hezekia (a) prayed bekoze the Lozde, and ſayd, O Lozde God of Iſraell, whyche dwelleſt betwene the Cherubs, thou art God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earthe, thou haſt made heauen and earth.

16 Lozd bowe downe thine eare, and heare: Open Lozde thyne eyes, (I beſeeche thee,) and ſee: and heare the wozdes of Sennacherib whiche hath ſente (this man) to rayle on the liuing God.

17 Of a trueth Lozde, the kinges of Aſſyria haue deſtroyed nations, and their landes, 18 And haue ſet fyze on their goddes: foz they were no goddes, but the wozke of the hands of man, euen of wood and ſtone: and they deſtroyed them.

19 Now therefoze, O Lozd our God, I beſeech thee, ſaue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth maye knowe, that thou only art the Lozd God.

20 And Iſai the ſonne of Amoz ſent to Hezekia, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lozd God of Iſrael, That whiche thou haſt prayed mee concerning Sennacherib king of Aſſyria, I haue heard it.

21 This is therefoze the wozd that the Lozde hath ſayde of hym, (b) The virgin euen the daughter of Sion hathe deſpiſed thee, and laughed thee to ſcorne (O thou kyng of Aſſyria) the daughter of Hieruſalem hath ſhaken hir head at thee.

22 Whome haſt thou rayled on? and whome haſt thou blaſphemed? Againſt whome haſt thou exalted thy voyce, & lifted vp thine eyes ſo high? Euen againſt ỹ holy one of Iſrael.

23 By the hande of thy meſſengers thou haſt rayled on the Lozde, and ſayde, Wyth the multitude of my charets, I am come vp to the toppes of the mountaynes, euen along by the ſydes of Libanon, and I will cut downe the high Cedar trees, and the luſtie Fyzre trees therof: and I will goe into the lodging of his bozders, and into ỹ wood of his Carmel.

24 I haue digged, and dzunke ſtrange waters: and with the ſtep of my going, will I dzie all the waterpoles that are beſieged.

25 Haſt thou not hearde howe I haue ozdeyned ſuche a thing a great while agoe, and haue prepared it from the beginning? And ſhall I not now bring it foꝛth, that it maye deſtroy, and bring ſtrong cities into waſte heapes of ſtones?

26 And the inhabitours of them ſhall be of little power, and ſaynt harted, and cõfounded, and ſhall be like the graſſe of the fielde, oz greene hearbe, oz as the hay on the toppes of the houſes, oz as the corne that is vnrype and ſmitten with blaſting. Pſal. 37. a.

27 I knowe thy dwellyng, thy comming out, and thy going in, and thy furie againſt me.

28 And bycauſe thou rageſt againſt me, and thy tumult is come vp to myne eares, I will put my hooke in thy noſtrels, and my bitte in thy lippes, and will bring thee backe againe the ſame way thou cameſt.

29 And this ſhall be a ſigne vnto thee, O Hezekia: Ye ſhall eate this yeare of ſuch thynges as growe of themſelues, and the next yeare ſuche as come vp of thoſe that did growe of their owne accozd, and the third yeare ſow ye and reape, plante vineyardes, and eate the fruites therof.

30 And it that is eſcaped & left of ỹ daughter of Juda, ſhall yet again take roting downward, and beare fruite vpward.

31 Foz out of Hieruſalem ſhall goe a remnant, and a number that ſhall eſcape out of mount Sion: The zeale of the Lozde of hoſtes ſhall bring this thing to paſſe.

32 Wherefoze thus ſayth the Lozde concerning the king of Aſſyria: he ſhall not come to this citie, noꝛ ſhoote an arrowe into it, noꝛ come bekoze it with ſhield, noꝛ caſt a banke againſt it.

33 But ſhall goe backe agayne the waye hee came, and ſhall not come into this citie, ſayth the Lozde.

34 Foz I will defend thys citie to ſaue it foꝛ myne owne ſake, and foꝛ Dauid my ſeruauntes ſake.

35 And it came to paſſe, that the ſelſe ſame night the angell of the Lozd went out, and ſmote 12 Therfore thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring such euyl vpon Hierusalem and Juda, that who so heareth of it, both his eares shall tingle.

Jer. 19. a.

C 13 And I will stretche ouer Hierusalem the squaring lyne of (a) Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Ahab: and I will wype out Hierusalem, as a man wypeth a dyshe, and when he hath wyped it, turneth it vpside downe.

a. As I haue destroyed Samaria, and the house of Ahab, so will I destroy Iuda.

14 And I wil leaue the (b) remnant of myne inheritance, and deliuer them into the hande of their enimies, and they shal be robbed and spoyled of all their aduersaries:
C b. Meaning Iuda and Beniamin.

15 Euen bicause they haue done euyll in my syghte, and haue angred mee, since the tyme their fathers came out of Egypte, vnto thys daye.

16 And Manasse shedde innocent blood exceeding muche, tyll he replenished Hierusalem from corner to corner, beside his sinne wherwith he made Juda to sinne, and to do euyl in the sight of the Lorde.

17 The rest of the wordes that concerne Manasse, and all that hee did, and his sinne that he sinned, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

18 And Manasse slept with his fathers, and was buryed in the garden of his own house, euen in the garden of Uzza, and Amon hys sonne raygned in his steede.

19 Amon was twentie and two yeeres olde when he beganne to raygne, and he raygned two yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Meshullemeth the daughter of Harus of Jotba.
2. Par. 33.

20 And he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, as his father Manasse dyd:

21 And walked in all the way that his father walked in, and serued the idols that hys father serued, and worshipped them:
D

22 And hee forsoke the Lorde God of his fathers, and walked not in the waye of the Lorde.

23 And the seruantes of Amon conspired agaynste him, and slue the kyng in hys owne house.

24 And the people of the lande slue all them that had conspyred againste king Amon, and the people made Josia his sonne kyng in his steede.

25 The reste of the wordes that concerne Amon, what things he dyd, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

26 And they buryed him in hys sepulchre in the garden of Uzza, and Josia hys sonne raygned in his steede.

The. xxij. Chapter.

4. Iosia repayreth the temple. 8. Helkia fyndeth the booke of the lawe, and causeth it to bee presented to Iosia, 14. who sendeth to Hulda the prophetisse to enquyre the Lordes wyll.

1 Josia was eyght yeeres olde when hee I beganne to raygne, and hee raygned 2. Par. 34.
thirtie and one yeeres in Hierusalem: hys mothers mothers name also was Jedida, the daughter of Adaia of Bozcath.

2 He dyd that whiche is righte in the sight of the Lorde, and walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neyther to the right hande, or to the left.

2.Par.34.b. 3 And it came to passe, that in the eyghtienth yeere of the raygne of kyng Josia, the kyng sent Saphan the sonne of Azalia, the sonne of Mesullam the scribe, to the house of the Lorde, saying,

4 Goe vp to Helkia the hygh priest, that he may summe the siluer which is brought into the house of the Lord, whiche the keepers of the porche haue gathered of the people:

5 And lette them deliuer it into the hande of them that dow the worke, and that haue the ouersight of the house of the Lorde: and let them giue it to them that worke in the house of the Lorde, to repayre the decayed places of the temple,

6 Euen vnto Carpenters and Masons, and workers vppon the walles, and for to buye timber and free stone to repayre the temple.

B 7 Howbeeit, let no reckening be made with them of the mony that is deliuered into their hande, for their vse is to deale faythfully.

2.Par.34.c. 8 And Helkia the hyghe priest sayde vnto Saphan the scribe, (a) I haue founde the booke of the lawe in the house of the Lorde. And Helkia gaue the booke to Saphan, and he reade in it.

a. The wicked kings Manasses and Amon, had taken from the people, and abolished the booke of the lawe of God.

9 And Saphan the scribe came to the kyng, and brought him worde againe, and sayde, Thy seruauntes haue gathered the money that was founde in the temple, and haue delyuered it vnto them that dow the worke, and that haue the ouersyghte of the house of the Lorde.

10 And Saphan the scribe shewed the kyng, saying, Helkia the priest hath delyuered me a booke: and Saphan read in it before the kyng.

11 And it fortuned, that when the kyng hadde heard the wordes of the booke of the lawe, he rent his clothes.

12 And the kyng commaunded Helkia the priest and Ahikam the sonne of Saphan, and Achbor the sonne of Machaia, and Saphan the scribe, and Asahia a seruant of the kyngs, saying,

Iere.21.a. 13 Go yee, and enquyre of the Lorde for mee, and for the people, and for all Juda, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for greate is the wrath of the Lorde that is kindled agaynst vs, bicause our fathers haue not harkened vnto the wordes of this booke, to dow according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

14 So Helkia the hygh priest, and Ahikam, C Achbor, and Saphan, and Asahia, went vnto Hulda the prophetisse, the wyfe of Sallum, the sonne of Thikua, the sonne of Harhas, keper of ỹ Wardrop: (which prophetisse dwelt in Hierusalem in the house of ỹ (b) doctrine:) and they communed with hir.

b. Where the learned assembled.

15 And she aunswered them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to mee,

16 Thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I wil bring euill vppon this place, and on the inhabiters therof, euen al the wordes of the booke which the king of Juda hath read:

17 Bicause they haue forsaken mee, and haue burnt incense vnto other goddes, to anger mee with all the workes of their hands: my wrath also shall bee kyndled agaynste this place, and shall not be quenched.

18 But to the king of Juda, whiche sent you to aske counsel of the Lorde, so shall ye say, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, as touching the wordes whiche he hath hearde:

19 Bicause thyne heart dyd (c) melte, and bicause thou hast humbled thy selfe before mee the Lorde, when thou heardest what I spake agaynst this place, and agaynste the inhabiters of the same, how that they should be destroyed & accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wepte before mee, of that also haue I hearde, sayeth the Lorde:

c. Meaning that he dyd repent.

20 Beholde therefore, I wyll receyue thee vnto thy fathers, and thou shalt bee put into thy graue in peace, and thyne eyes shall not see all the euyl which I wil bring vpon this place. And they brought the king worde agayne. D

The.xxiij. Chapter.

2. Iosias readeth the lawe before the people. 3. He maketh a couenaunt with the Lorde. 4. He putteth downe the idolles, after hee hadde kylled the priestes. 22. Hee keepeth Passeouer. 24. Hee destroyeth the coniurers. 29. He was killed in Megiddo. 30. And his sonne Iehoahaz raygneth in his steede. 33. After he was taken, his sonne Iehoachim was made king.

1 AND then the kyng sent, and there gathered vnto him all the elders of Juda and of Hierusalem. A 2.Par.34.f.

2 And the king went vp into the house of the Lorde, with al the men of Juda, and all the inhabitours of Hierusalem, with the priestes and prophetes, and all the people both small and great: and he read in the eares of them, all the wordes of the couenante whiche was founde in the house of the Lorde. 2.Esd.8.a.

Iosu. 24. f.

3 And the kyng stode by a piller, and made a couenaunt before the Lorde, that they should walke after the Lorde, and keepe his commaundements, his witnesses, and his statutes, with all theyr harte, and all theyr soule, and make good the wordes of the sayd appoyntment, that were written in the forsayde booke: and all the people consented to the appoyntment.

a. Kyng Iosias zelously purgeth the tẽple of God, & destroyeth al the monumẽts of idolatrie and superstition.

4 (a) And the kyng commaunded Helkia the high priest and the inferior priestes, and the keepers of the "ornaments, to bryng out of the temple of the Lorde, all the vessels that were made for Baal, for the idoll groues, and for all the host of heauen: and he burnt them without Hierusalem in the fieldes of Cedron, and caried the asshes of them into Bethel.

5 And he put downe the ministers (of Baal) whom the kyngs of Juda had founded to burne incense in the high places, and cities of Juda, that were rounde aboute Hierusalem, and also them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the sunne, to the moone, to the planets, and to al the host of heauen.

6 And he brought out the groue from the temple of the Lorde without Hierusalem, vnto the brooke Cedron, and burnte it there at the brooke Cedron, and stampt it to powder, and cast the dust therof vpon the graues of the chyldren of the people.

B 7 And he brake downe the celles of the male stewes that were by the house of the Lorde, where the women woue hangyngs for the idol groue.

8 And he brought all the priestes out of the cities of Juda, and defiled the high places where the priests had burnt incense, euen frō Geba to Beersheba, and destroyed the high places of the gates that were in the entryng in of the gate of Josua the gouernour of the citie, whiche were (as a man goeth in) on the left hande of the gate of the citie.

b. Iosias thought not meete that those priestes which had serued idols, should be ministers in the tẽple of God. Jere. 7. d.

9 (b) Neuertheles, the priestes of the high places came not vp to the aulter of the Lord in Hierusalem, saue onely they did eate of the sweete bread among theyr brethren.

10 And he defiled Thopheth, whiche is in the valley of the chyldren of Hinnom, bycause no man should offer his sonne or his daughter in fyre to Moloch.

11 He put downe the horses that the kyngs of Juda had gyuen to the sunne, at the entryng in of the house of the Lorde, by the chamber of Nathanmelech the chamberlayne, whiche was ruler of the suburbes, and burnt the charets of the sunne with fire.

12 And the aulters that were on the top of the parlour of Ahaz, whiche the kings of Juda had made, and the aulters whiche Manasse had made in the two courtes of the house of the Lorde, did the kyng breake downe, and ranne thence, and cast the dusse of them into the brooke Cedron.

13 And the high places that were before Hierusalem, on the right hande of the mount (c) Oliuet, whiche Solomon the kyng of Israell had buylded for Astaroth the idol of the Sidons, and for Chamos the idol of the Moabites, and for Milchon, ỹ abhominable idol of the children of Ammon, those the king defiled:

c. A mount that was full of idols. 3. Reg. 11.

14 And brake the images, and cut downe the idol groues, and filled theyr places with the bones of men. C

15 Moreouer, the aulter that was at Bethel, the high places made by Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, whiche made Israel sinne, bothe the aulter and also the highe places, he brake downe, and burnt the high places, & stampt it to powder, and burnt the idol groue. 3. Reg. 12.

16 And as Josia turned himselfe, he spied the graues that were in the mount, and sent and fette the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the aulter, to pollute it, according to the word of the Lord that the mā of God proclaymed, whiche tolde the same wordes. 3. Reg. 13.

17 Then he sayde, What title is that that I see? And the men of the citie tolde him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, whiche came from Juda, and tolde the selfe same thyngs that thou hast done to the aulter of Bethel.

18 And he saide, Let him be: see that no man moue his bones. And so his bones were saued, with the bones of a prophete that came out of Samaria.

19 And all the houses of the highe places in the cities of Samaria, whiche the kyng of Israell had made to anger (the Lorde withal) those Josia put out of the way, and did to them according to all the actes that he had done in Bethel.

20 And he sacrifised all the priests of the high places that were there, euen vpō the aulters, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Hierusalem. D

21 And the kyng commaunded all the people, saying, Keepe the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lorde your God, as it is written in the booke of this couenant. 2. Par. 35.

22 There was no Passeouer holden lyke that frō the dayes of the iudges that iudged Israell, and in all the dayes of the kyngs of Israel, and of the kings of Juda. Deut. 16.

23 In the eyghtienth yeare of king Josia, was this Passeouer holden to the Lorde in Hierusalem.

24 And

24 And thereto workers with spirites, and sothsayers, images, idols, and all the abhominations that were spyed in the lande of Iuda, and in Hierusalem, those did Iosia put out of the way, to performe the wordes of the lawe, whiche were wrytten in the booke that Helkia the preiste founde in the house of the Lorde.

Leuit. 20. Deut. 18.

25 Like vnto him was there no kyng before him, that turned to the Lorde with all hys hart, with all his soule, and al his myght, according to all the lawe of Moses, neither after him arose there any suche as he.

26 Notwithstanding, the Lorde turned not from the fiercenesse of his great wrath wherwith he was angry agaynste Iuda, because of all the prouocations that Manasse had prouoked him withall.

E 27 And the Lord sayde, I wil put Iuda also out of my sight, as I haue done away Israel, and wyll caste off this citie Hierusalem, which I haue chosen, and the house of which I sayde, My name shal be there.

4.Kt.24.a.

28 The rest of the wordes that concerne Iosia, and all that he dyd, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kynges of Iuda?

1.Par.25.d.

29 In his dayes Pharao Necho king of Egypt, went vp against the king of Assyria to the riuer of Euphrates: and king Iosia went against him, and was slayne of him at Megiddo, when he had seene him.

30 And his seruauntes carryed hym deade from Megiddo, and brought hym to Hierusalem, and buryed hym in hys owne sepulchre: and the people of the lande toke Iehoahaz the sonne of Iosia, and annoynted him, and made him kyng in his fathers steede.

31 Iehoahaz was twentie and three yeeres olde when he began to raygne, and raygned three moneths in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Hamiel, the daughter of Ieremia of Libna.

32 And he dyd euyll in the sight of the Lord, according to all things as his (d) fathers had done.

d. Meaning the wicked kinges before.

F 33 And Pharao Necho put him in bondes at Ribla, in the lande of Hemath, whyle hee raygned in Hierusalem, and put the lande to a tribute of an hundred talents of siluer, and a talent of golde.

34 And Pharao Necho made Eliakim the sonne of Iosia kyng, in the roome of Iosia his father, & turned his name to Iehoakim, and toke Iehoahaz away: whiche when he came to Egypt, dyed there.

35 And Iehoakim gaue the siluer and the gold to Pharao, and taxed the lande, to giue the money according to the commaundement of Pharao: requyring of euery man according to their abilitie siluer and golde, euen of the people of the lande, to giue vnto Pharao Necho.

36 Iehoakim was twentie and fiue yeeres olde when he began to raygne, and he raygned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem: hys mothers name also was Zebuda, the daughter of Pedaia of Ruma.

37 And he dyd that whiche was euyll in the sight of the Lord, according to all things as his fathers had done.

The.xxiiij.Chapter.

1. Iehoakim made subiect to Nabuchodonosor, rebelleth. 2. The cause of his ruine and al Iudaes. 9. Iehoachin raygneth. 15. He and his people are caryed vnto Babylon. 17. Zedekia is made king.

1 IN his dayes came "Nabuchodonosor kyng of Babylon vp, and Iehoakim became his seruaunte three yeeres: and then turned and rebelled agaynst him.

A "or, Nabuchadnezer.

2 And the Lorde sent agaynst hym bandes of the Chaldees, and bandes of the Syrians, and bandes of the Moabites, and bandes of the Ammonites: and sent them agaynst Iuda to destroy it, according to the saying of the Lorde, whiche he spake by his seruantes the prophetes.

3 Only at the bydding of the Lord happened it so to Iuda, to put them out of his sight, for the sinnes of Manasse, according to all that he dyd,

4 And for the innocent blood that he shed, and filled Hierusalem with innocent blood: and the Lorde would not be reconciled.

5 The reste of the wordes that concerne Iehoakim, and all that hee dyd, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iuda?

6 And so Iehoakim (a) slepte with hys fathers: and Iehoachin his sonne raygned in his steede.

a. Not that he was buryed with his fathers, for he dyed in the way as they caryed him prisoner toward Babylon. Ierem.22.

7 And the king of Egypt came no more out of his lande: for the kyng of Babylon had taken, from the ryuer of Egypt vnto the ryuer of Euphrates, all that pertayned to the king of Egypt.

B 8 Iehoachin was eyghtiene yeeres old when he beganne to raygne, and raygned in Hierusalem three moneths: his mothers name also was Nehusta, the daughter of Elnathan of Hierusalem.

9 And hee dyd that whiche was euyll in the sight of the Lorde, according to all as his father had done.

Dan.1.a.

10 In that tyme came the ſeruants of Nabuchodonoſor kyng of Babylon vp agaynſte Hieruſalem, and the citie was beſieged.

11 And Nabuchodonoſor the kyng of Babylon came againſt the citie, and his ſeruantes did beſiege it.

Heſter.2.a.

12 And Iehoachin the king of Iuda, (b) came out to the king of Babylon, he, and his mother, his ſeruantes, his lordes, and his chamberlaines: and the kyng of Babylon toke him in the (c) eyght yeere of his raygne.

b. That is, he yelded him ſelf vnto him.

c. In the raygne of the king of Babylon.

4.Re.20.c.

13 And he caryed out thence all the treaſures of the houſe of the Lorde, and the treaſure of the kynges houſe, and brake all the veſſelles of golde, whiche Solomon kyng of Iſraell had made in the temple of the Lorde, as the Lorde had ſayde.

℣ 14 And he caryed awaye all Hieruſalem, and all the lordes, and all the ſtrong menne of warre, euen ten thouſande, into captiuitie, and all the craftſmen, and (d) keepers, none remayning, ſaue the poore common people of the lande.

d. The word ſignifieth couſtaylours, wiſe men, men of eſtimation, cūning men in ordering of a campe.

15 And he carryed awaye Iehoachin to Babylon, and the kyngs mother, and the kinges wyues, and his chamberlaynes: and them that were myghtie in the lande, thoſe caryed he away into captiuitie, from Hieruſalem to Babylon.

" or, cunning men, as before 16 And all the actiue men of warre, euen ſeuen thouſande, and craftſmen, and " poorers a thouſande, all that were ſtrong, and apt for warre, dyd the kyng of Babylon bryng to Babylon captiue.

2.Par.26.d.

17 And the king of Babylon made Mathania his fathers brother king in his ſtede, and changed his name to Zedekia.

Iere.3.a.

18 Zedekia was twentie and one yeeres old when he beganne to raygne, and he raygned a leuen yeeres in Hieruſalem: his mothers name alſo was Hamital, the daughter of Ieremia of Libna.

19 And he did euyll in the ſight of the Lorde, according to all as Iehoachim had done.

c. Out of Hieruſalem and Iuda, into Babylon.

20 For the wrath of the Lord was moued againſt Hieruſalem and Iuda, vntyll he caſt them out of his (e) ſight: And Zedekia rebelled againſt the king of Babylon.

The.xxv.Chapter.

1. Hieruſalem is beſieged of Nabuchodonoſor, and taken. 7. The ſonnes of Zedekia are ſlayne before hys eyes, and after are hys owne eyes put out. 21. Iuda is brought to Babylon. 25. Gedalia is ſlayne. 27. Iehoachin is exalted.

Iere.39.a.

1 AND it fortuned, that in the nynth yeere of his raygne, the tenth daye of the tenth moneth, Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon came, he and all his hoſte, againſt Hieruſalem, and pitched againſt it, and made engins againſt it on euery ſide.

2 And the citie was beſieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of king Zedekia.

3 And the nynth day of the moneth, there was ſo great hunger in the citie, that there was no bread for the people of the lande. Ezr.3.d.

4 And the citie was broken vp, and all the men of armes (fledde) by nyght, by a waye throwe a gate (whiche is) betweene two walles by the kynges garden (the Chaldees lying about the citie:) and the king went the way towarde the playne.

5 And the ſouldiers of the Chaldees folowed after the king, and toke him in the playne of Iericho: and all his armie were ſcattered away from him.

6 So they toke the kyng, and brought hym to (Nabuchodonoſor) the kyng of Babylon to Ribla, where they gaue iudgemente vpon him.

7 And they ſlue the ſonnes of Zedekia before his eyes, and he put out the eyes of Zedekia, and fettered him with chaynes, and carryed him to Babylon. ℣

8 And the ſeuenth daye of the fifth moneth, (which is the nineteenth yeere of kyng Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon) came Nabuſaradan, a ſeruant of the king of Babylon and chiefe captaine of the men of warre, vnto Hieruſalem:

9 And burnt the houſe of the Lorde, and the kinges houſe, and all the houſes of Hieruſalem, and all greate houſes burnt hee with fyre.

10 And all the ſouldiers of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captayne of the men of warre, brake downe the walles of Hieruſalem rounde about 11 But the reſt of the people that were left in the citie, and them that were fled to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the commō people, did Nabuſaradan the chiefe captayne of the men of warre carrie away.

12 But the captaine of the ſouldiers left of the poore of the lande, to dreſſe the vynes, and to tyll the grounde.

13 And the pyllers of braſſe that were in the houſe of the Lorde, and the ſockettes, and the braſen lauafore that was in the houſe of the Lorde, dyd the Chaldees breake, and carryed all the braſſe of them to Babylon. 3.Reg.7.

14 And the pottes, ſhouelles, inſtrumentes of muſicke, ſpoones, and al the veſſelles of braſſe that they miniſtred in, toke they away, ℣

15 And the fire pannes, and baſons: and ſuche things as were of golde and of ſyluer, them toke toke the chiefe captayne away.

16 Euen two pyllers, one lauatorie, and the ſockets whiche Solomon had made for the houſe of ỹ Lord: the braſſe of al theſe veſſels was without wayght.

17 The heygth of the one pyller was eyghtiene cubites, and the pommell thereof was braſſe: and the heyght of the pommell was with wreathen worke three cubites, and pomegranates vppon the pommell rounde about all of braſſe, and of the ſame faſhion was the ſeconde pyller, with a wreathen worke.

18 And the cheefe captaine of the men of war, toke Saraia the cheefe prieſte, and Zephoniah the hyghell prieſt ſaue one, and the three keepers of the holy things:

19 And out of the citie hee toke a chamberlayne, that hadde the ouerſight of the men of warre, and fiue men of them that were euer in the kynges preſence, whiche were founde in the citie, and hym that was ſcribe to the captayne of the holte whiche brought out the people of the lande to warre, and threeſcore men of the people of the land that were found in the citie.

D 20 And Nabuſaradan the cheefe captayne of the men of warre, toke theſe, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Ribla.

21 And the kyng of Babylon ſmote them, and ſlue them at Ribla in the lande of Hamath: and ſo Juda was carryed away out of theyr lande.

22 Howbeit, there remayned people in the lande of Juda, whome Nabuchodonoſor kyng of Babylon lefte, and made Gedalia the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Saphan ruler ouer them.

23 And all the captaines of the ſouldiers, and other men, hearde that the kyng of Babylon had made Gedalia gouernour, & there came to Gedalia to Miſpah Iſmael the ſonne of Nathania, Johanan the ſonne of Karea, Saraia the ſon of Thanhumeth the Netophatite, and Jaazania the ſonne of Maachati, they and their men.

24 And Gedalia ſware to them, and to the men whome they had with them, and ſayde vnto them, "Feare not yee, bycauſe yee are the ſeruantes of the Chaldees: dwell in the lande, and ſerue the king of Babylon, and ye ſhall be well.

" or, be ye not afrayde of the ſeruãts of the Chaldees.

25 But it chaunced in the ſeauenth moneth, that Iſmael the ſonne of Nathania, the ſonne of Eliſama, of the kynges-blodde, came, and ten men with hym, and ſmote Gedalia that hee dyed: and ſo dyd hee the Jewes, and the Chaldees that were with him at Miſpah.

26 And all the people bothe ſmall and greate, and the captaynes of warre, arose, & came to Egypt: for they wer afrayd of ỹ Chaldees.

27 Notwithſtanding, yet in the ſeuen and E thirtieth yeere after Jehoachin king of Juda was caryed away, the ſeuẽ and twentieth daye of the twelfth moneth, Euilmerodach king of Babylon, the ſame yeere that he began to raygne, dyd lyft vp the head of Jehoachin kyng of Juda out of priſon,

28 And ſpake kindly to him, and ſet his ſeate aboue the ſeate of the kings that were with him in Babylon, 29 And chaunged his priſon garmentes, and he did euer eate bread before him al the dayes of his lyfe.

30 His portion was a continual portion that was aſſygned him of the king, euery daye a certayne, as long as he lyued.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. All Israel and Iuda numbred. 10. Of the priestes and Leuites, 11. 18. and of theyr offices.

A 1 NAnd so al Israel numbred by kinredes, behold they are written in the booke of the kyngs of Israel and of Juda, and were caryed away to Babylon for theyr transgression:
2 Euen the olde inhabiters that dwelt in theyr owne possessions and cities, the Israelites, the priests, Leuites, and Nathenei.
3 And in Hierusalem dwelt of the chyldren of Juda, of the chyldren of Beniamin, and of the chyldren of Ephraim and Manasse, 4 Uthai the sonne of Amihud, the sonne of Omri, the sonne of Imri, the sonne of Beni, of the chyldren of Pharez the sonne of Juda.
5 And of Siloni: Asaia the eldest, and hys sonnes.
6 And of the sonnes of Zerah: Jehuel, and theyr brethren, sixe hundred and ninetie.
B 7 And of the sonnes of Beniamin: Salu the sonne of Mesullam, the sonne of Hodauia, the sonne of Senua, 8 And Ibneia the sonne of Jeroham: and Ela the sonne of Uzi the sonne of Michri: and Mesullam the sonne of Sephatia, the sonne of Reuel the sonne of Jibnia.
9 And theyr brethren accordyng to theyr kynredes, nyne hundred fiftie and sixe: all these were principall men, and auncient in the householdes of theyr fathers.
10 And of the priests: Jedaia, Jehoiarib, and Jachin, 11 Azaria the sonne of Helkia, the sonne of Mesullam, the sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Meraioth, the sonne of Ahitob, the chiefest in the house of God.
12 And Adaiah the sonne of Jeroham, the sonne of Pashur, the sonne of Melchia: and Maasi the sonne of Adiel, the sonne of Jezrah, the sonne of Mesullam, the sonne of Mesillemith, the sonne of Immer.
13 And theyr brethren whiche were heads of the auncient houseiholdes of theyr fathers, a thousande seuen hundred and threescore, actiue men for the worke of the seruice of the house of God.
14 And of the Leuites: Semeia the sonne of C Hasub, the sonne of Asricam, the sonne of Hasabia of the sonnes of Merari.
15 And Bacbakar Heres, and Galal: and Mathania the sonne of Micah, the sonne of Zicri, the sonne of Asaph.
16 And Obadia the sonne of Semeia, the sonne of Galal, the sonne of Jduthun: and Berechia the sonne of Asa, the sonne of Elcana, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.
17 The porters were, Sallum, Accub, Talmon, and Ahiman, and their brethren: Sallum was the chiefe. 2. Eldr. 11. c.
18 For they watched hytherto, euen vnto the kyngs gate eastwarde "by course, the chyldren of Leui. "or, by companies.
19 And Sallum the sonne of Kore, the sonne of Abiasaph, the sonne of Corah, & hys brethren the Corathites, of the house of theyr father, had theyr businesse and office to keepe the porches of the tabernacle: and theyr fathers, beyng ouer the host of the Lord, kepte the entryng.
20 And Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar was theyr foregoyde, and the Lorde was with him.
21 And Zacharia the sonne of Meselemia D kept the watch before the dore of the tabernacle of the congregation.
22 All these were chosen men to keepe the threshoides, euen two hundred and twelue; and throughout all the genealogie were they numbred in theyr villages: and them dyd Dauid and Samuel the Sear institute, "bycause of theyr fidelitie. "or, in theyr perpetual office.
23 So they and theyr chyldren had the ouersight of the gates of the house of the Lorde, euen of the tabernacle, "to keepe them. "By course.
24 In foure quarters dyd they keepe the watche: towarde the East, West, North, and South. Num. 3. d.
25 And theyr brethren remayned in the countrey, and came after seuen dayes from time to tyme with them.
26 For the Leuites whiche had the ouersight of the vessries and treasures of the house of God, were vnder the custodie of foure notable porters.

27 And they lay rounde about the house of God, because the keepyng thereof partey-ned to them, and they had the charge to open it euery mornyng.
28 And certayne of them had the rule of the ministryng vessels, and brought them in and out by tale.
29 Some of them were appoynted to ouersee the vessels and all the ornaments of the sanctuarie, and the flowre, wine, oyle, frankencense, and sweete odours.
30 And certayne of the sonnes of the priestes made oyntments of the sweete odours.
31 And Mathathia one of the Leuites, (which was the eldest sonne of Sallum the Corathite) had the ouersight of the thyngs that were made in the fryng panne.
32 And other of theyr brethren the sonnes of Cahath had the ouersight of ỹ shew bread, which they prepared euery Sabboth.
33 These are the singers, euen auncient fathers of the Leuites, whiche dwelt in separate chambers, and were free: for they had to do in the temple both day and night.
34 These were auncient fathers of the Le-uites in theyr generations, and dwelt at Hierusalem.
35 And in Gibeon dwelt the father of Gi-beon, Iehiel: whose wife was called Ma-acha.
36 His eldest sonne was Abdon, then Zur,

The.x.Chapter.

1. The battayle of Saul agaynst the Philistines. 4. In whiche he dyeth. 5. And his sonnes also. 13. The cause of Sauls death.

1 AND the Philistines fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled before the Philistines, and were ouerthrowen and wounded in mount Gilboa. 1.Reg.31.a.
2 And the Philistines followed after Saul and his sonnes, and the Philistines smote Ionathan, and Abinadab, and Malchisua the sonnes of Saul.
3 And the battaile went sore against Saul, and the archers founde hym, and he was wounded of shooters.
4 Then sayde Saul to his harnesse bearer, Draw thy sworde, and thrust me thorow therewith, that these vncircumcised come not, and dow me shame. But his harnesse bearer woulde not, for he feared exceedingly: So Saul caught a sworde, and fell vpon it. Iudi.9.g.
5 And when his harnesse bearer sawe that Saul was dead, he fell on a sworde also, and dyed.
6 And thus Saul and his three sonnes, and all they of his house, died together.
7 And when al the men of Israel that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsoke theyr cities, and ranne away: and the Philistines came, and dwelt in them.
8 And it fortuned, that on the morow whē the Philistines came to strippe the dead bodies, they found Saul and his sonnes ouerthrowen in mount Gilboa. 1.Reg.31.c
9 And when they had stript hym, they toke his head and his harnesse, and sent them into the lande of the Philistines round about, to shew them vnto theyr idols, and to the people.
10 And they put his harnesse in the house of theyr god, and set vp his head in the temple (a) of Dagon.
11 And when all they of Iabes (in) Gilead heard all that the Philistines had done to Saul:
12 They arose, all the strongest of them, and fet away the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, and brought them to Iabes, & buryed the bones of them vnder an Oke in Iabes, and fasted seuen dayes.
13 So Saul dyed for his trespasse that he trespassed agaynst the Lorde, in that he kept not the worde of the Lorde, and in that he sought and asked counsayle of a woman that wrought with a spirite:
14 And asked not of the Lorde, and therfore he slue him, and turned the kyngdome vnto Dauid the sonne of Isai.

The.xi.Chapter.

3. After the death of Saul, Dauid is annoynted in Hebron. 5. The Iebusites rebel agaynst Dauid, from whom he taketh the towre of Sion. 6. Ioab is made captayne. 10. His valiant men.

A 1 Then all Israel gathered themselues to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying,

2.Reg.5.a. 2 Behold, we be thy bones, and thy flesh: & moreouer in tyme past, euen whin Saul was kyng, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lorde thy God sayde vnto thee, Thou shalte feede my people Israell, and thou shalt be captayne ouer my people Israel.

3 Therefore came all the elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebron before the Lorde: and they annoynted Dauid kyng ouer Israel, accordyng to the worde of the 1.Reg.16.a. Lorde, by the hande of Samuel.

4 And Dauid and all Israel went to Hierusalem (whiche is Iebus, where as were the Iebusites, the inhabiters of the land.)

5 And the inhabiters of Iebus sayd to Dauid, Thou commest not in here. Neuertheles, Dauid wan the castell of Sion: whiche is called the citie of Dauid.

1.Reg.5.b. 6 And Dauid sayde, Whosoeuer smyteth the Iebusites first, shal be the principall captayne, and a lorde. So Ioab the sonne of Zaruia went firste vp, and was made the chiefe captayne.

B 7 And Dauid dwelt in the castel (Sion) and therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 And he buylt the citie on euery side, euen from Millo rounde aboute: and Ioab repayred the rest of the citie.

9 And Dauid prospered and waxed great, and the Lorde of hostes was with him.

1.Reg.23.a. 10 These are the pryncipall men of power whom Dauid had, and that claue to him in his kyngdome with al Israel to make him kyng, accordyng to the worde of the Lorde ouer Israel.

11 And this is the number of the mightie men whom Dauid hadde: Iasobeam the sonne of Hachmoni the chiefe among thirtie: he lift vp his speare agaynst three hundred, and wounded (them) at one tyme.

12 After him was Eleazer his vncles sonne an Ahothite, whiche was one of the three myghtiest:

13 He was with Dauid at Pasdammim, and there the Philistines were gathered together to battayle: and there was there a parcell of ground ful of barly, and the people fledde before the Philistines.

14 And they stept forth into the middest of C the fielde, and saued it, and slue the Philistines, and the Lorde gaue a great victorie.

15 And the three, of the thirtie chiefe captaynes, went to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue Odullam: and the hoste of the Philistines abode in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And when Dauid was in the holde, the Philistines watche was at Bethlehem that same tyme.

17 And Dauid longed, and sayde, Oh that 2.Reg.23.c. one would giue me drynke of the water of the wel that is at the gate at Bethlehem.

18 And the three brake through the hoste of the Philistines, and drewe water out of the well that was by the gate of Bethlehem, and toke it, and brought it to Dauid: neuertheles, Dauid would not drynke of it, but rather offered it to the Lorde, 19 And sayde, My God forbydde it me, that I should do this thyng: shall I drynke the (a) bloud of these men, that haue put their lyues in ieopardie? for with the ieopardie of their lyues they brought it: therefore he woulde not drynke it. And this dyd these three myghtiest.

a. That is, this water, for the which they ventered theyr bloud.

20 And Abisai the brother of Ioab, he also was captayne among three: for he lyft vp his speare agaynste three hundred, and wounded them, and had a name among the three:

21 Yea among three, he was more honorable than the two, for hee was their captayne: howbeit, he atteyned not to the (first) three. D

22 Banaia the sonne of Iehoiada, the sonne of a very strong man, whiche had done many actes, of Cabzeel: he slue two strong "(Lions) of Moab, and went downe, and slue a Lion in a pit in tyme of snowe.

"Some read, men.

25 And he slue an Egyptian, whose stature was euen fiue cubites long, and in the Egyptians hande was a speare lyke a weauers beame: and the other went downe to hym with a waster, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hande, and slue hym with his owne speare.

24 Suche things dyd Banaia the sonne of Iehoiada, and hadde the name among the three myghtiest.

25 And was honorable among thirtie: but atteyned not vnto the (first) three: and Dauid made hym of his counsayle.

26 The other men of armes were these: Asahel the brother of Ioab, Elhanan his vncles sonne, of Bethlehem:

27 Samoth the Harodite, Helez the Pelonite, E

a. The idol of the Philistines.

28 Ira the sonne of Ickes the Thekoite, Abieser the Anathothite, 29 Sibbecai the Husathite, Ilai the Ahohite, 30 Maharai the Netophathite, Heled the sonne of Baana the Netophathite, 31 Ithai the sonne of Ribai of Gibea (that perteyned) to the chyldren of Beniamin, Benaia the Pirathonite, 32 Hurai of the ryuers of Gaas, Abiel the Arbathite, 33 Azmaueth the Baharumite, Eliahba the Salabonite.
34 The sonnes of Hassem the Gezonite, Jonathan the sonne of Sage an Hararite, 35 Ahiam the sonne of Sacar the Hararite, Eliphal the sonne of Ur, F 36 Hepher the Mecherathite, Ahia the Pelonite, 37 Hezro the Carmelite, Naari the sonne of Ezbai, 38 Joel the brother of Nathan, Mibhar the sonne of Hagari, 39 Zelec the Ammonite, Naharai a Berothite, the bearer of the harnesse of Joab the sonne of Zaruia, 40 Ira the Iethrite, and Gareb a Gethrite,
41 Uria the Hethite, and Zabad the sonne of Ahlai, 42 Adina the sonne of Siza a Rubenite, a captayne of the Rubenites, and thirtie with hym.
43 Hanan the sonne of Maacah, and Josaphat a Mithanite, 44 Uzzia an Asthrathite, Sama and Jehiel, the sonnes of Hothan an Aroerite, 45 Jediel the sonne of Zimri, and Joha his brother a Thosaite, 46 Eliel a Mahanite, Jeribai and Josaia the sonnes of Elnaam, and Jithma a Moabite, 47 Eliel and Obed, and Jasiel a Mesobaite.

The. xij. Chapter.

VVhat they were that went with Dauid when he fledde from Saul.

A 1 These are they that came to Dauid to Ziklag, whyle he yet kepte himselfe close bycause of Saul the sonne of Cis: and they were very strong helpers in battayle.
2 They were weaponed with bowes, and coulde hurle stones with the right hande, and with the left, and shote arrowes out of a bowe, and were of Sauls brethren, cuen of Beniamin.
3 The chiefest were, Ahiezer, and Joas the sonnes of Samaa a Gibeonite, Jeziel and Pelet the sonnes of Asmaueth, Beracah & Jehu of Anathoth.
4 And Ismaia a Gibeonite, a mighty man among thirtie, and more than the thirtie: Jeremiah, Jehaziel, Johanan, and Josabad of Gedor.
5 Eleusai, Jerimoth, Bealia, Semaria, and Seaphatia, the Haraphites.
6 Elcana, Iesia, Azarael, Joezer, Joseheam, Corhanites.
7 Joela and Zebadiah the sonnes of Jeroam, of Gedor. B
8 And of the Gadites there separated them selues some vnto Dauid into the holde of the wildernesse, men of might, and men apt for the warre, and that coulde handle shield and speare, whose faces were lyke the faces of (a) Lions, and they were as swift as the Roes in the mountaynes. a. Meanyng fierce and terrible.
9 Ezer the first, Obadia the second, and Eliab the thirde, 10 Masmana the fourth, Jeremia the fifth,
11 Atthai the first, Eliel the seuenth,
12 Johanan the eyght, Elsabad the ninth,
13 Jeremia the tenth, and Machbanai the eleuenth.
14 These were of the sonnes of Gad, & were E captaynes ouer the men of warre: one of the least could resist an hundred, & the greatest a thousande.
15 These are they that went ouer Jordane in the (b) first moneth when he had filled ouer all his banckes, and they put to flight all them of the valley both towarde the east and weast. b. March.
16 And there came of the chyldren of Beniamin and Juda to the holde vnto Dauid.
17 And Dauid went out to meete them, and answeared, and sayde vnto them, If ye be come peaceably vnto me, to helpe me, mine hart shal be knit vnto you: but and if you come to betray me to myne aduersaries, seing there is no wickednesse in myne hands, the God of our fathers loke thereon, and rebuke it.
18 And the (c) spirite came vppon Amasai, whiche was the chiefe among thirtie, and sayde, Thyne are wee Dauid, and on thy side thou sonne of Jsai: Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace be to thy helpers, for thy God is thyne helpe. Then Dauid receyued them, and made them heades of companies of the men of warre. c. The spirite of boldnesse. Tobi. v. d.
19 And there fell some of Manasse to Dauid, when he came with the Philistines agaynst Saul to battayle, but they helped them not: for the lordes of the Philistines toke aduisement, & sent hym away againe, saying, He wyll fall to his mayster Saul, 1. Reg. 26. d.

to the ieopardie of our beades.

20 As he wente to Ziklag, there fell to hym of Manasse, Adna, Iozabad, Iediel, Michael, Iozabad, Elihu, and Zilthai, heades of the thousands that were of Manasse.

21 And they holpe Dauid against (d) the rouers: for they were all mightie menne of warre, and captaynes in the hoste.

d. The Amalechites which had burned the cite Ziklag.

22 For at that tyme there came one or other to Dauid day by day to helpe hym, vntill it was a great hoste, lyke the hoste of God.

23 And this is the number of the chiefe captaynes that were prepared to battayle, and came to Dauid to Hebron, to turne the kingdome of Saul to him, according to the worde of the Lorde.

24 The chyldren of Iuda that bare shielde and speare, were sixe thousande, and eyght hundred, ready prepared to the warre.

25 Of the chyldren of Simeon, menne of myght to warre, seuen thousande, and one hundred.

26 Of the chyldren of Leui, foure thousand, and fyue hundred.

27 And Iehoiada was the chiefe of them of (e) Aaron, and with hym three thousande, and seuen hundred.

e. Of the Leuites which came by diſcēt of Aaron.

28 And Zadoc a yong man, strong and baliant, and of his fathers houſholde, twentie and two captaynes.

29 And of the children of Beniamin the brethren of Saul, three thousand: and a great part of them dyd vnto that tyme followe the house of Saul.

30 And of the chyldren of Ephraim, twentie thousand, and eyght hundred, mightie men of warre, and famous men in the houſhold of their fathers.

31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasse, eyghtene thousande, whiche were appoynted by name to come and make Dauid kyng.

32 And of the chyldren of Isachar, whiche were men that had vnderſtandyng of the times, to know what Israel ought to dw, the heads of them were two hundred: and all their brethren were at their wyll.

33 And of Zabulon which went out to battell, expert in warre and in all instruments of warre, fiftie thousande, whiche coulde set the battayle in aray, they were not of double hart.

34 And of Nephthali a thousand captaines, and with them with shield and speare thirtie and seuen thousand.

35 And of Dan expert in battayle, twentie and eyght thousand, and sixe hundred.

36 And of Aser that went out to the warre and kept the forefront of the battayle, fourtie thousande.

37 And of the other side of Iordane, of the Rubenites, and Gadites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasse, with all maner of instruments of warre, an hundred and twentie thousande.

38 (f) All these were men of warre, keepyng the forefront of the battaile, (and) with perfect hart came to Hebron to make Dauid kyng ouer al Israel: & all the rest of Israel was of one accorde to make Dauid kyng.

f. So the whole hoste was three hundred twentie and two thousand, two hundred twentie and two.

39 And there they were with Dauid three dayes eatyng and drynkyng: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreouer, they that were nigh them, euen vnto Isachar, Zabulon, and Nephthali, brought bread on Asses, Cāmels, Mules, and Oxen, and meate, flowre, figges, reasins, wyne, and oyle, Oxen, and Sheepe abundantly: for there was ioy in Israel.

The. xiij. Chapter.

7. The arke is brought agayne from Kiriathiarim to Hierusalem. 9. Vzza dyeth bicause he toucheth it.

1 AND Dauid counſayled with the captaynes of thousands and hundreds, and with all the lordes: A

2 And sayde vnto all the congregation of Israel, If it seeme you good, & to be of the Lord our God, we will sende abrode vnto our brethren that are left in all the lande of Israell, and with them also to the Priestes and Leuites which are in their suburbes, to gather them together vnto vs:

3 And we will bryng agayne the (a) arke of our God to vs: for we regarded it not in the dayes of Saul.

a. His first care was to restore religion.

4 And all the congregation was content that he shoulde do so: for the thyng seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 So Dauid gathered all Israel together from (b) Sihor in Egypt, vnto the entring of Hemath, to bryng the arke of the Lorde from Kiriathiarim.

b. That is, Nilus.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel, to an hygh place toward Kiriathiarim, that was in Iuda, to fet thence the arke of the Lorde God that dwelleth betweene the Cherubs, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Aminadab: and Vzza and his brother guyded the cart. B

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before the arke of God with all their might, with singyng, and harpes, psalteries, and tymbrels, and cymbales, and trumpets.

9 And when they came vnto the threshing flowre ſlowe of Chidon, Uzza put forth his hande to holde the arke: for the Oxen ſtumbled.

10 And the Lorde was wroth with Uzza, and (c) ſmote him, becauſe he put his hande to the arke: and there he dyed before God.

c. Vzza puniſhed, becauſe he tooke vpon him an office whereunto he was not called.

11 And Dauid was out of quiet becauſe the Lorde had rent a rent in Uzza, and he called the name of that place, the renting of Uzza, vnto this day.

12 And Dauid was afrayde of God that day, ſaying, How ſhall I bryng the arke of God home to me?

13 And ſo Dauid brought not the arke home to him to the citie of Dauid: but caryed it into the houſe of Obed Edom a Gethite.

¶ 14 And the arke of God remained with Obed Edom, euē in his houſe, three moneths: and the Lorde bleſſed the houſe of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

The.xiiij.Chapter.

2. Hiram ſendeth wood and woorkemen to Dauid. 4. The names of his chyldren. 8. 14. By the counſayle of God he goeth agaynſt the Philiſtines, and ouercommeth them. 15. God fighteth for hym.

A 1 SO Hiram the king of Tyre ſent meſſengers to Dauid, and timber of Cedar trees, with Maſons and Carpenters, to buylde hym an houſe.

2 And Dauid perceyued that the Lord had confirmed hym kyng vpon Iſrael, and that his kyngdome was lift vp on high becauſe of his (a) people Iſrael:

a. Bicauſe of Gods promiſe made to the people of Iſrael.

3 And Dauid toke yet mo wyues at Hieruſalem, and begate mo ſonnes and daughters.

4 Theſe are the names of hys chyldren, whiche were borne vnto him at Hieruſalem: Samua, Sobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

5 Jibhar, Eliſua, and Eliphalet,

6 Noga, Nepheg, and Japhia,

B 7 Eliſama, Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

8 And when the Philiſtines hearde that Dauid was annoynted kyng vpon all Iſrael, all the Philiſtines went vp to ſeeke Dauid: and Dauid heard of it, and went out agaynſt them.

9 And the Philiſtines came in, and ſpread theſelues through the valley of Rephaim.

b. Dauid aſketh counſell at God, before he enterpryſed warre.

10 And Dauid (b) aſked counſayle at God, ſaying, Shall I goe agaynſte the Philiſtines? and wilt thou delyuer them into myne hande?

11 And the Lorde ſayde vnto hym, Goe vp, for I wyll delyuer them into thyne hande. And ſo they came vp to Baal Perazim, and Dauid ſmote them there, and Dauid ſayd, God hath diuided myne enimies with mine hande, as a man woulde diuide water, & therefore they called the name of that place Baal Perazim.

12 And when they had lefte theyr goddes there, Dauid gaue a commaundement, and they were burnt with fyre.

13 And the Philiſtines came together again, and ruſhed into the valley.

14 And Dauid aſked agayne at God: and ¶ God ſayde to hym, Goe not vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou mayeſt come vpon them ouer agaynſt the (c) peare trees.

c. Baca beyng the Hebrue worde, ſignifieth a Mulberie tree.

15 And when thou heareſt a ſounde goe in the toppes of the peare trees, then go out to battayle: for God is gone forth before thee, to ſmite the hoſt of the Philiſtines.

16 Dauid therefore dyd as God commaunded him, & they ſmote the hoſt of the Philiſtines, from Gibeon to Gazer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all landes, and the Lorde made all nations feare hym.

The.xv.Chapter.

1. Dauid prepareth an hoſte for the arke. 4. The number and order of the Leuites. 16. The ſingers are choſen out among them. 25. They bring agayne the arke with ioy. 29. Dauid dauncing before it, is deſpiſed of his wyfe Michol.

1 AND Dauid made hym houſes in the A citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid ſayde, The arke of God ought not to be caried but of the Leuites: for them hath the Lorde choſen to beare the arke of the Lord, and to miniſter vnto him for euer.

3 And Dauid gathered all Iſrael together to Hieruſalem, to fetch the arke of the Lord vnto his place whiche he hadde ordeyned for it.

4 And Dauid brought together the chyldren of Aaron and the Leuites.

5 Of the ſonnes of Caath, was Uriel the chiefe, and of hys brethren there were an hundred and twentie.

6 Of the chyldren of Merari, Aſaia the chiefe, and of his brethren two hundred & twentie.

7 Of the ſonnes of Gerſom, Joel the chiefe, B and of his brethren an hundred and thirtie.

8 Of the chyldren of Elizaphan, Semaia the chiefe, and of his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the ſonnes of Hebron, Eliel the chiefe, and and of his brethren fourescore.

10 Of the sonnes of Uzziel, Aminadab the chiefe, and of his brethren an hundred and twelue.

11 And Dauid called Zadoc and Abiathar the priests, and the Leuites, Uzziel, Asaia, Joel, Semaia, Eliel, and Aminadab, 12 And sayd vnto them, Ye that are the principall fathers of the Leuites, see that ye be holy with your brethren, that ye may bring in the arke of the Lorde God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For bycause ye were not there at the first, the Lorde our God made a rent among vs, for that we sought hym not as the fashion ought to be.

14 So the priests and the Leuites sanctified themselues, to fetche the arke of the Lorde God of Israel.

15 And the chyldren of the Leuites bare the arke of God vppon theyr shoulders with staues thereon, as Moses commaunded, according to the worde of the Lorde.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe heades of the Leuites, that they shoulde appoynt certayne of theyr brethren to sing with instruments of musicke, psalteries, harpes, and Cymbales, that they might make a sounde, and to sing on hygh with ioyfulnesse.

17 And the Leuites appoynted Heman the sonne of Joel, and of hys brethren, Asaph the sonne of Berechia, and of the sonnes of Merari and of theyr brethren, Ethan the sonne of Cusaiahu.

18 And with them theyr brethren of the seconde degree, Zacharia, Ben, Jaziel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiahu, Maasiah, Mathathiahu, Eliphalehu, Mikniahu, Obed Edom, & Jeiel, porters.

19 So Heman, Asaph, and Ethan the singers, made a sounde with Cymbales of brasse.

20 And Zacharia, Aziel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maasiahu, and Benaiahu, played with psalteries on an (a) Alamoth.

a. A musicall instrument. Psalm. 46.

D 21 Mathathiahu, Eliphalehu, Mikniahu, Obed Edom, Jeiel, & Azaiahu, played vpō Harpes an eyght aboue, with courage.

22 And Chenaniahu the chiefe of the Leuites was mayster of the song: for hee taught other to sing, bycause he was a man of vnderstandyng.

23 Berechia and Elcana kepte the dore of the arke.

24 And Sebaniahu, Jehosaphat, Nathanael, Amasai, Zachariahu, Benaiahu, and Eliezer the priestes, dyd blowe with trumpets before the arke of God: and Obed Edom and Jehia were keepers of the dore of the arke.

25 And Dauid and the elders of Israell, and the captaynes ouer thousands, went to fetche the arke of the appoyntment of the Lorde, out of the house of Obed Edom with gladnesse. 2.Reg.6.c.

26 And when God helped the Leuites that bare the arke of the appoyntment of the Lorde, they offered seuen oxen, and seuen rammes.

27 And Dauid had on hym a linnen garment, lyke as had also all the Leuites that bare the arke, and so had the singers, and Chenaniahu the ruler of the song, with the singers: and Dauid had vpon him an Ephod of linnen. E

28 And all they of Israel brought the arke of the Lordes couenant with showting, and blowyng of the shawme, and trumpettes, making a noise with cymbales, psalteries, and harpes.

29 And as the arke of the appoyntment of the Lorde came into the citie of Dauid, Michol the daughter of Saul lokyng out at a wyndowe, sawe kyng Dauid daunsing and playing, and she despysed hym in hyr hart.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. The arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 4. Dauid ordeyneth Asaph and his brethren to minister before the Lorde. 8. He appoynteth a notable Psalme to be song in the prayse of the Lorde.

1 SO they brought in the arke of God, & A set it in the midst of the tent that Dauid pitched for it: & they offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerynges before God.

2 And when Dauid had made an ende of offeryng the burnt offerynges and peace offerynges, he blessed the people in the name of the Lorde.

3 And he dealt to all Israel bothe man and woman, a cracknel of bread, & a good peece of flesshe, and a flacket of wyne.

4 And he appoynted certayne of the Leuites to minister before ỹ arke of the Lord, and to repeate, and to thanke and praise the Lorde God of Israel.

5 And Asaph was the chiefe, and nexte to hym Zacharia, Jeiel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Mathathia, Eliab, Benaia, Obed Edom, and Jeiel, with instruments, psalteries, and harpes: but Asaph made a sounde with cymbales. 2.Reg.6.b.

6 Benaia and Jahaziel priestes, blewe with trumpettes continually before the arke arke of the couenant of God.

B 7 And that same tyme Dauid did appoint chiefely to thanke the Lorde by Asaph and his brethren.

Psal.105. 8 Confesse you(it)vnto God,call vpon his name: cause the people to vnderstande his deuises.

9 Sing vnto him,sing psalmes vnto hym: talke you of all hys wonderous workes.

10 Glory ye in his holy name: let the hart of them reioyce that dw seeke God.

11 Seeke God and his strength: seeke hys face euermore.

12 Remember the marueylous workes that he hath done: his wonders,and the iudgement of his mouth.

13 O ye seede of Israham his seruaunt: yee his chosen chyldren of Jacob.

C 14 He is God our Lorde: hys iudgements are in all the earth.

15 He hath bene mindful alwayes of his couenant: (for he promysed a worde to a thousande generations,)

16 Euen of hys couenant that he made with Israham: and of his othe vnto "Isaac.

"Jitheth.

17 And he appointed the same vnto "Jacob for a lawe:and to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, "Jaacob.

18 Saying,Vnto thee I wyll giue the land of "Chanaan: the "lot of your inheritãce.

"Kenaan. "Corde, wherewith portiõs of inheritances were measured.

19 When they were a few men in number: and hadde bene strangers but a litle whyle in it.

20 And when they went from one nation to another: from one kyngdome to another people, D 21 He suffred no man to "dw them wrong: yea, he reproued euen kings for theyr sakes.

"Deceyue them.

22 Touche not myne annoynted: and triumphe not ouer my prophets.

Psalm.96. 23 Syng vnto the Lorde all the earth: and shewe from day to day his saluation.

24 Tell of hys glory among the heathen: his wonderfull deedes among all nations.

25 For great is the Lorde, and worthie to be prayed exceedingly: he is to be feared aboue all goddes.

26 For all the goddes of the people are "but idols: but the Lorde made heauen.

"Manitie,and no God.

C 27 Prayse and honour are in his presence: strength and gladnesse are in his place.

28 Ascribe vnto the Lorde yee kynredes of people: ascribe to the Lord glory and dominion.

29 Ascribe vnto the Lord the glory due vnto his name: bring sacrifices,and come before him,and worship the Lord in his glorious sanctuarie.

30 Let all the earth feare hym: surely the Lorde shal be stable,and not moue.

31 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let men tell among the nations that the Lorde is kyng.

32 Let the sea rore, and the fulnesse thereof: let the fieldes reioyce, and al that is therein.

33 Then shal the trees of the wood reioyce at the presence of the Lorde, bycause he commeth to iudge the earth.

34 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is good,for his mercie endureth for euer:

35 And say ye,Saue vs, O God our saluation, gather vs together, and deliuer vs frõ among the heathen, that wee may gyue thankes to thy holy name, and triumphe in the prayse of thee.

36 Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel for F euer and euer: and let al people say,Amen, and prayse the Lorde.

37 And so he left there before the arke of the Lordes couenant Asaph and hys brethren, to minister before the arke continually (in such things as were to be done)day by day.

38 And Obed Edom and his brethren,three score and eight,and Obed Edom the sonne of Jeduthun,and Hosa,were appoynted to be porters.

39 And Zadoc the priest and his brethren the priestes,were before the tabernacle of the Lorde, in the high place that was at Gibeon, 40 To offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, vpon the burnt offeryng aultar perpetually, in the mornyng and euenyng,accordyng to all that whiche is written in the lawe of the Lorde whiche he commaunded Israel.

41 And with them were Heman and Jeduthun, and other that were chosen, whose names were expressed to gyue thankes to the Lorde,That his mercie lasteth euer.

42 And with them dyd Heman and Jeduthun sing with the trumpets and cymbals, makyng a sweete melody with instrumẽts of musicke & godly songs: and the sonnes of Jeduthun were porters.

43 And all the people departed euery man to his house, and Dauid returned to bless hys house.

The.xvij.Chapter.

3. Dauid is forbidden to buylde an house vnto the Lorde. 12. Christ is promised vnder the figure of Solomon. 18. Dauid giueth thankes, 23. and prayeth vnto God.

1 AND it fortuned, that when Dauid I dwelt in his house,he sayde to Nathan the prophete, Loe, I dwell in an house of 2. Reg.7.a.
Cedar tree, but the arke of the lordes couenant

(a) In tentes couered with skinnes.

nant remayneth vnder (a) curtaynes.
2 And Nathan sayde vnto Dauid, Doe all that is in thyne hart, for God is with thee.
3 And the same night, it fortuned that the worde of God came to Nathan, saying,
4 Goe and tell Dauid my seruaunt, Thus sayth the Lorde, Thou shalt not buylde me an house to dwell in:
5 For I haue dwelt in no house since the day that I brought out the childre of Israel, vnto this day: but haue gone from tent to tent, & from one habitation to another.
6 And where so euer I haue walked with al Israel, spake I euer one worde to any of the iudges of Israel, whom I commaunded to feede my people, saying, Why haue ye not buylt me an house of Cedar tree?
B 7 Nowe therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, I toke thee from the sheepe coate, & frō folowyng the sheepe, that thou shouldest be captayne ouer my people Israel:
8 And I haue bene with thee whyther so euer thou hast walked, and haue wasted out all thyne enimies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a name lyke the name of the greatest men that are in the earth.
9 And I haue ordeined a place for my people Israel, & made it fast, so that nowe they may dwel in theyr place, & moue no more: neyther shall the chyldren of wickednesse vexe them any more as at the beginnyng.
10 And since the tyme that I commaunded iudges to be ouer my people Israel, I haue subdued all thyne enimies: and I tolde thee that the Lorde woulde buylde thee an house.
11 This also shall come to passe: when thy dayes be expired that thou muste goe vnto thy fathers, I wyll rayse vp thy seede after thee, whiche shall be of thy sonnes, and I wyll stablishe his kyngdome.
12 He shall buylde me an house, and I will stablishe hys seate for euer.
13 I wyll be his father, and he shal be my sonne, and I wil not take my mercie away from him, as I toke it from him that was before thee.
C 14 But I will stablishe hym in mine house and my kyngdome for euer, and hys seate shal be sure for euermore.
15 Accordyng to all these wordes, and accordyng to all this vision dyd Nathan tell kyng Dauid.
16 And Dauid the kyng came and sate before the Lorde, and sayde, What am I, O Lorde God, and what is myne household, that thou hast promoted me thus farre?
17 And yet this seemed lytle in thyne eyes, O God: But thou hast also spoken of thy seruants house for a greate whyle to come, and hast loked vpon me, as vpon a man of hygh degree, O Lorde God.
18 What shal Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruaunt? for thou hast knowen thy seruant.
19 O Lorde, for thy seruants sake, euen accordyng to thyne owne hart, hast thou done all this magnificence, to shewe all greate things.
20 Lorde, there is none lyke thee, neyther is there any God saue thou, accordyng to all that we haue hearde with our eares.
21 Moreouer, what nation on the earth is D lyke thy people Israel, to whom God hath vouchsafed to come and redeeme them to be his owne people, & to make thee a name of excellencie and terriblenesse, with casting out nations from before the people, whom thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?
22 Thy people of Israel dyddest thou make thyne owne people for euer, and thou becamest theyr God.
23 Therefore nowe Lorde, let the thing that thou hast spoken concernyng thy seruaunt and hys house, be true for euer, that thou Lorde do as thou hast sayde:
24 Let it come to passe, that thy name may be magnified for euer, that it may be sayde, The Lord of hostes is the God of Israel, euen the God of Israel, & the house of Dauid thy seruant endureth stable before thee.
25 For thou O my God, hast tolde thy seruant that thou wilt buylde him a house, and therfore thy seruant hath found in hys hart, to pray before thee.
26 And nowe Lorde, thou art God, and hast promised this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.
27 Nowe therefore let it be thy pleasure to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue before thee for euer: For whom thou blessest, O Lorde, the same is blessed for euer.

The.xviij. Chapter.

1. The battel of Dauid against the Philistines. 2. And agaynst Moab. 3. Zoba, 5. Aram, 12. and Edom.

1 NOw after this, it fortuned that Dauid smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and toke Geth, and the townes that longed thereto, out of the handes of the Philistines. A 2.Reg.8.a.
2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauids seruaunts, and payde him tribute.
3 And Dauid smote Hadarezer kyng of Zoba vnto Hamath, as he went to stablish his dominion by the ryuer Euphrates.

4 And Dauid toke from him a thousande charettes, and seuen thousande horsemen, and twentie thousande footemen, and lamed all the charret horses, and reserued of them an hundred charets.

5 And when the Syrians of Damascon came to helpe Hadarezer kyng of Zoba, Dauid slue of the Syrians twētie and two thousande.

6 And Dauid put souldiers in Syria Damascon, and the Syrians became Dauids seruaunts, and brought hym tribute: And the Lorde preserued Dauid in all that he went to.

B 7 And Dauid toke the shields of golde that were on the seruaunts of Hadarezar, and brought them to Hierusalem.

8 And from Tebhath, and from Chun, cities of Hadarezar, brought Dauid exceedyng muche brasse, wherewith Solomon made the brasen lauatorie, the pillers, and the vessels of brasse.

3.Reg.7.b. Jerem.51.e.

9 And when Thou kyng of Hemath heard how Dauid had beaten all the "strength of Hadarezar kyng of Zoba, "or, host.

10 He sent "Hadoram hys sonne to kyng Dauid, to make peace with hym, and to blesse hym, bycause he had fought agaynst Hadarezar, and beaten hym (for Thou had warre with Hadarezar) and (Hadoram brought) all manner of iewels of golde, siluer, and brasse with him.

"or, Joram. 2.Reg.8.a.

11 And king Dauid dedicated them vnto the Lorde, with the siluer and golde that he brought from al natiõs, from Edom, from Moab, from the chyldren of Ammon, from the Philistines, and from Amalec.

12 And Abisai the sonne of Zaruia slue of the Edomites in the salt valley eyghtene thousande, 13 And put souldiers in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruãts: Thus the Lorde kepte Dauid in all that he toke in hande.

C 14 And Dauid raygned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and righteousnesse among all his people.

15 And Joab the sonne of Zaruia was ouer the host, and Jehosaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder:

16 And Zadoc the sonne of Ahitob, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar, were the priests, and Sausa was scribe, 17 And Benaiahu the sonne of Jehoiada was ouer the Cherethites and the Phelethites: and the sonnes of Dauid were next vnto the kyng.

The.xix.Chapter.

4. Hanon king of the chyldren of Ammon doth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid, 6. He prepareth an armie agaynst Dauid, 15. and is ouercome.

1 AFter thys, it chaunced, that Nahas the kyng of the chyldren of Ammon died, and hys sonne raygned in his steede. A 2.Reg.10.a

2 And Dauid sayde, I wyll shewe kindnesse vnto Hanon the sonne of Nahas, bycause his (a) father dealt kindly with me. And Dauid sent messengers to cõfort him ouer the death of his father: & the seruants of Dauid came into the lande of the childrē of Ammon, to Hanon, to comfort him.

a. Bicause Nahas receyued Dauid and his company when Saul persecuted him, he would nowe shewe pleasure to his sonne for the same.

3 But the lords of the chyldren of Ammon sayde to Hanon, Thinkest thou that Dauid doth honour thy father in thy sight, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not hys seruants come to (b) searche, to loke, and espie out the lande?

b. The malitious euer interprete the purpose of the godly in the worse sense.

4 Wherefore Hanon toke Dauids seruaunts, and (c) shaued them, and cut off their coates harde by their buttockes, and sent them away.

c. They cut of halfe their beardes.

5 And there went certayne, and tolde Dauid howe the menne were serued: and the kyng sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the kyng sayde, Tarrie at Jericho vntill your beardes be growen, and then returne.

6 And when the chyldren of Ammon sawe that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, Hanon & the chyldren of Ammon, sent a thousand talents of siluer, to hyre them charets and horsemen out of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria Maacha, and out of Zoba.

7 And they hyred thirtie and two thousand charettes, and the kyng of Maacha and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: And the chyldren of Ammon gathered themselues together from theyr cities, and came to battell. B

8 And when Dauid hearde of it, he sent Joab and all the host of strong men.

9 And the chyldren of Ammon came out, and put themselues in aray to battell, before the gate of the citie: and the kings that were come, kept them by themselues backe in the fielde.

10 When Joab also sawe that the front of the battell was agaynst him before and behinde, he chose out of all the chosen men of Israel, and put them in aray agaynst the Syrians.

11 And the resse of the people he deliuered vnto the hande of Abisai hys brother, and they they put themselues in aray agaynste the childzen of Immon.

12 And he saide, If the Syzians be to strong for me, thou shalte succour me, and if the childzen of Immon preuayle agaynst thee,
I will helpe thee.
13 Plucke vp thyne hart, and let vs play the men for our peoples sake, and for the cities of our God: and the Lozde shall dw that whiche is gwd in his owne sight.
¶ 14 So Joab and the people that were with him, drewe nighe before the Syzians vnto the battel: and they fled before him.
15 And when the childzen of Immon sawe that the Syzians were fledde, they ranne away likewise before Abisai his brother, and gate them into the citie: and Joab came to Hierusalem.
16 And when the Syzians sawe that they were put to the wozse before Israell, they sent messengers, and fet out the Syzians that were beyonde the "ryuer: and Sophach the captayne of the hoste of Hadarezer, went before them.
17 And it was told Dauid: and he gathered all Israel, and went together ouer Jozdane, and came and set vpon them: & when Dauid had put him selfe in aray agaynst the Syzians, they fought with hym.
18 But the Syzians fled before Israel, and Dauid destroyed of the Syzians seuen thousand charettes, and fourtie thousande fotemen, and killed Sophach the captayne of the hoste.
19 And when the seruaunts of Hadarezer sawe that they were put to the wozse before them of Israel, they made peace with Dauid, and became his seruants: Neyther woulde the Syzians helpe the childzen of Immon any moze.

The.xx. Chapter.

1. Rabba destroyed. 3. The Ammonites tormented. 4. The Philistines are thryce ouercome with their giants.

I 1 AND it came to passe, that after the yeere was expired (about the time that kyngs goe out to warrefare) Joab carried out the "armie of the hoste, and destroyed the countrey of the childzen of Immon, and came and besieged Rabba, and destroyed it: But Dauid tarryed at Hierusalem whyle Joab smote Rabba, & destroyed it.
2 And Dauid toke the crowne of theyr kyng from off his head, and founde that it had the weight of a talent of golde, & there were precious stones in it, and it was set vpon Dauids head: and he brought also exceedyng much spoyle out of the citie.
3 And he brought out the people that were in it, and tormented them with sawes and harrowes of iron, and with other sharpe
"instrumentes, and so dealt Dauid with al the cities of the childzen of Immon: And Dauid and all the people came agayne to Hierusalem.
4 After this, it fortuned that there arose warre at Gazer with the Philistines: at whiche tyme Sibbechai the Husathite slue Sippai that was of the childzen of Re-phaim, and they were subdued.
5 And there was battell agayne with the Philistines, and Elhanan the sonne of Jair slue Lahemi, the brother of Goliah the Ge-thite, whose speare was lyke a weauers beame.
6 And there chaunced yet agayne warre at Geth, where as was a man of great stature, with foure and twentie fingers and toes, sixe on euery hande, and sixe on euery foote, and was the sonne of Raphah.
7 But when he defied Israel, Jehonathan the sonne of Simea, Dauids brother, slue hym.
8 These were borne vnto Raphah at Geth, and were ouerthrowen in the hand of Da-uid, and in the hande of hys seruantes.

The.xxi. Chapter.

1. Dauid causeth the people to be numbred. 14. And there dye seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

1 AND Satan stode vp against Israel, & I prouoked Dauid to number Israel.
2 And Dauid sayde to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe ye, and number Israel, from Beersleba vnto Dan: and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.
3 And Joab answeared, The Lozde make his people an hundred tymes so many moe as they be: But my lozde, O kyng, are they not al my lozdes seruants? why then doth my lozde require this thyng? why wil my lozde be a cause of (a) trespalle to Israel?
4 Neuertheless, the kyngs wozde preuayled against Joab: And Joab departed, and walked throughout all them of Israel, and came to Hierusalem agayne, 5 And gaue the summe of the number of the people vnto Dauid: and all they of Israel were a thousande thousande, and an hundred thousand men that drew swozde:
and Juda was foure hundred threscore and tenne thousand men that drew swozde.
But the Leuites and Beniamin counted

a. Dauid offended in nũbring the people, partely bycause he did it of ambition, but chiefly for that he payed not to the vse of the temple: for euery one numbred halfe a sicle, accordyng to the lawe. Exod. 30.

he not among them: For the kings worde was abominable to Ioab.

7 And the Lorde was displeased with this thyng, and smote Israel.

8 And Dauid sayde vnto God, I haue sinned exceedingly in doyng this thing: And nowe, I beseeche thee, do away the wickednesse of thy seruant, for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lorde spake vnto Gad Dauids seer, saying,

10 Goe, and tell Dauid, saying, Thus sayth the Lorde, I gyue thee the choyse of three things: chose thee one of them, that I may do vnto thee.

11 And Gad came to Dauid, and sayde vnto hym, Thus sayth the Lorde, Chose thee, 12 Either three yeeres famishment, or three moneths to be destroyed before thyne aduersaries, and that the sworde of thyne enimies may ouertake thee: or els the sworde of the Lord, and pestilence in the land three dayes, and the angel of the Lorde destroying throughout all the coastes of Israel: & now aduise thy selfe, what worde I shall bryng agayne to him that sent me.

13 And Dauid sayde vnto Gad, I am in an exceedyng strayte: Let me fall nowe into the hande of the Lorde (for passyng great are his mercies) but let me not fall into the hande of men.

14 So the Lorde sent pestilence vpon Israel: and there were ouerthrowen of Israel threescore and ten thousande men.

15 And God sent the angel into Hierusalem to destroy it: & as he was about to destroy, the Lorde beheld, and had compassion on the euil, & sayde to the angel that destroyed, It is enough, let now thine hande ceasse. And the angel of the Lorde stode by the threshyng floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lifte vp hys eyes, and sawe the angel of the Lorde stande betweene the earthe and heauen, hauyng a drawen sworde in hys hande, stretched out toward Hierusalem: then Dauid and the elders of Israel whiche were clothed in sacke, fell vpon theyr faces.

17 And Dauid sayde vnto God, Is it not I that cõmaunded the people to be numbred? It is I that haue sinned and done euyll in deede: and what haue these sheepe done? Let thyne hande, O Lorde my God, be on me, and on my fathers house: but not on thy people, that they shuld be punished.

18 And the angel of the Lorde commaunded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid shoulde goe vp, and set vp an aulter vnto the Lorde in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 And Dauid went vp accordyng to the saying of Gad, which he spake in the name of the Lorde.

20 And Ornan turned aboute, and sawe the angel, and his foure sonnes were with him, and hidde themselues: But Ornan was threshyng wheate.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan D
loked and sawe Dauid, and went out of the threshyng floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with hys face to the grounde.

22 And Dauid sayd to Ornan, Giue me the place of the threshyng floore, that I may buylde an aulter therein vnto the Lorde: thou shalt giue it me for as much money as it is worth, that the plague may ceasse frõ the people.

23 And Ornan sayde vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lorde the kyng do that whiche seemeth good in his eyes: Loe, I giue thee oxen also for burnt sacrifices, and threshyng instruments for wood, & wheate for meate offeryng, I gyue it all.

24 And kyng Dauid sayde to Ornan, Not so, but I wyll buye it for as muche money as it is worth: for I wyll not take that which is thyne for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerynges without cost.

25 And so Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place sicles of gold, sixe hundred by weight.

26 And Dauid buylte there an aulter vnto the Lorde, and offered burnt offerynges, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lorde, and he heard hym from heauen in fire, vpon the aulter of burnt offeryng.

27 And when the Lorde had spoken to the angel, he put vp hys sworde agayne into the sheath of it.

28 At that tyme when Dauid sawe that the C
Lorde had hearde hym in the threshyng floore of Ornan the Iebusite, he vsed to offer there:

29 For the tabernacle of the Lorde whiche Moses made in the wildernesse, & the aulter of burnt offeryng, were at that season in the hill of Gibeon:

30 And Dauid coulde not goe before it, to aske counsell at God, for he was afrayde of the sworde of the angel of the Lorde.

The.xxij. Chapter.

1. Dauid prepareth things necessarie for the buylding of the temple. 6. He commaundeth his sonne Solomon to buyld the temple of the Lorde, whiche thyng he himselfe was forbidden to do. 9. Vnder the figure of Solomon, Christ is promised.

1 And

1 AND Dauid sayde, This is the house of the Lorde God, and this is the aulter for the burnt offeryng of Israel.

2 And Dauid commaunded to gather together the strangers that were in the lande of Israel, & he set Masons to hewe and pullish stones for the building of the house of God.

3 And Dauid prepared plentie of iron, for nayles, and dores of the gates, and to ioyne withall, and abundance of brasse without weyght.

4 And Cedar trees without number: For the Sidons, & they of Tyre brought much Cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid sayd, Solomon my sonne is yong and tender, and the house that is to be buylded for the Lorde must be magnifical, excellent, and of greate fame and dignitie throughout all countreys: I wyll therfore make ordinances for it. And so Dauid prepared many thyngs before his death.

6 And he called Solomon his sonne, and charged hym to buylde an house for the Lorde God of Israel.

7 And Dauid sayde to Solomon, My sonne, I thought (as it was) in myne hart to buylde an house vnto the name of the Lord my God:

1 Reg. 7. b. 3. Reg. 5. a.

8 But the worde of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shedde muche bloud, and hast made great battelles: thou shalt therfore not buylde an house vnto my name, for thou hast shedde muche bloud vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, and he shal be a man of rest, for I wyll giue him rest from all his enimies rounde about: for his name is Solomon, and I wyll sende rest and peace vpon Israel in hys dayes.

10 He shall buylde an house for my name, and he shall be my sonne, and I wyl be hys father, and I will establishe the seate of hys kyngdome vpon Israell for euer.

11 Nowe therefore my sonne, the Lorde be with thee and prosper thee, and thou shalte buylde an house to the Lorde thy God, as he hath sayde of thee.

12 And the Lorde shal gyue thee wisedome and vnderstandyng, and shal gyue thee cõmaundements for Israel, that thou mayest keepe the lawe of the Lorde thy God.

13 For then thou shalte prosper, euen when thou takest heede, and fulfillest the statutes, and lawes whiche the Lorde charged Moses with for Israel: Plucke vp thyne harte therefore, and be strong, dreade not, nor be discouraged.

14 Beholde, accordyng to my powertie haue I also prepared for the house of the Lorde, an hundred thousand talents of golde, and a thousande thousand talents of siluer: and as for brasse and iron, it can not be numbred, (for it is very muche) and I haue prepared tymber and stone, and thou mayest prouide more thereto.

15 Moreouer, thou hast workemen with thee nowe, and Masons, and Carpenters (to woorke in stone and tymber) and many men that be actiue for euery worke.

16 And of golde, siluer, brasse and iron, there is no number: Up therfore, and be doing, and the Lorde shal be with thee.

17 And Dauid commaunded all the lordes of Israell to helpe Solomon hys sonne, saying, 18 Is not the Lorde your God with you? & hath he not gyuen you rest on euery side? for he hath gyuen the inhabitours of the lande into my hande, and the lande is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Now therefore set your hartes and your soules to seeke the Lorde your God: Up, and builde ye the temple of the Lorde God, to bryng the arke of the couenaunt of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God, into the house so buylt for the name of the Lorde.

The. xxiij. Chapter.

1. Dauid beyng olde, ordeyneth Solomon king. 3. He causeth the Leuites to be numbred. 4. And assigneth thē to their offices. 13. Aaron and his sonnes are for the hyghe priests. 14. The sonnes of Moses.

1 SO when Dauid was olde and full of daies, he made Solomon his sonne kyng ouer Israel. I 3. Reg. 1. c.

2 And then he gathered together all the lordes of Israel, with the priestes and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirtie yeeres and aboue: and the number and summe of them was thirtie and eyght thousande men.

4 Of whiche, twentie and foure thousand were set to further the woorke of the house of the Lorde: and fiue thousand were officers and iudges.

5 Foure thousande were porters, and foure thousande praysed the Lorde with suche instrumentes as was made to prayse withall.

6 And so Dauid put an order among thē, diuidyng them in partes: Of the chyldren of Leui, Gerson, Caath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gersonites, was Laadan, and Semei.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Iehiel, Zetham, and Ioel, three.

9 The sonnes of Semei, Selomith, Haziel, and Haran, three. These were the auncient fathers of Laadan.
10 And the sonnes of Semei, were, Iahath, Zina, Ieus, and Beria: these foure were the sonnes of Semei.
11 And Iahath was the chiefe, Ziza the seconde: but Ieus, and Beria had not many sonnes, therfore they were in one reckening, according to theyr fathers houshold, recke-ned for one auncient householde.
12 The sonnes of Caath, Amram, Izahar, Hebron, and Uzziel, foure.

C 14 Moses also the mã of God, and his children, were named with the tribe of Leui.
15 The sonnes of Moses, Gerſom, and Eliezer.
16 Of the sonnes of Gerſom, Sebuel was the chiefe.
17 The sonnes of Eliezer, Rehabia ẏ chief:
And Eliezer had none other sonnes, but the sonnes of Rehabia were very many.
18 The sonnes of Izahar, Selomith the chiefe.
19 The sonnes of Hebron, Ieriahu the firſt, Amaria the second, Iahaziel the thirde, and Iecmeam the fourth 20 The sonnes of Uzziel, Micha the firſte, and Iesia the seconde.
D 21 The sonnes of Merari, Mahli, and Muſi.
The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar, and Cis.
22 And Eleazar dyed, & had no sonnes, but daughters, and theyr brethren the sonnes of Cis toke them.
23 The sonnes of Muſi, Mahli, Eder, Ie-remoth, three.
24 These are the chyldren of Leui after the householde of theyr fathers, euen the aun-cient of the fathers accordyng to theyr offices, and after the number and summe of the names of them that dyd the worke in the seruice of the house of the Lorde, from the age of twentie yeeres and aboue.
25 And Dauid sayd, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen reſte vnto his people, that they may dwell in Hieruſalem for euer:
26 That the Leuites also ſhoulde nowe no more beare the tabernacle, and all the veſsels for the seruice thereof.
27 For according to the laſt wordes of Da-uid, the Leuites were nũbred from twentie yeeres and aboue.
28 And theyr office was vnder the hande of E the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courtes and celles, and in the purifying of all holy thyngs, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God:
29 In the shewebread, in the fine flowre, in the meate offeryng, in the wafers of sweete bread, in the frying panne, in the gredyron, and in al manner of measures and ſyze:
30 And to ſtande euery day in the mornyng to thanke and prayſe the Lorde, and ſo like-wyſe at euen:
31 And to offer all burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde, in the Sabbothes, in the newe mones, and on the feaſtfull dayes, by number and cuſtome continually as they were commaunded, before the Lorde.
32 And that they ſhoulde wayte on the tabernacle of the congregation, and on the holy place, and on the sonnes of Aaron theyr brethren, in the seruice of the house of the Lorde.

The.xxiiij. Chapter.

Dauid aſsigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

1 THese are the diuiſions of the sonnes of A Aaron. The sonnes of Aarõ, Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.
2 Nadab also and Abihu died before their Leuit.10.a father, and had no chyldren: but Eleazar and Ithamar executed the prieſts office.
3 And Dauid ordered them on this manner: Zadoc of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelec of the sonnes of Ithamar (were) according to their offices in their miniſtration.
4 And there were mo auncient men found among the sonnes of Eleazar, than the sonnes of Ithamar. And thus were they ordered together: Among the sonnes of Eleazar ther were ſixtene rulers according to the houſeholde of their fathers, and eyght among the sonnes of Ithamar according to the houſeholde of theyr fathers.
5 And thus were they put in order by lot the one ſorte from the other: and ſo were there rulers in the ſanctuarie, and lordes before God, aſwell of the sonnes of Eleazar, as of the sonnes of Ithamar.
6 And Semaia the sonne of Nathanael the ſcribe, of the kynrede of the Leuites, wrote them before the king and the lordes, and before Zadoc the prieſt, and Ahimelec the sonne of Abiathar, and before the aun-cient fathers of the prieſtes and Leuites, one

one principall houſehold beyng reſerued for Eleazar, and one for Ithamar.
B 7 And the firſt lot fell to Iehoiarib: and the ſeconde to Iedaia,
8 The thirde to Harim, and the fourth to Seborim,
9 The fift to Melchia, and the ſixte to Miamin,
Luke.1. 10 The ſeuenth to Hakos, and the eyght to Abia, 11 The ninth to Ieſua, & the tenth to Secaniah,
12 The eleuenth to Eliaſib, and the twelfth to Jakim,
13 The thirtenth to Huppa, and the fourtenth to Ieſebeab,
C 14 The fiftenth to Bilga, and the ſixtenth to Immer,
15 The ſeuententh to Hezir, and the eyghtenth to Aphſes,
16 The niententh to Pethahia, & the twentieth to Iehekel, 17 The one and twentie to Jachin, and the two and twentie to Gamul, 18 The three and twentie to Delaiahu, and the foure and twentie to Maaſiahu.
19 Theſe are the ordinances of them in their offices, when they came into the houſe of the Lorde, accordyng to their manner, vnder Aaron their father, as the Lorde God of Iſrael had commaunded hym.

The.xxvi.Chapter.

1. The porters of the temple are ordeyned euery man to the gate whiche he shoulde keepe, 20. and ouer the treasure.

1 These are the diuisions of the porters. Emõg the Korethites, Meselemiahu, the sonne of Kore of the chyldren of Asaph.
2 And the sonnes of Meselemiahu were these: Zachariahu the eldest, Jedihel the second, Zebadiahu the thyrde, and Jahniel the fourth,
3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, and Elioenai the seuenth.
4 The sonnes of Obed Edom, Semeia the eldest, Jehosabad the seconde, Joah the thyrde, Sacar the fourth, and Nathanael the fifth,
5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seuenth, Peulthai the eyghth, for God blessed hym.
6 And vnto Semeia his sonne, were sonnes borne, that ruled in the house of theyr father: for they were men of might.
7 The sonnes of Semeia, Othni, Rephael, Obed, and Elzabad, and his brethren were strong men, Elihu, and Samachiahu.
8 All these were of the children of Obed Edom: they and theyr chyldren, and theyr brethren, actiue menne, and of strength to doo seruice, euen threescore and twoo of Obed Edom.
9 And Meselemiahu had sonnes and brethren, actiue men, eyghtene.
10 The sonnes of Hosa of the chyldren of Merari, Simri the chiefe, and though hee was not the eldest, yet hys father set him in the chiefest place:
11 Helkiahu the seconde, Thebaliahu the thyrde, and Zechariahu the fourth: all the sonnes and brethren of Hosa were thirtiene.
12 Among these was diuided the office of the portership, that they should be auncient men, to wayte with their brethren, when they ministred in the house of the Lorde.
13 And they caste lottes betweene the great and small, after the householde of their fathers, for euery gate.
14 And the lot on the East side fell vpõ Selemiahu: and for Zachariahu his sonne (whiche was a wyse counsellour) they cast lottes, and his lot came out towarde the North.
15 And Obed Edoms lot fell to the South: and for his sonnes fell the houses of (a) Asuppim.
16 For Shuppim and Hosa towarde the West, with the gate Shallecheth by the paued streete that goeth vpwarde, one watche beyng ouer agaynst another.
17 In the East were sixe Leuites, and towarde the North foure a day, towarde the South foure a day, and towarde Asuppim twoo and twoo.
18 In (b) Parbar, toward the West, two at the goyng vp, and two in Parbar.
19 These are the diuisions of the porters among the sonnes of Korah, and among the sonnes of Merari.
20 And of the Leuites, Ahiah had the ouersight of the treasures of the house of God, & of the treasures of the dedicate thyngs.
21 As concernyng the sonnes of Laadan, which were the chyldren of the Gersonites of Laadan, came auncient fathers, euen of Laadan there came Gersuni, and Jehieli.
22 The sonnes of Jehieli, Zetham, and Joel his brother, whiche were ouer the treasures of the house of the Lorde.

a. Asuppim, that is to say, the counsel house.

b. Whiche was an house wherein they kept the instruments of the temple.

23 Of the Amramites also and Izeharites, Hebronites, and Vzielites.
24 And Subael the sonne of Gersom the sonne of Moses, (was) a ruler ouer the treasures.
25 And of his brethren the sonnes of Eliezer was Rahabiahu, whose son was Iesaiahu, whose sonne was Iozam, whose sonne was Zichri, whose sonne was Selomith.
26 Which Selomith and his brethren, were ouer all the treasures of the dedicate things, which Dauid the king, and the auncient fathers, the captaynes ouer thousandes and hundreds, and the captaynes of the host had dedicated,
27 Out of the spoyles wonne in battayles, they did dedicate to mainteyne the house of the Lorde.
28 And al that Samuel the Sear, and Saul the sonne of Cis, and Abner the sonne of Ner, and Ioab the sonne of Zaruia, had dedicated, and whosoeuer had dedicated any thing, it was vnder the hande of Selomith, and of his brethren.
29 Of the Izeharites was Chenaniahu and his sonnes appoynted to the businesse (c) without forth ouer Israel: for they were officers and iudges.
30 And of the Hebronites, Hasabiahu and his brethren, men of actiuitie, a thousand and seuen hundred, were officers among them of Israel beyonde Iordane westwarde, in all businesse belonging to God, and seruice of the king.
31 Among the Hebronites was Iedia the chiefest, euen a prince among the Hebronites and fathers of his kynred: and in the fourtieth yeare of the kingdome of Dauid, they were sought for, & there were found among them men of actiuitie at Iazer in Gilead.
32 And his brethren were men of actiuitie, euen two thousand and seuen hundred auncient fathers: whom king Dauid made rulers ouer the Rubenites, Gadites, and ouer the halfe tribe of Manasse, for euery matter pertayning to God, & for the kings busines.

(c) Meaning of the things that were out of the citie.

The.xxviij. Chapter.

5. Bycauſe Dauid was forbydden to buyld the temple, he willeth Solomon and the people to perfourme it. 8. Exhorting him to feare the Lorde.

1 AND Dauid gathered all the Lozdes of Iſrael, the Lozdes of the tribes, the Lozdes of the companies, that miniſtred to the king by courſe, the captaynes ouer the thouſandes, and ouer the hundzeds, and the Lozdes that had the ouerſight ouer all the ſubſtance and poſſeſſion of Dauid, and of his ſonnes, with the Chamberlaynes, and all the mightie and valiant, and all actiue men, vnto Hieruſalem. 1
2 And king Dauid ſtode vp vpon his feete, and ſayde, Heare me my bzethzen and my people, I had in mine heart to buylde an houſe of reſt foz the arke of the couenant of the Lozd, and foz the footeſtoole of our God, and had made readie foz the buylding: 2.Reg.7.a.
3 But God ſayde vnto me, Thou ſhalt not buylde an houſe foz my name, bycauſe thou haſt bene a man of warre, and haſt ſhedde bloud. 3.Reg.5.a.
4 Moxeouer the Lozde God of Iſrael choſe me before all the houſe of my father, to bee king ouer Iſraell foz euer: foz in Iuda would he chooſe a captayne, and of the houſholde of Iuda, is the houſe of my father, and among the ſonnes of my father, he had a luſt to me, to make me king ouer all Iſrael. 1.Reg.16.a.
5 And of all my ſonnes (foz the Lozde hath giuen me many ſonnes) he hath choſen Solomon my ſonne, to ſit vpon the ſeate of the kingdome of the Lozde in Iſrael.
6 And he ſayd vnto me, Solomon thy ſonne he ſhall buyld me an houſe and courtes: I haue choſen him to be my ſonne, and I will be his father. 1.Par.17.a
7 I will ſtabliſh his kingdome foz euer, if he wil be ſtrong to do my comaundements and my lawes, as it goeth this day. B
8 Nowe therefoze in the ſight of all Iſrael the congregation of the Lozde, and in the audience of our God, keepe and ſeeke foz all the commaundements of the Lozde your God, that ye may enioy a good lande, and leaue inheritance foz your childzen after you foz euer.
9 And thou Solomon my ſonne, knowe thou the God of thy father, and ſerue him with a pure hart, and with a willing mind: foz the Lozde ſearcheth all heartes, and vnderſtandeth all the imaginations of thoughts: and if thou ſeeke him, hee will bee founde of thee: but if thou forſake him, hee wyll Pſal.7.b.

call thee off for euer.

10 Take heede nowe, for the Lorde hathe chosen thee to buylde hym an house of a sanctuarie: bee strong therefore and playe the man.

11 And Dauid gaue Solomon his sonne the patterne of the porch, and of the houses that longed thereto, of the storehouses, vpper chambers, inner parlours, and of the house of the mercie seate,

12 And the example of all that he had in his minde for the courtes of the house of the Lord, and for all the celles round about, for the treasures of the house of God, and for the treasures of the dedicate things:

13 For the diuisions of the priestes and Leuites that wayted by course, and for all the workmanship that should serue for the house of the lord, and for al the vessels that should serue in the house of the Lorde:

¶ 14 For golde, and for the wayght of golde, for all vessels of sundrie ministrations, for all maner of vessels of siluer in wayght, and for all vessels whatsoeuer purpose they serued vnto:

15 The waight of gold for the candelsticks, and the golde for theyr lampes, wyth the waight for euery candelsticke, and for the lampes thereof: and for the candelsticks of siluer by waight, both for the candelsticke and also for hir lampes, according to the diuersitie of the vse of euery candelsticke.

16 And by waight (he gaue) golde for the tables of shew bread, euen for euery table, and likewise siluer for the tables of siluer, 17 And pure golde for the flesshe hookes, cuppes and drinking pottes: and (pure) golde in waight for basons, euen for euerie bason: and likewise siluer by waight, for euery bason of siluer.

18 And for the aulter of incense, pure golde by waight, and golde for the patterne of the charet of the Cherubs that stretched oute their wings and couered the arke of the couenant of the Lorde.

Exod.5. 19 All (he sayde) was gyuen mee by wryting of the hande of the Lorde, which made me vnderstande al the workemanship of the paterne.

20 And Dauid sayd to Solomon his sonne, Be strong & of good courage, and doe manfully, feare not, nor be faint hearted, for the Lorde God, euen my God is with thee, and he shal not faile thee, nor forsake thee, vntill thou hast finished all the worke that muste serue for the house of the Lorde.

D 21 Beholde, the Priestes and Leuites are diuided in companies for all maner of seruice that perteyneth to the house of God, they are wyth thee for all maner of workemanship, and so are all that excell in wisedome for any maner of seruice: thou hast also the princes and all the people, who lie at thy commaundement.

The.xxix. Chapter.

2. The offerings of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the temple, 10. Dauid giueth thankes to the Lorde. 20. Hee exhorteth the people to doe the same. 22. Solomon is created king. 28. Dauid dyeth, and Solomon his sonne raigneth in hys steade.

1 AND Dauid the king sayde vnto all the congregation, God hath specially chosen Solomon" my sonne, which is yet yong and tender, and the worke is great: for the house shall not be for man, but for the Lord God.

A 3. Reg. 5. 8. "Others read my onely son.

2 Moreouer, I haue prepared with all my might for the house of my God, golde for vesselles of golde, siluer for thyng of siluer, braste for things of braste, iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood, and Onix stones, and stones to bee set," glistering stones, and of dyuers colours, and all maner of precious stones, and marble stones in great abundance.

B "Some reade carbuncle stones.

3 And because I haue lust to the house of my God, I haue of mine owne proper good, of golde and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the holy house,

4 Euen three thousande talentes of golde of Ophir, and seuen thousande talentes of tryed syluer, to ouerlay the walles of the house withall.

5 The golde for things of golde, syluer for them of syluer, and for all maner of worke by the handes of artificers: and whosoeuer is (a) willing, maye this day (b) consecrate his hand vnto the Lorde.

a. He was not onely liberall himselfe towarde the building of Gods house, but also procured other. b. That is, may offer to the building of the house of the Lorde.

6 And so the auncient fathers, and the lordes of the trybes of Israel, the Captaynes of thousandes and hundreds, with the Lordes that were rulers ouer the kings worke, were willing,

7 And gaue for the seruice of the house of God, fiue thousand talents of golde, and ten thousande peeces (of golde) and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eightene thousande talents of braste, and one hundred thousande talents of yron.

8 And they wyth whome precious stones were founde, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lorde by the hande of Iehiel the Gersonite.

9 And

9 And the people reioyced when they were so willing to giue their goodes, and wyth a perfect heart they offered willingly to the Lorde: and Dauid the king reioyced with great gladnesse.

10 And Dauid blessed the Lorde before all the congregation, and sayde, Blessed bee thou Lorde God of Israel, our father from euer and for euer.

11 Thine, O Lorde, is greatnesse, and power, glorie, victorie, and prayse: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine, and thine is the kingdome, O Lorde, and thou excellest aboue all, euen as the head of all.

12 And richesse and honour come of thee, and thou raignest ouer all, and in thyne hande is power and strength, and in thyne hande it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 And nowe our God we thanke thee, and prayse thy glorious name.

C 14 But who am I? and what is my people? that we shoulde enforce our selues to giue these things so willingly? But all things come of thee, and of that which we receyued at thy handes, we haue giuen thee.

Gen.47.b. 15 For we be but straungers before thee, and soiourners, as were all our fathers: oure dayes on the earth also are but as a shadow, Sap.2.b. and there is none abiding.

16 O Lorde our God, all this stuffe that we haue prepared, to buylde thee an house for thy holy name, commeth of thine hand, and is all thine.

17 I wote also my God, that thou tryest the hearts, and hast pleasure in vnfeynednesse, and in the vnfeynednesse of my heart, I haue willingly offered all these things: and nowe haue I seene thy people whiche are founde here, to offer vnto thee willingly, and with gladnesse.

18 O Lorde God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel our fathers, (c) keepe this for euer in the desire of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their heartes vnto thee.

c. Continue them in this good minde, that they may serue thee willingly.

19 And giue vnto Solomon my sonne a perfect heart, to keepe thy commaundementes, thy testimonies and thy statutes, and to doe all, and buylde the house, for the which I haue made prouision.

20 And Dauid sayde to all the congregation, Nowe blesse the Lorde your God. And all the congregation blessed the Lorde God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heades, and worshipped the Lorde and the king.

21 And they offered offerings vnto the Lord: D and on the morow after the sayde day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lorde, euen a thousande yong oxen, a thousande rammes, and a thousande sheepe, with their drinke offerings: many sacrifices offered they for all Israel, 22 And did eate and drinke before the Lorde the same daye with great gladnesse: and they made Solomon the sonne of Dauid king the seconde tyme, and annoynted him prince before the Lorde, and Zadoc to bee the high priest.

23 And Solomon sate on the seate of the Lorde, and was king in steade of Dauid 3.Reg.2.d. his father, and prospered: and all they of Israel obeyed him.

24 And al the Lords and men of power, and al the sonnes of king Dauid, submitted the selues, and were vnder king Solomon.

25 And the Lorde magnified Solomon in dignitie in the sight of all them of Israel, 3.Reg.4.b. and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no king had before him in Israel.

26 And so Dauid the sonne of Isai raigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that hee raigned ouer Is- C rael, was fortie yeares: Seuen yeares raigned he in Hebron, & thirtie and three yeares raigned he in Hierusalem.

28 And he dyed in a good age, full of dayes, ryches, and honour: and Solomon his sonne raigned in his steade.

29 The actes of Dauid the king first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of (d) Nathan the prophete, and in the booke of Gad the Seer:

d. The bookes of Nathan and Gad are perished.

30 With all his kingdome, and power, and tymes, that went ouer him, and ouer all Israel, and ouer all the kingdomes of the earth.

¶ The first Chapter.

6. The offering of Solomon at Gibeon. 8. He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisedome, 11. which he giueth him, and more. 14. The number of his charets and horses, 15. and of his riches.

1 AND Solomon the sonne of Dauid waxed strong in hys kingdome, and the Lorde hys god was with him, and magnified him °or, greatly. in dignitie.

2 And Solomon spake vnto al Israel, to the captaynes ouer thousands, to the captaynes ouer hundreds, to the Iudges, and to euery officer in al Israel, & to the auncient fathers.

3 And so Solomon and all the congregation with him went to the highe place that was at Gibeon: for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moses the seruaunt of the Lorde made in the wildernesse.

4 But the arke of God had Dauid brought from Kiriathiarim, into the place whiche Dauid had prepared therefore: for he had pitched a tent for it at Hierusalem.

5 Moreouer, the brasen aulter that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri the sonne of Hur, had made, was there before the tabernacle of the Lorde: and Solomon and the congregation went to visite it.

6 And Solomon gate vp there before the Lorde, to the brasen aulter that was before the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thousande burnt sacrifices vpon it.

7 And the same night did God appeare vnto Solomon, and said vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Solomon sayd vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to raigne in his steade.

9 Nowe therefore, O Lorde God, let thy promise which thou madest vnto Dauid my father, be true: for thou hast made me king ouer a people whiche is like the dust of the earth in multitude:

10 Wherefore giue me now wisedome and knowledge, that I may be able to (a) goe in and out before this people: for who is can iudge this people that is so great?

11 And God sayde to Solomon, Bycause this was in thine heart, and bycause thou hast not asked treasure and riches, and honour, and the (b) lyues of thine enimies, neyther yet long life, but hast asked wisedome and knowledge for thy selfe, to iudge my people ouer which I haue made thee king:

12 Wisedome and knowledge is graunted vnto thee, and I will giue thee treasure, and riches, and glorie: so that among the kings that haue bene before thee, or after thee, none was, or shall be like thee.

13 And so Solomon came from the highe place that was at Gibeon, to Hierusalem, from the tabernacle of the congregation, and raigned ouer Israel.

14 And Solomon gathered charets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charets, and twelue thousand horsemen whom he bestowed in the caret cities, and with the king at Hierusalem.

15 And the king made siluer and golde at Hierusalem as plenteous as stones, and Cedar trees made he as plentie as the Mulberie trees that grow in the valleyes.

16 Also Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine lynnen: The kings marchants receyued the fine linnen for a price.

17 They came also and brought oute of Egypt a caret for sixe hundred peeces of siluer, euen an horse for an hundred and fiftie: and so brought they (horses) for al the kings of the Hethites, & for the kings of Syria, by theyr owne hande.

The. ij. Chapter.

2. The number of Solomons woorkemen to buylde the temple. 3. Solomon sendeth to Hiram the king of Tyrus for woodde and workemen.

1 AND Solomon determined to buylde an house for the name of the Lorde, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Solomon tolde out threescore and tenne thousande men to beare burdens, and foure-fourescore thousande men to hewe stones in the mountayne, and (a) three thousande and sixe hundred to ouersee them.

a. It is to be vnderstand of all sortes of officers and ouerseers. 3. Reg. 5. a.

3 And Solomon sent to Hiram the king of Tyre, saying, as thou diddest deale wyth Dauid my father, and diddest sende hym Cedar wood to buyld him an house to dwel in (euen so deale with me:) 2. Reg. 5. b.

4 Beholde, I buylde an house for the name of the Lorde my God, to offer vnto hym holy things, and to burne swecte incense, and to set shew bread before him continually, to offer burnt sacrifices of the morning and euening, on the Sabboth dayes, in the fyxt daye of euery newe Mone, and in the solemne feasts of the Lorde our God: for it is an ordinance to bee continually kept of Israel.

5 And the house which I buylde shall bee great: for great is our God aboue al Gods.

6 But who is able to buyld him an house? when that heauen, and heauen aboue all heauens is not able to receyue him: what am I then that shoulde buylde hym an house? nay, but euen to burne sacrifices before him (shall this building be.)

ℬ 7 Sende me now therfore a cunning man, that can worke in golde and siluer, in brasse and iron, in purple, crymosin, (b) yelow silk, and that can skil to graue with the cunning men that are with mee in Iuda and Hierusalem, whom Dauid my father did prepare.

b. Others read silke of a violet colour.

8 Sende me also Cedar trees, pine trees, and (c) algume trees, out of Libanon: for I wote that thy seruants can skill to hewe tymber in Libanon: and beholde, my men shall be with thine,

c. Some take it for Brasell.

9 That they may prepare mee tymber ynough: for the house which I am determined to buylde, shall be wonderfull great.

10 And beholde, for the vse of thy seruants, the cutters and hewers of tymber, I haue giuen twentie thousand quarters of beaten wheate, and twentie thousande quarters of barley, and twentie thousande battes of wine, and twentie thousande battes of Oyle.

11 And Hiram the king of Tire answered in wryting, which he sent to Solomon: Bycause the Lorde hath loued his people, therefore hath he made thee king ouer them.

12 And Hiram said moreouer, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, which made heauen and earth, and that hath giuen Dauid the king a wise sonne, and one that hath discretion, prudence, and vnderstanding, to buylde an house for the Lorde, and a palace for hys kingdome.

13 And now I haue sent a wise man, and a man of vnderstanding, whom my father Hiram did vse:

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tire, and he can skill to worke in golde and siluer, in brasse and yron, in stone and tymber, in purple and "yellow silke, in fine white and crimosin, and can graue sundrie maner of grauings, and to finde out diuerse maner of subtill worke that shall be set before him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my Lorde Dauid thy father. ℭ

3. Reg. 7. " or, violet colour.

15 Nowe therefore, the wheate and barley, oyle and wine, which my Lord hath spoken of, let him sende vnto his seruants:

16 And we will cut wood in Libanon, as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in flotes by sea to Japho, frō whence thou mayst carie them to Hierusalem. Exod.

17 And Solomon numbred all the straungers that were in the lande of Israel, after the number of them whom his father Dauid had numbred: and they were found an hundred fiftie and three thousande, and sixe hundred.

18 And he set threescore and ten thousande to beare burdens, and fourescore thousande to hewe stones in the mountayne, and three thousand and sixe hundred officers to set the people a worke.

The iij. Chapter.

The temple of the Lorde, and the porche are buylded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 THEN Solomon beganne to buylde the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem in mount (a) Moria, where the Lorde appeared vnto Dauid his father, euen in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing flore of Ornan the Iebusite. A a. Which is the mountain where Abraham thought to haue sacrificed his sonne Gene. 22. 1. Par. 21. b. Actes 7. b. 2. Reg. 6. b.

2 And he beganne to buylde in the seconde day of the seconde moneth, the fourth yeare of his raigne.

3 And these are the paterns whereby Solomon was instructed to buylde the house of God: the length was threescore cubites, after the olde measure, and the breadth twentie cubites.

4 And the porche that was before the length in the front, according to the breadth of the house, was twentie cubites, and the heigth was an hundred and twentie cubites: and he ouerlayde it on the inner side with pure golde.

5 And the greater house he seled wyth firre tree, whiche hee ouerlayde with the best golde, and graued thereto paulme trees and chaynes.

6 And

6 And he ouerlayde the house with precious stone beautifully: and the golde was golde of Paruaim.
B 7 The house (I say) the beames, postes, walles, and doores thereof, ouerlayde he with golde, and graued Cherubs on the walles.
8 And hee made the house moste holy, whose length was twentie cubites, lyke to the breadth of the house, and the breadth thereof was also twentie cubites: and he ouerlayd it with good golde, euen with fyue hundred talents.
9 And the waight of the nayles of gold was fiftie sicles, and he ouerlayd the vpper chambers with golde.
Exod. 25. b. 10 And in the house moste holy he made two Cherubims of Image worke, like children, and ouerlayd them with golde.
M 11 And the wings of ỳ Cherubs were twen-tie cubites long: the one wing was fiue cu-bites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was likewise fiue cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.
12 And euen so the one wing of the other Cherub was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was fiue cubites also, and reached to the wing of the other Cherub.
13 So that the wings of the sayde Che-rubs were stretched out twentie cubites:
and they stoode on their feete, and loked inwardes.
C 14 And hee made a forehanging of "yelowe silke, purple, crymosin, and fine white, and caused the pictures of Cherubs to be broyde-red thereon.
"or, violet colour.
15 And hee made before the house two pyl-lers of thirtie and fiue cubites high, and the head that was aboue on the toppe of euerie one of them was fiue cubites.
16 And he made chaynes of wreathen worke for the quier, and put them on the heades of the pillers: and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chaynes.
17 And hee reared vp the pyllers before the temple, one on the right hande, and the other on the left: and called the right Iachin, and the left Boaz.

The. iiij. Chapter.

1. The aulter of brasse. 2. The lauatorie. 6. The caldrons. 7. The candelsticks, &c.

A 1 MOreouer he made an aulter of brasse twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broade, and ten cubites high.
2 And he cast a brasen lauatorie of ten cubits from brym to brym, round in compasse, and fiue cubites high: and a line of thirtie cubites did compasse it rounde about.
3 And vnder it was the fashio of oxen which did compasse it rounde about: with ten cu-bites did they compasse the lauatorie rounde about, and there were two rowes of oxen, which were cast like molten worke.
4 And it stoode also vpon twelue oxen: three loked towarde the North, three towarde the West, three toward the South, and three towarde the East: and the lauatorie was set vpon them, and all their backes were to-warde the lauatorie.
5 And the thickest of it was an hand breath, and the brym lyke the brym of a cup, with floures of lillies: and it receyued and helde three thousand battes.
6 And he made ten lauers, and put fiue on 3. Reg. 7. a.
the right hande, and fiue on the left, to washe and clense in them such things as they offered for a burnt offering: but the great lauatorie was for the priestes to wash in.
7 And he made ten candelsticke of golde, B according to the patterne that was giuen of them, and put them in the temple, fiue on the right hande, and fiue on the left.
8 And he made also tenne tables, and put them in the temple, fiue on the right side, and fiue on the left: and he made an hundred ba-sons of golde.
9 And he made the court of the priestes, and the great court, and doores to it, and ouerlayde the doores of them with brasse.
10 And hee sette the great lauatorie on the right side of the East ende, ouer againste the South.
11 And Hiram made pottes, shouels, and ba-sons, and finished the worke that he was ap-poynted to make for king Solomon in the house of God.
12 The two pyllers, and the bowles, and the pommelles on the toppe of the two pyllers, and the two wreathes to couer the two bowles of the pommels, which were on the top of the pyllers.
13 And foure hundred pomegranates on the two wreathes: two rowes of pomegranats on one wreath to couer the two bowles of the pommels.
14 And he made two bottomes, and lauers C made he vpon the bottomes.
15 The great lauatorie, and twelue Oxen vnder it.
16 Pottes also, shouels, and fleshhookes: and al these vessels did (a) Hiram his father make to king Solomon for the house of the lord, of bright brasse.
a. Hiram is called Solomons father, bycause Solomon reuerenced him, and fauored him, as his father.
17 In the plaine of Iordan did the king cast them, euen in the clay grounde that is be-twene Socoth and Zaredatha.
18 And

18 And Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the waight of brasse could not be reckened.

19 And Solomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God, the golden aulter also, and the tables to set the shewe bread vpon.

D 20 Moreouer, the candelsticks with theyr lampes, to burne after the maner, before the quier, and that of precious golde.

21 And the floures and the lampes, and the snuffers made he of golde, and that perfect golde.

22 And the dressing* knives, basons, spones, and censers of pure golde: and the doore of the temple, and the inner doores within the place most holy, and the inner doores of the temple were gylted.

*Some reade bookes: and others instruments of musicke.

The.v.Chapter.

1. The things dedicated by Dauid, are put in the temple. 2. The arke is brought into the temple. 10. VVhat was within it. 12. They sing prayse vnto the Lorde.

A 1 AND so all the worke that Solomon made in the house of the Lorde was finished: and Solomon brought in all the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer & golde, and all the Jewels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God. 3.Reg.7.g.

2 Then Solomon gathered the elders of Israel togither, and all the heades of the trybes, and auncient fathers of the children of Israel, vnto Hierusalem, to bring the arke of the couenant of the Lorde out of the citie of Dauid, which is (in) Sion. 3.Reg.8.a.

3 Wherefore all the men of Israel resorted vnto the king in the feast, euen in the (a) seuenth moneth. a. September

4 And all the elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the arke.

5 And the priestes and the Leuites brought away the arke of the tabernacle of the congregation, and al the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle, and they bare them.

6 And king Solomon and all the congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him before the arke, offered sheepe and oxen, so many, that they could not be told, nor numbred for multitude.

B 7 And the priestes brought the arke of the appoyntment of the Lorde vnto his place, euen into the quier of the temple within the place most holy, and set it vnder the wings of the Cherubs.

8 So that the Cherubs stretched out theyr wings ouer the place of the arke, and the Cherubs couered both the arke and hir barres aboue on high.

9 And the barres of the arke were so long, that the heades of the barres were seene without the arke within the quier, but not without: and there the arke remayned vnto this day. 3.Reg.8.

10 But there was nothing in the arke, saue the two tables which Moses put therein at Horeb, when the Lorde made a couenant with the children of Israel after they were come out of Egypt.

11 And it fortuned, that when the priestes were come out of the holy place (for all the priestes that were present, were sanctified, and did not then wayte by course,)

12 That both the Leuites and the singers, C vnder Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun, were appoynted to sundrie offices, with their children and brethren, and were arayed in fyne white, hauing cymbales, psalteries, & harpes, and stoode at the east ende of the aulter, and by them an hundred and twentie priestes blowing with trumpets.

13 And the trumpet blowers, and the syngers so agreed, that it seemed but one voice in praysing and thanking the Lorde: and when they lift vp their voice with the trumpets, cymbales, and other instrumentes of Musicke, and when they prayed the Lorde, howe that hee is good, and that his mercye lasteth euer: the house of God was filled with a cloude, 14 So that the priestes couldenot endure to minister by the reason of the cloude: for the Maiestie of the Lorde had fylled the house of God.

The.vi.Chapter.

3. Solomon blesseth the people. 4. He prayseth the Lorde. 14. He prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the temple.

2 And I haue buylt thee an house of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for euer.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed the whole congregation of Israel, and all the congregation of Israel stoode.

4 And he sayde, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, which hath with his handes fulfilled it that he spake with his mouth to my father Dauid, saying,

B 7 And when it was in the heart of Dauid my father, to buylde an house for the name of the Lorde God of Israel,

2.Reg.7.a. 3.Reg.8.b. 1.Par.22.b. 8 The Lorde sayde to Dauid my father, Forasmuch as it was in thine heart to build an house for my name, thou diddest wel that thou thoughtest in thine heart.

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not buylde the house: but thy sonne, which is proceeded out of thy loynes, hee shall buylde an house for my name.

10 The Lorde therefore hath made good hys saying that he hath spoken: and I am risen vp in the roome of Dauid my father, and am set on the seate of Israel, as the Lorde promised, and haue buylt an house for the name of the Lorde God of Israel.

11 And in it haue I put the arke, wherein is the (b) couenant of the Lorde that hee made with the children of Israel.

b. Meaning the two tables

12 And the king stode before the aulter of the Lorde, in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his handes,

13 (For nowe Solomon had made a brasen scaffolde of fiue cubites long, and fiue cubites brode, and three of heigth, and had set it in the middes of the great court, and vpon it he stode, and kneeled downe vpon hys knees before all the congregation of Israell, and stretched out his handes towarde heauen,)

C 14 And sayde, O Lorde God of Israel, there is no God lyke thee in heauen and earth, which keepest couenant, and shewest mercie vnto thy seruantes that walke before thee with all their heartes.

3.Reg.8.c.

15 Thou which hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him, thou saidest it with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine handes, as it is to see this day.

16 And nowe Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruaunt Dauid my father the things that thou promisedst hym, saying, Thou shalt in my sight not bee without a man that shall sit vpon the seate of Israel, so that thy children take heed to their wayes, to walke in my lawe, as thou hast walked before me.

3.Reg.2.a. and.6.b. 2.Par.7.d.

17 And nowe Lorde God of Israel, let thy saying be true, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (And will God in very deede dwel with men on earth? Beholde, heauen and heauen aboue all heauens do not conteyne thee, howe much lesse, the house whiche I haue buylded?)

Esay.66.a. Actes.7.f.

19 Let it be thy pleasure therefore, to turne to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to hearken vnto the voyce and prayer which thy seruaunt prayeth before thee,

20 And let thine eyes be open towarde this house day and night, ouer this place whereof thou hast sayde, that thou wouldest put thy name there, to hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21 Hearken vnto the prayers of thy seruaunt, D and of thy people Israel, which they praye in this place: heare thou, I say, out of thy dwelling place, euen out of heauen, heare, and be mercifull.

22 If a man sinne agaynst his neighbour, and take an othe agaynst him, and make hym to sweare, and they both come before thine aulter in this house:

23 Then heare thou from heauen, and doe and iudge thy seruauntes, that thou rewarde the wicked, and recompence hym his way vpon his head, and iustifie the righteous, and giue him according to his righteousnesse.

24 And if thy people Israel be put to ỹ worse before the enimie, because they haue sinned agaynst thee: Yet if they turne and giue thankes vnto thy name, and make intercession, and pray before thee in this house:

25 Then heare thou from Heauen, and bee mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them agayne vnto the lande which thou gauest to them, and to their fathers.

26 When heauen is shut vp, and there bee no raine, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they pray in this place, and confesse thy name, and repent from their sinne for the which thou chastenest them:

Deut.10.b. 3.Reg.17.a.

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel, and guide thou them into the good way to walke in, and sende raine vpon thy lande whiche thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

The. vij. Chapter.

1. The fyre consumeth the sacrifice. 2. The glorie of the Lorde fylleth the Temple. 12. He heareth his prayer. 17. And promiseth to exalt him and his throne.

1 NOw when Solomon had made an end of praying, there came downe fire from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices: and the house was filled with the glorie of the Lorde.

I 3. Reg. 8. f. Leuit. 9. d. 3. Reg. 8. g.

2 And the priestes coulde not goe into the house of the Lorde, bycause the glorie of the Lorde had filled the Lordes house.

3 And when all the children of Israel sawe how the fire and the glorie of the Lord came downe vpon the house, they fel downe flatte vpon their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, and worshipped and confessed vnto the Lorde, that he is gracious, and that his mercie lasteth euer.

4 And the king and al the people offered sacrifices before the Lorde.

5 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousande oxen, and an hundred and twentie thousande sheepe, and so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priestes wayted on their offices, And the Leuits had the instruments of musicke of the Lorde, which king Dauid had made to confesse vnto the Lorde, that his mercy lasteth euer, Dauid praysing God by them: and the priests blew with trumpets before them, and all they of Israel stode.

7 Moreouer, Solomon halowed the middle of the Court that was before the house of the Lorde, for there hee offered burnt offerings: and the fatte of the peace offrings, bycause the brasen aulter whiche Solomon had made, was not able to receyue the burnt offerings, and the meate offering, and the fatte.

8 So at the same time Solomon kept (a) a feast of seuen dayes, and all they of Israel with him, an exceeding great congregation, euen from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the ryuer of Egypt.

(a) 1. Par. 7. f. 2. That was the feast of tabernacles.

9 And in the eyght day they made an assembly:

sembly: for they kept the dedication of the aulter seuen dayes, and the feast seuē dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth daye of the seuenth moneth, hee let the people depart into their tentes glad and merrie in heart, for the goodnesse that the Lorde had shewed to Dauid and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

1.Reg.9.a. 11 And so Solomon finished the house of the Lorde, and the kings house: and all that came in his heart to make in the house of the Lord, and in his owne house, went prosperously forwarde.

12 And the Lorde appeared to Solomon by night, and sayde to him, I haue hearde thy 13 If I shutte vp heauen that there bee no rayne, or if I commaunde the locustes to deuour the lande, or if I sende pestilence among my people:

C 14 And if they that are of my people, among whom my name is called vpon, doe humble themselues, and make intercession, and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes: then will I heare from heauen, and be mercifull to their sinne, and wyll heale their lande.

15 And from henceforth mine eyes shall be open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

2.Par.6.a. 16 And therefore nowe I haue chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may bee there for euer: and mine eyes and my heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe al that I haue commaunded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my lawes:

18 Then will I stablishe the state of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, Thou

2.Reg.2.a. and.20.a. 2.Par.6.c. shalt not bee without a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But and if ye turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commaundementes which I haue set before you, and shall go and serue other goddes, and worship them:

20 Then wyll I plucke them vp by the rootes, out of my lande which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and wil make it to be a prouerbe and a iest among all nations.

D 21 And this house which is most high, shall Deut.29.d. 3.Reg.9.b. Ier.22.c. be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by, and shall say, Why hath the Lord dealt on this fashion with this lande, and with this house?

22 And they shall answere, Bycause they forsoke the Lorde God of their fathers, which brought them out of the lande of Egypt, and caught holde on other goddes, and worshipped them, and serued them: euen therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

The.viij.Chapter.

2. The Cities that Solomon buylt. 7. People that were made tributarie vnto hym. 12. His sacrifices. 17. He sendeth to Ophir.

1 AND it fortuned, that after (a) twentie A 3.Reg.9.b. yeares, when Solomon had buylte the house of the Lorde, and hys owne house:

a. Signifying that he was twentie yeares in buylding them.

2 He buylt the cities that Hiram gaue him, and put of the children of Israel in them.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath Zoba, (b) and strengthed it.

b. Other read, he ouercame it

4 And he buylt Thadmor in the wildernes, and repayred all the store cities which were in Hamath.

5 And he buylt Bethhoron the vpper, and Bethhoron the neather, strong Cities, hauing walles, gates, and barres:

6 And Baalah, and all the store Cities that Solomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Solomon had lust to buylde in Hierusalem and Libanon, and throughout all the lande of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the B
Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Heuites, and Iebusites, whiche were not of the children of Israel, 8 But were the children of them whiche were left after them in the lande, and were not consumed of the children of Israel, them did Solomon make to paye tribute, vnto this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Solomon make no bondmen for his worke: but they were men of warre, and rulers, and great Lords with him, and captaynes ouer his charets and horsemen.

10 And king Solomons officers that ouerlaw and ruled the people, were two hundred and fiftie.

11 And Solomon brought the daughter of Pharao out of the citie of Dauid, into the house that he had buylded for her: for he said, My wife shal not dwel in the house of Dauid king of Israel, for it is holy, bicause that the arke of the Lorde is come vnto it.

12 Then Solomon offered burnt offerings vnto the Lorde on the aulter of the Lorde, which he had built before the porche:

13 Doing euery thing in his due tyme, and offering according to the commaundement of Moses, in the Sabbothes, newe moones,

¶ 14 And Solomon set the sortes of Priestes to their offices, as Dauid his father had ordered them, and the Leuites in theyr watches, for to prayse and minister before the priestes day by day, and the porters by course at euery gate: for so had Dauid the man of
1. Par. 9. d. God commaunded.

15 And they omitted not the commaundement of the king vnto the priestes and Leuites, concerning any maner of thing, and concerning the treasures.

16 For Solomon made prouision for the charges, from the first day that the foundation of the house of the Lorde was layde, till it was finished, that the house of the Lorde was perfect.

17 Then went King Solomon to Ezion Gaber, & to Eloth at the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Hiram sent him by the handes of his seruantes, shippes, and seruantes that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruauntes of Solomon to Ophir, and caryed thence foure hundred and fiftie talentes of Golde, and brought it to King Solomon.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. 9. The Queene of Saba commeth to see Solomon, and bringeth giftes. 12. His yearely reuenues. 30. The tyme of hys raigne. 31. His death.

A 1 AND when the Queene of Saba heard
3. Reg. 10. a. Math. 14. d. Luke. 10. b. of the fame of Solomon, shee came to proue him in hard questions at Hierusalem, with a verie great companie, with Camels that bare spices, and plentie of gold, and precious stones: And when shee was come to Solomon, she communed with him of all that she had in hir heart.

2 And Solomon soyled hir all hir questions: and there was not one worde hid from Solomon which he tolde hir not.

3 And when the Queene of Saba had seene the wisedome of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meate of his table, the sitting of his seruantes, and the standing of his wayters, their apparel, his butlers, theyr apparell, "his going vp by the which he went into the house of the Lorde: there was no more spirite in hir.

"Or, his sacrifices which he offered in the house of the Lorde.

5 And shee sayde to the king, The saying which I heard in mine owne lande of thine actes, and of thy wisedome, is true.

6 I beleeued not the wordes of them, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy wisedome was not tolde me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happie are thy men, and happie are these B thy seruants which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisdome.

8 Blessed be the Lorde thy God, which had lust to thee, to set thee (king) on his seate, that thou mightest be king for the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel (and hath delite) to make them continue euer, therefore made hee thee king ouer them, to do right and equitie.

9 And shee gaue the king an hundred and twentie talents of golde, and of spices exceeding great abundance, and precious stones: neither was there any more such spice as the Queene of Saba gaue king Solomon.

10 And the seruantes of Hiram, and the seruantes of Solomon, which brought golde from Ophir, brought also Algume wood, and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algume wood
1. stayres in the house of the Lorde, and in the kings palace, and Harpes, and Psalteries for singers: and there was none such wood seene before in the lande of Iuda.

12 And king Solomon gaue to the Queene of Saba euery pleasant thing that she asked, (a) besides that which shee had brought vnto the king, and so she turned, and went away to hir owne lande with hir seruants.

a. Beside that is to say, the recompence of that which she had brought vnto the king.

13 The waight of golde that came to Solomon in one yeare, was sixe hundred threescore and sixe talentes of golde, 14 Besides that which the chapmen and marchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and rulers of that countrey, brought golde and siluer to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten golde: and sixe hundred sicles of beaten golde were spent vpon one target.

16 And three hundred shieldes made hee of beaten golde, and one shield cost three hundred peeces of golde: and the king put them in the house that was in the forrest of Libanon.

17 And the king made a great seate of iuory, and ouerlayde it with pure golde.

18 And there were sixe steppes to the seate, with a footestoole of golde fastened to the seate: and pommelles on eche side of the sitting sitting place, and two Lions standing by the pommels.

19 And twelue Lions stode on the one side and on the other vpon the sixe steppes: so that there was no such worke made in any kingdome.

20 And all the drinking vessels of king Solomon were of golde, and all the vessels of the house that was in the forrest of Libanon were of precious golde: for siluer was counted nothing worthy in the dayes of Solomon.

21 For the kings shippes went to Tharsis with the seruaunts of Hiram, euerie three yeares once came the shippes to Tharsis and brought golde, siluer, yuorie, and Apes, and Peacocks.

D 22 And king Solomon passed all the kings
3.Reg.10.d. of the earth, in ryches and wisedome.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, & vessels of golde, rayment, harnesse, spices, horses, and mules, and what soeuer might be gotten yeare by yeare.

3.Reg.4.d. 25 And Solomon had foure thousand stalles for horses and charettes, and twelue thousande horsemen, whom he bestowed in the chart cities, and (some were) with the king at Hierusalem.

26 And hee raigned ouer all the kings that were from Euphrates, vnto the lande of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

3.Reg.10.d. 27 And the king made siluer in Hierusalem as plenteous as stones, and Cedar trees as plenteous as the Mulberie trees that grow in the valleyes:

E 28 And they brought vnto Solomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all landes.

3.Reg.11.g. 29 The rest of the actes of king Solomon first and last, are they not written in the sayings of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecie of Ahiah the Silonite, and in the visions of Iddo, the sear of visions agaynst Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat?

30 And Solomon raigned in Hierusalem vpon all Israel fortie yeares.

31 And Solomon slept with his fathers: and they buryed him in the citie of Dauid his father, and Rehoboam his sonne raigned in his steade.

The.x. Chapter.

4. The rigor of Rehoboam. 13. He foloweth lewde counsel. 16. The people rebel.

A 1 AND Rehoboam went to Sichem: for 3.Reg.12.a. to Sichem were all Israel come togither to make him king.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat (which was fled into Egypt from the presence of Solomon the king) heard it, he returned out of Egypt. 3.Reg.11.g.

3 And they sent, and called him: and so Ieroboam, and all they of Israel, came and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father layde a grieuous yoke vpon vs: nowe therefore remit thou somewhat of the grieuous seruice of thy father, and of his heauie yoke that he put vpon vs, and we will serue thee.

5 And he sayde to them, Come agayne vnto me after three dayes. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam counsayled wyth the elders that had stande before Solomon his father whyle he yet lyued, and he sayde, What counsayle giue ye mee, to answere this people againe?

7 And they tolde him, saying, If thou bee B kinde to this people, and shew thy self lowly to them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsaile which the elders gaue him, and toke counsaile with the yong men that were growen vp with him, and (a) that stode in his presence.

a. Whiche were of his counsel and secrete.

9 And he sayde vnto them, What aduice giue ye, that we may answere this people, which haue communed with me, saying, Abate somewhat of the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs?

10 And the yong men that were growne vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that speake to thee, saying, Thy father made oure yoke heauie, but make thou it somewhat lighter for vs: Thus shalt thou say vnto them, My little finger shall be heauier than my fathers loynes.

11 For where my father put a heauie yoke 3.Reg.12.c.
vpon you, I will put more to your yoke: My father chastised you with whippes, but I will chastise you with scourges.

12 And so Ieroboam and al the people came to Rehoboam ỹ third day, as the king bade, saying, Come againe to me the thirde day.

13 And the king answered them cruelly: and king Rehoboam left the counsayle of the aged men.

14 And answered them after the aduice of the C yong men, saying, My father made youre yoke greeuous, and I wil adde thereto: my father chastised you with whippes, but I will chastise you with scourges.

15 And so the king hearkened not vnto the people: but the occasion came of God, that 3.Reg.11.f.

the lord might make good his saying which he spake by the hande of Ahia the Silonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat.

16 And when all they of Israel sawe that the king would not agree vnto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? For wee haue no inheritance in the sonne of Isai: Euery man to his tent oh Israel, and nowe Dauid see to thine owne house. And so all Israel gate them to their tentes:

3. Reg. 12. d.

17 So that Rehoboam raigned ouer no moe of the children of Israel, than dwelt in the cities of Iuda.

18 Then king Rehoboam also sent Haduram, that was ruler ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he dyed: but king Rehoboam made speede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Hierusalem.

19 And they of Israel rebelled agaynst the house of Dauid vnto this day.

The. xi. Chapter.

4. Rehoboam is forbidden to fight agaynst Ieroboam. 5. Cities which he buylt. 21. He hath eightene wiues, and threescore concubines, and by them eight and twenty sonnes, and threescore daughters.

A 1 AND when Rehoboam was come to Hierusalem, he gathered of the house of Iuda and Beniamin, nine score thousande chosen men of warre, to fight agaynst Israel, and to bring the kingdome agayne to Rehoboam.

3. Reg. 12. c.

2 And the worde of the Lorde came to Semaiahu the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon king of Iuda, and to all them of Israel that are in Iuda and Beniamin, and say,

4 Thus sayeth the Lorde, Ye shall not goe vp, nor fight agaynst your brethren: returne euery man to his house, for this thing is done of mee. And they obeyed the wordes of the Lorde, and returned from goyng agaynst Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Hierusalem, and buylt strong cities in Iuda.

6 He buylt vp Bethlehem, and Etam, and Thekoa,

7 Bethzur, Socho, and Adullam,

B 8 Gath, and Maresa, and Ziph,

9 Adurahim, Lachis, and Azecah,

10 Zorah, Aialon, and Hebron, which is in Iuda and Beniamin, strong cities.

11 And hee repayred the strong holdes, and put captaynes in them, and store of vittaile, and wine, and Oyle:

12 And in al cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong, hauing Iuda and Beniamin on his side.

13 And the Priestes and the Leuites that were in all Israel, resorted to him out of all theyr coastes.

14 For the Leuites left theyr suburbes, and their possession, and came to Iuda and Hierusalem: For Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring vnto the Lorde.

C 2. Par. 15. d.

15 And he ordeyned him priestes for the high places, for the (a) diuils, and for the calues which he had made.

a. Meaning Idols.

16 And after the Leuites, there went out all the tribes of Israel, such as submitted theyr heartes to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, and came to Hierusalem to offer vnto the Lorde God of theyr fathers.

17 And so they strengthed the kingdome of Iuda, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon mightie three yeares long: for three (b) yeares they walked in the way of Dauid and Solomon.

b. So long as they feared God, and set foorth his worde, they prospered.

18 And Rehoboam toke him Mahalath, the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid, to wyfe, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Isai:

19 Which bare him children, Ieus Samaria, and Zaham.

20 And after hir he toke Maacha the daughter of Absolon, whiche bare him Abia, Athai, Ziza, and Selomith.

3. Reg. 15. a.

D 21 And Rehoboam loued Maacha the daughter of Absalom, aboue all his wyues and concubines: for he toke eightene wyues, and threescore concubines, and begate twentie and eight sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made Abia the sonne of Maacha, the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 (c) And he played wisely, and scattered all his children throughout all the countreyes of Iuda and Beniamin vnto euery strong citie, and hee gaue them abundaunce of vittaile, and obteyned many wiues.

c. Others reade, and he taught him.

The. xij. Chapter.

1. Rehoboam forsaketh the Lorde, and is punished by Sesac. 5. Semeia reproueth him. 6. He humbleth himselfe. 7. God sendeth him succour. 9. Sesac taketh his treasures. 13. Hys raigne and death. 16. Abia hys sonne succeedeth him.

I 1 AND it came to passe, that when Rehoboam had stablished the kingdome, and and became mightie, hee forsoke the lawe of the Lorde, and (a) all Israell wyth him.

a. As the prince is, so for the most part the people wil be.

2 And it fortuned, that in the fifth yeare of king Rehoboam, Sesac the king of Egypt came vp agaynst Hierusalem, bycause they had transgressed agaynst the Lorde.

3 With twelue hundred charets, and three score thousande horsemen: and the people were without number that came wyth him out of Egypt, Lubim, (b) Succiim, and the blacke Mores.

b. Which were a people in Africa, called the Troglodites, bycause they dwelt in holes.

4 And he toke the strong Cities in Juda, and came to Hierusalem.

5 Then came Semeia the prophete to Rehoboam, and to the Lordes of Juda that were gathered together within Hierusalem for Sesac, and sayde vnto them, thus sayeth the Lorde, Ye haue left mee, and therfore haue I also (c) left you in the handes of Sesac.

c. God neuer leaueth vs, vntill wee haue cast him away.

6 Wherevpon the Lordes of Israel and the king humbled themselues and sayde, The Lorde is righteous.

B 7 And when the Lorde sawe that they submitted themselues, the worde of the Lorde came to Semeia, saying, They submit themselues, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will deliuer them somewhat, and my wrath shall not be powred out vpon Hierusalem by the hande of Sesac.

d. God punisheth his, not to destroy the, but to reforme them.

8 Neuertheless, they shall be his seruants: to knowe what difference is betweene (d) my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the worlde.

9 And so Sesac king of Egypt came to Hierusalem, and toke away the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and the treasures of the kings house, he toke euen all: and hee caried away the shieldes of golde which Solomon made.

3.Reg.10.a.

10 In stead of which, king Rehoboam made shieldes of brasse, and committed them to the handes of the chiefe of the garde, and that kept the entrance of the kings house.

11 And [illegible] to passe, that when the king entred into the house of the Lorde, the garde came, and fet them, and brought them again vnto the garde chamber.

12 And when hee humbled hymselfe, the wrath of the Lorde turned from him, that hee would not destroy altogither: and in Juda all was well.

13 And so king Rehoboam waxed mightie, and raigned in Hierusalem: and Rehoboam was one and fortie yeares olde when he began to raigne, and hee raigned seuentene yeares in Hierusalem, the citie whiche the Lorde had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there: and his mothers name was Naama, an Ammonitesse.

14 And hee did euil, bycause hee prepared not his heart to seeke the Lorde. C 3.Reg.14.k.

15 The actes also of Rehoboam first and last, are they not written in the sayings of Semeia the Prophete, and of Iddo the sear, which noted the genealogie? And there was warre alway betweene Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

16 And Rehoboam slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid, and Abia his sonne raigned in his stead.

The.xiij.Chapter.

1. Abia maketh warre agaynste Ieroboam. 4. He sheweth the occasion. 12. He trusteth in the Lorde, and ouercommeth Ieroboam. 21. Of his wyues and children.

1 THe eightenth yere of king Jeroboam, A began Abia to raigne ouer Juda. 4.Re.15.a.

2 And he raigned three yeares in Hierusalem: His mothers name also was Michaiahu, the daughter (a) of Uriel of Gibea:) And there was warre betweene Abia and Jeroboam.

a. Called otherwise Absalon.

3 And Abia set the battel in aray, with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thousande chosen men: And Jeroboam set hymselfe in aray, to fyght agaynst him, wyth eyght hundred thousande pickt men, whiche were strong, and men of armes.

4 And Abia stode vp vpon Zemaraim, an hill which is in mount Ephraim, and sayd, Heare mee thou Jeroboam, and all Israel.

5 Do not you knowe how that the Lord god of Israel gaue the kingdome ouer them of Israel to Dauid for euer, euen to him and to his sonnes, with a (b) salted couenant?

b. With a firm and perpetual.

6 And Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, the seruant of Solomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath rebelled against his Lord.

7 And there gathered to him lewd men, the children of Belial, and preuayled agaynst Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon, when Rehoboam was (c) yong and tender harted, and could not stande before them. B c. In hart and courage.

8 And nowe ye say, that ye bee able to preuayle agaynst the kingdome of the Lorde, whiche is in the hande of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, and haue the golden calues whiche Jeroboam made you for goddes. 3.Reg.12.f.

9 And haue yee not cast out the Priestes of the Lorde, the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites, and haue made you priestes, after the maner of the Nations of other landes? 2.Par.11.c.

so that whosoeuer commeth and consecrateth his hande with a yong ore, and seuen rammes, the same may be a priest of them that are no goddes.

10 But we belong vnto the Lorde our God, whom we haue not forsaken, and the priests are the sonnes of Aaron, which minister vnto the Lorde, and the Leuites wayte vpon their office, 11 They burne vnto the Lorde euery morning and euening burnt sacrifyces, and sweete incense: the shewe breade set they in order vpon a pure table, and prepare the candelsticke of golde, with the lampes of the same to burne euer at euen: And truly wee kept the watch of the Lord our God, but ye haue forsaken him.

Leuit. 10. a. 12 And beholde, God him selfe is our captayne, and his priestes blow with the trumpettes, and crie alarum agaynst you. O ye children of Israel, fight not agaynst the Lorde God of your fathers: for it wil not prosper with you.

13 But for all that, Ieroboam conueyed men priuily about, to come behinde them: and so they were before Juda, and the layers in wayte were behinde them.

¶ 14 And when they of Juda loked about, beholde, the battel was before and behind, and they cryed vnto the Lorde, and the priestes blew with the trumpettes, 15 And the men of Juda gaue a showte: and as the men of Juda showted, it came to passe, that God smote Ieroboam and al Israel before Abia and Juda.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Juda, & God deliuered them into their hande.

17 And Abia and his people slue a great slaughter of them: There fell downe wounded of Israel, fiue hundred thousande chosen men.

18 And so the children of Israel were brought vnder at that tyme, and the children of Juda preuayled, (b) because they leaned vnto the Lorde God of their fathers.

d. The cause of victorie.

19 And Abia followed after Ieroboam, and woke cities from hym, Bethel wyth the townes belonging thereto, Jesana with the townes that belonged thereto, and Ephron with their townes.

20 And Jeroboam recouered no strength againe in the dayes of Abia: and the Lorde plagued him, and he dyed.

D 21 And Abia waxed mightie, and maryed fourtene wiues, and begat twentie and two sonnes, and sixtene daughters.

22 The rest of the actes of Abia, his maners, and his sayings, are written in the storie of the prophet Iddo.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

3. Asa destroyeth Idolatrie, and commaundeth his people to serue the true God. 11. Hee prayeth vnto God, when he shoulde goe to fight. 12. He obteyneth the victorie.

1 SO Abia slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, and Asa his sonne raigned in his steade, in whose dayes the lande was in quietnesse tenne yeares. A Math. 1. b.

2 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lorde his God. 3. Reg. 15. a.

3 For he toke away straunge aultars, and the high places, and brake downe the Images, and cut downe the groues:

4 And commaunded Juda to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to do according to the law and commaundement.

5 And he put away out of all the Cities of Juda the high places and the Images: and the kingdome was quiet before him.

6 And he buylt strong cities in Juda, because the lande was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeares: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore he sayde vnto Juda, Let vs B buylde these Cities, and make aboute them walles, towres, gates, and barres, for the lande is yet in rest before vs: because wee haue sought the Lorde oure God, we haue sought him, and hee hath giuen vs rest on euerie syde. And so they built, and it prospered with them.

8 And Asa had an armie of men that bare shieldes and speares out of Juda three hundred thousande, and out of Beniamin that bare shieldes and drewe bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousand: al these were valiant men.

9 And there came out against them Zarah, the blacke Mozian, with an host of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred charettes, and came as farre as Maresa. 2. Par. 16. c.

10 And Asa went out before him, and they ioyned the battel in the valley of Zephata, beside Maresa.

11 And Asa cryed vnto the Lorde his God, and sayde, Lorde it is no hard thing wyth thee to helpe with many, or them that haue no power: Helpe vs therefore, O Lorde our God, for we trust to thee, and in thy name we goe agaynst this multitude: thou art the Lorde our God, and no man shall preuayle agaynst thee. 1. Reg. 17. b.

12 So the Lord smote the blacke Mozes before Asa and Juda, and the blacke Mozes fledde.

13 And

13 And Asa and the people that was with hym, folowed after them vnto Gerar: And the blacke Mores host was ouerthrowen, that there was none of them left, but were destroyed before the Lorde, and before hys hoste: and they caried away a mighty great pray.

14 And they smote al the cities round about Gerar, for the feare of the Lord came vpon them: and they spoyled all the cities, and there was exceedyng much spoyle in them.

15 They smote also the tentes of cattel, and caryed awaye plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Hierusalem.

The.xv.Chapter.

1. The exhortation of Azaria. 8. Asa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 11. He sacrificeth with the people. 14. They sweare together to serue the Lorde. 16. He deposeth his mother for hir idolatrie.

1 AND the spirite of God came on Azaria the sonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to meete Asa, and sayde vnto hym, Heare me Asa, and all Juda and Beniamin, the Lorde is with you, whyle ye be with hym: and when ye seeke hym, he will be founde of you: and agayne when ye forsake hym, he also will forsake you.

3 Nowe for a long season, Israel hath bene without the true God, and without preestes to teache, and without lawe.

4 And when any man in hys trouble, dyd turne vnto the Lorde God of Israel, and sought hym, he was founde of them.

5 And in that tyme there was no peace to hym that dyd goe out and in, but great sedition was there among all the inhabiters of the earth,

6 And nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God dyd moue al aduersitie among them.

7 Play ye therefore the men, and lette not your handes slacke: for your worke shal be rewarded.

8 And when Asa hearde those wordes, and the prophesie (a) of Azaria the sonne of Obed the prophete, he toke courage, and put away the abominable idols out of all the lande of Juda and Beniamin, and out of the cities whiche he wanne in mount Ephraim, and renued the aulter of the Lorde, that was before the porche of the Lorde.

a. He had two names, both Azaria, and Obed.

9 And he gathered all Juda & Beniamin, and the strangers with them, out of Ephraim, Manasse, and Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lorde his God was with hym.

10 So they assembled together at Hierusalem, the (b) thirde moneth, the fiftenth yeere of the raygne of Asa.

b. May.

11 And they offered vnto the Lorde the same tyme of the spoyle which they had brought, seuen hundred oxen, and seuen thousande sheepe, 12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lorde God of theyr fathers, with all theyr hart, and al theyr soule.

13 And who so euer woulde not seeke the Lorde God of Israell, (c) shoulde dye for it, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

c. A lawe of death for all idolaters. Deut.13.

14 And they sware vnto the Lorde with a loude voyce, showting and blowyng with trumpets and shawmes.

15 And al they in Juda reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lorde with al theyr hart, and sought hym with all theyr luste, and he was founde of them: and the Lorde gaue them rest rounde about on euery side.

16 And kyng Asa put (d) Maacha his mother out of authoritie, bicause she had made an abominable idol in a groue: and Asa brake downe hyr idol, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Cedron.

d. His grandmother.

17 But all the hygh places were not taken away out of Israel, though the hart of Asa was perfect al his dayes.

18 And he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that he hymselfe had dedicate: euen siluer, and golde, and iewels.

19 And there was no more warre vnto the thirtie and fiue yeere of the raygne of Asa.

Judi.3.b.

The.xvi.Chapter.

1. Asa for feare of Baasa kyng of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad king of Syria. 7. He is reproued by the prophete, 10. whom he putteth in prysone. 12. He putteth his trust in the phisitions. 13. His death.

1 IN the fyre and thirtieth yeere of the raygne of Asa, came Baasa kyng of Israel agaynst Juda, and built Rama, to the intent that he would let none passe out or in to Asa kyng of Juda.

3.Reg.15.c.

2 And Asa fet out golde and siluer out of the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and (out) of the kyngs house, and sent to Benhadad kyng of Syria, that dwelt at Darmesec, and sayde,

3 There is a confederation betweene mee and thee, betweene my father and thyne: beholde, I haue sent thee siluer and golde, that thou wilt come and breake thyne ap-poynt̄ment with Baaſa kyng of Iſrael, that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad graunted vnto kyng Aſa, and ſent the captaynes of his armies to the cities of Iſrael: and they ſmote Ijon, Dan, and Abelmaim, and all the ſtrong cities of Nephthali.

5 And when Baaſa heard this, he left buildyng of Rama, and let his woꝛke ceaſe.

6 And then Aſa the kyng toke all Juda, and caryed away the ſtones and tymber of Rama, wherwith Baaſa was a buyldyng, and he buylt therewith Geba, and Miſpah.

B 7 At that tyme Hanani the Sear came to Aſa kyng of Juda, and ſayde vnto him, (a) Becauſe thou haſte truſted in the kyng of Syria, and not rather put thy truſt in the Loꝛde thy God, therefoꝛe is the hoſt of the kyng of Syria eſcaped out of thine hande.

a. God reproueth ſuche leagues as are made with infidels.

2. Par. 14. c.

8 Had not the blacke Moꝛres and Lubim an exceedyng great hoſte, with many charets and hoꝛſemen? And yet becauſe thou truſteddeſt in the Loꝛd, he deliuered them into thyne hande.

9 Foꝛ the eyes of the Loꝛde beholde all the earth, to ſtrengthen them that are of perfect hart towarde hym: herein thou haſte done fowlyſhly, and therefoꝛe from henceforth, thou ſhalt haue warre.

Gen. 31. d.

10 And Aſa was woꝛth with the Sear, and put hym into a (b) pryſon houſe, foꝛ he was diſpleaſed with hym becauſe of this thyng: and Aſa deſtroyed (certayne) of the people the ſame ſeaſon.

b. The prophete of God puniſhed, for ſpeakyng his meſſage.

11 And beholde, theſe deedes of Aſa firſte and laſt, are written in the booke of the kyngs of Juda and Iſrael.

12 And Aſa in the thirtie and nienth yeare of his raygne, fell ſicke in his feete, and that his diſeaſe cõtinued very long: and in his ſickneſſe he ſought not the Loꝛd, but phiſitions.

Eccle. 38. a.

13 And Aſa ſlept with his fathers, & dyed in the fourtie and one yeare of his raygne.

C 14 And they buryed hym in hys owne ſepulchre, whiche he had made foꝛ hymſelfe in the citie of Dauid, and layde hym in the bed whiche he had filled with diuers kindes of ſpices, and ſweete odours made by the craft of the Apothecaries: and burnt very much ſpice about hym.

The. xvij. Chapter.

5. Iehoſaphat truſtyng in the Lorde, proſpereth in ryches and honour. 6. He aboliſheth idolatrie. 7. and cauſeth the people to be taught. 11. He receyueth tribute of ſtrangers. 13. His munitions and men of warre.

1 AND Iehoſaphat his ſonne raygned in his ſteede, and preuayled agaynſt Iſrael. A Matth. 1. b

2 And he put ſouldiers in all the ſtrong cities of Juda, and ſet rulers in the lande of Juda, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Aſa his father had wonne.

3 And the Loꝛde was with Iehoſaphat, becauſe he walked in the olde wayes of hys father Dauid, and ſought not Baalim, 4 But ſought the Loꝛd God of hys father, and walked in his commaundements, and not after the doyngs of Iſrael.

5 And the Loꝛde ſtabliſhed the kyngdome in his hande, and all they that were in Juda, brought hym preſents, ſo that he had abundance of rycheſſe and honour.

6 And he lift vp his hart vnto the wayes of the Loꝛde, and he put downe yet moꝛe of the hygh places and groues out of Juda.

7 In the thirde yeere of his raygne he ſent B to hys loꝛdes, euen to Benhail, Obadia, Zacharia, Nathanel, and to Michaiahu, that they ſhoulde (a) teache in the cities of Juda:

a. Iehoſaphat ſent viſitours abroade into the country, to ſee religion reſourmed, & the people truly inſtructed.

8 And with them he ſent Leuites, euẽ Semeiahu, Nethaniahu, Zebadiahu, Aſael, Semiramoth, Jehonathan, Adoniahu, Tobiahu, and Tob-adoniahu, and with them Eliſama, and Iehoram prieſts.

9 And they taught in Juda, and had the booke of the lawe of God with them, and went about thꝛoughout al the cities of Juda, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Loꝛde fell vpon all the kyngdomes of the landes, that were rounde aboute Juda, and they fought not agaynſt Iehoſaphat.

11 And ſome of the Philiſtines brought Iehoſaphat gifts, and tribute ſiluer, and thereto the Arabians brought hym cattell, euen ſeuen thouſand and ſeuen hundꝛed rammes, and ſeuen thouſande and ſeuen hundꝛed hee goates.

12 And ſo Iehoſaphat pꝛoſpered, and grewe vp an highe: and he buylt in Juda caſtels and cities of ſtoꝛe.

13 And he had great "ſubſtance in the cities of Juda: but the men of armes and ſtrongeſt ſouldiers were in Hieruſalem.

"or, great woꝛkes.

14 And theſe are the "offices of them in the C houſe of theyꝛ fathers: the captaynes ouer thouſands in Juda, Adna the captayne, and with him of fightyng men, thꝛee hundꝛed thouſande.

"or, numbers.

15 And next to his hand was Iehohanan a captayne, and with hym two hundꝛed and foureſcoꝛe thouſande.

16 And next hym was Amazia the ſonne of Zichri, Zichri, which of his owne good wil offered himſelf vnto the Lorde, and with him two hundred thouſand mighty men of warre.

17 And of the chyldren of Beniamin, Eliada a man of might, and with hym armed men, with bowe and ſhielde, two hundred thouſande.

18 And next hym was Iehoſabad, and with him an hundred and fourefcore thouſande, that were prepared for the warre.

19 Theſe wayted on the kyng, beſides thoſe whiche the kyng put in the ſtrong cities throughout al Iuda.

The. xviij. Chapter.

1. Iehoſaphat maketh affinitie with Ahab. 10. Foure hundred prophetes counſel Ahab to goe to warre. 14. Michea is agaynſt them. 23. Zedekia ſmyteth him. 25. The kyng putteth hym in pryſon. 29. The effect of his propheſie.

A 1 NOw Iehoſaphat had abundance of ryches and honour, and ioyned affinitie with Ahab.

3. Reg. 22. a. 2 And after certaine yeares, he went downe to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab ſlue many ſheepe & oxen for him, & for the people that he had with hym, and entreated him to goe vp with him vnto Ramoth (in) Gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Iſrael ſayde vnto Iehoſaphat kyng of Iuda, Wylt thou goe with me to Ramoth (in) Gilead? And he anſwearde hym, I wil be as thou, and my people ſhal be as thyne (and we will goe) with thee to the warre.

4 And Iehoſaphat ſayde vnto the kyng of Iſrael, Seeke counſell I pray thee at the worde of the Lorde this ſame day.

5 Therefore the kyng of Iſraell gathered together of prophetes foure hundred men, and ſayde vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth (in) Gilead to fight, or ſhould I ceaſe? And they ſayde, Goe vp, and God ſhal deliuer it into the kings hande.

6 But Iehoſaphat ſayde, Is there yet here neuer a prophete more of the Lordes, that we might aſke of hym?

B 7 And the kyng of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehoſaphat, There is yet one man by whom we may aſke the Lorde: but I hate hym, for he neuer propheſieth me good, but alway euyll, and the ſame is Michea the ſonne of Iemla. And Iehoſaphat ſayde, Let not the kyng ſay ſo.

8 And the kyng of Iſraell called one of his chamberlaynes, and ſayde, Fetche hyther quickly Michea the ſonne of Iemla.

9 And the kyng of Iſrael, and Iehoſaphat kyng of Iuda, ſate eyther of them on his ſeate in theyr apparel, in a threſhyng floore beſide the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets propheſied before them.

10 And one Zedekia, the ſonne of Chanaana, had made hym hornes of iron, and ſayd, thus ſayth the Lorde, With theſe thou ſhalt puſhe Syria, vntill they be brought to nought. 3. Reg. 22.

11 And all the prophetes propheſied euen ſo, ſaying, Goe vp to Ramoth (in) Gilead, and it ſhall proſper with thee: for the Lord ſhal deliuer it into the hande of the kyng.

12 And the meſſenger that went to cal Michea, ſpake to hym, ſaying, Beholde, the wordes of the prophetes ſpeake good to the kyng with one aſſent, let thy wordes therfore, I pray thee, be lyke one of theyrs, that thou ſpeake that whiche is pleaſant.

13 And Michea ſayd, As the Lord liueth, euē what my God ſayeth, that will I ſpeake.

14 And when he was come to the kyng, the C kyng ſayde vnto hym, Michea, ſhoulde we goe to Ramoth (in) Gilead to fight, or leaue off? And he ſayd, Goe vp, & al ſhal be well, and they ſhal be deliuered into your hande.

15 And the kyng ſayde to hym, So and ſo many times dow I charge thee, that thou ſay nothing but the trueth to me in the name of the Lorde.

16 Then he ſayd, I did ſee al them of Iſrael ſcattered in the mountaynes, as ſheepe that haue no ſhepheard: and the Lorde ſayde, (a) Theſe haue no mayſter, let them returne euery man therefore to his houſe in peace.

a. He propheſieth how the people ſhould be diſperſed, and Ahab ſlayne.

17 And the kyng of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehoſaphat, Dyd I not tell thee, that he woulde not propheſie good vnto me, but euyll?

18 But he ſayde agayne, Therefore heare yee the worde of the Lorde: I ſawe the Lorde ſit vpon his ſeate, and all the companie of heauen ſtode on his right hande, and on hys left. 3. Reg. 22. b. Eſai. 6. a.

19 And the Lorde ſayde, Who ſhal deceyue Ahab kyng of Iſrael, that he may goe vp and be ouerthrowen at Ramoth (in) Gilead? And one ſayde this, another that.

20 And there came out a ſpirite, & ſtode before the Lorde, & ſayde, I wil deceyue him. And the Lorde ſayde vnto him, Wherein?

D

21 And he ſayde, I wil goe out, and be a (b) lying ſpirite in ỹ mouth of al his prophets. And the Lorde ſayde, Thou ſhalt deceyue him, and ſhalt preuayle: goe out, and do euen ſo.

b. They that wil not beleue the truth, God ſendeth ſtrong deluſions, that they ſhoulde beleeue lies. 2. Theſſ. 2. 2. Reg. 22. b Iob. 12. d. Ezec. 14. c.

22 And nowe therefore beholde, the Lorde hath put a lying ſpirite in the mouths of (al) theſe thy prophetes, and the Lord hath ſpoken euill agaynſt thee.

23 And

23 And Zedekia the ſonne of Chanaana went to, and ſmote Michea vpon the cheke, and ſayde, By what way went the ſpirite of the Lorde from me, to ſpeake with thee?

24 And Michea ſayde, Beholde, thou ſhalt ſee the day when thou ſhalt goe frō chamber to chamber, for to hyde thy ſelfe.

25 And the kyng of Iſrael ſayde, Take ye Michea, and bryng him to Amōn the gouernour of the citie, and to Joas the kyngs ſonne.

26 And ye ſhall ſay, Thus ſayth the kyng, Put this felow in the pryſon houſe, & feede hym with bread of affliction, and water of trouble, vntill I come agayne in peace.

27 And Michea ſayde, If thou come againe in peace, then hath not the Lorde ſpoken by me. And he ſayde, Hearken to ye people euery one of you.

28 And ſo the kyng of Iſrael, and Iehoſaphat the king of Juda, went vp to Ramoth (in) Eilead.

29 And the kyng of Iſrael ſayde vnto Iehoſaphat, I muſt change me when I goe to the battayle: but ſee that thou haue thyne owne apparel vpon thee. And the kyng of Iſrael changed himſelfe, and they came to the battayle.

30 But the kyng of Syria had commaunded the captaynes of the charettes that were with hym, ſaying, See that ye fight not agaynſt ſmal or great, ſaue againſt the kyng of Iſrael onely.

31 And when the captaynes of the charettes ſawe Iehoſaphat, they ſayde, It is the kyng of Iſrael: and therefore they compaſſed about him to fight. But Iehoſaphat cried out, and the Lorde helped him, and God "chaſed them away from him.

"or, moued thē to depart from him.

32 For it came to paſſe, that when the captaynes of the charets perceyued that it was not the kyng of Iſrael, they turned backe agayne from hym.

"or, ignorātly

33 And a certayne man drewe a bowe "with al his might, and ſmote the kyng of Iſrael betweene the ioynts of hys habergin, and he ſayde to his charetman, Turne thyne hande, that thou mayeſt carie me out of the hoſt, for I am wounded.

34 And the battayle increaſed that day: Howbeit the king of Iſrael cauſed his charet (c) to ſtande ſtyll agaynſt the Syrians vntill euen: and about the time of the ſunne goyng downe, he dyed.

c. He diſſembled his hurt, that his ſouldiers myght fight the more coutagiouſly.

The.xix.Chapter.

1. After Iehoſaphat was rebuked by the prophete, he calleth agayne the people to the honouring of the Lorde. 5. He appoynteth iudges and miniſters, 9. and exhorteth them to feare God.

1 AND Iehoſaphat the kyng of Juda, came home agayne in peace to Hieruſalem.

2 And Jehu the ſonne of Hanani the Sear went out to meete hym, and ſayde to kyng Iehoſaphat, Wouldeſt thou helpe the vngodly, and loue them that hate the Lorde? Therefore is wrath come downe vpon thee from before the Lorde:

3 Neuertheleſſe, there are ſome good actes founde in thee, in that thou haſte hewen downe the groues out of the land, and haſt prepared thyne hart to ſeeke God.

4 And Iehoſaphat dwelt at Hieruſalem, and turned, (a) and went out to the people from Beerſeba to mount Ephraim, and brought them agayne vnto the Lorde God of theyr fathers.

a. He viſited al his coūtrey & brought his people from idolatrie vnto knowledge of the true God.

5 And he ſet iudges in the land throughout all the ſtrong cities of Juda, citie by citie:

6 And ſayde to the iudges, Take heede what ye dō: for ye execute not the iudgementes of man, but of God, whiche is (b) with you in the iudgement.

b. To preſerue you if you do iuſtly, and to puniſh you if you do contrary. B Rom.2.b. Acts.10.b. Coloſ.3.b.

7 Wherefore now, let the feare of the Lord be vpon you, and take heede, and be doyng (the thyng that pleaſeth him) for there is no vnrighteouſneſſe with the Lorde our God, that he ſhoulde haue any reſpect of perſons, or take rewardes.

8 Moreouer, in Hieruſalem dyd Iehoſaphat ſet of the Leuites, and of the prieſtes, and of the auncient fathers, ouer Iſrael, in the iudgement and cauſe of the Lorde: and they returned agayne to Hieruſalem.

9 And he charged them, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye dō in the feare of the Lorde faythfully, and with a pure hart:

10 What cauſe ſo euer come to you of your brethren that dwell in theyr cities, betweene bloud and bloud, betweene lawe and commaundement, betweene ſtatutes and ordinances: ye ſhall warne them that they treſpaſſe not agaynſt the Lorde, and ſo wrath come vpō you and your brethren: thus dō, and ye ſhall not offende.

11 And beholde, Amaria the hygh prieſte is among you in all matters of the Lord, and Zebadia the ſonne of Iſmael, a ruler of the houſe of Juda, for all the kyngs matters: there be officers of the Leuites alſo before you. Take courage to you therefore, and be doyng (manfully) and the Lorde ſhal be with ſuche as be good.

The

The.xx. Chapter.

3. Iehoſaphat and the people pray vnto the Lorde. 22. The marueylous victorie that the Lorde gaue him agaynſt his enimes. 30. His raigne and actes.

1 AFter this alſo, it fortuned that the chyldren of Moab and the chyldren of Ammon, & with thē other of the Ammonites, came agaynſt Iehoſaphat to battayle.

2 And there came ſome that tolde Iehoſaphat, ſaying, There cōmeth a great multitude againſt thee from the other ſide of the ſea, and out of Syria, and behold, they be in Haſaſon Thamar, which is Engadi.

3 And Iehoſaphat feared, and ſet himſelf to ſeeke the Lorde, and proclaymed faſtyng throughout all Iuda.

4 And they that were in Iuda, gathered themſelues together, to aſke counſell of the Lorde: and they came out of al the cities of Iuda, to make interceſſion to the Lorde.

Or, to enquire of the Lorde.

5 And Iehoſaphat ſtode betweene the congregation of Iuda and Hieruſalem in the houſe of the Lorde before the newe court,

6 And ſayd, O Lorde God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen, and raygneſt not thou on all the kyngdomes of the heathen, and in thyne hande is power and might, and there is no man that is able to withſtande thee?

B 7 Art not thou our God, which diddeſt caſt out the inhabiters of this lande, before thy people Iſrael, and gaueſt it to the ſeede of Abraham thy louer forever?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue buylt thee a temple therein for thy name, ſaying,

2. Par. 6, c.

9 If euill come vpon vs, as the ſwoorde of iudgement, peſtilence, or hunger: then, if we ſtande before this houſe in thy preſence (for thy name is in this houſe) & crye vnto thee in our tribulation, heare thou, and helpe.

10 And now behold, the chyldrē of Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whom thou wouldeſt not let them of Iſrael goe, when they came out of the lande of Egypt, but they departed from them, and deſtroyed them not:

11 See how they reward vs, to come for to caſt vs out of thy poſſeſſion, which thou haſt gyuen vs to inherite.

12 O our God, wylt thou not iudge them? for we haue no might agaynſt this great companie that commeth agaynſt vs: neyther wote we what to do, but our eyes (a) be vnto thee.

a. We onely put our truſt in thee, and wayte for our deliuerāce frō heauen.

13 And all Iuda ſtode before the Lorde, with theyr yong ones, theyr wiues, and theyr chyldren.

14 And there was Iahaziel the ſonne of Zacharia, the ſonne of Banaia, the ſonne of Iehiel, the ſonne of Matthania, a Leuite, of the ſonnes of Aſaph, and vpon hym came the ſpirite of the Lorde, euen in the middes of the congregation:

15 And he ſayde, Hearken all Iuda, and ye inhabiters of Hieruſalem, and thou kyng Iehoſaphat, thus ſayeth the Lord vnto you, Be not afrayde nor ſaynt harted, by reaſon of this great multitude: for the battayle is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morow goe ye downe againſt them: behold, they come vp by the cliff of Ziz, & ye ſhall finde them at the ende of the broke, before the wildernelle of Ieruel.

17 Ye ſhall not neede to fight in thys battayle: but ſteppe forth and ſtande, and beholde, the helpe of the Lorde whiche is with you: feare not, nor let your harts fayle you, O ye of Iuda and of Hieruſalem, to morowe goe out agaynſt them, for the Lorde will be with you.

18 And Iehoſaphat (b) bowed his face to the earth, and all Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem fell before the Lorde, worſhipping the Lorde.

b. Declaryng his fayth and obedience, to the worde of the Lorde.

19 And the Leuites of the chyldren of the Caathites, and of the chyldren of the Corahites, ſtode vp to praiſe the Lorde God of Iſrael with a loude voyce on high.

20 And when they arole early in the morning, they gate them out vnto the wyldernelle of Thekoa, and as they went out, Iehoſaphat ſtode, and ſayd, Heare me, O Iuda, and ye inhabiters of Hieruſalem: put your truſt in the Lorde your God, that ye may be founde faythfull: gyue credence to his prophetes, and ſo ſhall ye proſper.

21 When he had conſulted with the people, D and ſet ſome to ſing vnto the Lorde, and to praiſe him in the beautie of holineſſe, and to goe out before the armie, and to ſay, Praiſe the Lorde, for his mercie laſteth euer:

22 And when they began to ſhowte and to praiſe, the Lorde layde ambuſhments agaynſt the chyldren of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, whiche were come agaynſt Iuda: and they were ouerthrowen with ſtrokes among themſelues.

23 For the chyldren of Ammon and Moab, roſe agaynſt the inhabiters of mount Seir, and they ſlue and deſtroyed them: and whē they had made an ende of the inhabiters of Seir, euery one helped to deſtroy another among themſelues.

24 And when Iuda came towarde Miſpah in the wildernelle, they looked vnto the multitude: and behold, they were dead carkaſſes kaſſes fallen to the earth, and none eſcaped.

25 And when Iehoſaphat and his people came to take away the ſpoyle of them, they founde among them abundance of goods, rayment, and pleaſant iewels, whiche they toke for themſelues, more than they coulde carie away: ſo that they were three dayes in gatheryng of the ſpoyle, it was ſo muche.

c. Giue thankes vnto the Lorde for that victorie.

26 And the fourth day they aſſembled in the valley of bleſſing, for there they (c) bleſſed the Lord: and therfore they called the name of the ſame place, The valley of bleſſyng, vnto this day.

E

27 And ſo all the men of Iuda and Hieruſalem, returned with Iehoſaphat their head, for to goe agayne to Hieruſalē with gladneſſe: for the Lorde had made them to reioyce ouer theyr enimies.

28 And they came to Hieruſalem with pſalteries, and harpes, and ſhawmes, euen to the houſe of the Lorde.

29 And the feare of God fell on the kyngdomes of all landes, when they had heard that the Lorde fought agaynſt the enimies of Iſrael.

30 And ſo the Realme of Iehoſaphat was in tranquilitie, and his God gaue hym reſt on euery ſide.

4.Reg.22.k 31 And Iehoſaphat raygned vpō Iuda, and was thirtie and fiue yeares old when he began to raygne, and he raigned twentie and fiue yeares in Hieruſalem: and his mothers name was Azuba, the daughter of Silhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Aſa his father, and bowed not therefrom, doyng that whiche was righte in the ſighte of the Lorde.

33 Howbeit the highe places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared theyr hartes vnto the God of their fathers.

34 The reſt of the actes of Iehoſaphat firſte and laſt, beholde they are written among the ſayings of Iehu the ſonne of Hanani, which noted them in the booke of the kyngs of Iſrael.

F 35 After this dyd Iehoſaphat king of Iuda ioyne himſelfe with Ahaziahu kyng of Iſrael, whoſe mynde was to do wickedly.

36 He coupled hymſelfe with hym, to make ſhyppes to goe to Tharſis: and they made the ſhyppes in Ezion Gaber.

37 And Eliezer the ſonne of Dodanah of Mareſa prophefied againſt Iehoſaphat, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſte (d) ioyned thy ſelfe with Ahaziahu, the Lorde hath broken thy workes. And the ſhippes were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tharſis.

d. God would not haue his to ioyne in ſocietie with idolaters and wicked men.

The.xxi.Chapter.

1. Iehoſaphat dyeth. 2. Iehoram ſucceedeth hym. 4. VVhich killeth his brethren. 6. He was brought to idolatrie, 11. and ſeduceth the people. 16. He is oppreſſed of the Philiſtines. 18. His miſerable ende.

1 IEhoſaphat alſo ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid: and Iehoram his ſonne raygned in his ſteede. I 3.Reg.22.g

2 And he had brethren, whiche were the ſonnes of Iehoſaphat, Azaria, Iehiel, Zacharia, Azariahu, Michael, and Sephatiahu: all theſe are the ſonnes of Iehoſaphat kyng of Iuda.

8 In his dayes the Edomites rebelled, when they were vnder the dominiō of Iuda, and made themſelues a kyng. 2.Reg.8.c. 3.Reg.22.g. 4.Reg.8.c.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his lords, and all his charets were with him: and he roſe vp by night, and ſmote the Edomites, whiche compaſſed him in, and the captaynes of the charets. B

10 But Edom rebelled ſtill, ſo that they would not be vnder the hande of Iuda vnto this day: that ſame tyme alſo dyd Libna depart from beyng vnder hys hande, bycauſe he had forſaken the Lorde God of his fathers.

11 Moreouer, he made byghe places in the mountaynes of Iuda, and cauſed the inhabiters of Hieruſalem to commit fornicatiō, and prouoked Iuda (to Idolatrie.)

12 And there came a writing vnto him from Elia the prophete, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lorde God of Dauid thy father: Bycauſe thou thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehosaphat thy father, and in the wayes of Asa king of Iuda:

13 But walkest in the wayes of the kinges of Israel, & hast made Iuda and the dwellers of Hierusalem to goe a whoring, lyke to the whoredome of the house of Ahab, and hast slayne thy brethren, euen thy fathers house, whiche were better than thou,

14 Beholde, with a greate plague wyll the Lord smite thy folke, thy children, thy wiues and all thy goodes:

15 And thou shalt suffer greate payne, euen a disease of thy bowels, vntyll thy guttes fall out, by reason of thy sickenesse, day by day.

16 And so the Lord stirred vp agaynst Iehoram the spirite of the Philistines, & the Arabians that were beside the blacke Mores.

17 And they came vp into Iuda, and wasted it, and caryed away al the substãce that was found in the kings house, and his sonnes, and his wyues: so that there was neuer a sonne left him, saue "Iehoahaz, whiche was the yongest among his sonnes.

" or, Ihaziahu

18 And after all these things, the Lord smote him in hys bowelles with an incurable disease.

19 And it came to passe, that in processe of tyme, euen after the ende of two yeeres, hys guttes fell out in hys sickenesse, and so hee dyed of very euyll diseases: and they made no burning for him, lyke the burning of hys fathers.

D 20 When he beganne to raigne, he was thirtie and two yeeres old, and raigned in Hierusalem eyght yeeres, and lyued wretchedly: howbeit they buryed him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the kings.

The.xxij.Chapter.

1. Ahaziahu raygneth after Iehoram. 8. Iehu king of Israel killeth Ahaziahu. 10. Athalia putteth to death all the kings linage. 11. Ioas escapeth.

1 AND the inhabiters of Hierusalem made Ahaziahu hys young sonne kyng in hys steede: for the men of warre that (a) came with the host of the Arabians, hadde slayne all hys eldest sonnes: and so Ahaziahu the sonne of Iehoram kyng of Iuda was made king.

2 (b) Two and fourtie yeeres olde was hee when he began to raygne, & he raygned one yeere in Hierusalem: hys mothers name was Athalia, the daughter of (c) Amri.

3 And hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother by hir counsell entised him to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he dyd that whiche was euyll in the syghte of the Lorde, as dyd they that were of the house of Ahab: for they were his (d) counselours after the death of his father, to his destruction.

d. Euil counsellers make an euil king.

5 And hee walked after theyr counsell, and went with Iehoram sonne of Ahab king of Israel, to fight against Hazael king of Syria, at Ramoth (in) Gilead: and the Syrians smote Iehoram.

6 And he returned to bee healed in Iezrahel, of the woundes whiche were gyuen hym at Rama, when he fought with Hazael kyng of Syria: and Ahaziahu the sonne of Iehoram kyng of Iuda, went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Iezrael, because he was diseased.

7 And it came of God that Ahaziahu should B bee despysed for his comming to Iehoram: for when he was come, hee went out with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimsi, whome the Lorde had annoynted to destroy the house of Ahab. 4.Re.9.b.

8 And so it came to passe, that when Iehu was executing iustice vpon the house of Ahab, and had founde the lordes of Iuda, and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziahu that wayted on Ahaziahu, he slue them.

9 And hee sought Ahaziahu: and they caught him where hee was hyd in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, & when they had slayne him, they buryed him: because, sayde they, hee is the sonne of Iehosaphat, whiche sought the Lorde with all his hart: and the house of Ahaziahu had no power to keepe styll the kingdome. 4.Reg.9.k.

10 But when Athalia the mother of Ahaziahu sawe that hir sonne was dead, she arose, and (e) destroyed all the kings seede in the kynrede of the house of Iuda. 4.Reg.9.k.

e. To the intent that there shold be none to make title to the crowne: and so she might vsurpe the gouernment.

11 And Iehosabeth the daughter of ỹ kyng, toke Ioas the sonne of Ahaziahu, and stale him from among the kynges sonnes that were slayne, and put him and his nurse in a priuie chamber, & so Iehosabeth the daughter of king Iehoram, the wyfe of Iehoiada the priest, and the syster of Ahaziahu, hydde hym from Athalia, that he was not slayne.

12 And so he was with them hyd in the house of God sire yeeres: and Athalia raigned ouer the lande.

The.xxiij.Chapter.

3.Reg.2.a. and.9.b. 2.Par.6.c. 7.d.and.21.b

4 This is it therefore that ye shall do: the thyrde parte of you shall on the Sabboth come to the priests, Leuites, and keepers of the porches,

5 And another thyrde parte shal be by the kyngs house, and another thyrde part shall be at the gate of the foundation: and all the people shal be in the courtes of the house of the Lorde.

Exod.27.b.

6 But there shall none come into the house of the Lorde, saue the priests, and they that minister vnto the Leuites, they shall goe in, for they are holy: but al the people shall keepe the watche of the Lorde.

B 7 And the Leuites shall compasse the kyng rounde about, and euery man shal haue his weapon in his hand: and what other man soeuer dothe come into the house (of the Lorde) he shall be slayne: and let them be with the kyng when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 And the Leuites and al Iuda did accordyng to all things that Iehoiada the priest had commaunded, and toke euery man his men that came in on the Sabboth, with thē that went out on the Sabboth day: neyther dyd Iehoiada the priest let the companies depart.

9 And Iehoiada the priest deliuered to the captaynes of hundredes, speares, shieldes, and bucklers, that had parteyned to kyng Dauid, and were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people (euery man hauyng his weapon in his hande) from the ryght side of the temple, to the left side of the temple, along by the aulter and the temple, rounde about the kyng.

Deut.7.d.

11 And they brought out the kyngs sonne, and put vpon him the crowne, and the testimonie, and made hym kyng: and Iehoiada and his sonnes annoynted hym: and sayde, God saue the kyng.

12 When Athalia hearde the noyse of the people runnyng, and praysing the kyng, she came to the people into the house of the Lorde.

13 And she loked, and behold the kyng stood "in his place at the entryng in, & the lordes and the trumpets were by the kyng, and al the people of the lande reioyced, blowyng with trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musicke, and suche as could sing prayse: but Athalia rent hyr clothes, and sayde, Treason, treason.

2 And Joas did that whiche was right in the sight of the Lord, al the dayes of (a) Jehoiada the priest.

a. Who was a faithful counsaylour, and gouerned him by the woorde of God.

3 And Iehoiada toke hym two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And it chaunced after this, that Joas was mynded to renue the house of the Lorde.

5 And he gathered together the priests and the Leuites, and sayd to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Juda, and gather of all Israel money to repayre ỹ house of your God from yeere to yeere, and see that ye hast the thyng: howbeit the Leuites were slacke,

6 And the kyng called Iehoiada that was the (b) chiefest, and sayde vnto hym, Why requyrest thou not of the Leuites to bryng in out of Juda and Hierusalem the collection of money, according to the commaundement of Moses the seruant of the Lorde, and of the congregation of Israel, for the tabernacle of witnesse?

B 7 For wicked Athalia, and hyr chyldren, brake vp the house of God, and al the things that were dedicate for the house of ỹ Lord, did they bestowe for Baalim.

4. Reg. 12. b 8 And at the kings commaundement they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the Lorde, 9 And made a proclamation throughout Juda and Hierusalem, to bryng in to the Lorde, the taxation of money that Moses the seruaunt of God set vpon Israel in the wildernesse.

Exod. 30. b

10 And the lordes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, " vntill it was full.

" or, vntil they had made an ende.

11 And it fortuned, that at the same time, they brought in the chest vnto them whiche were in the kyngs businesse, by the hande of the Leuites, and when they saw that there was muche money, the kings scribe, and one appoynted by the hygh priest, came, and emptied the chest, and toke it, and caryed it to his place agayne. Thus they did day by day, and gathered muche money.

12 And the kyng and Iehoiada gaue it to suche as dyd the labour and worke in the house of the Lorde, and hyred Masons and Carpẽters to repayre the house of the Lord, and so dyd the artificers in iron and brasse, to mende the house of the Lorde.

13 And so the workemen wrought, and the worke mended through theyr hands: and they made the house of God as it ought to be, and strengthed it.

14 And when they hadde finished it, they brought the reste of the money before the king and Iehoiada, ℣ therewith were made vessels for the house of the Lorde, euen vessels to ministre withall, (and to serue for burnt offerings,) " chargers and spones, vessels of golde and siluer: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lorde continually, all the dayes of Iehoiada.

15 But Iehoiada waxed olde, and dyed full of dayes: for an hundred and thirtie yeeres olde was he when he dyed.

16 And they buryed hym in the citie of Dauid among the kyngs, bycause he dealt wel with Israel, and with God, and with hys house.

17 And after the death of Iehoiada, came the (c) lordes of Juda, and made obeysance to the kyng: and the kyng hearkened vnto them.

c. Whiche were flatterers, and idolaters.

18 And so they left the house of the Lorde God of their fathers, and serued groues and idols, and then came the wrath of God vpon Juda, and Hierusalem, for this their trespasses sake.

19 And he sent prophetes to them, to bryng them agayne vnto the Lord, and they testified vnto them: but they would not heare.

20 And the spirite of God came vpon Zacharia the son of Iehoiada the priest, which stoode by the people, and sayde vnto them, thus sayth God, Why transgresse you the commaundements of the Lord, that ye can not prosper? For bycause ye haue forsaken the Lorde, he also hath forsaken you.

22 And so Joas the kyng remembred not the kyndnesse whiche Iehoiada his father had done to hym, but slue hys sonne: and when he died, he sayde, The Lorde loke vpon it, and requyre it.

23 And when the yeere was out, it fortuned that the hoste of Syria came vp agaynst hym, and they came agaynst Juda and Hierusalem, and destroyed all the lordes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king to Damascon.

24 For the Syrians came with a smal companie of men, and the Lord deliuered a very great host into theyr hande, bycause they had forsaken the lord God of theyr fathers: and they gaue sentence agaynst Joas.

25 And when they were departed from him, they left him in great diseases: and hys

6 He hyred alſo an hundred thouſand ſtrõg fightyng men out of Iſrael, for an hundred talentes of ſiluer.

B 7 And there came a man of God to hym, and ſayde, O kyng, let not the armie of Iſrael come with thee: for the Lorde is not with Iſrael, (to wit) with al the chyldren of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt needes (be faythleſſe:) come on, and take the battayle in hande, and God ſhal make thee fall before the enimie: for God hath power to helpe, and to caſt downe.

9 And Amaziahu ſayd to the man of God, What ſhall wee do then for the hundred talents whiche I haue gyuen for the hoſte of Iſrael? The man of God anſwered, The Lorde is able to giue thee much more than they be.

10 And Amaziahu ſeparated them, (to wit) the armie that was come to hym out of Ephraim, to goe home agayne: wherefore they were exceeding wroth with Juda, and returned home in great anger.

11 And Amaziahu toke harte, and caryed out hys people, and went to the ſalt valley, and ſmote of the chyldren of Seir tenne thouſande. 4. Reg. 14.

12 And other tenne thouſande dyd the chyldren of Juda take alyue, and caryed them vnto the toppe of a rocke, and caſte them downe from the top of the rõcke, that they all to burſt.

13 But the ſouldiers of the (b) armie whiche Amaziahu ſent away, that they ſhould not goe with his people to battayle, fell vppon the cities of Juda frõ Samaria vnto Bethzon, & ſmote three thouſande of them, and toke much ſpoyle.

And the prophete ceaſed, and ſayde, I am ſure that God is mynded to deſtroy thee, bicauſe thou haſte done this, and agreeſt not vnto my counſel. Ink

17 Then Amaziahu kyng of Juda toke aduiſe, and ſent to Ioas the ſonne of Iehoahaz, the ſonne of Iehu kyng of Iſrael, and ſayde, Come, that we may ſee eyther other. 4. Reg. 14.

18 And Ioas kyng of Iſrael ſent to Amaziahu kyng of Juda, ſaying, A thiſtle that is in Libanon, ſent to a Cedar tree of Libanon, ſaying, Giue thy daughter to my ſonne to wife: and there came a wylde beaſte of 4. Reg. 14.

20 But Amaziahu would not hearken vnto hym: for it came of God, euen to deliuer them into the hande of their enimies, because they sought counsell at the goddes of Edom.

D 21 And so Joas the king of Israel came vp, and they sawe eyther other, bothe he and Amaziahu kyng of Juda, at Bethsames whiche is in Juda.

22 And Juda was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tent.

23 And Joas the king of Israel, toke Amaziahu kyng of Juda, the sonne of Joas the sonne of Jehoahaz, at Bethsames, & brought him to Hierusalem, & tare the wal of Hierusalem (from the gate of Ephraim, vnto the gate that was ouer against it) foure hundred cubites.

24 And he toke away also al the golde and siluer, and al the iewels that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, the treasures of the kings house, and the yong wardes, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amaziahu, the sonne of Joas kyng of Juda, liued after ỳ death of Joas sonne of Jehoahaz king of Israel fiftene yeeres.

9 Moreouer, Uzzia built towres in Hierusalem by the corner gate, and by the valley gate, and at the turnyng of the wall, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wildernesse, and digged many wels: for he had muche cattel in the valleys and playnes, plowmen, and vine dressers in the mountaynes, and in Charmel: for he loued husbandry.

11 And Uzzia had an host of fightyng men, that went out to warre in the armie, accordyng to the number of their office, vnder the hande of Jeiel the scribe, and Maasiahu the ruler, and vnder the hande of Hananiahu, which was one of the kyngs lordes.

12 And the whole number of the auncient fathers, and of the men of might, were two thousande and fyre hundred.

13 And vnder the hande of them was the armie of the menne of warre, euen three hundred and seuen thousande, and fyue hundred that made warre with the power of an armie, helpyng the kyng against the enimies.

14 And Uzzia prouided them throughout all the hoste, shields, speares, helmettes, habergionnes, bowes, and slings for to cast stones.

16 But in his strength (a) his harte arose to his destruction: for he transgressed agaynst the Lorde his God, and went into the temple of the Lorde to burne incense vpon the aulter of incense.

17 And Azariahu the priest went in after hym, and with him fourescore priests of the Lorde, that were valiant men:

18 And they stode by Uzzia the kyng, and sayde vnto hym, It parteyneth not to thee Uzzia to burne incense vnto the lorde, but to the priests the chyldren of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: (b) Come therefore out of the sanctuarie, for thou hast trespalled, and it is no worshyp to thee before the Lorde God.

b. Though his zeale and intention seemed good, yet bicause they were not ruled by gods word, his fact was wicked, and iustly punished.

19 And Uzzia was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it, and so whyle he had indignation agaynst the priests, the leprosie sprang in his forehead before the priestes in the house of the Lorde, euen beside the incense aulter.

3.Reg.15.a.

20 And Azariahu the chiefe priest, with all the other priestes, loked vpon hym, and beholde, he was become a lepre in his forehead, and they vered him thence: and he was fayne to goe out, bycause the Lord had smitten hym.

D 21 And Uzzia the king cõtinued a lepre vnto the day of his death, and dwelt seuerall in an house, beyng a lepre, and shut out of the house of the Lord: ¶ Iotham his sonne had the gouernance of the kyngs house, and iudged the people of the lande.

22 The reste of the actes of Uzzia firste and last, dyd Isai the prophete, the sonne of Amos, wryte.

23 And so Uzzia slept with hys fathers, and they buryed hym with his fathers in the fielde of the buriall whiche was beside the sepulchres of the kyngs: for they sayde, He is a leper: and Iotham hys sonne raygned in hys steede.

The.xxvij.Chapter.

1. Iotham raygneth, and ouercommeth the Ammonites. 8. His raygne and death. 9. Ahaz his sonne raigneth in his steede.

A 1 IOtham was fiue and twentie yeeres olde when he beganne to raygne, and he raygned sixtene yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Ierusa, the daughter of Zadoc.

4.Reg.15.b

2 And he dyd that whiche was right in the sight of the Lorde, in all poyntes as dyd his father Uzzia, saue that he came not into the (a) temple of the Lorde: and the people did yet wickedly.

a. To wit, to offer incense against Gods worde.

3 He buylt the hyghe gate of the temple of the Lorde, and on the wal (where the house of ordinance was) he buylt muche.

4 Moreouer, he buylt cities in the mountaynes of Iuda, and in the wood countrey he buylt castels and towres.

5 He fought with the kyng of the chyldren of Ammon, and preuayled agaynst them: and the chyldren of Ammon gaue hym the same yeere an hundred talents of siluer, and tenne thousande quarters of wheate, and tenne thousande of barlye: so much dyd the children of Ammon giue him the seconde yeere, and the thirde also.

6 So Iotham became mighty (b) bycause he directed his way before the Lorde his God.

b. Al prosperitie commeth of God, who neuer forsaketh them that put their truste in him.

7 The rest of the actes of Iotham, and all his warres, and his conuersation, loe they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iuda.

B 8 He was fiue and twentie yeeres old whē he beganne to raygne, and raygned sixtene yeeres in Hierusalem.

9 And Iotham slept with hys fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid: and Ahaz his sonne raygned in his steede.

The.xxviij.Chapter.

1. Ahaz an idolater is gyuen into the handes of the Syrians and the kyng of Israel. 9. The prophete reproueth the Israelites crueltie. 18. Iuda is molested with enimies. 23. Ahaz increaseth his idolatrie. 26. His death, and successour.

1 AHaz was twentie yeeres olde when he beganne to raigne, and raigned sixtene yeeres in Hierusalem, and he dyd not that whiche is right in the sight of the Lorde, as dyd his father Dauid:

A 4.Reg.16.a

2 For he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, and made moulten images for Baalim.

3 He offered incense in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, and burnt hys chyldren in fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde cast out before the chyldren of Israel.

Deut.18.b

4 He offered also and burnt incense in the hygh places, and on mountaynes, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lorde hys God deliuered hym into the hande of the kyng of the Syrians, whiche beate hym, and caryed away a greate multitude of hys, captiue, and brought them to Damascon: and he was deliuered into the hande of the kyng of Iſrael, whiche ſmote him with a greate ſlaughter.

6 For Pecah the ſonne of Remaliahu ſlue in Juda an hundred and twentie thouſande in one day, whiche were all fightyng men: and that becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of theyr fathers.

B 7 And Zichri a mighty man of Ephraim, ſlue Maaſiahu the kyngs ſonne, and Aſrika the gouernour of the houſe, and Elcana that was next to the kyng.

8 And the chyldren of Iſraell toke preſoners of theyr brethren two hundred thouſand women, ſonnes, and daughters, and caryed away muche ſpoyle of them, and brought the ſpoyle to Samaria.

9 But there was a prophete of the Lordes, whoſe name was Obed: and he went out before the hoſte that came to Samaria, and ſayde vnto them, Behold, becauſe the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Juda, (a) he hath deliuered them into your hande, and yee haue ſlayne them with cruelneſſe, that reacheth vp to heauen.

a. All victory commeth of God.

10 And nowe ye purpoſe to keepe vnder the chyldren of Juda and Hieruſalem, and to make them bondmen and bondwomen: and dw ye not lade your ſelues with ſinne in the ſight of the Lorde your God?

11 Now heare me therefore, and deliuer the captiues agayne whiche ye haue taken of your brethren: or els ſhall the great wrath of God be vpon you.

12 Wherefore certayne of the heades of the chyldren of Ephraim, as Azariahu the ſonne of Iehohanan, Berechiahu the ſonne of Meſſilemoth, and Iehezkiahu the ſonne of Sallum, and Amaſa the ſonne of Hadlai, ſtode vp agaynſt them that came from the warre, 13 And ſayde vnto them, Bryng not in the captiues hyther: for where as we haue offended towarde God already, ye entende to adde more to our ſinnes and treſpaſſe: for our treſpaſſe is great already, and there is a fierce wrath agaynſt Iſrael.

C 14 And vpon that, the men of armes left the captiues and the ſpoile before the lordes, and all the congregation:

15 And the men that were now rehearſed by name, roſe vp, and toke the preſoners, and with the ſpoyle clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and ſhoed them, and gaue them to eate and to drynke, and annoynted them, and carried all that were feeble of them vpō aſſes, and brought them to Jericho the citie of Paulme trees, to theyr brethren: and then they returned to Samaria agayne.

16 At that ſame tyme dyd kyng Ahaz ſende vnto the kyngs of the Aſſyrians, to haue helpe of them. 4. Reg. 16. b

17 And the Edomites came againe, and ſlue ſome of Juda, and carried away captiues.

18 And the Philiſtines inuaded the cities in the lowe country, and towarde the South of Juda: and toke Bethſames, and Ialon, and Gederoth, and Socho, with the townes belongyng thereto, and Thimna with the townes of the ſame, Gimſo and the townes thereof, and dwelt there.

19 For the Lorde brought Juda lowe, becauſe of Ahaz kyng of Juda, whiche made Juda naked, and tranſgreſſed ſore agaynſt the Lorde.

20 And Thiglath Pilneſer kyng of the Aſſyrians came vpon him, and troubled hym rather than ſtrengthed him.

21 For Ahaz toke away a portion out of the houſe of the Lorde, and out of the kyngs houſe, and out of the Lordes houſes, & gaue vnto the kyng of the Aſſyrians: and yet it helped hym not. D

22 And in the very tyme of his tribulation, dyd kyng Ahaz treſpaſſe yet more agaynſt the Lorde.

23 For he offered vnto the goddes of them of Damaſcon, which (b) beate hym: and he ſayde, Becauſe the goddes, of the kyngs of Syria helpe them, therefore wyll I offer to them, that they may helpe me alſo: but they were his deſtruction, and the deſtruction of al Iſrael.

b. As he falſly ſuppoſed.

24 And Ahaz gathered together the veſſels of the houſe of God, and brake them, and ſhut vp the dores of the houſe of the Lorde, and made hym aulters in euery corner of Hieruſalem. 2. Par. 29. a. 2. Par. 30. c.

25 And in al the cities of Juda, he made high places, to burne incenſe vnto other goddes, and angred the Lorde God of his fathers.

26 The reſt of his actes, and his workes firſt & laſt, beholde, they are written in the booke of the kyngs of Juda and Iſrael.

27 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Hieruſalem: but brought him not vnto the ſepulchres of the kings of Iſrael: and Hezekia his ſonne raygned in his ſtede.

2.Par.28.d. 2 And he dyd that whiche was right in the sight of the Lorde, in al poynts as did Dauid his father.

a. Whiche Ahaz had shut vp.
b. An example for al princes, that first of al they stablish the true religion of God.
3 He opened the (a) doores of the house of the Lorde, in the first yeere and (b) first moneth of his raygne, and repayred them,
4 And he brought in the Priests and the Leuites, and gathered them together into the East streete,
5 And sayde vnto them, Heare me ye Leuites, and now be sanctified, and halow the house of the Lorde God of your fathers, dryng filthinesse out of the holy place.
6 For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euill in the eyes of the Lorde our God, and haue forsaken hym, and turned away theyr faces from the habitation of the Lorde, and turned their backes on it.
B 7 And beside that, they haue shutte vp the doores of the porche, and quenched the lāpes, and haue neyther burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerynges in the holy place vnto the God of Israel.
c. The contempt of religiō, is the cause of Gods plagues.
8 (c) Wherefore the wrath of the Lorde fel on Juda and Hierusalem, and hee hath brought them to trouble, to be wondred on, and to be hissed at, euen as ye see with your eyes.
9 For loe, our fathers were ouerthrowen with the sworde, & our sonnes, our daughters, and our wiues were caried away captiue for the same cause.
10 And nowe it is in myne hart to make a couenant with the Lorde God of Israell, that he may turne away hys heauie indignation from vs.
Num.18.a. 11 Now therefore my sonnes, be not negligent: for the Lorde hath chosen you to stand before hym, and for to minister and serue him, and to burne incense.
12 Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azariahu, of the chyldren of the Caathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Cis the sonne of Abdi, and Azariahu the sonne of Jahaleel: And of the sonnes of the Gersonites, Joah the sonne of Simma, and Eden the sonne of Joah:
13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Simri and Jehiel: And of the sonnes of Asaph, Zechariahu, and Mathaniahu:
C 14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Jehiel, and Semei: And of the sonnes of Jeduthun, Semaia and Vzziel.
15 And they gathered theyr brethren, and purified themselues, and came accordyng to the commaundement of the kyng, and the wordes of the Lorde, for to clense the house of the Lorde:
16 And the priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lorde, to cleanse it, and brought out all the vncleannesse that they founde in the temple of the Lorde, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites toke it, to cary it out into the broke Cedron.
17 They began the first day of the first moneth to purifie, and the eyght day of the moneth, came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lorde in eyght dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth they made an ende.
18 And they went in to Hezekia the kyng, and sayde, We haue cleansed al the house of the Lord, the aulter of burnt offeryng, with all his vessels, and the shewe bread table, with " all his apparel: "or, bread.
19 And all the vessels which kyng Ahaz dyd caste aside, when he raigned, and transgressed, them we haue prepared, and sanctified, and behold, they are before the aulter of the Lorde.
20 And Hezekia the king rose early, and gathered the lordes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lorde.
21 And they brought seuen Oxen, seuen Rammes, seuen Sheepe; and seuen hee D Goates, to be a sinne offeryng for the kingdome, for the sanctuarie, and for Juda: And he commaunded the priestes the sonnes of Aaron, to offer the on the aulter of the lord.
22 And they slue the oxen, and the priests receyued the bloud, and (d) sprynckled it on the aulter: lykewise when they had slayne the Rammes, they sprynckled the bloud vpon the aulter: they slue also the sheepe, & they sprinckled the bloud vpon the aulter.
d. For without sprinkling of bloud, nothing could be sanctified. Hebr.9. Exod.24.
23 And then they brought forth the hee Goates for the sinne offeryng, before the king and the congregation, and put theyr handes vpon them.
24 And the priestes slue them, and with the bloud of them they cleansed the aulter, to make satisfaction for all Israel: for the king commaunded, that the burnt offeryng, and the sinne offeryng, should be made for all Israel.
25 And set the Leuites in the house of the Lorde, with Cymbales, Psalteries, and Harpes, accordyng to the commaundement of Dauid and Gad the kyngs seer, and Nathan the prophete: for so was the commaundement of the Lord, throughe the 1.Par.16.b hande of his prophetes.

26 And the Leuites stode, hauyng the instruments of Dauid: and the priests helde the trumpets.

27 And Hezekia commaunded to offer the burnt offering vpon the aulter: And when the burnt offeryng beganne, the song of the Lord beganne also, and the trumpets, with the instruments that were ordeyned by the hande of Dauid kyng of Israel.

28 And all the congregation worshipped, singyng a song, and blowyng with the trumpets, and all this (continued) vntill the burnt offeryng was finished.

4. Reg. 16. b 29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king, and al that were present with him, bowed themselues, and worshipped.

30 And Hezekia the kyng and the lordes, spake to the Leuites to prayse the Lorde, with the wordes of Dauid, and of Asaph the Star: and they sang prayses with gladnesse, and the other bowed themselues, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekia answeared, and sayd, Now ye haue consecrated your handes to the Lorde: goe to therefore, and bryng the sacrifices and thanke offerings into the house of the Lord. And the cōgregation brought in the sacrifices and thanke offerynges, and burnt offerynges, as many as were of a free liberal hart.

32 And the number of the burnt offerynges which the congregation brought, was three score and tenne Oxen, an hundred rammes, and two hundred sheepe, whiche were all for the burnt offeryng of the Lorde.

33 And there were dedicated sixe hundred Oxen, and three thousande sheepe.

34 And the priestes were to fewe to slay all the burnt offerings: but their brethren the Leuites dyd helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill the priestes were sanctified: for the Leuites were purer harted to be sanctified, than the priests.

35 And thereto the burnt offerynges were many, with the fat of the peace offerynges, & the drynke offerynges, that belong to the burnt offeryng: and so the seruice parteyning to the house of the Lord, was finished.

36 And Hezekia reioyced, and all the people, that God had made the folke so ready, and that the thyng was so sone done.

The. xxx. Chapter.

1. The keepyng of the Passeouer by the kinges commaundement. 6. He exhorteth Israel to turne to the Lorde. 18. He prayeth for the people. 24. His oblation, and the prynces. 27. The Leuites blesse the people.

1 AND Hezekia sent to all Israel and Iuda, & wrote letters to Ephraim & Manasses, that they should come to the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem, and offer Passeouer vnto the Lorde God of Israel. A

2 And the kyng helde a counsell with hys lordes, and all the congregation of Hierusalem, to keepe the feast of Passeouer in the (a) seconde moneth:

Num. 9. b.

a. Though they ought to haue done it in the first moneth. Exod. 12.

3 For they coulde not keepe it at that tyme, because the priests were not sanctified sufficiently, neither was the people gathered together to Hierusalem.

4 And the thyng pleased the kyng and all the congregation.

5 And they decreed, that it shoulde be proclaymed throughout all Israel, frō Beersheba to Dan, that they should come and hold the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lorde God of Israel at Hierusalem: for they had not done it of a great season, as it was written.

6 So the postes went with letters of the kyng and of hys lordes throughout all Israel and Iuda, and at the commaundement of the kyng, they sayde, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Isahac, and Israel, and he wyl returne to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hande of the kings of the Assyrians.

7 And be not ye like your fathers and your brethren, which trespassed agaynst the Lord God of their fathers, whiche gaue them vp to be destroyed, as ye see. B

8 And nowe be not ye stiffe necked, lyke as were your fathers: but yeeld your selues vnto the Lorde, and enter into his holy place which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lorde your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye turne agayne vnto the Lorde, then shall your brethren and your children finde compassion in the presence of them that toke them captiue, and they shal come agayne vnto this lande: for the Lord your God is gratious and mercifull, and wyll not turne away hys face from you, if ye cōuert vnto him. Exod. 34. a.

10 And so the postes went from citie to citie, in the lande of Ephraim and Manasses, euen vnto Zabulon: but they laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheles, yet diuers of Aser, Manasses, and of Zabulon, submitted themselues, and came to Hierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iuda, and he gaue them one hart to do the commaundement of the king and of the rulers, accordyng to the worde of the Lorde.

13 And there assembled to Hierusalem much people, & there was present a mighty great congregation, to holde the feast of sweete bread in the second moneth.

14 And they arose, and removed the aulters
2. Par. 28. d. that were in Hierusalem: and all the aulters for incense did they away, and cast the into the broke Cedron.

15 And they slue Passeouer the fourteth day of the seconde moneth: and the priestes and Leuites which were (b) ashamed, sanctified themselues, and brought in the burnt offerynges into the house of the Lorde.

b. Seeing theyr owne negligence, & the readinesse of the people.

16 And they stode in their office after theyr manner, and accordyng to the law of Moses the man of God: and the priests sprinckled the bloud, (whiche they receyued) of the hande of the Leuites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, and therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killyng of the Passeouer, for euery one that was not cleane, to sanctifie hym vnto the Lorde.

18 For many of the people, and very many out of Ephraim, Manasses, Issachar, & Zabulon, were not cleansed, and yet dyd eate Passeouer, against the lawe appoynted: but Hezekia prayed for them, saying, The good Lorde be mercyful toward euery one,

19 That prepareth his hart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not (cleansed) accordyng to the purification of the sanctuarie.

20 And the Lorde hearde Hezekia, and healed the people.

D 21 And the children of Israel that were present at Hierusalem, helde the feast of sweete breade seuen dayes, with great gladnesse: and the Leuites and the priests praysed the Lorde day by day, singyng with loude instruments vnto the Lorde.

22 And Hezekia spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge (to sing) vnto the Lorde: and they dyd eate throughout that feast seuen dayes long, and offered peace offerynges, & thanked the Lord God of theyr fathers.

23 And the whole assemblie toke counsel to do so other seuen dayes: and they held those seuen dayes with gladnesse:

24 For Hezekia kyng of Juda, did giue to the congregation (c) a thousand yong oxen, and seuen thousand sheepe: And the lordes gaue out to the congregation a thousande Oxen, and tenne thousand sheepe, & a great number of the priests were sanctified.

c. Hezekia bestoweth his goodes liberally, for the setting forth of Gods glory.

25 And all the congregation of Juda, with the priests and Leuites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the lande of Israel, and that dwelt in Juda, reioyced.

26 And there was great gladnesse in Hierusalem: for since the time of Solomon, the sonne of Dauid kyng of Israel, there was no suche (ioye) in Hierusalem.

27 And the priestes and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people: and theyr voyce was hearde (of the Lorde) and theyr prayer came vp vnto heauen his holy dwellyng place.

Par. 33. d. throughout all Juda and Beniamin, in Ephraim also and Manasses, vntill they had vtterly destroyed them all: and all the chyldren of Israel returned euery man to hys possessions, and to their owne cities.

2 And Hezekia appoynted sundry companies of the priests and Leuites, after the diuersitie of their ministrations, euery man accordyng to hys office bothe priestes and Leuites, for the burnt offeryng and peace offerynges, to minister and to gyue thankes and prayse in the gates of the (a) hoste of the Lorde.

a. That is, in the temple where they assembled.

3 And the kyngs portion of hys substance that he gaue, were dayly burnt offerings in the mornyng and euenyng, and burnt offerynges for the Sabboth dayes, new moones, and solemne feasts, accordyng as it is written in the lawe of the Lorde. Num. 28. d.

4 And he bade the people that dwelt in Hierusalem, to gyue a (b) part to the priestes and Leuites, that they might substancially apply themselues to the lawe of the Lord.

b. The tithes & first fruytes, for the maintenance of the priests and Leuites.

5 And as soone as the kyngs commaundement came abrode, the chyldren of Israel brought abundance of first fruytes, of corne, wyne, oyle, hony, and of all manner of fruytes of the fielde, and the tithes of all manner of thyngs brought they in plenteously.

6 And the children of Israel and Juda that dwelt in the cities of Juda, they also brought brought in the tithes of oxen and sheepe, and other holy tithes which were cõsecrate vnto the Lorde their God, they did offer, and brought them all by heapes.

B 7 In the thirde moneth, they beganne to lay the heapes in maner of a foundation, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 And when Hezekia and the Lordes came and sawe the heapes, they blessed the Lorde, and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekia questioned with the priestes and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azaria the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadoc, answered him, and sayde, Since the people beganne to bring the heaue offerings into the house of the Lorde, (c) we also haue had ynough to eate, there remayned so much: for the Lorde hath blessed his people, and this heape is left.

c. The ministers were liberally prouided for.

11 And Hezekia bade prepare " the chambers in the house of the Lorde: and they did prepare them,

" or, store houses.

12 And caryed in the first fruites, the tythes, and the dedicate things faythfully: ouer which Chonaniahu the Leuite had the rule, and Semei his brother next to him:

13 And Iehiel, Azariahu, Mahath, Asael, Ierimoth, Iosabad, Eliel, Ismachiahu, Mahath, and Banaiahu, were ouerseers ordeyned by Chonaniahu, and Semei his brother was an officer of Hezekia the king, and Azariahu was the ruler of the house of God.

C 14 And Core the sonne of Imna the Leuite, and porter of the East dore, had the ouersight of the things that were offered of a free will vnto God, and were giuen in maner seuerally vnto the Lord, and ouer the things most holy.

15 And vnder his hande were Eden, Miniamin, Iesua, Semeiahu, Amariahu, and Sechaniahu, in the cities of the priestes (appoynted) of their fidelitie to giue to their brethren their portions, as well to the small, as to the great.

16 Beside their generation, being males, from three years olde and vpward, euen vnto euerie one that entreth into the house of the Lorde, they should giue day by day, for their ministration, and for their giuing attendance, and for their diuerse waytings by course,

17 Both to the generation of the priestes and Leuites throughout the housholde of their fathers, from twentie yeares and aboue, to wayte when their courses came:

18 And to the families of all their babes, wiues, sonnes and daughters throwe all the congregation: for vpon the fidelitie of them were the holy things bestowed.

19 And to the children of Aaron the priestes, whiche were in the fieldes and suburbes of their Cityes, Citie by Citie, the men whose names were expressed afore, should giue portions, euen to all the males among the priestes, and to all the Leuites according to their number.

20 And of this maner did Hezekia throwout al Iuda: and wrought it that was good, and right and true before the lord his God. D

21 And in all the workes that hee began, for seruice of the house of God, for the lawe, and for the commaundementes, hee sought hys God: and that did he with al his heart, and prospered.

6 And hee set Captaynes of warre ouer the people, and gathered them togither to him in the large streete of the gate of the Citie, and spake gently to them, saying, vs is the Lorde our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battayles. And the people toke a courage through the wordes of Hezekia king of Juda.

4. Re. 18. c. 9 After this, did Sennacherib king of the Assyrians, sende of his seruants to Hierusalem (but he himselfe remayned beside Lachis, hauing all his power with him) vnto Hezekia king of Juda, and vnto all Juda that were at Hierusalem, saying,

4. Re. 18. c. 10 Thus sayth Sennacherib king of the Assyrians, Wherein doe ye trust, Ye that dwel in Hierusalem which is besieged?

11 Doth not Hezekia entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death, hunger, and thyrst, saying, The Lorde our God shal rid vs out of the hande of the king of the Assyrians?

12 Hath not the same Hezekia put downe his highe places, and his (a) aulters, and commaunded Juda and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one aulter, and burne incense vpon the same?

a. The wicked make no difference betwene true religion and false.

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto the people of all landes? Were the goddes of the people of other landes able or mighty to saue their landes out of my hande?

¶ 14 Which of all the goddes of those nations that my fathers destroyed, could deliuer his people out of my hand? And shal your God be able to deliuer you out of my hande.

15 Wherefore nowe let not Hezekia deceyue you, nor perswade you of this fashion, nor yet beleeue him: for as no God, among all nations and kingdomes, was able to rid his people out of my hand, and out of the hande of my fathers: howe much lesse shall your goddes be able to kepe you out of my hand?

16 And yet moe things did his seruantes speake against the Lorde God, and against his seruant Hezekia.

17 And Sennacherib also wrote a letter to rayle on the Lord God of Israel, and spake agaynst him, saying, As the goddes of the nations of (other) landes haue not beene able to deliuer their people out of my hande: euen so shall not the God of Hezekia deliuer his people out of my hande.

18 And they cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes speache vnto the people of Hierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them, And to make them faynt harted, and that they might so take the citie.

19 And they spake agaynst the God of Hierusalem, as agaynst the goddes of the nations of the earth, (which were) the workes of the handes of men.

D b. Prayer is the best refuge in all troubles and dangers.

20 But Hezekia the king, and the prophete Esay the sonne of Amos, (b) prayed agaynst that (blasphemie) and cried vp to heauen.

21 And the Lorde sent an Angel, whiche destroyed all the men of warre, and the Lords and captaynes of the host of the king of the Assyrians, that he turned his face again with shame towarde his owne lande: and when he was come into the house of his God, they that came of his owne bodie, slue him there with the sworde. 4. Re. 19.

22 And so the Lorde saued Hezekia, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem, out of the hand of Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians, and from the hande of all other, and maintayned them on euerie side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lorde to Hierusalem, and presents to Hezekia king of Juda: so that he was magnified in the sight of al nations from thencefoorth. 4. Re.

24 In those dayes Hezekia was sicke to the death, and prayed vnto the Lorde: whiche answered him, and shewed him a wonderfull myracle. 4. Re. and Esay. 38.

25 But Hezekia did not againe vnto God according to it that he had shewed him: for his heart arose, and there came wrath vpon him, and vpon Juda and Hierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding, Hezekia submitted him selfe after that his hart was rysen vp, he and the inhabiters of Hierusalem: and the wrath of the Lorde came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekia.

27 And Hezekia had exceeding muche riches and honour: and he gate him treasures of siluer and golde, precious stones, and spices, shields, and of al maner pleasant iewels: ¶

28 And made store houses for the fruites of corne, for wine, and oyle, and stalles for all maner of beastes, and foldes for sheepe.

29 And he made him cities, and had of sheepe and oxen great abundaunce: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

32 The rest of the deedes of Hezekia, and his goodnesse, beholde, they are written in the vision of Esay the prophete the sonne of Amos in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel.

33 And Hezekia slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in the most worthie place of the sepulchres of the sonnes of Dauid, and all all Juda and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did him worshyp at his death: and Manasse his sonne raigned in his stead.

The. xxxiij. Chapter.

2. Manasse an idolater. 9. Hee causeth Iuda to erre. 11. He is ledde away prisoner into Babylon. 12. Hee prayeth to the Lorde, and is deliuered. 15. He abolisheth Idolatrie, 16. and setteth vp true religion. 20. He dyeth, and Amon his sonne succeedeth. 24. whom his owne seruants slue.

3 For he went to, and buylt the high places which Hezekia his father had broken down: and he reared vp aulters for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the host of heauen, and serued them.

4.Reg.18.a.

4 And hee buylt aulters in the house of the Lord, where as the Lorde yet had sayde. In Hierusalem shall my name be for euer.

2.Reg.7.b. 2.Para.6.a. and.7.c.

5 And he buylded aulters for all the host of heauen, in the two Courtes of the house of the Lorde.

6 And hee burnt his children in fire, in the valley of ỹ sonne of Hinnom: he was a sorcerer, he regarded the crying of byrdes, vsed enchauntmentes, and mainteyned workers with spirites, and seears of fortunes, and wrought much euil in the sight of the Lord, to anger him withall.

B

7 And hee put the carued Image, and an Idol whiche hee had made in the house of God: of which house, God had sayd to Dauid, and to Solomon his sonne, In thys house, and in Hierusalem which I haue chosen afore all the trybes of Israel, will I put my name for euer.

2.Reg.7.b. 3.Reg.8.b. 2.Para.6.a. and.7.c.

8 Neither will I make the foote of Israel to remoue anye more out of the lande, whiche I haue ordeyned for your fathers, if so bee that they will bee diligent, and doe all that I haue commaunded them, in all the lawe and statutes, and ordinances, by the hande of Moses.

9 And so Manasse made Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem, to erre, and to doe worse than the heathen whom the Lorde destroyed before the children of Israel.

a. Meaning by his prophetes.

10 And the Lord spake(a) to Manasse and to his people: but they would not regarde.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them, the captaynes of the host of the king of the Assyrians, whiche toke Manasse in holde, and bounde him with chaynes, and caryed him to Babilon.

12 And when hee was in tribulation, hee besought the Lorde his God, and humbled himselfe exceedingly before the God of hys fathers, 13 And made intercession to him: and God was (b) intreated of him, and hearde hys prayer, and brought him againe to Hierusalem into his kingdome: and then Manasse knew that the Lorde was God.

b. Affliction giueth vnderstanding.

14 After this he buylt a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the weast side of Gion, in the valley, as they came to the fish gate, and rounde about Ophel, and brought it vp of a verie great heigth, & put captaynes of warre in all the strong cities of Iuda.

C

15 And he toke away straunge goddes, and Images out of the house of God, and all the aulters that he had buylt in the mount of the house of God and Hierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

1.Par.14.a. and.31.a.

16 And hee prepared the aulter of the Lorde, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and thanke offerings, and charged Iuda to serue the Lorde God of Israel.

17 Neuertheles, the people did offer still in the high places, howbeit vnto the Lord theyr God onely.

18 The rest of the actes of Manasse, and hys prayer vnto hys God, and the wordes of the Seears that spake to him in the name of the Lorde God of Israel, beholde, they are (written) in the sayings of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, and howe that hee was hearde, and all his sinnes, and his trespasse, and the places where hee made highe places, and set vp groues and Images, before hee was meekened, beholde they are written among the sayings of the Seears.

20 And Manasse slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in his (c) owne house, and Amon his sonne raigned in his rome.

c. Byeause he had so horribly offended against the lord, they did not burie him in the sepulchre of the kings, but in the garden of the kings house.

21 Amon was two and twentie yeares olde, when he began to raigne, and raigned two yeares in Hierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, lyke as did Manasse his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the carued Images whiche Manasse hys father had made, and serued them, 23 And submitted not himselfe before the Lorde, as Manasse his father had meekened himselfe: but Amon trespalled greatly.

24 And his owne seruants conspyred against him, and slue him in his owne house.

25 But

25 But the people of the lande slue all them that had conspyred agaynst king Amon: and the same people of the land made Iosia his sonne king in his rome.

1 IOsia was eight yeares olde when hee began to raigne, and he raigned in Hierusalem one and thirtie yeares.

4.Re.22.a.

2 And hee did that whiche was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neyther to the right hande, nor to the left.

3 In the eight yeare of his raigne, when he was yet a childe, he began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelfth yeare he began to purge Iuda and Hierusalem from the high places, groues, carued Images, and Images of Mettal.

4 And they brake downe the aulters of Baalim, euen in his (a) presence: and other Images that were in greater honour than they, he caused to be destroyed: and the groues, carued Images, and Images of mettal he brake, & made dust of them, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had offered vnto them.

a. He woulde see the reformation with his owne eies.

5 And he burnt the bones of the priestes vpon the aulters of them, and clensed Iuda and Ierusalem:

6 And euen so did hee in the Cities of Manasse, Ephraim, Simeon, vnto Nephthali, and in the wildernesse of them round about,

7 He plucked asunder the (b) aulters and the groues, and did beat the Images, and stamped them to powder, and cut downe all the Idols throughout all the lande of Israel, and returned to Hierusalem againe.

b. The godly zeale of this good prince is a worthie example for all princes to follow.

8 In the eighteenth yere of his raigne, when he had purged the lande and the temple, hee sent Saphan the sonne of Azaliahu, & Maasiah the gouernour of the Citie, and Ioah the sonne of Joahaz the recorder, to repayre the house of the Lorde his God.

4.Re. 22. a.

9 And when they came to Helkia the highe priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the entries had gathered of the hande of Manasse and Ephraim, and of all that yet remayned in Israel, and of all Iuda and Beniamin, and they returned to Hierusalem.

10 And they put it in the handes of the workmen that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord, and they gaue it to the labourers, that wrought in the house of the Lorde, to repayre and mende the house.

11 Euen to Masons and Carpenters gaue they it, to get hewed stone, and tymber for couples, and for beames of the houses which the kings of Iuda had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke (c) faythfully: and the ouerseers of them, to courage them forwarde, were Iahath, and Obadiahu, Leuites, of the children of Merari: and Secharia, and Mesullam, of the children of the Caathites, and other of the Leuites, whiche all could skil of instruments of musicke.

c. Faythfull officers.

13 And ouer the bearers of burdens, and ouer all that wrought, in whatsoeuer workmanship it were, were there scribes, officers, and porters of the Leuites.

14 And when they brought oute the money that was brought into the house of the lord, Helkia the priest found the booke of the lawe of the Lorde (giuen) by Moses.

4.Reg.22

15 And Helkia answered, and sayde to Saphan the scribe, I haue founde the booke of the lawe in the house of the Lord, And Helkia gaue the booke to Saphan.

16 And Saphan caried the booke to the king, and brought the king worde againe, saying, All that was committed to thy seruantes, that do they.

17 And they haue gathered togither the money that was founde in the house of the lord, and haue deliuered it into the handes of the ouerseers of the worke, & to the handes of the workemen.

18 And then Saphan the scribe shewed the king, saying, Helkia the priest hath giuen me a book: & Saphan read in it before the king.

19 And it fortuned, that when the king had heard the wordes of the lawe, he (d) tare his clothes:

d. For sorow that the woord of God had bene so long suppressed.

20 And the king commaunded Helkia, and Ahikam the sonne of Saphan, and Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Saphan the scribe, and Asaa a seruant of the kings, saying,

D

21 Go and enquire of the Lorde for me, and for them that are left in Israel and Iuda, concerning the wordes of the booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lorde that is fallen vppon vs, bycause our fathers haue not kept the worde of the Lorde, to do after al that is written in this booke.

22 And Helkia, & they that the king had (appointed) went to Hulda, a Prophetesse, the wife of Sallum, the sonne of Sbecuath, the sonne of Hasra, keeper of the wardrobe (for she dwelt in Hierusalem, within the seconde wall:)

wal:) and so they communed with hir.

23 She answered them, Thus sayth the lord God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Euen thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I wil bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitours thereof, euen al the curses that are written in the booke whiche they haue read before the king of Juda:

25 Bycause they haue forsaken me, and haue offered vnto other goddes, to anger me with all maner workes of their handes: therefore is my wrath set on fire agaynst this place, and shal not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Juda, whiche sent you to enquire of the Lorde, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, concerning the wordes whiche thou hast heard:

e. The ende of Gods threatnings, is for our repentance

27 Bycause thine heert did (e) melt, and thou didst mecke thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes agaynst this place, and agaynst the inhabitours thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me, and rentest thy clothes, and weepedst before me: that haue I heard also, sayth the Lorde.

28 Beholde, I will take thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the mischiefe that I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabiters of the same. And they brought the king worde againe.

4. Re. 22. 8. 29 Then the king sent and gathered all the elders of Juda and Hierusalem:

30 And the king went vp into the house of the Lorde, and all the men of Juda, and the inhabitours of Hierusalem, and the Priestes, and Leuites, and all the people great and small, and (the king) did reade in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant, that was founde in the house of the Lorde.

31 And the king stode at his standing, and made a couenant before the Lorde, to followe the Lord, and to keepe his commaundements, his witnesse and his statutes, with all his heart, and wyth all his soule, and to fulfill the wordes of the appoyntment written in the same booke.

32 And hee set in their roome all them that were found in Hierusalem and Beniamin: and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did according to the couenant of the Lorde God of their fathers.

33 And Iosia put away all maner of abominations out of all landes that perteyned to the children of Israel, and brought in all that were founde in Israel, to worship and to serue the Lord their God: and they turned not aside from after the Lorde God of their fathers, as long as he liued.

A verie profitable declaration, for the vnderstanding of the hystories of Esdras, Nehemias, Esther, Daniel, and diuerse other places of scripture, verie darke, by reason of the discorde that is among Historiographers, and amongst the expositours of the holy Scriptures, touching the successiue order of the Kings or Monarchies of Babilon, and of Persia: of the yeares that the sayd Monarchies lasted, from the transmigration of the Iewes vnder Nabuchodonosor, vntill the Monarchie of the Greekes, and of the confusion that is in the names of the Kings of Persia.

Of the yeares that the Monarchies of Persia raigned. Of the difference of authours therin, and of the diuersitie and confusion of the names of the sayd Monarchies.

The difference of authours, aswel historiographers as expositours of the holy scriptures, is great, touching the tyme and yeares that the two Monarchies of the Babylonians & Persians continued, and also touching the names of the Monarchies herein described, wherein there is great confusion. And therefore al other opinions set apart, we wil herein folowe Philo Judeus, and Metasthene, auncient authours, whose opinions doe nereest agree with the holy scripture.

Cyrus hauing conquered the kingdome of the Medes agaynst Astyages, left the sayde kingdome to hys vncle Darius, by whose ayde hee toke Babilon, and transported the Monarchie of Babilon to the Persians. Two yeares after, the sayde Darius returned into Mede, and Cyrus raigned alone in Babilon. Then he moued warre agaynst the Scythians, and marched towarde them, and in the meane while left Cambyses his son king of the countrey, in his absence, according to the custome of the Persians: which was to appoynt the nereest of the kings bloud, to be king ouer the countrey, when the king went out to fight agaynst any straunge nation. This is the cause why Cambises was not set in the successiue order of the Monarchies. Neither is there any mention of two brethren that were Magi-ans, whiche guilefully vſurped the kingdome: but their guile beeing knowne, they continued but a fewe monethes, and Darius, ſonne to Hyſtaſpis, was choſen king.

Xerxes the ſonne of the ſayde Darius, ſucceeded him: but is not here placed in the number of the monarchies, for that he left his kingdome to Darius longhande his ſonne, (according to the cuſtome of the Perſians) when hee wente to warre againſt the Greekes. The Greke hiſtoriographers, not reſpecting that cuſtom, nũber the ſayde Xerxes, and Cambyſes aboue mentioned, among the ſayde Monarchyes ſucceſſiuelye in order, whiche is the cauſe that they count more yeares in the ſayde monarchie, that is to ſay. 226. yeares.

As touching their confuſed names, ye ſhall vnderſtande, that among the Perſians, Darius ſignifyeth he that ſubdueth: Xerxes a warriour: Artaxerxes, a great warriour. Alſo that this name Aſſuerus, is drawne from the Hebrues, in ſtead of Artaxerxes.

Further, that Artaxerxes was the common name of all kings of Perſia, as Pharao was the commõ name of the kings of Egypt, and Ceſar of the Romiſh Emperours. Therefore where yee finde manye indifferently named Darius, or Artaxerxes, or both togither, that is the cauſe of the difficultie, howe to vnderſtande vnder what king that happened, whiche is recited in the ſayde bookes of Eſdras, Nehemias, Eſther, Daniel, and other places of the holy ſcriptures, except yee well marke them, and well vnderſtand the contents of this table.

1. Cyrus sendeth againe the people that was in captiuitie, 8. and restoreth them their holy vessels.

A 1 IN the fyrste yeare of Cyrus King of Persia (that ỹ woꝛde of the Lorde spoken by the mouth of Jeremia might be fulfilled) the lord stirred vp ỹ spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he caused to be proclaimed throughout al his Empyre and to be written, saying,

2. Par. 36. d.

Jere. 25. c.

2 Thus sayeth Cyrus the king of Persia, The Lorde God of heauen hath giuen me all the kingdomes of the earth, and hathe commaunded me to buylde hym an house at Hierusalem, which is in Juda.

3 Whosoeuer nowe among you is of hys people, the Lord his God be with him, and let him go vp to Hierusalem in Juda, and build the house of the Lord God of Israel, he is the God that is at Hierusalem.

4 And whosoeuer remayneth yet in anye maner of place where he is a straunger, let the men of that place helpe him with siluer and golde, with good and cattel, beside that which they willingly offer for the house of God that is at Hierusalem.

5 Then gate vp the principall fathers of Juda and Beniamin, and the priestes and Leuites, and al they whose spirit God had rayſed to goe vp and to buylde the house of the Lorde which is at Hierusalem.

6 And all they that were about them strengthed theyr hande with vessels of siluer and golde, with goods and cattel, and iewels, beside al that was willingly offered.

2. Par. 36. c. B 7 And king Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord: which Nabuchodonosor had taken out of Hierusalem, and had put in the house of his God.

8 Those did Cyrus the king of Persia bring forth by the hande of Mithridates the treasurer, and numbred them vnto Sesbazer the prince of Juda.

9 And this is the number of them: thirtie chargers of golde, a thousande chargers of siluer, nine and twentie knines.

10 Thirtie basons of golde, and of other siluer basons foure hundred and tenne: and of other vessels a thousande.

11 All the vessells of golde and siluer were fiue thousande, and foure hundred: all these did Sesbazer carry away with them that came vp out of the captiuitie of Babylon vnto Hierusalem.

68 And certaine of the chiefe fathers, when they came to the houſe of the Lorde at Hieruſalem, they offered themſelues willing for the houſe of God, to ſet it vp in his place:

69 And gaue golde after their habilitie, vnto the treaſure of the worke, euen three ſcore and one thouſand peeces, and fiue thouſande pounde of ſiluer, and an hundred prieſtes garments.

70 So the prieſtes, and the Leuits, and certaine of the people, and the ſingers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, dwelt in their cities, and all Iſrael in their cities.

The.iij.Chapter.

1. They buylde the aulter of God. 6. They offer vnto the Lorde. 7. They prepare for the temple, 11. and ſing vnto the Lorde.

A 1 AND when the ſeuenth moneth came, and the children of Iſrael were nowe in their cities, the people came togither euen as one man to Hieruſalem.

3.Eſd.8, a.

2 And there ſtode vp Jeſua the ſonne of Joſedec, and his brethren the prieſtes, and Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and hys brethren, and builded the aulter of the God of Iſrael, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the lawe of Moſes the man of God.

3 And the aulter ſet they vpon his "ſockets: for there was a fearefulneſſe among them, becauſe of the people of thoſe countreyes, therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lorde, euen burnt offerings in the morning, and at euening.

"or, baſket.

4 And they helde the feaſt of Tabernacles as it is written, and offered burnt ſacrifices dayly, according to the number and cuſtom, day by day.

5 Afterwarde they offered dayly burnt offerings alſo, and in the new mones, and in al the feaſt dayes that were conſecrated vnto the Lord, and for al them which did of their owne free will offer vnto the Lorde.

6 From the firſt day of the ſeuenth moneth, began they to offer burnt ſacrifices, vnto the Lorde: euen when the foundation of the temple of the Lord was not yet layd.

B 7 They gaue money alſo vnto the Maſons and "Carpenters, and meate and drinke, and Oyle vnto them of Sidon and of Tyre, to bring the Cedar tymber from Libanus by ſea vnto Joppa, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus the king of Perſia.

"or, worke men.

8 In the ſeconde yeare of their comming vnto the houſe of God at Hieruſalem, in the ſeconde moneth, began Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Jeſua the ſonne of Joſedec, and the remnant of their brethren, the prieſts and Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Hieruſalem, and appointed the Leuites from twentie yeares olde and aboue, to ſee that the worke of the houſe of the Lorde went forwarde.

9 And Jeſua ſtode wyth his ſonnes and brethren, and Cadmiel with his ſonnes, and the children of Juda togither, to let forward the workmen of the houſe of God, euen the children of Henadad, with their children, and their brethren the Leuites.

10 And when the builders layde the foundation of the temple of the Lord, they appointed the prieſts in their "araye with trumpets and the Leuites the children of Aſaph with Cymbales, to praiſe the Lord after the maner of Dauid king of Iſrael.

"or, apparel.

1.Par.16, b.

11 And they ſang togither when they gaue prayſe and thankes vnto the Lorde, Becauſe he is gracious, and becauſe his mercie endureth for euer vppon Iſrael: and all the people ſhowted loud in prayſing the Lord, becauſe the foundation of the houſe of the Lorde was layde.

12 Many alſo of the prieſts and Leuites, and chiefe fathers, and auncient menne, whiche had ſeene the firſt houſe, when the foundation was layde before their eyes, wept with a loude voyce, and many ſhowted aloude with ioy:

13 So that the people coulde not diſcerne the ioyfull ſound and gladneſſe, from the noyſe of the weeping among the people: for the people ſhowted with a loude crie, and the noyſe was heard farre of.

The.iiij.Chapter.

2. The buylding of the temple is hyndered, and howe. 11. Letters to Artaxerxes, and the anſwere.

I 1 BVt the aduerſaries of Juda and Beniamin, hearde that the children of the captiuitie builded the temple vnto the Lord God of Iſrael:

3.Eſd.5.g.

2 And they came to Zorobabel, and to the principall fathers, & ſayd vnto them, We will will buyld with you, for we ſeeke the Lord your God, as ye do, & we haue done ſacrifice vnto him, ſince the time of Iſor Haddon ẏ king of Aſſur, which brought vs vp hither.

4.Re.12.b.

3 And Zorobabel and Jeſua, and the other auncient fathers of Iſrael, ſayd vnto them, "It can not be, that you and we together ſhould buylde the houſe vnto our God: for we our ſelues will buylde alone vnto the Lorde our God of Iſrael, as Cyrus the kyng of Perſia hath commaunded vs.

"or, it is not for you, but for vs.

1.Eſd.1.a.

4 And it came to paſſe, that the folke of the lande diſcouraged the people of Juda, and troubled them as they were buildyng:

5 And hyred counſaylers agaynſt them, to hynder their deuiſe, as long as Cyrus the kyng of Perſia lyued, vntil the raygne of Darius kyng of Perſia.

6 And in the raigne of Ahaſuerus, euen at the beginning of his raigne, wrote they vnto him a cõplaynt agaynſt the inhabitours of Juda and Hieruſalem.

B 7 And in the dayes of Artaxerxes, wrote Mithridath, Tabel, & the other of his counſel, vnto Artaxerxes ẏ kyng of Perſia with fayre wordes: and the writyng of the letter was in the Syrians ſpeache, and enterpreted in the language of the Syrians:

8 Rehum the recorder, and Samſai the ſcribe, wrote a letter "from Hieruſalem to Artaxerxes the kyng, as it foloweth.

"a.agaynſt.

9 Then Rehum the recorder, and Samſai the ſcribe, and other of their company, they of Dina, of Apharſath, of Tharpelai, of "Perſia, of Arache, of Babylon, of Suſan, of Deha, of Elan,

"or, Apharſa.

4.Re.18.a.

10 And other of the people whom the great and noble Aſnapper brought ouer, and ſet in the cities of Samaria, and other that are now beyond the water, and Cheeneth.

11 This is the copie of the letter that they ſent vnto king Artaxerxes, Thy ſeruaunts, and the men that are nowe beyonde the water, and Cheeneth:

12 Be it knowne vnto the king, that the Jewes whiche came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Hieruſalem, a Citie ſeditious and frowarde, and buylde the ſame, and ſet vp the walles thereof, and lay the foundations.

13 Be it knowne now vnto the king, that if this citie bee buylded, and the walles made vp againe, then ſhall not they giue toll, tribute, and cuſtome, and the kings profite ſhall incurre damage.

C "or, for remẽbring that we were brought vp in ẏ kings palace, and would &c.

14 And nowe "in the meane ſeaſon we haue deſtroyed the temple, and would no longer ſee the kings diſhonour: therefore ſent we out alſo, and certified the king, 15 That it may be ſought in the booke of the Chronicles of thy progenitours, and ſo ſhalt thou finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceyue that this citie is ſeditious and noyſome vnto the kings and "landes, and that they cauſe others alſo among them to rebel of olde: and for the ſame cauſe was this citie deſtroyed.

"or, prouinces

16 Therefore doe we certifie the king, that if this citie be builded againe, and the walles thereof made vp, thou ſhalt hereafter haue no portion beyonde the water.

17 Then ſent the king an anſwere vnto Rehum the recorder, and Samſai the ſcribe, and to the other of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other that were beyonde the water in Selam and "Cheeth.

"or, Cheeneth.

18 The letter which ye ſent vnto vs, hath bin openly read before me:

19 And I haue cõmaunded to make ſearch, and it is founde that this citie of olde hath made inſurrection agaynſt kings, and that rebellion and ſedition hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue beene mightie kings alſo at Hieruſalem, whiche haue raigned ouer all countreys beyond the water, and toll, tribute, and cuſtome was giuen vnto them.

21 Giue ye now therefore commaundement, that the ſame men be forbidden, and that the citie be not buylded agayne, till I haue giuen another commaundement. D

22 Take heede now that ye be not negligent to do this: for why ſhoulde the king haue harme therethrough?

23 Now when the copie of king Artaxerxes letter was read before Rehum, and Samſai the ſcribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haſt to Hieruſalem vnto the Jewes, and forbade them with violence and power.

24 Then ceaſſed the worke of the houſe of God at Hieruſalem, and continued ſo vnto the ſecond yeare of Darius king of Perſia.

The.v.Chapter.

1. Aggeus and Zacharie doe prophecye. 3. The woorke of the Temple goeth forwarde, contrarie to the minde of Thathanai. 6. His letters to Darius.

1 THe Prophetes Aggeus and Zachari A the ſonne of Iddo, prophecied vnto the Jewes that were in Juda and Hieruſalem, in the name of the God of Iſrael, euen vnto them.

2 Then gate vp Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Jeſua the ſonne of Joſedec, and began to buylde the house of God at Hierusalem: and with them were the prophetes of God, which helped them.

3 At the same time came to them Thathanai, whiche was captayne beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, and their companions, and sayde thus vnto them, Who hath commaunded you to buyld this house, and to make vp these walles?

4 Then sayde we vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that make this buylding?

5 But the eye of theyr God was vppon the elders of the Iewes, that they coulde not cause them to ceasse, tyll the matter was brought to Darius: and then they answered by letters therevnto.

6 This is the copie of the letter that Thathanai, whiche was captayne beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, and the counsaylours of Apharsechai, whiche were beyonde the water, sent vnto king Darius.

B 7 And the matter that they sent vnto him, was written thus within the letter: Vnto Darius the king, al peace.

8 Be it knowne vnto the King, that wee went into the prouince of Iurie, to the house of the great God, whiche is buylded wyth mightie great stones, and beames are layde in the walles, and the worke goeth fast forth, and prospereth in their handes.

9 Then asked we the elders, and sayd vnto them as it followeth, Who commaunded you to buyld this house, and to make vp the walles thereof?

10 We asked their names also, that we might certifie thee, and write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs with these wordes and sayde, We are the seruants of him that is God of heauen and earth, and buylde the house that was buylded of olde and many yeares ago, which the great king of Israel buylded and set vp.

3.Reg.6.a.

12 But after our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hande of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babilon, and of the Chaldees, which brake downe this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babilon.

4.Re.24.b.

1.Esd.1.a. 13 But in the first yeare of Cyrus the King of Babilon, the same king Cyrus gaue cõmaundement concerning this house of god, that it should be buylt agayne.

C 14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor toke out of the temple that was at Hierusalem, and brought them into the temple at Babylon: those did Cyrus the king take out of the temple at Babylon, and they were deliuered vnto one Salbazar by name, whom he made captayne, 1.Esd.1.d.

15 And sayde vnto him, Take these vessels, and go thy way, and set them in the temple, that is at Hierusalem, and let the house of God be buylded in his place.

16 Then came the same Salbazar, and layde the foundation of the house of God, whiche is at Hierusalem: since that tyme also vntill nowe hath it bene in buylding, and yet is it not finished.

17 Nowe therefore if it please the king, let there be searche made in the kings librarie, which is there at Babylon, whether it haue beene king Cyrus commaundement that this temple of God at Hierusalem shoulde be buylded: and let the king send his minde concerning the same matter.

The.vi.Chapter.

At the commaundement of Darius king of Persia, after the Temple was buylded and dedicated, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

1 THen commaunded king Darius: and A they made search in the librarie, euen in the place where they layde vp the treasure at Babylon:

2 And there was founde in a coffer, in the palace that is in the prouince of the Medes, a volume: and therein was it thus written as a memorial.

3 In the first yeare of king Cyrus, gaue the same King Cyrus commaundement concerning the house of God at Hierusalem, that the same house shoulde bee buylded in the place where they offer the sacrifices, and to ioyne the walles togyther, of threescore cubites heigth, and threescore cubites breadth.

4 Three rowes of rough stones, and one rowe of newe tymber: and the expences shall be giuen of the kings house. 4Esr.7.d.

5 And let the golde and siluer vessels of the house of god, which Nabuchodonosor toke out of the temple at Jerusalem, and brought vnto Babylon, bee restored, and brought againe vnto the temple at Hierusalem to their place, in the house of God.

6 Nowe therefore thou Thathanai Captaine beyonde the water, and Starbuzanai, and your counsaylours, and Apharsechai which are beyonde the water, get ye away from them.

7 Let the worke of the house of this God B alone, that the captayne of the Iewes and their

their elders may buylde the house of God in his place.

B 8 I haue commaunded what ye shall do to the elders of Iuda, for the buylding of the house of God, that of the kings goodes, euen of the tribute beyonde the water, forthwith expences be giuen vnto the men, that they be not hindred.

9 And if they haue neede of Calues, Rammes, and Lambes for the burnt offering of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine, and oyle, after the custome of the priests at Hierusalem, let the same bee giuen them dayly without any delay:

10 That they may haue to offer sweete sauours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his children.

11 And such a commaundement haue I giuen, that what man soeuer he be that altereth this worde, there shall a beame be taken from his house, and set vp, and he shall be hanged thereon, and his house shall bee made a dunghill for the same thing.

12 And the God that set his name there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to breake downe the house of God, whiche is at Hierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, that this bee done with spede.

13 Then Thathanai the captayne (of the countrey) beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, with their counsaylers, according to that whiche king Darius had sent, so they did speedily their diligence.

C 14 And the elders of the Iewes buylded, and they prospered through the prophecying of Aggeus the prophete, and Zachari the sonne of Iddo, and they buylded, and they finished it according to the commaundement of the God of Israel, and after the commaundement of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes kings of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth Adar, euen the sixth yeare of the raigne of king Darius.

Ezr.7.d. 16 And the children of Israel, the Priestes, the Leuites, and the other children of the captiuitie, helde the dedication of this house of God with ioy:

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred Oxen, two hundred Rammes, foure hundred Lambes: and for the reconciling of all Israel, twelue bee Goates, according to the number of the tribes of Israel:

18 And set the priests in their sundry courses, and the Leuites in their diuerse offices to minister vnto God at Hierusalem, as it is written in the booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie helde Passeouer vppon the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 For the priestes and Leuites were purified altogither, and killed Passeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselues.

21 And the children of Israell whiche were come againe out of captiuitie, and al such as had separated them selues vnto them from the filthinesse of the heathen of the lande, to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, did eate.

22 And helde the feast of vnleauened bread seuen dayes wyth ioy: for the Lorde had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of Assur vnto them, to strēgthen theyr handes in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

The.vij.Chapter.

1. By the commaundement of the king, Esdras and his companions come to Hierusalem. 27. He giueth thankes to God.

1 AFter these things there was in the raign A of Artaxerxes king of Persia, one Esdras, the sonne of Saraia, the sonne of Asaria, the sonne of Helkia.

2 The sonne of Sallum, the sonne of Zadoc, the sonne of Ahitob,

3 The sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Asaria, the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zeraia, the sonne of Uzzi, the sonne of Bucci,

5 The sonne of Abisua, the sonne of Phinehes, the sonne of Eleasar, the sonne of Aaron the chiefe priest.

6 This Esdras also went vp from Babylon, and was a "perfect scribe in the law of Moses, which the Lorde God of Israel did giue: and the king gaue him all that he required, according to the hande of the Lorde his God, which was vpon him. "or, readie, or prompt. Exod.20.a.

7 And there went vp certayne of the chil- B dren of Israel, of the Priestes, Leuites, singers, porters, and of the Nethinims, vnto Hierusalem, in the seuenth yeare of King Artaxerxes.

8 And hee came to Hierusalem in the fifth Moneth, euen in the seuenth yeare of the king.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth, began he to goe from Babilon: and on the first day of the fifth moneth came he to Hierusalem, according to the good hande of hys God that was vpon him.

10 For Esdras prepared his heart to seeke the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teache the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 And this is the copie of the letter that king Artaxerxes gaue vnto Eſdras the prieſte, and ſcrybe, whiche was a wryter of the wordes and cõmaundements of the Lord, and of hys ſtatutes ouer Iſrael.

12 Artaxerxes a kyng of kyngs, vnto Eſdras the prieſt and ſcribe of the lawe of the God of heauen, peace and ſalutation.

13 I haue commaunded that all they of the people of Iſrael, and of the prieſts and Leuites in my realme, whiche are mynded of theyr owne good wyll to goe vp to Hieruſalem, goe with thee:

C 14 And therefore art thou ſent of the kyng and of his ſeuen counſaylours, to viſite Iuda and Hieruſalem, accordyng to the lawe of thy God, whiche is in thy hande:

15 And that thou ſhouldeſt take with thee ſiluer and golde, whiche the kyng and hys counſaylours offer of their owne good will vnto the God of Iſrael, whoſe habitation is at Hieruſalem:

16 And all the ſiluer & golde that thou canſt finde in al the "countrey of Babylon, with it that the people offer of their owne good wil, & the prieſts giue willingly for ỹ houſe of their God, which is at Hieruſalem:

"or, prouince.

17 That thou mayſt buy diligently with the ſame money, Oxen, Rammes, & Lambes, with their meate offerings and drinke offerings, and thou ſhalt offer them vpon the aulter of the houſe of your God, which is at Hieruſalem.

18 And loke what lyketh thee and thy brethren to doe wyth the remnant of the ſyluer and golde, that doe after the wyll of your God.

19 And the veſſels that are giuen thee for the miniſtration in the houſe of thy God, thoſe deliuer thou before God at Hieruſalem.

20 And whatſoeuer thing more ſhal be needful for the houſe of thy God, which is neceſſarie for to ſpende, thou ſhalt receyue the charges out of the kings treaſure houſe.

D 21 I king Artaxerxes haue commaunded all the treaſurers beyonde the water, that loke whatſoeuer Eſdras the prieſt and ſcribe in the lawe of the God of heauen requyreth of you, that ye fulfill the ſame ſpedily,

22 Until an hundred talents of ſiluer, and til an hundred quarters of wheate, and tyll an hundred battes of wine, and till an hundred

3.Reg.7.d battes of oyle, and ſalt without meaſure.

23 What ſo euer alſo is by the commaundement of the God of heauen, let the ſame be done without any delay, for the houſe of the God of heauen, that he be not wroth agaynſt the Realme, and agaynſt the king and hys children.

24 And we certifie you, that we haue no auctoritie to requyre taxyng and cuſtome, and yeerely rentes, vpon any of the prieſtes, Leuites, ſingers, porters, Nethinims, and miniſters in the houſe of his God.

25 And thou Eſdras, after the wiſedome of thy God that is in thyne hande, ſet iudges and arbitrers (by my auctoritie) to iudge all the people that is beyonde the water, euen all ſuche as know the lawe of thy God: and them that know it not, thoſe see that ye teache.

26 And who ſo euer wil not fulfill the lawe of thy God, and the kyngs lawe, lette hym haue hys iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to be rooted out, or to be condemned in goodes, or to be put in pryſon.

2 Of the chyldren of Phinches, Gerſom: of the chyldren of Ithamar, Daniel: of the chyldren of Dauid, Hattus:

3 Of the chyldren of Zechania, among the chyldren of Pharos, Zachari: and with hym were numbred an hundred and fiftie men.

4 Of the chyldren of the captayne of Moab, Eliocnai the ſonne of Zerahia, & with him two hundred men.

5 Of the chyldren of Zechania the ſonne of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred men.

6 Of the chyldren of Adin, Ebed the ſonne of Jonathan, and with him fiftie men.

7 Of the chyldren of Elam, Iſai the ſonne of Athalia, and with hym ſeuentie men.

8 Of the chyldren of Saphatia, Zebadie the ſonne of Michael, and with him fourſcore men,

9 Of

9 Of the children of Joab, Obadia the ſonne of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteene men.

10 Of the children of Selomith, the ſonne of Joſephia, and with him an hundred and threeſcore men.

11 Of the children of Bebai, Zachari, the ſonne of Bebai, and with him eyght and twentie men.

12 Of the children of Aſgad, Johanan the ſonne of Hakatan, and with him an hundred and ten men.

13 Of the children of Adonicam, that were the laſt, whoſe names are theſe: Eliphelet, Jehiel, and Semaiah, and with them threeſcore men.

14 Of the children of Biguai: Uthai, and Zabud, and with them ſeuentie men.

15 And I gathered them togither by the water that runneth towarde Ahaua, and there abode we three dayes: and I loked among the people and the prieſts, and founde there none of the children of Leui.

16 Then ſent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, Semeia, Elnachan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zacharia, and to Meſullam, the rulers, and to Joiarib, and Elnathan, whiche were men of underſtanding.

17 And to thoſe gaue I commaundement vnto Iddo the chiefeſt at Caſphia, and I ſolde them what they ſhould ſay vnto Iddo and to his brethren the Nethinims at Caſphia, that they ſhoulde cauſe the miniſters of the houſe of our God to come vnto vs.

18 And through the good hande of our God vpon vs, they brought vs a verie wyſe man from among the children of Mahali the ſonne of Leui, the ſonne of Iſrael, and Sarabia, with his ſonnes and his brethren, euen eightene.

19 And Haſabia, and with him Iſai of the children of Merari, with his brethren, and their ſonnes, twentie.

20 And of the Nethinims, whome Dauid and the Princes gaue to miniſter vnto the Leuites, two hundred and twentie of Nethinims: which al were named by name.

21 And euen there at the water beſyde Ahaua, I proclaymed a faſt, that wee might humble our ſelues before our God, and ſeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our ſubſtance.

22 For I was aſhamed to require of the king ſouldiers and horſemen, to helpe vs againſt the enimie in the way: for we had ſpoken vnto the king, ſaying, The hande of our GOD is vpon all them that ſeeke him in goodneſſe, and his power and wrath is againſt all them that forſake him.

23 So we faſted, and beſought our God for this, and he was entreated of vs.

24 And I toke oute twelue of the chiefe prieſtes, Sarabia, and Haſabia, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And wayed them the ſiluer and gold, and veſſels that were appoynted for the houſe of our God, whiche the king and his counſaylours, and his Lords, & all Iſrael that were there at hande, had giuen togither.

26 And I wayed vnto their hande, fiue hundred and fiftie talents of ſiluer, and in ſiluer veſſels an hundred talents, and in golde an hundred talents:

27 Twentie Baſons of golde of a thouſande drams, and two coſtly veſſels of good braſſe, as cleare as golde.

28 And I ſayd vnto them, Ye are conſecrate vnto the Lord, like as the veſſels are holy alſo: and the golde & ſiluer are giuen of a good will vnto the Lorde God of your fathers.

29 Watche ye and keepe them: for ye ſhall way them downe before the chiefe prieſtes, and Leuites, and auncient fathers of Iſrael, at Hieruſalem, in the treaſuries of the houſe of the Lorde.

30 Then toke the Prieſtes and Leuites the wayed ſiluer and golde, and veſſels to bring it to Jeruſalem vnto the houſe of our God.

31 And we brake vp from the water of Ahaua, on the twelfth day of the firſt moneth, to goe vnto Hieruſalem: and the hande of our God was vppon vs, and deliuered vs from the hande of the enimies, and of ſuch as layd wayte for vs by the way.

32 And wee came to Hieruſalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 But on the fourth day was the ſiluer and golde, and veſſels wayed in the houſe of our God, by the hande of Meremoth, the ſonne of Uria the prieſt, and with him was Eleazar the ſonne of Phinehes, and with them was Joſabad the ſonne of Jeſua, and Noadia the ſonne of Bennoi, the Leuites.

34 Accoʒding to the number and waʒght of euery one, was the waʒght all written vp at the ſame time.

35 And the children of the captiuitie, whiche were come oute of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Iſrael, twelue bullockes for all Iſrael, ninetie and fiue rammes, ſeuentie and ſeuen lambes, twelue hee goates for ſinne (offering) all to the burnt offering of the Lorde.

36 And they deliuered the kings commiſſion vnto the kings officers, and to the captaynes that were beyonde the water: and they promoted the people, and the houſe of God.

The.ix.Chapter.

1. Eſdras complayneth on the people that had turned themſelues from God, and maryed with the Gentiles. 5. He prayeth vnto God.

A 1 WHen theſe thyngs were done, the rulers came to me, and ſayde, The people of Iſrael, and the prieſtes and Leuites, are not ſeparated from the people of the landes, as touchyng theyr abominations, namely of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Iebuſites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Amorites:

2 For they haue taken the daughters of the ſame to themſelues, and to theyr ſonnes, and the holy ſeede is mixed with the nations of the landes, and the hande of the prynces and the rulers hath bene principall in the treſpaſſe.

The.x.Chapter.

The people repent and turne, and put away their ſtrange wiues.

A 1 AND when Eſdras prayed after this manner, and knowledged, wept, and lay before the houſe of God, there reſorted vnto hym, out of Iſrael, a very great congregation, of men, and women, and chyldren: and the people wept very ſore.

1.Eſd.9.a 5 Then roſe Eſdras, and toke an othe of the chiefe prieſts and Leuites and of al Iſrael, that they ſhould doe accordyng to this worde: and they ſware.

6 And Eſdras roſe vp from before the houſe of God, & went into the chamber of Johanan the ſonne of Eliaſib: and whē he came thither, he did eate no bread, nor drunke water: for he mourned, bicauſe of the trāſgreſſiō of the people that had bene in captiuitie.

B 7 And they cauſed a proclamation to goe throughout Juda and Hieruſalem, vnto al them of the captiuitie, that they ſhould gather themſelues together vnto Hieruſalem:

8 And that who ſo euer came not within three dayes, accordyng to the deuiſe of the rulers and elders, al his ſubſtance ſhould be forfeyted, and he ſhould be put out from the congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 Then all the men of Juda and Beniamin, gathered themſelues together vnto Hieruſalem within three dayes, euen the twentieth day of the nienth moneth: and al the people ſate in the ſtreete of the houſe of God, and trembled, bycauſe of this matter, and for the rayne.

10 And Eſdras the prieſt ſtoode vp, and ſayd vnto them, Ye haue tranſgreſſed, and haue taken ſtrange wiues, to make the treſpaſſe of Iſrael yet more.

Deut.7.a Jud.3.a

11 "Confeſſe nowe therefore vnto the Lorde God of our fathers, and doe hys pleaſure: and ſeparate your ſelues from the people of the lande, and from the ſtrange wiues.

14 Let our rulers ſtande therefore in all the congregation, and let all them which haue taken ſtrange wiues in our cities, come at the tyme appoynted, and let the elders of euery citie, and theyr iudges, be with them, till the fierce wrathe of our God for this matter be turned from vs.

15 Thē were appoynted Jonathan the ſonne of Aſahel, and Jahaſia the ſonne of Thecua, ouer this matter: and Meſullam and Sabathai the Leuites helped them.

16 And the chyldren of the captiuitie dyd euen ſo: and Eſdras the prieſt, and the auncient heades through the houſe of theyr fathers, al men of great fame, ſeparated themſelues, and ſate them downe in the firſte day of the tenth moneth, to examine the matter.

17 And vntil the firſt day of the firſt moneth, they were finiſhing the buſineſſe, with all the men that had taken ſtrange wyues.

18 And among the chyldren of the prieſtes, there were menne founde that hadde taken ſtrange wiues, namely among the chyldren of Jeſua, the ſonne of Joſedec, and of hys brethren, Maaſia, and Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedalia.

Exod.20.a greate and terrible God, thou that keepeſt
Deut.7.b couenant & mercie for them that loue thee, and obſerue thy commaundements:
6 Let thyne eares hearken, I beſeche thee, and let thine eyes be open, that thou mayeſt heare the prayer of thy ſeruaunt, whiche I now pray before thee day and night for the chyldren of Iſrael thy ſeruants, and knowledge the ſinnes of the chyldren of Iſrael whiche we haue ſinned againſt thee: I and my fathers houſe ſinned.
B 7 We haue greeuouſly ſinned againſt thee, & haue not kept thy commaundements, ſtatutes, and iudgements, whiche thou commaundedſt thy ſeruant Moſes.
8 I beſeche thee call to remembrance the worde that thou commaundedſt thy ſeruant Moſes, and ſaydeſt, Yee wyll tranſgreſſe, and I will ſcatter you abroade a- Deut.27.1
mong the nations:
9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commaundements, and do them: though ye were caſt out vnto the vttermoſte parte of heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and wyll bring you vnto the place that I haue choſen, to ſet my name there.
10 They are thy ſeruauntes, and thy people, whom thou haſte deliuered through thy great power, and in thy mightie hande.
11 O Lorde, I beſeeche thee, let thyne eare hearken to the prayer of thy ſeruant, and to the prayer of thy ſeruants, whoſe deſire is to feare thy name: and let thy ſeruant proſper this day, and graunt him mercie in the ſight of this man. For I was the kings Butler.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. After Nehemia had obteyned letters of Artaxerxes, 11. hee came to Hieruſalem, 17. and buylded the walles.

1 IT came to paſſe, that in the moneth I
Niſan, in the twentieth yeere of kyng Artarerxes, the wine ſtoode before him: and I toke vp the wyne, and gaue it vnto the kyng: and I had not bene before heauie in his preſence.
2 And the king ſayd vnto me, Why lookeſt thou ſo ſadly, ſeyng thou art not ſicke? It is nothing els, but that thou art heauie harted. And I was ſore afrayde,
3 And ſayde vnto the kyng, God ſaue the kyng for euer: howe ſhoulde I not looke ſadly, when the citie & place of my fathers burials lye waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire?
4 And the kyng ſayde vnto me, What is then thy requeſt? I made my prayer alſo to the God of heauen, 5 And ſayde vnto the king, If it pleaſe the kyng, and if thy ſeruant haue found fauour

in

in thy ſight, ſende me vnto Juda, vnto the citie of my fathers burials, that I may buylde it.

6 And the kyng ſayde vnto me (the queene his wyfe ſittyng by him:) how long ſhall thy iourney continue? and when wilt thou come agayne? And it pleaſed the kyng to ſende me: and I ſet hym a tyme,

7 And ſayde vnto the kyng, If it pleaſe the kyng, let him gyue me letters to the captaynes whiche are beyonde the water, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Juda:

8 And letters vnto Aſaph the Lorde of the kyngs wood, that he may gyue me timber to make beames, for the gates of the palace, whiche is harde by the houſe, and for the walles of the citie, and for the houſe that I ſhall enter into. And the kyng gaue me accordyng to the hande of my God, whiche was good vpon me.

9 And when I came to the captaynes beyond the water, I gaue them the kings letters: and the king had ſent captaynes of the armie, and horſemen with me.

10 Sanaballat alſo the Horonite, and Tobia a ſeruant the Ammonite, heard of it, and it greeued them ſore, that there was come a man, whiche ſought the wealth of the children of Iſrael.

11 And I came to Hieruſalē, and was there three dayes.

12 And I gate me vp in the night ſeaſon, & a few men with me, neyther tolde I any mā what God had gyuen me in my hart to do at Hieruſalem: and there was not one beaſt with me, ſaue it that I rode vpon.

13 And I departed in the night by the valley port, before the dragon wel, and to the dung port, and conſidered the walles of Hieruſalem how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof conſumed with the fyre.

C 14 And I went ouer vnto the wel port, & to the kyngs" conduyte, & there was no rome for the beaſt that was vnder me to paſſe. "w. fish poole

15 Then went I on in the night by the broke ſide, and conſidered the wall, and turned backe, and came home againe by the valley port.

16 And the rulers knewe not whyther I went, or what I did: neyther did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, to the prieſtes, to the noble menne, to the rulers, and to the other that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterwarde ſayde I vnto them, Yee ſee the miſerie that we are in, how Hieruſalem lyeth waſte, and howe the gates thereof are burnt with fyre: come therefore, and let vs buylde vp the wall of Hieruſalem, and that we be no more a rebuke.

18 Then I told thē of the hand of my God, that it was gratious ouer me, & the kyngs wordes that he had ſpoken vnto me: and they ſayde, Let vs get vp and buylde. And they ſtrengthed their handes to good.

19 But when Sanaballat the Horonite, and Tobia the ſeruant an Ammonite, and Geſem the Arabian, hearde it, they laughed vs to ſcorne, and deſpyſed vs, and ſayd, What is this that ye doe? Will ye fall away from the king?

20 Then anſweared I them, and ſayd, The God of heauen, he it is that hath graunted vs proſperitie, and we hys ſeruaunts wyll get vp and buylde: as for you, ye haue no portiō, nor right, nor remembrance in Hieruſalem.

The. iij. Chapter.

The number of them that buylded the walles.

1 AND Eliaſib the high prieſt gat him vp with his brethren the prieſtes, and they buylded the ſheepe gate: they repayred it, and ſet vp the dores of it: euen vnto the tower Mea repayred they it, and vnto the tower of Hananeel. Ierem. 31. g Zach. 14.

2 Next vnto hym alſo buylded the men of Jericho: and beſide hym buylded Sachur the ſonne of Amri.

3 But the fiſhe port did the children of Iſnaa buylde, whiche alſo layde the beames thereof, and ſet on the dores, lockes, and barres of it.

4 And next vnto them buylded Meremoth, the ſonne of Uzia, the ſonne of Hakoz: and nexte vnto them buylded Meſullam the ſonne of Berechia, the ſonne of Meſelabel: and nexte vnto them buylded Zadoc the ſonne of Baana.

5 And next vnto him builded they of Thekoa: but the great men that were among them, put not their neckes to the worke of their Lorde.

6 The old gate buylded Jehoiada ý ſonne of Paſeah, and Meſullam the ſonne of Beſodia, they layde the beames thereof, and ſet on the dores, lockes, and barres of it.

7 Next vnto thē buylded Melatiah of Gibeon, & Jadon of Merona, men of Gibeon and of Miſpah, vnto the throne of the Duke (whiche was) beyonde the ryuer. B

8 Next vnto him builded Uzziel the ſonne of Harhaiah of the goldſmythes: next vnto hym alſo buylded Hananiah the ſonne of Harakahim, and they repayred Hieruſalem vnto the broade wall.

9 Next

9 Next vnto them buylded Raphaiah the ſonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe parte of Hieruſalem.
10 Next vnto him builded Jedaia the ſonne of Harumaph ouer agaynſt his houſe: and next vnto him buylded Hattus the ſonne of Haſabnia.
11 But Melchia the ſonne of Harim, and Haſub the ſonne of the captayne of Moab, buylded the other peece, and the towre beſide the furnaces.
12 Nexte vnto hym buylded Sallum the ſonne of Hallohes, the ruler of the halfe part of Hieruſalem, he and his daughters.
13 The valley gate buylded Hanun, and the citizens of Zanoah: they buylte it, and ſet on the dowres, lockes, and barres thereof, and a thouſande cubites on the wall, vnto the dung port.
14 But the dung port builded Melchiah the ſonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth-acharem: he repayred it, and ſet on the dowres, lockes, and barres thereof.
15 But the well gate repayred Sallum the ſonne of Cholhoſah, the ruler of the fourth part of Miſpah: he buylded it, and couered it, and ſet on the dowres, lockes, and barres thereof, and the wall vnto the poole Siloah by the kyngs garden, and vnto the ſteppes that goe downe from the citie of Dauid.
16 After hym buylded Nehemiah the ſonne of Aſbok, the ruler of the halfe part of Beth-zur, vntill the other ſide ouer agaynſt the ſepulchres of Dauid, and to the poole that was repayred, and vnto the houſe of the mightie.
17 After hym buylded the Leuites, Rehum the ſonne of Bani: & next vnto him buylded Haſabia the ruler of the halfe parte of Keilah in his quarter.
18 After hym buylded theyr brethren, Banai the ſonne of Henadad, the ruler of the halfe part of Keilah.
19 And after him buylded Ezer the ſonne of Jeſua the ruler of Miſpah the other peece, harde ouer agaynſt the goeyng vp to the houſe of ordinance (that was) in the corner.
20 Agayne, after hym brake forth Baruch the ſonne of Zachai, of indignation, and repayred the other peece, from the turnyng corner, vnto the dore of the houſe of Eliaſib the high prieſt.
21 After hym alſo buylded Merimoth the ſonne of Uria, the ſonne of Haccos, the other peece, from the dore of the houſe of Eliaſib, euen as long as the houſe of Eliaſib extended.
22 After hym buylded the prieſts, the men of the playne.
23 After him buylded Beniamin and Haſub, ouer againſt their houſe: and after him wrought Aſaria the ſonne of Maaſia, the ſonne of Anania, by his houſe.
24 After him alſo builded Bennui the ſonne of Henadad the other peece, from the houſe of Azaria, vnto the turning (of the wall) and vnto the corner.
25 After him buylded Pala the ſonne of Uſai, ouer agaynſt the corner, and the byghe towre whiche lieth out ouer from the kings houſe, that was beſide the court of the pryſon: after hym Phadaia the ſonne of Pharos.
26 As for the Nethinims they dwelt in the ſtrong holde, vnto the water gate towarde the eaſt, and to the towre that lyeth out.
27 After hym buylded they of Thekua the other peece, ouer agaynſt the greate towre that lieth outwarde, vnto the wall of the ſtrongholde.
28 But from aboue the horſe gate forth buylded the prieſts, euery one ouer agaynſt his houſe.
22 And after them buylded Zadoc the ſonne of Immer, ouer agaynſt his houſe: after him buylded alſo Semeia the ſonne of Sechania the keeper of the eaſt gate.
30 After hym buylded Hanania the ſonne of Selemia, and Hanun the ſonne of Zalaph the ſixth, the other peece: and after hym buylded Meſullam the ſonne of Barachia, ouer agaynſt his store houſe.
31 After hym buylded Melchia the goldeſmythes ſonne, vnto the houſe of the Nethinims, and of the marchants, ouer agaynſt the gate Mephkad, and to the parlour in the corner.
32 And betweene the parlour of the corner vnto the ſheepe gate, buylded the goldeſmythes and the marchants.

The. iiij. Chapter.

7. The buylding of Hieruſalem is hyndered, 15. but God breaketh theyr enterpriſe. 17. The Iewes buylde with one hand, and hold theyr weapon in the other.

1 BVt when Sanaballat heard that we builded the wal, he was wroth in him ſelfe, and toke great indignation, and mocked the Iewes:
2 And ſayde before hys brethren and the ſouldiers of Samaria. What do theſe impotent Iewes? will the (heathen) ſuffer them? ſhall they offer? ſhal they perfourme it in one day? ſhall they make the ſtones whole agayne that are brought to duſt and brent?

3 And or, the enchanters ſonne.

or, will they fortifie them ſelues.

3 And Tobia the Ammonite was beſide hym, and ſayde, Though they buylde, yet if a foxe goe vp, he ſhall breake downe theyr ſtony wall.

4 Heare O thou our God, for we are deſpiſed, turne their ſhame vpon their owne head, and gyue them ouer into deſpiſing in the lande of theyr captiuitie.

5 Couer not theyr wickednelle, and let not theyr ſinne be put out in thy preſence: for they haue prouoked the buylders.

6 And ſo buylded we the wall, and it was ioyned whole together, vnto the half heyght thereof: and the people were minded to labour.

B 7 But when Sanaballat, and Tobia, and the Arabians, Ammonites, and Aſſodites, heard that the walles of Hieruſalem were made vp, and that the breaches beganne to be ſtopped, they were very wroth, 8 And conſpired altogether to come & fight agaynſt Hieruſalem, and to make an hynderance therein.

9 Neuertheleſſe, we made our prayer vnto our God, and ſet watchemen by them day and night, bycauſe of them.

10 And Juda ſayde, The ſtrength of the bearers is feeble, and there is yet much more mother, and wee are not able to buylde on the wall.

11 And our aduerſaries ſayde, They ſhal not know, neyther ſee, till we come in the mids among them, and ſlay them, and cauſe the worke to ceaſe.

12 But when the Jewes which dwelt beſide them, came, they tolde vs as good as tenne tymes, that in al places where ye goe vnto, they are appoynted to fall vpon vs.

13 Therfore ſet I the people after their kinreds, with theyr ſwordes, ſpeares, & bowes, beneath in the lowe places, behinde the wall vpon the toppes of the ſtones.

C 14 And I loked, and gate me vp, and ſaide vnto the chiefe men, to the rulers, and to the other people, Be not ye afrayde of them: but thinke rather vpō the great Lord which ought to be feared, and fight for your brethren, your ſonnes, your daughters, your wiues, and your houſes.

15 Neuertheleſſe, when our enimies heard that wee had gotten word of it, GOD brought theyr counſayle to nought: and we turned al agayne to the wal, euery one vnto his labour.

16 And from that tyme forth, the halfe parte of the yong men dyd the labour, and the other halfe parte of them held the ſpeares, ſhieldes, bowes, and breſtplates: and the rulers ſtood behinde all the houſe of Juda.

17 They which buylded vp the wall, & they that bare burdens, and thoſe that laded the, with one hande did euery one his worke, and with the other helde his weapon.

18 For euery one that buylded, hadde hys ſworde gyrded by his thigh, and ſo buylded they: and he that blewe the trumpet was beſide me.

19 And I ſayde vnto the principall men, to the rulers, & to the other people: the worke is greate and large, and wee are ſeparated vpon the wall one farre from an other.

20 Loke in what place therefore ye heare the noyſe of the trumpet, reſort ye thyther vnto vs, and our God ſhall fight for vs.

21 And we will be labouryng in the worke. D And the halfe parte of them helde theyr ſpeares from the morning ſpryng, tyll the ſtarres came forth.

22 And at the ſame tyme ſayde I vnto the people, Let euery one with his ſeruāt lodge within Hieruſalem, that in the nyght ſeaſon we may watche, and labour on the day tyme.

23 As for me and my brethren, my ſeruants, and the men of the watche which folowed me, we put neuer off our clothes, ſaue onely bicauſe of the waſhyng.

The. v. Chapter.

1. The people are oppreſſed and in neceſsitie.
7. Nehemia remedieth it. 15. He toke not the portion of others that hadde ruled before, leaſt he ſhould greeue the people.

1 AND there aroſe a great complaynt of A the people and theyr wyues agaynſt their brethren the Jewes.

2 For there were ſome that ſayde, Our ſonnes and daughters & we are very many: therefore wyll we take corne for them, that we may eate, and lyue.

3 Some alſo there were that ſayde, Let vs ſet our landes, vineyardes, and houſes to pledge, and take vp corne in the dearth.

4 But ſome there were that ſayd, We haue borowed money for the kyngs tribute, and that vpon our landes and vineyardes.

5 And now our fleſh is as the fleſh of our brethren, and our chyldren as their children: and loe, we bring into ſubiectiō our ſonnes and our daughters as ſeruants, and ſome of our daughters are ſubdued vnto bondage already & no ſtrength is there in our handes to redeeme them, and other men haue our landes and vineyardes.

6 And when I heard their complaint, and ſuche wordes, it diſpleaſed me ſore.

7 And I aduiſed ſo in my minde, that I re- B buked buked the counſellers and the rulers, & ſayd vnto them, Euery one of you layeth great burdens vpon his brother. And I brought a great congregation agaynſt them, 8 And ſayd vnto them, We after our abilitie haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, whiche were ſolde vnto the heathen: and will you ſell your brethren agayne, and ſhall they be ſolde vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could finde nothyng to anſweare.

9 And (Nehemia) ſayde, It is not good that ye do: Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, becauſe of the rebuke of the heathen that are our enimies?

10 I and my brethren and my ſeruaunts do lende them money and corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this burden.

11 Therefore this ſame day I pray you ſee that ye reſtore them their landes agayne, their vineyards, Oliue gardens, and their houſes, and remit the hundredth part of the money, of the corne, wyne, and oyle that ye haue exacted of them.

12 Then ſayde they, We will reſtore them agaynt, and will requyre nothyng of them, and wil do as thou haſt ſpoken. And I called the prieſtes, and toke an othe of them that they ſhould do ſo.

13 And I ſhoke my lappe, and ſayde, God ſhake out euery man after the ſame māner, from his houſe and labour, that maynteyneth not this worde, euen thus be he ſhaken out, and voyde. And all the congregation ſayde, Amen, and prayſed the Lorde: and the people did accordyng to this promiſe.

14 And from the tyme forth that the kyng committed vnto me to be captayne of them that were in the lande of Iuda, euen from the twentieth yeere, vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of kyng Artaxerxes, that is twelue yeeres, I with my brethren lyued not of ſuche ſuſtenance as was giuen vnto a captayne.

15 For the olde captaynes that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, & had taken of them bread and wyne, beſide fourtie ſicles of ſiluer, yea and their ſeruants had oppreſſed the people: but ſo dyd not I, and that becauſe of the feare of God.

16 "But I laboured alſo in the worke vpon the wal, and we bought no lande: and all my ſeruants came thyther together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer, there were at my table an hundred and fiftie of the Iewes and rulers, which came vnto me from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared for me dayly an ore, and ſix choſen ſheepe, and byrdes were prepared for me, and euer once in ten dayes wine for al, in abundance: yet requyred not I the "liuing of a captaine, for the bondage was greeuous vnto the people.

19 Thinke vpon me my God vnto the beſt, accordyng to all that I haue done for this people.

The. vi. Chapter.

Nehemia anſwereth with great wyſedome and zeale to his aduerſarie. ii. He is not diſcouraged by the falſe prophetes.

1 NOW when Sanaballat, Tobia, and Geſem, the Arabian, and the other of our enimies, heard that I had buylded the wall, and that there were no more gappes therein: (howbeit at the ſame tyme had I not hanged the dores vpon the gates,)

2 Sanaballat and Geſem ſent vnto mee, ſaying, Come, that we may meete and take counſayle together, in the villages that are in the playne of the citie Ono. Neuertheleſſe, they thought to do me euill.

3 And I ſent meſſengers vnto them, ſaying, I haue a great buſineſſe to do, and I can not come downe. Why ſhoulde the worke ceaſe, whyleſt I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Howbeit, they ſent vnto me as good as foure tymes after the ſame maner: and I gaue them the ſame anſweare.

5 Then ſent Sanaballat his ſeruaunt agayne vnto me the fifth time, with an open letter in his hande,

6 Wherein was written: It is tolde the heathen, and Geſem hath ſayde it, that thou and the Iewes thynke to rebell: for the whiche cauſe thou buyldeſt the wall, that thou mayeſt bee their kyng, accordyng to theſe wordes:

7 And haſt ordeyned the prophets to preach of thee at Hieruſalē, and to ſay, He is kyng of Iuda. And nowe ſhall this come to the kyngs eares: come nowe therefore, and let vs take our counſayle together.

8 And I ſent vnto him, ſaying, There is no ſuch thing done as thou ſayeſt, for thou fayneſt them out of thyne owne hart.

9 For they were all mynded to make vs afrayde, ſaying, They ſhall withdraw their handes from their worke, that it ſhall not be finiſhed: now therefore ſtrengthen thou my hande.

10 And I came vnto the houſe of Semaia the ſonne of Delaia, the ſonne of Mehetabeel, and hee had ſhut hym ſelfe with in, and ſayde, Lette vs come together in the houſe houſe of GOD, euen vnto the middeſt of the temple, and ſhut the dores of the temple, for they will come to ſlay thee, yea euen in the nyght will they come to put thee to death.

11 And I ſayde, Shoulde any ſuche man as I flee? Who is, that beyng as I am, will goe into the temple to ſaue hys lyfe? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceyued that God hath not ſent him, but that he pronounced this prophecie agaynſt mee: for Tobia and Sanaballat had hyred hym for money.

13 Therefore was he hyred, that through feare I ſhoulde ſo doo, and ſinne, that they might haue an euyll report of me to lay to my charge.

¶ 14 My God, thynke thou vpon Tobia and Sanaballat, accordyng vnto theſe theyr workes, and on the prophetiſſe Noadia, and the other prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 And the wall was finiſhed on the fiue and twentieth day of the moneth Elul, in fiftie and two dayes.

16 And when all our enimies hearde thereof, all the heathen that was aboute vs were afrayde, and theyr courage fayled them: for they perceyued that this worke came of our God.

17 And at the ſame tyme were there many of the chiefe of Juda, whoſe letters went vnto Tobia, and agayne from Tobia vnto them.

18 For there were many in Juda that were ſworne vnto hym: for he was the ſonne in lawe of Sechania, the ſonne of Arah, and his ſonne Jehonathan had the daughter of Meſullam the ſonne of Barachia, 19 And they ſpake good of hym before me, and tolde him my wordes: and Tobia ſent letters to put me in feare.

The. vij. Chapter.

1. After the wall once buylded, is the watche appoynted. 6. They that returned from the captiuitie are numbred.

¶ 1 NOwe when the wall was buylded, I hanged on the "dores alſo, and the porters, ſingers, and Leuites were appoynted:

53 The chyldren of Bacbuc, the chyldren of Hacupha, the chyldren of Harhur, 54 The chyldren of Balith, the chyldren of Mehida, the chyldren of Harſa, 55 The chyldren of Barcos, the chyldren of Siſera, the chyldren of Thamah, 56 The chyldren of Neſiah, the chyldren of Hatipha.
57 The chyldren of Solomons ſeruants, the chyldren of Sotai, the chyldren of Sopheret, the chyldren of Pharida, 58 The chyldren of Jaala, the chyldren of Darcon, the chyldren of Giddel, 59 The chyldren of Sephatiah, the chyldren of Hattil, the chyldren of Phochereth of Sabaim, the chyldren of Amon.
60 All theſe Nethinims, and the chyldren of Solomons ſeruaunts, were three hundred nienetie and two.
61 And theſe went vp alſo from Thelmela: Thelharſa, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they coulde not ſhewe theyr fathers houſe, nor their ſeede, and that they were of Iſrael.
62 The chyldren of Dalaiah, the chyldren of Tobia, and the chyldren of Necoda, ſixe hundred fourtie and two.
63 And of the prieſtes: the chyldren of Habaiah, the chyldren of Haccos, the chyldren of Barzellai, which toke one of the daughters of Barzellai the Gileadite to wife, and was named after their name.
64 Theſe ſought theyr wryting in the regiſter of theyr generation, but they were not founde: therefore they were put from the prieſthood.
65 And Athirſatha ſayd vnto them, that they ſhoulde not eate of the moſte holy, till there came vp a prieſt which ſhuld weare Urim and Thummim.
66 And ſo the whole congregation together, was fourtie and two thouſande, three hundred and threeſcore.
67 Beſide theyr ſeruaunts and maydens, of whom there were ſeuen thouſande, three hundred thirtie and ſeuen: and they had two hundred fourtie and fiue ſingyng men and women.
68 Theyr horſes ſeuen hundred thirtie and ſixe: and theyr mules two hundred fourtie and fiue:
69 The Cammelles foure hundred thirtie and fiue: ſixe thouſande ſeuen hundred

and

and twentie Aſſes.

70 And certaine of the auncient fathers gaue vnto the worke: Athirſatha gaue vnto the treaſure, a thouſande pounds of golde, fiftie baſons, fiue hundred and thirtie prieſts garments.

71 And ſome of the chiefe fathers gaue vnto the treaſure of the worke, twentie thouſand peeces of golde, and two thouſande and two hundred pounde of ſiluer.

72 And the other people gaue twentie thouſande peeces of golde, and two thouſande pounde of ſiluer, and threeſcore and ſeuen prieſts garments.

73 And the prieſtes and Leuites, the porters, and the ſingers, and the other of the people, and the Nethinims, and all Iſrael dwelt in their cities: and when the ſeuenth moneth came, the children of Iſrael were in their cities.

The. viij. Chapter.

1. Eſdras gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the lawe. 12. They reioyce in Iſrael for the knowledge of the woorde of God. 15. They keepe the feaſt of tabernacles or boothes.

A 1 AND all the people gathered themſelues
1 Eſd. 3. a together as one man, in the ſtreete that was before the water gate, and they ſayde vnto Eſdras the ſcribe, that he ſhoulde fetch Deu. 31. f. the booke of the lawe of Moſes, whiche the Lorde commaunded to Iſrael.

2 And Eſdras the prieſt brought the lawe before the congregation bothe of men and women, and al that coulde vnderſtand, and hearken vnto it vpon the firſt day of the ſeuenth moneth.

3 And hee read therein in the ſtreete that was before the water gate, from the morning vntil the none day, before menne and women that and hearken to it: & the eares of all the people were inclined vnto the booke of the lawe.

4 And Eſdras the ſcribe ſtode vpon a pulpet of wood, whiche they had made for the preachyng, and beſide him ſtode Mathathia, Sema, and Anaiah, Uriah, Helkia, Maaſeiah, on his right hande: and on hys left hande ſtode Pedaia, Miſael, and Melchia, and Haſum, Haſabadana, Zacharí, & Meſullam.

5 And Eſdras opened the booke before all the people, (For he ſtod aboue all the people:) and when he opened it, all the people ſtode vp.

6 And Eſdras prayſed the Lorde the great God: and al the people anſwered, Amen, Amen, lyfting vp their handes, and bowed themſelues, and worſhipped the Lorde, fallyng downe vppon their faces to the grounde.

7 And Jeſua, Bani, Serebiah, Jamin, B
Accub, Sebbethai, Hodaia, Maaſia, Celita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites, cauſed the people to giue heede vnto the lawe: and the people ſtode in their place.

8 And they readde in the booke of the lawe of God diſtinctly, and gaue the ſenſe, and cauſed them to vnderſtande the readyng.

9 And Nehemia, whiche is Athirſatha, and Eſdras the prieſt and ſcribe, and the Leuites that cauſed the people to take heede, ſayde vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lorde your God, be not yee ſory, and weepe not for all the people wept, when they hearde the wordes of the lawe.

10 And he ſayde vnto them, Goe your way, 3. Eſd. 9. g and eate the fat, and drinke the ſweete, and ſend part vnto them alſo that haue not prepared for themſelues, for this day is holy vnto our Lorde: be not ye ſory therefore, for the ioy of the Lorde is your ſtrength.

11 And the Leuites ſtilled all the people, and ſayde, Holde your peace, for the day is holy, be not ſad therfore.

12 And all the people went their way to eate, and to drynke, and to ſende parte vnto other, and to make great myrth, becauſe they had vnderſtande the wordes that were declared vnto them.

13 And on the next day were gathered together the chiefe fathers among all the people, and the prieſtes, and Leuites, vnto Eſdras the ſcribe, that they might vnderſtande the wordes of the lawe.

14 And they founde written in the lawe C whiche the Lorde hadde commaunded by Leuit. 2. k.
Moſes, that the children of Iſrael ſhoulde dwell in boothes in the feaſt of the ſeuenth moneth:

15 And that they ſhoulde cauſe it to be declared and proclaymed in all their cities, and throughout Hieruſalem, ſaying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and fetche Oliue branches, Pine branches, Myrtel branches, Palme branches, and branches of the thicke tree, to make boothes, as it is written.

16 And ſo the people went forth, & fet them, and made them boothes, euery one vpon the roofe of his houſe, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreete by the water gate, & in the ſtreete of the porte of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come agayne out of the captiuitie, made bowthes, and ſate vnder the bowthes: for ſince the tyme of Iohua the ſonne of Nun, vnto this day, had not the chyldren of Iſrael done ſo: and there was very great gladneſſe.

18 And euery day from the firſte day vnto the laſte, readde Eſdras in the booke of the lawe of God: and ſeuen dayes helde they the feaſte, and on the eyghth day they gathered together, accordyng vnto the manner.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. The people repent, and forſake their ſtrange wyues. 5. The Leuites exhorte them to prayſe God, 6. declaryng his woonders, 26. and their ingratitude, 30. & Gods great mercies towarde them.

A 1 NOw the foure and twentieth day of this moneth, came the chyldren of Iſrael together agayne, with faſtyng and ſackecloothes, and earth vpon them. 3. Eſd. 9. a

2 And they that were of the ſeede of Iſrael, were ſeparated from al the ſtrange chyldren, and ſtoode and knowledged theyr ſinnes, and the wickednelles of theyr fathers:

3 And ſtoode vp in theyr place, and read in the booke of the law of the Lord theyr God foure tymes on the day, and they knowledged and worſhipped the Lorde theyr God foure tymes on the day.

4 Then ſtoode vp vpon the ſtayres of the Leuites, Ieſua, Bani, Cadmiel, Sabaniah, Bunni, Serebiah, Bani, and Chanani, and cryed loude vnto the Lorde theyr God:

5 And the Leuites, Ieſua and Cadmiel, Bani, and Haſabnia, Serebiah, and Hodia, Sebania, and Phathahia, ſayde, Stande vp and prayſe the Lorde your God for euer, and let thankes be gyuen vnto the name of thy glory, whiche excelleth all thankes gyuing and prayſe.

6 Thou art Lorde alone, thou haſte made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all theyr hoſt, the earth and all thyngs that are therein, the ſea and al that is therein, and thou preſerueſt them all, and the hoſt of heauen worſhippeth thee.

B 7 Thou arte, O Lorde, the God that haſte chosen Abraham, and broughteſt hym out of Ur in Chaldea, and calledſt hym Abraham: Gen. 11. d

8 And foundeſt hys harte faythfull before thee, and madeſt a couenant with hym, to gyue vnto hys ſeede the lande of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Iebuſites, and Gergeſites, and haſt made good thy wordes: for thou art righteous,

9 And haſt conſidered the miſerie of our fathers in Egypt, and hearde their complaint by the red ſea: Exod. 3. d

10 And ſhewed tokens and woonders vpon Pharao and all hys ſeruants, and on all the people of hys lande: for thou knoweſt that they were preſumptuous and cruel againſt them: and ſo madeſt thou thee a name as it is this day.

11 And the (red) ſea diddeſt thou diuide in ſunder before the, ſo that they went through the middeſt of the ſea "drye ſhod: and their perſecutours threweſt thou into the deepe, as a ſtone in the mightie waters: "or, on drye lande.

12 And leddeſt them on the day tyme in a cloudie pyller, and on the nyght ſeaſon in a piller of fyre, to ſhew them light in the way that they went.

13 Thou cameſt downe alſo vppon mount Sinai, and ſpakeſt vnto them from heauen, and gaueſt them right iudgementes, true lawes, good commaundementes, and ſtatutes: Exod. 19. a

14 And declaredſt vnto them thy holy Sabboth, and commaundedſt them precepts, ordinances, and lawes, by the hande of Moſes thy ſeruant: C

15 And gaueſt them bread frō heauen when they were hungrie, and broughteſt forth water for them out of the rocke, when they were thirſtie, and promiſedſt them that they ſhoulde goe in, and take poſſeſſion of the lande, ouer which thou haddeſt lift vp thine hande for to giue them. Exod. 16. b Exod. 17. b

16 But they and our fathers were proud and hardnecked, ſo that they folowed not thy commaundements:

17 And would not obey, neither were mindfull of the woonders that thou dyddeſt for them: but hardened their neckes, and hadde in their heades to returne to their bondage by theyr rebellion: But thou, O God of mercies, gratious, and full of compaſſion, of long ſufferyng, and of great mercie, yet forſookeſt them not.

18 Moreouer, when they had made them a moulten Calfe, and ſayde, This is thy God that brought thee out of the land of Egypt, and dyd blaſphemies:

19 Yet forſookeſt thou them not in the wyldernelſe, accordyng to thy great mercies: and the cloudie piller departed not frō them on the day tyme, to leade them the way, neither the pyller of fyre in the nyght ſeaſon, to ſhew them light in the way by whiche they ſhould goe. Exod. 13. b

20 And thou gaueſt them thy good ſpirite Exod. 16. b

21 Fourtie yeeres long dyddeſt thou feede them in the wyldernesſe, ſo that they lacked nothyng, their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete ſwelled not.

Num. 21. f

22 And thou gaueſt them kyngdomes and nations, and ſcatteredſt them into the corners: ſo they poſſeſſed the land of Sehon, and the lande of the kyng of Hesbon, and the lande of Og kyng of Basan.

23 And their chyldren multipliedſt thou as the ſtarres of heauen, and broughteſt them into the lande whereof thou haddeſt ſpoken to their fathers, that they ſhould goe into it, and haue it in poſſeſſion.

Iohut. 2. a

24 And the chyldren went in, and poſſeſſed the lande, and thou ſubduedſt before them the inhabitours of the lande, euen the Chanaanites, and gaueſt them into their hands, with their kyngs and the people of the lande, that they might dow with them what they would.

25 And they wanne their ſtrōg cities, and a fat lande, and toke poſſeſſion of houſes that were full of all manner of gwdes, welles digged out, vineyardes, oliue gardens, "and many fruitefull trees: and they did eate, and were filled, and became fatte, and liued in pleaſure through thy great gwdneſſe.

"or, cisternes.

26 Neuertheleſſe, they were diſobedient, and rebelled againſt thee, and caſt thy lawe behinde their backes, and ſlue their prophetes, "whiche exhorted them earneſtly, that they might bring them againe vnto thee, and did great blaſphemies.

27 Therefore thou gaueſt them ouer into the hand of their enimies that vexed them: And in the tyme of their trouble, when they cried vnto thee, thou heardeſt them from heauen, and through thy greate mercie thou gaueſt them ſauiours, whiche helped them out of the hande of their enimies.

28 But when they came to reſt, they turned backe againe to dow euill before thee: therefore leſteſt thou them in the hand of their enimies, ſo that they had the dominion ouer them: And when they conuerted, and cried vnto thee, thou heardeſt them from heauen, and many tymes haſt thou deliuered them accordyng to thy great mercie,

"or, protestedst.

29 And "teſtifiedſt vnto them, that thou myghteſt bring them againe vnto thy law: Notwithſtandyng they were proud, and hearkened not vnto thy commaundements, but ſinned "in thy lawes, whiche if a man dow, he ſhall liue in them: and turned the ſhoulder away, and were ſtiffe necked, and would not heare.

30 Yet many yeeres diddeſt thou forbeare them, and "teſtifiedſt vnto them through thy ſpirite, euen by the hand of thy prophets, and yet would they not heare: therefore gaueſt thou them into the hande of the nations of the landes.

"or, protestedst

31 And for thy great mercies ſake, thou haſt not vtterly conſumed them, neyther forſaken them: for thou art a gratious and mercyfull God.

D

32 Nowe therefore our God, thou greate God, mighty and terrible, thou that keepeſt couenant and mercie, regarde not a litle all the trauayle that hath come vnto vs, and our kyngs, our princes, our prieſtes, our prophetes, and our fathers, and all the people ſince the tyme of the kings of Aſſur, vnto this day.

2. Eſd. 1. b

33 And truely thou art iuſt in all that thou haſt brought vpon vs, for thou haſt done right: As for vs, we haue bene vngodly.

F

34 And our kings, and our princes, our prieſtes, and our fathers, haue not done thy lawe, nor regarded thy commaundements, and thy "earneſt exhortations, wherewith thou haſt "exhorted them,

"or, protestations.

"or, protested among them.

35 And they haue not ſerued thee in their kyngdome, and in thy great gwdneſſe that thou gaueſt them, and in the large & "plentrous land, which thou gaueſt before them, and haue not conuerted from their wicked workes.

"or, fatte.

36 Beholde, we are in bondage this day, and lo is the land that thou gaueſt vnto our fathers, to eate the fruytes and gwdneſſe thereof, beholde there are we bondmen.

37 And great is the increaſe of it, vnto the kings whom thou haſt ſet ouer vs, becauſe of our ſinnes, and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and cattel, euen as they will themſelues: and we are in great trouble.

38 Nowe becauſe of al this, make we a ſure couenant and write it, and our princes, Leuites, and prieſts, ſeale vnto it.

The x. Chapter.

36 And the Leuites had poſſeſſion bothe in Juda and in Beniamin.

The. xij. Chapter.

1. The prieſts and Leuites, whiche came with Zorobabel vnto Hieruſalem, are numbred, 27. and the wall is dedicated.

1 Theſe are the prieſtes and Leuites that went vp with Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and with Jeſua, Saraia, Jeremia, and Eſdras,

2 Amaria, Malluch, Hattus,

3 Sechania, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Genthon, Abia,

5 Miamin, Madaia, Belga,

6 Semaia, Joiarib, Jedaia,
B 7 Salu, Amok, Helkia, and Jedaia: These were the heades among the priests and their brethren in the dayes of Jesua.
8 The Leuites were these: Jesua, Bennui, Cadmiel, Sarebia, Juda, and Mathania, which was ouer (the office) of thankesgeuyng, he and his brethren.
9 Bacbucia, and Hanni, and theyr brethre, were about them in the watches.
10 Jesua begate Joakim, Joakim also begate Eliasib, and Eliasib begate Joiada:
11 Joiada begate Jonathan, and Jonathan begate Jaddua.
12 In the dayes of Joakim were these, the chiefe fathers among the priestes: vnder Saraia, Maraia: vnder Jerima, Hanania:
13 Under Esdras, Mesullam: vnder Amaria, Jehoanan:
C 14 Under Milico, Jonathan: vnder Sebania, Joseph:
15 Under Hozim, Adna: Under Maraioth, Helkia:
16 Under Iddo, Zacharie: vnder Genthon, Mesullam:
17 Under Abia, Zichri: vnder Miniamin, and Moadia, Piltai:
18 Under Belga, Sammua: vnder Semaia, Jehonathan:
19 Under Joiarib, Mathenai: vnder Jadaia, Uzzi:
20 Under Selai, Kellai: vnder Amok, Eber:
D 21 Under Helchia, Hasabia: vnder Jadaia, Nathanael.
22 And in the time of Eliasib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jadua, were the chiefe fathers among the Leuites and the priests, written in the raygne of Darius the Persian.
23 The chyldren of Leui the principall fathers, were written in the Chronicles, vntill the tyme of Jonathan the sonne of Eliasib.
24 And these were the chiefe among the Leuites: Hasabia, Serebia, and Jesua the sonne of Cadmiel, and theyr brethren "in theyr presence, to gyue prayse and thankes, accordyng as Dauid the man of GOD had ordeyned it, one watche ouer agaynst another.
25 Mathania, Bacbukia, Obadia, Mesullam, Talmon, and Accub, were porters " in the watche at the threshholdes of the gates.
26 These were in the dayes of Joiakim the sonne of Jesua the sonne of Josedec, and in the dayes of Nehemia the captayne, and of the priest Esdras the scribe.
27 And in the dedication of the wal at Hierusalem, they sought the Leuites out of all theyr places, that they might be brought to Hierusalem, to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, with thankesgeuyng, and singing, with Cymbales, " Psalteries, and Harpes. " or, vialles.
28 And the chyldren of the singers gathered themselues together from euery side, out of the playne countrey aboute Hierusalem, and from the villages of Nethophathi, E
29 From the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreys of Geba, and Asmaueth: for the singers had buylded them villages rounde about Hierusalem.
30 And the priestes and Leuites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wal.
31 And I brought the princes of Juda vpon the wall, and appoynted two great quiers of men to gyue thankes, which went on the right hande of the wall towarde the dung gate.
32 And after them went Hosaia, and half the princes of Juda, 33 And Asaria, Esdras, and Mesullam,
34 Juda, Beniamin, Semeia, and Jeremi,
35 And certayne of the priestes chyldren, with trumpets: namely Zacharie the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Semeia, ỹ sonne of Mathania, the sonne of Michaia, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph,
36 And his brethren, Semeia, Asarael, Melalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nathanael, and Juda, and Hanani, with the musicall instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Esdras the scribe went before them. F
37 And beside the wel gate, they went vp ouer agaynst them, vppon the steppes of the citie of Dauid, at the goyng vp of the wal, beyonde the house of Dauid, vnto the water gate eastwarde.
38 The other quier of thē that gaue thankes went ouer against them, and I after them, and the halfe parte of the people vppon the wall beyonde the fornace gate, vntyll the brode wall, 39 And beyond the port of Ephraim, and beyonde the olde gate, beyonde the fishe gate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Mea, euen vnto the sheepe gate, and they stode still in the "prison gate. "or, the gate of the warde.
40 And so stode the two quiers of them that gaue thankes for the house of God, and I, and the halfe of the rulers with me:
41 And the priests, namely Eliakim, Maasia, Miniamin, Michaia, Elionai, Zachari, and Hanania, with trumpets:

"or, aboute them.

" or, keepyng the warde.

42 And

41 And Haaſia, Semeia, Eleaſar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Melchia, Elam, and Ezer: and the ſingers ſang loude, hauing Jeſrahiah for theyr ouerſeer.

G 43 And the ſame day they offered great ſacrifices, and reioyced: for God had giuen them great gladneſſe, ſo that both the wyues and children were ioyful, and the myrth of Jeruſalem was heard farre off.

44 And the ſame time were the men appointed ouer the treaſure houſes, wherein were the heaue offerings, the firſtlings, and the tythes, that they ſhoulde gather them oute of the fieldes about the cities, to diſtribute them vnto the prieſtes and Leuites, according to the law: for Juda was glad of the prieſts and Leuites that ſerued.

45 And there ſtode and wayted vpon the office of theyr God, whiche is a pure office, both the ſingers and porters, after the commaundement of Dauid, and of Solomon his ſonne.

1. Par. 23. a. 46 For in the time of Dauid and Aſaph, of olde were the chiefe ſingers (founded) and the ſongs of prayſe and thankes giuing vnto God.

47 In the time of Zorobabel and Nehemia, did al they of Iſrael giue portions vnto the ſingers and porters, euery daye hys portion: and they gaue tythes vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites gaue tythes agayne vnto the children of Aaron.

The. xiij. Chapter.

1. The lawe is read. 3. They ſeparate from them all ſtraungers. 15. Nehemiah reproueth them that breake the Sabboth. 30. An ordinance to ſerue God.

A 1 AND that day did they read in the booke of Moſes, in the audience of the people, and therein was founde written, that the Ammonites and Moabites ſhoulde neuer come into the congregation of God.

Deut. 34. a. Num. 23. a. 2 Becauſe they met not the children of Iſrael with bread and water, but hyred Balaam againſt them, that hee ſhoulde curſe them: and our God turned the curſe into a bleſſing.

3 Nowe when they had heard the law, they ſeparated from Iſrael, euery one that had mixt himſelfe therein.

4 And before this, had the prieſt Eliaſib the ouerſight of the treaſurie of the houſe of our God, and he was kynſman vnto Tobia.

5 And had made him a great chamber, and there had they afortetime layde the offerings, frankincenſe, veſſels, and the tythes of corne, wine, and oyle, according to the commaundements giuen to the Leuites, ſyngers, and porters, and the heaue offerings of the prieſts.

6 But in all this tyme, was not I at Hieruſalem: for in the two and thirtieth yeare of Artaxerxes king of Babylon, came I vnto the king, and after certayne dayes obteyned I lycence of the king, to come to Hieruſalem.

7 And I gate knowledge of the euill that B Eliaſib did for Tobia, in that he had made hym a chamber in the court of the houſe of God.

8 And it greeued me ſore: therefore I caſt forth al the veſſels of the houſe of Tobia out of the chamber:

9 And commaunded them to cleanſe the chambers, and thither brought I againe the veſſels of the houſe of God, with the meate offering, and the incenſe.

10 And I perceyued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen them, and that euery one was fled to his land, euen the Leuites and ſingers that executed the worke.

11 Then reproued I the rulers, and ſayde, Why is the houſe of God forſaken? And I gathered them together, and ſet them in their place.

12 Then brought all Juda the tythes of corne, and wine, and oyle, vnto the treaſure.

13 And I made treaſurers ouer the treaſure, euen Selemiah the prieſt, and Zadoc the ſcribe, and of the Leuites, Phadaia: and vnder their hande, was Hanan the ſonne of Zacur, the ſon of Mathania: for they were counted faythfull, and their office was to diſtribute (the portions) vnto their brethren.

14 Thinke vpon me, O my God herein, and C wype not out my "mercie that I haue ſhewed on the houſe of my God, and on the offices thereof. "or, kindneſſe.

15 And the ſame time ſawe I in Juda ſome treading wine preſſes on the Sabboth, and bringing in ſheaues, and which laded Aſſes alſo with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Hieruſalem vpon the Sabboth day: and I rebuked them earneſtly the ſame day that they ſolde the victayles.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre alſo therein, which brought fiſh and all maner of ware, and ſolde on the Sabboth vnto the children of Juda, euen in Hieruſalem.

17 Then reproued I the rulers in Juda, and ſayde vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabboth day?

18 Did not your fathers euen thus, and our God brought all thys plague vpon vs, and

¶ The firſt Chapter.

3. King Ahaſuerus maketh a royal feaſt. 10. VVherevnto Queene Vaſthi will not come. 19. For which cauſe ſhe is diuorced. 20. The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

A 1 Came to paſſe, that in the days of Ahaſuerus, (this is Ahaſuerus which raigned frõ India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred & twentie and ſeuen prouinces,)

2 Euen in thoſe dayes, when the king Ahaſuerus ſate on his ſeate royal, which was in Suſan the chiefe citie:

3 In the thirde yeare of his raigne, he made a feaſt vnto al his princes and ſeruants: and the mightie men of Perſia and Medea, the captaynes alſo and rulers of his countreys, were before him.

4 And hee ſhewed the ryches and glorie of his kingdome, and the glorious worſhip of his greatneſſe, many dayes long, (euen) an hundred and fourefcore dayes.

5 And when theſe dayes were expyred, the king made a feaſt vnto all the people, that were in Suſan the chiefe Citie, both vnto great and ſmall, ſeuen dayes long, in the court of the garden by the kings palace.

6 Where

6 Where there hanged white, greene, and "yelowe clothes, lained with cordes of fine silke and purple, in syluer rings vpon pyllers of Marble stones: the" benches also were of golde and siluer, made vppon a pauement of "greene, whyte, yellowe, and blacke marble.

7 And they dranke in vessels of golde, and chaunged vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundaunce, according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compel: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to euery mãs pleasure.

9 And the Queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women, in the palace of Ahasuerus.

10 And in the seuenth day, when the Kyng was merie after the wine, he commaunded Mehuma, Bizetha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagthan, Zethar, and Charchas, the seuen chamberlaynes, that did seruice in the presence of king Ahasuerus, 11 To fetche the Queene Vasthi wyth the crowne regal into the kings presence, that hee might shewe the people and princes hir fayrenesse: for she was beautifull.

12 But the Queene Vasthi wouldo not come at the Kings worde by his chamberlaynes: Then was the king very wroth, and his indignation kindled in him.

13 And the king spake to the wise men which knew the tymes (for so was the kings maner, towardes all that knewe the lawe and the iudgements:

14 And the next vnto him were, Carsena, Sethar, Admata, Tharsis, Mares, Marsena, and Memuchan, the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which sawe the kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome,)

15 What shall wee doe vnto the Queene Vasthi according to the lawe, bycause shee did not according to the worde of the king, Ahasuerus, whiche he commaunded by hys chamberlaynes?

16 And Memuchan answered before the king and the princes, The Queene Vasthi hath not onely done euill against the king, but also against all the princes, and against al the people, that are in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus.

17 For this deede of the Queene shall come abrode vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands before their eyes, and shall say, The king Ahasuerus commaunded Vasthi the Queene to bee brought in before him, but she would not come.

18 And so shal the Princesses of Persia and Media, saye lykewyse this day vnto all the Kings princes, when they heare of thys deede of thee Queene: thus shall there arise to much displeasure and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let there goe a commaundement from him, and let it be writte according to the lawes of the Persians and Medians, and not to bee transgressed, that Vasthi come no more before king Ahasuerus, and let the king giue hir royall estate vnto another that is better than she.

20 And when this commaundement of the king, which shall be made, is published throwout all his Empyre, which is great, all women shall holde theyr husbandes in honour, both among great and smal.

21 This saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the worde of Memuchan. D

22 For he sent letters forth into all the kings prouinces, into euery lande according to the wryting thereof, and to euerie people after theyr langague, that euery man shoulde be Lord in his owne house: and this to be published after the language of his people.

The. ij. Chapter.

2. After the Queene is put away, certain yong maydens are brought to the king. 14. Esther pleaseth the King, and is made Queene. 22. Mardocheus discloseth vnto the king, those that would betray him.

1 AFter these actes, when the displeasure of King Ahasuerus was nowe "alayed, he thought vppon Vasthi, and what shee had done, and what was decreed agaynst hir. A "or, appeased.

2 Then sayde the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, Let there be sayre yong virgins sought for the king.

3 And let the king appoynt officers in al the prouinces of his Empyre, that they shoulde bring together all the fayre Virgins vnto Susan, the heade citie, to the womens building, vnder the hande of Hegai the Kings chamberlaine that kept the women, to giue them their "apparel: "or, things for purification.

4 And that the mayden whiche pleaseth the king, should be Queene in Vasthis steade. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 In the citie of Susan there was a certaine Iewe, whose name was Mardocheus, the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, a man of Jemini, 6 Which was caryed awaye from Hierusalem wyth the captiuitie, when Jechonia the king of Juda was ledde away, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babilon caryed thence. 2. Reg. 24. c. Jere. 24. a.

7 And

7 And hee nouriſhed Hadaſſa (that is Eſther) his vncles daughter: for ſhe had neyther father nor mother, and ſhe was a fayre and beautiful mayden, whom Mardocheus (when hir father and mother were dead) receyued for his owne daughter.

8 So when the kings commaundement and commiſſion was publiſhed, and many maydens were brought togither into the citie of Suſan vnder the hande of Hegai, Eſther was brought alſo vnto the Kings houſe vnder the hande of Hegai the keeper of the women.

9 And the mayden pleaſed him, and ſhee founde fauour in his ſight: and hee cauſed [a] ornaments to bee giuen hir ſpeedily, and ſuch things as belonged to hir, and appoynted hir ſeuen comely maydens out of the kings houſe, [b] and fauoured both hir and hir gentlewomen ſingularly in the houſe of the women.

[a] or, hir things for purification.
[b] or, and he gaue charge to hir, and to hir maydens, of the beſt in the houſe of the women.

10 But Eſther ſhewed not hir people and hir kinred: for Mardocheus had charged hir, that ſhe ſhoulde not tell it.

11 And Mardocheus walked euery day before the court of the womens houſe, that he might knowe howe Eſther did, and what ſhould become of hir.

12 And when the appoynted time of euerie mayden came, that ſhe ſhould goe in to the king Ahaſuerus, after that ſhee had beene twelue monethes, according to the maner of the women (for ſo were the days of their purification accompliſhed, ſixe monethes with oyle of myrre, and ſixe monethes with ſweete odours, and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the Maydens vnto the king) whatſoeuer ſhe requyred, that muſt be giuen hir, to go with hir out of the womens buylding vnto the kings palace.

14 In the euening ſhe went, and on the morow ſhe returned into the ſeconde houſe of the women, abyding vnder the hande of Saaſgaz the kings chamberlaine, whiche kept the concubines: and ſhe came in vnto the king no more, except it pleaſed the king to haue hir, and that ſhee were called by name.

15 Nowe when the courſe came of Eſther the daughter of Abihail, the vncle of Mardocheus (which had receyued hir as his owne daughter) that ſhe ſhould come in vnto the king, ſhe deſyred nothing but what Hegai the kinges Chamberlaine, the keeper of the women, ſayde. And Eſther founde fauour in the ſight of all them that loked vpon hir.

16 And Eſther was taken vnto kng Ahaſuerus, into his houſe royal, in the tenth moneth (which is the moneth Tebeth) in the ſeuenth yeare of his raigne.

17 And the king loued Eſther aboue all the women, and ſhee founde grace and fauour in his ſight more than all the virgins, ſo that he ſet the crowne of the kingdome vpon hir head, and made hir Queene in ſtead of Vaſthi.

18 And the king made a great feaſt vnto all his princes and ſeruantes, which feaſt was bycauſe of Eſther, and cauſed the prouinces to be in quietneſſe, and gaue gyftes, as became the royaltie of a king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered togither, the ſeconde time, Mardocheus ſate in the kings gate.

20 And as yet had not Eſther ſhewed hir kynred and hir people, according as Mardocheus had bydden hir: for Eſther did after the worde of Mardocheus, like as if ſhee had bene yet vnder his gouernance. D

21 At the ſame time (whyle Mardocheus ſate in the kings gate) two of the kings chamberlaynes, Bigthan, and Theres, whiche kept the dore, were wroth, and ſought to lay their handes on the king Ahaſuerus:

22 Whereof alſo Mardocheus gate knowledge, and tolde it vnto Queene Eſther, and Eſther certified the king thereof in Mardocheus name.

23 And when inquiſition was made, it was founde ſo, and they were both hanged on tree: and it was written in the Chronicles before the king.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. Haman after he was exalted, obteyned of the king, that all the Iewes ſhould be put to death, bycauſe Mardocheus had not done him worſhip as other had.

1 AFter theſe actes, did king Ahaſuerus promote Haman the ſonne of Amadathe, the Agagite, and ſet him on highe, and ſet his ſeate aboue all the princes that he had with him. A

2 And all the kings ſeruants that were in the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman, for the king had ſo commaunded concerning him: but Mardocheus bowed not the knee, neyther did him reuerence.

3 Then the kings ſeruantes, which were in the kings gate, ſayde vnto Mardocheus, Why tranſgreſſeſt thou the Kings commaundement?

4 And though they ſpake this dayly vnto hym, yet woulde he not heare them, therefore

fore they tolde Haman, that they might see howe Mardocheus matters woulde stande, for he had tolde them that he was a Jewe.

5 And when Haman sawe that Mardocheus bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, hee was full of indignation,

6 And thought it to little to lay handes only on Mardocheus, for they had shewed him the Nation of Mardocheus: wherfore hee sought to destroye all the Jewes that were throughout the whole Empyre of Ahasuerus, and that were of the Nation of Mardocheus.

B 7 In the first moneth (that is, the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth yeare of king Ahasuerus, they cast Phur, that is a lot, before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelfth moneth, that is, the moneth Adar.

8 And Haman sayde vnto king Ahasuerus, There is here a people scattered abrode, and dispersed among all people in all the prouinces of thine Empyre, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and do not after the kings lawes, therefore it is not the kings profite to suffer them after this maner.

9 If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed: and so will I way downe ten thousande talentes of siluer by the handes of them that haue the charge of thys busynesse, to bring it into the Kings treasurie.

10 And the King toke his ring from hys hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite the Jewes enimy.

11 And the king sayd vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and do with that people as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings scribes called on the thirteenth day of the fyrst moneth, and there was written, according as Haman commaunded, vnto all the kings officers, and to the captaynes that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people in the countreys on euery side, according to the writing thereof, and to euery Nation after their language, in the name of King Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to rote out, to kil, and to destroy all Jewes, both yong and olde, children, and women, in one day, (namely) vppon the thirteenth daye of the twelfth month (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle them as a pray.

14 Thys was the summe of the writing, that there shoulde bee a commaundement giuen in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes went in all the hast, according to the kings commaundement, and in Susan the chiefe citie was the commaundement deuised: and the king and Haman sat and dranke, when in the meane time the citie of Susan was disquieted.

The.iiij. Chapter.

5. Mardocheus giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruel decree of the king against the Iewes. 16. Shee willeth that they pray for hir.

1 WHen Mardocheus perceyued all that was done, he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, with asshes, and went out into the middest of the citie, and cryed loude, and lamentably,

2 And came before the kings gate: but hee might not enter within the kings gate, because he had sackcloth on.

3 And in all prouinces, countreys, and places, as farre as the kings worde and commaundement extended, there was great lamentation among the Jewes, fasting, weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackclothes, and in asshes.

4 So Esthers maydens, and hir chamberlaynes, came and tolde it hir: Then was the Queene exceedingly astonied, and shee sent rayment, that Mardocheus shoulde put on, and laye the sackcloth from him: but Mardocheus woulde not take them.

5 Then called Esther Hathach one of the kings chamberlaynes, whiche stode before hir, and gaue him a commaundement vnto Mardocheus, to know what it was, wherefore he did so.

6 So Hathach went forth to Mardocheus, vnto the streete of the citie whiche was before the kings gate:

7 And Mardocheus tolde him of all that B had come vnto him, and of the summe of siluer that Haman had promised to waye downe into the kings treasurie, bycause of the Jewes, if he would destroy them.

8 And hee gaue him the copie of the kings commaundement that was deuised at Susan to destroy them, that he might shewe it vnto Esther, and to speake to hir, & charge hir that she shoulde goe in vnto the King, and make hir prayer and supplication vnto him for hir people.

9 And when Hathach came in, he told Esther the wordes of Mardocheus:

10 And againe Eſther ſpake vnto Hathach, and commaunded him to ſay vnto Mardocheus, 11 All the kings ſeruants, and the people in the prouinces of the king know, that whoſoeuer commeth within the court in to the king, whether it be man or woman, which is not called, " the commaundement is, that the ſame ſhall die, except the king holde out the golden ſcepter vnto him, for then he ſhall liue: as for me, I haue not bene called to come in vnto the king now this thirtie dayes.

" or, there is a law of his.

12 And they certified Mardocheus of Eſthers wordes.

13 And Mardocheus bad ſaye agayne vnto Eſther, Thinke not with thy ſelfe that thou ſhalt eſcape in the kings houſe more than al the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdeſt thy peace at this tyme, then ſhall the Iewes haue " helpe and deliuerance out of another place, and thou and thy fathers houſe ſhal be deſtroyed: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome " for this cauſes ſake?

" or, breathing

" or, for ſuch a time.

15 Eſther bad them giue Mardocheus this anſwere:

16 Go thou thy way, and gather togyther al the Iewes that are founde at Suſan, and faſt ye for me, that yee eate not and drinke not in three dayes neyther day nor night, I and my maydens will faſt likewiſe: and ſo will I go in to the king, which thing yet is contrarie to the commaundement: and if I periſh, I periſh.

17 So Mardocheus went his way, and did according to al that Eſther had commaunded him.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Eſther entereth in to the king, and byddeth him and Haman to a feaſt. 11. Haman prepareth a gallous for Mardocheus.

I

1 AND on the thirde day it came to paſſe, that Eſther put on hir royall apparell, and ſtode in the court of the kings palace within, ouer againſt the kings houſe: and the king ſate vppon his royall ſeate in the kings palace, ouer againſt the gate of the houſe.

2 And when the King ſawe Eſther the Queene ſtanding in the court, ſhee founde grace in his ſight: and the king helde oute the golden ſcepter that was in his hande: So Eſther ſtept forth, and touched the top of the ſcepter.

3 Then ſayde the king vnto hir, What wilt thou Queene Eſther? and what requyreſt thou? (aske) euen the halfe of the Empyre, and it ſhall be giuen thee.

4 And Eſther anſwered, If it pleaſe the king, let the king and Haman come thys day vnto the banquet that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king ſayde, Cauſe Haman to make haſt, that he may doe as Eſther hath ſayde, So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

6 And the king ſayde vnto Eſther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be gyuen thee? And what requyreſt thou? If it bee euen the halfe of the Empyre, it ſhall be done.

7 Then anſwered Eſther, and ſayde, My B petition and deſire is,

8 If I haue founde grace in the ſight of the king, and if it pleaſe the king to giue me my petition, and to fulfill my requeſt, then let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I ſhall prepare for them: and ſo will I do to morow as the king hath ſayd.

9 Then went Haman forth the ſame daye ioyfull and merry in his minde: but when the ſame Haman ſaw Mardocheus in the kings gate, that he ſtode not vp nor moued for him, he was ful of indignation at Mardocheus.

10 Neuertheleſſe, Haman refrayned hymſelfe, and when he came home, he ſent and called for his friendes, and Zares his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him ſo greatly, and howe that hee had ſet him aboue the princes and ſeruantes of the king.

12 Haman ſayde moreouer, Yea, Eſther the Queene dyd let no man come in wyth the King into the banquet that ſhee had prepared, except me: and to morowe am I bydden vnto hir alſo with the king.

13 But in all this am I not ſatiſfied, as long as I ſee Mardocheus the Iewe ſitting at the kings gate.

14 Then ſayde Zares his wyfe, and all hys friendes vnto him, Let them make a Gallous of fiftie cubites highe, and to morowe ſpeake thou vnto the king that Mardocheus may bee hanged thereon: then goe thou in merily with the king vnto the banquet. And Haman was well content withal, and cauſed the gallous to be made.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. The king turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mardocheus, 10. and commaun-commaundeth Haman to cause Mardochaeus to be had in honour.

A 1 The same night could not the King sleepe, and he commaunded to bring the Chronicles and stories: and they were read before the King.

2 Then it was founde written, how Mardochaeus had tolde that Bigthana and Theres, the kings two chamberlaynes, whiche kept the threshholdes, sought to lay handes on King Ahasuerus.

3 And the king sayde, What honour and dignitie hath beene giuen to Mardochaeus therefore? Then sayde the kings seruantes that ministred vnto him, There is nothing at all done for him.

4 And the king sayd, Who is in the court? (for Haman was come into the court without before the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the king to hang Mardochaeus on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants sayde vnto him, Beholde, Haman standeth in the court. And the king sayde, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King sayde vnto him, What shal bee done vnto the man whom the king would faine bring vnto worship? (Haman thought in his hart, Whom delyteth the king to bring vnto worship more than me?)

B 7 And Haman answered the king, Let the man whom the king pleaseth to bring vnto worship, be brought hither,

8 That he may be arayed with ỳ royal garments which the king vseth to weare, and the horse that the King rydeth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his heade:

9 And let this rayment and horse be deliuered vnder the hande of one of the Kings most noble princes, that they may aray the man withall whom the king is disposed to bring to honour, and carie him vpon the horse through the streete of the Citie, and proclayme before him, Thus shal it be done to the man whom the king pleaseth to bring to honour.

10 And the King sayde to Haman, Make hast, and take as thou hast sayd, the rayment and the horse, and doe euen so vnto Mardochaeus the Iewe that sitteth before the kings gate, and let nothing fayle of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then toke Haman the rayment and the horse, and arayed Mardochaeus, and brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the citie, and proclaymed before him, Euen thus shall it bee done vnto the man whome the king is disposed to honour.

12 And Mardochaeus came agayne to the Kings gate: but Haman gate him home in all the hast mourning, and his heade couered, 13 And tolde Zares his wife, and all his frindes, euery thing that had befallen him. Then sayde his wise men, and Zares his wife vnto him, If it be Mardochaeus, of the seede of the Iewes, before whom thou hast begun to fal, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely fal before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings chamberlaynes, and caused Haman to make hast to come vnto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

The.vij. Chapter.

3. The Queene byddeth the King and Haman agayne, and prayeth for hir selfe and hir people. 6. She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallous which he had prepared for Mardocheus.

1 AND the king and Haman came to banA quet with the Queene Esther.

2 And the king sayde agayne vnto Esther, on the seconde day at the banquet of wyne, What is thy petition Queene Esther, that it may bee giuen thee? and what requyrest thou? If it be euen to the halfe of the Empyre, it shall be done.

3 And Esther the Queene answered, and sayde, If I haue founde grace in thy sight O king, and if it please the king, then graunt me my life at my desire, and my people for my petitions sake.

4 For we are solde, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine, and to perishe: and would God that we were solde to be bondmen and bondwomen, then would I holde my tongue: although the enimie could not recompence the kings losse.

5 Then King Ahasuerus answered, and sayd vnto Queene Esther, Who is he? And where is he, that dare presume in his minde to do after that maner?

6 And Esther sayd, The enimie and aduersarie is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was exceedingly afrayed before the King and the Queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet, and B from the wine, in his displeasure, and went into the palace garden: and Haman stode vp, and besought Queene Esther for his life: for he sawe that there was a mischiefe prepared for him of the king alreadie.

8 And when the king came again out of the palace garden, into the place where they

drancke wine, Haman had layde him vpon the bed that Esther sate vpon. Then sayde the king, Will he force the Queene also before me in the house? As sone as that word went out of the kings mouth, they couered Hamans face.

9 And Harbona, one of the chamberlaynes that stode before the king, sayde, Beholde, there standeth yet a Gallowes in Hamans house, fyftie cubites highe, whiche hee had made for Mardocheus, that spake good for the king. Then the king sayde, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallowes that hee had made for Mardocheus: then was the kings wrath pacified.

The. viij. Chapter.

1. After the death of Haman, was Mardocheus exalted. 14. Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

A 1 THe same day did king Ahasuerus, giue the house of Haman, the Iewes enimie, vnto Queene Esther, and Mardocheus came before the king, for Esther tolde what he was vnto hir.

2 And the king toke off hys ring which hee had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mardocheus: And Esther set Mardocheus ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spake yet more before the king, and fell downe at his feete weeping, and besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the king held out the golden scepter towarde Esther. Then rose Esther, and stode before the king.

5 And sayde, If it please the king, and if I haue founde grace in his sight, and if it bee acceptable before the king, & I please him, then let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman, the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite, may bee called againe, which letters he wrote to destroy the Iewes which are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euil that shall come vnto my people? Or howe can I beare and looke vppon the destruction of my kynrede?

B 7 And the King Ahasuerus sayde vnto Queene Esther, and to Mardocheus the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Esther the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon a tree, bycause he layd hande vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes as it lyketh you, in the kings name, and seale it with the kings ring: for the writings that were written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, durst no man disanul.

9 Then were the Kings scribes called at the same tyme, euen in the thirde moneth (that is the moneth Siuan,) on the three and twentieth daye thereof, and it was written according to all as Mardocheus commaunded vnto the Iewes, and to the Princes, to the Deputies and Captaynes in the Prouinces whiche are from India vnto Ethiopia, namely an hundred twentie and seuen Prouinces, vnto euery Prouince according to the writing thereof, and vnto euerie people after their speache, and to the Iewes according to their writing and language.

10 And hee wrote in the king Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the kings ring, and by postes that rode vpon horses and swifte yong Mules, sent he the writings,

11 Wherein the king graunted the Iewes, in what cities soeuer they were, to gather themselues togither, and to stande for their life, and for to rote out, to slay, and to destroy all the power of the people and Prouince that would trouble them, both children and women, and to spoyle their good:

12 Upon one day in al the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, namely vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The summe of the writing was, howe there shoulde bee a commaundement giuen in all and euery prouince, and published among all people, & that the Iewes should be readie against that day, to auenge themselues on their enimies.

14 And so the postes that rode vpon the swift C horses and mules, made hast with al speede to execute the kings worde: and ỳ cõmaundement was deuised in Sulan the chiefe Citie.

15 And Mardocheus went oute from the King in royall apparel, of yellow" and whyte, and with a great crowne of golde, being arayed with a garment of" silke and purple: and the citie of Sulan reioyced, and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes there was come light and gladnesse, ioy and worship.

17 In all prouinces and Cities, into what places soeuer the Kings worde and commaundement reached, there was ioy and mirth, a feast and good dayes among the Iewes: insomuch, that many of the people in the lande became Iewes, for the feare of the Iewes came vpon them.

The

The.ix. Chapter.

1. At the commaundement of the king, the Iewes put their aduerſaries to death. 14. The ten ſonnes of Haman are hanged. 17. The Iewes keepe a feaſt in remembrance of their deliuerance.

1 IN the twelfth moneth (that is the moneth Adar) vpon the thirteenth day of the ſame, when the kings worde and commaundement drewe neare to be put in execution, in the daye that the enimies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them, it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them.

2 For then gathered the Iewes togither in their cities within all the prouinces of king Ahaſuerus, to lay hande on ſuch as woulde doe them euill, and no man coulde withſtand them: for the feare of them was come ouer all people.

3 And all the rulers in the Prouinces, and princes, and deputies, and officers of the king, promoted the Iewes: for the feare of Mardocheus came vpon them.

4 For Mardocheus was great in the kings houſe, and the report of him was noyſed in all the prouinces: for this man Mardocheus waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes ſmote all their enimies with the ſtroke of the ſworde, and ſlaughter, and deſtruction, and did what they woulde vnto their enimies.

6 And at Suſan the chiefe citie, ſlue the Iewes and deſtroyed ſiue hundred men.

B 7 And ſlue Pharſandatha, Dalphon, Aſphatha,

8 Phoratha, Adalia, Ariſatha,

9 Pharmaſtha, Ariſai, Aridai, and Vaizatha,

10 The ten ſonnes alſo of Haman the ſonne of Hamadatha the enimie of the Iewes: but on his gowdes they layde no handes.

*or, on the pray.

11 At the ſame tyme was the king certified of the number of thoſe that were ſlaine in the citie of Suſan, 12 And the king ſayde vnto Meene Eſther, The Iewes haue ſlaine and deſtroyed ſiue hundred men in the citie of Suſan, and the tenne ſonnes of Haman: what haue they done (thinkeſt thou) in other landes of the king? And what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what requeſt thou more to be done?

13 Eſther anſwered, If it pleaſe the king, let him ſuffer the Iewes which are in Suſan, to morow alſo to doe according vnto thys dayes decree, that they may hang Hamans ten ſonnes vpon the tree.

14 And the king charged to doe ſo: and the C decree was deuiſed at Suſan, and they hanged Hamans ten ſonnes.

15 For the Iewes that were in Suſan, gathered themſelues togither, vpon the fourtenth day of the moneth Adar, and ſlue three hundred men at Suſan: but on their gowdes they layde no handes.

16 As for the other Iewes that were in the kings prouinces, they came togither, and ſtoode for their liues, and had reſt from their enimies, and ſlue of their enimies ſeuentie and ſiue thouſande: howbeit they layde no handes on their gowdes.

17 (This they did) on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the ſame moneth reſted they, which day they helde with feaſting and gladneſſe.

18 But the Iewes that were at Suſan came togither, both on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth: and on the fifteenth day of the ſame they reſted, and held that day with feaſting and gladneſſe.

19 And therefore the Iewes that dwelt in the villages and vnwalled townes, helde the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with gladneſſe and feaſting, and kept holy day, and euery one ſent preſents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mardocheus wrote theſe wordes, and ſent letters vnto all the Iewes that were in al the prouinces of king Ahaſuerus, both nie and farre:

21 That they ſhoulde make a lawe among D themſelues, and holde the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the moneth Adar, yearely.

22 As the dayes wherein the Iewes came to reſt from their enimies, and as a moneth wherein their paine was turned to ioy, and their ſorow into a ioyfull day: and that in thoſe dayes they ſhoulde make feaſtes and gladneſſe, and one to ſende gyftes vnto an other, and to diſtribute vnto the poore.

23 And the Iewes promiſed to doe as they had begun, and as Mardocheus had written vnto them:

24 Becauſe Haman the ſonne of Hamadatha the Agagite, all the Iewes enimie, had deuiſed againſt the Iewes howe he might deſtroy them, and cauſed to caſt Phur (that is a lot) for to conſume them, and to bring them to nought.

25 But when Eſther came before the king, hee commaunded by letters, that his wicked deuice, which he imagined againſt the Iewes, ſhoulde bee turned vpon his owne heade, and that he and his ſonnes ſhoulde be hanged on the tree.

26 For the whiche cause they called these dayes Phurim, bycause of the name of the lot, and bycause of all the wordes of this writyng, and what they themselues had seene, and what had come vnto them:

27 And the Iewes ordeyned, and toke it vpon them and their seede, and vpon all suche as ioyned themselues vnto them, that they would not misse, but obserue these two dayes yearly, accordyng as they were written, and appoynted in theyr season,

28 And that these dayes are to be remembred, and to bee kept of childers children among all kynredes in al landes and Cities, in these dayes of Phurim, which are not to be ouerslipt among the Iewes, and the memoriall of them ought not to perish from their seede.

29 And Queene Esther the daughter of Abihail, and Mardocheus the Iewe, wrote with all authoritie, to confirme this seconde writyng of Phurim.

30 And he sent the letters vnto al the Iewes, to the hundred twentie and seuen prouinces of the Empyre of Ahasuerus, with wordes of peace and truth:

31 To confirme these dayes of Phurim in theyr tyme appointed, accordyng as Mardocheus the Iew, and Esther the Queene had appoynted them: and they bounde theyr soule, and their seede, to fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Esther confyrmed these wordes of Phurim, and was written in the booke, 33 And the king Ahasuerus layde tribute vpon the lande, and vpon the Iles of the sea.

34 And all the actes of his power and of his might, & the declaration of the dignitie of Mardocheus wherewith the king magnified him, be they not written in the bookes of the Chronicles of the kings of Medes and Persia?

35 For Mardocheus the Iewe, was the seconde next vnto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Iewes, and accepted among the multitude of his brethren, as one that seeketh the wealth of his people, and speaketh peaceably for all his seede.

1 IN the land of (a) Hus there was a man, whose name was Iob, (b) and the same was a perfect and iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

2 And he had seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

3 His (c) substance also was seuen thousande sheepe, and three thousande Camels, fiue hundred yoke of Oxen, and fiue hundred shee asses, And a very great houshoulde: so that hee was one of the most principall "men among al them of the East (d) (countrey.

4 And his sonnes went and (e) banqueted in their houses, euerie one his day, and sent for theyr three systers to eate and drynke with them.

5 And when the dayes of theyr banqueting were gone about, Iob sent (f) and sanctifyed them, and gate vp earely, and (g) offered for euerie one a burnt offering: for Iob sayde, It may be that my sonnes haue done some offence, and haue bene (h) vnthankefull to God in their heartes. Thus did Iob euery day.

6 And

a. Hus is a region nere bordering vpon Idumea, so called of Hus the sonne of Aram, for that hee buylt two cities there, Damascus, and Thracosite.

b. This Iob was a gentile, declaring hereby, that God hath his euen among the heathen.

c. His riches are recited, to shew his great pacience in losse of them, and that ryches are the blessing of God, and are not euill to them that vseth them well. Let not riches bee accounted euill, for they are giuen to good men: let not them be accounted high or excellent, for they are gyuen to euil men: they are taken from good men to try them, and from euill men to plague them.

"Heb. phrase childzen.

d. As well Arabians, Chaldeans, Idumeans, as others.

e. To shewe the concorde and brotherly amitie of Iobs children, which also was another part of the blessing of God, and his felicitie.

f. That is, he willed them to be sanctified in abstayning from carnall appetites, and shewed how they shoulde behaue themselues holyly and soberly in their banquets.

g. Herein is Iobs religion and feare of God knowne, and the fatherly care of his children expressed.

h. The Hebrue is, blesse God, whiche is somtimes taken for to curse or blaspheme.

6 And vppon a day when the (i) children of God came and ſtode before the Lord, Satan came alſo among them.

7 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan (k) Whence commeſt thou? Satan anſwered the Lorde, and ſayde, (l) From compaſſing the earth to and fro, and from walkyng thrugh it.

8 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan, Haſt thou not conſidered my ſeruant Iob, howe there is none like him in the earth? a perfect and a iuſt man, one that feareth God, and eſchewth euill?

9 Satan anſwered and ſaid vnto the Lord, Doth Iob feare God for nought?

10 Haſt thou not "preſerued him and hys houſe, and all that he hath, on euerie ſyde? Thou haſt bleſſed the worke of his handes, and his poſſeſſion is increaſed in the lande.

11 But lay thine hande nowe vpon hym, and touch all that he hath, and he ſhall (m) curſe thee to thy face.

12 And the Lord ſayd vnto Satan, Loe, (n) all that he hath be in thy "power, onely vpon him ſelf ſee thou lay not thine hand. And Satan went forth from the preſence of the Lorde.

13 And vppon a certaine daye, when hys ſonnes and daughters were eating and drinking Wine in theyr eldeſt brothers houſe, 14 There came a meſſenger vnto Iob, and ſayde, The Oxen were plowing, and the Aſſes feeding beſide them:

15 (o) And the Sabees came violently and toke them away, yea, they haue ſlaine thy ſeruantes with the edge of the ſworde: and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came another, and ſayde, the fire of God is fallen from heauen, and hath brent vp thy ſheepe and ſeruants, and conſumed them: and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

17 And while hee was yet ſpeaking, there came another, and ſayd, The Caldees made out theyr bandes, and fel vpon the Camels, and haue caryed them awaye, yea, and ſlayne thy ſeruauntes wyth the ſworde: and I onely am gotten away alone to tell thee.

18 And while hee was yet ſpeaking, there came another, and ſayde, Thy ſonnes and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe, 19 And beholde, there came a mighty great winde from beyonde the wilderneſſe, and ſmote the foure corners of the houſe, whiche fell vpon thy children, and they are dead: and I am gotten away alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob ſtode vp, and (p) rent his clothes, and ſhaued his head, fell downe vpon the grounde, worſhipped, 21 And ſayd, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked ſhall I turne thyther againe: The Lorde gaue, and the Lorde hath taken awaye, bleſſed bee the name of the Lorde.

22 In (q) all theſe things did Iob not offende, nor charged God fooliſhly.

The. ij. Chapter.

6. Satan hath permiſsion to afflict Iob. 9. His wife tempteth him to forſake God. 11. His three friendes viſite him.

1 AND on a day the (a) children of God came and ſtode before the Lorde, and Satan came alſo among them, and ſtode before the Lorde.

2 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan, From whence commeſt thou? Satan anſwered the Lorde, and ſayde, I haue gone about the lande, and walked thrugh it.

3 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan, Haſte thou not conſidered my ſeruant Iob? how there is none like vnto him in the earth, a perfect and a iuſt man? one that feareth God, and eſchewth euill, and continueth ſtill in his vprightneſſe, although thou mouedſt mee agaynſt him, to (b) deſtroy him without cauſe?

4 And Satan anſwered the Lorde, and ſayde, (c) Skinne for skinne, yea a man wil giue al that euer he hath for his life.

5 But lay thine hand now vpon him, and touche (once) his bone and his fleſh, and hee ſhall curſe thee to thy face.

6 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hande, but (d) ſaue his life.

7 So went Satan forth from the preſence of the Lorde, and ſmote Iob with ſore byles, from the ſole of his foote, vnto his crowne.

8 And he toke a potſharde to ſcrape him: and he ſate downe among the aſhes.

9 Then ſayde his wife vnto him, (e) Doeſt thou continue yet in thy perfectneſſe, curſe God, and die.

10 But he ſayd vnto hir, Thou ſpeakeſt lyke a fooliſh woman: ſhall we (f) receyue good at the hande of God, and not receyue euill? In all theſe things did not Iob ſinne with his lippes.

11 Now

i. In this place not onely angels but euery godly perſon, is taken for Gods childe, of whiche God hath a tenier care as a louing father.

k. God asketh the queſtion, not that hee was ignorant from whence he came, but in the weakneſſe of man.

l. This is Satans onely endeuour, to rage abrode as a roring lion, ſeeking whom he may deuoure.

"Heb. Made a hedge about him.

m. The Hebrue is, bleſſe thee, as it is before taken, the fifth verſe, to curſe.

n. Here is ſeene that the diuil hath no power at all ouer man, vnleſſe God permit him.

"or, hande.

o. That is, the Arabians, ſo called of Sheba the ſonne of Reima, of whom Arabia felix was named the region of Saba.

p. Not that he was vnpacient, but he woulde not haue any thing remaine with him, which was deliuered into the power of Satan.

q. Declaring that all that God doth, is well done.

a. Wherein is conteyned as wel all godly and vpright perſons, as angels, as it is taken in the chapter before.

b. Not but that he deſerued plague for his offence, being vnder the law: but for that he was renued and purified by fayth, and by the innocencie of Chriſt, all ſuch puniſhments were vnworthily executed on him, as not deſerued.

c. Skinne for skinne: that is, a man wil offer to danger the skin of an other, rather than to venture his owne: for as a man wil ieopard his worſt goodes to ſaue his better: as to obiect, his arme to the ſtroke to ſaue his head: & as the Mariner in tempeſt will caſt out his goodes out of the ſhip to ſaue his life: ſo would Iob beare the loſſe of his childrēs skinnes, liues, and bodies in pacience, rather than pacientlye to ſuffer his owne skinne and bodie to be touched: and therefore ſayth the deuill, Touch him on his owne skinne, and thou ſhalt ſee that he will to thy face curſe thee.

d. Declaring that in all affliction, there are certaine boundes and limites, beyonde the which Satan can not goe.

e A cruel temptation of an euill and vngodly wife.

f. Teaching that we ought to reioyce in Gods gifts when he ſendeth them, & be thankful, and to be pacient when he taketh thē againe, & not to diſpaire.

g. That is, true friendshippe which bydeth as well in aduersitie as in prosperitie: and as in prosperitie to reioyce with him: so in aduersitie to lament with him.

h. Which was a custome when great sorow was declared, shewing their humblenesse, that from the dust they came, and thither they shal returne.

«Heb. To=warde the heauen.

11 Nowe (g) when Iobs three friends heard of all the trouble that came vpon him, they came euery one from his own place (namely) Eliphas the Themanite, Bildad the Suhite, and Sophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to shewe their compassion vppon him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lyft vp their eyes a farre off, they knewe him not: then they cryed and wept, and euerie one of them rent his clothes, and sprinckeled (h) dust vpon their heades in "the ayre.

13 They sate them downe by him also vpon the ground seuen dayes and seuen nightes, and none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe that his griefe was verie great.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. Iob complayneth and curseth the daye of his byrth. 11. He desireth to die, as though death were the ende of all mans miserie.

a. That is, after that seuen dayes were fully finished.

b. Iob being sore afflicted in the flesh, seemeth after a sort to yeeld to it, breaking out into these wordes, bycause he sawe that that day was the beginning of al these afflictions.

c. He cursed not his dayes bicause he was weery of it, as one desperate, but rather wishing to be dissolued, least by farther troubles he should be forced to offend God.

«Heb. Cwp=light.

d. The Hebrue speach is, the eye liddes of the morning.

1 After (a) this opened Iob his mouth, and curséd his day.

2 And Iob answered and sayde,

3 Let (b) the day perishe wherein I was borne, (c) and the night in the which it was sayde, There is a man childe conceyued.

4 The same day bee (turned to) darkenesse, and not regarded of God from aboue, neyther let the light shine vpon it:

5 But let it be stayned with darkenesse, and the shadow of death, let the (dimme) clonde fall vpon it, which may make it terrible as a most bitter day.

6 Let the dark stormie ouercome that night, and let it not bee ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeare, nor counted in the number of the monethes.

7 Desolate bee that night, and wythoute gladnesse.

8 Let them that curse the day, and that bee readie to rayse vp mourning, giue it also their curse.

9 Let the starres of that "night be dimme through darknesse of it, let it looke for light, but haue none, (d) neither let it see the dawning of the day:

10 Bycause it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hidde sorowe from mine eyes.

11 (Alas) why dyed I not in the byrth? why did not I perish as sone as I came out of (my mothers) wombe?

12 Why set they me vpon their knees? why gaue they me sucke with their brestes?

13 Then shoulde I nowe haue lyen still, I shoulde haue slept and bene at rest.

14 Like as the Kings and "Lordes of the earth, whiche haue buylded them selues "speciall places,

15 Or as the princes that haue had gold, and their houses full of siluer:

16 Or (why) was not I hid, as a thing born out of time, (either) as yong childzen which neuer sawe the light?

17 There (e) muste the wicked ceasse from their tyranny, and there such as laboured valiantly be at rest:

18 There the (f) prysoners rest together, they heare no more the voyce of the oppressour:

19 There are small and great, and the seruant (is) free from his maister.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and life vnto them that haue heauie heartes,

21 Which long for death, and finde it not, thoughe they searche more for it, than for treasures:

22 Which reioyce exceedingly, and be glad when they can finde the graue,

23 From whom their endes are hid and concealed by God?

24 For my sighes come before I eate, and my rorings are powred out lyke the water:

25 For the thing that (g) I feared is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afrayde of, is happened vnto me.

26 Was I not happie? had I not quietnes? Was I not in rest? And nowe commeth such miserie vpon me.

«Heb. counsellors.

«Heb. desolate.

e. That is, death is the ende and helpe frō the tyrannie & wickednesse of them.

f. Here Iob declareth the sore plagues he bare, counting himselfe in worse state, than the vilest persons and bonde prisoners: of which cares after opinion of the flesh, he accepteth death the onely ende.

g. That is, aduersity, which being in prosperitie he feared.

The. iiij. Chapter.

5. Iob is reprehended of impatiencie, 7. and vniustice, 17. and of the presumption of his owne righteousnesse.

a. Bycause of thy sore affliction, and thy impacience.

b. Meaning, thou hast holpen and cōforted many in miserie, and canst thou not rule thy selfe nowe?

c. As cōcluding him to be but an hypocrite.

d. This is Eliphas his carnal reason, but innocents perish not, but are afflicted, they are not ouerthrowne, but they are oppressed. Abel was slaine, but he died not. Iob was afflicted, but he perished not.

1 And Eliphas the Themanite answered and sayde,

2 If wee assaye to come with thee, wylt thou be discontent? (a) But who can withholde himselfe from speaking?

3 Beholde, thou hast beene an instructer of many, and hast strengthned the (b) wearie handes:

4 Thy wordes haue set vp him that was falling, thou hast refreshed the weake knees.

5 But (c) nowe it is come vpon thee, and thou art greeued: it toucheth thee and thou art troubled.

6 Was not thy feare according to thy hope? and the perfectnesse of thy wayes, according to thy expectation?

7 Consider I pray thee, who euer perished (d) being an innocent? or when were the godly destroyed?

8 For

8 For as I haue proued by experience they that plowe iniquitie, and sowe wretchednesse reape the same.

9 With the blast of God they perishe, with the breath of his nostrels are they consumed away.

10 The roring of the Lion, and the voyce of the Lion, and the teeth of the Lions whelps are pulled out.

11 The (e) Lion perisheth for lack of pray, and the Lions whelpes are scattered abrode.

12 But whereas a thing was (f) hidde from me, yet myne eare hath receyued a litle therof.

13 In the thoughts and visions of the night, when sleepe commeth on men, 14 (g) Feare came vpon me, and dread, which made all my bones to shake.

15 The winde passed by before my presence, & made the heares of my flesh to stande vp.

16 Hee stode thereon, and I (h) knewe not his face, an Image there was before mine eyes, and in the stilnesse heard I a voyce.

17 Shall (i) man be more iust than God? or shall a man be purer than his maker?

18 Beholde, he founde not truth in his seruants, and in (k) his angels there was folly:

19 Howe muche more in them that dwel in (l) houses of clay, and whose foundation is but dust, which shal be consumed as it were with a moth?

20 They shal be smitten (m) from the morning vnto the euening: yea, they (n) shall perishe for euer, when no man regardeth them.

21 Is not their royaltie gone away with them? they shal die truely, and not in wisdome.

e. That is, god will punish tyrans, which are compared to Lions, although men neglecting their office, do make at them.

f. Here Eliphas sheweth the maner of diuine reuelation by the holy ghost, saying that that which he will now declare, is not humaine reason, but as reuealed vnto him from god.

g. Always feare commeth with such reuelations from God, to shewe the reuerence and authoritie of them.

h. This is the description of the winde, not knowing from whence it cōmeth, or whyther it will, as Saul also heard a voyce, but sawe not any man.

i. This is Eliphas weake argument, to proue Iob an euil man, bicause God plagued him, or else if God afflicted innocents, cannall reason would iudge the creature more iust, than the creator, which is blasphemy, for God ofte punisheth the righteous to proue them.

k. Take from Gods children, and the angels that which is Gods, and they are altogither vnperfect and foolish.

l. Meaning mans body, which is nothing but dust and clay.

m. This expresseth mans short life, & the dangers & miseries in the same.

n. O mans blindnesse, that seeth not his owne miserie.

The.v. Chapter.

1.2. Eliphas sheweth the difference betweene the children of God and the wicked. 3. The fall of the wicked. 9. Gods power, who destroieth the wicked, and defeateth his.

1 CRie, (a) I pray thee, if there will bee any that will answere thee, and loke thou vpon any of the holy.

2 As for the foolish man, wrathfulnesse killeth him, and enuie slayeth the ignorant.

a. Another argument of Eliphas against Iob, that he cā not be godly: for none of the good and godly men were euer so afflicted: agaynst which sore temptations, we haue onely to comfort our selues, Whom the father loueth, him he doth correct: the Lord is nigh to them that are of a contrite heart. &c.

3 I haue seene my selfe when the (b) foolish was deepe rooted, and (c) soodenly I cursed his habitation.

4 His children were without prosperitie, and they were slaine (d) in the gate, and there was no man to deliuer them.

5 His haruest was eaten of the hungry, and taken from among the thornes, and the thirstie dronke vp their labour: It is not the earth that bringeth forth iniquitie,

6 Neyther commeth sorowe out of the (e) grounde:

7 But man is borne vnto labour, (f) like as the sparkes flee vp (out of the hote coles)

8 But (g) I would aske counsel at the Lord, and talke with God:

9 Whiche doeth great things and vnsearchable, (and) maruels without number.

10 Hee gyueth rayne vppon the earth, and powreth water vpon the streetes, 11 To set vp them that bee of lowe degree, and that those whiche are in heauinesse, may be exalted to saluation.

12 He destroyeth the deuices of the subtill, so that their handes are not able to perfourme that which they do enterprise.

13 Hee compasseth the wyse in their owne craftinesse, and maketh foolish the counsell of the wicked.

14 They runne into (h) darknesse by fayre day, and grope at the noone day, as in the night.

15 But hee delyuereth the (i) poore from the swoorde, from their threatnings, and from the violence of the mightie.

16 He is the hope of the poore, and the mouth of the wicked shall be stopped.

17 Beholde, blessed is the man whom God correcteth, therefore refuse not thou the chastening of the almightie:

18 For he maketh a wounde, and he healeth: he smyteth, and his hande maketh whole againe.

19 He shall deliuer thee in (k) sixe troubles, and in the seuenth there shall no euil come to thee.

20 In hunger he shall saue thee from death, and when it is warre, from the power of the swoorde.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and when destruction commeth, thou shalt not neede to feare.

22 In destruction and dearth, thou shalt be merie, and shalt not be afrayd of the beasles of the earth.

b. Eliphas reprehendeth again Iob sorely bycause the same hath happened vnto him that doth fall vpon the wicked.

c. That is, I was perswaded, that God had cursed him and al his, whereby it grieued not me to see his prosperitie.

d. That is, by publique iudgement condemned, which was vsed to be done in the gates of the cities.

e. Declaring that it is not of the earth that barrennesse and afflictions do arise, neither is it by any externe things, but onely such aduersitie falleth for mans offence, wherof he is the authour.

f. Wherein is the signe of our corrupt nature, euen from the fall of Adam.

g. If I were in thy case, I woulde craue helpe of God sayth Eliphaz.

h. That is, in things manifest and plaine, they want godly wisedome and grace to see.

i. That is, from the crueltye of the wicked, which is compared to the swoorde.

k. Alluding to the syxe dayes of gods first worke, and the seuenth day he rested, meaning, that of all thy cares and troubles, God will delyuer thee, and bryng thee to rest as in the seuenth day.

l. Shewing, that when we haue God our friend, al creatures of his wil serue to our good.

23 for the (l) stones of the lande shall be confederate with thee, and the beastes of the field shal be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt knowe that thy dwelling place shal be in rest, and thou shalt visite thy habitation, and shalt (m) not sinne.

m. Shalt not be offended at any thing, and here followeth the exceeding great blessings of God toward his.

25 Thou shalt see also, that thy seede shal be great, and thy posteritie as the grasse vpon the earth.

26 Thou shalt come also to thy graue in a full age, like a corne sheafe cut downe in due season.

27 Loe, this we our selues haue proued by experience, and euen thus it is: Hearken thou to it also, that thou mayest take heede to thy selfe,

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Iob answereth, that his paine is more greeuous than his fault. 8. He wisheth death. 14. He complayneth of his friendes.

I 1 BVt Iob answered and sayde.

a. Meaning, that his troubles are excessiue, and vnmeasurable, as the sandes of the sea.

2 O that my complaynt were (a) truly wayed, and my punishment layde in the ballances togither:

3 For nowe it woulde be heauyer than the sande of the sea: and this is the cause, that my wordes fayle me.

b Declaring that he was not afflicted onely bodily, but also prickt in his conscience.

4 For the arrowes of the almightie are vpon me, the poyson thereof hath drunke vp my spirite, and the terrible (b) feares of God are set agaynst me.

c. As though he had sayd, I crie not without cause, seing neyther the wilde Asse nor the Oxe doe crie when they want not.

5 Doth the (c) wilde Asse rore when he hath grasse? or loweth the Oxe when hee hath fodder (ynough?)

d. Can wee beare tribulations that are vnsauerie and vnpleasant.

6 That which is vnsauerie, (d) shall it bee eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

e. Meaning, that he had rather die, than to denie the wordes of the holy one, that is, thā through his impatience to distrust in gods promise.

7 The things that sometyme I might not away withall, are now my meate for very sorow.

f. Fearing least he should not be able to beare his afflictions to the ende, if they should long continue.

8 O that I might haue my desire, and that God woulde graunt me the thing that I long for:

9 O that God would begin and smite me, that he would let his hande go, and take me cleane away:

10 Then shoulde I haue some comfort, yea I woulde desire him in my payne, that hee woulde not spare, (e) for I will not bee against the wordes of the holy one.

11 (f) For what power haue I to endure? And what is mine ende, "that my soule might be patient?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so that there is in me no helpe? and that my "substance is taken from me?

" or, strength, wisedome, or lawe.

14 Hee that is in tribulation, ought to bee comforted of his neighbour: but the feare of the almightie is cleane away.

g. For as the brook rusheth with vehemencie, and passeth by the places neare it: so they haue obrayed me, and rushed on me with indignation, and now haue forsaken me.

15 Myne owne brethren passe ouer by mee (g) as the water broke, and as the ouerflowing of waters, whiche doe hastily goe away, 16 Which are blackishe by reason of the yce, and wherein the snowe is hidde.

17 Which when they haue passed by, doe banishe, and when the heate commeth, they sayle out of their place.

h. Thema was one of the twelue princes of Israel, and inhabited the south part of Arabia, of whō the region was called Themi.

18 They departe from the course of their wonted chanell to other places, they runne in vaine and perish.

i. Scheba was the sonne of Reima, of whom Arabia Felix was called Saba.

19 They that went to (h) Theman consydered them, and they that went to (i) Saba, wayted for them.

20 But they were confounded in their hope, they came thither and were ashamed.

21 Euen such truely are ye, nowe that ye see my miserie, ye are afrayde.

D 22 Did I desire you to bring vnto me, or to giue me any of your substance?

23 To deliuer me from the enimies hande, or to saue me from the hande of the tyrannts?

24 Teach me, and I wil holde my tongue: and wherein I haue erred, cause mee to vnderstande.

25 Howe strong are the wordes of truth? and whiche of you can rebuke or reproue them?

k. Doe ye go about by your taunts to make me deeme that I speake fondly, bycause I am in this miserable state.

26 Doe ye imagine to reproue (k) wordes, that the talke of the afflicted shoulde bee as the winde?

l. To consider my cause whether I faine or no.

27 Ye fall vpon the fatherlesse, and dig a pit to ouerthrow your owne friend.

28 And therefore bee content, and (l) looke nowe vpon mee, and I will not lye before your face.

" Hebre. Let there be nowe iniquitie.

29 Turne, I pray you, "be indifferent iudges: turne againe, and ye shall see mine vnrighteousnesse, whether there be any vnrighteousnesse in my tongue, or vaine wordes in my mouth.

The.vij. Chapter.

Iob sheweth the shortnesse and miserie of mans life.

I 1 IS there not an appoynted tyme to mā vpon earth? Are not his dayes also like the dayes of an (a) hyred seruant?

a. Meaning, that his cause is worse, than either the hireling or bondman.

2 For like as a bonde seruaunt desireth the shadow, and as an hyreling woulde faine haue the rewarde of his worke:

3 Euen so haue I laboured whole monethes long

" Hebre. If I shoulde prolong my life.

long in vaine, and many a carefull nyght haue I tolde.

4 When I layd me downe to sleepe, I said, O when shall I aryse? and (b) measuring the euening, I am euen full with tossing to and fro, vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesshe (c) is clothed with wormes, and dust of the earth: my skinne is withered, and becom horrible.

6 My dayes passe ouer more speedily, than a weauers shuttle, and are spent withoute hope.

7 (d) O remember that my lyfe is but a winde, and that mine eye shall no more see pleasures.

8 Yea, and the eye that hath seene me, shall see me no more: for yet thou (e) fasten thine eye vpon me, I come to nought.

9 The cloude is consumed and banished away: so he that goeth downe to the graue, (f) shall come no more vp,

10 Nor turne againe into his house, neyther shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore (g) I wil not spare my mouth, but I will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitternesse of my mind.

12 Am (h) I a sea, or a whale fishe, that thou keepest me (so) in prison?

13 When I say, My bed shall comfort me, I shall haue some refreshing by talking to my selfe vpon my couch:

14 Then fearest thou mee (i) with dreames, and makest me so afrayde through visions, 15 That my soule wisheth rather to perishe and die, than my bones to remaine.

16 I can see no remedie, I shal liue no more: (k) O spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

17 What (l) is man that thou doest magnifie him? and that thou settest thy heart vpon him?

18 Thou visitest him earely, and euery day, euery moment doest thou trie him.

19 Why (m) goest thou not fro me, nor lettest me alone, so long til I may swalow down my spittle?

20 I (n) haue offended, what shall I do vnto thee, O thou preseruer of menne? Why hast thou set me (as a marke) against thee, so that I am a burthen to my selfe?

21 Why doest thou not pardon my trespasses, and take away mine iniquitie? Behold, nowe must I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me to morow in the morning, (o) I shall not be.

A. Declaring his sore paynes in that eche behoue was lothsome and grieuous vnto him. B. Hereby hee sheweth why he was so disposed in that his disease was verie straunge, and horrible. C. Iob seeing the shortnes of mans life, that it is but a vapour, & passeth away as the wind, desireth god to remember it, and to spare him, otherwise hys sinful neuer see felicitie. D. That is, taken thy iudgement, whiche is so heauie, that I cannot beare it. E. Before the generall iudge ment. F. That is, seeing my life vanisheth as the wind, and that there is no returne after death, I wil refresh my selfe by expressing the griefes of my burdened minde. G. As though he should say to God, I am no mightie creature, able to trouble or disquiet any, as the whale in the sea: but am a poore wretch why then plagest thou me so sore? H. That is, I am in extreme affliction continually night and day. I. Seeing I haue so little time to liue, giue me some rest. K. As though Iob had sayde there is no cause why thou shouldest extreme man. L. Iob beginneth to be dead.

The. viij. Chapter.

Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, bycause God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

1 THen answered Bildad the Suhite, I and sayde,

2 Howe long wylt thou talke of suche things? howe long shal the wordes of thy mouth be as a mightie winde?

3 Doth God peruert the thing that is lawful? or doth the almightie destroy the thing that is right?

4 For seeing that (a) thy sonnes sinned agaynst him, did not he sende them into the place of their iniquitie?

5 If thou wouldest nowe resort vnto God betimes, & make thy prayer to the almighty,

6 If thou wouldest liue a pure and godly life: should he not awake vp vnto thee immediately, and make the habitation of thy righteousnesse prosperous?

7 Insomuch, that wherein soeuer thou haddest little afore, thou shouldest haue nowe great abundance.

8 Enquyre I pray thee, (b) of the former age, and searche diligentlye among theyr fathers:

9 (For we are but of (c) yesterday, and consider not, that our dayes vpon earth, are but a shadow.)

10 Shall not they shewe thee, and tell thee, yea and gladly confesse the same, and vtter the wordes of their heart?

11 May a (d) rushe be greene without moisture? or may the grasse growe wythout water?

12 No, but whilest it is nowe in his greenenesse, though it be not cut downe, yet wythereth it before any other hearbe:

13 So are the pathes of all that forget God, and the (e) hypocrites hope shall come to naught.

14 His confidence shall be destroyed, and his trust shall be a (f) Spiders webbe.

15 He shall leane vpon his house, but it shal not stande: he shall holde him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 It is a greene (tree) (g) before the sunne, and shooteth forth the braunches ouer hys garden.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountayne, and are folden about the house of stones.

18 If (h) any plucke it from his place, and it denie, saying I haue not seene thee:

a. And therefore are iustly plagued, but thou rather art more bound to god, bycause he hath gyuen thee space to repent. b. Here Bildad confirmeth his sayings, by the authoritie of the fathers. c. That is, lately borne, and therefore our sayings haue lesse authoritie, wherby is shewed the shortnesse of mans life, which though it be neuer so long, yet it is but as yesterday, and as a shadow vanisheth. d. Meaning, that as a rushe without moysture cannot grow: so can not an euil mā liue without repentance moysted with Gods grace. e. As Bildad argueth, Iob should also if he so continue murmuring against God as an hypocrite, counting himselfe faultlesse, and not repenting. f. Which is spunne to day and to morow swept away, wherto is likened the house of the wicked, his riches, and his substance. g. That is, the wicked florish, till Gods diuine iudge-

m. Why doest thou not ceasse to punishe me. o. For I shall be ment fall on them. h. If God shall afflict him.

i. Bildad concludeth that Iob is not iuſt, but is plagued for his offences, perſwading him therefore to repentance: for god would not thus caſt him away if he were iuſt.

"or, take the vngodly by the hande.

19 Beholde, it will reioyce by this meanes, if it may growe in another moulde.

20 Beholde, God (i) will not caſt away a vertuous man, neyther wil he "helpe the vngodly.

21 Thy mouth ſhall bee fill with laughing, and thy lippes with gladneſſe.

22 They alſo that hate thee, ſhall be clothed with ſhame, and the dwelling of the vngodly ſhall come to nought.

The. ix. Chapter.

Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteouſneſſe is nothing.

1 IOb (a) anſwered: and ſayde,

2 I knowe it is ſo of a truth: For howe may a man (compared) vnto God, be iuſtified?

3 If he wil argue with him, hee cannot anſwere him (b) one thing of a thouſande.

4 He is wiſe in hart and mighty in ſtrength: (c) who hath bene fearce agaynſt him, and hath proſpered?

5 He tranſlateth the mountaynes, or euer they be aware, it is he that ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 Hee remoueth the earth oute of hir place, that the pillers thereof ſhake withal.

7 He commaundeth the Sunne, and it ryſeth not: he cloſeth vp the ſtarres, as vnder a ſignet.

8 He himſelfe alone ſpreadeth out the heauens, and goeth vpon the "waues of the ſea.

9 He maketh the waynes of heauen (d) the Orion, the ſeuen ſtarres, and the ſecrete places of the ſouth.

10 He doeth great things and vnſearchable, yea and wonders without number.

11 Loe, (e) when he goeth by me, I ſhal not ſee him, and when hee paſſeth, I ſhall not perceyue him.

12 If he bee haſtie to take away, who will make him (f) reſtore it? or who will ſaye vnto him, What doeſt thou?

13 God will not withdrawe his anger, and the moſt mightie helpes doe ſtowpe vnder him:

14 How much leſſe ſhall I anſwere him, or how ſhuld I find out my words with him?

15 For though I were righteous, yet might I not giue him one word again, but meekly ſubmit my ſelfe to him as my iudge.

16 If I had called vpon him, and he had anſwered me, (g) yet would I not beleue that he heard my voyce.

17 Hee troubleth mee ſo wyth the tempeſt, and woundeth me out of meaſure without a cauſe.

a. Anſwered to Eliphas and Bildads orations, confeſſing mans iuſtice to be nothing, being compared to God, as Elyphas ſayde in the fourth Chapter.

b. That is, he ſhal not be able to anſwere one thing for a thouſand, that god can charge him withal.

c. Here foloweth the infinite power of God, whereby doth appeare mans wickednesſe the more " or, heightes.

d. These be the names of certaine ſtarres, declaring that the powers of heauen are at his commaundement.

e. Though his wonderous workes be before mine eies yet am I not able to comprehende them.

f. Declaring that God doth al things iuſtly, and is vnſearchable in his doings, which not one can controll.

g. A miſerable caſe when man is brought to ſuch deſperation, whereas God himſelfe ſayth, before they crie I wil heare them.

18 He wyll not ſuffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesſe.

19 If (men will ſpeake) of ſtrength, loe hee is ſtrong: if (men will ſpeake) of iudgement, who ſhall bring me in to pleade?

20 If I will iuſtifie my ſelfe, myne owne mouth ſhall condemne me: if I will (put forth my ſelfe for) a perfect man, hee ſhall proue me a wicked doer.

21 For though I bee an innocent, and my cõſcience cleare, yet am I weary of my life.

22 This is one point, and therfore I ſayd, He D deſtroyeth both the perfect and vngodly.

23 And though hee ſlaye ſodenly wyth the ſcourge, yet wil he laugh at the puniſhment of the innocent.

24 As for the world, it is giuen ouer into the hande of the wicked, and he ſhall couer the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is he, or who is hee (that can ſhew the contrarie?

25 My dayes are more ſwift than a runner, they are gone, and haue ſeene no good thing.

26 They are paſſed away, as the ſhippes that be good vnder ſayle, and as the Eagle that flieth to the pray.

27 If I ſay, I wil forget my complaynyng, E I will ceaſſe from my wrath, and comfort my ſelfe:

28 Then am I afrayed of all my ſorowes, for I knowe that thou wylt not iudge mee innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why then (h) labour I in vaine?

30 If I waſhe my ſelfe with ſnowe water, and make my handes neuer ſo cleane at the Well:

31 Yet ſhalt thou "dip mee in the myre, and (i) mine owne clothes ſhall deſile me.

32 For hee that I muſt giue anſwere vnto, and with whome I goe to the lawe, is not a man as I am:

33 Neither is there any dayes man to lay his hande betweene vs.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, yea, let him make me no more afrayde of him, 35 And then ſhall I anſwere hym wythout any feare: but bycauſe I am not ſo, I hold me ſtill.

h. As if he had ſayde, If I be wicked, and ſhalbe iudged as the vngodly, why taryeſt thou ſo long to thruſt me into the grave, why do I hyde all this in vaine

" or, plunge me in the pit.

i. Shewing our righteouſneſſe before god to be nothing, but as defiled cloth.

The. x. Chapter.

1. Iob is wearie of his lyfe, and ſetteth oute his fragilitie before God. 20. He deſireth hym to ſtay his hande. 22. A deſcription of death.

1 MY (a) ſoule is cutte off though I liue, I wyll powre oute my complaynte agaynſt against my selfe and wyl speake out of the very heauinesse of my soule.

2 I will say vnto God, O (b) doo not condemne me, but shewe me, wherefore thou contendest so with me?

3 Thinkest thou it well done to oppresse me? to cast me off, beyng the workes of thy handes? and to (c) mainteyne the counsell of the vngodly?

4 Hast thou (d) fleshly eyes? or doest thou loke as a man loketh?

5 Or are thy dayes as the dayes of (e) man? and thy yeeres as mans yeeres?

6 That thou makest such inquisitiō for my wickednesse, and searchest out my sinne?

7 Whereas thou knowest (f) whether I shall doo wickedly or no, and that none can deliuer me out of thyne hande.

8 (g) Thy handes haue made me, and fashioned me altogether rounde about, wilt thou then destroy me?

9 Remember, I beseeche thee, that thou madest me as the moulde of the earth, and shalt bryng me into dust agayne.

10 Hast thou not powred mee as it were milke, and turned me to cruddes like cheese?

11 Thou hast couered me with skynne and flesh, and ioyned me together with bones and sinowes.

12 Thou hast graunted me life, and done me good: and thy visitation hath preserued my spirite.

13 Thou hast hyd these things in thine hart, (yet) I am sure that thou remembrest this thyng.

C 14 If I dyd sinne, thou haddest an eye vnto me, and shalt not pronounce me innocent from mine offence.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wo is me therfore: If I haue done righteously, yet (h) dare I not lift vp my head, so full am I of confusion, and see mine owne miserie.

16 And let it encrease, hunt me as a Lion, and returne and shew thy selfe marueylous vpon me.

17 Thou bringest fresh * witnesse against me, and thy wrath increasest thou vpon me: diuers and many are the plagues that I am in.

18 Wherefore hast thou brought me out of the wombe? O that I had perished, and that no eye had seene me, 19 And that I were, as though I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue.

20 Are not my dayes fewe? Let hym then leaue off from me, and let me alone, that I may comfort my selfe a litle,

D 21 Ere I go (thyther from whence) I shal not turne agayne, euen to the land of darknesse and shadowe of death:

22 Yea, a land as darke, as darkenesse it selfe is into the shadowe of death where is none order, but the light is there as darkenesse.

b. That is, in thy secrete iudgement do not lay things to my charge.
c. Wilt thou helpe the wicked, and leaue me destitute?
d. That is, art thou ignorant as man? and doest thou not know how it goeth with me?
e. That is, changeable, as though he would say, art thou not the same God that thou wast wont to be? merciful and good to Iob?
f. That is, I do not offend, by reason thou keepest one law in affliction.
g. Here Iob describeth gods maruelous works in mans creation.
h. That is, I wil walke in meeke humilitie.
* plagues.

The xi. Chapter.

1. Iob is vniustly reprehended of Sophar. 7. God is incomprehensible. 14. He is mercifull to the repentant. 18. Their assurance that liue godly.

1 Then answered Sophar the Naamathite, and sayde,

2 Shoulde not (he that maketh) many wordes (a) be answeared? shoulde he that babbleth much, be commended therfore?

3 Shoulde thy lies make men holde their peace, and when thou mockest (others) shal no man make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast sayde, (b) My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But (c) O that God woulde speake, and open his lippes against thee:

6 That he myght shewe thee the secretes of wysedome, how thou hast deserued double, according to right: Know therefore, that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquities.

7 Art thou able to finde out (the secretes of) God? or wilt thou attayne to the perfectnesse of the almightye?

8 It is (d) higher than heauen, what art thou able to do? deeper than the hell, howe wylt thou then know it?

9 The measure of it, is lōger than ẏ earth, and broder then the sea.

10 Though he turne at thinges vpside downe, close them in, gather them together, who will turne hym from his purpose?

11 For it is he that (e) knoweth vayne men, he seeth their wickednesse also, shoulde he not then consider it?

12 Yet vayne man woulde be wyse, though man (newe) borne, is lyke a wilde Asses coult.

13 If thou preparedst thyne hart, and lyftedst vp thyne handes towarde hym:

14 If thou wouldest put away the wickednesse which thou hast in hande, so that no vngodlynesse dwell in thy house:

15 Then mightest thou (f) lyft vp thy face without * shame, and then shouldest thou be sure, and haue no nede to feare.

16 Then shouldest thou forget thy miserie, and thinke no more vpon it, than vpon the waters that runne by.

17 Then should thy * lyfe be as cleare as the * or, age. noone day, thou shouldest shyne forth, and be as the morning.

a. For not he that speaketh much, but he that speaketh truly, speaketh well.
b. Here Sophar layeth to Iobs charge wordes, that he spake.
c. Sophar goeth about to proue Iob to be iustly plagued.
d. Iob is reproued in that he should report him self innocēt before God, which the thing he knoweth not, because gods secrete iudgement is vnsearchable.
e. Not onely the outward appearaūce, but euen the very thoughtes of the hart. Why should not the a vayne man be afraid to think euill, muche more to do it?
f. Such are the quiet mindes of those that truly repent.
* or, spottes.

18 Then mightest thou be bold, because there is hope, and take thy rest quietly, as compassed with a trenche.

19 Then mightest thou lie downe, and none to make thee afrayde, yea many one should make suyte vnto thee.

20 As for the eyes of the vngodly, they shall fayle, and they shall not escape: and their hope shal be sorowe of minde.

The.xij. Chapter.

1. Iob accuseth his friendes of ignorance. 7. He declareth the might and power of God. 17. And how he changeth the course of things.

1 SO Iob answeared, and sayde,

2 Then no doubt ye are the men (a) alone, and wisdome shall perish with you.

3 (b) But I haue vnderstandyng as well as ye, & am not inferiour to you: Yea who knoweth not these things?

4 I am as one mocked of hys neighbour, who calleth vpon God, & he heareth him: (c) The iust & the vpright, is laughed to scorne.

5 Eyen as a light (d) despised in the thoughtes of the riche, and as one ready to fal.

6 The houses of (e) robbers are in wealth and prosperitie, and they that malitiously meddle against God, dwell without care, in those things that God hath (f) giuen richly with his hande.

7 Aske the catayle, (g) and they shall enstourme thee: the foules of the ayre, and they shall tell thee.

8 Or the increase of the earth, and it shal shew thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall certifie thee.

9 What is he but he knoweth, that the hand of the Lorde made all these?

10 In whose handes is the (h) soule of euery liuyng thyng, & the breath of all mankind.

11 Haue not the eares (i) pleasure in hearing? and the mouth in tastyng the thyng that it eateth?

12 Among (k) olde persons there is wysedome, and in age is vnderstandyng.

13 Yea, with (God) is wisdome & strength, it is he that hath counsell & foreknowledge.

14 Beholde, (l) if he breake downe a thyng, who can set it vp againe? if he shut a thyng, who will open it?

15 Beholde, if he withholde the waters, they drye vp: if he let them goe, they destroy the earth.

16 With hym is strength and wysedome: both the deceyuer, and he that is deceyued, are hys.

17 He carieth away the wise men, as it were a spoyle, and bryngeth the iudges out of their wittes.

18 He taketh away the subiection of the people from their kynges, and gyrdeth their loynes with a bonde.

19 He leadeth away the great men into captiuitie, & turneth the mighty vpside downe.

20 He stoppeth the mouthe of them that speake truth, and dispoynteth the aged of their reason.

21 He powreth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mightie weake.

22 Loke what lieth hydde in darkenesse, he declareth it openly, and the very shadow of death, bryngeth he to light.

23 He (both) encreaseth the people, and destroyeth them, he maketh them to multiplie, and diminisheth them.

24 He taketh away the hart of them that be heades of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in the wildernesse out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light, and he maketh them to stacker lyke a drunken man.

The.xiij. Chapter.

1. Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16. The penitent shal be saued, and the hypocrite condemned. 20. He prayeth vnto God, that he would not handle him rygorously.

1 LOe, (a) all (this) haue I seene with mine eye, heard with mine eare, and vnderstande it.

2 What ye know, that same do I knowe also, neyther am I inferiour vnto you.

3 Neuertheles, I talke with the almighty, and my desire is to comune with God.

4 As for you, ye are workemaisters of lies, and (b) vnprofitable physitians altogether.

5 Would God ye kept (c) your tongue, for then might ye be taken for wise men.

6 Nowe heare my (d) reasonyng, and ponder the argument of my lippes.

7 Will you speake wickedly for goddes (defence) and talke deceitfully for his (cause?)

8 Will ye accept the person of him? or will ye

a. Nothing is more detestable before god than arrogancie, wherewith the three men before named, were infected.
b. This spake Iob in the spirite of humilitie, or els it had not bene wel spoken.
c. As though he should say, no marueyle though I be scorned, for euen the godly are mocked.
d. That is, as he that despiseth the light in the night season may soone stomble, so they that refuse the afflicted which shyne before Gods face, doo get to themselues his wrath to their perill.
e. The robbers are in prosperitie, & iust men in aduersitie, which Iob meaneth by the Arabians, that robbed him of his cattell, as before is sayde.
f. The Hebrues read, to whom God hath brought in with his hand.
g. For euen the catayle and al creatures do declare Gods power, as it is sayde, The heauens declare the glory of God, &c. h. For God doth not onely create his creatures, but also nourisheth, cherisheth, and preserueth them still. i. The answeare to Bildads obiection, Chap. 8. that though old men by experience growe wise, yet it is nothing in respect of gods wisedome. l. Here Iob proueth, that no thing is comparable to gods power, or can preuayle against it.

a. Meaning, I knowe the power of God aswel as you.
b. That is, you are vnmete for my disease, whiche seeke not the medicine to cure it, but rather to encreale it with your lies and tales to trouble me.
c. For the foole holdyng his peace, is counted wyse, as sayth Solomon.

ye contende for God?
9 Shall that helpe you when he calleth you to reckonyng? For as one man mocketh an other, so dow ye mocke him.
10 He shal punishe you, and reprowe you, if ye dow secretely accept any person.
11 Shall not hys excellencie make you afrayde? Shal not his terrible feare fall vpon you?
12 Your (c) remembraunce is lyke vnto a " sparke, and your bodyes like the clay.
13 Holde your tongues for my sake, that I also may speake, and my sorow shal be the lesse.
14 Wherefore dow I (f) beare my flesshe in my teeth, and (g) put my soule in mine handes?
15 Loe, though he slay me, yet will I trust in hym: but I will reprowe mine owne wayes in his sight.
16 He shall be my saluation: for there may no (h) hypocrite come before hym.
17 Heare diligently my wordes, and ponder my sayings with your eares.
18 Behold, now haue I prepared my iudgement, and knowe that I shal be founde (i) righteous.
19 What is he that wyl (k) goe to law with me? If I now holde my (l) tongue, I die.
20 Neuertheleſſe, (m) graunt mee two thyngs, and then wyll I not hyde my selfe from thee:
21 Withdrawe thyne hande from mee, and let not the feareful dread of thee make mee afrayde.
22 Then call, and I will answeare: or let me speake, and gyue me then an answeare.
23 Howe many are my misdeedes and sinnes? lette me knowe my transgressions and offences.
24 Wherefore hydest thou thy face, and holdest me for thyne enimie?
25 Wylt thou breake a leafe dryuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?
26 For thou layest sharply to my charge, and punishest me for the sinnes of my youth.
27 Thou puttest my feete also in the stockes, and lookest narowly vnto all my pathes, and markest the " pynt thereof in the heeles of my feete:

The, xiiij. Chapter.

1. Iob describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the lyfe, of man. 14. Hope sustayneth the godly. 22. The condition of mans lyfe.

1 MAn that is (a) borne of a woman, hath but a shorte tyme to liue, and is full of miserie.
2 He commeth vp, and is cut downe (b) like a flowre: he fleeth as it were a shadow, and neuer continueth in one state.
3 Doest thou (c) open thyne eyes vpon such one, and bryngest me into thy iudgement?
4 Who can make it cleane, that commeth of an vncleane thyng? no body.
5 The dayes of man surely are determined, the number of hys monethes are knowen onely vnto thee, thou hast appointed hym his bondes, whiche he can not go beyonde.
6 Goe from hym, that he may rest vntill his day come, whiche he loketh for, lyke as an hyrelyng doeth.
7 For if a tree be cut downe, there is (d) some hope yet that it wyl sproute and shoote forth the braunches agayne.
8 Though the rote of it be waxen old: and the stocke thereof be dead in the grounde:
9 Yet when it getteth the sent of water, it will budde and bryng forth bowes, lyke as a tree that is planted.
10 (e) But as for man, when he is dead, perished, and consumed away, what becommeth of hym?
11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the floud decayeth and driethvp:
12 So man, after he is aslepe, ryseth not, he shall not wake, till the heauens be nomore, nor ryse out of his sleepe.
13 O that thou wouldest hyde mee in the graue, and keepe me secrete, vntil thy wrath were past, and to appoynt me a time wherein thou mightest remember me.
14 May a dead man lyue agayne? All the dayes of my lyfe, wyl I wayte still, till my changyng shal come.
15 Thou shalt (f) call (me) and I shall answeare thee, " despise not thou the worke of thine owne handes.
16 For nowe thou (g) numbrest all my goings, and giuest no delay vnto my sinne.
17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as it were in a bagge, and thou addest (punishment) vnto my wickednesse.
18 The mountaynes fall away at the last, the rocke remoueth out of hys place.
19 The waters pearse through the very stones by litle and litle, the floudes washe away the grauel and earth: so shalt thou destroy the hope of man.

a. Here Iob describeth the miserie of ma.
b. This expresseth mans shortnesse of life, and the vnstablenesse thereof, being compared to a flowre, to a shadowe, and to the grasse in the fielde.
c. Meanyng, that seyng man is so fraile he shoulde not handle him so extreemely. Iob. 7. a d. He sheweth mans miserie the more, in that he maketh it in worse state than the tree cut down, whereof there is some hope that he will spring againe: but man once dead, recouereth no more.
e. Iob sayeth for this as hauing no hope of immortalitie, but as one sore tormented.

thyp or no, he can not tell: and if they be men of lowe degree, he knoweth not.

22 But whyle his flesh is vpon him, it muste haue sorowe: and hys soule shall mourne within hym.

The.xv.Chapter.

1. Eliphas reprehendeth Iob, bycause he ascribeth wysedome and pureneſſe to hym selfe. 16. He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of that number.

1 Then answeared Eliphas the Themanite, and sayde,

2 Shall a wyse mans answeare be as the wind, and fill a mans belly as it were with the (a) wynde of the east?

3 Shall he reprowue with a worde that is nothing worth, and speake the things which can do no good?

4 Surely thou haste casse off feare, and restraynest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth setteth forth thyne owne iniquitie, seyng thou hast chosen the tong of the craftie.

6 (b) Thine owen mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thyne owne lippes shape an answeare agaynst thee.

7 (c) Art thou the first man that euer was borne? or wast thou made before the hils?

8 Hast thou heard the secrete counsayle of God? and doest thou restrayne wisedome to thee?

9 What knowest thou, that we know not? and what understandest thou, but wee can the same?

10 With vs are bothe olde and aged men, yea suche as haue liued longer than thy father.

11 Thynkest thou it a small thyng of the consolations of God? with thee is a lying worde.

12 Why doeth thyne (d) harte so bewitche thee? And wherefore winckest thou with thine eyes, 13 That thy minde is so (e) pufft vp agaynst God, and lettest suche wordes gor out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and he whiche is borne of a woman, wherby he might be righteous?

15 Beholde, he doeth not trust hys sainctes, yea the very heauens are not cleane in hys sight:

16 Howe muche more then an abominable and vile man, whiche drinketh wickednesse lyke water.

17 I wyll tell thee, heare mee, and I wyll (f) shewe thee that I haue seene:

18 Whiche wyse men haue tolde, and haue not hyd that whiche they receyued frō theyr fathers.

19 Unto whom alone the earth was giuen, and no stranger went among them.

20 The (g) vngodly sorroweth all the dayes of his life, as it were a woman with childe, and the (h) number of a tyrantes yeeres is vnknowen.

21 A fearefull sounde is (euer) in hys eares, and when he is in peace, the destroyer shall come vpon hym.

22 He beleeueth neuer to be deliuered (i) out of darkenesse: for the swoorde is alwaies before his eyes.

23 He wandreth abroade for bread where it is, knowyng that the (k) day of darkenesse is ready at his hande.

24 Trouble and anguishe wyll make hym afrayde, and compasse him aboute, as is a kyng in the middest of an armie.

25 For he hath stretched out his hand against God, and armed hym selfe agaynst the almightie.

26 He runneth proudely vpon him, and with a stiffe necke fighteth he agaynst him.

27 Wheras he (l) coureth his face with fatnesse, and maketh his body well liking.

28 Therefore shall his (m) dwellyng be in desolate cities, and in houses whiche no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes of stones.

29 He (n) shall not be riche, neyther shall his substance continue, neyther shall the prosperitie therof be prolonged vpon earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkenesse, the flame (o) shall drye vp his branches, with the blast of the mouth (of God) shall he be taken away.

31 He beleeueth not that he erreth in vanitie, and yet vanitie shal be his recompence.

32 He shall perishe afore his time be worne out, and (p) his branche shal not be greene.

33 He shall be plucked off as an vntimely grape from the vine, and shal let his flowre fall as the Olyue doeth.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrites shal be desolate, & fyre shall consume the houses of such as are gredy to receiue gifts.

35 He cōceyueth trauayle, and beareth vanitie, and their body bringeth forth deceyte.

The.xvi.Chapter.

1. Iob moued by the importunacie of his frendes, 7. counteth in what extremitie he is, 19. and taketh God witnesse of his innocencie.

a. Woordes to no effect spoken, are likened to the east wynde, whiche drieth vp the moysture, as soone as it falleth: So foolish wordes vainly perishe, assoone as they be spoken.

b. Eliphas chargeth Iob vncharitably.

c. That is, art thou so auncient, that all wisedome is in thy head?

d. As one standing in thine owne conceite.

e. So reade, answering him at thy pleasure: the Hebrue is, answearyng him in thy spirite.

f. Eliphas endeuoureth to proue Iob wicked by the authoritie of the ancient fathers, bycause he is plagued as wicked men are wont.

g. Here he repeateth certein places of the Leuitical law for his proofe, which in deede the fathers spake, but did not vnderstād them as Eliphas did.

h. He shal be alwayes in feares, day and night, not knowyng any thing certaine.

i. That is, out of the troubles and feares, whiche fall vpon him.

k. The day of plagues and feares extreme.

l. That is, abundance of ryches hath made hym so proude, that he forgetteth God.

m. That is, he shal haue no certaine and sure place to dwel in.

n. Meanyng, though God permit him for a time to prosper, yet it shall not continue, but his prosperitie shal soone turne to miserie.

o. That is, such blessyng as God gaue him, shal be turned into cursing.

p. That is, His progenie or offpryng shall not continue.

16 Iob answeared, and sayde,
2 I haue oft tymes heard such things: (a) miserable gyuers of comfort are yee all the sort of you.
3 "Shal not vayne words come yet to an end? Or what maketh thee bolde so to answeare?
4 I could speake as ye dow also: but would God that your (b) soule were in my soules steede, then could I frame wordes for you, and shake my head at you:
5 I should comfort you with my mouth, and release your payne with the talkyng of my lippes.
6 For al my wordes, my sorow will not ceasse: and (c) though I holde my tongue, what am I eased?
7 But now that (God) hath sent me aduersitie, thou hast troubled al (d) my congregation.
8 And that thou (e) hast filled me with wrynkles my flesh is record, and my leanenesse riseth vp against me, and beareth witnesse thereof in my face.
9 His wrath hath torne (me,) he hateth me, and gnasheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enimie loketh fiercely vppon me with hys eyes.
10 They haue opened theyr mouthes wyde vpon me, and (f) smitten me vpon the cheeke dispytefully, they gather themselues together against me.
11 God hath shut me vp with the vngodly, and deliuered me (g) into the hands of the wicked.
12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the necke, he hath all to shaken me, and set mee as a marke for himselfe, 13 His (h) archers compasse me round about, he woundeth my reynes, & doeth not spare, my bowels hath he powred vppon the grounde.
14 He hath giuen me one wounde vpon another, and is fallen vpon me lyke a giant.
15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skin, and wallowed my head in the dust.
16 My face is wythered with weepyng, and in myne eyes is the shadow of death.
17 Howbeit, there is (i) no wickednesse in my hands, but (k) my prayer is cleane.
18 O earth couer not thou my blood, and let (l) my crying finde no rome.
19 For loe, (m) my witnesse is in heaue, and he that knoweth me, is in the heyght.
20 My friendes gyue me many wordes to scorne, and myne eye powreth out teares vnto God.
21 O that a body might pleate with God, as one man doeth with another:
22 Yet the number of my yeeres is come, & the way that I must goe is at hande, from whence I shall not turne agayne.

a. For they more bite him with cruell wordes, than comfort him.
"or, wordes of wynde.
b. Woulde ye suffered that which I suffer.
c. For God will haue his pleasure ouer me.
d. My household, children, and substance.
e. Not by reason of yeeres, but by reason of my griefe, shewyng his extreeme leanes.
f. That is, dispitefully buffeted me, which striking on the cheeke signifieth.
g. To proue him, & not to destroy him.
h. His plagues and afflictions wherewith he vexeth me.
i. And therfore the cause of my affliction vnknowen to me.
k. That is, without hypocrisie.
l. No place to be hid, but be knowen to all men.
m. I take God to recorde that I am innocent, though man blame me.

The.xvij. Chapter.

1. Iob sayeth that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abyde it. 10. He exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13. shewyng that he looketh but for death.

1 MY breath is corrupt, my dayes are shortned, I am harde at deaths dore.
2 (a) "Frowarde men are with mee, and mine eye must continue in the bitternesse of them.
3 O deliuer me, and (b) loke out one to be my suretie in thy sight: what is he that knoweth who will promyse for me?
4 For thou hast withholden their hartes (c) from vnderstandyng, therefore shalte thou not set (them) vp on high.
5 He that speaketh flatterie to his friende, the eyes of his chyldren shall fayle.
6 He hath made me a byworde of the people, where as afore I was theyr ioy.
7 Myne eye is dimme for very beauinesse, and al my strength is lyke a shadowe.
8 Vertuous men therfore shall well consider this, and the innocent shall take parte agaynst the hypocrite.
9 The righteous also wyll (d) keepe hys way, and he that hath cleane handes wil euer be stronger and stronger.
10 As for all you, turne you, and "get you hence (I pray you) seeyng I can not finde one wyse man among you.
11 My dayes are paste, and my counsayles and thoughtes of my harte are banished away, 12 (e) Changyng the night into day, and the light approchyng into darkenesse.
13 (f) Though I tarry neuer so muche, yet the graue is my house, & I haue made my bed in the darke.
14 I sayde to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the wormes, You are my mother: and my sister.
15 (g) Where is then now my hope? or who hath considered the thing that I loke for? These shall goe downe with me into the pit, and lie with me in the dust.

a. In al Iobs extreeme afflictions, yet this one made the rest most greeuous, that they that shoulde cherefully cõfort him, did cruelly vexe him & mocke him.
"or, mockers.
b. That is, make promise with me, O God, that I may talke with thee, for I will not reason with them, for they are fooles.
c. That they can not vnderstand the cause of my punishment, but iudge me wicked, not knowyng thy wisedome, whereby thou doest afflict thy children.
d. Though the godly see them selues afflicted of God as the wicked are, yet they dispayre not, knowyng that the iuste also are punished for proofe of them.
"or, come now
e. That is, the thoughts of my hart haue brought me sorowes in steede of ioy.
f. Though my former estate returne, wherwith you perswade me, yet wil it not continue, for death sone cõmeth & dispatcheth me
g. Seing I am but corruptiõ.

The.xviij. Chapter.

Bildad rehearseth the paynes of the vnfaythful and wicked.

1 THen answeared Bildad the Suhite, and sayde,

2 When

2 When will ye make an ende (a) of your wordes? Marke well, and then we wyll speake.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beastes, and reputed so vyle in your sight?

4 He destroyeth himselfe with his anger: Shall the earth be forsaken, or any stone remoued out of hys place, (b) because of thee?

5 Yea, the light of the vngodly shal be put out, and the sparke of his fire shal not shine.

6 The (c) light shal be darke in his dwellyng, and hys candle shall be put out with hym.

7 The steppes of his strength shall be restraigned, and his owne counsayle shal cast him downe:

8 For his feete are taken (as it were) in the net, and he walketh vpon the snares.

9 The grinne shall take hym by the heele, and it shall catche him that is thirstie of bloud.

10 The snare is layd for him in the ground, and a pitfall in the way.

11 Fearefulnesse shall make hym afrayde on euery side, and shal driue him to his feete.

12 (d) Hunger shal be his strength, and destruction shal be readie at hys side.

13 (e) It shall eate the strength of his owne skinne, euen the (f) first borne of death shall eate his strength.

14 His hope shal be rooted out of hys dwellyng, and shal bryng him to the (g) kyng of feare.

15 Other men shall dwell in hys house, and it shal be none of his, and brimstone shal be scattered vpon his habitation.

16 His rootes shal be dryed vp beneath, and aboue shal hys branche be cut downe.

17 His remembrance shall (h) perysshe from the earth, and he shall haue no man in the streete.

18 They shall dryue him from the (i) lyght into darkenesse, and chase him cleane out of the worlde.

19 He shal neyther haue "chyldren nor kinsfolke among his people, no nor any posteritie in hys dwellings.

20 They that come after hym, shall be astonied at (k) hys day, and "they that goe before, shal be afrayde.

21 Suche are nowe the dwellyngs of the wicked, and this is the place of hym that knoweth not God.

a. Wherein you account your selfe so wyse, and controll vs.

b. That is, shal God chãge the accustomed order of his operation for thee? and not afflict the wicked as his order is?

c. His wysedome shall perishe, and from this place vnto the ende of the chapter, Bildad goeth about to proue Iob wicked, bycause God plagueth him, as he doeth the wicked man.

d. That is, he shall not atteyne to that which he desireth, for all his power and might shal be taken away by hunger.

e. Meaning the vngodly shal be the destructiõ of the strength of his owne skinne, that is, of hys children and posteritie: Meaning that he & his posteritie shal be subiect to most greeuous diseases.

f. That is, a cruel disease, some take it for death that commeth before his tyme: and some for the first plages of death that come.

g. That is, to a thyng most terrible and ful of feares.

h. The wicked shall not onely be destroyed in body and goodes, but their name, and fame, and progenie shall vtterly perishe for euer.

i. From prosperitie, to aduersitie. "or, sonne, not nephewe. k. That is, at his fall. "or, elders, or, auncientes.

The.xix. Chapter.

1. Iob reproueth his friends, 15. and reciteth his miseries and greeuous paynes. 25. He assureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

1 IOb answeared and sayde,

2 Howe long wyll ye vexe my soule, and trouble me with wordes?

3 Loe, (a) ten tymes haue ye reproched me, and are not ashamed, but haue laughed me to scorne.

4 Be it that I haue erred in deede, myne (b) errour then remayneth with my selfe.

5 But if ye will aduaunce your selues agaynst me, & rebuke me for the shame that is come vpon me:

6 Knowe this then, that it is God whiche hath ouerthrowen me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 If I complayne of the violence that is done vnto me, I can not be heard: and if I cry, there is no sentence gyuen with me.

8 He hath bedged vp my way that (c) I can not passe, and he hath set darkenesse in my pathes.

9 He hath spoyled me (d) of myne honour, & (e) taken the crowne away from my head.

10 He hath destroyed me on euery side, and I am "gone: my hope hath he taken away, as a tree pluckt vp by the roote.

11 His wrath is kindled agaynst me, he taketh me as though I were his enimie.

12 (f) His menne of warre come together, whiche made theyr way ouer me, and besieged my dwellyng rounde about.

13 He hath put my brethren farre away from me, and mine acquaintance are also become strangers vnto me.

14 Myne owne kynsfolkes haue forsaken me, and my beste acquaynted haue forgotten me.

15 "The seruauntes and maydens of myne owne house toke me for a stranger, and I am become as an aliant in theyr sight.

16 I called my seruant, and he gaue me no answere: (no though) I prayed him with my mouth.

17 Myne owne wyfe mysght not abyde my breath, though I prayed hyr for the children sake of myne owne body.

18 Yea, the yong men despised me, and when I rose, they spake euill vpon me.

19 All my moste familiars abhorred me: and they whom I loued best, are turned agaynst me.

To testifie that he hath not blaspheamed God as they report.

Here is an other cõfession of Iobs faith with the assured hope of resurrectiõ.

That is, the iudgement of God, the reuenger of iniquitie: meaning, though I were wicked in behauiour to the vttermost now, yet God will hereafter consider him, and be reuenged of the same.

I

Because Iob suffered of his innocencie (as they thought) Sophar interpreted hys wordes as though he boasted in himselfe, for that God accepteth none but the penitent sinner.

For two causes Sophar reprehendeth Iob in declaryng his opinion. First bycause he semed his knowledge suffycient to answeare againe. Secondly Sophar euermore at the ende of his chapter alleageth true sentences, but misapplieth in the same to Iob in his impacient and hipocrite.

Iob desired to be pitied.

21 Haue pitie vpon me, haue pitie vpon me, O ye my friends, for the hand of God hath touched me.
22 Why do ye perſecute me as God (doth) and are not ſatisfied with my fleſhe?
23 (h) O that my wordes were nowe written, O that they were put in a booke, 24 And grauen with an iron pen in lead, or in ſtone, to continue.
25 For I am ſure (i) that my redeemer liueth, and he ſhall rayſe vp at the latter day them that lye in the duſt:
26 And though after my ſkin the (wormes) deſtroy this body, yet ſhal I ſee God in my fleſhe:
27 Whom I my ſelf ſhal ſee, and mine eyes ſhal beholde, and none other for me, though my reynes are conſumed within me.
28 But ye ſayde, Why is he perſecuted? and there was a deepe matter in me.
29 (k) But beware of the ſwoorde: for the ſwoord wil be auenged of wickednelle, and be ſure that there is a iudgement.

The.xx. Chapter.

1. Sophar ſheweth that the wycked and the couetous ſhal haue a ſhort end, 22. though for a tyme they floriſh.

1 Then anſweared Sophar the Naamathite, and ſayde,
2 For the ſame cauſe dow (a) my thoughts compell me to anſweare, and therfore make haſt.
3 I haue ſufficiently heard the (b) checkyng of my reproofe, therefore the ſpirite of myne vnderſtandyng cauſeth me to anſwere.
4 Knoweſt thou not this of olde, and ſince God plagued man vpon earth,
5 (c) That the gladneſſe of the vngodly hath bene ſhorte, and that the ioy of hypocrites continued but the twinckelyng of an eye?
6 Though he be magnified vp to the heauen, ſo that hys head reacheth vnto the cloudes:
7 Yet at a (d) turne he periſheth for euer, in ſomuch that they whiche haue ſeene him, ſhal ſay, Where is he?
8 He ſhall vaniſhe as a dreame, ſo that he can no more be found, and ſhal paſſe away as a viſion in the night.
9 So that the eye whiche ſawe hym before, ſhall haue no more ſight of hym, and hys place ſhall "knowe hym no more.
10 His chyldren ſhal be fayne to agree with the poore, and hys handes ſhall reſtore theyr goodes.
11 From hys youth his bones are (e) full of pleaſures, but now ſhal it lye downe within hym in the "earth.
12 When wickednelle was (f) ſweete in his mouth, he hyd it vnder his tongue.
13 That he fauoured, that would he not forſake, but kept it cloſe in hys throte.
14 The breade that hee dyd eate, is turned to the (g) poyſon of ſerpentes within hys body.
15 The ryches that he deuoured, ſhall he parbreake agayne: for God ſhall drawe them out of his belly.
16 He ſhal ſucke the (h) galle of ſerpents, and the adders tongue ſhall ſlay him:
17 So that he ſhal no more ſee the (i) riuers, and brookes of honie and butter.
18 The thyng he hath laboured for, ſhall he reſtore, and (k) ſhall not eate of it: greate trauayle ſhal he make for riches, but he ſhal not enioy them.
19 And why? hee hath oppreſſed the poore, and not helped them: houſes hath he ſpoyled, and not buylded them.
20 Becauſe he could not perceyue when his belly was well, through hys greedy deſire, he ſhall not eſcape.
21 There (l) ſhall none of his meate be left, therfore ſhall no man looke for hys goodes.
22 When he hadde plenteouſneſſe of euery thing, yet was he poore, though he was helped on euery ſide.
23 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that wherewith he purpoſed to fil hys belly, God ſhal powre the furie of hys wrath thereon, and ſhall cauſe hys indignation to raygne vpon hym, and vpon his meate.
24 He ſhall flee from the iron weapon, & the bowe of ſteele ſhal ſtryke hym through.
25 The (arrow) is taken forth, and gone out of the quyuer, and a glitterynge ſworde through the gal of him, ſo feare ſhall come vpon him.
26 All darkeneſſe ſhal be hyd in theyr ſecrete places, (m) an vnkyndeled fyre ſhall conſume hym: and looke what remayneth in his houſe, it ſhal be deſtroyed.
27 The heauen ſhall (n) declare his wickednelle, and the earth ſhall take part agaynſt hym.
28 The ſubſtance that he hath in hys houſe, ſhal be taken away, and periſhe in the day of the Lordes wrath.
29 This is the portion that the wicked man ſhall haue of God, and the heritage that he may looke for of GOD, becauſe of hys wordes.

e. Meaning the iniquitie of his youth. "or, duſt.
f. As hony by continuall taſt waxeth ſowre, and is vomited again: ſo pleaſant vice hath a deteſtable end.
g. The bleſſing of the wicked is turned into curſes, whereby that whiche to others is ſweete foode, to the it ſhalbe poyſon.
h. He ſhal receyue curſing. And here ill gotten goodes are lykened to the ſerpents galle, for Sophar falſly thought Iobs goodes to be ſuch
i. That is, he ſhal wat Gods bleſſyng, ſo that when all men haue abundance, he ſhall want.
k. For il gotten goodes God wyl ſoone take away, and reſtore to the from whom they were craftily ſpoyled & rauened.
l. That is, his heyres and executours ſhall gape in vayne.
m. That is fire from heauen: and here Sophar touchetl Iob for that his frieds and children were cõſumed with fire.

The.xxi.Chapter.

1. Iob declareth howe the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude, 15. in so much that they blaspheme God. 16. Their destruction is at hande. 23. None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neyther good for prosperitie.

I 1 IOb answeared, and sayde,
2 HEare diligently my wordes, and that shal be in steede of your consolations,
3 Suffer me, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.
4 Is it for (a) mans sake that I make this disputation? which if it were so, should not my spirite then be in sore trouble?
5 Marke me (wel) and be abashed, and (b) lay your hande vpon your mouth.
6 For when I consider (my selfe) I am afrayde, and my flesh is smitten with feare.
7 Wherfore (c) doo wicked men lyue, come to theyr olde age, and encrease in ryches?
8 Theyr "chyldren lyue in theyr sight, and theyr generation before theyr eyes.
9 Theyr houses are safe from all feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.
10 Theyr bullocke gendreth, and that not out of time, theyr cowe calueth, and is not vnfruitfull.
11 They sende forth theyr chyldre by flockes, and theyr sonnes (leade the) daunce.
12 They beare with them tabrets and harps, and reioyce in the sounde of the organs.
13 They spende theyr dayes in wealthynesse, but (d) sodaynely they goe downe to the graue.
14 They say also vnto God, (e) Goe frō vs, we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.
15 Who is the almyghtie, that we shoulde serue hym? And what profite shoulde wee haue, if we should pray vnto hym?
16 Loe, there is vtterly no gowdnesse in theyr hande, therefore wyl I not haue to do with the counsayle of the vngodly.
17 How oft shal the (f) candle of the wicked be put out, and theyr destruction come vpon them? O what sorow shal God gyue them for theyr part in hys wrath?
18 Yea they shall be euen as hay before the wynde, and as chaffe that the storme carieth away.
19 God wyl lay vp the sorowe of the father for his chyldren: and when he rewarded hym, he shal know it.
20 Theyr owne miserie shall they see with theyr eyes, and drynke of the frarefull wrath of the almightie.
D 21 For what careth he for hys house after his death, when the (g) number of his moneths is cut short:
22 Seeyng God hath the hyghest power of al, who can teache hym any knowledge?
23 (h) One dieth in hys full strength, beyng in al ease and prosperitie, 24 His breastes are full of mylke, and hys bones runne full of marowe.
25 Another dyeth in the (i) bitternesse of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.
26 They shall sleepe both alyke in the earth, and the wormes shall couer them.
27 Beholde, (k) I knowe what yee thynke, yea, and the subtiltie that ye imagine agaynst me.
28 For ye say, (l) Where is the princes palace? and where is the dwelling of the vngodly?
29 Haue ye not asked them that goe by the way? Doubtlesse ye can not denie theyr tokens.
30 That the wicked is kept vnto the day of destructiō, and the vngodly shal be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who (m) dare declare his way to his face? who wyl reward hym for that he doth?
32 Yet shall he be brought to hys graue, and dwell among the heape (of the dead.)
33 Then shall the (n) slimie valley be sweete vnto him, al men also must folow hym, as there are innumerable gone before hym.
34 Howe vayne then is the comfort that yee giue me, seeyng falshod remayneth in all your answeares?

a. As though he should say, my cause is before God, whom I can not escape, and not before you.
b. That is, keepe silence.
c. Iob prooueth agaynst Sophar, that the wicked are in prosperitie, not meanyng to contēne the sentēces before which are true: but Sophars misconstruyng of them is opened.
"or, seede.
d. Not being plagued with long sickenesse.
e. They say this, not with tongue, but by the wickednes and impietie of their hart they seeme so to say
f. That is, theyr great felicitie and wealth.
g. For the wicked die wares, and uer indure course of dayes to the ende.
h. Meanyng the wicked where Iob faith, that not for m reason wil God why doeth thus plague the and prospe the vniust who can t God wisely
i. And this meaneth by the godly.
k. Howe ye think me w ked, because am plagued.
l. Thus the cal Iobs hon by scorning mocking at
m. For no ca iudge by th wicked mans prosperitie, what shal be come of them.
n. That is, shal be couered with a homely house of clay, whiche beyng was not contented with a kingly palace.

The.xxij.Chapter.

2. Eliphas affyrmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6. He accuseth him of vnmercyfulnesse, 13. and that he denied Gods prouidence. 21. He exhorteth him to repētance.

1 THO (a) Eliphas the Themanite gaue answeare, and sayde,
2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wyse may be profitable vnto him selfe?
3 Is it any aduantage to the almightie that thou art righteous? Or shal it profite hym that thou makest thy wayes perfect?
4 Is he afrayde to reproue thee, and to skip forth with thee into iudgement?
5 Is (b) not thy wickednesse great, and thy vngracious deedes innumerable?
6 For thou (c) hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and robbed the naked of theyr clothyng.
7 To

I a. The whole course of this chapter is, that man compared to God, is vniust, and therefore ought to repent.
b. They knew not that Iob had so greatly offended: but they coniectured, because God so plagued him, which was not for his sinnes, so muche as for to proue hym, and therefore al theyr conclusions are falle.
c. Thou hast bene vnchariteable, and vniust.

B 7 To such as were weery, hast thou giuen no water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungrie.
8 But the mightie man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast sent widdowes away emptie, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.
10 Therefore art thou (d) compassed about with snares, and sodenly vexed with feare.
11 Shouldest thou then see no (e) darknesse? shoulde not the water flodde runne ouer thee?
12 Is not God on high in the heauen? behold the heygth of the starres how hye they are.
13 Wilt thou therfore say, Tush, how should God knowe? can he iudge through the darke cloude?
C 14 Tushe, the cloudes couer him that hee may not see, and hee walketh on the toppe of heauen.
15 Hast thou marked the way of the worlde, wherein wicked men haue walked?
16 Which were cut downe out of tyme, and whose (f) foundation was as an ouerflowing ryuer.
17 Whyche sayde vnto God, Goe from vs: and asked what the almightie could doe for them.
18 He fylled theyr houses with good thyngs: but the counsayle of the vngodly bee farre from me.
19 The righteous saw it, and were glad, and the innocent laughed them to scorne.
20 Is our substance hewen downe? Is for the remnant of them, (g) the fyre hathe consumed.
21 Therefore (h) reconcile thee vnto God and be at peace, so shall all things prosper wyth thee ryght well.
22 Receyue I pray thee ỹ lawe at his mouth, and lay vp his wordes in thyne hart.
23 For if thou wylte turne to the almightie, thou shalte bee buylt vp, and put all vnrygh-teousnesse from thy dwelling.
24 Thou shalt lay vp golde (as plentifull) as the dust, and the golde of Ophir as the stints of the ryuers.
25 Yea almightie God his owne selfe shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of syluer.
26 Then shalte thou haue thy delyght in the almightie, and lyft vp thy face vnto God.
27 Then shalte thou make thy prayer vnto hym, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalte "keepe thy promises.
28 Thou shalte also decree a thyng, and hee shall establishe it vnto thee, and the (i) lyghte shall shyne in thy wayes.
29 When (the wicked) be cast downe, thou shalt say, I am lyfted vp, and God shall saue the humble person.
30 The innocent shall delyuer the Iland: (k) it shall be preserued by the pureneſse of thine handes.

d. Therefore are thou plagued euery way.
e. Trouble.
f. That is, vnsure and vnstable.
g. Meaning the euill and vngodly persons.
h. Eliphas exhorteth Iob to repentance by the great good welle that cometh thereof.
"or, vnder thy bowes.
i. That is, the fauour of God.
k. The place fareth the better, where the ryghteous are.

The.xxiij. Chapter.

Iob affyrmeth that hee both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the iudge, and that hee is not punished onely for his synnes.

1 IOb answered and sayde,
2 Thoughe my talke be this day in (a) bitternesse, and my plague greater than my groning.
3 O that I (b) myghte knowe him and fynde him, and that I might come before his seat.
4 I woulde pleade my cause before him, and fill my mouth with argumentes:
5 I would know what answere he would giue me, and vnderstande what he would say vnto me.
6 Will he pleade agaynst me with his great power? No, but hee wyll make mee the stronger.
7 There the righteous might dispute wyth him, so should I bee delyuered for euer from my iudge.
8 Beholde, though I goe forwarde, I finde him not: If I goe backewarde, I can get no knowledge of him:
9 If I goe on the left side where he doth hys worke, I can not attayne vnto him: Again, if I goe on the ryght syde he hydeth hymselfe, that I can not see hym.
10 But as for my way, hee knoweth it, and trieth me, ỹ as the golde I may come forth.
11 My (c) foote doeth keepe his path, his high way haue I holden, and wyll not goe out of it.
12 I wyll not forsake the commaundemente of hys lyppes, I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more thã mine appoynted food.
13 He is still at one poynte, and (d) who can turne him? He doeth as hym lysteth, and bringeth to passe what he wyll.
14 He (e) performeth the thyng that is appoynted for mee, and many suche thynges doeth he.
15 This is the cause that I shrinke at his presence, so that when I consyder hym, I am afrayde of hym.
16 For God maketh my hart (f) soft, and the almightie putteth me in feare.
17 Bycause I am not (g) cut off before the darkenesse, neyther hath he couered the (h) cloude from my face.

a. In this chapter is expressed how hard, yea how impossible it is to come to God, without a mediatour.
b. Iob beyng admonished before to returne to God, sayth, If I should come to hym, where is he, or where might I fynde hym to pleade my cause before hym.
c. That is, Gods wayes, proouing therfore hym selfe not to deserue such greeuous plagues and afflictions for his faultes.
d. For God is immutable, and his decrees stand fast.
e. That is, he hath decreed thus to punish me appoynted hereunto, although I can not attayne to the secrete iudgement of God therein, and therefore I do feare hys presence.
f. That is, maketh it so weak that it cannot but be in feare.
g. Out of paynes, troubles, and afflictions.
h. That is, cleared my eys that I may see the ende of my troubles.

The.xxiiij.Chapter.

1. Iob describeth the wyckednesse of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked.
12. Howe all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence, 17. and the destruction of the wycked.

א

1 (a) COnsideryng then that there is no tyme hyd from the almightie, how happeneth it that they which know him, do not regarde hys dayes?

2 For some men remoue the lande markes, robbe men of theyr cattel, and feede of the same?

3 They driue away the Asse of the fatherlesse, and take the wyddowes oxe for a pledge:

4 They cause the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hyde themselues togither,

5 Beholde, as wylde (b) asses in the desart go they forth to theyr worke, and ryse betymes to spoyle: Yea the very (c) wyldernesse ministreth food for them and their children.

6 They reape the corne fielde that is not theyr owne, and let the vineyarde of the vngodly alone.

ב

7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, & without couering in the colde.

8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and embrace the rocke for want of a couerynge.

9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge from the poore.

10 They let hym goe naked without clothyng, and haue taken away the sheafe of the hungrie.

11 The poore are fayne to labour in theyr oyle mylles, yea & to treade in theyr wine pressles, and yet to suffer thyrst.

12 Men out of the citie crye vnto the Lorde with syghing, the soules of the slayne also crye out, yet God regardeth not theyr complaynt.

13 Whereas they are conuersant among them that abhorre the light, they knowe not hys way, nor continue in hys pathes.

ג

14 The murderer ryseth early, and killeth the poore and needie, and in the nyght is as a theefe.

15 The (d) eye of the adulterer wayteth for the darkenesse, and sayth, There shall no eye see me: and disguyseth hys face.

16 In the darke they digge through houses, which they marked for themselues in the day tyme: they know not the light.

17 The morneng is to them euen as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrours of the shadow of death.

18 (The vngodly) is swifte vpon the water: their portion shall be cursed in the earth, and he shal not behold the way of the vineyards.

19 As the drye grounde and (e) heate consume the snowie waters: so shall the graue the sinners.

20 The (f) pitifull man shall forget him, he shall be sweete to the wormes, he shall be no more remembred, and hys wickednesse shall be broken as a tree.

21 He hath oppressed the barren that can not beare, and vnto the wyddowe hath he done no good.

22 He (g) drewe the mightie after hym with hys power, and when he was gotten vp, no man was sure of lyfe.

23 And though they gaue hym to be in safetie, yet hys eyes are vpon theyr wayes.

24 They are exalted for a litle, but (shortly) are gone, brought to pouertie, and taken out of the way, yea, and vtterly pluckt off, as the eares of corne.

25 Is (h) it not so? Who wyll then reproue me as a lyar, and say, that my wordes are nothyng worth?

a. This speaketh Iob in his extreeme passions, according to worldly wit in mans feeble nature, whiche is foolishnesse before god, wherby he wouldde proue, that God considereth not the times.

b. The cursed cruelties of tyrannes towarde the poore.

c. That is, by robberie and theft.

d. Not onely the tyrant, but also the adulterer escapeth free, and is not corrected,

e. Although such abominable sinners liue vncorrected in this world, yet at the length hel shal deuoure them sodenly.

f. Bycause they pitied not others, they shal not be pitied at al.

g. That is, whe they haue plagued and ouerrunne the poore & weak, they wil oppresse the strog & mighty also

h. Then I lye not, & none of you can reproue me.

The.xxv.Chapter.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane, nor without sinne before God.

1 THen answeared Bildad the Suhite, and sayde,

2 Is there (a) power and feare with hym about, that maketh (b) peace sittyng in hys hyghnesse?

3 Is there any number of hys (c) armies, and vpon whom shall not hys light aryse?

4 (d) But howe may a man, compared vnto God, be iustified? Or howe can he be cleane that is borne of a woman?

5 Beholde, the Mone shyneth nothyng in comparyson to him, and the Starres are vncleane in his sight.

6 Howe muche more then man that is but corruption, and the sonne of man whiche is but a worme?

a. Bildad would proue here that God plagueth the iust, yet afterwarde he proueth the contrary: and because god dealt not so with Iob, he coclu-deth that he was wicked.

b. That is, ordreth & ruleth al things.

c. For he is called the God of Sabbaoth, that is, the God of hostes.

d. For the sun & moone are darke, cõpared to him, and how much more man, being borne in sinne and corruption, and beyng but a worme?

or, worme.

The.xxvi.Chapter.

Iob sheweth that man can not helpe God, and proueth it by his myracles.

א

1 IOb answeared, and sayde,

2 (a) Whom hast thou holpen? Hym that is without strength? sauest thou the arme that hath no strength?

3 Where is the counsell that thou shouldest giue him whiche hath no wisedome? Hast thou

a. Here Iob reprehendeth Bildad, for that he speaketh not inough to gods prayse, who needeth not mans woordes, neyther comforteth him, beyng voyde of comfort.

thou shewed the way of right lyuing?

4 To whome hast thou spoken these wordes? who made the breathe to come out of thy mouth?

5 (b) Are not dead things shapen vnder the waters, and things by the waters syde?

6 (c) He is naked before him, and the very destruction it selfe can not be hidde out of hys syght.

7 He stretcheth out the North ouer the emptie place, and (d) hangeth the earth vpon nothyng.

8 Hee bindeth the water in his cloudes, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.

9 (e) He holdeth backe the face of his throne, and spreadeth his cloude before it.

10 He hathe compassed the waters with certayne boundes, (f) vntill the day and nyght come to an ende.

11 The (g) very pillers of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 He stilleth the sea with his power, and thorough his wisedome smiteth he the strength thereof.

13 His spirite hath (h) garnished the heauens, and his hande hathe made (i) the crooked serpente.

14 Loe, this is nowe a (k) short summe of his wayes: but howe little a portion heare we of him? who can vnderstand the thunder of his power?

a. This was the order of the Hebrues to sweare.
b. My afflictions are so greeuous, that men iudge me only by outwarde shewe to be wicked.
c. That is, as long as I liue, I will not resist the trueth, & offend God contrary to my promise, though men for neuer so euill of mee.
d. That is, I will not confesse that God plagues mee for myne offence.
e. Of my former life past. f. That is, because they reprehended me vnworthyly, they rather myght be accompted wicked, and the plague shall lyghte on them and bee ridde from me.

b. That is, in the things are in the waters without life, as metals, and such lyke, wherein is expressed Gods great power.
c. That is, it is open and most playne in hys syght, for hee seeth all things.
d. The most excellent and mighty power of God.
e. His throne of maiestie which are the heauens, he couereth from vs.
f. That is, so long as the world endureth.
g. Not that heauen hathe pillers, but by the pillers, he vnderstandeth all things vnder heauen.
h. That is, the wind breaking the cloudes, the heauens are clere.
i. That is, circle in heauen, winding round lyke a serpent, called Lacteus circulus.
k. For though these few things of his power be wonderful, yet they are nothing in compatison of the rest of his works, which mās capacitie can not reach to.

The.xxvij. Chapter.

3. The constancie & perfectnesse of Iob. 13. The reward of the wicked, and of the tyrants.

1 MOreouer Iob proceeded and went forthe in his parable, saying,

2 (a) As God lyueth, which hath taken away my iudgement, and the almighty that hathe (b) vexed my minde:

3 Whyle my breath is in me, (c) and ỹ wind that God hath giuen me, is in my nostrels.

4 My lippes shal talke of no vanitie, and my tong shall speake no deceyt.

5 God forbid that I shoulde graunt youre cause to be right: as for me, vntill mine ende come, will (d) I neuer goe fro mine innocencie.

6 My righteous dealing keepe I fast, whiche I will not forsake: my hart shall not reproue me (e) of my dayes.

7 Therefore (f) mine enimie shall bee founde as the vngodly, and he that taketh parte agaynst me, as the vnrighteous.

8 For (g) what hope hathe the hypocrite though he haue great good, if God take away his soule?

9 Will (h) God heare his crie, when trouble commeth vpon him?

10 Hathe he suche pleasure and delight in the almighty, (i) that he dare alway call vppon God?

11 I will teache you in the "name of God, and the thing of the almighty will I not keepe from you.

12 (k) Beholde, all ye your selues haue seene it, why then do ye thus vanish in vanitie?

13 Saying, (l) This is the portion that the wicked haue of God, and the heritage that tyrantes shal receyue of the almightie.

14 If he geat many children, they shall perish with the sworde, and his posteritie shall haue scarsenesse of bread.

15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.

16 Though he (m) heape vp syluer as ỹ dust, and prepare rayment as the clay:

17 He maye well prepare it, but the godly shall put it on, and the innocent shall deale out the money.

18 He (n) buyldeth his house as the moth, and as a booth that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not bee gathered (to his fathers,) they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrour taketh holde vpon him (o) as a water flood, and the tempest stealeth him away in the night season.

21 A (p) vehement East winde carieth hym hence, and he departeth: a storme hurleth him out of his place.

22 God shal cast vpō him, & not spare, though he would fayne flee out of his hande.

23 Then clappe men their hands at him, and hisse at him out of his place.

g. What auayleth it a mā if he gaine all the world, and loose hys owne soule?
h. We haue no greater gift of God, than the spirite of prayer, whereby if we pray, God doeth here vs.
i. The hypocrite neyther trusteth nor praieth to god, yea though hee pray, God wyll not heare him.
" or, hande.
k. Gods secrete works is layde before you, and yet your blindnesse will not permit you to see it.
l. That is, not only the wicked shall be plagued, but also their posteritie shall be rooted out.
m. As it is said in the law, thou shalte build an house, and not dwell in it thy selfe, whych is the plague of the wicked.
n. Meaning it shal be weake, of small estimation: and being lothed, shall soone decay.
o. That is, most abundantly.
p. That is, he shall sodenly be blowen away by death, nor after death shall he be honorably buried: and this is the ende of the tyrantes.

The.xxviij. Chapter.

Iob sheweth that the wysedome of God is vnsearcheable.

1 THere is a (a) place where syluer is brought out of, and wher gold is tried.

2 Where iron is digged out of the grounde, and (b) stones resolued to metall.

3 (c) The darknesse shall once come to an ende: he can seeke out ỹ ground of al things, the stones, the darke, and the shadowe of death.

a. Iob prouoketh here, that though men attayne to many secretes of nature, yet they are neuer able to reache to the wisdom of God, whiche is vnsearcheable.

b. For brasse and lead groweth in the stones, which being mined vp, is called ore: and by vehemet fyre molten, the metall is separate from the stones.
c. Here he describeth Gods secret works, thereby meaning that all things shall haue an ende, saying the vnsearcheable wisedome of God.

4 Hee caused the floodes to breake out a-gainste the inhabitante, and the waters forgotten of the foote, being higher than man, are gone away.
5 (d) Out of the same earth commeth bread, and vnder it as it were fyre is turned vp.
6 The (e) stones of it, are a place of Saphires, and the dust of it is golde.
7 There is a way that the birdes knowe not,
that no vultures eye hath seene:
8 Wherein the Lions whelpes walke not,
and where no Lion commeth.
9 (There) (f) putteth he his hande vppon the stonie rockes, and ouerthroweth the moun-taynes by the rootes.
10 Riuers flowe out of the rockes, and looke what is pleasant, his eye seeth it.
11 He bindeth the floodes that they do not ouerflowe: and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.
12 Where then is wisedome found? and (g)
where is the place of vnderstanding?
13 Verily no man can tell how (h) worthy a thing she is, neyther is she found in the lande of them that lyue.
14 The deepe sayth, She is not in me: the sea
sayth, She is not with me.
15 She can not bee gotten for golde, neyther may the price of hir be bought with any syluer.
16 No (i) wedges of golde of Ophir, no pretious (k) Onix stones, no Saphires may be valued with hir.
17 No, neyther golde nor christall shall be equall vnto it, nor hir exchange shall bee for the plate of fine golde.
18 No mention shall be made of Coxall, nor of the Gabis, for wisdome is more pretious than pearles.
19 The (l) Topas of Ethiopia shall not bee equall vnto it, neyther shall it bee valued with the wedge of pure golde.
20 Whence then commeth wisedome? and where is the place of vnderstanding?
21 She is hidde from the eyes of all men ly-uing, yea and from the foules of the ayre.
22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.
23 But God seeth hir way, and knoweth hir place.
24 For he beholdeth the ends of the worlde, &
loketh vpon all that is vnder heauen.
25 When he wayed the windes, and measured the waters:
26 When he made a decree for the rayne, and a way for the lightnings of the thunder:
27 Then did hee see hir, then declared he hir, prepared hir, and knew hir.
28 And vnto man he sayde, (m) To feare the Lorde is wisedome, and to forsake euill, is vnderstanding.

d. As the frute-full fieldes tilled and plowed bringeth forth corne: so it being deepely digged, there are found stones, out of the whiche fyre is stro-ken.
e. The Saphires do shine wyth golden points, so that here by Saphires is meant cloddes of golde. All these things are founde, but Gods wisdome who can reach?
f. Here he sheweth Gods power: the earthe may be digged, hilles ouerthro-wen, a fountayne made among stones, riuers turned from theyr course: but gods wisedome is not to be founde.
g. Gods wise-dome is partly seene in these worldly things, but his heauenly wisedome and secrete iudgement, is hidde and vnknowen to all men.
h. That is, it passeth mans capacitie to at-tayne to it.
i. Ophir is the region by Ganges the riuer of India, so called of Ophir the sonne of Lake-tan, who possessed the same with his children.
k. Thys stone is found in Gā-ges the riuer of india.
l. Thus the wis-dome of Gods maiestie doth farre excell all things.
or, heauen.
m. Meaning by this, that man hath so muche of this excelling wisedome of God, as he doth shew in vertue of liuing, due obedience, and feare of him.

The. xxix. Chapter.

1. Iob complayneth of the prosperitie of the time past. 7. His auethoritie, 12. iustice, and equitie.

1 MOreouer Iob proceeded, and wente forth in his parable, saying,
2 O that I were, as I was in the moneths by past, and in the dayes when God preserued me:
3 When his (a) lighte shined vpon my head, when I wente after the same light and shining, euen through the darknesse.
4 Is it nowe with mee when I was yong, when God prospered my house:
5 When the almightie was yet with mee, when my children stood about me:
6 When my wayes (b) ranne ouer wyth butter, and when the stonie rockes gaue mee riuers of oyle:
7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgemente seate, and when I prepared my seate in the streete:
8 The (c) yong men sawe mee, and hydde them selues, and the (d) aged arose, and stoode vp.
9 The (e) princes left off their talking, and layd their hand to their mouth:
10 The mighty kepte still their voyce, and theyr tongue cleaued to the roofe of theyr mouth.
11 When the eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye sawe mee, it gaue witnesse to me:
12 For I (f) deliuered the powre when hee cried, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to help him.
13 The blessing of him that was ready to perishe, came vpon me, and I caused the wy-dowes hart to reioyce.
14 And why? I put vpon me righteousnesse, whiche couered me as a (g) garment, and equitie was my crowne.
15 I was an eye to the blinde, and a foote to the lame.
16 I was a father to the powre: and when I knewe not the cause, I sought it out diligently.
17 I brake the (h) iawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the spoyle out of hys teeth.
18 Then I sayde, I shall dye in my (i) nest:
and I shall multiplye my dayes as the sande.

19 For

19 For my (k) rote was spread out by the water syde: and the (l) deawe lay vpon my "corne.

20 Myne honoure encreased more and more, and my bowe was" euer the stronger in my hande.

21 Vnto me men gaue eare, & they regarded, and with silence they taryed for my counsell.

22 After my wordes they replyed not, and my talke dropped vpon them.

23 They (m) waited for me as for the rayne: and gaped vpon me, as (the ground doeth to receyue) the latter shoure, 24 When I laughed, they beleeued it not, and the lyght of my countenance wouldе they not put out.

25 When I agreed vnto their way, I was the chiefe, and sate as a king with his armie about him: and when they were in heauines, I was theyr comfortour.

The.xxx. Chapter.

1. Iob complayneth that hee is contemned of the most contemptible, 11. 21. bycause of hys aduersitie and affliction. 23. Deathe is the house of all fleshe.

1 BVt (a) now they that are yonger than I haue me in derision: yea euen they whose fathers I would haue thought scorne to haue set with the dogges of my cattell.

2 For whereto myght the strength of (b) their handes haue serued me? for the time was but lost among them.

3 For very (c) miserie and hunger they fled into the wilderneſſe, a darke place, horrible, and waste,

4 Plucking vp nettles among the bushes, and the iuniper rootes for their meate.

5 And when they were driuen forth, men cryed after them, as it had bene after a thiefe.

6 Their (d) dwelling was in the clefts of brookes, yea in the caues and dennes of the earth.

7 Among the bushes wente they about crying, and vnder the thornes they gathered the selues tograther.

8 They were the chyldren of fooles and villaynes, which are more vile than the earth.

9 Now am I their (e) song, and am become their iesting stocke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee from mee, and staine my face with spittle.

11 Bycause God hathe losed my corde, and humbled mee, they haue losed the (f) bridle before me.

12 Vpon my (g) right hand rise the yong me against me, they haue hurt my feete, treading vppon me, as vpon the wayes of theyr destruction.

13 My (h) pathes haue they cleane marred, it was so easie for them to do me harme, that they needed no man to help them.

14 They fell vpon me, as it had bin the breaking in of waters, and came in by heapes to destroy me.

15 Feare is turned vpon me, and they pursue my soule as the winde, and my healthy passeth away as (i) a cloude.

16 Therefore is my soule nowe powred out vpon me, and the dayes of my trouble haue taken hold vpon me.

17 My bones are pearsed through in the nyghte season, and my sinowes take no reast.

18 For the vehemencie of sorowe is my garment changed, whiche compasseth me about as (k) the collor of my cote.

19 He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become lyke ashes and dust.

20 When (l) I crye vnto thee, thou doest not heare me: and though I stande before thee, yet thou regardest me not.

21 Thou art become myne enimie, and with thy violent hande, thou takest part agaynst mee.

22 (In times past) thou diddest (m) set me vp on high, to bee caried as it were aboue the winde, (but now) hast thou gyuen me a very sore fall.

23 Sure I am, that thou wilt bring me vnto death, euen vnto the (n) lodging that is due vnto all men lyuing.

24 Notwithstanding, thou wilte not (o) stretche out thyne hande agaynst him that is in the graue: shall men crie out against hym that is in destruction?

25 Did not I weepe with hym that was in trouble? had not my soule compassion vpon the poore?

26 Yet neuertheleſſe, where as I looked for good, euill came vnto me: and (p) where I wayted for lyght there came darkneſſe.

27 My bowels seethe in me withoute reast, for the dayes of my trouble are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning without beake, I stood vp in the congregation, and (q) communed

a. Before is declared howe greatly God coulde blesse the godly, and here is shewed how heauy a crosse he layth on them to beare them.

b. They nowe despise mee, which with all their power when I was in prosperitie could not haue hyng by me, it was to weake.

c. Here Iob declareth what effects they were that now reuiled hym, and sheweth that they are wicked lyke vnto theyr fathers, whyche dyed yet ere they came to age.

d. Shewyng wherby theyr lasciuelle and their pouertie, being suche

e. What greate griefe is thys, that Iob beeyng once in hygh authoritie, now to be in miserie, and mocked of suche vile vyllaynes.

f. That is, seeyng mee nowe in myserie, not able to correct them, they iest and scorne at me without measure, as vnbridled in theyr affections.

g. The right hand declareth felicitie, and the left hand affliction and miserie: so that Iob meaneth by the yong menne that rise agaynst him on the ryght hād, that they took away his substance and hys felicitie, as the Arabians did, as is before.

h That is, they ouerthrewe all my doings without help of any other.

i. That is, most swiftly.

k. It is the manner amōg the Hebrues, to haue their garments sowed round in euery part, saueing a hole only in the highest of it, to put foorth the necke.

l. Iob sayth not thys as blaming God, but greeuous affliction moued affection.

m. That is, thou diddest set me in high authoritie, and sodenly thou putdest me downe.

n. Meaning death, that shoulde bryng him to the graue.

o. He that is once dead, can no more be hurt.

p. In steede of comfort they gaue mee

q. My talke was so lamentable, and my crying so great, that I might well be called a companion of Dragons and Estriches.

with them.

29 But nowe I am a brother of Dragons, and a felow of Estriches.

r. With the heate of my sore troubles.

30 My skinne vppon me is (turned) to (r) blacke, and my bones are brent with heate.

31 My harp is turned to mourning, and my organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

The.xxxi.Chapter.

Iob reciteth the innocencie of his lyuing, and number of his vertues, whiche declareth what ought to be the life of the faythfull.

a. In this Chapter, Iob declareth his vpright liuing, not to boast against God, but to refell the false slaunder of his aduersaries.

b. The flesshe was obedient to the spirite, neyther was he led with carnal desire.

c. Iob heere sheweth that the feare of God did driue him from wickednesse.

d. Meaning, that before men hee was giltlesse, in obseruing all the precepts of the second table.

"or, plantes.

e. Let hir be a bond slaue to another man.

"or, bowdown vppon hir.

f. Though mās punishmente for adulterie be omitted, yet Gods plague will neuer reaste to consume and roote it out.

g. That is, if I in lawe haue reiected the complaint of my seruaunte, what should I do when God calleth me to the lawe?

h. Iob expresseth the cause why he did pitie his seruāts, for that they had one creator, and both made of the same substance

1 I Made a (a) couenant with myne eyes: why then (b) shoulde I loke vppon a mayden?

2 For howe greate a portion shall I haue of God? and what inheritance from the almightie on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked? and strange (c) punishmente to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he see my wayes, and tell al my goings?

5 If I haue walked in (d) vanitie, or if my feete haue runne to deceyue:

6 Let me be wayed in an euen balance, that God may see mine innocencie.

7 If my steppe hath turned out of the way, and mine hart walked after mine eyes, and if any blotte haue cleaued to my handes:

8 Then shall I sowe, and an other eate: yea my "posteritie shall bee cleane rooted out.

9 If my hart haue bin deceyued by a womā, or if I haue layed wayte at my neyghbours dore:

10 Then let my wyfe (e) grinde vnto another man, and let other men "lye with hir.

f. Though mās punishmente for adulterie be omitted, yet Gods plague will neuer reaste to consume and roote it out.

11 For this is a wickednesse, and sinne that is worthy to be punished:

12 Yea a (f) fyre that vtterly should consume and roote out all my increase.

13 If I euer thought scorne to do right vnto my seruants and maydens, when they hadde any matter against me:

g. That is, if I in lawe haue reiected the complaint of my seruaunte, what should I do when God calleth me to the lawe?

14 When God (g) will syt in iudgemente, what shall I do? and when he will visit me, what answeare shall I giue him?

h. Iob expresseth the cause why he did pitie his seruāts, for that they had one creator, and both made of the same substance 15 He that (h) fashioned mee in my mothers wombe, made hee not him also? were wee not both shapt alike in our mothers bodies?

16 If I denied the poore of their desyre or haue caused the eyes of the widowe to wait in vayne:

17 If I haue eaten my (i) morsell alone, that the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof:

18 (For from my youth it hathe growen vp with me as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene guyde to the (wydowe.)

i. Meaning, that he hath bin beneficiall to the poore, to the fatherlesse and widdowes.

19 If I haue seene any perishe for wante of clothyng, or any poore for lacke of rayment:

20 If his loynes haue not blessed mee, because he was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe,

21 If I haue lift vp mine hande against the fatherlesse, when I sawe that I might help him in the gate:

22 Then let myne arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme holes be broken from the bone.

23 For I haue euer feared the vengeaunce and punishmente of God, and (knewe very wel that) I was not able to beare his burde.

24 Haue I put my trust in golde? or haue I sayd to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence:

25 Haue I reioyced because my power was greate, and because my hande gate so muche?

k. By the rising vp of the sun, and going downe of the moone, hee meaneth the prosperitie and felicitie that he was in.

26 Did I euer greatly regard the (k) rising of the sunne? or had I ỹ going downe of the moone in great reputation?

27 Hath my hart medled priuily with any deceyte? or dyd I euer (l) kysse mine owne hande?

l. That is, did I euer commit the workes of mine owne hande?

28 (That were a wickednesse worthy to be punished: for then should I haue denyed the God that is aboue.)

29 Haue I euer reioyced at the hurt of mine enimie? or was I euer glad that any harme happened vnto him? (Oh, no.)

m. That is, I did not feare to do iustice, eyther by geuing eare to the multitude, or to get the fauour of my friends and kinrede.

30 I neuer suffered my mouth to sinne, by wishing a curse to his soule.

n. Meaning, that he did not hold his peace, or keepe at home in the iust suite or cause of any.

31 Did not the men of mine owne household say, Who shall let vs to haue our belly full of his flesshe?

32 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my doores vnto him that went by the way.

33 Haue I kept secret my sinne, and hid mine iniquitie, as Adam did?

o. That is, I will carie the booke that the aduersarie shall make, vpon my shoulder, and will accept it for a great gaine, meaning, hee would confesse his fault, if he had offended.

34 Though I coulde haue made afearde a great (m) multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did feare me: so I kept silence, and went not out of the (n) doore.

35 O that I had one which would heare me: beholde my signe, in the which the almighty shall answeare for me, though he that is my contrary partie, hathe written a booke against me.

36 Yet will I take it vpon my (o) shoulder, and as a garland bind it about my head.

p. That is, with great reuerence.

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a (p) prince.

38 But

38 But if case bee that my land (q) crie agaynſt mee, or that the (r) forowes thereof make any complaynt:

39 If I haue eaten the fruite thereof vnpayed for, yea if I haue greeued the ſoules of the maiſters thereof:

40 Then let thiſtles growe in ſteede of my wheate, and cockle for my barley.

q. That is, if the hyreling that hath laboured in the lande, haue bin defrauded of his wages by mee.

r. That is, if I haue by violence compelled my laade to be eared, and not geuen foode to the labourers.

Here ende the wordes of Iob.

The.xxxij. Chapter.

1. Elihu reproueth them of folly. 8. Age maketh not a man wyſe, but the ſpirite of God.

1 SO theſe three men ceaſſed to anſweare Iob, (a) becauſe hee held him ſelfe a righteous man.

2 But Elihu the ſonne of Barachel the (b) Buzite, of the kindred of Ram, was very ſore diſpleaſed at Iob, becauſe hee called him ſelfe iuſt before God.

3 And with Iobs three friendes he was angry alſo, becauſe, they hadde found no reaſonable aunſweare, and yet condemned Iob.

4 Nowe taried Elihu, till they had ended their communication with Iob: for why? they were elder than he.

5 So when Elihu ſawe that theſe three menne were not able to make Iob anſweare, he was miſcontent.

6 Therefore Elihu the ſonne of Barachel the Buzite anſweared, and ſaide (conſydering that) I am yong, and yee be men of age, I was afrayde, and durſt not ſhew forth my minde.

7 For I thoughte thus within my ſelfe: "It becommeth olde men to ſpeake, and the "aged to teache wiſedome.

8 Euery man no doubt hath a minde, but it is the inſpiration of the almightie, that gyueth vnderſtandyng.

9 Great men are not alway wyſe, neither doeth euery aged man vnderſtand "the thing that is lawful:

10 Therefore I ſay, heare me, and I wyll ſhewe you alſo myne vnderſtanding.

11 For when I had wayted till yee made an ende of your talking, & hearde your wyſedome, (c) what argumentes ye made in your communication,

12 Yea, when I hadde diligently pondered what ye ſaide I founde not one of you that made any good argumente agaynſte Iob, that directly coulde make anſweare vnto his woordes, 13 Leſt ye ſhoulde ſay, We haue founde out wyſedome, (d) God ſhall caſt him downe, and no man.

14 He hath not ſpoken vnto me, and I wyl not anſweare him as ye haue done.

15 For they were ſo abaſhed, that they could not make anſweare, nor ſpeake one woord.

16 When I had wayted (for they ſpake not, but ſtode ſtill, and anſweared no more:)

17 Then aunſweared I in my turne, and I ſhewed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of "matter, and the ſpirite within me compelleth me.

19 Beholde, my (e) belly is as the wine whiche hathe no vent, like the newe bottels that burſt.

20 (Therefore) will I ſpeake, that I maye haue a vente: I will open my lippes, and make anſweare.

21 I will (f) regarde no manner of perſon, no man will I ſpare.

22 For if I woulde goe about to (g) pleaſe men, I knowe not howe ſone my maker would take me away.

a. There is cauſe why ye ſhould not deſpiſe mee, although I bee yong: for I am as you are, made by Gods ſpirite, created of the earthe, and receyue life of him.

b. Iob before deſyred to plead his cauſe before God without feare, therefore ſayth Elihu, I am heere in Gods ſteede, whome thou needeſt not to feare: for I am made of the matter that thou art.

c. I haue heard thee boaſt of thy righteous life, that thou art innocent and iuſt, therefore will I not proue thee wicked of thy former life, but by theſe thy wordes.

d. And as though therefore it had bin wiſedome for them to holde their peace.

"or, words.

e. That is, I ſhould breake in the middes, if I ſhould not ſpeake, my mind is ſo hot within me.

f. I will ſay trueth, all things layde apart.

g. The Hebrue worde is, to alter the name, calling a rude man learned, or a wycked man iuſt.

The.xxxiij. Chapter.

5. Elihu accuſeth Iob of ignorance. 14. Hee ſheweth that God hathe diuers meanes to inſtruct man, and to drawe him from ſynne. 19. He afflicteth man, and ſodenly delyuereth him. 26. Man beyng delyuered, gyueth thãks to God.

1 WHerefore heare my woordes, O Iob, and hearken vnto all that I wyll ſaye:

2 Behold, I haue nowe opened my mouth, my tongue hathe ſpoken in my throte.

3 My hart doth order my words aright, and my lippes talke of pure wiſedome.

4 The (a) ſpirite of God hath made me, and the breath of the almightie hath gyuen mee my lyfe.

5 If thou canſt then giue mee aunſweare, prepare thy ſelfe, and ſtand before me face to face.

6 Beholde, (b) before God, I am euen as thou: for I am faſhioned and made, euen of the ſame molde.

7 Beholde, my terrour ſhall not feare thee, neyther ſhall my hand be heauy vpon thee.

8 (c) Nowe haſt thou ſpoken in myne eares, and I haue hearde the voyce of thy woordes:

9 I am cleane without any faulte, I am innocent, and there is no wickednes in mee.

10 But loe, he hath picked a quarell agaynſte me,

a. To proeue Iob plagued for his offences.

"or, the dayes ſhall ſpeake.

"or, the multitude of yeres ſhall.

"or, iudgement

me, and taketh me for his enimie.
11 He hathe put my fote in the stockes, and loketh narrowly vnto all my pathes.
12 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right, I will make answeare vnto thee, that God is greater than man.
13 And why doest thou then striue agaynste hym? for he shall not gyue thee accompts of all his wordes.
14 For God speaketh (d) once or twice, and yet man vnderstandeth it not.
15 In dreames and visions of the night, whē slumbring commeth vpon men, that they fal asleepe in their beddes, 16 He roundeth them in the eares, and sealeth their correction:
17 That he may withdraw man from euill enterprises, and delyuer hym from (e) pryde,
18 And keepe hys soule from the graue, and his lyfe from the swoorde.
19 He chastneth him with sickneste vpon hys bedde, he layeth sore punishment vppon hys bones:
20 So that his (f) life may away with no bread, and his soule abhorreth to eate anye daintie meate:
21 (g) In so muche, that his body is cleane consumed away, and hys bones appeare, which before were not seene.
22 His soule draweth vnto the graue, and his lyfe to " death.
23 Nowe (h) if there be a messenger, one among a thousande, sente for to speake vnto man, and to shewe him the right way:
24 Then the Lorde is mercifull vnto hym, and sayth, Hee shall bee delyuered, that he fall not downe to the graue: for I am sufficiently reconciled.
25 Then shall his (i) flesche bee as freshe as a chyldes, and shall returne as in the dayes of his youth.
26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see hys face with (k) ioy, for he will render vnto mā hys righteousnesse.
27 I respect hathe hee vnto men, let man then say, I haue offended, I dyd vnrighteously, and (l) it hath done me no good:
28 Yea, he hath delyuered my soule from destruction, and (m) my lyfe shall see the lyght.
29 Loe, all these worketh God alway with man:
30 That hee bring backe his soule from the graue to the light, yea the lyght of the lyuing.
31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare me: holde thee still, and I will speake.
32 But if thou hast any thing to say, then (n) answeare me, and speake: for I desyre to iustifie thee.
33 If thou hast nothing, then heare mee, and hold thy tong, and I shall teach thee wysedome.

d. God speaketh two maner of wayes vnto men, eyther by sleepe, or by hys rod of sickneste, & other plages.

e. For to beate downe the pride of man, God sendeth hys plages.

f. That is, sickneste that decayeth lyfe, can take no sustenance.
g. Heere speaketh he of the second way, whereby God speaketh to man by afflictions.
" or, to the buriers.
h. If there be a messenger seene to declare Gods wyl truely, & shew his benefytes one of a thousand, and man regardeth the same: then will God haue mercy.
i. The health of the body, is the blessing of God.
k. Hee shall feele the comfort of the holy ghost.
l. But it prouoked Gods wrath vpon me
m. That is, my soule shall appeare cleare in the land of the lyuing.

n. That is, to shewe thy selfe iust, and not wicked.

The. xxxiiij. Chapter.

5. Elihu chargeth Iob, that hee calleth hymselfe ryghteous. 12. Hee sheweth that God is iust in iudgementes. 24. God destroyeth the myghtie. 30. By hym the hypocrite raigneth.

1 ELihu proceeding in his answeare, sayd,
2 Heare my wordes, O yee (a) wyse men, hearken vnto me, yee that haue vnderstandyng:
3 For the eare discerneth wordes, and the mouth tasteth the meates.
4 As for (b) iudgemente, let vs seeke it out among our selues, that we may knowe what is good.
5 (And why?) Iob hathe sayde, I am ryghteous, and God hathe (c) taken away my iudgement.
6 In my right, I should be a lyer: my woūd is incurable without my fault.
7 Where is there suche a one as Iob, that (d) drinketh vp scornefulnesse like water?
8 Why che goeth in the company of wycked doers, and walketh with vngodly men?
9 For he hathe sayde, It profiteth a man nothyng that he should walke with God.
10 Therfore hearken vnto mee, yee that haue vnderstanding: farre be it from God, that he should meddle with wickednesse, and farre bee it from the almightie, that he shoulde meddle with vnrighteous dealing.
11 For he shall reward man after his workes, and cause euery man to fynde accordyng to hys wayes.
12 Sure it is, that God wyll not doe wyckedly, neyther will the almightie peruert iudgement.
13 Who ruleth the earth but he? or who hathe placed the whole worlde?
14 If he set his hart vpon (man,) and gather vnto hym selfe hys spirit and his breath, 15 All flesh shall come to nought at once, and all men shall turne agayne vnto dust.
16 If thou nowe haue vnderstanding, heare what I say, and hearken to the voyce of my wordes:
17 May he be a (e) ruler that loueth not right? or may he that is a very innocent man doe vngodly?
18 Is it reason thou shouldest say to ỹ kyng, Thou art wicked, or thou art vngodly, and that before the princes?
19 God hathe no respect vnto the persons of the

a. Here Elihu prooueth that God can not be vniust, by-cause he is the iudge of the world, the gouernour and creator of all.
b. Let vs seeke the cause by reasonyng in order of iustice
c. That is, he hathe not dealt with me, according to the equitie of my cause.
d. That is, for his foolishnesse, he beareth the scornfull reproches of the mockers

e. As though Elihu woulde say, is it meete that the vniust and wicked shall be rulers, or innocents commit wickednesse, or inferiours to controle princes, or subiects to resist the king: howe much lesse ought thou to do so to god the king of all kyngs?

the lordly, and regardeth not the rich more than the poore: for they bee all the worke of his handes.

f. That is, sodenly before they are aware of it.

20 In the (f)twinkling of an eye shall they dye, and at midnighte when the people and the tyrantes rage, then shall they perish, and be taken away without handes.

21 For his eyes loke vpon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenesse nor shadowe of death, that can hyde the wicked doers from him.

23 For God will not laye vpon man, more than he hath sinned, that he should enter into(g)iudgement with him.

g. For mannes frayle nature can not reache to Gods insearchable secrets and therfore must leaue thē with all humilitie.

24 He shall destroye the mightie without seeking, and shall set other in their (h) steade.

h. God exalteth one, and humbleth an other, as the foure monarches of the worlde for example, that is, of the Assyrians, of the Persians, of the Grecians, & of the Romanes: as God doeth mightily, so doth he iustly.

25 Therefore shall hee declare their workes: he shall (i)turne the nyght, and they shall be destroyed.

i. That is, he shal bring to light, that whiche lay in darknesse.

26 The vngodly doth he punishe(k)openly.

k. That is, in the sight of all men.

27 Bicause they turned backe from him, and woulde not consider all his wayes.

28 In so much that they haue caused the voyce of the(l) poore to come vnto him, and nowe he heareth the complaynte of suche as are in trouble.

l. Through their cruel and vnmercifull hādling of thē.

29 When he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hydeth his face, who can beholde him? whether it be vppon nations or vpon one man onely:

m. Elihu doth not wishe to Iob any euill, but desireth God that he may acknowledge his office whiche can not be brought to passe, but by affliction.

30 Bicause the hypocrite doth raigne, bicause the people are snared.

31 Surely, of God onely it can be sayde, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 If I haue gone amisse, enfourme thou me: if I haue done wrong, I will leaue off.

33 Will he perfourme the thing through thee, for thou haste reproued his iudgement, thou also hast thyne owne mynd, and not I: but speake on what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wyse man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neyther were his wordes according to wysdome.

36 O (m)father, let Iob be "well tryed, bycause he hath answered for wicked men:

" or, tried vnto the ende.

37 Yea aboue his sinne he doth wickedly, triumpheth among vs, and multiplieth his wordes against God.

The. xxxv. Chapter.

6. Neyther doeth godlynesse profite, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 18. The wicked crie vnto God, and are not heard.

a. Iob holding his peace, Elihu went on in his talke.

1 Elihu (a) spake moreouer, and sayde,

2 Thinkest thou it right that thou saist, I am more righteous than God.

3 For thou sayest, What aduantage will it be vnto thee, and what profite shall I haue of my sinne?

4 Therfore will I giue answere vnto thee, and to thy (b)companions with thee.

5 Loke vnto the (c) heauen, and beholde it, consider the cloudes, whych are higher than thou.

6 If thou halle (d) sinned, what halle thou done againste him? If thyne offences be many, what hast thou done vnto him?

7 If thou bee (e) righteous, what gyuest thou him? or what will hee receiue of thine hande?

8 Thy wickednesse (may hurt) a man as thou art, and thy righteousnesse (may profite) the sonne of man.

9 They whiche are oppressed, crie out vpon the multitude, yea, they crye out for the power of the mightie:

10 But (f) none sayeth, Where is God that made mee? and that giueth vs " occasion to prayse him in the night?

" or, songs.

11 Whiche teacheth vs more than the beastes of the earthe, and giueth vs more wisedome than the foules of heauen.

12 If any (g)such complayne, no man giueth answere, and that bycause of the wickednesse of proude tyrantes.

13 For God wyll not heare vanitie, neyther will the almightie regarde it.

14 Although thou sayest (to God) thou wylte not regarde it: yet iudgement is before him, trust thou in him.

15 But nowe bycause his anger hath not (h) visited, neyther called men to accompt with great extremitie:

16 Therfore doth Iob open his mouth but in vayne, and he maketh many wordes without knowledge.

b. To suche as are like to thee in obstinacie, not leauing thy great errour.

c. If the clouds be higher than thou, how muche more is God excelling thee in all.

d. It doth nothing aduantage God, whether wee bee good or euill, for he needeth not mans help, he is moste mightie, his maiestie is most glorious.

e. As though he wold saye, if we doe good, it is our owne: if we doe euil, it is ours also.

f. Iob said before, that God seemed not to haue care of mortal things: by profe, bicause that the wicked are in prosperitie, & the godlie are afflicted. But Elihu refelleth that, saying, The cause of their plague is for that they cal not to god nor pray, nor trust in him.

g. That is, God heareth them not, bycause they pray not heartily to him in fayth.

h. For if God shoulde plague Iob according to his deserte, he were not able to speake: but bicause God is fauourable, Iob speaketh so vnwysely.

The. xxxvi. Chapter.

1. Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6. and his iustice, 9. and wherefore hee punisheth. 13. The propertie of the wicked.

1 Elihu also proceeded, and sayde,

2 Hold thee stil a little, & I shal shewe thee what I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I will open vnto thee yet far higher knowledge, and will ascribe righteousnesse vnto my maker.

4 And truly my wordes shall not be vayne, seeyng he is with thee, that is (a) perfecte in knowledge.

a. And therefore credit my sayings, for I come to pleade for gods cause.

5 Beholde, the greate God casteth away no man, for he him selfe is (b) mightie in power and wisedome.
6 As for the vngodly hee shall not preserue him, but shall helpe the poore to their ryghte.
7 He shall not turne his eyes away from the ryghteous, but as (c) kyngs shall they bee in their throne, hee shall stablish them for euer, and they shall be exalted.
8 But if they be layde in chaynes, or bounde with the bondes of trouble, 9 Then wyll he (d) shewe them their worke and their sinnes which haue ouercome them.
10 He with punishing and nurturing of the, roundeth them in the eares, warneth them to leaue off from their wickednesse, and to amende.
11 If they now wyl take heede and serue him, they shall weare out their dayes in prosperitie, and their yeeres in pleasure.
12 But if they will not hearken, they shall goe through the swoorde, and perish or euer they be aware.
13 As for (e) hypocrites in harte, they shall heape vp wrath (for them selues) for they call not vpon hym, though they be his prysoners.
14 Thus shall theyr soule perish in "folyshnesse, and their life among the fornicatours.
15 The poore shall hee delyuer out of hys affliction, and "round them in the eare when they be in trouble.
16 Euē so would he take thee out of ỹ straite place, into a broade place in the whiche there is no straitnesse: yea, and make thy table quiet, replenished with fatnesse.
17 Neuertheless, (f) thou hast commended the iudgement of the vngodly, and euen such a iudgement and sentence shalt thou suffer.
18 And seeing there is (g) wrath with God, beware least he take thee away in thy wrath, and all that thou hast to redeeme thee, can not delyuer thee.
19 Thynkest thou that hee wyll regarde thy richesse? hee shall not care for golde, nor for all them that excell in strength.
20 (h) Spende not the nyghte in carefull thoughts, how he destroyeth some, and bringeth other in their place.
21 But beware that thou turne not aside to wickednesse and synne, which hytherto thou hast chosen more than affliction.
22 Beholde, (i) God is of a mightie hyghe power: where is there such a guyde, and law gyuer as he?
23 Who wyll reproue hym of his way? who wyll say vnto him, Thou hast done wrong?
24 Remember that thou doe magnifye hys worke which men doe prayse, 25 All men see it, yea men do beholde it a farre off.
26 Beholde, so greate is God, that he passeth our knowledge, (k) neyther can the number of his yeeres be searched out.
27 Sometime hee restrayneth the rayne, and agayne he sendeth rayne by his cloudes:
28 Whiche rayne the cloudes do droppe, and let fall abundantly vpon men.
29 Who can consyder the (l) spreadyngs out of hys cloudes, the coueringes of his tabernacle?
30 Beholde, he doeth stretche his lyght vppon it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.
31 For by these gouerneth he his people, and gyueth them abundance of meate.
32 With the cloudes he hideth the lyghte, and at his commaundement it breaketh out:
33 Which dashing vpō the next cloudes, shew tokens of wrath.

b. And therefore he wil not destroy the iust, the wise, and the godly, seeing they are therin like vnto hym.
c. So God doeth exalt the godly, and they that loue him.
d. If he shall plage the righteous, he wyll declare the cause of the same.
e. Hypocrites that confesse God in theyr mouthes, and not in theyr hartes, wil not acknowledge theyr offence, and so runne in to desperation, and confusion.
"or, youthfulnesse.
"or, opē theyr eare.
f. Thou hast alowed the counsayle of the wicked, and layde aside the counsayle of God as vniust.
g. Meanyng, thou shalt be in paynes whiche can not be released for any price.
h. That is, do not wickedly, wayting a time to do euill, as the robbers in the night, or muse not when thou art solitarie in the nyghte, why some people do perish, and some do not, for therein thou offendest, bycause it belongeth to the secrecie of Gods maiestie.
i. What lawe maker then is more iust than he, for he gaue the holy and immaculate law, who durst then to call him vniust?
k. For he is God from euerlasting, without beginning or ending.
l. Gods maiestie is wonderfully declared in hys creatures.

The.xxxvij. Chapter.

2. Elihu prooueth that the vnsearcheable wisedome of God is manifest by his works, 4. as by thunders, 6. the snowe, 9. the whyrle winde, 11. and the rayne.

1 AT (a) this also my hart is astonied, and mooued out of hys place.
2 Heare (b) then the sound of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his lyght vnto the endes of the world.
4 A roaring voyce followeth it, for his glorious maiestie gyueth a thunderclap, and hee will not stay when his voyce is heard.
5 God thundreth marueylously wyth hys voyce, great things doeth he, whyche we can not comprehende.
6 He commaundeth the snowe, and it falleth vpon earth: he gyueth the rayne a charge, and the showres haue theyr strength, and fall downe.
7 With the force of the rayne he shutteth men vp, that all men may know his (c) workes.
8 The beastes (d) creepe into theyr dennes, and remayne in their places.
9 Out of the south commeth the tempest, and cold out from the north winde.
10 At the (e) breath of God the hoare frost is gyuen, and the broade waters are frosen.
11 He maketh the (f) cloudes to labour in giuing moystnesse, and agayne with hys (g) lyght he dryueth away the cloude.
12 He turneth the heauens about by hys gouernemente, that they maye doe whatsoeuer he

a. That is, at Gods wonderfull creatures, as the thunder, and such lyke.
b. As though he woulde say, the thunder is the dreadfull voyce of God.
c. Whiche workes are as it were a confirmation of Gods maiestie: for as soon as the thunder commeth, they flee for feare, wherein they shewe their owne weakenesse, and do witnesse a maiestie of God on high.
d. Not only man, but beastes also are witnesses of Gods power and maiesty, whē they runne to theyr dennes for feare of the thunder.
e. Meaning, the winter which are called the breath of God, which as they blowe hot or colde, so they frise or thawe the waters, making the lesser & greater.
f. That is, to gather vapeurs from the earthe and to powre them downe at Gods pleasure, to the watering of the same.
g. That is, I see scatereth the clouds abrode with the lightnigs that are inclosed in this.

he (h) commaundeth them vppon the whole worlde,

13 Whether it be for punishmente, or for hys land, or to do good to them that seeke him.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob, stand still, and consyder the wonderous workes of God.

15 Diddest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the lyght of (i) his cloudes to shyne?

16 Hast thou knowen ỹ varietie of ỹ clouds, and the wonderous workes of him, whyche is perfect in knowledge, 17 And howe thy clothes are warme, when the land is still through the south winde?

18 Hast thou helped him to spread out the heauens, whiche are strong and bright as a (k) loking glasse?

19 Teache vs what wee shall say vnto hym: for we are vnmeete to frame our talke, because of (l) darknesse.

20 Shall it be tolde him what I say? Shall man speake when he shall be destroyed?

21 For men see not the lyght that shineth in the cloudes: but the wind passeth and cleanseth them.

22 The fayre weather commeth out of the North, the prayse thereof is to God, who is terrible.

23 It is the almightie, we can not fynde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgemẽt, and abundant in iustice: he afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore (m) feare him: for there shall no man see him, that is wise in his own conceyte.

h. Gods creatures are all at his becke to do his pleasure either to plage any lande of his, or to doe good to any.

i. That is, the lightning.

k. For the clearenesse or brightnesse of them.

l. That is, of our ignorance.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakenesse of man in the consyderation of his creatures, by whose excellencie, the power, iustice, and prouidence of the creator is knowen.

1 Then answeared the Lord vnto Iob, out of the (a) whyrle winde, and sayde,

2 What is he that (b) darkneth his counsell by words without knowledge?

3 Gyrd vp thy (c) loynes lyke a man: for I will question with thee, see thou gyue mee a direct answeare.

4 Where wast thou when I (d) layde the fundations of the earthe? Tell playnely, if thou hast vnderstandyng.

5 Who hath measured it, knowest thou? or who hath (e) spread the lyne vpon it?

6 Wherevpon are the (f) foundations set? or who hath layd the (g) corner stone thereof?

7 Where wast thou when ỹ morning starres praysed me togeather, and all the children of God reioyced triumphantly?

8 Who (h) shut the sea with doores, when it brake forth as out of the wombe?

9 Whẽ I made the cloudes (to be) a couering for it, (i) and swadled it with the darke:

10 When I gaue it my commaundemente, makyng dores and barres for it, 11 Saying, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further: and here shalte thou lay downe thy proude and hye wanes.

12 Hast thou gyuen the morning hys charge since thy dayes, and shewed the day spryng his place, 13 That it myght take holde of the "corners of the earth, and that the vngodly might bee shaken out of it?

14 (k) They are fashioned as the clay wyth the seale, and all stand vp as a garmente.

15 The vngodly shall bee disappoynted of their lyght, and "the arme of the proud shall be broken.

16 (l) Camest thou euer into the "ground of the sea, or walkedst in the lowe corners of the deepe?

17 Haue the gates of deathe bin opened vnto thee? or hast thou seene the dores of the shadowe of death?

18 Hast thou also perceyued howe brode the earth is? if thou hast knowledge of all thys:

19 Then shewe mee the way where lighte dwelleth, & where is the "place of darknes, 20 That thou shouldest receyue it in the boundes thereof, and knowe the pathes to their houses?

21 Knewest thou afore thou wast borne, how olde thou shouldest be?

22 (m) Wentest thou euer into the treasures of the snowe, or hast thou seene the secrete places of the hayle, 23 Which I haue prepared against the time of trouble, against the time of battayle and warre?

24 By what way is the light parted? and into what land breaketh the East winde?

25 Who diuideth ỹ waters into diuers chanels? or who maketh a way for the lightning and thunder,

26 To cause it to rayne on the earthe where no man is, and in the wyldernesse where none inhabiteth, 27 To satisfie the desolate and wast ground, and to cause the bud of the hearbe to spring forthe?

28 Who is the (n) father of the rayne? or who hath begotten the droppes of the dewe?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath gendred the "coldnesse of the ayre,

30 That

a. To shew his maiestie, and to instruct Iob, before whome he spake.

b. That speaketh so couertely & obscurely

c. That is, prepare thee selfe to answeare.

d. Inferring by this, that if he could not conceyue Gods wonderfull workes, muche lesse his vnsearchable wisedome.

e. That is, compassed the earthe with his bondes.

f. Meaning the kinds of God, which hold vp as a pillor the heauens and the earth, that it falleth not.

g. That is, who layde the foundations of the earth, and made it so stedfast that it falleth not?

h. That is, who after the creation shut vp the seas within their limits, as with doores.

i. As though the huge seas were but a weake child in Gods hand, to rule at his pleasure.

" or, wynges.

k. Though the vngodly trust in their estate to endure lõg, yet they shall be as weake as clay, and as a garment shall soone perishe.

" or, the hygh arme.

l. A iudge ought to bee skilfull in the cause that hee iudgeth: but seeing thou knowest none of these things that are visible, why wilt thou presume to iudge of things inuisible?

" or, bottome.

m. No man can goe in the place where the snowe is gendred: muche lesse may Iob clime vp to heauen to knowe Gods secretes.

n. Meanyng God is the creator and maker of al thõgs.

" or, frost of the heauen.

30 That the waters are "hid as(with)a stone, and lye congealed about the deepe?
31 Wilt thou bynder the sweete influences of the seauen starres? or lose the bandes of Orion?
32 Canst thou bryng forthe Mazzaroth in theyr tyme? Canst thou also guide Arcturus with his sonnes?
33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, that thou mayest set vp (o) the ordinance thereof vpon the earth?
34 Moreouer, canst thou lift vp thy voyce to the cloudes, that they may powre downe great rayne vpon thee.
35 Canst thou sende the lightnings also, that they may goe their way and be obedient vnto thee, saying, Loe here are we?
36 Who hathe put wisedome in the reynes? or who hath giuen the hart vnderstandyng?
37 Who nombreth the cloudes in wisedome? who stilleth the vehement "waters of the heauen, 38 (p) To cause the earth to grow into hardnesse, and the clots to cleaue fast togeather?
39 (q) Wilt thou hunt the pray for the Lion? or fyll the appetite of the Lions whelpes, 40 When they couche in theyr places, and tarie in the couert to lye in wayte?
41 Who prouydeth meate for the Rauen, when his yong ones crie vnto God, and flee about for lacke of meate.

The. xxxix. Chapter.

The bountie and prouidence of God, whiche extendeth euen to beastes, gyueth man full occasion to put his confidence in God.

1 KNowest thou the tyme when the wilde goates bring forthe their yong among the stonie rockes? or (a) layest thou wait whē the Hyndes vse to calue?
2 Canst thou number the moneths that they goe with yong? or knowest thou the tyme when they bring forth?
3 They lye downe, they calue their yong ones, and they are delyuered of theyr trauell and payne:
4 Yet their yong ones growe vp, and waxe fatte through good feeding with corne: they goe forthe, and returne not agayne vnto them.
5 Who letteth the wyld Asse to goe free? or who loseth the bonds of the wild Mule?
6 Euen I whiche haue giuen the wyldernesse to be their house, and the (b) vntilled land to be their dwelling.
7 They (c) force not for the multitude of people in the citie, neyther regard the crying of the driuer:
8 But seeke their pasture about the mountaynes, and folow the greene grasse.
9 Will the (d) Unicorne doe thee seruice, or abyde still by thy cribbe?
10 Canst thou bynde the yoke about the Unicorne in the forowe, to make hym plowe after thee in the valleyes?
11 Wayest thou trust hym bicause he is strōg, or committhy labour vnto him?
12 Wayest thou beleeue him that hee wyll bring home thy "corne, or carie any thyng vnto thy barne?
13 Gauest thou the fayre wings vnto ỹ Pecockes, or wings and feathers vnto the Estriche?
14 For she leaueth hir egges in the earth, and C heateth them in the dust.
15 She remembreth not that they myghte be troden with feete, or broken with some wild beast.
16 So harde is shee vnto hir yong ones, as though they were not hers, and (e) laboureth in vayne without any feare.
17 And that bycause God hath (f) taken wisdome from hir, and hath not gyuen hir vnderstanding.
18 When hir time is that shee stirreth vp on hygh, she careth neyther for the horse, nor the ryder.
19 (g) Hast thou giuen the horse his strength, or learned him to ney courageously?
20 Canst thou make him afrayde as a Grashopper? where as the stoute neying that hee maketh is fearefull.
21 Hee breaketh the ground with the hookes of his feet, he reioiceth chearfully in his strēgth, and runneth to meete the harnest men.
22 He layeth afyde all feare, his stomacke is not abated, neyther starteth he backe for any swoorde.
23 Though the quyuers rattle vppon hym, though the speare and swoord glyster:
24 Yet rusheth hee in fiercely, beating the grounde, he thynketh it not the noyse of the trumpettes:
25 But when the trumpets make most noise, he sayth, "Tushe, for he smelleth the battell a farre off, the noyse of the captaynes, and the shouting.
26 Commeth it through thy wisedome that the Goshauke fleeth to ward the (h) South?
27 Doeth the Eagle mount vp, and make his nest on high at thy commaundement?
28 He abydeth in stonie rockes, and dwelleth vpon the high toppes of mountaynes:
29 From whence he seeketh his pray, and loketh farre about with his eyes.
30 Hys yong ones also sucke vp blood: and where any dead body lyeth, there is he.

The

" Some reade harde.

o. The influence.

" or, bottels.
p. For so groweth the earth by the want of rayne.
q. After he had shewed hys maruayles aboue, he commeth to the earthly creatures, as though God woulde say, The thigs in the cloudes are vnknowen to thee, yea euen things on earthe thou durst not doe, how muche lesse then durst thou to reache to Gods secrete wisedome.

a. Hee chiefly reciteth these beasts, for they bryng foorthe their yonglings with greatest payne.

b. Some reade, salte places, meanyng barrayne ground.
c. For the wild Asse is of all beastes most vntameable.

d. If thou canst not rule the Vnicorne, canst thou knowe Gods secrete or appointe hir to do thy will?

" or, seede.

e. The Ethrich when she hath hatched hir egges, hydeth them in the sande, and by the heate of the sunne, the young are brought forth, but she leaueth the egges as careleste, forgetting the place where she put them, and so hir labour is vayne.
f. To be natrall towarde hir owne.
g. Thus in all creatures, the glory of God maiestie is declared.

" or, hyde.

h. That is, flee into the regions that are hot when colde commeth.

The.xl. Chapter.

2. How weake mans power is, being compared to the woorkes of God, 10. whose power appeareth in the creation and gouerning of the great beastes.

א 1 MOreouer the Lorde spake vnto Iob, and sayde,

2 Shall hee whome the almightie will chasten, contende with him? Shoulde not hee whiche disputeth with God, giue hym an answeare?

a. Here Iob confesseth hys offence, and durste not speake for when God doth reprehend, who can aunsweare?

3 Then Iob (a) answeared the Lord, saying.

4 Behold, I am vyle, what shall I answere thee, (therefore) I will lay my hand vppon my mouth.

5 Once haue I spoken, but I will say, no more: yea twise, but I will proceede no further.

6 Then aunsweared the Lorde vnto Iob out of the whirle wynde, and sayde, ב 7 Gyrde vp thy loynes nowe lyke a man: I wyll demaunde of thee, and make thou answeare.

b. Meanyng, him for a man to accompt him selfe iust, to accuse God for vniust or, arme.

8 Wilt thou (b) disanull my iudgemente? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be righteous?

9 Is thy power then lyke the power of god? maketh thy voyce a sound as his doeth?

10 Decke thy selfe now with excellencie and maiestie, and aray thy selfe with (c) beautie and glory:

c. Whiche no man is able to do, for these things are only perteyning to God,

11 Cast abroade the indignation of thy wrath, and beholde euery one that is proude, and abase hym:

12 Loke on euery one that is arrogante, and bring him lowe, and destroy the wicked in their place.

ג 13 Hyde them in the dust togeather, and couer their faces in (d) secrete:

d. That is, shale them to dye, if it fyr in my power.

14 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that (e) thine owne right hande shall saue thee.

e. Which God onely do, and therefore trusting in hys owne strength, thou compareste with God.

15 Beholde the beast (f) Behemoth, whom I made with thee, which eateth hay as an oxe:

f. The Hebrues say, Behemoth signifieth an Oxe, so called of his bygnesse, by the whiche may be vnderstande the deuil.

16 Loe howe his strength is in his loynes, and what power he hath in the nauil of hys body.

17 When hee will, hee spreadeth out his tayle lyke a Cedar tree, all his sinowes are stiffe.

18 His bones are lyke pypes of brasse, yea hys bones are like staues of iron.

19 He is the chiefe of the wayes of God, hee that made him, will make his sword to approch vnto him.

20 Surely the mountaynes bring him forth grasse, where all the beastes of the fielde take their pastime.

ד 21 He resteth him in the shade, in the couerte of the reede and fennes.

22 The trees couer him with their shadowe, and the wyllowes of the broke compasse him about.

23 Beholde, he drinketh vp whole riuers, and feareth not, he thinketh that he can drawe vp Iordane into his mouth.

24 He taketh it with his eyes, and yet ỹ hunter putteth (g) a bridle into his nose.

g. Meaning, he is inuisible amongst men, yet God can bruise him.

25 Canst thou drawe out Leuiathan (h) with a hooke? or bind his tong with a corde.

h. Leuiathan is a whale.

26 Canst thou put an hooke in the nose of him, or bore his iawe through with a "naule?

"or, angle.

27 Will hee make many fayre wordes wyth thee (thinkest thou) or flatter thee?

ה 28 Will hee make a couenant with thee? or wilte thou take him for a seruant for-euer?

29 Wilt thou take thy passime with hym? as with a byrde, wilte thou binde him for thy maydens?

30 That thy companions may make a refection of him: or shall he be parted among the marchantes?

31 Canst thou fyll the basket with his skinne? or the fisshe (i) pannier with his head?

i. For it is dangerous to truste Satan in any thing, yea it is hurtfull to touch him, for Leuiathan representeth Sathan.

32 Lay thine hande vpon him, remember the battayle, and do no more so.

33 Beholde, his hope is in vayne: for shall not one perish euen at the syght of hym?

The.xli. Chapter.

By the greatnesse of this monster Leuiathan, God sheweth his greatnesse and his power, which nothing can resist.

א 1 NO (a) man is so fierce that dare stirre him vp: who is able to stand before me?

a. If the creature can not be resisted, who can compare with the creator?

2 Or who hath giuen me any thing afore hand, that I may reward him agayne? all things vnder heauen are mine.

3 I will not keepe secrete his great strength, his power, nor his comely proportion.

4 Who can discouer the face of his garment? or who shall come to him wyth a double bridle?

5 Who (b) shall open the dores of his face? for he hath horrible teeth round about.

b. That is, who dare looke in his mouth?

6 His scales are as it were strong shieldes, so fastned togeather as if they were sealed:

7 One is so ioyned to another, that no ayre can come in?

ב 8 Yea one hangeth so vppon another, and sticketh so togeather, that they can not be sundred.

9 His (c) neesings make a glistering like fyre, and his eyes lyke the "morning shyne.

c. That is, he spouteth out flames of fyre out of hys mouth.

"or, eye lids of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth goe torches, and sparks of fyre leape out.

11 And out of his nosthrilles there goeth a smoke, lyke as out of an hot seething pot, or caldron.

12 His

12 His breath maketh the coales burne, and the flame goeth out of his mouth.
13 In his (d) necke there remayneth strength, and nothing is too laborous for hym.
14 The members of his body are ioyned (so straight one to another,) and cleaue so fast togeather, that he can not be moued.
15 His (e) hart is as harde as a stone, and as fast as the "stithie that the Smyth smyteth vpon.
16 When hee goeth, the mightie are afrayde, and feare troubleth them.
17 If any man drawe out a sword at him, it shall not hurt him, there may neyther speare, iauelin, nor brestplate, abyde hym.
18 He setteth as much by iron as by a strawe, and as much by brasse, as by a rotten sticke.
19 He starteth not away from him that bendeth the bowe: and as for sling stones, hee careth as much for stubble as for them.
20 He counteth the dartes no better than a strawe, he laugheth hym to scorne that shaketh the speare.
21 (f) Sharp stones are vnder him like pot-sheardes, and he lyeth vppon sharp things as vpon the soft myre.
22 Hee maketh the (g) deepe to boyle like a potte, and stirreth the sea togeather like an oyntment.
23 He maketh the (h) path to bee seene after hym, and he maketh the deepe to seeme all hoarie.
24 Vppon earth there is no power like vnto his: for he is so mad that he feareth not.
25 He beholdeth all the high things, (i) he is a king ouer all the children of pryde.

d. For Satan is the prince of the world, who ouercame by action: but Christ ouerthrewe hys kingdome by his passion.
e. Satan is called hard of hart, bycause he is vnmercifull, cruel, and vntreatable.
"or, the neather millstone.
f. For the hard resse of his skin is suche, that he lyeth vpon it without payne, as in the softe myre.
g. He spouteth out the water in suche sorte, that the seas seeme to boyle
h. With a white froth vpon the water.
i. He despiseth all, & is proudest of all.

The. xlij. Chapter.

6. The repentance of Iob. 9. He prayeth for his friendes, 12. and his goodes are restored double vnto him.

1 Then Iob aunswered the Lorde, and sayde,
2 I knowe that thou hast (a) power ouer all things, and that there is no thought hid vnto thee.
3 For who can keepe his owne counsell so secrete, but it shall be knowen? Therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstoode not, euen the things that are too wonderfull for mee, and passe mine vnderstandyng.
4 O (b) hearken thou vnto me also, and let me speake: answeare vnto the thing that I will aske thee.
5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but nowe myne eye (c) seeth thee.
6 Wherefore, I gyue myne owne selfe the blame, and take (d) repentance in the dusse and ashes.
7 Nowe when the Lorde hadde spoken these wordes vnto Iob, it came to passe that the Lorde sayde to Eliphas the Themanite, I (e) am displeased with thee, and thy two friendes: for yee haue not spoken of mee the thing that is right, like as (f) my seruant Iob hath done.
8 Therefore take yee nowe seuen oxen, and seuen rammes, and goe (g) to my seruaunte Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruaunte Iob shall pray for you: him will I accept, and not deale with you after your foolishnesse, in that yee haue not spoken of me the thing which is ryghte, like as my seruant Iob hath done.
9 So Eliphas the Themanite, and Bildad the Suhite, and Sophar the Naamathite, went and did according as the Lorde commaunded them: the Lord also accepted "the person of Iob.
10 And the Lorde (h) turned the captiuitie of Iob when he prayed for his friendes: yea the Lord gaue Iob twice as much as he had afore.
11 And then came there vnto him all hys (i) brethren, all his sisters, and all they that had bin of his acquayntance afore, and did eate bread with him in his house, and had compassion on him, and comforted him ouer all trouble that the Lord had brought vpō hym, euery man also (k) gaue him a certayne sum of money, and a "iewell of golde.
12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob, more than the first, for he had fourteene thousande Sheepe, syxe thousande Cammels, a thousand yoke of Oxen, and a thousand shee Asses:
13 Hee hadde seuen sonnes also, and three daughters.
14 The fyrst daughter called he (l) Iemima, the second (m) Kezia, and the third (n) Kerenhapuch.
15 In all the land were no women founde so fayre as the daughters of Iob: and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.
16 After this lyued Iob an hundred and fortie yeeres: so that he sawe his children, and his childrens children, into the fourth generation.
17 And so Iob dyed, being olde, and "of a perfect age.

a. Iob confesseth the omnipotencie of God, and bewayleth hys offence, that he spake hee wist not what.
b. Iob desireth to learne of God.
c. He saw hym not but by his word, which is the face and image of God as Christe.
d. As the manner of mourners was then that repented.
e. Bycause they defended the iustice of God with carnall reasons.
f. For Iob defended of ignorance.
g. Reconcile your selues to hym, in that yee haue done hys offence, & then will I heare him for you.
"or, the fact.
h. He rid hym from his troubles & plagues.
i. That is, all they that were of his kinred.
k. Here is the exceeding great blessings of God towards the godly, and they that vnfeignedly trust in him.

God ſaue the Queene.

A Prologue of S. Basill the great, vpon the Psalmes.

DAVID that notable King and Prophet, a man singularly chosen of Almightie God after his owne heart, being indued both with the knowledge of his Creator, and with the knowledge of himself, and being throughly exercised in the whole state of his lyfe with the experience of the worlde: vttereth his sundry affections (as his occasions serued him) in this his booke of Psalmes, a booke set out with dyuers names, but sounding all to one thing. The Hebrues name it Tehillim ספר תלים & ספתלים that is to say, a booke of laudes and hymnes: The Grecians expresse it by the name of a Musical instrument ψαλτηριον so called. Our sauiour Christ calleth it a boke of Psalmes, (as his disciple Peter doth the same.) Some entitle it, Liber Contemplationum siue Soliloquiorum, A booke of contemplations, or secrete Meditations, whereby the godlie speaketh solitarily and alone to almightie God: A booke of holie Scripture, no doubt most comfortable in doctrine, high in mysterie, and profound in sense: but yet familiar and readie to be vnderstanded of the true christian hart. To the diligent vsing of which booke, the holy Apostle saint Paule by graue aduisement, no lesse than in two of his Epistles, exhorteth vs, saying in the one thus: Let the worde of Christ dwell in you richely, in all wisedome (thereof) teaching and admonishing your selues in Psalmes and hymnes and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts vnto the Lord. An admonition so serious ought not to be contemned. Now forasmuch as the vse of the Psalmes hath a special peculiar grace aboue al other parts of scripture, therefore it ought of all other chiefly to be esteemed, and duely to be vsed, as euermore in the Churche of God, aswell of the olde people of Israell, as of the new people of the Christians, it hath bin in most frequent vse and reuerence. Furthermore, al maner of scripture, for that it is inspired from God aboue (as necessarie for instruction) is expressed by the determination of the holy ghost, to the intēt that al men in cōmon should gather out therof (as out of a storehouse of Physike for the soule) peculiar remedies, euery one of vs for our owne infirmities: for such physike (as one writeth) wil restraine great and many sinnes. Now wheras the prophets haue doctrine proper to themselues, and the bookes of the diuine histories matter by themselfe: the lawe hath his peculiar forme of teaching, and the prouerbiall bookes haue their seueral kinde of exhortations. The booke of the Psalmes comprehends in it self the whole cōmoditie of al their doctrines aforesaid, for it prophecieth of things to come, it reciteth the histories, it sheweth lawe for the gouernaunce of life, it teacheth what ought to be done: and to be short, it is a cōmon storehouse of all good doctrine, which doth aptely distribute matter to euery man peculiar to himself: for it healeth not only olde festured wounds of the soule, but also can giue quick remedie to such as be newly made. It stayeth and cōforteth that member which is sicke and corrupt, and preserueth that which is whole and sound: it plucketh vp by the roote, (as much as is possible) all such euill affections as do raigne so tyrannically in the whole course of mans life, which effect it worketh as it were with agreable delectation, instilling pleasantly into our heart all sober honestie. For where as the holie Ghost perceiued that mankinde was hardly trayned to vertue, and that we be verie negligent in thinges concerning the true life in deed, by reason of our inclination to worldly pleasures and delectations: What hath he inuented? He hath mixt in his forme of doctrine, the delectation of musike, to the intent that the cōmoditie of the doctrin might secretly steale into vs, while our eares be touched with the pleasantnesse of the melodie. Euen much like as expert Physitions vse to do when they minister their bitter potions to suk children, least they should abhorre their health for the bitternesse of their drinkes, for the most part they anoynt the brinkes of the cups with honie. And for this ende be these sweete and harmonious songs deuised for vs, that suche as be children either by age, or children by maners, should in deed haue their soules holsomly instructed, though for the time they seme but to sing only. Furthermore, we see cōmonly that they which be of the vulgar people, or of rude and grosse nature, can not readily beare away and keepe in minde the graue precepts of the Apostles, or Prophets, where yet the diuine Psalmes they sing at home in their houses, and abroade they can record them. And certainly though a man were neuer so furiously raging in ire and wrath, yet as soone as he heareth the sweete tunes of the psalmes, straightway is he assuaged of his furie, and must depart more quiet in mynde by reason of the melodie. The psalm is the rest of the soule, the rod of peace, it stilleth & pacifieth the raging bellows of the mind, for it doth assuage & mollifie that ireful power and passion of the soule, it inducth chastitie where raigned wantonnesse, it maketh amitie where was discord, it knitteth friends togither, it returneth enimies to an vnitie again. For who can long repute him as an enimie, with whō he ioyneth himself in lifting vp his voyce to God in prayer? So that the song of the psalme worketh charitie, which is the greatest tresure of all goodnes that can be, deuising by the enducemēt of cōcord singing, the knot and bond of vnitie, so ioyning the people togither after the similitude of a quier in their vnitie of singing. The psalme is an introduction to beginners, it is a furtherer to them whiche goe forward to vertue, it is to the perfect mā a stable fundatiō to rest on, it is the swete voyce, the only mouth of the spouse of Christ the Church. The psalme doth cheere the feastful day the better to reioyce, it worketh that same heuinesse, which is heuines to godward: For the psalme is able to pluck out teares of any mās heart, though it be neuer so stonie hard. O wise & maruellous deuice of our heuenly scholemaister, who could inuent that we should both pleasantly sing, & therwith profitably learne, wherby wholsome doctrine might be the deper printed in vs: for that which with violēce and force is lerned of vs, is not wont to abide long: but that which entreth into vs with plesure, & by louing grace, it cōtinueth the longer in our harts, it sticketh the faster in our memories. Now as for the matter and cōtent of the Psalme, What is there but that a man may learn it there? Is not there to be lerned the valiantnes of fortitude, the righteousnes of iustice? the soberneſſe of temperāce? the perfection of prudēce, the forme of penance, the mesure of pacience? Yea and whatsoeuer soundeth to vertue or perfection, is it not there taught? In the psalme is cōteined absolute diuinitie, both prophecie of Christes cōming in the flesh, the threatful warnings of the iudgement, the hope of our rising again, the feare of Gods punishments, the promises of euerlasting ioy, the reuelation of all misteries: all these be layd and couched vp in the Psalter booke, as in a great treasure house cōmen to all men. Which booke the prophet Dauid framed most aptly (among many instrumentes of musike) to agree with the instrument called the Psalterie: signifying thereby (as I can iudge) the grace of God to come from aboue by the inspiration of the holie Ghost. For this only instrument of all other hath the cause of his sound from his vpper part, where the Harpe or the Lute by their wrests, haue their sound comming foorth out of the lower part of them: but the Psalterie puts forth the swetenes of his harmonious melodie from the vpper, teaching vs thereby, that we shoulde sette our whole studie and meditation in heauenly things aboue, and not by the swetenesse of the tunes to be borne downe to the sensuall affections and delectations of the flesshe.

A 1 BLeſſed is the man that hath not walked in the counſell of the vngodlye, nor ſtande in the way of ſinners: and hath not ſit in ỹ ſeat of the ſcornful.

2 But his delight is in the lawe of the Lord: and in his law wil he exercyſe himſelfe day and night.

3 And he ſhall be like a tree planted by the water ſide: that will bring forth his fruit in due ſeaſon.

4 His leafe alſo ſhall not whither: & loke what ſo euer he doth, it ſhall proſper.

5 As for the vngodly it is not ſo with thē: but they are like the chaffe which the wind ſcattereth away (frō the face of the earth.)

B 6 Therefore the vngodly ſhall not be able to ſtand in the iudgement: neyther the ſinners in the congregation of the righteous.

7 But the Lorde knoweth the way of the righteous: and the way of the vngodly ſhall periſh.

A 1 WHy doe the Heathen ſo furiouſlye rage togither: and why do the people imagine a vayne thing?

2 The Kings of the earth ſtande vp, and the rulers take counſell togither: againſt the Lord, and againſt his annoynted.

3 Let vs breake their bondes aſunder: and caſt away theyr cordes from vs.

4 He that dwelleth in heauen ſhall laugh them to ſcorne: the Lord ſhall haue them in deriſion.

5 Then ſhall he ſpeake vnto them in his wrath: & vexe them in his ſore diſpleaſure.

6 Yet haue I ſet my king: vpon my holy hyll of Sion.

B 7 I will preach the law, whereof the Lord hath ſayde vnto me: thou art my ſonne, this day haue I begotten thee.

8 Deſire of me, and I ſhall giue thee, the Heathen for thine inheritance: & the vttermoſt partes of the earth for thy poſſeſſion.

9 Thou ſhalt bruyſe them with a rodde of iron: and breake them in peeces like a potters veſſell.

10 Be wyſe now therfore, O ye kings: be learned ye that are iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lorde in feare: and reioyce vnto him with reuerence.

4 I did cal vpō the Lord with my voyce: and he heard me out of his holy hill.

5 I layde me down and ſlept, and roſe vp againe: for the Lord ſuſteyned me.

6 I will not be afrayde for ten thouſands of people: that haue ſet themſelues againſt me rounde about.

7 Up Lord, and help me, O my God: for B thou ſmyteſt all mine enimies vpon the cheeke bone, thou haſt broken the teeth of the vngodly.

3 Know this alſo, that the Lord hath choſen to himſelf the man that is godly: when I call vpon the Lorde, he will heare me.

4 Stand in awe and ſinne not: commune with your owne hart, and in your chamber, and be ſtill.

5 Offer the ſacrifice of righteouſneſſe: and put your truſt in the Lorde.

6 There be many that ſay: who wil ſhew vs any good?

Verba mea auribus. Psal.v.

A 1 PVnder my words, O Lord: consider my meditation.
2 O harken thou vnto the voyce of my calling, my king and my God: for vnto thee will I make my prayer.
3 My voyce shalt thou heare betymes, O Lord: early in the morning will I direct my prayer vnto thee, and will looke vp.
4 For thou art the God that hast no pleasure in wickednesse: neither shall any euill dwell with thee.
5 Such as be foolish shall not stande in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke vanitie.
6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake leasing: the Lorde will abhorre both the bloudthirstie and deceytfull man.
B 7 But as for mee, I will come into thy house, euen vpon the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worship towarde thy holy temple.
8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousnesse, because of mine enimies: and make thy way plaine before my face.
9 For there is no faithfulnes in his mouth: their inward partes are verie wickednesse.
10 Their throte is an open sepulchre: they flatter with their tongues.
11 Destroy thou them, O God, let them perish through their own imaginations: cast them out in the multitude of their vngodlinesse, for they haue rebelled against thee.
12 And let all them that put their truste in thee reioyce: they shall euer bee giuing of thankes, because thou defendest them, they that loue thy name shall be ioyfull in thee.
13 For thou lord wilt giue thy blessing vnto the righteous: and with thy fauourable kindenesse wilt thou defende him, as with a shielde.

Domine ne in furore. Psal.vi.

A 1 O Lorde rebuke mee not in thine indignation: neyther chasté me in thy displeasure.
2 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lorde, for I am weake: O Lorde heale me, for my bones are vexed.
3 My soule is also sore troubled: But Lord howe long wilt thou punish me?
4 Turne thee, O Lord, & deliuer my soule: Oh saue me for thy mercies sake.
5 For in death no man remembreth thee: & who will giue thee thanks in the pit?
6 I am weerie of my groning, euery night washe I my bedde: and water my couch with my teares.
7 My beautie is gone for verie trouble: and B worne away because of all mine enimies.
8 Away from me al ye that worke vanity: for the Lorde hath heard the voyce of my weeping.
9 The Lorde hath heard my petition: the Lorde will receyue my prayer.
10 All mine enimies shalbe confounded and sore vexed: they shall be turned backe and put to shame soodenly.

5 Then let mine enimy persecute my soule, and take mee: yea let him treade my lyfe downe vpon the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust.
6 Stand vp, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe: because of the indignations of mine enimies, arise vp for me in the iudgement that thou hast commaunded.
7 And so shall the congregation of the peo- B ple come about thee: for their sakes therefore lift vp thy selfe againe.
8 The Lorde shall iudge the people, giue sentence with me, O Lorde: according to my righteousnesse, and according to the innocencie that is in me.

A In Domino confido. Psal.xi.

1 IN the Lorde put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, that she shoulde flee as a birde vnto the hill?

2 For loe, the vngodly bende their bowe, and make readie their arrowes within the Quiuer: that they may priuily shoote at them whiche are true of heart.

3 For the foundations will be cast downe: and what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lorde is in his holy temple: the Lords seate is in heauen.

5 His eyes consider the poore: and his eie liddes tryeth the children of men.

6 The Lorde alloweth the righteous: but the vngodly, and him that delighteth in wickednesse doth his soule abhorre.

B 7 Upon the vngodly hee shall raine snares, fire, and brimstone, storme and tempest: this shal be their portion to drinke.

8 For the righteous Lorde loueth righteousnesse: his countenaunce will beholde the thing that is iust.

Saluum me fac. Psal.xij.

1 HElpe me Lorde for there is not one godly man left: for the faythfull are minished from among the children of men. A Euening prayer.

2 They talke of vanitie euery one with his neighbour: they doe but flatter with their lippes, and dissemble in their double heart.

3 The Lorde shall roote oute all deceytefull lippes: and the tongue that speaketh prowde thinges.

4 Which haue sayde, with our tongue will we prevaile: we are they that ought to speake, who is Lorde ouer vs?

5 Nowe for the comfortlesse troubles sake of the needie: and because of the deepe sighing of the poore.

6 I will vp (sayth the Lorde:) and will helpe euerie one from him that swelleth agaynst him, and will set them at rest.

7 The wordes of the Lorde are pure wordes: B euen as the siluer which from the earth is tryed, and purified seuen tymes in the fire.

8 Thou shalt keepe them (O Lorde:) thou shalt preserue them, from this generation for euer.

9 The vngodly walke on euery syde: when they are exalted, the children of men are put to rebuke.

Vsquequo domine. Psal.xiij.

1 HOwe long wilt thou forget me (O Lord) for euer: how long wilt thou hide thy face from me? A

2 How long shal I seeke counsaile in my soule, and bee so vexed in my heart: howe long shall mine enimies triumph ouer me?

3 Consider and heare me, O Lorde my God: lighten mine eyes that I sleepe not in death.

4 Least mine enimie say, I haue prevayled agaynst him: for if I bee cast downe, they that trouble me, will reioyce at it.

5 But my trust is in thy mercie: and my heart is ioyfull in thy saluation.

6 I will sing of the Lord, because he hath dealt so louingly with mee: yea, I will prayse the name of the Lorde most highest.

Dixit insipiens. Psal.xiiij.

1 THe fole hath sayd in his heart: there is no God. A

2 They are corrupt and become abhominable in their doings: there is none that doeth good (no not one.)

3 The Lorde looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were anye that woulde vnderstande and seeke after God

God.

4 But they are all gone oute of the way: they are altogither become abhominable, there is none that doth good, no not one.

5 Their throte is an open ſepulchre, with their tongues haue they deceyued: the poyſon of Aſpes is vnder their lippes.

6 Their mouth is ful of curſing and bitternesſe: their feete are ſwift to ſhed bloud.

B 7 Deſtruction and vnhappineſſe is in theyr wayes, and the waye of peace haue they not knowne: there is no feare of God before their eyes.

8 Haue they no knowledge that they are all ſuch workers of miſchiefe: eating vp my people as it were bread?

9 And call not vppon the Lorde, there were they brought in great feare (euen where no feare was:) for God is in the generation of the righteous.

10 As for you ye haue made a mocke at the counſail of the poore: becauſe he putteth his truſt in the Lorde.

11 Who ſhall giue ſaluation vnto Iſraell out of Sion? when the Lorde turneth the captiuitie of his people, then ſhall Jacob reioyce, and Iſraell ſhall be glad.

Domine quis habitabit. Pſal.xv.

A 1 LOrde who ſhall dwell in thy tabernacle: who ſhall reſt vpon thy holy hill?

Morning prayer.

2 Euen he that ledeth an vncorrupt life: and doth the thing which is right, and ſpeaketh the truth from his heart.

3 He that hath vſed no deceyte in his tongue, nor done euil to his neighbour: and hath not ſlaundered his neighbours.

4 He that ſetteth not by himſelfe, but is lowly in his owne eyes: and maketh muche of them that feare the Lorde.

B 5 Hee that ſweareth vnto his neighbour, and diſappoynteth him not: though it were to his owne hinderance.

6 He that hath not giuen his money vpon vſury: nor taken reward agaynſt the innocent.

7 Who ſo doth theſe things: ſhall neuer fall.

Conſerua me. Pſal.xvi.

A 1 PReſerue me, O God: for in thee haue I put my truſt.

2 O my ſoule, thou haſt ſayde vnto the Lorde: thou art my God, my goodes are nothing vnto thee.

3 All my delighte is vppon the Saintes that are in the earth: and vppon ſuche as excell in vertue.

4 But they that runne after another God: ſhall haue great trouble.

5 Their drinke offerings of bloud will I not offer: neither make mention of their names within my lippes.

6 The Lorde himſelfe is the portion of mine inheritaunce, and of my cuppe: thou ſhalt mainteyne my lot.

7 The lotte is fallen to me in a fayre ground: yea, I haue a goodly heritage. B

8 I will thanke the Lorde for giuing me warning: my reynes alſo chaſten mee in the night ſeaſon.

9 I haue ſet God alwayes before me: for he is on my right hande, therefore ſhall I not fall.

10 Wherfore my heart was glad, and my glorie reioyced: my fleſh alſo ſhall reſt in hope.

11 For why: thou ſhalt not leaue my ſoule in hell: neither ſhalt thou ſuffer thine holy one to ſee corruption.

12 Thou ſhalt ſhewe me the path of life, in thy preſence is the fulneſſe of ioy: and at thy right hande there is pleaſure for euermore.

Exaudi domine iuſtitiam. Pſal.xvij.

A 1 HEare the right, O Lord, conſider my complaint: and hearken vnto my prayer, that goeth not out of feyned lippes.

2 Let my ſentence come forth from thy preſence: and let thine eyes looke vppon the thing that is equall.

3 Thou haſt proued and viſited mine heart in the nighte ſeaſon, thou haſte tryed mee, and ſhalt finde no wickednesſe in mee: for I am vtterly purpoſed that my mouthe ſhall not offende.

4 Becauſe of mens workes that are done againſt the wordes of my lippes: I haue kept me from the wayes of the deſtroyer.

5 O holde thou vp my goings in thy pathes: that my footeſteps ſlip not.

6 I haue called vpon thee, O God, for thou ſhalt heare me: encline thine eare to me, and hearken vnto my wordes.

7 Shewe thy marueylous louing kindeneſſe, thou that art the ſauiour of them whiche putte their truſt in thee: from ſuch as reſiſt thy right hande. B

8 Keepe me as the apple of an eye: hide mee vnder the ſhadow of thy wings.

9 From the vngodly that trouble me: mine enimies compaſſe me rounde about, to take away my ſoule.

10 They are incloſed in their owne fat: and their mouth ſpeaketh proude things.

11 They lye wayting in our waye on euerie ſyde: turnyng theyr eyes downe to the grounde.

12 Like as a Lion that is greedie of his pray: and as it were a Lions whelpe lurking in ſe-crete places.

13 Up Lorde, disappoynt him, and cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the vngodlye which is a sworde of thine.

14 From the men of thy hande, O Lorde, from the men I say, and from the euill worlde: which haue their portion in this life, whose bellyes thou fillest with thy hid treasure.

B 15 They haue children at their desire: and leaue the rest of their substance for their babes.

16 But as for me, I will beholde thy presence in righteousnesse: and when I awake vp after thy likenesse, I shall be satisfied with it.

Diligam te. Psal. xviij.

A 1 Euening prayer.

I Will loue thee (O Lorde) my strength, the Lorde is my stonie rocke and my defence: my sauiour, my GOD, and my might, in whom I will trust, my buckler, the horne also of my saluation, and my refuge.

2 I will call vpon the Lorde, which is worthie to bee prayed: so shall I bee safe from myne enimies.

3 The sorrowes of death compassed mee: and the ouerflowings of vngodlinesse made mee afrayde.

4 The paynes of hell came about me: the snares of death ouertooke me.

5 In my trouble I will call vpon the Lorde: and complaine vnto my God.

6 So shall he heare my voyce out of his (holy) temple: and my complaint shall come before him, it shall enter euen into his eares.

B 7 The earth trembled and quaked: the verie foundations also of the hilles shooke, and were removed, because he was wroth.

8 There went a smoke out of his presence: and a consuming fire out of his mouth, so that coales were kindled at it.

9 He bowed the heauens also and came downe: and it was darke vnder his feete.

10 He rode vpon the Cherubims and did flee: he came flieing vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkenesse his secrete place: his pauilion rounde about him, with darke water and thicke cloudes to couer him.

12 At the brightnesse of his presence his cloudes removed: haylestones and coales of fyre.

13 The Lorde also thundered out of heauen, and the highest gaue his thunder: haylestones and coales of fire.

C 14 He sent out his arrowes, and scattered them: hee caste forth lightninges, and destroyed them.

15 The springs of waters were seene, and the foundations of the rounde worlde were discouered at thy chyding, O Lorde: at the blasting of the breath of thy displeasure.

16 He shall sende downe from the high to fetche me: and shall take me out of many waters.

17 He shall deliuer me from my strongest enimie, and from them which hate me: for they are to mightie for me.

18 They preuented me in the day of my trouble: but the Lorde was my vpholder.

19 He brought me forth also into a place of libertie: he brought me forth, euen because he had a fauour vnto me.

20 The Lorde shall rewarde me after my righteous dealing: according to the cleannesse of my handes shall he recompence me.

21 Because I haue kept the wayes of the Lord: D and haue not forsaken my God as the wicked doth.

22 For I haue an eye vnto all his lawes: and will not cast out his cõmaundements from me.

23 I was also vncorrupt before him: and eschued mine owne wickednesse.

24 Therefore shall the Lorde rewarde me after my righteous dealing: and according vnto the cleannesse of my handes in his eye sight.

25 With the holy thou shalt be holy: and with a perfect man, thou shalt be perfect.

26 With the cleane thou shalt bee cleane: and with the frowarde thou shalt learne frowardnesse.

27 For thou shalt saue the people that are in aduersitie: and shalt bring downe the high lookes of the proude.

28 Thou also shalt light my candle: the Lorde E my God shall make my darknesse to be light.

29 For in thee I shall discomfit an host of men: and with the helpe of my God I shall leape ouer the wall.

30 The way of God is an vndefiled way, the worde of the Lorde also is tryed in the fyre: he is the defender of all them that put their trust in him.

31 For who is God, but the Lorde: or who hath any strength, except our God?

32 It is God that gyrdeth me with strength of warre: and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feete like Hartes feete: and setteth me vp on high.

34 He teacheth my handes to fight: and mine armes shall breake euen a bowe of steele.

35 Thou hast giuen me the defence of thy sal- F uation: thy right hande also shall holde me vp, and thy louing correction shall make mee great.

36 Thou shalt make rome ynough vnder mee for to go: that my fotesteppes shall not slide.

37 I will follow vpon mine enimies, and ouertake them: neyther will I turne againe till I haue destroyed them.

38 I will smite them, that they shall not be able to to ſtande: but fall vnder my feete.

39 Thou haſt gyrded me with ſtrength vnto the battaile: thou ſhalt throw downe mine enimies vnder me.

40 Thou haſt made mine enimies alſo to turne their backes vpon me: and I ſhall deſtroy them that hate me.

G 41 They ſhall crie, but there ſhall be none to helpe them: yea, euen vnto the Lorde ſhal they crie, but he ſhall not heare them.

42 I will beat them as ſmall as the duſt before the winde: I will caſt them out as the clay in the ſtreetes.

43 Thou ſhalt deliuer me from the ſtryuings of the people: and thou ſhalt make me the head of the heathen.

44 A people whome I haue not knowne: ſhall ſerue me.

45 As ſoone as they heare of me, they ſhall obey me: but the ſtraunge children ſhall diſſemble with me.

46 The ſtraunge children ſhall faile: and be afrayed out of their priſons.

47 The Lorde lyueth, and bleſſed be my ſtrong helper: and prayſed bee the God of my ſaluation.

48 Euen the God which ſeeth that I bee auenged: and ſubdueth the people vnto me.

49 It is he that deliuereth me from my (cruell) enimies, and ſetteth mee vp aboue mine aduerſaries: thou ſhalt ridde me from the wicked man.

50 For this cauſe I will giue thankes vnto thee (O Lord) among the Gentiles: and ſing prayſes vnto thy name.

51 Great proſperitie gyueth he vnto his king: and ſheweth louing kyndenelle vnto Dauid his annoynted, and vnto his ſeede for euermore.

Cœli enarrant. Pſal. xix.

I 1 THe heauens declare the glorie of GOD: and the firmament ſheweth his handie worke.

Morning prayer.

2 One day telleth another: and one night certifyeth an other.

3 There is neyther ſpeache nor language: but their voyces are heard among them.

4 Their ſound is gone out into all landes: and their wordes into the endes of the worlde.

5 In them hath he ſet a tabernacle for the ſunne: whiche commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his chamber, and reioyceth as a Giant to runne his courſe.

6 It goeth forth from the vttermoſt part of heauen, and runneth aboute vnto the ende of it agayne: and there is nothing hidde from the heate thereof.

7 The lawe of the Lorde is an vndefiled lawe, B conuerting the ſoule: the teſtimonie of the Lorde is ſure, and gyueth wiſedome vnto the ſimple.

8 The ſtatutes of the Lorde are right, and reioyce the heart: the commaundement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lorde is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lorde are true, and righteous altogither.

10 More to bee deſired are they than golde, yea, than much fine golde: ſweeter alſo than honie, and the honie combe.

11 Moreouer by them is thy ſeruaunt taught: and in keeping of them there is greate reward.

12 Who can tell how oft he offendeth? O clenſe thou me from my ſecrete faultes.

13 Keepe thy ſeruaunt alſo from preſumptuous ſinnes, leaſt they get the dominion ouer me: ſo ſhall I bee vndefiled, and innocent from the great offence.

14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart: bee (alway) acceptable in thy ſight, 15 O Lorde: my ſtrength and my redeemer.

Exaudiat te dominus. Pſal. xx.

1 THe Lorde heare thee in the day of trou- I ble: the name of the God of Jacob defende thee.

2 Sende thee helpe from the ſanctuarie: and ſtrength thee out of Sion.

3 Remember all thy offerings: and accept thy burnt ſacrifice.

4 Graunt thee thy hartes deſire: and fulfill all thy minde.

5 We will reioyce in thy ſaluation, and triumph in the name of the Lorde our God: the Lorde perfourme all thy petitions.

6 Nowe knowe I that the Lorde helpeth his annoynted, and will heare him from his holye heauen: euen with the wholſome ſtrength of his right hande.

7 Some put their truſt in Charettes, and ſome B in horſes: but we will remember the name of the Lorde our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen: but we are ryſen, and ſtande vpright.

9 Saue Lorde, and heare vs, O king of heauen: when we call vpon thee.

Domine in virtute. Pſal. xxi.

1 THe king ſhall reioyce in thy ſtrength, O I Lorde: exceeding glad ſhall he bee of thy ſaluation.

2 Thou haſt giuen him his hartes deſire: and haſt not denyed him the requeſt of his lippes.

3 For thou shalt preuent him with the blessings of goodnesse: and shalt set a crowne of pure golde vpon his heade.

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life euen for euer and euer.

5 His honour is great in thy saluation: glorie and great worship shalt thou lay vpon him.

6 For thou shalt giue him euerlasting felicitie: and make him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

B 7 And why? bycause the king putteth his trust in the Lord: and in the mercie of the most highest, he shall not miscarie.

8 All thine enimies shal feele thy hand: thy right hand shall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalte make them lyke a fierie Ouen in tyme of thy wrath: the Lorde shall destroy them in his displeasure, and the fire shall consume them.

10 Their fruite shalt thou rote out of the earth: and their seede from among the children of men.

11 For they intended mischiefe against thee: and imagined such a deuice as they are not able to performe.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them to flight: and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make readie against the face of them.

13 Be thou exalted Lord in thine own strength: so will we sing and prayse thy power.

Deus deus meus. Psal.xxij.

A 1 Euening prayer. Y God, my God (looke vpon mee) why hast thou forsaken mee: and art so farre from my health, and from the wordes of my complaint?

2 O my God, I cry in the day time, but thou hearest not: and in the night season also I take no rest.

3 And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israell.

4 Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou didst deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee, and were not cõfounded.

6 But as for mee, I am a Worme: and no man: a verie scorne of men, and the outcast of the people.

B 7 All they that see mee, laugh mee to scorne: they shoote out their lips, and shake their heade, saying.

8 He trusted in God that he would deliuer him: let him deliuer him, if he will haue him.

9 But thou art he that tooke me out of my mothers wombe, thou wast my hope when I hanged yet vpon my mothers brealtes.

10 I haue bene leaft vnto thee euer since I was borne: thou art my God, euen from my mothers wombe.

11 O goe not from mee, for trouble is harde at hande: and there is none to helpe me.

12 Many Oxen are come aboute me: fat bulles of Basan close me in on euery side.

13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes: as it were a ramping and roaring Lion.

14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of ioynt: my heart also in the midst of my bodie, is euen like melting waxe. C

15 My strength is dryed vp like a potshard, and my tongue cleaueth to my gummes: and thou shalt bring me into the dust of death.

16 For (many) Dogges are come aboute me: and the counsell of the wicked layeth siege against mee.

17 They pearced my handes and my feete, I may tell all my bones: they stande staring and loking vpon me.

18 They part my garments among them: and cast lottes vpon my vesture.

19. But be not thou farre from mee, O Lorde: thou art my succour, haste thee to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my soule from the swoorde: my darling from the power of the dogge.

21 Saue me from the Lions mouth: thou hast heard mee also from among the hornes of the Unicornes. D

22 I will declare thy name vnto my brethren: in the myddes of the Congregation will I prayse thee.

23 O prayse the Lorde yee that feare hym: magnifie him all ye of the seede of Jacob and feare him all ye of the seede of Israell.

24 For hee hath not despised nor abhorred the lowe estate of the poore, he hath not hid his face from him: but when hee called vnto him, hee heard him.

25 My prayse is of thee in the great Congregation: my vowes will I performe in the sight of them that feare him.

26 The poore shall eate, and be satisfied: they that seeke after the Lorde, shall prayse him, your hart shall liue for euer.

27 All the endes of the worlde shall remember themselues, and be turned vnto the Lorde: and all the kinreds of the Nations shall worshippe before him.

28 For the kingdome is the Lordes: and he is the gouernour among the people. E

29 All such as be fatte vpon earth: haue eaten and worshipped.

30 All they that go downe into the dust, shall kneele before him: and no man hath quickened his owne soule.

31 My seede shall serue him: they shall be counted vnto the Lorde for a generation.

32 They shall come, and the heauens shall declare his righteousnesse: vnto a people that shal be

A 1 THe Lorde is my ſhepeheарde : therefore can I lacke nothing.
2 He ſhall feed me in a greene paſture: and lead me forth beſides the waters of comfort.
3 Hee ſhall conuert my ſoule : and bring mee forth in the pathes of righteouſneſſe, for hys names ſake.
4 Yea though I walke through the valley of the ſhadow of death, I will feare no euill : for thou art with me, thy rodde and thy ſtaffe comfort me.
B 5 Thou ſhalte prepare a Table before mee, againſt them that trouble mee : thou haſt annoynted my heade with Oyle, and my cuppe ſhall be full.
6 But thy louing kindneſſe and mercie ſhall follow me all the dayes of my life : and I will dwell in the houſe of the Lorde for euer.

A 1 THe earth is the Lordes and al that therein is : the compaſſe of the worlde, and they that dwell therein.
Morning prayer.
2 For he hath founded it vpon the ſeas : and prepared it vpon the floods.
3 Who ſhall aſcende into the hill of the Lorde : or who ſhall riſe vp in his holy place ?
4 Euen he that hath cleane handes, and a pure heart : and that hath not lift vp his minde vnto vanitye, nor ſworne to deceyue his neighbour.
5 Hee ſhall receyue the bleſſing from the Lord: and righteouſneſſe from the GOD of his ſaluation.
6 This is the generation of them that ſeeke him: euen of them that ſeeke thy face, O Jacob.
B 7 Lift vp your heades, O ye gates, and be yee lift vp ye euerlaſting dores : and the king of glorie ſhall come in.
8 Who is the king of glorie : it is the Lorde ſtrong and mightie : euen the Lorde mightie in battaile.
9 Lift vp your heades, O ye gates, and bee ye lift vp yee euerlaſting dores : and the king of glorie ſhall come in.
10 Who is the king of glorie : euen the Lord of hoſtes, he is the king of glorie.

A 1 VNto thee, O Lord, will I lift vp my ſoule, my God I haue put my truſt in thee : O let me not be confounded, neither let mine enimies triumph ouer me.
2 For all they that hope in thee ſhall not bee aſhamed: but ſuch as tranſgreſſe without a cauſe, ſhall be put to confuſion.
3 Shewe mee thy wayes, O Lorde : and teache me thy pathes.
4 Lead me forth in thy truth, and learne me : for thou art the God of my ſaluation : in thee hath bene my hope all the day long.
5 Call to remembraunce, O Lorde, thy tender mercies : and thy louing kindeneſſe which haue bene euer of olde.
6 Oh remember not the ſinnes and offences of my youth : but according to thy mercie thinke thou vpon me (O Lorde) for thy goodneſſe.
7 Gracious and righteous is the Lorde : therefore will he teach ſinners in the way. B
8 Them that be meeke, ſhall he guide in iudgement : and ſuche as bee gentle, them ſhall hee learne his way.
9 All the pathes of the Lorde are mercie and truth : vnto ſuch as keepe his couenant and his teſtimonies.
10 For thy names ſake, O Lorde : be mercyfull vnto my ſinne, for it is great.
11 What man is he that feareth the Lorde : him ſhall he teach in the way that he ſhall chooſe.
12 His ſoule ſhall dwell at eaſe : and his ſeede ſhall inherite the lande.
13 The ſecrete of the Lorde is among them that feare him : and hee will ſhewe them hys couenant.

A Dominus illuminatio. Pſal.xxvij.

Euening prayer.

THe Lorde is my light, and my ſaluation, whome then ſhall I feare? the Lorde is the ſtrength of my life, of whom then ſhall I be afrayde?
2 When the wicked, (euen myne enimies and my foes) came vpon me to eate vp my fleſhe: they ſtumbled and fell.
3 Though an hoſt of me were layd againſt me, yet ſhall not my heart be afrayde: and though there roſe vp warre againſt me, yet will I put my truſt in him.
4 One thing haue I deſired of the Lord, which I will require: euen that I maye dwell in the houſe of the Lorde all the dayes of my life, to beholde the fayre beautie of the Lorde, and to viſite his temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he ſhall hide me in his tabernacle: yea in the ſecrete place of his dwelling ſhall he hyde me, and ſet me vp vpon a rocke of ſtone.
6 And nowe ſhall he lift vp myne heade: aboue myne enimies rounde about me.
B 7 Therefore will I offer in his dwelling an oblation with great gladneſſe: I will ſing, and ſpeake prayſes vnto the Lorde.
8 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lorde, when I crye vnto thee: haue mercie vpon me, and heare me.
9 My heart hath talked of thee, ſeeke ye my face: thy face Lorde will I ſeeke.
10 O hyde not thou thy face from me: nor caſte thy ſeruant away in diſpleaſure.
11 Thou haſt bene my ſuccour, leaue me not: neither forſake me, O God, of my ſaluation.
12 When my father and my mother forſake me: the Lorde taketh me vp.
13 Teache me thy way, O Lord: and leade me in the right way, becauſe of myne enimies.
C 14 Deliuer me not ouer into the will of mine aduerſaries: for there are falſe witneſſes ryſen vp againſt me, and ſuch as ſpeake wrong.
15 I ſhould vtterly haue fainted: but that I beleeue verily to ſee the goodneſſe of the Lorde, in the lande of the liuing.
16 O tarie thou the Lordes leyſure: be ſtrong, and he ſhall comforte thine heart, and put thou thy truſt in the Lorde.

Ad te Domine. Pſal.xxviij.

VNto thee will I crye, O Lord, my ſtrength: thinke no ſcorne of me, leaſt if thou make as though thou heareſt not, I become lyke them that goe downe into the pyt.
2 Heare the voyce of my humble petitions when I crye vnto thee: when I holde vp my handes towarde the mercy ſeate of thy holy temple.
3 O plucke me not away (neyther deſtroy me) with the vngodly and wicked doers: which ſpeake friendly to their neighbors, but imagine miſchiefe in their hearts.
4 Reward them accordyng to their deedes: and accordyng to the wickednesſe of their owne inuentions.
5 Recompence them after the worke of their hands: pay them that they haue deſerued.
6 For they regarde not in their mind the works of the Lorde, nor the operation of his handes: therefore ſhall he breake them downe, and not builde them vp.
7 Prayſed be the Lorde: for he hath hearde the B voyce of my humble petitions.
8 The Lorde is my ſtrength and my ſhield, my heart hath truſted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart daunceth for ioye, and in my ſong will I prayſe him.
9 The Lorde is my ſtrength: and he is the wholſome defence of his annoynted.
10 O ſaue thy people, and giue thy bleſſing vnto thine inheritance: feede them, and ſet them vp for euer.

3 It is the Lorde that commaundeth the waters: it is the glorious God that maketh the thunder.
4 It is the Lorde that ruleth the ſea, the voyce of the Lorde is mightie in operation: the voice of the Lorde is a glorious voyce.
5 The voyce of the Lorde breaketh the Cedar trees: yea the Lorde breaketh the Cedars of Libanus.

8 The voyce of the Lord maketh the Hinds to bring forth yong, and discouereth the thicke bushes: in his Temple doth euery man speake of his honour.

9 The Lorde sitteth aboue the water flood: and the Lorde remayneth a king for euer.

10 The Lorde shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lorde shall giue his people the blessing of peace.

Exaltabo te domine. Pſal.xxx.

A 1 I Will magnifie thee, O Lord, for thou hast set me vp: and not made my foes to triumph ouer me.

Morning prayer.

2 O Lord my God, I cried vnto thee: and thou hast healed me.

3 Thou Lorde hast brought my soule out of hell: thou hast kept my life from them that go downe into the pit.

4 Sing prayses vnto the Lord (O ye saintes of his:) and giue thankes vnto him for a remembrance of his holinesse.

5 For his wrath endureth but the twincklinge of an eye, and in his pleasure is lyfe: heauinesse may indure for a night, but ioy commeth in the Morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I sayd, I shal neuer be remoued: thou Lorde of thy goodnesse hadst made my hill so strong.

B 7 Thou diddest turne thy face (fro mee:) and I was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee O Lorde: and gate me vnto my Lorde right humbly.

9 What profite is there in my bloud: when I go downe to the pit?

10 Shall the dust giue thankes vnto thee: or shall it declare thy truth?

11 Heare, O Lorde, and haue mercy vpon me: Lorde be thou my helper.

12 Thou hast turned my heauinesse into ioy: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and gyrded me with gladnesse.

13 Therefore shall euery good man sing of thy prayse without ceasing: O my God, I will giue thankes vnto thee for euer.

In te domine ſperaui. Pſal.xxxi.

A 1 IN thee, O lord, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be put to confusion, deliuer me in thy righteousnesse.

2 Bow downe thine eare to me: make hast to deliuer me.

3 And bee thou my strong rocke, and the house of defence: that thou mayst saue me.

4 For thou art my strong rock, and my castle: be thou also my guide and leade me for thy names sake.

5 Drawe me out of the net that they haue layde priuilye for mee: for thou arte my strength.

6 Into thy handes I commend my spirite: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lorde, thou God of truth.

7 I haue hated them that holde of superstitious vanities: and my trust hath bene in the Lorde. B

8 I will be glad, and reioyce in thy mercy: for thou hast considered my trouble, and hast knowne my soule in aduersities.

9 Thou hast not shut me vp into the hand of the enimie: but hast set my feete in a large rowme.

10 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble: and mine eye is consumed for very heauinesse, yea, my soule & my bodie.

11 For my life is waren olde with heauynesse: and my yeares with mourning.

12 My strength fayleth me, bycause of mine iniquitie: and my bones are consumed.

13 I became a reprowfe among all mine enimies, but specially among my neighbors: and they of mine acquaintance were afraid of me, and they that did see mee without, conueyed themselues from me.

14 I am cleane forgotten as a deade man C out of minde: I am become like a broken vessell.

15 For I haue heard the blasphemie of the multitude: and feare is on euerie syde, while they consspire togither agaynst me, & take their counsaile to take away my life.

16 But my hope hath bene in thee, O Lord: I haue sayde, thou art my God.

17 My time is in thy hande, deliuer mee from the hande of mine enimies: and from them that persecute me.

18 Shewe thy seruaunt the lighte of thy countenaunce: and saue me for thy mercies sake.

19 Let me not be confounded, O Lorde, for I haue called vpon thee: let the vngodly be put to confusion, and bee put to silence in the graue.

20 Let the lying lippes bee put to silence: which cruelly, disdeynfully, and dispitefully speake agaynst the righteous.

21 O how plentiful is thy goodnesse which D thou hast layde vp for them that feare thee: and that thou hast prepared for them that putte theyr trust in thee, euen before the sonnes of men.

22 Thou shalt hyde them priuily by thine owne presence, from the prouoking of all men:

men: thou ſhalt keepe them ſecretely in thy tabernacle from the ſtrife of tongues.

23 Thankes be to the Lord: for he hath ſhewed me marueylous great kindenelle in a ſtrong Citie.

24 And when I made haſt, I ſayde: I am caſt out of the ſight of thine eyes.

25 Neuertheleſſe thou heardeſt the voyce of my prayer: when I cryed vnto thee.

26 O loue the Lorde all ye his Saints: for the Lord preſerueth them that are faithfull, and plenteouſly rewardeth the proud doer.

27 Be ſtrong, and he ſhal ſtabliſh your hart: all ye that put your truſt in the Lorde.

A BLeſſed is he whoſe vnrighteouſneſſe is forgiuen: & whoſe ſinne is couered.

Euening prayer.

2 Bleſſed is the man vnto whom the Lord imputeth no ſin: and in whoſe ſpirite there is no guile.

3 For while I helde my tongue: my bones conſumed away, through my dayly complayning.

4 For thy hande is heauy vpon me day and night: and my moyſture is like the drought in Sommer.

5 I will knowledge my ſinne vnto thee: & my vnrighteouſneſſe haue I not hid.

6 I ſayde, I will confeſſe my ſinnes vnto the Lorde: and ſo thou forgaueſt the wickedneſſe of my ſinne.

B 7 For this ſhall euery one that is godly make his prayer vnto thee, in a time when thou mayſt be found: but in the great water floudes, they ſhall not come nigh him.

8 Thou art a place to hide me in, thou ſhalt preſerue me from trouble: thou ſhalt compaſſe me about with ſongs of deliuerance.

9 I will enforme thee, and teache thee in the way wherein thou ſhalt go: and I wil guide thee with mine eie.

10 Be ye not like to horſe and mule, which haue no vnderſtanding: whoſe mouthes muſt be holden with bitte and bridle, leaſt they fall vpon thee.

11 Great plagues remaine for the vngodly: but who ſo putteth his truſt in the Lorde, mercie embraceth him on euery ſide.

12 Be glad, O ye righteous, and reioyce in the Lorde: and be ioyfull all ye that are true of hart.

Exultate iuſti. Pſal.xxxiij.

A 1 REioyce in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becommeth well the iuſt to bee thankfull.

2 Prayſe the lord with harpe: ſing pſalmes vnto him with the lute, and inſtrument of ten ſtrings.

3 Sing vnto the Lorde a new ſong: ſing prayſes luſtily (vnto him) with a good courage.

4 For the worde of the Lorde is true: and all his workes are faythfull.

5 He loueth righteouſneſſe and iudgement: the earth is ful of the goodneſſe of the lord.

6 By the worde of the Lorde were the heauens made: and all the hoſtes of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the Sea together as it were vpon an heape: and layeth vp the deepe as in a treaſure houſe. B

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: ſtande in awe of him, all ye that dwell in the world.

9 For he ſpake, and it was done: he commaunded, and it ſtode faſt.

10 The Lorde bringeth the counſaile of the heathen to naught: and maketh the deuiſes of the people to be of none effecte, (and caſteth out the counſailes of Princes.)

11 The counſaile of the Lorde ſhall endure for euer: and the thoughtes of his heart from generation to generation.

12 Bleſſed are the people whoſe God is the Lorde Iehoua: and bleſſed are the folke that he hath choſen to him to bee his inheritance.

13 The Lorde looked downe from heauen, and beholde all the children of men: from the habitation of his dwelling, he conſidereth all them that dwell in the earth.

14 He faſhioneth all the hartes of them: and C vnderſtandeth all their workes.

15 There is no king that can bee ſaued by the multitude of an hoſt: neyther is anye mightie man deliuered by much ſtrength.

16 An horſe is counted but a vaine thing to ſaue a man: neyther ſhall hee deliuer any man by his great ſtrength.

17 Beholde, the eye of the Lorde is vppon them that feare him: and vpon them that put their truſt in his mercie.

18 To deliuer their ſoules from death: and to feede them in the time of dearth.

19 Our ſoule hath patiently taryed for the Lorde: for he is our helpe, and our ſhield.

20 For our heart ſhall reioyce in him: becauſe we haue hoped in his holy name.

21 Let thy mercifull kindneſſe (O Lord) be vpon vs: like as we haue put our truſt in thee.

1 I Will alwaye giue thankes vnto the Lorde: his prayſe ſhall euer be in my mouth.

Morning prayer.

2 My ſoule ſhall make hir boaſt of the Lord: the humble ſhall heare therof, and be glad.
3 O prayſe the Lorde with me: and let vs magnifie his name together.
4 I ſought the Lorde, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.
5 They had an eye vnto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not aſhamed.
6 Loe, ỹ poore crieth, & the Lord heareth him: yea, and ſaueth him out of all his troubles.
B 7 The angell of ỹ Lord tarieth round about them that feare him: and deliuereth them.
8 O taſte and ſee how gratious the Lord is: bleſſed is the man that truſteth in him.
9 O feare the Lord ye that be his ſaintes: for they that feare him, lacke nothing.
10 The Lions doe lacke, and ſuffer hunger: but they that ſeeke the Lord, ſhall wante no manner of thing that is good.
11 Come ye children, and hearken vnto me: I will teach you the feare of the Lorde.
12 What man is hee that luſteth to liue, and would fayne ſee good dayes: keepe thy tong from euill, and thy lippes that they ſpeake no guile.
13 Eſchewe euill, and doe good: ſeeke peace, and enſue it.
C 14 The eyes of the Lord are ouer the righteous: & his eares are open vnto their prayers.
15 The countenance of the Lord is againſte them that do euill: to rote out the remembraunce of them from the earth.
16 The righteous crie, and the Lorde heareth them: & deliuereth thẽ out of al their troubles.
17 The Lord is nigh vnto them that are of a contrite hart: and will ſaue ſuch as be of an humble ſpirite.
18 Greate are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of all.
19 He keepeth all his bones: ſo that not one of them is broken.
20 But miſfortune ſhall ſlay ỹ vngodly: and they that hate the righteous ſhall be deſolate.
21 The Lord deliuereth the ſoules of his ſeruauntes: and all they that put their truſt in him, ſhall not be deſtitute.

A 1 Morning prayer.

Leade thou my cauſe, O Lord, with them that ſtriue wt̃ me: & fight thou againſt them that fight againſt me.
2 Lay hand vpon ỹ ſhelde and buckler: and ſtande vp to help me.
3 Bring forth the ſpeare, and ſtoppe the way againſt them that perſecute me: ſay vnto my ſoule, I am thy ſaluation.
4 Let them be confounded and put to ſhame that ſeeke after my ſoule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confuſion, that imagine miſchiefe for me.
5 Let them be as the duſt before the winde: and the angell of the Lord ſcattering them.
6 Let their way be darke and ſlipperie: and let the angell of the Lord perſecute them.
7 For they haue priuily layd their net to deſtroy me without a cauſe: yea, euen without a cauſe haue they made a pit for my ſoule. B
8 Let a ſodayne deſtruction come vpon hym vnawares, and his net that he hath layd priuily, catch him ſelfe: that he may fall into his owne miſchiefe.
9 And my ſoule be ioyfull in the Lorde: it ſhall reioyce in his ſaluation.
10 All my bones ſhall ſay, Lord, who is lyke vnto thee, whiche deliuereſt the poore from him that is to ſtrong for him: yea, the poore, and him that is in miſerie, from hym that ſpoyleth him.
11 False witneſſe did riſe vp: they layde to my charge things that I knew not.
12 They rewarded me euill for good: to the great diſcomfort of my ſoule.
13 Neuertheleſſe, when they were ſicke, I put on ſackcloth, and humbled my ſoule with faſting: and my prayer ſhall turne into mine owne boſome.
14 I behaued my ſelfe as though it had bin my friend, or my brother: I went heauily, as one that mourneth for his mother. C
15 But in mine aduerſitie they reioyced, and gathered them together: yea, the very abiects came together againſte mee vnawares, making mowes at me, and ceaſſed not.
16 With the flatterers were buſie mockers: which gnaſhed vpon me with their teeth.
17 Lord, how long wilt thou looke vpõ this: O deliuer my ſoule from the calamities whiche they bring on me, and my darling from the Lions.
18 So will I giue thee thankes in the greate congregatiõ: I will prayſe thee amõg much people.
19 O let not them that are mine enimies triumph ouer me vngodly: neyther lette them winke with their eyes that hate me without a cauſe.
20 And why? their communing is not for peace: but they imagine deceytefull wordes againſt them that are quiet in the lande.
21 They gaped on mee with their mouthes, and ſayd: fye on thee, fye on thee, we ſawe it with our eyes.
22 Thys thou haſt ſeene, O Lorde: holde not thy tong then, goe not far frõ me, O Lord.
23 Awake and ſtand vp to iudge my quarell: auenge thou my cauſe, my God & my Lord.

24 Iudge

D 24 Iudge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteouſneſſe: and let them not triumph ouer me.

25 Let them not ſay in their harts, ther, there, ſo would we haue it: neyther let them ſay, we haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be put to confuſion and ſhame together that reioice at my trouble: let them be clothed with rebuke and diſhonour, that boaſt them ſelues againſt me.

27 Let them be glad and reioyce that fauour my righteous dealing: yea let them ſaye alway, bleſſed be the Lorde whiche hath pleaſure in the proſperitie of his ſeruaunt.

28 And as for my tōg it ſhal be talking of thy righteouſneſſe: & of thy prayſe al ỳ day lōg.

Dixit iniuſtus. Pſal.xxxvi.

I 1 MY hart ſheweth me the wickedneſſe of the vngodlie: that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himſelf in his owne ſight: vntill his abhominable ſinne be found out.

3 The wordes of his mouth are vnrighteous, and full of deceit: he hathe left off to behaue him ſelfe wiſely, and to do good.

4 He imagineth miſchiefe vpon his bed, and hathe ſet him ſelfe in no good way: neyther doth he abhorre any thing that is euil.

5 Thy mercy (O Lord) reacheth vnto ỳ heauen: and thy faythfulneſſe vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteouſnes ſtādeth like ỳ ſtrōg moū taynes: thy iudgemēts are like ỳ great deepe.

B 7 Thou Lord ſhalt ſaue both man and beaſt, how excellent is thy mercy, O God: and the children of men ſhall put their truſt vnder the ſhadow of thy wings.

8 They ſhall be ſatiſfied with the plenteouſneſſe of thy houſe: and thou ſhalt giue them drinke of thy pleaſures, as out of the riuer.

9 For with thee is the well of life: and in thy light ſhall we ſee light.

10 O continue forth thy louing kindnes vnto them that knōw thee: and thy righteouſneſſe vnto them that are true of hart.

11 O let not ỳ fote of pride come againſt me: & let not ỳ hād of ỳ vngodly caſt me down.

12 There are they fallen (all) that worke wickedneſſe: they are caſt downe, and ſhall not be able to ſtand.

Noli emulari. Pſal.xxxvij.

Euening prayer.

A 1 FRet not thy ſelfe, bycauſe of the vngodly: neither be ỳ enuious againſt ỳ euil doers.

2 For they ſhall ſone be cut downe lyke the graſſe: and be withered euen as the greene herbe.

3 Put thou thy truſt in the Lord, and be doing good: dwell in the land, and verily thou ſhalt be fedde.

4 Delight thou in the Lord: and he ſhal giue thee thy harts deſire.

5 Cōmit thy way vnto ỳ Lord, and put thy truſt in him: and he ſhall bring it to paſſe.

6 He ſhall make thy righteouſnes as cleare as ỳ light: and thy iuſt dealing as ỳ noone day.

B 7 Hold thee ſtill in the Lord, and abide patiently vpon him: but greeue not thy ſelfe at him whoſe way dothe proſper, againſte the man that doth after euill counſayles.

8 Leaue off from wrath, and let goe diſpleaſure: fret not thy ſelfe, els ſhalt thou be moued to do euill.

9 Wicked doers ſhall be rooted out: and they that patiently abide the Lord, thoſe ſhall inherite the land.

10 Yet a little whyle, and the vngodly ſhall be cleane gone: thou ſhalte looke after his place, and he ſhall be away.

11 But ỳ meeke ſpirited ſhall poſſeſſe ỳ earth: and ſhal be refreſhed in ỳ multitude of peace

12 The vngodly ſeketh counſayle againſt ỳ iuſt: and gnaſheth vpon him with his teeth.

13 The Lord ſhall laugh him to ſcorne: for he hath ſeene that his day is comming.

14 The vngodly haue drawen out the ſword, C and haue bended their bowe: to caſt downe the poore and needie, and to ſlay ſuch as be of a right converſation.

15 Their ſword ſhall go through their owne hart: and their bowe ſhall be broken.

16 A ſmall thing that the righteous hath: is better than great riches of the vngodly.

17 For ỳ armes of the vngodly ſhal be broke: and the Lord vpholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of the godly: & their inheritance ſhall endure for euer.

19 They ſhal not be confounded in ỳ perilous time: and in the days of the dearth they ſhall haue ynough.

20 As for ỳ vngodly they ſhal periſh, & the enimies of ỳ Lorde ſhall conſume as ỳ fat of lambs: yea euen as the ſmoke ſhal they conſume away.

21 The vngodly borroweth, and payeth not a- D gayn: but ỳ righteous is merciful & liberall.

22 Such as be bleſſed of god, ſhal poſſeſſe the land: and they that be curſed of him ſhall be rooted out.

23 The Lord ordereth a good mans going: & maketh his way acceptable to him ſelfe.

24 Though he fall, he ſhall not be caſt away, for the Lord vpholdeth him with his hande.

25 I haue bin yong, and now am olde, and yet ſaw I neuer the righteous forſaken, nor his ſeede begging their bread.

26 The righteous is euer merciful & lendeth:

and

and his ſeede is bleſſed.

27 Flee from euill, and doe the thing that is good: and dwell for euermore.

28 For the Lord loueth the thing that is right: he forſaketh not his that be godly, but they are preſerued for euer.

29 The righteous ſhall be puniſhed: as for the ſeede of the vngodly, it ſhall be rooted out.

30 The righteous ſhall inherite the lande: and dwell therein for euer.

31 The mouth of the righteous is exerciſed in wiſedome: and his tongue will be talking of iudgement.

32 The lawe of his God is in his heart: and his goings ſhall not ſlide.

33 The vngodly ſeeth the righteous: and ſeeketh occaſion to ſlay him.

34 The Lord will not leaue him in his hande: nor condemne him when he is iudged.

35 Hope thou in the Lorde, and keepe his way, and he ſhall promote thee, that thou ſhalt poſſeſſe the lande: when the vngodly ſhall perish, thou ſhalt ſee it.

36 I my ſelfe haue ſeene the vngodly in great power: and flouriſhing like a greene bay tree.

37 And I went by, & lo, he was gone: I ſought him, but his place could no where be founde.

38 Keepe innocencie, and take heede vnto the thing that is right: for that ſhall bring a man peace at the laſt.

39 As for the tranſgreſſours, they ſhall periſh together: and the ende of the vngodly is, they ſhal be rooted out at the laſt.

40 But the ſaluation of the righteous commeth of the Lorde: which is alſo their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

41 And the Lorde ſhall ſtande by them, and ſaue them: he ſhall deliuer them from the vngodly, and ſhal ſaue them, bycauſe they put their truſt in him.

Domine ne in furore. Pſal. xxxvij.

1 Morning prayer. PUT mee not to rebuke (O Lorde) in thyne anger: neyther chaſten me in thy heauie diſpleaſure.

2 For thine arrowes ſticke faſt in me: and thy hande preſſeth me ſore.

3 There is no health in my fleſhe, bycauſe of thy diſpleaſure: neyther is there any reſt in my bones, by reaſon of my ſinne.

4 For my wickednesſes are gone ouer my head: and are lyke to a ſore burthen to heauie for me to beare.

5 My wounds ſtinke and are corrupt: through my foliſhneſſe.

6 I am brought into ſo great trouble and miſerie: that I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loynes are filled with a ſore diſeaſe: and there is no whole part in my bodie.

8 I am feeble and ſore ſmitten: I haue roared for the verie diſquietneſſe of my heart.

9 Lorde thou knoweſt all my deſire: and my groning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my ſtrength hath fayled me: and the light of mine eies is gone from me.

11 My louers and my neighbours did ſtande looking vpon my trouble: and my kinſmen ſtood a farre off.

12 They alſo that ſought after my lyfe, layde ſnares for mee: and they that went about to do me euill talked of wickednesſe, and ymagined deceyte all the day long.

13 As for me, I was like a deafe man, and heard not: and as one that is dumbe, which doth not open his mouth.

14 I became euen as a man that heareth not: and in whoſe mouth are no reproues.

15 For in thee, O Lorde, haue I put my truſt: thou ſhalt anſwere for mee, O Lorde my God.

16 I haue required that they (euen mine enimyes) ſhoulde not tryumph ouer me: for when my foote ſlipt, they reioyced greatly againſt me.

17 And I truely am ſet in the plague: and my heauineſſe is euer in my ſight.

18 For I will confeſſe my wickednesſe: and be ſorie for my ſinne.

19 But mine enimies liue, and are mightie: and they that hate mee wrongfully are manye in number.

20 They alſo that rewarde euill for good, are againſt me: bycauſe I followe the thing that good is.

21 Forſake me not, O Lorde my God: be not thou farre from me.

22 Haſt thee to helpe me: O Lord God of my ſaluation.

Dixi cuſtodiam. Pſal. xxxix.

1 I SAYDE, I will take heede to my wayes: that I offende not in my tongue.

2 I will keepe my mouth (as it were with a bridle:) while the vngodly is in my ſight.

3 I held my tongue and ſpake nothing: I kept ſilence, yea euen from good wordes, but it was paine and greefe to mee.

4 My hart was whote within me, and while I was thus muſing, the fire kindled: and at the laſt I ſpake with my tongue.

5 Lorde let me knowe mine ende, and the number of my dayes: that I may be certified howe long I haue to liue.

6 Beholde thou haſt made my dayes as it were a ſpanne long: and mine age is euen as nothing in reſpect of thee, and verily euery man liueth altogether vanitie.

7 For man walketh in a vaine ſhadowe, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: hee heapeth vp ryches, and can not tell who shall gather them.

8 And nowe Lord what is my hope: truly my hope is euen in thee.
9 Deliuer me from al mine offences: and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.
10 I became dumbe, and opened not my mouth:
for it was thy doing.
11 Take thy plague away from mee: I am euen consumed by the meanes of thy heauie hande.
12 When thou with rebukes doest chasten man for sinne, thou makest his beautie to consume away, like as it were a moth fretting a garment:
euery man therefore is but vanitie.
13 Heare my prayer, O Lorde, and with thine eares consider my calling: holde not thy peace at my teares.
℣ 14 For I am a straunger with thee, and a soiourner: as all my fathers were.
15 Oh spare me a little, that I may recouer my strength: before I goe hence, and bee no more seene.

Expectans expectaui. Psal. xl.

℟ 1 I Wayted pacientlie for the Lorde: and hee enclined vnto me, and heard my calling.
2 He brought me also out of the horrible pit:

3 And he hath put a newe song in my mouth:

5 Blessed is the man that hath set his hope in the Lorde: and turned not vnto the proude, and to such as go about with lyes.
6 O Lorde my God, great are thy wonderous workes which thou hast done: lyke as bee also thy thoughtes whiche are to vs warde, and yet there is no man that ordereth them vnto thee.
℟ 7 If I woulde declare them and speake of them: they shoulde be more than I am able to expresse.
8 Sacrifice and meate offering thou wouldest not haue: but mine eares thou hast opened.
9 Burnt offerings and sacrifice for sinne hast thou not required: then sayde I, loe, I come.
10 In the volume of the booke it is written of me, that I shoulde fulfill thy will, O my God:
I am content to doe it, yea, thy lawe is within my heart.
11 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the great congregation: loe, I will not refrayne my lippes, O Lorde, and that thou knowest.
12 I haue not hid thy righteousnesse within my heart: my talking hath beene of thy truth, and of thy saluation.
13 I haue not kept backe thy louing mercie and truth: from the great congregation.
14 Withdrawe not thou thy mercie from mee, ℭ
O Lorde: let thy louing kindnesse and thy truth alway preserue me.
15 For innumerable troubles are come about me, my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are mo in number than the heares of myne heade, and my heart hath fayled me.
16 O Lorde, let it be thy pleasure to deliuer me:
make haste (O Lorde) to helpe me.
17 Let them bee ashamed and confounded together that seeke after my soule to destroy it:
let them be driuen backwarde, and put to rebuke that wish me euill.
18 Let them bee desolate and rewarded wyth shame, that say vnto mee: fie vpon thee, fie vpon thee.
19 Let all those that seeke thee, bee ioyfull and glad in thee: and let suche as loue thy saluation, say alway the Lorde be praysed.
20 As for me, I am poore and needie: but the ℣ Lorde careth for me.
21 Thou art my helper and redeemer: make no long tarying, O my God.

trouble.
2 The Lord preserue him and keepe him aliue, that he may bee blessed vpon earth: and delyuer not thou him into the wyll of his enimies.
3 The Lorde comfort him when he lyeth sicke vpon his bedde: make thou all his bedde in his sickenesse.
4 I sayde, Lorde be mercyfull vnto mee: heale my soule for I haue sinned agaynst thee.
5 Mine enimies speake euill of me: when shall he die, and his name perishe?
6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanitie:
and his heart conceyueth falsehode within himselfe, and when hee commeth forth, hee telleth it.
7 All mine enimies whisper togyther agaynst ℣ me: euen agaynst me doe they imagine thys euill.
8 Let the sentence of gyltinesse proceede against him: and nowe that hee lyeth, let him rise vp no more.
9 Yea, euen mine owne familiar friend (whom I trusted:) which did also eate of my breade, hath layde great wayte for me.
10 But bee thou mercifull vnto me, O Lorde:
rayse

rayſe thou me vp againe, and I ſhall reward them.

11 By this I know̄e thou fauourest me: that mine enimie doth not triumph againſt me.

12 And when I am in my health, thou vpholdeſt me: and ſhalt ſet me before thy face for euer.

13 Bleſſed be the Lorde God of Iſrael: world without ende. Amen.

Quemadmodum. Pſal. xlij.

1 LIke as the Harte deſyreth the water brookes: ſo longeth my ſoule after thee, O God.

2 My ſoule is a thirſt for God, yea euen for the liuing God: when ſhall I come to appeare before the preſence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night: while they dayly ſay vnto mee, where is now̄e thy God?

4 Now̄e when I thinke therevpon, I poure out my heart by my ſelfe: for I went with the multitude, and brought them forth into the houſe of God?

5 In the voyce of prayſe and thankeſgiuing: among ſuch as keepe holy day.

6 Why art thou ſo full of heauineſſe (O my ſoule:) and why art thou ſo vnquieted within me?

B 7 Put thy truſt in God: for I will yet giue him thankes for the helpe of his countenance.

8 My GOD, my ſoule is vexed within mee: therefore will I remember thee concerning the lande of Iordane, and the little hill of Hermon.

9 One deepe calleth another, becauſe of the noyſe of the water Pipes: all thy waues and ſtormes are gone ouer me.

10 The Lorde hath graunted his louing kindneſſe on the day time: and in the night ſeaſon did I ſing of him, and made my prayer vnto the God of my life.

11 I will ſay vnto the God of my ſtrength, why haſt thou forgotten me: why go I thus heauily, while the enimie oppreſſeth me?

12 My bones are ſmitten aſunder, as with a ſworde: while mine enimies (that trouble me) caſt me in the teeth.

13 Namely, while they ſaye dayly vnto mee: where is now̄e thy God?

C 14 Why art thou ſo vexed (O my ſoule:) and why art thou ſo diſquieted within me?

15 O put thy truſt in God: for I wil yet thanke him: which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

2 For thou art the God of my ſtrength, why haſt thou put me from thee: and why go I ſo heauily, while the enimie oppreſſeth me?

3 O ſende out thy light and thy truth, that they may leade me: and bring me vnto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

4 And that I may go vnto the aulter of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladneſſe: and vpon the Harpe will I giue thankes vnto thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou ſo heauie, O my ſoule: and why art thou ſo diſquieted within me?

6 O put thy truſt in God: for I will yet giue him thankes, which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Deus auribus. Pſal. xliij.

1 WE haue heard with oure eares, O GOD, our fathers haue told vs: what thou haſt done in their tyme of olde. Morning prayer.

2 Howe thou haſt driuen oute the heathen with thy hande, and planted them in: howe thou haſt deſtroyed the nations, and caſt them out.

3 For they gate not the lande in poſſeſſion through their owne ſworde: neyther was it their owne arme that helped them.

4 But thy right hande, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance: becauſe thou haddeſt a fauour vnto them.

5 Thou art my king (O God:) ſend helpe vnto Iacob.

6 Through thee will wee ouerthrowe our enimies: and in thy name will we treade them vnder that riſe vp againſt vs.

7 For I will not truſt in my bowe: it is not B my ſworde that ſhall helpe me.

8 But it is thou that ſaueſt vs from our enimie: and putteſt them to confuſion that hate vs.

9 We make our boaſt of God all day long: and will prayſe thy name for euer.

10 But now̄e thou art farre off, and putteſt vs to confuſion: and goeſt not forth with oure armies.

11 Thou makeſt vs to turne our backes vpon our enimies: ſo that they which hate vs, ſpoyle our goodes.

12 Thou letteſt vs be eaten vp like ſheepe: & haſt ſcattered vs among the heathen.

13 Thou ſelleſt thy people for nought: and takeſt no money for them.

14 Thou makeſt vs to be rebuked of our neigh- C bours: to be laughed to ſcorne and had in derriſion of them that are rounde aboute vs.

15 Thou makeſt vs to bee a byworde among the Heathen: and that the people shake theyr heades at vs.

16 My confusion is dayly before me: and the shame of my face hath couered me.

17 For the voyce of the slaunderer and blasphemer: for the enimie and the auenger.

18 And though all this be come vpon vs, yet doe we not forget thee: nor behaue our selues frowardly in thy couenant.

19 Our heart is not turned backe: neyther our steppes gone out of thy way.

20 No not when thou hast smitten vs into the place of Dragons: and couered vs with the shadow of death.

D 21 If we haue forgotten the name of our God, and holden vp our handes to any straunge God: shall not God search it out? for he knoweth the verie secretes of the heart.

22 For thy sake also are wee killed all the day long: and are counted as sheepe appoynted to be slaine.

23 Vp Lorde, why sleepest thou: awake, and be not absent from vs for euer.

24 Wherefore hydest thou thy face: and forgettest our miserie and trouble?

25 For our soule is brought low, euen vnto the dust: our bellie cleaueth vnto the ground.

26 Arise and helpe vs: and deliuer vs for thy mercyes sake.

Eructauit cor meum. Psal. xlv.

A 1 MY heart is inditing of a good matter: I speake of the things which I haue made vnto the king.

2 My tongue is the penne: of a readie writer.

3 Thou art fayrer than the children of men: full of grace are thy lippes, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

4 Gyrde thee with thy sworde vpon thy thigh, O thou most mightie: according to thy worship and renowne.

5 Good lucke haue thou with thine honour: ride on, because of the worde of truth, of meekenesse, and righteousnesse, and thy right hande shall teach thee terrible things.

6 Thine arrowes are verie sharpe, and the people shall be subdued vnto thee: euen in the mids among the kings enimies.

B 7 Thy seate (O God) endureth for euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a right scepter.

8 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: wherefore God (euen thy God) hath annoynted thee with the Oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.

9 All thy garmentes smell of Myrre, Aloes, and Casia: out of the Ivorie Palaces, whereby they haue made thee glad.

10 Kings daughters were among thy honourable women: vpon thy right hande did stande the Queene in a vesture of golde (wrought about with diuerse colours.)

11 Hearken (O daughter) and consider, encline thine eare: forget also thine owne people, and thy fathers house.

12 So shall the king haue pleasure in thy beautie: for hee is thy Lorde (God) and worship thou him.

13 And the daughter of Tyre shall bee there with a gyft: lyke as the riche also among the people shall make theyr supplication before thee.

14 The kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought golde. C

15 She shall be brought vnto the king in rayment of needle worke: the virgins that bee her fellowes shall beare her companie, and shall be brought vnto thee.

16 With ioy and gladnesse shal they be brought: and shall enter into the kings palace.

17 In steade of thy fathers, thou shalt haue children: whom thou mayest make princes in all landes.

18 I will remember thy name from one generation vnto another: therefore shall the people giue thankes vnto thee worlde without ende.

Deus noster refugium. Psal. xlvi.

GOD is our hope and strength: a verie present helpe in trouble. I

2 Therefore will not we feare though the earth be moued: and though the hilles be caryed into the middes of the Sea.

3 Though the waters thereof rage and swell: and though the Mountaynes shake at the tempest of the same.

4 The Riuers of the floud thereof shall make glad the Citie of God: the holy place of the tabernacle of the most highest.

5 God is in the middest of her, therefore shall she not be remoued: God shall helpe her, and that right early.

6 The Heathen make muche a doe, and the kingdomes are moued: but God hath shewed his voyce, and the earth shall melt away.

7 The Lorde of hostes is with vs: the God of B Jacob is our refuge.

8 O come hither, and beholde the workes of the Lorde: what destruction he hath brought vpon the earth.

9 He maketh warres to ceasse in all the world: he breaketh the bowe, and knappeth the speare in sunder, and burneth the Chariottes in the fire.

10 Be still then and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the Heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lorde of hostes is with vs: the God of Jacob is our defence.

Omnes gentes plaudite. Psal.xlvij.

¶ Euening prayer.

O Clap your hands together, (al ye people:) O sing vnto God with the voyce of melodie.
2 For the Lord is high, and to be feared: he is the greate king vpon all the earth.
3 He shall subdue the people vnder vs: and the nations vnder our feete.
4 He shall chose out an heritage for vs: euen the worship of Jacob whome he loued.
5 God is gone vp with a mery noyse: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpe.
6 O sing prayses, sing prayses vnto (our) God: O sing prayses, sing prayses vnto our king.
¶ 7 For God is the king of all the earthe: sing ye prayses with vnderstanding.
8 God raigneth ouer the Heathen: God sitteth vpon his holy seate.
9 The princes of the people are ioyned vnto the people of the God of Abraham: for God (which is very high exalted) doth defende the earth, as it were with a shielde.

Magnus dominus. Psal.xlviij.

¶ GReat is the Lorde, and highly to be praysed: in the citie of our God, euen vpon his holy hyll.
2 The hyll of Sion is a fayre place, and the ioye of the whole earth: vppon the north side ligth the citie of the great king, God is well knowen in his palaces, as a sure refuge.
3 For loe, the kynges of the earthe: are gathered and gone by together.
4 They marueyled to see such things: they were astonyed, and sodainely fell downe.
5 Feare came there vpon them, and sorow: as vpon a woman in hir trauayle.
6 Thou shalte breake the shippes of the Sea: through the east winde.
¶ 7 Like as we haue heard, so haue we seene in the citie of the Lorde of hostes, in the citie of oure God: God vpholdeth the same for euer.
8 We wayte for thy louing kindnes (O God:) in the middes of thy temple.
9 O God, according to thy name, so is thy prayse vnto the worldes ende: thy right hande is full of righteousnesse.
10 Let the Mount Sion reioyce, and the daughters of Juda be gladde: because of thy iudgementes.
11 Walke about Sion, and go round about it: and tell the towres thereof.
12 Marke well hir Bulwarkes, set vp hir houses: that ye may tell them that come after.
13 For this God is our God for euer and euer: he shall be our guide vnto death.

Audite hæc omnes. Psal.xlix.

1 GHeare ye this all ye people: ponder it with ¶ youre eares, all yee that dwell in the worlde.
2 High and lowe, riche and poore: one with another.
3 My mouth shall speake of wisedome: and my hart shall muse of vnderstanding.
4 I will encline mine eare to the parable: and shew my darke speach vpon the Harpe.
5 Wherefore should I feare in the dayes of wickednesse: and when the wickednes of my heels compasseth me round about?
6 There bee some that put their trust in their goodes: and boast themselues in the multitude of their riches.
7 But no manne maye deliuer his brother: nor make agreement vnto God for him.
8 For it cost more to redeeme their soules: so that he must let that alone for euer.
9 Yea, thoughe hee liue long: and see not the graue.
10 For he seeth that wise men also die, and perish together: as well as the ignorant and foolishe, and leaue their riches for other.
11 And yet they thinke that their houses shal continue for euer: and that their dwelling places shall endure from one generation to another, and call the lands after their owne name.
12 Neuertheles, man will not abide in honour: seeing he may be compared vnto the beastes that perish, this is the way of them.
13 This is their foolishnesse: and their posteritie prayse their saying.
14 They lie in the hell like sheepe, deathe gnaweth vppon them, and the righteous shall haue dominatiō of them in the morning: their beautie shall consume in the sepulchre, out of their dwelling. ¶
15 But God shall deliuer my soule from the place of hell: for he shall receyue me.
16 Be not thou afrayde though one bee made rich: or if the glory of his house be encreased.
17 For hee shall cary nothing away with hym when he dyeth: neyther shall his pompe followe him.
18 For while he liued, hee counted him selfe an happy man: and so long as thou doest well vnto thy selfe, men will speake good of thee.
19 He shal folow the generations of his fathers: and shall neuer see light.
20 Man being in honour, hath no vnderstāding: but is compared vnto the beastes that perishe.

Deus deorum. Psal.l.

1 THe Lorde, euen the most mightie God, ¶ hath spoken: and called the worlde, from the rysing of the Sonne, vnto the Morning prayer.

going downe thereof.

2 Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beautie.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keepe silence: there shall goe before him a consuming fire, and a mightie tempest shall bee stirred up rounde about him.

4 He shall cal the Heathen from aboue: and the earth, that he may iudge his people.

5 Gather my saints togither vnto me: those that haue made a couenant with me, with sacrifice.

6 And the heauens shall declare his righteousnesse: for God is iudge himselfe.

B 7 Heare, O my people, and I will speake: I my selfe will testifie against thee, O Israel, for I am God, euen thy God.

8 I will not reproue thee, because of thy sacrifices, or for thy burnt offerings: because they were not alway before me.

9 I will take no bullocke out of thy house: nor bee Goates out of thy foldes.

10 For all the beastes of the forrest are mine: and so are the cattels vpon a thousand hilles.

11 I knowe all the foules vpon the Mountaynes: and the wilde beastes of the fielde are in my sight.

12 If I be hungrie, I will not tell thee: for the whole worlde is mine, and all that is therein.

13 Thinkest thou that I will eate Bulles flesh: and drinke the bloud of Goates?

C 14 Offer vnto GOD thankesgiuing: and pay thy vowes vnto the most highest.

15 And call vpon me in the tyme of trouble: so will I heare thee, and thou shalt praise me.

16 But vnto the vngodly sayde God, why doest thou preach my lawes: and takest my couenant in thy mouth?

17 Whereas thou hatest to bee reformed: and hast cast my wordes behinde thee.

18 When thou sawest a theefe, thou consentedst vnto him: and hast bene partaker with the adulterers.

19 Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse: and with thy tongue thou hast set forth deceyte.

20 Thou satest and spakest against thy brother: yea and hast slaundered thine owne mothers sonne.

D 21 These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue, and thou thoughtest wickedly, that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: but I will reproue thee, and set before thee the things that thou hast done.

22 O consider this, yee that forget God: least I plucke you away, and there bee none to deliuer you.

23 Who so offereth me thankes and praise, hee honoureth me: and to him that ordereth his conuersation right, will I shewe the saluation of God.

Miserere mei deus. Psal. li.

1 HAue mercie vpon mee (O God) after thy great goodnesse: according vnto the multitude of thy mercyes, doe awaye mine offences. I

2 Washe me throughly from my wickednesse: and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I knowledge my faultes: and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee onely haue I sinned, and done this euill in thy sight: that thou mightest be iustified in thy saying, and cleare when thou art iudged.

5 Beholde, I was shapen in wickednesse: and in sinne hath my mother conceyued me.

6 But loe, thou requirest truth in the inwarde partes: and shalt make me to vnderstand wisedome secretly.

7 Thou shalt purge mee with Hysope, and I B shall be cleane: thou shalt washe me, and I shal be whyter than snow.

8 Thou shalt make me heare of ioy and gladnesse: that the bones whiche thou hast broken may reioyce.

9 Turne thy face from my sinnes: and put out all my misdeedes.

10 Make me a cleane heart (O God:) and renue a right spirite within me. Euening prayer.

11 Cast mee not away from thy presence: and take not thy holy spirite from me.

12 O giue mee the comfort of thy helpe againe: and stablish me with thy free spirite.

13 Then shall I teache thy wayes vnto the wicked: and sinners shall bee conuerted vnto thee.

14 Delyuer mee from bloud-gyltinesse, O C GOD, thou that arte the GOD of my health: and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousnesse.

15 Thou shalt open my lippes, O Lorde: and my mouth shall shewe thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, else would I giue it thee: but thou delightest not in burnt offerings.

17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirite: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, shalt thou not despise.

18 O be fauourable and gracious vnto Sion: builde thou the walles of Ierusalem.

19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousnesse, with the burnt offerings and oblations: then shall they offer yong bullocks vpon thine aultar.

Quid gloriaris. Psal. lij.

Whereas

2 Whereas the goodnesse of God: endureth yet dayly.

3 Thy tongue imagineth wickednesse: and with lyes thou cuttest like a sharpe rasor.

4 Thou hast loued vngraciousnesse more than goodnesse: and to talke of lyes more than righteousnesse.

5 Thou hast loued to speake all wordes that may do hurt: O thou false tongue.

6 Therefore shall God destroy thee for euer: he shall take thee, and plucke thee oute of thy dwelling, and rote thee out of the lande of the liuing.

B 7 The righteous also shall see this, and feare: and shall laugh him to scorne.

8 Loe, this is the man that toke not God for his strength: but trusted vnto the multitude of his richesse, and strengthned himselfe in his wickednesse.

9 As for me, I am like a greene Olyue tree in the house of God: my trust is in the tendermercie of God for euer and euer.

10 I will alway giue thanks vnto thee for that thou hast done: and I will hope in thy name, for thy saintes like it well.

Dixit insipiens. Psal. liij.

A 1 THe foolishe bodie hath sayde in his heart: there is no God.

Euening prayer.

2 Corrupt are they and become abhominable in their wickednesse: there is none that doth good.

3 God looked downe from heauen vppon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstande, and seeke after God.

4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogither become abhominable: there is also none that doth good, no not one.

5 Are not they without vnderstanding that worke wickednesse: eating vp my people, as if they would eate breade, they haue not called vpon God.

B 6 They were afrayde where no feare was: for God hath broken the bones of him that besieged thee, thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath despised them.

7 Oh that the saluation were giuen vnto Israell out of Sion: oh that the Lorde would deliuer his people out of captiuitie.

8 Then should Jacob reioice: and Israel should be right glad.

Deus in nomine tuo. Psal. liiij.

A 1 SAue me, O God, for thy names sake: and auenge me in thy strength.

2 Heare my prayer, O God: and hearken vnto the wordes of my mouth.

3 For straungers are risen vp against me: and tyrants (which haue not God before their eyes) seeke after my soule.

4 Beholde, God is my helper: the Lorde is with them that vpholde my soule.

5 He shall reward euill vnto myne enimies: destroy thou them in thy truth.

6 An offering of a free heart will I giue thee, B and prayse thy name (O Lord:) because it is so comfortable.

7 For he hath deliuered me out of all my trouble: and mine eie hath seene his desire vpon mine enimies.

Exaudi deus. Psal. lv.

A 1 HEare my prayer, O God: and hide not I thy selfe from my petition.

2 Take heede vnto me, and heare me: howe I mourne in my prayer, and am vexed.

3 The enimie crieth so, and the vngodly commeth on so fast: for they are minded to do me some mischiefe, so maliciously are they set against me.

4 My heart is disquieted within me: and the feare of death is fallen vpon me.

5 Fearefulnesse and trembling are come vpon me: and an horrible dread hath ouerwhelmed E me.

6 And I sayde, O that I had wings lyke a Doue: for then would I flee away and be at rest.

7 Lo then would I get me away farre off: and B remaine in the wildernesse.

8 I would make haste to escape: because of the stormie winde and tempest.

9 Destroy their tongues (O Lorde) and diuide them: for I haue spyed vnrighteousnesse and strife in the Citie.

10 Day and night they goe about within the walles thereof: mischiefe also and sorrowe are in the middes of it.

11 Wickednesse is therein: deceyte and guile go not out of their streetes.

12 For it is not an open enimie that hath done me this dishonour: for then I could haue borne it.

13 Neither was it mine aduersarie ỳ did magnifie himselfe against me: for then (peraduenture) I would haue hid my selfe from him.

14 But it was euen thou my companion: my C guide, and mine owne familiar friend.

15 We toke sweete counsaile together: and walked in the house of God as friendes.

16 Let death come hastily vpon them, and let them goe downe quicke into hell: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, and among them.

17 As for me, I will call vpon God: and the Lorde shall saue me.

18 In the Euening and Morning, and at noone day will I pray, and that instantly: and hee shall heare my voyce.

19 It is he that hath deliuered my soule in peace, from the battaile that was agaynst me: for there were many with me.

20 Yea, euen God that endureth for euer shall heare me, and bring them downe: for they will not turne, nor feare God.

D 21 He layde his handes vpon such as be at peace with him: and he brake his couenant.

22 The wordes of his mouth were softer than Butter, hauing warre in his heart: his wordes were smoother than Oyle, and yet they be drie swordes.

23 O call thy burthen vpon the Lorde, and hee shal nourish thee: and shall not suffer the righteous to fall for euer.

24 And as for them: thou, O God, shalt bring them into the pit of destruction.

25 The bloud thirstie and deceytfull men shall not liue out halfe their dayes: neuertheles, my trust shall be in thee, O Lorde.

Miserere mei deus. Psal. lvi.

A 1 BE mercifull vnto me, O God, for man goeth about to deuour me: he is dayly fighting and troubling me.

Mornyng prayer.

2 Myne enimies are dayly in hand to swallow me vp: for they be many that fight agaynst me, O thou most highest.

3 Neuertheles though I am sometime afrayd: yet put I my trust in thee.

4 I will prayse God, because of his worde: I haue put my trust in God, and will not feare what flesh can do vnto me.

5 They dayly mistake my wordes: all that they imagine, is to do me euill.

6 They holde altogither, and keepe themselues close: and marke my steppes, when they lay in wayte for my soule.

B 7 Shall they escape for their wickednesse: thou (O God) in thy displeasure shalt cast them downe.

8 Thou tellest my flittings, put my teares into thy bottell: are not these things noted in thy booke?

9 Whensoeuer I call vpon thee, then shall mine enimies be put to flight: this I know, for God is on my side.

10 In Gods word will I reioyce: in the Lords worde will I comfort me.

11 Yea in God haue I put my trust: I will not be afrayde what man can do vnto me.

12 Vnto thee (O God) will I pay my vowes: vnto thee will I giue thankes.

13 For thou hast deliuered my soule from death, and my feete from falling: that I may walke before God in the light of the liuing.

Miserere mei deus. Psal. lvij.

A 1 BE mercifull vnto me, O God, be mercifull vnto mee, for my soule trusteth in thee: and vnder the shadowe of thy winges shall bee my refuge, vntill this tyrannie be ouerpast.

2 I will call vnto the most highe God: euen vnto the GOD that shall performe the cause which I haue in hande.

3 Hee shall sende from heauen: and saue mee from the reproofe of him that woulde eate me vp.

4 God shall sende forth his mercie and truth: my soule is among Lions.

5 And I lye euen among the Children of men (that are sette on fyre:) whose teeth are speares and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sworde.

6 Set vp thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens: and thy glorie aboue all the earth.

7 They haue layde a Nette for my feete, and B pressed downe my soule: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the middes of it themselues.

8 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and giue prayse.

9 Awake vp my glorie, awake Lute and Harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.

10 I will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: and I will sing vnto thee among the Nations.

11 For the greatnesse of thy mercie reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy truth vnto the cloudes.

12 Set vp thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens: and thy glorie aboue all the earth.

Si vere vtique. Psal. lviij.

A 1 ARe your mindes sette vpon righteousnesse, O yee Congregation: and doe ye iudge the thing that is righte, O yee sonnes of men?

2 Yea, ye imagine mischiefe in your heart vpon the earth: and your handes deale with wickednesse.

3 The vngodly are frowarde euen from their mothers wombe: as sone as they be borne, they go astray, and speake lyes.

4 They are as venemous as the poyson of a serpent: euen like the deafe Adder that stoppeth her eares.

5 Which refuseth to heare the voyce of the charmer: charme he neuer so wisely.

6 Breake their teeth (O God) in their mouthes, B smite the chawe bones of the Lions, O Lorde: let them fall away like water that runneth apace, and when they shoote their arrowes, let them be rooted out.

7 Let

7 Let them consume away lyke a snayle, and be lyke the vntimely fruite of a woman: and let them not see the sunne.

8 Or euer your pottes be made whot with thorneys: so let indignation vexe hym, euen as a thing that is rawe.

9 The righteous shall reioyce when he seeth the vengeaunce: he shall washe his foote steppes in the bloud of the vngodly.

10 So that a man shall say, verely there is a reward for the ryghteous: doubtlesse there is a God that iudgeth the earth.

Eripe me de inimicis. Psal. lix.

1 Deliuer me from myne enimies (O God:) defende me from them that ryse vp agaynste me. Euening prayer.

2 O delyuer me from the wicked doers: and saue me from the bloud thirstie men.

3 For loe, they lye wayting for my soule: the myghtie men are gathered agaynst mee, without any offence or fault of me, O Lorde.

4 They runne and prepare them selues without my fault: arise thou therefore to helpe me, and beholde.

5 Stande vp (O Lorde God of hostes) thou God of Israel, to visite al the heathen: and be not mercyfull vnto them that offende of malicious wickednesse.

6 They goe to and fro in the euening: they grin lyke a dogge, and runne about through the citie.

7 Beholde, they speake with their mouth and swordes are in theyr lyppes: for who dothe heare?

8 But thou, O Lorde, shalt haue them in derision: and thou shalt laughe all the heathen to scorne.

9 My strength will I ascribe vnto thee: for thou art the God of my refuge.

10 God sheweth me his goodnesse plentcously: and God shall let me see my desyre vpon myne enimies.

11 Slay them not, lest my people forget it: but scatter them abrode among thy people, and put them downe, O Lorde, our defence.

12 For the sinne of theyr mouth, & for the wordes of theyr lyppes, they shalbe taken in theyr pryde: and why? theyr preaching is of cursyng and lyes.

13 Consume them in thy wrath, consume them that they may perysshe: and knowe that it is God which ruleth in Jacob, and vnto the endes of the worlde.

14 And in the euenyng they wyll returne: and grinne lyke a dogge, and wyll goe about the citie.

15 They wyl runne here and there for meate: and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 As for me, I wil sing of thy power, and wil prayse thy mercy betimes in the morning: for thou hast bin my defence, and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Vnto thee (O my strength) wyll I syng: for thou, O God, art my refuge, and my mercyful God.

Deus repulisti nos. Psal. lx.

1 O God, thou hast cast vs out, & scattered vs abrode: thou hast also bin displeased, O turne thee vnto vs agayne.

2 Thou hast moued the lande, and diuided it: heale the sores thereof, for it shaketh.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people harde thynges: thou hast giuen vs a drinke of deadly wine.

4 Thou hast giuen a token for suche as feare thee: that they maye triumph bycause of the truth.

5 Therefore were thy beloued deliuered: helpe me with thy right hand, and heare me.

6 God hath spoken in his holynesse, I wyl reioyce and diuide Sichem: and meate out the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is myne: Ephraim also is the strength of my head, Juda is my lawgeuer.

8 Moab is my washpot, ouer Edom wyll I cast out my shoe: Philistia be thou glad of me.

9 Who wyll leade me into the strong Citie: who wyll bryng me into Edom?

10 Hast thou not cast vs out, O God: wylt not thou, O God, go out with our hostes?

11 O be thou our helpe in trouble: for vayne is the helpe of man.

12 Thorough God shall we doe greate actes: for it is he that shall treade downe our enimies.

Exaudi deus. Psal. lxi.

1 Heare my crying, O God: giue eare vnto my prayer.

2 From the endes of the earth wyll I call vnto thee: when my harte is in heauinesse.

3 Oh set me vp vpon the rocke that is hygher than I: for thou hast bene my hope, and a strong towre for me against the enimie.

4 I will dwell in thy tabernacle for euer: and my truste shal bee vnder the coueryng of thy wyngs.

5 For thou, O Lorde, hast heard my desyres: and hast giuen an heritage vnto those that feare thy name.

6 Thou shalt graunt the kyng a long life: that his yeeres may endure throughout al generations.

7 He shal dwel before God for euer: O prepare thy louing mercy and faithfulneſſe, that they may preſerue him.

8 So wyl I alway ſing prayſe vnto thy name: that I may dayly perfoꝛme my vowes.

Morning prayer.

1 MY ſoule truly wayteth ſtill vpon God: foꝛ of him commeth my ſaluation.

2 He beryly is my ſtrength & my ſaluation: he is my defence ſo that I ſhall not greatly fal.

3 Howe long will ye imagine miſchiefe againſt euery man, ye ſhalbe ſlayne al the ſoꝛt of you: yea as a totteryng wal ſhal ye be, and lyke a bꝛoken hedge.

4 Their deuice is only howe to put him out whō God will exalt: theyꝛ delyght is in lyes, they geue good woꝛdes with theyꝛ mouth, but curſe with their heart.

5 Neuertheleſſe, my ſoule wayte thou ſtyl vpon God: foꝛ my hope is in hym.

6 He truely is my ſtrength and my ſaluation: he is my defence, ſo that I ſhal not fal.

B 7 In God is my health and my glozy: the rock of my myght, and in GOD is my truſt.

8 O put your truſt in him alway (ye people:) poure out your hearꝛtes beſoꝛe hym, foꝛ God is our hope.

9 As foꝛ the children of mẽ, they are but bayne: the children of mẽ are deceitful vpō ỹ weights, they are altogether lighter than vanitie it ſelfe.

10 O truſt not in wꝛong and robbery, giue not your ſelues vnto vanitie: if ryches encreaſe, ſet not your hart vpon them.

11 God ſpake once and twyce: I haue alſo hard the ſame, that power belongeth vnto God.

12 And that thou Lord art mercyfull: foꝛ thou rewardeſt euery man accoꝛdyng to his woꝛke.

A 1 O God, thou art my God: early will I ſeeke thee.

2 My ſoule thirſteth foꝛ thee, my fleſhe alſo longeth after thee: in a barreine and dꝛye lande, where no water is.

3 Thus haue I loked foꝛ thee in holineſſe: that I myght beholde thy powꝛer and glozy.

4 Foꝛ thy louyng kindneſſe is better thā the life it ſelfe: my lippes ſhall pꝛaiſe thee.

5 As long as I liue wil I magnifie thee on this manner: and lyft vp my handes in thy name.

6 My ſoule ſhalbe ſatiſfied euen as it were with marowe and fatneſſe: when my mouth prayſeth thee with ioyful lyppes.

B 7 Haue I not remembꝛed thee in my bed: and thought vpon thee when I was waking?

8 Becauſe thou haſt bin my helper: therefoꝛe vnder the ſhadowe of thy wynges will I reioyce.

9 My ſoule hangeth vpon thee: thy right hand hath vpholden me.

10 Theſe alſo that ſeek the hurt of my ſoule: they ſhal goe vnder the earth.

3 Whiche haue whet theyꝛ tongue like a ſwoꝛde: and ſhoote out theyꝛ arrowes, euen bytter woꝛds.

4 That they may priuily ſhoote at hym whiche is perfect: ſuddenly do they hytte hym, and feare not.

5 They courage them ſelues in myſchiefe: and commune among them ſelues howe they may lay ſnares, and ſay that no man ſhall ſee them.

6 They imagine wickednelle, and practiſe it: that they keepe ſecret among themſelues euery man in the deepe of his hart.

7 But God ſhall ſuddenly ſhoote at them with B a ſwyft arrowe: that they ſhalbe wounded.

8 Yea theyꝛ owne tongues ſhal make them fal: inſomuche that who ſo ſeeth them, ſhall laugh them to ſcoꝛne.

9 And al men that ſee it, ſhal ſay, this hath God done: foꝛ they ſhal perceiue that it is his woꝛke.

3 I am weerie of crying, my throte is dryer: my syght fayleth me for wayting so long vpon my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are more than the heares of my head: they that are myne enimies, and would destroy me giltlesse, are mightie.

5 I payde them the thinges that I neuer toke: God, thou knowest my simplenesse, and my faultes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, be ashamed for my cause: let not those that seeke thee be confounded through me, O Lorde God of Israel.

7 And why? for thy sake haue I suffered reprofe: ℣ shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a straunger vnto my brethren: euen an aliant vnto my mothers children.

9 For the zeale of thine house hath euen eaten me: and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept, and chastened my selfe with fasting: and that was turned to my reprofe.

11 I put

11 I put on a sackcloth also: and they iested vpon me.
12 They that syt in the gate, speake agaynst me: and the drunkards make songs vpon me.
13 But Lorde, I make my prayer vnto thee: in an acceptable tyme.
14 Heare me, O God, in the multitude of thy mercy: euen in the trueth of thy saluation.
15 Take me out of the myre, that I synke not: oh let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.
16 Let not the water floud drowne me, neither let the deepe swallowe me vp: and let not the pyt shut hir mouth vpon me.
17 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is comfortable: turne thee vnto me, according to the multitude of thy mercies.
18 And hide not thy face from thy seruaunt for I am in trouble: oh haste thee, and heare me.
19 Drawe nigh vnto my soule, and saue it: oh deliuer me, because of mine enimies.
20 Thou hast knowen my reproche, my shame, & my dishonour: mine aduersaries are all in thy syght.
21 Thy rebuke hath broken my hart, I am full of heauinesse: I loked for some to haue pitie on me, but there was no man, neyther found I any to comfort me.

23 Let their table be made a snare to take them selues withall: and let the thinges (that shoulde haue ben for their wealth) be vnto them an occasion of falling.
24 Let their eyes be blynded, that they see not: and euer bowe downe their backes.
25 Powre out thyne indignation vpon them: and let thy wrathfull displeasure take holde of them.
26 Let their habitation be voyde: and no man to dwel in their tentes.
27 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten: and they talke howe they may vexe them whom thou hast wounded.
28 Let them fal from one wyckednesse to another: and not come into thy righteousnesse.
29 Let them be wyped out of the booke of the liuyng: and not be wrytten among the righteous.
30 As for me, when I am powre, and in heauines: thy helpe (O GOD) shal lifte me vp.
31 I will prayse the name of God with a song: and magnifie it with thankesgiuyng.
32 This also shall please the Lorde: better than a Bullocke that hath hornes and hoofes.
33 The humble shall consider this, and be glad: seeke ye after God, and your soule shal liue.
34 For the Lorde heareth the powre: and dispiseth not his prisoners.
35 Let heauen and earth prayse him: the sea, and al that moueth therein.
36 For God wil saue Sion, and builde the cities of Iuda: that men may dwel there, and haue it in possession.
37 The posteritie also of his seruauntes shal inherite it: & they that loue his name, shal dwel therein.

A i GIue the king thy iudgementes (O God:) and thy righteousnesse vnto the kynges sonne.

2 Then shal he iudge the people according vnto right: and defende the poore.

3 The mountaines also shall bryng peace, and ỹ litle hylles righteousnesse vnto the people.

4 He shall keepe the symple folke by theyr right: defende the children of the poore, and punishe the wrong doer.

5 They shall feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth: from one generation to another.

6 He shall come downe lyke the rayne into a fleece of wool: euen as the droppes that water the earth.

B 7 In his tyme shall the righteous florysshe: yea and aboundance of peace so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion also shal bee from the one sea to the other: and frō the floude vnto the worldes ende.

9 They ỹ dwel in the wyldernesse shall kneele before him: his enimies shal licke the dust.

10 The kinges of Tharsis, and of the Iles, shall giue presentes: the kinges of Arabia and Saba, shall bryng giftes.

11 All kinges shal fal downe before him: all nations shall do hym seruice.

12 For he shall delyuer the poore when he cryeth: the needie also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shalbe fauourable to the symple & needy: and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 He shall delyuer theyr soules from falsehod ℄ and wrong: and deare shall theyr bloude bee in his sight.

15 He shall liue, and vnto him shalbe giuen of the golde of Arabia: prayer shal be made euer vnto him, and dayly shall he be praysed.

16 There shalbe an heape of corne in the earth high vpon the hilles: his fruite shal shake lyke Libanus, & shalbe greene in the citie, like grasse vpon the earth.

17 His name shall endure for euer, his name shal remayne vnder the sunne among the posterities: whiche shall be blessed through him, & al the heathen shal prayse him.

18 Blessed be ỹ Lord God, euen the God of Israel: which only doth wonderous things.

19 And blessed be the name of his maiestie for euer: and al the earth shall be fylled with his maiestie. Amen. Amen.

Quam bonus Israel. Psal. lxxiij.

1 TRuely God is louing vnto Israel: euen vnto such as are of a cleane hart. Euening prayer.

2 Neuertheless, my feete were almost gone: my treadings had welnygh slypt.

3 And why? I was greeued at the wicked: I do also see the vngodly in such prosperitie.

4 For they are in no peril of death: but are lusty and strong.

5 They come in no misfortune like other folke: neither are they plagued like other men.

6 And this is the cause that they be so holden with pride: and ouerwhelmed with cruelty.

7 Theyr eyes swel with fatnesse: and they do euen what they lust.

8 They corrupt other, and speake of wicked blasphemie: theyr talking is against the moste highest.

9 For they stretch forth theyr mouth vnto the heauen: and theyr tongue goeth through the worlde.

10 Therefor

10 Therfore fal the people vnto them: and thereout ſucke they no ſmal aduauntage.
11 Tuſhe (ſay they) howe ſhoulde God perceiue it: is there knowledge in the moſte hyghеſt?
12 Loe, theſe are the vngodly, theſe proſper in the worlde: and theſe haue ryches in poſſeſſion: and I ſayd, then haue I cleanſed my hart in vayne, and waſhed my handes in innocencie.
13 All the day long haue I bene punyſhed: and chaſtened euery morning.
℣ 14 Yea and I had almoſt ſayd euen as they: but loe, then ſhoulde I haue condemned the generation of thy children.
15 Then thought I to vnderſtande this: but it was to hard for me.
16 Until I went into the ſanctuarie of God: the vnderſtoode I the ende of theſe men.
17 Namely howe thou doeſt ſet them in ſlypperie places: and caſteſt them downe, and deſtroyeſt them.
18 Oh howe ſuddenly do they conſume: peryſhe, and come to a fearefull ende?
19 Yea, euen like as a dreame whē one awaketh:
ſo ſhalt thou make their image to vaniſh out of the citie.
20 Thus my harte was greeued: and it went euen through my reynes.
℣ 21 So fooliſhe was I and ignorant: euen as it were a beaſt before thee.
22 Neuertheleſſe, I am alway by thee: for thou haſt holden me by my ryght hande.
23 Thou ſhalt guide me with thy counſell: and after that receiue me with glory.
24 Whom haue I in heauen but thee: and there is none vpon earth that I delyte in compariſon of thee.
25 My fleſhe and my hart fayleth: but God is the ſtrength of my harte, and my portion for euer.
26 For loe, they that forſake thee, ſhall peryſhe:
thou haſt deſtroyed all them that commit fornīcation agaynſt thee.
27 But it is good for me to holde mee faſt by God, to put my truſt in the Lorde God: and to ſpeake of al thy workes (in the gates of ỹ daughter of Sion.)

Vt quid deus. Pſal. lxxiij.

1 O God, wherefore art thou abſent from vs ſo long: why is thy wrath ſo hot agaynſt the ſheepe of thy paſture?
2 O thinke vpon thy congregation: whom thou haſt purchaſed and redeemed of olde.
3 Thinke vpon the tribe of thine inheritaunce:
and mounte Sion, wherein thou haſte dwelt.
4 Lyfte vp thy feete, that thou mayeſt vtterly deſtroy euery enimie: which hath done euyl in thy ſanctuarie.
5 Thyne aduerſaries roare in the myddeſt of thy congregations: and ſet vp theyr banners for tokens.
6 He that hewed tymber afore out of the thycke trees: was knowen to bring it to an excellent worke.
7 But nowe they breake downe all the carued B worke therof: with axes and hammers.
8 They haue ſet fyre vpon thy holy places: and haue defiled ỹ dwellyng place of thy name, euen vnto the grounde.
9 Yea, they ſayde in theyr hartes, let vs make hauocke of them altogether: thus haue they burnt vp all the houſes of God in the land.
10 We ſee not our tokens, there is not one pro-phete more: no not one is there among vs that vnderſtandeth any more.
11 O God, howe long ſhal the aduerſary do this diſhonour: how long ſhal the enimie blaſpheme thy name, for euer?
12 Why withdraweſte thou thy hande: why pluckeſt not thou thy right hand out of thy bo-ſome to conſume the enimie?
13 For God is my king of olde: the helpe that is done vpon the earth, he doth it him ſelfe.
14 Thou diddeſt diuide the ſea through thy po- ℣ wer: thou breakeſt the heades of the dragons in the waters.
15 Thou ſmoteſt the heades of Leuiathan in pe-ces: and gaueſt him to be meate for the people in the wilderneſſe.
16 Thou broughteſt out fountaines and waters out of the harde rockes: thou dryedſt vp mightie waters.
17 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou haſt prepared the light and the ſunne.
18 Thou haſt ſet al the borders of the earth: thou haſt made ſommer and winter.
19 Remember this, O Lorde, how the enimie hath rebuked: and howe the fooliſhe people haue blaſphemed thy name.
20 O delyuer not the ſoule of thy Turtle doue vnto the multitude of the enemies: and forget not the congregation of the poore for euer.
21 Loke vpon the couenaunt: for al the earth is D ful of darkneſſe, and cruel habitations.
22 Oh let not the ſimple go away aſhamed:
but let the poore and needie giue prayſe vnto thy name.
23 Aryſe, O God, mayntayne thine owne cauſe:
remember howe the fooliſhe man blaſpheмeth thee dayly.
24 Forget not the voyce of thine enimies: the preſumption of them that hate thee, encreaſeth euer more and more.

Confitebimur tibi. Psal.lxxv.

Morning prayer.

1 VNto thee (O God) do we giue thankes: vnto thee do we giue thankes.
2 Thy name also is so nigh: and that doe thy wonderous woꝛkes declare.
3 When I receiue ẏ congregation: I shal iudge accoꝛding vnto right.
4 The earthe is weake, and all the inhabiters therof: I beare vp the pillers of it.
5 I sayde vnto the fooles, deale not so madly: and to the vngodly, set not vp youꝛ hoꝛne.
6 Set not vp youꝛ hoꝛne on hygh: and speake not with a stiffe necke.
B 7 Foꝛ pꝛomotion commeth neyther from the east, noꝛ from the west: noꝛ yet from the south.
8 And why? God is ẏ iudge: he putteth downe one, and setteth vp another.
9 Foꝛ in the hand of the Loꝛde there is a cuppe, and the wine is red: it is ful mixt, & he powꝛeth out of the same.
10 As foꝛ the dꝛegges therof: al the vngodly of the earth shal dꝛinke them, and sucke them out.
11 But I will talke of the God of Jacob: and pꝛayse him foꝛ euer.
12 Al the hoꝛnes of the vngodlye also will I bꝛeake: and the hoꝛnes of the ryghteous shal bee exalted, Notus in Iudea. Psal.lxxvi.

1 IN Iurie is God knowen: his name is gꝛeat in Israel.
2 At Salem is his tabernacle: and his dwelling in Sion.
3 There bꝛake he the aꝛꝛowes of the bowe: the shielde, the swoꝛd, and the battayle.
4 Thou aꝛt moꝛe honour and might: than the hilles of the ꝛobbers.
5 The pꝛoude aꝛe ꝛobbed, they haue slept theiꝛ sleepe: and al the men (whose hands were mighty) haue found nothing.
6 At thy ꝛebuke (O God of Jacob:) both the chaꝛꝛet and hoꝛse is fallen.
B 7 Thou, euen thou aꝛt to bee feaꝛed: and who may stande in thy sight when thou aꝛt angry?
8 Thou diddest cause thy iudgemente too bee heaꝛde fꝛom heauen: the eaꝛth tꝛembled, and was still.
9 When God aꝛose to iudgement: and to helpe al the meeke vpon eaꝛth.
10 The fieꝛcenesse of man shall tuꝛne to thy pꝛayse: and the fieꝛcenesse of them shalte thou ꝛestꝛayne.
11 Pꝛomyse vnto the Loꝛde youꝛ God, and kepe it, all ye that bee ꝛounde about hym: bꝛyng pꝛesentes vnto hym that ought to bee feaꝛed.
12 He shall ꝛestꝛayne the spiꝛite of pꝛynces: and is wonderfull among the kynges of the eaꝛth.

Voce mea ad dominum. Psal.lxxvij.

1 I Wil cꝛye vnto God with my voyce: euen vnto God wil I cꝛye with my voyce, and he shal heaꝛken vnto me.
2 In the time of my tꝛouble I sought the Loꝛd: my soꝛe ranne and ceased not, in the night season my soule ꝛefused comfoꝛt.
3 When I am in heauinesse, I wyl thynke vpon God: when my hart is vexed, I wyl coꝛplayne.
4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so feeble that I can not speake.
5 I haue considered the dayes of olde: and the yeeres that are past.
6 I call to ꝛemembꝛaunce my song: and in the night I commune with mine owne hart, and seaꝛche out my spiꝛites.
7 Will the Loꝛde absent himselfe foꝛ euer: and B wil he be no moꝛe entꝛeated?
8 Is his meꝛcy cleane gone foꝛ euer: and is his pꝛomise come vtteꝛly to an ende foꝛ euermoꝛe?
9 Hath god foꝛgotten to be gꝛatious: and will he shut vp his louing kindnesse in displeasuꝛe?
10 And I saide, it is mine owne infiꝛmitie: but I will ꝛemembeꝛ the yeeres of the ꝛight hande of the most hyghest.
11 I will ꝛemembeꝛ the woꝛkes of the Loꝛde: and call to mynde thy wonders of old time.
12 I will thinke also of al thy woꝛkes: and my talking shalbe of thy doings.
13 Thy way, O God, is holy: who is so gꝛeat a God, as ouꝛ God?
14 Thou aꝛt the God that doth wonders: and C hast declaꝛed thy powꝛeꝛ among people.
15 Thou hast mightily deliueꝛed thy people: euen the sonnes of Jacob, and Joseph.
16 The waters sawe thee, O God, the waters sawe thee, and were afꝛayde: the deapthes also were tꝛoubled.
17 The cloudes powꝛed out water, the ayꝛ thundꝛed: and thine aꝛꝛowes went abꝛode.
18 The voyce of thy thundeꝛ was heaꝛde ꝛound about: the lyghtnynges shone vppon the gꝛounde, the eaꝛthe was moued, and shoke withall.
19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy pathes in the gꝛeate waters: and thy footesteppes aꝛe not knowen.
20 Thou leddest thy people like sheepe: by the hande of Moses and Aaꝛon.

Attendite popule. Psal.lxxviij.

1 HEaꝛe my lawe, O my people: I encline youꝛ eaꝛes vnto ẏ wꝛoꝛds of my mouth. Euenyng prayer.
2 I will open my mouth in a paꝛable: I will declaꝛe haꝛd sentences of olde.

3 Which

3 Whiche we haue heard and knowen: and such as our fathers haue tolde vs.
4 That we should not hyde them from the children of the generation to come: but to shew the honour of the Lorde, his mightie and wonderfull workes that he hath done.
5 He made a couenaunt with Jacob, and gaue Israel a lawe: which he commaunded our forefathers to teache their children:
6 That their posteritie might knowe it: and the children which were yet vnborne.
B 7 To the intent that when they came vp: they might shewe their children the same.
8 That they might put their trust in God: and not forget the workes of God, but to keepe his commaundementes.
9 And not to be as their forefathers, a faythlesse and stubborne generation: a generation that set not their hart aright, and whose spirite cleaueth not stedfastly vnto God.
10 Lyke as the chyldren of Ephraim: which being harnessed and carying bowes, turned themselues back in the daye of battayle.
11 They kept not the couenaunt of God: and would not walke in his lawe.
12 But forgate what he had done: and the wonderfull worke that he had shewed for them.
13 Maruelous thinges did hee in the sight of our forefathers in the lande of Egypt: euen in the fielde of Zoan.
C 14 He deuided the sea, and let them goe through: he made the waters to stande on an heape.
15 In the day time also he led the with a cloud: and al the night through with a light of fyre.
16 He claue the harde rockes in the wyldernesse: and gaue them drynke thereof, as it had bin out of the great deapth.
17 He brought waters out of the stony rocke: so that it gushed out like the riuers.
18 Yet for al this they sinned more against him: and prouoked the most highest in the wildernesse.
19 They tempted God in their hartes: and required meat for their lust.
20 They spake against God also, saying: shall God prepare a table in the wyldernesse?
D 21 He smote the stony rocke in deede, that the waters gushed out and the streames flowed withall: but can he giue breade also, or prouide flesh for his people?
22 When the Lord hearde this, he was wroth: so the fyre was kindled in Jacob, and there came vp heauy displeasure against Israel.
23 Bycause they beleeued not in God: and put not their trust in his helpe.
24 So he commaunded the cloudes aboue: and opened the doores of heauen.
25 He rayned down Manna also vpon them for to eate: and gaue them foode from heauen.
26 So man dyd eate angels foode: for he sent them meate ynough.
27 He caused the East winde to blowe vnder the heauen: and through his power he brought in the Southwest wynde.
28 He rayned flesshe vpon them as thicke as dust: and feathered foules like as the sand of the sea.
29 He let it fall among their tentes: euen round about their habitation.
30 So they did eate and were fylled: for he gaue E them their owne desyre, they were not disapointed of their lust.
31 But whyle the meate was yet in their mouthes, the heauie wrath of God came vpon them, and slew the wealthiest of them: yea and smote downe the chosen men that were in Israel.
32 But for al this, they sinned yet more and beleeued not his wonderous workes.
33 Therefore their dayes did he consume in vanitie: and their yeeres in trouble.
34 When hee slewe them, they sought hym: and turned them early, and enquired after God.
35 And they remembred that GOD was their strength: and that the high God was their redeemer.
36 Neuertheless, they dyd but flatter him with their mouth: and dissembled with him in their tongue.
37 For their hart was not whole with him: neyther continued they stedfast in his couenant.
38 But he was so mercyful: that he forgaue their misdeedes, and destroyed them not.
39 Yea, many a time turned he his wrath away: and would not suffer his whole displeasure to aryse.
40 For he considered that they were but flesshe: and that they were euen a wynde that passeth away, and commeth not agayne.
41 Many a time did they prouoke him in the F wyldernesse: and greeued hym in the desert.
42 They turned backe and tempted God: and moued the holy one in Israel.
43 They thought not of his hande: & of the day when he deliuered the frō the hād of the enimie.
44 How he had wrought his miracles in Egipt: and his wonders in the fielde of Zoan.
45 He turned their waters into bloud: so that they might not drinke of the riuers.
46 He sent lyce among them, and deuoured the vp: and frogges to destroy them.
47 He gaue their fruites vnto the Caterpiller: and their labour vnto the Grassehopper.
48 He destroyed their vines with haylestones: and their Mulbery trees with the frost.
49 He smote their cattell also with haylestones: and their flockes with hot thunder bolles.
50 He cast vpon them the furiousnesse of his wrath, anger, diſpleaſure, and trouble: & ſent euyll angels among them.

51 He made a way to his indignation, and ſpared not their ſoule from death: but gaue their life ouer to the peſtilence.

52 And ſmote all the fyrſt borne in Egypt: the moſt principall and mightieſt in the dwellings of Ham.

53 But as for his owne people, he led them forth like ſheepe: and caried them in the wyldernesſe lyke a flocke.

54 He brought the out ſafely, that they ſhold not feare: and ouerwhelmed their enimies with the ſea.

55 And brought them within the borders of his ſanctuarie: euen to his mountayne whiche hee purchaſed with his right hande.

56 He caſt out the heathen alſo before them: cauſed their lande to bee diuided among them for an heritage, and made the tribes of Iſrael to dwell in their tentes.

57 So they tempted and diſpleaſed the moſt high God: and kepte not his teſtimonies.

58 But turned their backes, and fell away like their forefathers: ſtarting aſyde lyke a broken bowe.

59 For they greued him with their hyl aultres: and prouoked him to diſpleaſure with their images.

60 When God heard this, he was wroth: and toke ſoare diſpleaſure at Iſrael.

61 So that he forſoke the tabernacle in Silo: euen the tent that he had pitched among them.

62 He deliuered their power into captiuitie: and their beautie into the enimies hande.

63 He gaue his people ouer alſo vnto the ſwoord: and was wroth with his inheritaunce.

64 The fyre conſumed their young men: and their maydens were not giuen to mariage.

65 Their prieſtes were ſlayne with the ſwoord: and there were no widowes to make lamentation.

66 So the Lorde awaked as one out of ſleepe: and like a Giaunt refreſhed with wine.

67 He ſmote his enimies in the hinder parters: and put them to a perpetuall ſhame.

68 He refuſed the tabernacle of Joſeph: and choſe not the tribe of Ephraim.

69 But choſe the tribe of Juda: euen the hil of Sion which he loued.

70 And there he builded his temple on high: and layd the fundation of it, like the ground whiche he hath made continually.

71 He choſe Dauid alſo his ſeruaunt: and toke him away from the ſheepe foldes.

72 As he was folowyng the Ewes great with young ones, he toke hym: that he might feede Jacob his people, and Iſrael his inheritaunce.

73 So he fedde them with a faithfull and true hart: and ruled them prudently with all his power.

1 O God, the heathen are come into thyne inheritaunce: thy holy temple haue they defyled, and made Jeruſalem an heape of ſtones. I Morning prayer.

2 The dead bodyes of thy ſeruauntes haue they giuen to bee meate vnto the foules of the ayre: and the fleſhe of thy ſaintes vnto the beaſtes of the lande.

3 Their blood haue they ſhed lyke water on euery ſyde of Jeruſalem: and there was no man to burie them.

4 We are become an open ſhame to our enimies: a very ſcorne and deriſion vnto them that are rounde about vs.

5 Lord how long wilt thou be angry: ſhall thy gelouſie burne lyke fyre for euer?

6 Powre out thine indignation vpon the heathē that haue not known thee: and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy name.

7 For they haue deuoured Jacob: and layd waſt his dwelling place. B

8 O remember not our olde ſinnes, but haue mercy vpon vs, and that ſoone: for we are come to great miſerie.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our ſaluation, for the glory of thy name: O deliuer vs, and be mercyfull vnto our ſinnes for thy names ſake.

2 For loe, thyne enimies make a murmuryng: and they that hate thee, haue lyfte vp theyr head.
3 They haue imagined craftily againſt thy people: and taken counſaile agaynſt thy ſecret ones.
4 They haue ſayde, Come, and let vs rote them out, that they be no more a people: and that the name of Iſrael may bee no more in remembraunce.
5 For they haue call their heades together with one conſent: and are confederated agaynſte thee.
6 The tabernacles of the Edomites and the Iſmaelites: the Moabites, and Hagarenes.
B 7 Gebal and Ammon, and Amelech: the Philiſtines, with them that dwell at Tyre.
8 Aſſur alſo is ioyned vnto them: and haue holpen the chyldren of Lot.
9 But do thou vnto them as vnto the Madianites: vnto Siſera, & vnto Jabin, at the broke of Kiſon.
10 Which periſhed at Endor: and became as the dung of the earth.
11 Make them and their princes like Oreb and Zeb: yea, make all their princes like as Zeba and Salmana.
12 Whiche ſay, let vs take to our ſelues: the houſes of God in poſſeſſion.
13 O my God, make them lyke vnto a wheele: and as the ſtubble before the winde.
C 14 Lyke as the fyre that burneth vp the wood: and as the flame that conſumeth the mountaynes.
15 Perſecute them euen ſo with thy tempeſt and make them afrayd with the ſtorme.
16 Make their faces aſhamed, O Lorde: that they may ſeeke thy name.
17 Let them be confounded and vexed euer more and more: let them bee put to ſhame, and periſhe.
18 And they ſhal knowe, that thou (whoſe name is Iehouah:) art only the moſt hygheſt ouer all the earth.

A 1 HOw amiable are thy dwellinges: thou Lordes of hoſtes?
2 My ſoule hath a deſyre and longing to enter into the courtes of the Lorde: my hart and my fleſh reioyce in the liuing God.
3 Yea the ſparowe hath founde hir an houſe, and the ſwalowe a neſt, where ſhe may lay hir young: euen thine aulters, O Lord of hoſtes, my king, and my God.
4 Bleſſed are they that dwell in thy houſe: they will be alway praiſing thee.
5 Bleſſed is the man whoſe ſtrength is in thee: in whoſe hart are thy wayes.
6 Whiche going through the vale of miſerye, vſe it for a well: and the poles are fylled with water.
7 They wyll go from ſtrength to ſtrength: and B vnto the God of gods appeareth euery one of them in Sion.
8 O Lord God of hoſtes, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Jacob.
9 Beholde, O God, our defender: and loke vpon the face of thine annoynted.
10 For one day in thy courtes: is better than a thouſande.
11 I had rather be a dore keeper in the houſe of my G O D: than to dwell in the tentes of vngodlyneſſe.
12 For the Lorde God is a light and defence: the Lorde will giue grace and worſhyp, and no good thing ſhal he withholde from them that liue a godly life.
13 O Lord God of hoſtes: bleſſed is the man that putteth his truſt in thee.

A 1 LOrde thou art become gratious vnto thy land: thou haſt turned away the captiuitie of Jacob.
2 Thou haſt forgiuen the offence of thy people: and couered al their ſinnes.
3 Thou haſt taken away al thy diſpleaſure: and turned thy ſelfe from thy wrathfull indignation.
4 Turne vs then, O God our ſauiour: and let thine anger ceaſſe from vs.
5 Wylt thou bee diſpleaſed at vs for euer: and wilt thou ſtretch out thy wrath from one generation to another?
6 Wylt thou not turne agayne and quicken vs: that thy people may reioyce in thee?

Morning prayer.

A 1 BOwe downe thyne eare, O Lorde, and heare me: for I am poore and in miſerie.
2 Preſerue thou my ſoule, for I am holy: my God ſaue thy ſeruaunt that putteth his truſt in thee.
3 Be mercyfull vnto me, O Lorde: for I will call dayly vpon thee.
4 Comfort the ſoule of thy ſeruaunt: for vnto thee (O Lorde) do I lyft vp my ſoule.
5 For thou Lorde art good and gratious: and of great mercy vnto all them that cal vpon thee.
6 Giue eare Lorde vnto my prayer: and ponder the voyce of mine humble deſyres.
B 7 In the tyme of my trouble I wil cal vpon thee: for thou heareſt me.
8 Among the goddes there is none like vnto thee (O Lorde:) there is not one that can do as thou doeſt.
9 All nations whom thou haſt made, ſhall come and worſhip thee, O Lord: and ſhall glorifie thy name.
10 For thou art great, and doeſt wonderous thinges: thou art God alone.
11 Teache me thy way (O Lorde) and I will walke in thy truth: O knit my hart vnto thee, that I may feare thy name.
12 I will thanke thee, O Lorde my God, with al my harte: and will prayſe thy name for euermore.
13 For great is thy mercy towarde me: and thou haſt deliuered my ſoule from the nethermoſt hell.
C 14 O God, the proude are riſen againſt me, and the congregations of noughtie men haue ſought after my ſoule, and haue not ſet thee before their eyes.
15 But thou (O Lorde God) art ful of compaſſion and mercy: long ſuffering, plenteous in goodnes and truth.
16 O turne thee then vnto me, and haue mercy vpon me: giue thy ſtrength vnto thy ſeruant, and helpe the ſonne of thine handmayde.
17 Shewe ſome good token vpon me for good, that they whiche hate me may ſee it, and be aſhamed: becauſe thou Lord haſt holpen me, and comforted me.

Fundamenta eius. Pſal.lxxxvij.

A 1 HER foundations are vpon the holy hylles: the Lorde loueth the gates of Sion, more than al the dwellings of Jacob.
2 Very excellent things are ſpoken of thee: thou citie of God.
3 I will thinke vpon Rahab and Babylon: with them that knowe me.
4 Beholde ye the Philiſtines alſo: and they of Tyre, with the Morians, loe, there was he borne.
5 And of Sion it ſhalbee reported that he was borne in hir: and the moſte high ſhal ſtabliſhe hir.
6 The Lord ſhal rehearſe it when he writeth vp the people: that he was borne there.
7 The ſingers alſo and trumpetters ſhal be rehearſe: al my freſhe ſprings ſhal be in thee.

Domine deus. Pſal.lxxxviij.

A 1 O Lord God of my ſaluation, I haue cryed day and nyght before thee: O let my prayer enter into thy preſence, encline thine eare vnto my calling.
2 For my ſoule is full of trouble: and my lyfe draweth nigh vnto hell.
3 I am counted as one of them that goe downe vnto the pit: and I haue bin euen as a man that hath no ſtrength.
4 Free among the dead, lyke vnto them that be wounded and lye in the graue: whiche be out of remembraunce, and are cut away from thy hande.
5 Thou haſt layde mee in the loweſt pit: in a place of darkneſſe, and in the deepe.
6 Thyne indignation lyeth harde vpon me: and thou haſt vexed me with all thy ſtormes.
7 Thou haſt put away mine acquayntaunce B farre from me: and made me to be abhorred of them.
8 I am ſo faſte in priſon: that I can not get forth.
9 My ſight fayleth for very trouble: Lorde I haue called dayly vpō thee: I haue ſtretched out my handes vnto thee.
10 Doeſt thou ſhewe wonders among the dead: or ſhall the dead ryſe vp agayne and prayſe thee?
11 Shall thy louyng kyndneſſe bee ſhewed in the graue: or thy faythfulneſſe in deſtruction?
12 Shall thy wonderous workes be knowen in the darke: and thy righteouſneſſe in the lande where al things are forgotten?
13 Unto thee haue I cryed, O Lorde: and early ſhal my prayer come before thee.
14 Lord, why abhorreſt thou my ſoule: and hi- C deſt thou thy face from me?
15 I am in miſerie, and like vnto him that is at the pointe to dye: (euen from my youth vp) thy terrours haue I ſuffered with a troubled mynde.
16 Thy wrathfull diſpleaſure goeth ouer mee: and the feare of thee hath vndone me.
17 They came rounde about me dayly lyke water: and compaſſed me together on euery ſyde.

18 My louers and friendes hast thou put away from me: and hydde myne acquaintaunce out of my syght.

Misericordias domini. Psal.lxxxix.

Euenyng prayer.

I 1 Y song shalbe alway of the louing kindnesse of the Lord: with my mouth wyll I euer be shewyng thy truthe, from one generation to another.

2 For I haue sayde, mercy shalbe set vp for euer: thy truth shalt thou stablish in the heauens.

3 I haue made a couenaunt with my chosen: I haue swoorne vnto Dauid my seruaunt.

4 Thy seede will I stablishe for euer: and set vp thy throne from one generation to another.

5 O Lorde, the very heauens shall prayse thy wonderous workes: and thy truth in the congregation of the saintes.

6 For who is he among the cloudes: that shalbe compared vnto the Lorde?

B 7 And what is he among the goddes: that shal be like vnto the Lorde?

8 God is very greatly to be feared in the counsayle of the saintes: and to be had in reuerence of all them that are about him.

9 O Lorde God of hostes, who is lyke vnto thee: thy truth (most mightie Lorde) is on euery syde.

10 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: thou stillest the waues thereof when they aryse.

11 Thou hast subdued Egypt, and destroyed it: thou hast scattered thyne enimies abroode with thy mightie arme.

12 The heauens are thyne, the earth also is thine: thou hast layde the foundation of the rounde worlde, and all that therein is.

13 Thou hast made the North and the South: Tabor and Hermon shal reioyce in thy name.

C 14 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thy hand and hygh is thy right hande.

15 Righteousnesse and equitie is the habitation of thy seat: mercy and truth shal go before thy face.

16 Blessed is the people (O Lorde) that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the lyght of thy countenaunce.

17 Their delight shalbe dayly in thy name: & in thy righteousnesse shal they make their boast.

18 For thou art the glory of their strength: and in thy louyng kindnesse thou shalt lyft vp our hornes.

19 For the Lorde is our defence: the holy one of Israel is our king.

20 Thou spakest sometyme in visions vnto thy saintes, and saidest: I haue layd helpe vpon one that is mightie, I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

21 I haue found Dauid my seruaunt: with my D holy oyle haue I annoynted him.

22 My hande shal holde hym fast: and my arme shal strengthen him.

23 The enimie shal not be able to do him violence: the sonn: of wyckednesse shall not hurte him.

24 I shall smite downe his foes before his face: and plague them that hate him.

25 My trueth also and my mercie shalbee with him: and in my name shall his horne be exalted.

26 I will set his dominion also in the sea: and his right hande in the fluddes.

27 He shal cal me, thou art my father: my God, and my strong saluation.

28 And I will make him my eyrst borne: higher E than the kinges of the earth.

29 My mercy wil I keepe for him for euermore: and my couenaunt shal stande fast with him.

30 His seede also wil I make to endure for euer: and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

31 But if his children forsake my lawe: and walke not in my iudgementes.

32 If they breake my statutes, and kepe not my commaundementes: I wil visite their offences with the rod, and their sinne with scourges.

33 Neuertheless, my louing kindnes wil I not vtterly take from him: nor suffer my truthe to fayle.

34 My couenaunt wil I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes: I haue swoorne once by my holynesse, that I will not fayle Dauid.

35 His seede shall endure for euer: and his seate F is like as the sunne before me.

36 He shal stand fast for euermore as the moone: and as the faithful witnesse in heauen.

37 But thou hast abhorred and forsaken thine annoynted: and art displeased at him.

38 Thou hast broken the couenaunt of thy seruaunt: and cast his crowne to the ground.

39 Thou hast ouerthrowen all his hedges: and broken downe his strong holdes.

40 All they that goe by, spoyle him: and he is become a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

41 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enimies: and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

42 Thou haste taken away the edge of his G sword: and giuest him not victorie in the battayle.

43 Thou hast put out his glory: and cast his throne downe to the ground.

44 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortned: and couered him with dishonour.

45 Lorde, how long wylt thou hyde thy selfe for euer: and shall thy wrathe burne lyke fyre?

46 O, remember how short my time is: wherefore fore haſt thou made al men for nought?

47 What man is he that liueth, and ſhal not ſee death: and ſhall he deliuer his owne ſoule from the hande of hell?

48 Lord where are thine olde louing kindneſſes: whiche thou ſwarſt vnto Dauid in thy trueth?

49 Remember Lorde the rebuke that thy ſeruauntes haue: how I do beare in my boſome the rebukes of many people.

50 Wherwith thine enimies haue blaſphemed thee, and ſlaundered the footeſteppes of thyne annoynted: praiſed bee the Lord for euermore, Amen, Amen.

1 Morning prayer.

LOrde thou haſt ben our refuge: from one generation to another.

2 Before the mountaines were brought forth, or euer the earth and the worlde were made: thou art God from euerlaſting, and worlde without ende.

3 Thou turneſt man too deſtruction: agayne thou ſayeſt, come agayne yee chyldren of men.

4 For a thouſande yeeres in thy ſyght, are but as yeſterday: ſeeyng that is paſte as a watche in the nyght.

5 Aſſone as thou ſcattereſt them, they are euen as a ſleepe: and fade away ſodaynely lyke the graſſe.

6 In the morning it is greene and groweth vp: but in the euenyng it is cut downe, dryed vp, and wythered.

B 7 For we conſume away in thy diſpleaſure: and and are afrayde at thy wrathfull indignation.

8 Thou haſt ſet our miſdeedes before thee: and our ſecrete ſinnes in the ſyght of thy countenaunce.

9 For when thou art angry, all our dayes are gone: we bring our yeeres to an end, as it were a tale that is told.

10 The daies of our age are threeſcore yeeres and tenne, and though men be ſo ſtrong that they come to foureſcore yeeres: yet is their ſtrength then but labour and ſorow, ſo ſone paſſeth it away, and we are gone.

11 But who regardeth the power of thy wrath: for euen there-after as a man feareth, ſo is thy diſpleaſure.

12 O teache vs to number our dayes: that wee may apply our hartes vnto wiſdome.

13 Turne thee againe (O Lorde) at the laſt: and be gratious vnto thy ſeruauntes.

C 14 O ſatiſfie vs with thy mercie, and that ſone: ſo ſhal we reioyce and be glad all the dayes of our lyfe.

15 Comfort vs agayne nowe after the time that thou haſt plagued vs: and for the yeeres wherein we haue ſuffered aduerſitie.

16 Shewe thy ſeruauntes thy worke: and their children thy glory.

17 And the glorious maieſtie of the Lorde our God be vpon vs: proſper thou the worke of our handes vpon vs, O proſper thou our handy worke.

4 He ſhal defende thee vnder his winges, and thou ſhalt be ſafe vnder his feathers: his faythfulneſſe and trueth ſhalbee thy ſhielde and buckler.

5 Thou ſhalt not bee afrayde for any terrour by nyght: nor for the arrow that fleeth by day.

6 For the peſtilence that walketh in the darkneſſe: nor for the ſyckneſſe that deſtroyeth in the none day.

7 A thouſande ſhall fall beſyde thee, and tenne thouſande at thy ryght hande: but it ſhal not come nygh thee.

8 Yea, with thine eyes ſhalt thou beholde: and ſee the rewarde of the vngodly.

9 For thou Lorde art my hope: thou haſt ſet thyne houſe of defence very hygh.

10 There ſhall no euyll happen vnto thee: neyther ſhall any plague come nygh thy dwelling.

11 For he ſhall giue his angels charge ouer thee: to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They ſhall beare thee in their handes: that thou hurt not thy foote againſt a ſtone.

13 Thou ſhalt goe vpon the Lion and Adder: the young Lion and the Dragon ſhalt thou treade vnder thy feete.

14 Becauſe he hath ſet his loue vpon me, therefore ſhall I deliuer him: I ſhall ſet him vp, becauſe he hath knowen my name. C

15 He ſhall call vpon me, and I wil heare him: yea, I am with him in trouble, I wil deliuer him, and bring him to honour.

16 With long lyfe will I ſatiſfie him: and ſhew him my ſaluation.

2 To tell of thy louing kindneſſe early in the morning: and of thy trueth in the night ſeaſon,

3 Upon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the Lute: vpon a loude instrumẽt, and vpon the Harpe.
4 For thou Lorde hast made me glad thorowe thy worckes: and I wil reioyce in giuing praise for the operations of thy handes.
5 O Lorde, how glorious are thy worckes: and thy thoughtes are very deepe.
6 An vnwise man doth not wel consyder this: and a fole doth not vnderstande it.
B 7 When the vngodly are greene as the grasse, and when all the workes of wickednesse doe florishe: then shall they bee destroyed for euer, but thou Lorde art the moste highest for euermore.
8 For loe thine enimies (O Lorde) loe thine enimies shal perishe: and all the workers of wickednesse shalbe destroyed.
9 But my horne shalbe exalted lyke the horne of an Unicorne: for I am annoynted with fresh oyle.
10 Myne eye also shall see his lust of myne enimies: and mine eare shal heare his desyre of the wicked that rise vp against me.
11 The righteous shal florish lyke a Palme tree: & shall spread abrode like a Cedar in Libanus.
12 Such as be planted in the house of the Lord: shall florishe in the courtes (of the house) of our God.

3 They shall giue thankes vnto thy name: which is great, wonderfull, and holy.

4 The kings po:wer loueth iudgement, thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement and righteousnesse in Jacob.

5 O magnifie the Lo:de our God: and fall do:wne before his fo:testoole, for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron among his priestes, and Samuell among such as call vpon his name: these called vpon the Lo:de, and he heard them.

B 7 He spake vnto them out of the cloudie piller: for they kept his testimonies, and the lawe that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them (O Lo:de our God:) thou forgauest them, O God, and punishedst ther o:wne inuentions.

9 O magnifie the Lo:de our God, and wo:rship him vpon his holy hill: for the Lo:de our God is holy.

Iubilate deo. Psal.C.

A 1 GBe ioyfull in the Lo:rd all ye landes: serue the Lo:de with gladnesse, and come before his presence with a song.

2 Be ye sure that the Lo:de he is God, it is he that hath made vs, and not we our selues: we are his people, and the sheepe of his pasture.

3 O go your way into his gates with thankesgiuing, and into his Courtes with prayse: bee thankefull vnto him, and speake good of hys name.

4 For the Lo:de is gracious, his mercie is euerlasting: and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

Misericordiam & iudicium. Psal.Ci.

A 1 MY song shal be of mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lo:de, will I sing.

2 O let me haue vnderstanding: in the waye of godlinesse.

3 When thou wilt come vnto me: I will walk in my house with a perfect heart.

4 I will take no wicked thing in hand, I hate the sinnes of vnfaithfulnesse: there shall no such cleaue vnto me.

5 A frowarde heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.

6 Who so priuily slaundereth his neighbo:r: him will I destroy.

7 Who so hath also a proude loke and high so- B macke: I will not suffer him.

8 Mine eyes loke vnto such as bee faythfull in the lande: that they may dwell with me.

9 Who so leadeth a godly life: he shall be my seruant.

10 There shall no deceitfull person dwell in my house: he that telleth lyes shall not tarie in my sight.

11 I shall soone destroy all the vngodly that are in the lande: that I may rote out all wicked doers from the Citie of the Lo:de.

Domine exaudi. Psal.Cij.

1
EAre my prayer, O Lo:rd: and let my crying come vnto thee. I Morning prayer.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: encline thine eares vnto me when I call, O heare me, and that right soone.

3 For my dayes are consumed away like smoke: and my bones are brent vp as it were a firebrand.

4 My heart is smitten do:wne, and withered like grasse: so that I forget to eate my breade.

5 For the voyce of my groning: my bones wil scarce cleaue to my flesh.

6 I am become like a Pellican in the wildernesse: and like an O:wle that is in the desert.

7 I haue watched, and am euen as it were a B
Sparro:we: that sitteth alone vpon the house toppe.

8 Mine enimies reuile me all the day long: and they that are madde vpon mee, are sworne togither agaynst me.

9 For I haue eaten asshes as it were breade: and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 And that bycause of thine indignation and wrath: for thou hast taken me vp, and cast me do:wne.

11 My dayes are gone lyke a shado:we: I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou (O Lo:rde) shalt endure for:euer: and thy remembrance throughout all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise, and haue mercie vpon Sion: for it is time that thou haue mercie vpon hir, yea the time is come.

14 And why? thy seruauntes thinke vpon hir stones: and it pitieth them to see hir in the dust. C

15 The heathen shall feare thy name, O Lo:de: and all the kings of the earth thy maiestie.

16 When the Lo:de shall builde vp Sion: and when his glorie shall appeare.

17 When he turneth him vnto the prayer of the poore destitute: and despiseth not their desire.

18 This shall be written for those that come after:

ter: and the people which ſhall bee borne, ſhall prayſe the Lorde.

19 For he hath looked downe from his ſanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lorde beholde the earth.

20 That he might heare the mournings of ſuche as be in captiuitie: and deliuer the children appoynted vnto death.

D 21 That they may declare the name of the Lord in Sion: and his worſhip at Ieruſalem.

22 When the people are gathered togyther: and the kingdomes alſo to ſerue the Lorde.

23 He brought downe my ſtrength in my iourney: and ſhortened my dayes.

24 But I ſayd, O my God, take me not away in the middes of mine age: as for thy yeares, they endure throughout all generations.

25 Thou Lorde in the beginning haſt layd the foundation of the earth: and the heauens are the worke of thy handes.

26 They ſhal periſh, but thou ſhalt endure: they all ſhall ware olde as doth a garment.

27 And as a veſture ſhalt thou chaunge them, and they ſhall bee chaunged: but thou art the ſame, and thy yeares ſhall not fayle.

28 The children of thy ſeruants ſhall continue: and their ſeede ſhall ſtande faſt in thy ſight.

Benedic anima mea. Pſal. Ciij.

A 1 PRayſe the Lord, O my ſoule: and all that is within me prayſe his holy name.

2 Prayſe the Lorde, O my ſoule: and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgiueth all thy ſinne: and healeth al thine infirmities.

4 Which ſaueth thy life from deſtruction: and crowneth thee with mercy & louing kindneſſe.

5 Which ſatisfieth thy mouth with good things: making thee yong and luſtie as an Eagle.

6 The Lord executeth righteouſneſſe & iudgement: for all them that are oppreſſed with wrong.

B 7 He ſhewed his wayes vnto Moſes: his works vnto the children of Iſraell.

8 The Lorde is full of compaſſion and mercy: long ſuffering, and of great goodneſſe.

9 He will not alway be chyding: neither keepeth he his anger for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our ſinnes: nor rewarded vs according to our wickedneſſe.

11 For loke how high the heauen is in compariſon of the earth: ſo great is his mercie alſo towarde them that feare him.

12 Loke howe wide alſo the eaſt is from the weſt: ſo farre hath he ſet our ſinnes from vs.

13 Yea, lyke as a father pitieth his owne children: euen ſo is the Lorde mercifull vnto them that feare him.

C 14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: hee remembreth that we are but duſt.

15 The dayes of man are but as graſſe: for he flouriſheth as a floure of the fielde.

16 For as ſoone as the winde goeth ouer it, it is gone: & the place thereof ſhall know it no more.

17 But the mercifull goodneſſe of the Lorde endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him: and his righteouſneſſe vpon childers children.

18 Euen vpon ſuch as keepe his couenant: and thinke vpon his commaundements to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his ſeate in heauen: and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 O prayſe the Lorde, ye Angels of his, yee that excell in ſtrength: ye that fulfill his commaundement, and hearken vnto the voyce of his wordes.

21 O prayſe the Lorde, O ye his hoſtes: ye ſeruants of his that do his pleaſure.

22 O ſpeake good of the Lorde all ye workes of his, in all places of his dominion: prayſe thou the Lorde, O my ſoule.

Benedic anima mea. Pſal. Ciij.

1 PRayſe the Lord, O my ſoule: A O Lorde my God, thou art Euening become exceeding glorious, prayer. thou art clothed with maieſtie and honour.

2 Thou deckeſt thy ſelf with light, as it were with a garment: and ſpreadeſt out the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chamber in the waters: and maketh the clouds his Chariot, and walketh vppon the winges of the winde.

4 He maketh his Angels ſpirites: and his miniſters a flaming fire.

5 He layde the foundations of the earth: that it ſhould neuer moue at any tyme.

6 Thou couereſt it with the deepe, like as with a garment: the waters ſtande in the hilles.

7 At thy rebuke they flee: at the voyce of thy B thunder they are afrayde.

8 They go vp as high as the hilles, and downe to the valleyes beneath: euen vnto the place which thou haſt appoynted for them.

9 Thou haſt ſet them their boundes which they ſhall not paſſe: neyther turne againe to couer the earth.

10 He ſendeth the ſpringes into the ryuers: which runne among the hilles.

11 All beaſtes of the field drinke thereof: and the wilde Aſſes quench their thirſt.

12 Beſide them ſhall the foules of the ayre haue their habitation: and ſing among the branches.

13 He waterth the hilles from aboue: the earth is filled with the fruite of thy workes.

14 He bringeth forth graſſe for the cattell: and C greene hearbe for the ſeruice of men.

15 That

15 That he may bring food out of the earth, and wine that maketh glad the heart of man: and oyle to make him a cheerefull countenance, and bread to strength mans heart.

16 The trees of the Lorde also are full of sappe: euen the Cedars of Libanus, whiche hee hath planted.

17 Wherein the byrds make theyr nests: and the Fyrre trees are a dwelling for the Storke.

18 The highe hilles are a refuge for the wilde Goates: and so are the stonie Rockes for the Conies.

19 He appointeth the Mone for certaine seasons: and the Sunne knoweth hys going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse that it may be night: wherein all the beastes of the Forrest doe moue.

D 21 The Lions roaring after their pray: do seeke their meate at God.

22 The Sunne ariseth, and they get them away togither: and lay them downe in their dennes.

23 Man goeth forth vnto his worke, and to his labour: vntill the Euening.

24 O Lorde, howe manyfolde are thy workes: in wisedome hast thou made them all, the earth is full of thy ryches.

25 So is the great and wyde sea also: wherein are things creeping innumerable, both smal and great beastes.

26 There go the shippes, and there is that Leuiathan: whome thou hast made to take hys pastime therein.

27 These wayte all vpon thee: that thou mayst giue them meate in due season.

E 28 When thou giuest it them, they gather it: and when thou openest thine hande, they are filled with good.

29 When thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: when thou takest away their breath, they dye, and are turned againe to their dust.

30 When thou lettest thy breath goe forth, they shall be made: and thou shalt renue the face of the earth.

31 The glorious maiestie of the Lorde shall endure for euer: the Lorde shall reioyce in his workes.

32 The earth shall tremble at the looke of him: if he doe but touche the hilles they shall smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lorde as long as I liue: I will prayse my God while I haue my being.

34 And so shall my wordes please him: my ioy shall be in the Lorde.

35 As for sinners, they shall bee consumed out of the earth, and the vngodly shall come to an ende: prayse thou the Lord, O my soule, prayse the Lorde.

Confitemini domino. Psal. cv.

1 O Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, I and call vpon his name: tell the people what things he hath done. Morning prayer.

2 O let your songes be of him, and prayse him: and let your talking bee of all his wonderous workes.

3 Reioyce in his holy name: let the heart of them reioyce that seeke the Lorde.

4 Seeke the Lorde and his strength: seeke his face euermore.

5 Remember the marueylous workes that he hath done: his wonders, and the iudgementes of his mouth.

6 O ye seede of Abraham his seruant: ye children of Jacob his chosen.

7 He is the Lorde our God: his iudgementes B are in all the worlde.

8 He hath bene alway mindfull of his couenant and promise: that he made to a thousande generations.

9 Euen the couenant that he made with Abraham: and the oth that he sware vnto Isahac.

10 And appointed the same vnto Jacob for a law: and to Israel for an euerlasting testament.

11 Saying, vnto thee will I giue the lande of Canaan: the lot of your inheritance.

12 When there was yet but a fewe of them: and they straungers in the lande.

13 What time as they went from one Nation to another: from one kingdome to an other people.

14 He suffered no man to doe them wrong: but C reproued euen kings for their sakes.

15 Touche not mine annointed: and doe my Prophets no harme.

16 Moreouer, hee called for a dearth vpon the lande: and destroyed all the prouision of bread.

17 But he had sent a man before them: euen Joseph, which was solde to be a bond seruant.

18 Whose feete they hurt in the stockes: the iron entered into his soule.

19 Untill the tyme came that his cause was knowne: the worde of the Lorde tryed him.

20 The king sent and deliuered him: the prince of the people let him go free. Euening prayer.

21 He made him Lorde also of his house: and D ruler of all his substance.

22 That he might enfourme his princes after his will: and teach his Senatours wisedome.

23 Israell also came into Egypt: and Jacob was a straunger in the lande of Ham.

24 And he increased his people exceedingly: and made them stronger than their enimies.

25 Whose heart turned so, that they hated his people: and dealt vntruely with his seruants.

26 Then

26 Then ſent he Moſes his ſeruant: and Aaron whom he had choſen.
27 And theſe ſhewed his tokens among them: and wonders in the lande of Ham.
℣ 28 He ſent darkneſſe, and it was darke: and they were not obedient vnto his woꝛde.
29 He turned their waters into bloud: and ſlue their fiſhe.
30 Their lande bꝛought foꝛth Frogges: yea euen in their kings Chambers.
31 He ſpake the woꝛde and there came all maner of flies: and lice in all their quarters.
32 Hee gaue them haileſtones foꝛ raine: and flames of fire in their lande.
33 He ſmote their vines alſo, and figge trees: and deſtroyed the trees that were in their coaſtes.
34 Hee ſpake the woꝛde and the Graſhoppers came, and Caterpillers innumerable: and did eate vp all the graſſe in the lande, and deuoured the fruite of their grounde.
℣ 35 He ſmote all the firſt boꝛne in their lande: euen the chiefe of all their ſtrength.
36 He bꝛought them foꝛth alſo with ſiluer and golde: there was not one feeble perſon among their trybes.
37 Egypt was glad at theyꝛ departing: foꝛ they were afrayde of them.
38 He ſpread out a cloude to be a couering: and fire to giue light in the night ſeaſon.
39 At their deſire he bꝛought Quayles: and he filled them with the bꝛead of heauen.
40 He opened the rocke of ſtone, and the waters flowed out: ſo that ryuers ranne in the dꝛie places.
41 Foꝛ why? he remembꝛed his holy pꝛomiſe: and Abꝛaham his ſeruant.
42 And he bꝛought foꝛth his people with ioy: and his choſen with gladneſſe.
43 And gaue them the landes of the heathen: and they toke the labours of the people in poſſeſſion.
44 That they might keepe his ſtatutes: and obſerue his lawes.

Euening prayer.

℣ 1 GIue thankes vnto the Loꝛde, foꝛ hee is gracious: and his mercie endureth foꝛ euer.
2 Who can expꝛeſſe the noble actes of the Loꝛde: oꝛ ſhewe foꝛth all his pꝛayſe?
3 Bleſſed are they that alway keepe iudgement: and do righteouſneſſe.
4 Remember me, O Loꝛde, accoꝛding to the fauour that thou beareſt vnto thy people: O viſite me with thy ſaluation.
5 That I may ſee the felicitie of thy choſen: and reioyce in the gladneſſe of thy people, and giue thankes with thine inheritance.
6 We haue ſinned with our fathers: we haue done amiſſe, and dealt wickedly.
7 Our fathers regarded not thy wonders in ℣ Egypt, neyther kept they thy great goodneſſe in remembꝛance: but were diſobedient at the ſea, euen at the red ſea.
8 Neuertheleſſe, he helped them foꝛ his names ſake: that he might make his power to bee knowen.
9 He rebuked the red ſea alſo, and it was dꝛied vp: ſo he led them thꝛough the deepe, as thꝛough a wildeꝛneſſe.
10 And hee ſaued them from the aduerſaryes hande: and deliuered them from the hand of the enimie.
11 As foꝛ thoſe that troubled them, the waters ouerwhelmed them: there was not one of them left.
12 Then beleeued they his woꝛdes: and ſang pꝛayſe vnto him.
13 But within a while, they foꝛgat his woꝛkes: and would not abide his counſaile.
14 But luſt came vppon them in the wilder- ℭ neſſe: and they tempted God in the deſert.
15 And hee gaue them theyꝛ deſire: and ſent leannеſſe withall into their ſoule.
16 They angred Moſes alſo in the tentes: and Aaron the ſaint of the Loꝛde.
17 So the earth opened and ſwallowed vp Dathan, and couered the Congregation of Abiram.
18 And the fire was kindled in their companie: the flame burnt vp the vngodly.
19 They made a Calfe in Hoꝛeb: and woꝛſhipped the molten Image.
20 Thus they turned their gloꝛie: into the ſimilitude of a Calfe that eateth hay.
21 And they foꝛgate God their ſauiour: which ℣ had done ſo great things in Egypt.
22 Wonderous woꝛkes in the land of Ham: and fearefull things by the red ſea.
23 So he ſayde he would haue deſtroyed them, had not Moſes his choſen ſtande befoꝛe him in the gappe: to turne away his wꝛathfull indignation, leaſt he ſhould deſtroy them.
24 Yea, they thought ſcoꝛne of that pleaſant lande: and gaue no credence vnto his woꝛde.
25 But murmured in their tentes: and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Loꝛde.
26 Then lift he vp his hande againſt them: to ouerthꝛow them in the wildeꝛneſſe.
27 To caſt out their ſeede among the Nations: and to ſcatter them in the landes.
28 They ioyned themſelues vnto Baal Peoꝛ: ℭ and ate the offerings of the deade.
29 Thus they pꝛouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions: and the plague was great among them.
30 Then ſtoode vp Phinees, and pꝛayed: and ſo the the plague ceaſſed.

31 And that was counted vnto him for righteouſneſſe: among all poſteritiyes for euermore.

32 They angred him alſo at the waters of ſtrife: ſo that he puniſhed Moſes for their ſakes.

33 Becauſe they prouoked his ſpirite: ſo that he ſpake vnadviſedly with his lippes.

34 Neyther deſtroyed they the heathen: as the Lorde commaunded them.

F 35 But were mingled among the heathen: and learned theyr workes.

36 Inſomuch that they worſhipped their idols, which turned to their owne decay: yea, they offered their ſonnes and daughters vnto diuels.

37 And ſhedde innocent bloud, euen the bloud of their ſonnes and of their daughters: whome they offered vnto the Idols of Canaan, and the lande was defiled with bloud.

38 Thus were they ſtayned with their owne workes: and went a whoring with their owne inuentions.

39 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled againſt his people: inſomuch that he abhorred his owne inheritance.

40 And he gaue them ouer into the hande of the heathen: and they that hated them were Lords ouer them.

G 41 Their enimies oppreſſed them: and had them in ſubiection.

42 Many a time did he deliuer them: but they rebelled againſt him with their owne inuentions, and were brought downe in their wickedneſſe.

43 Neuertheleſſe, when he ſaw their aduerſitie: he heard their complaint.

44 He thought vpon his couenaunt, and pitied them accoꝛding vnto the multitude of his mercies: yea, he made all thoſe that had ledde them away captiue to pitie them.

45 Deliuer vs (O Lorde our God) and gather vs from among the heathen: that we may giue thankes vnto thy holy name, and make oure boſt of thy prayſe.

46 Bleſſed be the Lorde God of Iſraell, from euerlaſting, and worlde without ende: and let all the people ſay, Amen.

Confitemini domino. Pſal. Cvij.

A 1 O Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.

Morning prayer.

2 Let the giue thanks whom the Lord hath redeemed: and deliuered from the hande of the enimie.

3 And gathered them out of the landes: from the eaſt, and from the weſt, from the north, and from the ſouth.

4 They went aſtray in the wildernes out of the way: and found no citie to dwell in.

5 Hungrie and thirſtie: their ſoule fainted in them.

6 So they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: and he deliuered them from their diſtreſſe.

7 He led them forth by the right way: that they B might go to the Citie where they dwelt.

8 O that men would therefore prayſe the Lord for his goodneſſe: and declare the wonders that he doth for the childꝛen of men.

9 For he ſatisfieth the emptie ſoule: and filleth the hungrie ſoule with goodneſſe.

10 Such as ſit in darkeneſſe, and in the ſhadow of death: being faſt bounde in miſerie and yron.

11 Becauſe they rebelled againſt the wordes of the Lord: and lightly regarded the counſaile of the moſt high.

12 He alſo brought downe their heart through heauineſſe: they fell downe, and there was none to helpe them vp.

13 So when they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: hee deliuered them oute of their diſtreſſe.

14 For he brought them out of darkeneſſe, and C out of the ſhadowe of death: and brake theyr bondes in ſunder.

15 O that men would therefore prayſe the Lorde for his goodneſſe: and declare the wonders that he doth for the childꝛen of men.

16 For he hath broken the gates of Braſſe: and ſmitten the barres of yron in ſunder.

17 Fooliſhe men are plagued for their offence: and becauſe of their wickedneſſe.

18 Their ſoule abhorred all maner of meate: and they were euen hard at deathes doꝛe.

19 So when they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: hee delyuered them oute of their diſtreſſe.

20 Hee ſent his worde and healed them: and they were ſaued from their deſtruction.

21 O that men woulde therefore prayſe the Lord D for his goodneſſe: and declare the wonders that he doth for the childꝛen of men.

22 That they woulde offer vnto him the ſacrifice of thankeſgiuing: and tell out his workes with gladneſſe.

23 They that go downe to the Sea in ſhips: and occupie their buſineſſe in great waters.

24 Theſe men ſee the workes of the Lorde: and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For at his worde the ſtormie winde ariſeth: which lifteth vp the waues thereof.

26 They are caryed vp to the heauen, and downe againe to the deepe: their ſoule melteth away, becauſe of the trouble.

27 They reele to and fro, & ſtagger like a drunken man: and are at their wittes ende.

28 So when they crye vnto the Lorde in their E trouble: he deliuereth them out of their diſtreſſe.

29 For

29 For he maketh the storme to ceasse: so that the waues thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad, because they be at rest: so bee bringeth them to the hauen where they would be.

31 O that men would therefore prayse the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.

32 That they would exalt him also in the congregation of the people: and prayse him in the seate of the elders.

33 Which turneth the floods into a wildernesse: and dryeth vp the water springs.

34 A fruitfull lande maketh he barren: for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein.

F 35 Againe hee maketh the wildernesse a standing water: & water springs of a drie ground.

36 And there he setteth the hungrie: that they may builde them a Citie to dwell in.

37 That they may sowe their lande, and plant vineyardes: to yeelde them fruites of increase.

38 Hee blesseth them, so that they multiplie exceedingly, and suffereth not their cattell to decrease.

39 And agayne, when they are minished and brought lowe: through oppression, through any plague or trouble.

G 40 Though he suffer them to be euill entreated through tyrants: and let them wander out of the way in the wildernesse.

41 Yet helpeth hee the poore oute of miserie: and maketh him housholdes like a flocke of sheepe.

42 The righteous will consider this, and reioyce: and the mouth of all wickednesse shall be stopped.

43 Who so is wise, will ponder these things: and they shall vnderstande the louing kindnesse of the Lorde.

Paratum cor meum. Psal. Cvij.

I 1 O God, my heart is readie, my hart is readie: I will sing and gyue prayse with the best member that I haue. Morning prayer.

2 Awake thou Lute and Harp: I my selfe will awake right early.

3 I will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: I will sing prayses vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is greater than the heauens: and thy truth reacheth vnto the cloudes.

5 Set vp thy selfe (O God) aboue the heauens: and thy glorie aboue all the earth.

6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: let thy right hande saue them, and heare thou me.

K 7 God hath spoken in his holynesse: I will reioyce therefore, and diuide Sichem, and meate out the valley of Sucoth.

8 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my heade.

9 Iuda is my lawe giuer, Moab is my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe, vpon the Philistines will I triumph.

10 Who will leade me into the strong Citie: and who will bring me into Edom?

11 Hast not thou forsaken vs, O God: and wilt not thou God go forth with our hostes?

12 O helpe vs agaynst the enimie: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shall do great actes: and it is he that shall treade downe our enimies.

Deus laudem. Psal. Cix.

1 HOld not thy tongue, O God of my prayse: for the mouth of the vngodly, yea and the mouthe of the deceytefull is opened vpon mee.

2 And they haue spoken agaynst mee with false tongues: they compassed me aboute also with wordes of hatred, and fought agaynst me without a cause.

3 For the loue that I had vnto them, loe, they take nowe my contrary part: but I giue my selfe vnto prayer.

4 Thus haue they rewarded me euill for good: and hatred for my good will.

5 Set thou an vngodly man to bee ruler ouer him: and let Satan stande at his right hande.

6 When sentence is giuen vpon him, let him be condemned: and let his prayer bee turned into sinne.

7 Let his dayes be fewe: and let an other take L his office.

8 Let his children be fatherlesse: and his wife a wydow.

9 Let his children bee vagabondes, and begge their breade: let them seeke it also out of desolate places.

10 Let the extortioner consume all that he hath: and let the straunger spoyle his labour.

11 Let there be no man to pitie him: nor to haue compassion vpon his fatherlesse children.

12 Let his posterite be destroyed: and in the next generation let his name be cleane put out.

13 Let the wickednesse of his fathers be had in remembrance in the sight of the Lorde: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

14 Let them alway be before the Lorde: that M he may rote out the memoriall of them from of the earth.

15 And that because his minde was not to doe good: but persecuted the poore helpelesse man, that hee might slea him that was vexed at the heart.

16 His delite was in cursing, and it shall happen vnto him: he loued not blessing, therefore shall it be farre from him.

17 He

17 Hee clothed himſelfe with curſing, like as with a rayment: and it ſhall come into hys bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.
18 Let it be vnto him as the cloke that hee hath vpon him: and as the gyrdle that he is alwaye gyrded withall.
19 Let it thus happen from the Lorde vnto mine enimies: and to thoſe that ſpeake euill agaynſt my ſoule.
20 But deale thou with me (O Lorde God) according vnto thy name: for ſweete is thy mercie.
D 21 O deliuer me for I am helpeleſſe and poore: and my heart is wounded within me.
22 I go hence like the ſhadowe that departeth: and am driuen away as the Graſſhopper.
23 My knees are weake through faſting: my fleſh is dried vp for want of fatneſſe.
24 I became alſo a rebuke vnto them: they that loked vpon me, ſhaked their heades.
25 Helpe me (O Lorde my God:) O ſaue me according to thy mercy.
26 And they ſhall knowe howe that this is thy hande: and that thou Lorde haſt done it.
27 Though they curſe, yet bleſſe thou: and let them be confounded that riſe vp agaynſt me, but let let thy ſeruaunt reioyce.
E 28 Let mine aduerſaries be clothed with ſhame: and let them couer themſelues with their owne confuſion, as with a cloke.
29 As for me, I will giue great thankes vnto the Lorde with my mouth: and prayſe him among the multitude.
30 For he ſhall ſtande at the right hande of the poore to ſaue hys ſoule from vnrighteous Iudges.

Dixit dominus. Pſal. Cx.

A 1 THe Lord ſaid vnto my Lord: ſitte thou on my right hande vntill I make thine enimyes thy footeſtoole.
Morning prayer.
2 The Lorde ſhall ſende the rod of thy power out of Sion: be thou ruler euen in the middeſt among thine enimies.
3 In the day of thy power ſhall the people offer thee free will offerings with an holy worſhip: the deawe of thy byrth is the wombe of the morning.
4 The Lorde ſware, and will not repent: thou art a prieſt for euer after the order of Melchiſedech.
5 The Lorde vpon thy right hand: ſhall wound euen kings in the day of his wrath.
B 6 He ſhall be iudge among the heathen, he ſhall fill the places with deade bodies: and ſmite in ſunder the heades ouer diuers countreys.
7 Hee ſhall drinke of the broke in the way: therefore ſhall he lift vp his heade.

Confitebor tibi. Pſal. Cxi.

1 I Will giue thankes vnto the Lorde with my whole heart: ſecretely among the faithfull, and in the congregation. A 2 The workes of the Lorde are great: ſought out of all them that haue pleaſure therein.
3 His worke is worthie to be prayſed, and had in honour: and his righteouſneſſe endureth for euer.
4 The mercifull and gracious Lorde hath ſo done his marueilous workes: that they ought to be had in remembrance.
5 Hee hath giuen meate vnto them that feare him: he ſhall euer be mindefull of his couenant.
6 He hath ſhewed his people the power of his workes: that he may giue them the heritage of the heathen.
7 The workes of his handes are veritie and iudgement: all his commaundementes are true. B
8 They ſtande faſt for euer and euer: and are done in truth and equitie.
9 He ſent redemption vnto his people: he hath commaunded his couenant for euer, holy and reuerent is his name.
10 The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wiſedome: a good vnderſtanding haue all they that doe thereafter, the prayſe of it endureth for euer.

Beatus vir. Pſal. Cxij.

1 BLeſſed is the man that feareth the Lorde: he hath great delight in his commaundements. A 2 His ſeede ſhall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the faythfull ſhall be bleſſed.
3 Riches and plenteouſneſſe ſhall bee in his houſe: and his righteouſneſſe endureth for euer.
4 Vnto the godly there aryſeth vp light in the darkeneſſe: hee is mercifull, louing, and righteous.
5 A good man is mercifull and lendeth: and will guide his wordes with diſcretion.
6 For he ſhall neuer be moued: and the righteous ſhall bee had in an euerlaſting remembrance.
7 Hee will not bee afrayde for anye euill tydings: for his heart ſtandeth faſt, and beleeueth in the Lorde. B
8 His heart is ſtabliſhed, and will not ſhrinke: vntill he ſee his deſire vpon his enimies.
9 He hath diſperſed abroade: giuen to the poore: and his righteouſneſſe remayneth for euer, his horne ſhall be exalted with honour.
10 The vngodly ſhall ſee it, and it ſhall greeue him: he ſhall gnaſhe with his teeth, and conſume

Euening prayer.

ſume awaye, the deſire of the vngodly ſhall perish.

Laudate pueri. Pſal.Cxiij.

A 1 PRayſe the Lord (ye ſeruantes:) O prayſe the name of the Lorde.
2 Bleſſed be the name of the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore.
3 The Lordes name is prayſed: from the ryſing vp of the Sunne, vnto the goyng downe of the ſame.
4 The Lorde is high aboue all Heathen: and his glorie aboue the heauens.
5 Who is lyke vnto the Lorde our God, that hath his dwelling ſo highe: and yet humbleth himſelfe to beholde the thinges that are in heauen and earth?
6 He taketh vp the ſimple out of the duſt: and lifteth the poore out of the myre.
B 7 That he may ſet him with the princes: euen with the princes of his people.
8 He maketh the barren woman to keepe houſe: and to be a ioyfull mother of children.

In exitu Iſrael. Pſal.Cxiiij.

A 1 WHen Iſrael came out of Egipt: and the houſe of Jacob from among the ſtraunge people.
Euening prayer.
2 Juda was his ſanctuarie: and Iſraell his dominion.
3 The ſea ſawe that and fled: Jordane was driuen backe.
4 The mountaynes ſkipped like rammes: and the little hilles like yong ſheepe.
5 What ayleth thee, O thou ſea, that thou fleddeſt: and thou Jordane, that thou waſt driuen backe?
6 Ye mountaynes that ye ſkipped like rammes: and ye little hilles like yong ſheepe?
B 7 Tremble thou earth at the preſence of the Lorde: at the preſence of the God of Jacob.
8 Which turned the harde rocke into a ſtanding water: and the flint ſtone into a ſpringing Well.

Non nobis domine. Pſal.Cxv.

A 1 NOt vnto vs, O Lorde, not vnto vs, but vnto thy name giue the prayſe: for thy louing mercie, and for thy truthes ſake.
2 Wherefore ſhall the Heathen ſay: where is nowe their God?
3 As for our God he is in heauen: he hath done whatſoeuer pleaſed him.
4 Their Idolles are ſiluer and golde: euen the worke of mens handes.
5 They haue mouthes, and ſpeake not: eyes haue they, and ſee not.
6 They haue eares, and heare not: noſes haue they, and ſmell not.
7 They haue handes, and handle not, feete haue they, and walke not: neyther ſpeake they through their throte.
8 They that make them, are like vnto them: and ſo are all ſuch as put their truſt in them.
9 But thou houſe of Iſraell truſt thou in the Lorde: he is their ſuccour and defence.
10 Yee houſe of Aaron put your truſt in the Lorde: he is their helper and defender.
11 Ye that feare the Lorde, put your truſt in the Lorde: he is their helper and defender.
12 The Lorde hath bene mindfull of vs, and he ſhall bleſſe vs: euen he ſhall bleſſe the houſe of Iſraell, he ſhall bleſſe the houſe of Aaron.
13 Hee ſhall bleſſe them that feare the Lorde: both ſmall and great.
14 The Lord ſhal encreaſe you more and more: C you and your children.
15 Ye are the bleſſed of the Lorde: which made heauen and earth.
16 All the whole heauens are the Lordes: the earth hath he giuen to the children of men.
17 The dead prayſe not thee, O Lorde: neither all they that go downe into the ſilence.
18 But we will prayſe the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore. Prayſe the Lorde.

Dilexi quoniam. Pſal.Cxvi.

A 1 I Am well pleaſed: that the Lorde hath hearde the voyce of my prayer. Morning prayer.
2 That he hath enclyned his eare vnto me: therefore will I call vpō him as long as I liue.
3 The ſnares of death cōpaſſed me round about: and the paynes of hell gate holde vpon me.
4 I ſhall finde trouble and heauineſſe, and I ſhall call vpon the name of the Lord: O Lord, I beſeech thee deliuer my ſoule.
5 Gracious is the Lorde and righteous: yea our God is mercyfull.
6 The Lorde preſerueth the ſimple: I was in miſerie, and he helped me.
7 Turne againe then vnto thy reſt, O my ſoule: B for the Lorde hath rewarded thee.
8 And why? thou haſt deliuered my ſoule from death: mine eies from teares, and my feete from falling.
9 I will walke before the Lorde: in the land of the liuing.
10 I beleeued, and therefore will I ſpeake, but I was ſore troubled: I ſayde in my haſte, all men are lyers.
11 What reward ſhall I gyue vnto the Lorde: for all the benefites that hee hath done vnto me?
12 I will receyue the cup of ſaluation: and call vpon the name of the Lorde.
13 I will pay my vowes nowe in the preſence of all his people: right deare in the ſight of the Lorde, is the death of his Saintes.

C 14 Beholde (O Lorde) how that I am thy ſeruant: I am thy ſeruant and the ſonne of thine handemayde, thou haſt broken my bones in ſunder.

15 I will offer to thee the ſacrifice of thankes gyuing: and will call vppon the name of the Lorde.

16 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lorde, in the ſight of all his people: in the courtes of the Lordes houſe, euen in the middes of thee, O Ieruſalem. Prayſe the Lorde.

Laudate dominum. Pſal. Cxvij.

A 1 O Prayſe the Lorde all ye heathen: prayſe him all ye nations.

2 For his mercifull kindeneſſe is euer more and more towarde vs: and the truth of the Lorde endureth for euer. Prayſe the Lorde.

Confitemini domino. Pſal. Cxviij.

A 1 O Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for hee is gracious: bycauſe his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let Iſraell now confeſſe that he is gracious: and that his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Let the houſe of Aaron now confeſſe: that his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Yea, let them now that feare the Lorde confeſſe: that his mercie endureth for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lorde in trouble: and the Lorde heard me at large.

6 The Lorde is on my ſide: I will not feare what man doth vnto me.

B 7 The Lorde taketh my part with them that helpe me: therefore ſhall I ſee my deſire vpon mine enimies.

8 It is better to truſt in the Lord: than to put any confidence in man.

9 It is better to truſt in the Lorde: than to put any confidence in princes.

10 All nations compaſſed me round about: but in the name of the Lorde will I deſtroy them.

11 They kept me in on euerie ſide, they kept mee in (I ſay) on euery ſide: but in the name of the Lorde will I deſtroy them.

12 They came about me lyke Bees, and are extinct euen as the fire among the Thornes: for in the name of the Lorde I will deſtroye them.

13 Thou haſt thruſt ſore at me, that I might fal: but the Lorde was my helper.

C 14 The Lorde is my ſtrength and my ſong: and is become my ſaluation.

15 The voyce of ioy and health is in the dwellings of the righteous: the right hande of the Lorde bringeth mightie things to paſſe.

16 The right hande of the Lorde hath the preheminence: the right hande of the Lorde bringeth mightie things to paſſe.

17 I ſhall not die, but liue: and declare the workes of the Lorde.

18 The Lorde hath chaſtened and corrected me: but he hath not giuen me ouer vnto death.

19 Open me the gates of righteouſneſſe: that I may go into them, and giue thankes vnto the Lorde.

20 This is the gate of the Lorde: the righteous ſhall enter into it.

21 I will thanke thee, for thou haſt heard me: D and art become my ſaluation.

22 The ſame ſtone which the builders refuſed: is become the heade ſtone of the corner.

23 This is the Lordes doyng: and it is marueilous in our eyes.

24 This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will reioyce and be glad in it.

25 Helpe me nowe, O Lorde, O Lorde, ſend vs now proſperitie.

26 Bleſſed be he that commeth in the name of the Lorde: we haue wiſhed you good lucke, ye that be of the houſe of the Lorde.

27 God is the Lord which hath ſhewed vs light: bind the ſacrifice with cordes, yea euen vnto the hornes of the aulter.

28 Thou art my God, and I will thanke thee: E thou art my God, and I will prayſe thee.

29 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.

Beati immaculati. Pſal. Cxix.

A 1 BLeſſed are thoſe that are vndefiled in the way: and walke in the lawe of the Lorde. Euening prayer

2 Bleſſed are they that keepe his teſtimonies: and ſeeke him with their whole heart.

3 For they which do no wickednelle: walke in his wayes.

4 Thou haſt charged: that we ſhall diligently keepe thy commaundements.

5 O that my wayes were made ſo direct: that I might keepe thy ſtatutes.

6 So ſhall I not be confounded: while I haue B reſpect vnto all thy commaundements.

7 I will thanke thee with an vnfeyned heart: when I ſhall haue learned the iudgements of thy righteouſneſſe.

8 I will keepe thy ceremonies: O forſake me not vtterly.

In quo corrigit.

1 WHerewithall ſhall a yong man cleanſe A his way: euen by ruling himſelfe after thy worde. Euening prayer.

2 With my whole heart haue I ſought thee: O let me not go wrong out of thy commaundements.

dements.

3 Thy wordes haue I hid within mine heart: that I should not sinne agaynst thee.

4 Blessed art thou, O Lorde: O teach me thy statutes.

5 With my lippes haue I bene telling: of all the iudgements of thy mouth.

B 6 I haue had as great delight in the way of thy testimonies: as in all maner of ryches.

7 I will talke of thy commaundements: and haue respect vnto thy wayes.

8 My delight shall be in thy statutes: and I will not forget thy worde.

Retribue seruo tuo.

I 1 GDoe well vnto thy seruant: that I may liue, and keepe thy worde.

2 Open thou mine eyes: that I may see the wonderous things of thy lawe.

3 I am a straunger vpon earth: O hyde not thy commaundements from me.

4 My soule breaketh out: for the verie feruent desire that it hath alway vnto thy iudgements.

5 Thou hast rebuked the proude: and cursed are they that doe erre from thy commaundements.

B 6 O turne from me shame and rebuke: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

7 Princes also did sit and speake agaynst mee: but thy seruant is occupied in thy statutes.

8 For thy testimonies are my delight: and my counsaylers.

Adhesit pauimento.

I 1 MY soule cleaueth to the dust: O quicken thou me according to thy worde.

2 I haue knowledged my wayes, and thou heardest me: O teach me thy statutes.

3 Make me to vnderstand the way of thy commaundementes: and so shall I talke of thy wonderous workes.

4 My soule melteth away for verie heauinesse: comfort thou me according vnto thy worde.

5 Take from mee the way of lying: and cause thou me to make much of thy lawe.

B 6 I haue chosen the way of truth: and thy iudgements haue I layde before me.

7 I haue stycken vnto thy testimonies: O Lord confounde me not.

8 I wil run the way of thy commaundements: when thou hast set my hart at libertie.

Legem pone.

I 1 TEach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes: and I shall keepe it vnto the ende.

Domine preter.

2 Giue me vnderstanding, and I shall keepe thy lawe: yea I shall keepe it with my whole heart.

3 Make me to go in the path of thy commaundements: for therein is thy desire.

4 Encline my heart vnto thy testimonies: and not to couetousnesse.

5 O turne away mine eyes, least they beholde banitie: and quicken thou me in thy way.

6 O stablish thy worde in thy seruant: that I B may feare thee.

7 Take away the rebuke that I am afrayd of: for thy iudgements are good.

8 Beholde, my delight is in thy commaundementes: O quicken mee in thy righteousnesse.

Et veniat super me.

1 LEt thy louing mercie come also vnto me, A O Lorde: euen thy saluation, according vnto thy worde.

2 So shall I make answere vnto my blasphemers: for my trust is in thy worde.

3 O take not the worde of thy truth vtterly out of mouth: for my hope is in thy iudgements.

4 So shall I alway keepe thy lawe: yea for euer and euer.

5 And I will walke at libertie: for I seeke thy commaundements.

6 I will speake of thy testimonies also euen B before kings: and will not be ashamed.

7 And my delight shall be in thy commaundements: which I haue loued.

8 My handes also will I lift vp vnto thy commaundements, which I haue loued: and my studie shall be in thy statutes.

Memor esto verbi tui.

1 GThinke vpon vpon thy seruant as concer- A ning thy worde: wherein thou hast caused me to put my trust.

2 The same is my comfort in my trouble: for thy worde hath quickened me.

3 The proude haue had mee exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not shrinked from thy lawe.

4 For I remembred thine euerlasting iudgements, O Lorde: and receyued comfort.

5 I am horribly afrayde: for the vngodly that forsake thy lawe.

6 Thy statutes haue beene my songes: in the B house of my pilgrimage.

7 I haue thought vpon thy name, O Lorde, in the night season: and haue kept thy law.

8 This I had: because I kept thy commaundements.

Portio mea domine.

1 THou art my portion, O Lorde: I haue B promised to keepe thy law.

2 I made my humble petition in thy preſence with my whole heart: O be mercifull vnto me, according to thy worde.
3 I called mine owne wayes to remembrance: and turned my feete vnto thy teſtimonies.
4 I made haſt, and prolonged not the time: to keepe thy commaundements.
5 The congregation of the vngodly haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy law.
B 6 At midnight I will riſe to giue thankes vnto thee: becauſe of thy righteous iudgementes.
7 I am a companion of all them that feare thee: and keepe thy commaundements.
8 The earth, O Lorde, is full of thy mercie: O teach me thy ſtatutes.

Bonitatem feciſti.

A 1 O Lord, thou haſt dealt graciouſly with thy ſeruant: according vnto thy worde.
2 O learne me true vnderſtanding and knowledge: for I haue beleeued thy commaundements.
3 Before I was troubled I went wrong: but now haue I kept thy worde.
4 Thou art good and gracious: O teache mee thy ſtatutes.
5 The proude haue imagined a lye againſt me: but I will keepe thy commaundements with my whole heart.
B 6 Their hart is as fatte as brawne: but my delight hath bene in thy law.
7 It is good for me that I haue beene in trouble: that I may learne thy ſtatutes.
8 The law of thy mouth is dearer vnto mee: than thouſands of golde and ſiluer.

Manus tuæ fecerunt me.

A 1 Thy handes haue made mee, and faſhioned mee: O giue me vnderſtanding, that I may learne thy commaundements.
Euening prayer.
2 They that feare thee, will be glad when they ſee me: becauſe I haue put my truſt in thy worde.
3 I know (O Lorde) that thy iudgements are right: and that thou of verie faythfulneſſe haſt cauſed me to be troubled.
4 O let thy mercyfull kindeneſſe bee my comforte: according to thy worde vnto thy ſeruaunt.
5 O let thy louing mercies come vnto me, that I may liue: for thy lawe is my delight.
B 6 Let the proude be confounded, for they goe wickedly about to deſtroy me: but I will bee occupied in thy commaundements.
7 Let ſuch as feare thee, and haue knowne thy teſtimonies: be turned vnto me.
8 O let my heart be ſound in thy ſtatutes: that I be not aſhamed.

Defecit anima mea.

I My ſoule hath longed for thy ſaluation: and I haue a good hope becauſe of thy worde.
2 Mine eyes long ſore for thy worde: ſaying, O when wilt thou comfort me?
3 For I am become like a bottle in the ſmoke: yet do I not forget thy ſtatutes.
4 Howe many are the dayes of thy ſeruaunt: when wilt thou be auenged of them that perſecute me?
5 The proude haue digged pittes for me: which are not after thy lawe.
6 All thy commaundements are true: they perſecute me falſely, O be thou my helpe. B
7 They had almoſt made an ende of me vpon earth: but I forſooke not thy commaundements.
8 O quicken me after thy louing kindneſſe: and ſo ſhall I keepe the teſtimonies of thy mouth.

In æternum domine.

I O Lorde: thy worde endureth for euer in heauen.
2 Thy truth alſo remayneth from one generation to another: thou haſt layde the foundation of the earth, and it abydeth.
3 They continue this day according to thine ordinance: for all things ſerue thee.
4 If my delight had not beene in thy lawe: I ſhould haue periſhed in my trouble.
5 I will neuer forget thy commaundements: for with them thou haſt quickened me.
6 I am thine, oh ſaue me: for I haue ſought thy commaundements. B
7 The vngodly layde wayte for mee to deſtroy me: but I will conſider thy teſtimonies.
8 I ſee that all things come to an ende: but thy commaundement is exceeding broade.

Quomodo dilexi.

I O Lorde, what loue haue I vnto thy law: all the day long is my ſtudie in it.
2 Thou through thy commaundements haſt made mee wyſer than mine enimies: for they are euer with me.
3 I haue more vnderſtanding than my teachers: for thy teſtimonies are my ſtudie.
4 I am wyſer than the aged: becauſe I keepe thy commaundements.
5 I haue refrayned my feete from euery euill way: that I may keepe thy worde.
6 I haue not ſhronke from thy iudgements: for thou teacheſt me.
7 O how ſweete are thy words vnto my throte: yea, ſweeter than honie vnto my mouth. B

8 Through thy commaundements I get vnderſtanding: therefore I hate all wicked wayes.

Lucerna pedibus meis.

א 1 THy worde is a Lanterne vnto my feete: and a light vnto my pathes.
Morning prayer.
2 I haue ſworne, and am ſtedfaſtly purpoſed: to keepe thy righteous iudgements.
3 I am troubled aboue meaſure: quicken mee (O Lorde) accoꝛding vnto thy worde.
4 Let the freewill offerings of my mouth pleaſe thee, O Lorde: and teache me thy iudgements.
5 My ſoule is alway in my hande: yet doe I not forget thy lawe.
ב 6 The vngodly haue layde a ſnare for me: but yet I ſwarued not from thy commaundements.
7 Thy teſtimonies haue I claymed as mine heritage for euer: and why, they are the verie ioy of my heart.
8 I haue applyed mine heart to fulfill thy ſtatutes alway: euen vnto the ende.

Iniquos odio habui.

א 1 I Hate them that imagine euill things: but thy lawe doe I loue.
2 Thou art my defence and ſhielde: and my truſt is in thy worde.
3 Away from me ye wicked: I will keepe the commaundements of my God.
4 O ſtabliſhe mee accoꝛding vnto thy worde, that I may liue: and let me not be diſappoynted of my hope.
5 Holde thou me vp, and I ſhall be ſafe: yea my delight ſhall be in thy ſtatutes.
ב 6 Thou haſt troden downe all them that depart from thy ſtatutes: for they imagine but deceyte.
7 Thou puttеſt awaye all the vngodly of the earth lyke droſſe: therefore I loue thy teſtimonies.
8 My fleſhe trembleth for feare of thee: and I am afrayde of thy iudgements.

Feci iudicium.

א 1 I Deale with the thing that is lawfull and right: O giue me not ouer vnto mine oppreſſours.
2 Make thou thy ſeruaunt to delight in that whiche is good: that the proude doe mee no wrong.
3 Myne eyes are waſted away with loking for thy health: and for the worde of thy righteouſneſſe.
4 Deale with thy ſeruaunt accoꝛding vnto thy louing mercy: and teach me thy ſtatutes.
5 I am thy ſeruant, O graunt me vnderſtanding: that I may know thy teſtimonies.
6 It is time for thee Lord to lay to thine hand: for they haue deſtroyed thy lawe. ב
7 For I loue thy commaundementes: aboue golde and precious ſtone.
8 Therefore holde I ſtreight all thy commaundements: and all falſe wayes I vtterly abhoꝛre.

Mirabilia.

א 1 THy teſtimonies are wonderfull: therefore doth my ſoule keepe them.
2 When thy worde goeth forth: it giueth light and vnderſtanding vnto the ſimple.
3 I opened my mouth and drew in my breath: for my delight was in thy commaundements.
4 O loke thou vpon mee, and bee mercyfull vnto mee: as thou vſeſt to doe vnto thoſe that loue thy name.
5 Order my ſteppes in thy worde: and ſo ſhall no wyckednеſſe haue dominion ouer mee.
6 O deliuer me from the wrongfull dealings of men: and ſo ſhall I keepe thy commaundements. ב
7 Shewe the light of thy countenaunce vpon thy ſeruant: and teach me thy ſtatutes.
8 Mine eyes guſhe out with water: becauſe men keepe not thy law.

Iuſtus es domine.

א 1 RIghteous art thou, O Lorde: and true is thy iudgement.
2 The teſtimonies that thou haſt commaunded: are exceeding righteous and true.
3 My zeale hath euen conſumed mee: becauſe mine enimies haue forgotten thy wordes.
4 Thy worde is tryed to the vttermoſt: and thy ſeruant loueth it.
5 I am ſmall and of no reputation: yet do not I forget thy commaundements.
6 Thy righteouſneſſe is an euerlaſting righteouſneſſe: and thy law is the truth. ב
7 Trouble and heauineſſe hath taken holde vpon mee: yet is my delight in thy commaundements.
8 The righteouſneſſe of thy teſtimonyes is euerlaſting: O graunt me vnderſtanding, and I ſhall liue.

Clamaui in toto corde meo.

ה 1 I Call with my whole heart, heare me, O Lord: I wil kepe thy ſtatutes.
Euening prayer.
2 Yea euen vpon thee do I call: helpe me, and I ſhal keepe thy teſtimonies.

3 Earely in the morning doe I crie vnto thee: for in thy worde is my truſt.
4 Mine eies preuent the night watches: that I might be occupied in thy wordes.
5 Heare my voyce, (O Lorde) according vnto thy louing kindneſſe: quicken me according as thou art wont.
B 6 They drawe nighe that of malice perſecute me: and are farre from thy lawe.
7 Be thou nigh at hande, O Lorde: for all thy commaundements are true.
8 As concerning thy teſtimonies: I haue knowne long ſince, that thou haſt grounded them for euer.

Vide humilitatem.

A 1 CConſider mine aduerſitie, and deliuer me: for I do not forget thy lawe.
2 Auenge thou my cauſe, and deliuer me: quicken me according vnto thy worde.
3 Health is farre from the vngodly: for they regarde not thy ſtatutes.
4 Great is thy mercy, O Lorde: quicken mee as thou art wont.
5 Many there are that trouble me, and perſecute mee: yet doe I not ſwarue from thy teſtimonies.
B 6 It greeueth mee when I ſee the tranſgreſſours: bycauſe they keepe not thy lawe.
7 Conſider, O Lorde, howe I loue thy commaundementes: O quicken mee according to thy louing kindneſſe.
8 Thy worde is true from euerlaſting: all the iudgementes of thy righteouſneſſe endure for euermore.

Principes perſecuti ſunt.

A 1 PRinces haue perſecuted mee without a cauſe: but my heart ſtandeth in awe of thy wordes.
2 I am as glad of thy worde: as one that findeth great ſpoyles.
3 As for lyes, I hate and abhorre them: but thy lawe do I loue.
4 Seuen times a day doe I prayſe thee: bicauſe of thy righteous iudgements.
5 Great is the peace that they haue which loue thy lawe: and they are not offended at it.
B 6 Lorde I haue loked for thy ſauing health: and done after thy commaundements.
7 My ſoule hath kept thy teſtimonies: and loued them exceedingly.
8 I haue kept thy commaundements and teſtimonies: for all my wayes are before thee.

Appropinquet deprecatio.

A 1 LEt my complaint come before thee, O Lorde: giue me vnderſtanding according to thy worde,
2 O let my ſupplication come before thee: deliuer me according to thy worde.
3 My lippes ſhall ſpeake of thy prayſe: when thou haſt taught me thy ſtatutes.
4 Yea, my tongue ſhall ſing of thy worde: for all thy commaundements are righteous.
5 Let thine hande helpe me: for I haue choſen thy commaundements.
6 I haue longed for thy ſauing health, O Lord: B and in thy lawe is my delight.
7 Oh let my ſoule liue, and it ſhall prayſe thee: and thy iudgements ſhall helpe me.
8 I haue gone aſtray lyke a ſheepe that is loſt: oh ſeeke thy ſeruant, for I doe not forget thy commaundements.

A Morning prayer.

1 BLessed be the Lorde my strength: whiche teacheth my handes to warre, and my fingers to fight.

2 My hope and my fortresse, my castle and deliuerer, my defender, in whom I trust: which subdueth my people that is vnder me.

3 Lorde what is the man that thou hast suche respect vnto him: or the sonne of man that thou so regardest hym?

4 Man is like a thing of nought: his time passeth away like a shadowe.

5 Bowe thy heauens O Lorde & come downe: touche the mountaines, and they shall smoke.

6 Caste forth thy lyghtning, and feare them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send downe thyne hande from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, from the hand of straunge children.

B 8 Whose mouth talketh of vanitie: and their right hand is a right hand of wickednesse.

9 I will sing a newe song vnto thee, O God: and sing prayses vnto thee vpon a ten stringed Lute.

10 Thou that giuest victorie vnto kings: and hast deliuered Dauid thy seruaunt from the peryl of the swoord.

11 Saue me and deliuer me from the hande of strange children: whose mouth talketh of vanitie, and their right hande is a right hande of iniquitie.

12 That our sonnes may growe vp as the yong plantes: and that our daughters may be as the pollyshed corners of the temple.

13 That our garners may be full and plenteous with all manner of store: that our sheepe may bryng forth thousandes, and ten thousands in our streetes.

14 That our Oxē may be strong to labour, that there be no decay: no leading into captiuitie, and no complaynyng in our streetes.

C 15 Happy are the people that be in suche a case: yea blessed are the people whiche haue the Lorde for their God.

Exaltabo te deus. Psal.cxlv.

1 I Will magnifie thee, O God, my king: and I will prayse thy name for euer and euer. I

2 Euery day will I giue thankes vnto thee: and prayse thy name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lorde and marueilous worthy to be praysed: there is no ende of his greatnesse.

4 One generation shall prayse thy workes vnto another: and declare thy power.

5 As for me, I will be talking of thy worshyp: thy glory, thy prayse, and wonderous workes.

6 So that men shall speake of the might of thy marueilous actes: and I will also tell of thy greatnesse.

7 The memoriall of thine abundant kindnesse shalbe shewed: and men shall sing of thy righteousnesse. B

8 The Lorde is gratious and mercyful: long sufferyng, and of great goodnesse.

9 The Lorde is louing vnto euery man: and his mercy is ouer al his workes.

10 All thy workes prayse thee, O Lord: and thy saintes giue thankes vnto thee.

11 They shewe the glory of thy kingdome: and talke of thy power.

12 That thy power, thy glorye, & mightinesse of thy kingdome: might be knowen vnto men.

13 Thy kingdome is an euerlastyng kingdome: and thy dominiō endureth throughout al ages. C

14 The Lord vpholdeth al such as fal: and lifteth vp al those that be downe.

15 The eyes of al waite vpon thee, O Lord: and thou giuest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thyne hande: and fyllest all thinges liuing with plenteousnesse.

17 The Lorde is righteous in al his wayes: and holy in al his workes.

18 The Lord is nygh vnto al them that call vpon him: yea al such as cal vpon him faythfully.

19 He will fulfill the desire of them that feare hym: he also will heare their crye, and wil help them.

20 The Lord preserueth al them that loue him: but scattereth abrode al the vngodly.

21 My mouth shal speake the prayse of the Lord: and let all flesshe giue thankes vnto his holy name for euer and euer.

Lauda anima mea. Psal.cxlvi. I

1 PRayse the Lorde, O my soule, while I liue will I prayse the Lorde: yea as long as I haue any being I will sing prayses vnto my God.

2 O put not your trust in princes, nor in any chylde of man: for there is no helpe in them.

3 For whē the breath of man goeth forth, he shal turne agayne to his earth: and then all hys thoughts thoughtes periſhe.

4 Bleſſed is he that hath the God of Jacob for his helpe: and whoſe hope is in the Lorde his God.

5 Whiche made heauen and earth, the ſea, and al that therin is: whiche keepeth his promiſe for euer.

6 Which helpeth the to right that ſuffer wrong: which feedeth the hungry.

B 7 The Lord loſeth men out of priſon: the Lord giueth ſight to the blynd.

8 The Lorde helpeth them that are fallen: the Lord careth for the righteous.

9 The Lord careth for the ſtraungers, he defendeth the fatherleſſe and wydow: as for the way of the vngodly, he turneth it vpſide downe.

10 The Lorde thy God, O Sion, ſhal bee king for euer more: throughout all generations.

Laudate dominum. Pſal. Cxlvij.

I 1 PRayſe the Lord, for it is a good thing to ſing prayſes vnto our God: yea a ioyfull and pleaſaunt thing it is to bee thankefull.

Beenyng prayer.

2 The Lord doth builde vp Jeruſalem: and gather togither the outcaſtes of Iſrael.

3 He healeth thoſe that are broken in harte: and giueth medicine to heale their ſickneſſe.

4 He telleth the number of the ſtarres: and calleth them al by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: yea and his wiſdome is infinite.

6 The Lord ſetteth vp the meeke: and bringeth the vngodly downe to the grounde.

B 7 O ſing vnto the Lorde with thankeſgeuing: ſing prayſe vpon the Harpe vnto our God.

8 Which couereth the heauen with cloudes, and prepareth rayne for the earth: and maketh the graſſe to growe vpon the mountaynes, and hearbe for the vſe of men.

9 Whiche giueth fodder vnto the cattell: and feedeth the young Rauens that call vppon him.

10 Hee hath no pleaſure in the ſtrength of an horſe: neyther delighteth hee in any mannes legges.

11 But the Lordes delight is in them that feare him: and put their truſt in his mercy.

12 Prayſe the Lorde O Jeruſalem: prayſe thy God, O Sion.

13 For he hath made faſt the barres of thy gates: and hath bleſſed thy children within thee.

B 14 He maketh peace in thy borders: and fylleth thee with the flower of wheat.

15 Hee ſendeth forth his commaundement vpon earth: and his worde runneth verye ſwyftly.

16 He giueth ſnowe lyke wooll: and ſcatereth the hoare froſt like aſhes.

17 He caſteth forth his yce like morſelles: who is able to abyde his froſt?

18 He ſendeth out his worde, and melteth them: hee bloweth with his winde, and the waters flowe.

19 He ſheweth his worde vnto Jacob: his ſtatutes and ordinaunces vnto Iſrael.

20 Hee hathe not dealt ſo with any nation: neyther haue the heathen knowledge of his lawes.

Laudate dominum. Pſal. Cxlviij.

I 1 GPrayſe the Lorde of heauen: prayſe hym in the heigth.

2 Prayſe him all ye angels of his: prayſe him al his hoſt.

3 Prayſe him Sunne and Moone: prayſe him all ye ſtarres and light.

4 Prayſe him all yee heauens: and ye waters that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praiſe the name of the Lorde: for he ſpake the worde, and they were made, he commaunded, and they were created.

6 Hee hath made them faſt for euer and euer: he hath giuen them a lawe, whiche ſhall not bee broken.

7 Prayſe the Lord vpon earth: ye dragons, and B all deepes.

8 Fyre and haile, ſnowe and vapours: wind and ſtorme, fulfillyng his worde.

9 Mountaines and al hylles: fruitful trees, and all Cedars.

10 Beaſtes and al cattel: wormes and feathered foules.

11 Kinges of the earth, and all people: princes, and al iudges of the world.

12 Young men and maidens, old men and children prayſe the name of the Lord: for his name only is excellent, and his prayſe aboue heauen and earth.

13 He ſhall exalt the horne of his people, all his ſaintes ſhall prayſe him: euen the children of Iſrael, euen the people that ſerueth him.

Cantate domino. Pſal. Cxlix.

I 1 GSing vnto the Lorde a newe ſong: let the congregation of ſaintes prayſe him.

2 Let Iſrael reioyce in him that made him: and let the children of Sion be ioyful in their king.

3 Let the praiſe his name in the daunce: let them ſing prayſes vnto him with Tabret and Harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleaſure in his people: and helpeth the meeke harted.

5 Let the ſaintes be ioyful with glory: let them reioyce in their beddes.

6 Let the prayſes of God be in their mouth: and B a two edged ſword in their handes.

7 To

7 To be auenged of the heathen: and to rebuke the people.
8 To bynde their kings in chaines: and their nobles with lynkes of iron.
9 That they may be auenged of them, as it is written; such honour haue all his saintes.

Laudate dominum. Pſal.cl.

1 GPrayſe God in his holyneſſe: prayſe him in the firmament of his power.
2 Prayſe him in his noble actes: prayſe him accordyng to his excellent greatneſſe.
3 Prayſe him in the ſound of the trumpet: prayſe him vpon the Lute and Harpe.
4 Prayſe him in the Cymbales and daunces: prayſe him vpon the ſtrings and pype.
5 Prayſe him vpon the well tuned Cymbales: prayſe him vpon the loude Cymbales.
5 Lette euery thing that hath breath: praiſe the Lord.

The Prouerbes of Solomon.

The first Chapter.

1. The power and vse of the worde of God. 7. Of the feare of God and knowledge of his word. 10. We may not consent to the intisinges of sinners. 20. Wisdome complayneth that shee is contemned. 24. The punishment of them that contemne hir.

A 1 THe prouerbes of Solomon ẏ son of Dauid, king of Israel.

2 Too learne wisdome and instruction, and to perceiue ẏ wordes of vnderstãding.

3 To receiue the instruction of wisedome, iustice, iudgement, and equitie.

4 To giue wit vnto the simple, & that ẏ yong mẽ might haue knowledge & vnderstãding.

5 The wise man will giue eare, & will come by more wisdome, and he that is endued with vnderstanding, shal atayne vnto (wise) counsayles.

6 To vnderstande a parable, and the interpretation therof, the wordes of the wise, and their darke speaches.

B 7 The feare of the Lord is the beginnyng of knowledge: but fooles dispise wisdome and instruction.

Iob.28.b. Eccle.1.c Psal.116.b Prou.9.c

8 My sonne, heare thy fathers doctrine, and forsake not the "lawe of thy mother:

"or, instruction.

9 For they shalbe an increase of grace vnto thy head, and (as) a chayne about thy necke.

10 My sonne if sinners "entice thee, consent not vnto them.

"or leade thee out of the way.

11 If they say, Come with vs, let vs lay wait for blood, and lurke priuily for the innocent without a cause:

Psal.24.a

12 Let vs swalowe them vp like the graue quicke and whole, as those that go downe into the pit:

13 So shal we finde all manner of costly ryches, and fyll our houses with spoyles:

C 14 Cast in thy lot among vs, and let vs all haue one purse.

15 My sonne, walke not thou with them, refrayne thy foote from their wayes.

Psal.14.a

16 For their feete runne to euyl, and are hastie to shed blood.

17 But (as) in vayne, the net is layde forth before the birdes eyes:

18 So these lay wayte for the blood of them, and lye priuily for their lyues.

19 Such (are) the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine, who taketh away the life of the owner thereof.

20 Wisedome cryeth without, and putteth forth hir voyce in the streetes: Prou.8.a

21 She calleth before the congregation in the open gates, and sheweth hir wordes through the citie, saying. D

22 O ye children, how long wil ye loue childishnesse? how long will the scorners delight in scornyng, and the vnwise hate knowledge?

23 O turne you at my correction: loe I wil expresse my mynde vnto you and make you vnderstande my wordes.

24 Bycause I haue called, and ye refused, I haue stretched out my hande, and no man regarded: Esai.65 Ier.7.a

25 But all my counseles haue ye despised, and set my correction at nought:

26 Therefore will I also laugh at your destruction, and mocke you, when the thing that you feare commeth vpon you.

27 Euen when the thing that ye bee afrayde of falleth in sodaynely like a storme, and your miserie like a tempest, yea when trouble and heauinesse commeth vpon you. E

28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not aunsweare: they shall seke me early, but they shal not fynde me:

29 And that bycause they hated knowledge, and did not chose the feare of the Lord.

30 They woulde none of my counsayle, but despised al my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eate of the fruite of their owne way, and bee fylled with their owne inuentions.

32 For the turning away of the vnwise shall slay them, and the prosperitie of fooles shall destroy them.

33 But who so hearkeneth vnto mee, shall dwel safely, & be sure from any feare of euil. Prou.1.d

The .ij. Chapter.

1. Wisdom exhorteth to obey hir. 5. She teacheth the feare of God. 6. She is giuen of God. 10. She preserueth from wickednesse.

1 MY son, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and lay vp my commaundementes within thee,

2 That

2 That ỹ wilt encline thine eares vnto wisdome: applie thine hart thẽ to vnderstãding.
3 For if thou cryest after wisdome, and criest for knowledge:
4 If thou seekest for hir as for syluer, and searchest for hir as for treasures:
5 Then shalt thou vnderstande the feare of the Lord, and fynde the knowledge of God.
Iacob.1.a Eccl.1.a. and.7.c. 1.Re.3.b. and.4.d.
6 For the Lorde giueth wisdome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.
7 He stirreth vp health for the righteous, and defendeth them that walke vprightly,
B 8 That they may keepe the right path: and he preserueth the way of such as do serue him with godlinesse.
9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnesse, and iudgement, and equitie, yea and euery good path.
10 When wisedome entreth into thyne harte, and thy soule delighteth in knowledge:
11 Then shal counsayle preserue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,
12 That thou mayest bee deliuered from the euil way, and from the man that speaketh frowarde thinges:
13 From suche as leaue the wayes of ryghteousnesse to walke in the wayes of darknesse:
C 14 Which reioyce in doyng nought, and delight in the wickednesse of the euil:
15 Whose wayes are crooked, and they froward in their pathes.
16 That thou mayest be deliuered also from the straunge woman, and fro hir that is not thine own, which giueth sweete wordes, Pro.5.a. and.7.a.
17 Forsaketh the husbande of hir youth, and forgetteth the couenaunt of hir God.
18 For hir house is inclined vnto death, and hir pathes vnto hel.
19 Al they that goe in vnto hir, come not again, neither take they holde of ỹ way of lyfe
20 Therefore walke thou in the way of suche as be vertuous, and keepe the pathes of the righteous.
D 21 For the iust shall dwell in the lande, and they that be perfect shall remaine in it.
22 But ỹ vngodly shalbe cut of frõ the earth: and the wicked doers shalbe rooted out of it.

The.iij.Chapter.

1. The word of God giueth life. 5. Trust in God. 7. Feare him. 9. Honour him. 11. Suffer his correction. 22. To them that folowe the word of God, all thinges shall succeede well.

A 1 My sonne, forget not thou my lawe, but Deut.11.a see that thine hart keepe my commaundementes:
2 For they shal prolong the dayes and yeeres of thy lyfe, and bring thee peace.
3 Let mercie and faythfulnesse neuer goe from thee: binde them about thy necke, and write them in the tables of thyne hart:
4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and men.
5 Put thy trust in God with all thine hart: and leane not vnto thyne owne wit.
6 In al thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall order thy goynges.
7 Be not wise in thyne owne conceit: but feare the Lord, and depart from euyl:
B Esai.5.c.
8 So shall thy (a) nauel bee whole, and thy bones strong.
Rom.12.c
a. That is, the whole body
9 Honour the Lord with thy substaunce, and with the firstlings of all thyne encrease:
10 So shall thy barnes be fylled with plenteousnesse, and thy presses shall flowe ouer with sweete wine.
Tobi.4.b. Deut.26.a Mala.4.b
11 My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neyther fainte when thou art corrected of him:
Exod.23.c Exod.34.c
12 For whom the Lorde loueth, him he chasteneth, and yet delighteth in him, euen as a father in his owne sonne.
Hebr.12.b Apoc.3.d.
13 Well is him that findeth wisedome, and getteth vnderstanding:
14 For the marchaundise of it, is better than the marchaundise of siluer, and the gayne thereof (is better) than golde.
C
15 She is more worth than precious stones: and all the thinges that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto hir.
Pro.8.a.
16 In hir right hande is long life, and in hir left hand riches and honour.
17 Hir wayes are pleasaunt wayes, and al hir pathes are peaceable.
18 She is a tree of lyfe to them that lay hold vpon hir: & blessed is he that keepeth hir fast.
Gene.2.b.
19 With wisdome hath the Lord layde the foundation of the earth, and thorow vnderstanding hath he stablished the heauens.
20 Thorow his knowledge the deapthes are broken vp, and the cloudes drop downe the deawe.
21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thyne eyes, but keepe wisedome and vnderstanding:
D
22 So they shall bee lyfe vnto thy soule, and grace vnto thy mouth.
23 Then shalt thou walke safely in thy way, and thy foote shal not stumble.
24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraid: but shalt take thy rest, and sleepe sweetly.
Prou.1.d
25 Thou shalt not be afrayde of any sodaine feare, neither for the violent rushing in of the vngodly when it commeth.
26 For the Lord shall stande by thy side, and keepe thy fote, that thou be not taken.

27 Withdrawe no good thing fro them that haue neede, so long as thine hande is able to do it.
28 Say not vnto thy neyghbour, Goe thy way, & come again, & to morow wyl I giue thee: where as thou haste now to giue him.
29 Intende no hurt against thy neyghbour, seeing he hopeth to dwell in rest by thee.
30 Striue not with any manne without a cause, where as he hath done thee no harme.
Pro.1.a. 31 Folow not a wicked man, and chose none of his wayes:
32 For the Lorde abhorreth the froward: but his "counsayle is among the righteous.
"or, secret.
33 The curse of the Lorde is in the house of the vngodly: but he blesseth the dwellinges of the righteous.
34 As for the scornefull, doth he not laugh thē to scorne? but he giueth grace vnto ỹ lowly.
35 The wise shall haue honour in possession: but shame is the promotion that fooles shall haue.

The.iiij.Chapter.

1. VVisdome and hir fruites ought to bee searched. 14. The way of the wicked muste be refused. 20. By the word of God, the hart, eyes, and course of life must be guided.

A 1 HEare, O ye children, a fatherly instruction, and take good heede, that yee may learne vnderstanding.
2 For I haue giuen you a good doctrine, forsake not ye my lawe.
3 For when I my selfe was my fathers deare sonne, and tenderly beloued of my mother.
Deut.6.b 4 He taught me also, and sayd vnto me, Let thyne hart receiue my wordes, keepe my cōmaundementes, and thou shalt liue.
u.c.32.g. 5 Get thee wisdome, & get thee vnderstanding: forget not the wordes of my mouth, & thynke not from them.
6 Forsake hir not, and she shall preserue thee, loue hir, and she shal keepe thee.
B 7 The chiefe poynte of wisdome, is to possesse wisdome: and before al thy goodes, to get the vnderstanding.
Deut.26.D 8 Make muche of hir, and she shall promote thee, yea if thou imbrace hir, she shall bring thee vnto honour:
9 She shall beautifie thy head wt manyfolde graces, & garnish thee wt a crowne of glory.
10 Heare my sonne, and receiue my wordes and the yeeres of thy life shal be many.
11 I haue shewed thee the way of wisdome and led the into thee right pathes.
12 So that if thou goest in them, there shall no straitnesse hinder thee: and when thou runnest, thou shalt no fal.
13 Take fast hold of doctrine, and let hir not goe: keepe hir, for she is thy lyfe.
C Psal.1.a. and.27.a.
14 Come not in the pathe of the vngodly, and walke not in the way of the wicked:
15 Abhorre it, and goe not therein, depart a-syde, and passe ouer by it.
16 For they sleepe not except they haue done mischiefe: and sleepe is taken from them, vntil they haue done harme.
17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drynke the wine of robberie.
18 The pathe of the righteous shineth, as the light that is euer brighter and brighter vnto the perfect day.
19 But the way of the vngodly is as ỹ darknesse, they knowe not where they fall.
20 My sonne, marke my wordes, and encline thine eare vnto my sayings:
Deut.6.b and.11.c.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but
D keepe them euen in the middest of thine hart.
22 For they are lyfe vnto those that fynde thē and health vnto all their bodies.
23 Keepe thyne heart with all diligence, for out of it issueth lyfe.
24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and let the lippes of slaunder be farre frō thee.
25 Let thine eyes beholde that thing that is right, and let thyne eye lyddes looke straight before thee.
26 Ponder the pathe of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.
27 Turne not asyde, neyther to the right hād, Deut.5.b and.17.b.

Eccl.22.a. 30 Men do not vtterly despise a theefe that stealeth to satisfie his soule, when he is hungrie:

31 But if hee may bee gotten, he restoreth againe seuentimes as much, or else hee maketh recompēce with al the good of his house.

32 But who so committeth aduulterie with a woman, lacketh vnderstanding: and he that doth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He getteth him selfe a plague and dishonour, and his reproche shal neuer be put out:

Prou.2.b. and.11.a. woman, and from the forrayne woman which giueth sweete wordes.

6 For at the windowe of my house I loked throughe the windowe,

7 And beheld among the simple people, and B among ỹ children, a yong man voyd of wit,

8 Goyng ouer the streete by the corner in the way toward hir house,

9 In the twilight of the euening, when it began nowe to be night and darke:

10 And beholde, there met him a womā with Eccle.9.a. open tokens of an harlot, onely hir hart was hyd:

11 She was full of loude wordes, and redy to dally, whose feete could not abide in ỹ house:

12 Now is she without, now in the streetes, and lyeth in waite at euery corner.

13 She caught him, and kissed him, and was not ashamed, saying,

C 14 I had a vow of peace offrings to pay, and this day I perfourme it:

15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face, and so haue I found thee.

16 I haue decked my bedde with couerynge of tapestarie, and clothes of Egypt.

17 My bed haue I made to smell of Myrre, Aloes, and Cinamom.

18 Come let vs take our fyll of loue vntil the morning, and let vs solace our selues with the pleasures of loue.

19 For the good man is not at home, he is gon farre of.

20 He hath taken the bagge of money with him, and will returne at the appointed solemne feast.

21 Thus with many sweete wordes she ouer- D came him, and with hir flattering lippes she enforced him.

22 Sodaynely hee folowed hir, as it were an oxe led to the slaughter, and like as it were a foole (that laugheth) when hee goeth to the stockes to be punished,

23 So long till shee had wounded his liuer with hir dart: like as if a birde hasted to the snare, not knowing that the peril of his lyfe lyeth therevpon.

24 Heare me nowe therefore O my chylde, and marke the wordes of my mouth:

25 Let not thyne hart wander in hir wayes, and be not thou deceiued in hir pathes.

26 For many one hath she wounded and cast downe, yea many a strong man hathe bin slayne by the meanes of hir.

2 She standeth in the toppe of high places, by the way in the place of the pathes:

3 She crieth at the gates of the citie at the entrie of the doores:

4 Vnto you, O ye mē (sayth she) whō I cal, vnto ỹ children of mē do I lift vp my voice.

5 Take heede vnto knowledge, O ye ignoraunt, be ye wise in hart, O ye fooles.

6 Giue eare, for I wyll speake of great matters, and open my lippes to tell things that be right.

7 For my mouth shal be talking of the truth, B and my lippes abhorre vngodlynesse.

8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous, there is no frowardnesse or falshod in them.

9 They are al playne to such as will vnderstand, and right to thē that find knowledge.

10 Receiue my doctrine, and not syluer, and knowledge knowledge rather, than fyne golde:

11 For wisedome is more worth than pretious stones, yea all things that thou canst desire, may not be compared vnto it.
12 I wisdome dwel with counsel, and fynd out knowledge and vnderstanding.
13 The feare of the Lord abhorreth wickednesse, pryde, disdayne, and the euil way, and a mouth that speaketh wicked thinges I vtterly abhorre.
14 Counsell is mine, and direction, I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.
15 Through me kinges raigne, and princes make iust lawes.
16 By me princes beare rule, and noble men do iudge the earth.
17 I am louing vnto those that loue me: and they that seeke me early, shall finde me.
18 Riches and honour are with me, yea durable riches and righteousnesse.
19 My fruite is better than gold and precious stones, and myne encrease more worth than fyne siluer.
20 I wil guyde thee in the way of righteousnesse, and in the middest of the pathes of iudgement.
21 That I may stablish the inheritaunce of them that loue me, and encrease their treasure.
22 The Lorde himselfe had me in possession in the beginning of his wayes, or euer he began his workes afore time.
23 I haue bin ordayned from euerlastyng, and from the begynning or euer the earthe was made.
24 When I was borne, there were neyther deapthes nor springs of water.
25 Before the foundations of the mountaines were layde: yea before all hilles, was I borne:
26 The earth, and all that is vpon the earth was not yet made, no not the dust it selfe.
27 For when hee made the heauens, I was present, when he compassed the deapthes about:
28 When he hanged the cloudes aboue, when he fastened the springes of the deepe:
29 When hee shut the sea within certaine boundes, that the waters shoulde not goe ouer their markes that hee commaunded: when hee layd the foundations of the earthe.
30 I was by him ordering al things, delighting dayly and reioycing alway before him.
31 As for the round compasse of this world, I make it ioyfull: for my delight is to be among the children of men.
32 Therefore harken vnto me, O ye children, blessed are they that kepe my wayes.
33 O giue eare vnto nurture, be wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendaunce at the posies of my doores.
34 For who so findeth me, findeth life, and shal obteyne fauour of the Lord.
35 But who so offendeth against me, hurteth his owne soule: and they that hate me, are the louers of death.

The ix. Chapter.

2. Wisdome calleth all to hir feast. 7. The scorner will not bee corrected. 10. The feare of God. 13. The conditions of an harlot.

1 Wisedome hath buylded hir house, and hewen out seuen pillers:
2 She hath killed hir victuals, powred out hir wine, and prepared hir table:
3 She hath sent forth hir maydens, to crye vpon the highest place of the citie.
4 Who so is without knowledge, let him come hither: and to the vnwise she sayde,
5 O come on your way, eate my bread, and drinke my wine (which) I haue powred out for you.
6 Forsake foolishnesse, and ye shal liue: and see that ye goe in the way of vnderstanding.
7 Who so reproueth a scornefull person, getteth him selfe dishonour: and hee that rebuketh the vngodly, stayneth him selfe.
8 Reproue not a scorner, lest hee owe thee euyll wil: but rebuke a wyse man, and hee will loue thee.
9 Giue a discrete man but an occasion, and hee will bee the wyser: teache a righteous man, and he will encrease in knowledge.
10 The feare of the Lorde, is the beginning of wisdome: and the knowledge of holy things, is vnderstanding.
11 For thorow me thy dayes shalbe prolonged, and the yeeres of thy lyfe shalbe many.
12 If thou be wyse, thy wysedome shall do thy selfe good: but if thou thinkest scorne therof, it shalbe thyne owne harme.
13 A foolishe retcheleſſe woman ful of words, and such a one as hath no knowledge, 14 Sitteth at the dore of hir house, and in the high places of the citie,
15 To call suche as goe by, and that walke straight in their wayes.
16 Who so is ignorant (sayeth she) let hym come hither: and to the vnwise she sayth, 17 Stolen waters are sweete, and the bread that is priuily eaten, hath a good tast.
18 And he doth not consider that they are but dead whiche bee there, and that hir ghestes are in the deepe of hel.

The.x. Chapter.

In this chapter, and al that folow vnto the thirteth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, whiche he calleth parables, to folowe vertue, and flee vice, and sheweth also what profite cometh of wisdome, and what hinderaunce proceedeth of foolishnesse.

24 The thing that the vngodly is afrayde of, shal come vpon him: but the righteous shall haue their desyre.

25 As the tempest, so passeth away the vngodly and is not: but the righteous remayneth sure for euer.

26 As vineger is to the teeth, and as smoke is vnto the eyes: euen so is a sluggish person to them that sendeth him forth.

27 The feare of the Lord maketh a long lyfe: but ỹ yeeres of the vngodly shalbe shortned.

28 The patient abyding of the righteous shalbe turned to gladnesse: but the hope of the vngodly shall perishe.

29 The way of the Lord giueth courage vnto ỹ godly: but it is a feare for wicked doers.

30 The righteous shal neuer be ouerthrowen: Psal.37. but the vngodlye shall not remayne in the lande.

¶ The ende of the Prouerbes of Solomon.

The booke of the Preacher, otherwiſe called Eccleſiaſtes, which is Solomon the king.

For Solomon is called in Scripture by three ſundry names. The one Solomon, that is, the maker of peace. The ſecond Idida, that is, beloued of God. The third Eccleſiaſtes, that is, a Preacher, teaching that true and eternal felicitie cõſiſteth not in any worldly wiſedome, or abundance of riches, or in carnall pleaſure, which al be but vayne and tranſitorie: but he proueth that true felicitie conſiſteth in a whole ioyning oure ſelues to God by pure religion, that is, with a ſincere faith, and the feare of God, obſeruing his commaundementes.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

2. All things in this worlde are full of vanitie, and of none indurance. 13. All mans wiſedome is but follie and griefe.

THE wordes of the Preacher, the ſonne of Dauid king of Hieruſalem.

2 (a) All is but moſt vaine vanitie (ſayeth the Preacher) & all is moſte vayne (I ſaye) and but plaine vanitie.

3 For what (b) elſe hathe a man of all the labour that he taketh vnder the ſunne?

4 (c) One generation paſſeth awaye, another commeth: but the earth abideth ſtill.

5 (d) The ſunne ariſeth, the ſunne goth downe, and returneth to his place, that it maye there riſe vp againe.

6 The wynde goeth towarde the ſouth, and turneth vnto the Northe fetcheth his compaſſe, whirleth about, and goeth forthe, and returneth again to his circuites from whence he did come.

7 All floudes run into the ſea, and yet is the ſea it ſelfe not filled: for loke vnto what place the waters runne, thence they come to flowe agayne.

8 All things are ſo harde to be knowen, that no man can expreſſe them: (e) the eye is not ſatiſfyed with ſyghte, the eare is not fylled with hearing.

9 (f) The thing that hath bin, cõmeth to paſſe agayne, and the thing that hathe bin done, ſhall be done agayne: there is no new thing vnder the Sunne.

10 Is there any thing wherof it may be ſaid, Loe this is newe? for it was long agoe in the times that haue bin before vs.

11 The thing that is paſte, is oute of remembrance: euen ſo the thinges that are for to come, ſhall no more be thought vpon amõg them that come after.

12 I my ſelfe the Preacher was king of Iſraell at Hieruſalem.

13 And did applie my minde to ſeeke out and ſearche for knowledge of al thinges that are done vnder heauen: (g) ſuch trauell and labour hathe God giuen vnto the children of men, to exerciſe themſelues therin.

14 Thus haue I conſydered all theſe thynges that come to paſſe vnder the ſunne: and loe, they are all but vanitie, & vexation of minde.

15 (h) The crooked can not be made ſtraight, nor the imperfectiõ of things can be nũbred.

16 I communed with myne owne heart, ſaying, Loe I am come to greate eſtate, and haue gotten more wyſedome than all they that haue bin before me in Hieruſalem.

17 Yea my hart had great experience of wiſdome and knowledge: for therevnto I applyed my mind, that I might know what were wiſedome and vnderſtanding, what were errour and foliſhneſſe: and I perceyued that this alſo was but a vexation of minde.

18 For where much wiſedome is, there is alſo great trauayle and diſquietneſſe: & the more knowledge a man hath, the more is his care.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. Pleaſures, ſumptuous buyldings, riches, and poſſeſsions, are but vanitie. 14. The wiſe and the foole hath both one ende touching the bodily death.

1 THen ſaid I thus in my hart, Now goe to, (a) I will take mine eaſe, and haue good dayes: but loe, that is vanitie alſo.

2 Inſomuch, that (b) I ſayde vnto the man giuen to laughter, Thou art madde: and to myrth, What doeſt thou?

3 (c) So

2. He doth not condemne the creatures and gifts of God as euill: but the careful ſeking of them, and the pride and truſt that man hath in worldly things. He proueth by ſix reaſons, that true felicitie is not to be put in any worldly thing.

b. The firſt reaſon is, that nothing can be atteyned in this lyfe without laboure and care.

c. 2. Mans life is but ſhort & vncertain. And thoughe the earth it ſelfe continueth for a longer time, yet it cõmeth to an ende at the laſt.

d. 3. Neyther Aſtronomie, nor any other ſcience is perfectly knowen in this lyfe.

e. 4. Man in this lyfe is ſo deſirous to ſee and heare newes alwayes, that he is neuer ſatiſfyed nor contente with his eſtate

f. 5. The firſte clauſe is vnder ſtanded of things made by nature, the ſecond of things done by arte.

g. 6. It is the reward of the ſinne of our forefather Adã, that knowledge can not be attained to without great trauaile

h. Man is not able of his owne power to reforme that is amiſſe, and to ryſe vp from ſinne, nor to know his imperfection and weakeneſſe, to doe any thing that is good, without the grace of God.

He proueth by foure reaſons, that true felicitie conſiſteth not in any worldly pleaſure.

a. 1. Ther is no long contentation in any eaſe or pleaſure in his life.

b. 2. The mother of vayne pleaſure, and much laughter is fooliſhneſſe.

3 (c) So I thought in my heart to giue my flesshe vnto wine, and agayne to applye my mynde vnto wisedome, and to comprehende folishnesse: vntill the time that among all the things which are vnder ỹ sunne, I might see what were best for men to do so long as they liue vnder heauen.

4 (d) I made gorgeous fayre workes: I builded my houses, and planted vineyardes.

5 I made me orchardes and gardens of pleasure, and planted trees in them of al maner of fruites.

6 I made poles of water, to water ỹ grene and fruitefull trees withall.

7 I bought seruaunts and maidens, and had a great household: as for cattell and sheepe, I had more substance of them than al they that were before me in Hierusalem.

8 I gathered together siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of kings and landes: I haue prouided me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sonnes of me, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was greater and in more worship than al my predecessours in Hierusalem: for wisedome remayned with me.

10 And loke whatsoeuer mine eyes desired,
I let them haue it: and wherein soeuer my hart delighted or had any pleasure, I with-helde it not from it: thus my hart reioyced in all that I did, and this was my portion of all my trauayle.

11 But when I considered all the workes that my handes had wrought, and all the labour that I had taken therein: loe, al was but va-nitie and veration of minde, and nothing of any value vnder the sunne.

12 (e) Then turned I me to consider wise-dome, errour, and folishnesse (for what is he among men that might be compared to me the king in such workes?)

13 And I sawe that wisedome excelleth folishnesse, as farre as light doth darknesse.

14 For a wise man hath his eyes in his head, but the fole goeth in darknesse: I perceyued also that they both (f) had one ende.

15 Then thought I in my minde, if it happen vnto the fole as it dothe vnto me, what needeth me then to labour any more for wis-dome? So I confessed within my heart that this also was but vanitie.

16 For the wyse are euer as little in remembraunce as the folish: for the days shal come
(g) when all shalbe forgotten, yea the wyse man dyeth as well as the fole.

17 Thus began I to be weery of my lyfe, insomuch that I could away with nothyng that is done vnder the sunne: for al was but vanitie and veration of minde.

18 (h) Yea I was weery of my labor, which I had taken vnder the sunne, bycause I shuld be fayne to leaue them vnto another manne that commeth after me.

19 (i) And who knoweth whether he shalbe a wise man, or a fole? And yet shal he be lorde of all my labours which I with such wise-dome haue taken vnder the sunne: this is also a vayne thing.

20 So I turned me to refrayne my mynde from all suche trauayle as I toke vnder the sunne.

21 For somuch as a man should weery hymselfe with wisedome, with vnderstanding, and opportunitie, and yet be fayn to leaue hys labours vnto another that neuer sweate for them: this is also a vayne thing, and greate miserie.

22 For what getteth a man of all the labour and trauayle of his minde, that he taketh vnder the sunne?

23 But heauinesse, sorow, and disquietnesse all the dayes of his life? Insomuch that hys hart can not rest in the night: this is also a vayne thing.

24 (k) Is it not better then for a man to eate and drinke, and his soule to be merrie in hys labour? yea I sawe that this also was a gift of God.

25 For who will eate or goe more lustily to his worke than I?

26 And why? God giueth to the man that is good before him, wisedome, vnderstanding, and gladnesse: but vnto the sinner he giueth wearinesse, that he may gather and heape together the thing that afterward shalbe giue vnto hym whome it pleaseth God: thys is now a vayne thing, yea a very disquietnesse, and veration of minde.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. All things haue their time. 14. The woorkes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17. God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

1 (a) EVery thing hath a time, yea all that is vnder the heauen hath his conuenient season.

2 There is a time to be borne, and a time to die: there is a time to plant, and a tyme to plucke vp the thing that is planted.

3 A tyme to slay, and a tyme to make whole:
a tyme to breake downe, and a tyme to builde vp.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a tyme to gather stones together: a tyme to im-

h. That he might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

i. He rebuketh men that make carefull prouidence to enriche their heyres by vnlawfull meanes to their owne damnation, not knowing who or what they shal be, eyther good or euil.

D

k. As it is the blessing of god to obteyne ryches honestly, so is it no lesse blessing to refresh him selfe with the frutes thereof in measure. Of both which blessings Solomon confesseth hym selfe to haue tasted largely, and yet not happy therby.

I

a. Although true felicitie is not to be put in any worldly thing, yet God hath appointed all necessary things to be done in due time, order, and measure.

1. He that applyeth hymselfe to the studie of godly wisedome, may not haue too much pleasure in drinking of wine.

4. The more plentie of gorgeous buylding, apparell, riches, or worldly pleasure, the more vexation of mynde: and all is but vanitie in comparison of godly felicitie, as Solomon confirmeth of his owne experience.

B

e. God hathe appoynted that man should be obedient to godly reason, as to his king: and not to be led with carnal affection.

C

f. They both suffer like aduersitie in thys worlde: or as touching the corruption of the body, they dye both alike.

g. Meaning in this world.

brace, and a tyme to refrayne from imbra-cing.

6 A time to winne, and a time to lose: a time to spare, and a time to spende.

B 7 A time to cut in peeces, and a time to sowe together: a time to keepe silence, and a tyme to speake.

8 A tyme to loue, and a time to hate: a tyme of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What hath a man else that doth any thing, but weerinesse and labour?

b. God hath appointed that euery man shoulde diligently trauayl and take pains in his vocatiō, to the ende he woulde haue him humble, and feare God.

10 (b) For as touching the trauayle and care-fulnesse which God hath gyuen vnto men,
I see that he hath giuen it them to be exercised in it.

11 All this hathe hee ordeyned marueylous goodly, to euery thing his due time: He hathe planted ignorance also in the hartes of men, that they should not comprehend the ground of his workes which he doth from the beginning to the end.

12 So I perceiued that in those things there is nothing better for a man than to be merrie, and to do well as long as he liueth.

13 For all that a man eateth and drinketh, yea what so euer a man enioyeth of all his labour: that same is a gift of God.

C 14 I considered also that what so euer God doth, it cōtinueth for euer: And that nothing can be put vnto it, nor taken from it, and that God doth it to the intent that men should feare hym.

Eccle. 1. d.

15 The thing that hathe bin is now: and the thing that is for to come, hath bin afore time:
for GOD reserueth agayne the thing that was past.

16 Moreouer, I sawe vnder ỹ sunne vngod-linesse in the steede of iudgemente, and iniquitie in steede of righteousnesse.

c. There is no difference betwixt a man & a beast as touching the bodie, whiche of them both dieth: but the soule of man liueth immortally, and the bodie of man riseth vp again by the mightie power of the spirite of God.

17 Then thought I in my minde, God shall separate the righteous from the vngodly:
and then shalbe the time and iudgemente of al counsayles and workes.

18 I communed with mine owne harte also concerning the children of men, howe God hath chosen them, and yet letteth them ap-peare as though they were beasts.

19 (c) For it happeneth vnto men, as it dothe vnto beasts, euen one condition vnto them both: as the one dyeth, so dyeth the other, yea they haue both one manner of breath: so that in this a man hathe no preeminence aboue a beast, but are all subdued vnto vanitie.

d. The immortalitie of the soule is not knowen by carnall reason or sense: but by the woord and spirite of God.

20 They goe all vnto one place: for as they be all of dust, so shall they all turne vnto dust agayne.

21 (d) Who knoweth the spirite of "man that goeth vpwarde, and the breath of the beaste that goeth downe to the earth?

"or, of the children of men.

22 Wherefore I perceiue that ther is nothing better for a man, than to be ioyful in his labour, for that is his portion: But who wyll bring him to see the thing that shal come after hym?

The. iiij. Chapter.

1. The innocente are oppressed. 4. Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9. Mans societie is necessary. 13. A young man poore and wise, is to bee preferred before an olde king that is a foole.

1 SO I turned me, and considered all the violent wrong that is done vnder the sunne, and beholde the teares of such as were oppressed, and there was no man to comfort them, or that would deliuer and defend them from the violence of their oppressours. I Ibac. 1. d. Eccle. 5. b.

2 Wherefore I "iudged those that are dead, to be more happie than tho'e that be aliue: "or praysed.

3 (a) Yea him that is yet vnborne, to be better at ease than they both: bycause he seeth not the miserable workes that are done vnder the sunne. a. He speaketh heere according to the iudgement of the flesh, which can not wel bide perfection and trouble.

4 (b) Agayne, I sawe that all trauayle and diligence of labour that euery man taketh in hande, was done of enuie against his neighbour: This is also a vayne thing, and a vexation of minde. b. The more perfect the workes is, the more it is enuied of the wicked.

5 (c) The fole foldeth his hands together, and eateth vp his owne flesche. c. For idlenesse destroyeth himselfe.

6 One handfull (sayth he) is better with rest, than both the handes full with labour and trauayle of minde.

7 Moreouer I turned me, and beholde yet a- B nother vanitie vnder the sunne:

8 There is one man, no moe but hymselfe alone, hauing neyther childe nor brother, yet is there no ende of his carefull trauayle, nys eyes can not be satisfyed with riches: (yet sayth he not) for whome do I take such tra-uayle? For whose pleasure doe I thus consume away my life? This is also a vayne and miserable thing.

9 (d) Therefore two are better than one, for d. Mutuall societie is both comfortable & necessarie for mans life.
they may well enioy the profite of their labour: for if one of them fall, his companion helpeth him vp agayne.

10 But wo is him that is alone: for if he fal he hath not another to helpe him vp.

11 Againe, when two sleepe together, they are warme: but howe can a body be warme alone?

12 One may be ouercome, but two may make resistaunce: A three folde gable is not lightly broken.

13 A poore child being wise, is better than an olde king that doteth, "and can not beware in admonition. "or, and will not receiue in time to come.

14 Some one commeth out of prison, and is made a king: and another which is borne in the kingdome, commeth vnto pouertie.

15 And I perceiue that all men liuing vnder the sunne, (e) goe with the second child that shall stande vp in the steade of the other.

16 Is for the people that haue ben before him, and that come after him, they are innumerable, and they that come after him shal not (f) reioyce of him: This is also a vayne thing and veration of mynde.

17 When thou commest into the house of God, kepe thy foote, and draw nigh, that god which is at hande may heare that thou giue not the (g) offering of fooles: for they knowe nought but to do euil.

e. Men seeke rather to please and to come into fauour with him that shal succeede into the place of honour, than with him that doth occupy the present estate.

f. The people will not be long pleased with him that occupieth the place of honor.

g. We must directe our faith, prayer, and workes, by the word of God: and not by a blinde or wicked intent.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Not to speake lightly, chiefely in Gods matters. 9. The couetous can neuer haue ynough 11. The labourers sleepe is sweete. 14. Man whē he dieth, taketh nothing with him. 18. To liue ioyfully and with a contented mynde, is the the gyft of God.

1 BE (a) not hastie with thy mouth, and let not thyne hart speak any thing rashly before God: For God is in heauen, and thou vpon earth, therefore let thy wordes bee fewe.

a. Be not rashe in speaking of the maiestie of God: or in vowing and praying to God.

2 For where muche carefulnesse is, there are many dreames: and where many wordes are, there men may heare fooles.

3 If thou make a vowe vnto God, bee not slacke to performe it: As for foolishe vowes, he hath no pleasure in them: if thou promise any thing, pay it.

Deut. 22. c. Eccle. 6. c.

4 (b) For better is it that thou make no vow, than that thou shouldest promyse and not pay.

b. We ought to vowe those things the which tende to the glory of God & whiche are in our power to perform.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesshe for to (c) sinne, neither say thou before the angel, that it is thine ignorance: for then God wil be angry at thy voyce, and destroy al the worke of thine handes.

c. In promising that which thou art not able to performe. Or by intemperate eating and drinking, or by saying you sinned not voluntarily but of necessitie, making God the author of sin.

6 (d) And why? whereas are many dreames, and many wordes, there are also diuers vanities: but loke that thou feare God.

d. Dreames are not to be credited but God is to be feared.

7 If thou seest the poore to bee oppressed and wrongfully dealt withal, so that equitie and right of the lawe is wrested in the lande, marueyle not thou at suche a thing: for hee that (e) is higher than the highest regardeth, and there be higher than they.

e. Meaning that God wil redresse these things, and therefore we must depende vpon him.

8 (f) The increase of the earth vpholdeth all thing: yea the king him self is mayntayned by husbandrie.

f. The decay of husbandry is the decay of the prince.

9 Hee that loueth money, will neuer be satisfied with money, and hee that loueth riches, shalbe without the fruite thereof: This is also a vayne thing.

10 Whereas muche riches is, there are many also that spend them away: And what pleasure more hath he that possesseth them, sauing that he may loke vpon them with his eyes?

11 A labouring man sleepeth sweetly, whether it be little or much that hee eateth: but the abundaunce of the ryche will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 (g) Yet is there a sore plague whiche I haue seene vnder ỹ sunne (namely) riches kept to the hurte of him that hath them in possession:

g. A plage of the couetous man.

13 For oft times they perishe with his great misorie and trouble: and if he haue a childe, it getteth nothing.

14 Like as he came naked out of his mothers wombe, so goeth he thither again, and carieth nothing away with him of al his labour.

C Iob. 1. d 1. Tim. 6. b.

15 This is a miserable plague that hee shall goe euen as he came away: What helpeth it him then that he hath laboured in the wind?

16 (h) Al the dayes of his life also he did eate in the darke, with greate carefulnesse, sickenesse, and sorowe.

h. That is, in vayne, and without profit.

17 (i) Therefore me thinke it a better & a fayer thing, a man to eate and drinke, and to bee refreshed of al his labour that he taketh vnder the sunne, all the dayes of his life whiche God giueth him: for this is his portion.

i. Man by reason can comprehende nothing better in this lyfe than to vse the giftes of God soberly and comfortably for to know farther, is a special gyft of God reueled by his spirit.

18 For vnto whō so euer God giueth riches, goodes, and power, hee giueth it him to enioye it, to take it for his portion, and to be refreshed of his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 For he thynketh not much howe long he shall liue, forasmuch as God fylleth his hart with gladnesse.

The.vi. Chapter.

The miserable estate of him too whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace too vse them.

1 THere is yet a plague vnder the sunne, & it is a generall thing among men: when God giueth a man riches, goodes, and honour, so that hee wanteth nothing of al that his hearte can desyre, and yet GOD giueth him not leaue to enioye the same, but an other man spendeth them. This is a vayne thing, and a miserable plague.

A

2 If a man beget an hundred children, and liue many yeares, so that his dayes are many in number, and yet can not enioye his good,

a. The wicked couetous man by many kind of offences, wãteth the honor of a christian mans buriall, either by murdring himself, or by suche other kinde of offence.

(a) neither bee buried, as for him, I say, that vntimely birth is better than he.

3 For he commeth to nought, and spendeth his time in darkenesse, and his name is forgotten.

4 Moreouer hee seeth not the sunne, and knoweth not of it: and yet hath he more rest than the other.

5 Yea, though he liued two thousande yeeres, yet hath he no good life: Come not al to one place?

b. That is, to death, meaning that he is nothing better than the vntymely fruite, "or, for his mouth.

6 (b) All the labour that a man taketh, is for him "selfe, and yet his desire is neuer filled after his minde.

7 For what hath the wise more than the fole: What helpeth it the poore that (c) he knoweth to walke with foles before the liuing?

c. That is, that he knoweth how to vse his riches well in the iudgemẽt of the wyse.

8 (d) The cleare sight of the eye, is better than that the soule should walke after desires of ỹ lust: Howbeit, this is also a vayne thing, and a disquietnesse of mynde.

d. It is better to be content with that God hath giuen, thã to followe his desire that neuer will be satisfyed.

9 The thing that hath bin, is named alredy, & knowẽ ỹ it is euen mã himselfe, neither may he go to law wt̃ him (e) ỹ is mightier than he.

e. That is, with God, who wil teach him that he is mortall.

10 Many thinges there be that encrease vanitie, and what hath a man elle?

11 For who knoweth what is good for man liuing in the dayes of his vayne lyfe, whiche is but a shadowe? Or who will tell a man what shall happẽ after him vnder the sunne?

The. vij. Chapter.

Diuers preceptes too folowe that whiche is good, and too auoyde the contrary.

Pro. 22. a. Canti. 1. a.

1 A Good name is more worth than precious ointment: and (a) the day of death, is better than the day of byrth.

a. Bicause that this corporall death is the entring into lyfe euerlasting.

2 (b) It is better to goe into an house of mourning, than into a banketting house: for there is the ende of all men, and he that is liuyng taketh it to hart.

b. The house of mourning put vs in mind of death, and so to examine and amende our lyues.

3 (c) Grauitie is better than to laugh: for when the countenaunce is heauie, the hart is reformed.

4 The harte of the wise is in the mourning house: but the hart of the folishe is in the house of myrth.

c. The hart of a sinner is soner reformed by an angrie countenance, than by a smiling.

Pro. 17. a.

5 It is better to giue eare to the chastening of a wise mã, than to heare ỹ song of foles:

d. Thornes in the fire crackleth for a while, but they are soon gone out.

6 For the laughing of foles, is like the (d) cracking of thornes vnder a pot: and that is but a vayne thing.

7 The wise man hateth wrong dealing, and abhorreth the hart that coueteth rewards.

8 Better is it to consider the end of a thing, than the beginning: The patient of spirite, is better than the hygh minded.

9 Be not hastily angry in thy mynde: for wrath resteth in the bosome of foles.

10 (c) Say not thou. What is the cause that the dayes of the old tyme were better than they ỹ be now? for ỹ were no wise question.

e. Good dayes are not to be esteemed by prosperitie, but by verie and true religion, as the dayes of Christ are better than the former dayes of Moses.

11 Wisdome with inheritance is good, yet better is it with them that without care may beholde the sunne:

12 For wisedome defendeth as well as money, and the excellent knowledge and wisedome, giueth life vnto him that hathe it in possession.

13 Consyder the worke of God, howe that no man can make the thing (f) straight, which he maketh crooked.

f. No man can make him whom God hath pointed to be borne blinde or lame.

14 Vse wel the time of prosperitie, and remẽber the time of misfortune: for God doth so temper the one and the other, that a man (g) can fynde nothing els.

g. That no man can fynde faultes with gods doynges.

15 All things haue I considered in the time of my vanitie: that the (h) iust man perysheth for his righteousnesse sake, and the vngodly lyueth in his wickednesse.

h. Meaning that the cruell tyrants put to death innocente & the wicked.

16 (i) Therefore be thou neither too righteous, (k) nor ouer wise, that thou perishe not.

i. Follow not thy good intentions in those thinges which be contrary to Gods cõmandement, or punish not euery light fault with extremitie.

17 (l) Bee neither too vnrighteous also, nor too folyshe, lest thou dye before thy time.

k. Be not wise in thine owne conceipt.

18 It is good for thee to (m) take hold of this, and not to let that goe out of thy hand: For he that feareth God, commeth forth with them all.

2. Reg. 8. c. 2. Par. 6. g. Pro. 20. b. 1. Joh. 1. b.

19 Wisdome giueth more courage vnto the wise, than ten mightie men of the citie.

20 For there is not one iust vpon earth, that doth good, and sinneth not.

l. Depart quickely from that is wicked.

21 Take no heede vnto euery word that is spoken, lest thou heare thy seruant curse thee:

m. Take heede of these admonitions.

Iob. 28. c.

for thyne owne hart knoweth that thou thy selfe also hast oft times spoken euyl by other men.

22 All these thinges haue I proued in wisedome, for I thought to be wise, but she went farther from me than she was before: yea and so deepe, that I might not reach vnto hir.

23 I applyed my minde also vnto knowledge and to seeke & searche out science, wisdome, & vnderstanding, to knowe the folyshnesse of the vngodly, & the errour of dotyng foles.

24 And I founde that a woman is bitterer than death, the whiche hath cast abroade hir hart as a net that menne fishe with, and hir handes are chaynes: (n) Who so pleaseth God shall escape from hir, but the sinner wil be taken with hir.

Pro. 7. d.

n. A shrewde woman is escaped only by the grace of God.

25 Behold (saith the preacher) this haue I diligently searched out, and proued: One thing must be considered with an other, that a mã may come by knowledge which "as yet I seeke, and finde it not.

"or, my soule seeketh.

26 I

26 Among a thousand men I haue founde one, but (o) not one woman among al.

27 Loe this only haue I founde, that God made man iust and right: (p) but they sought many inuentions.

The.viij. Chapter.

2. To obey princes and magistrates. 17. The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

1 WHo is wise? who hath knowledge to make an aunswere? A (a) mans wisdome maketh his face to shine: but vnshamefastnesse putteth out of fauour.

2 Keepe the kings cõmaundemẽt, namely for the othe that thou hast made vnto God for the same.

3 (b) Be not hastie to go out of his sight, and see thou continue in no euill thing: for what so euer it pleaseth him, that doth he.

4 Like as when a king giueth a charge, his commaundement is mightie: Euen so, who may say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 Who so keepeth the commaundement, shal feele no harme: but a wise mans hart discerneth the time and iudgement.

6 For euery thing wil haue opportunitie and iudgement: and this is the thing that maketh men ful of carefulnesse and sorowe.

7 And why? a man knoweth not what is for to come: for who can tel him when it shalbe.

8 Neyther is there any man that hath power ouer the spirite to keepe stil the spirite, nor to haue any power in the time of death, nor that can make an end of the battayle, neither may vngodlynes deliuer thē yͤ meddle wal.

9 All these things haue I considered, and applyed my minde vnto euery worke that is vnder the sunne, how one man hath lordship vpon another to (c) his owne harme.

10 For I haue seene often yͤ vngodly brought to their graues, (d) and yet they haue returned into the citie againe: and (e) came from the place of holy men, which in the citie were growen out of memorie, as were those also that liued well: This is also a vaine thing.

11 (f) Bycause now that euil workes are not hastily punished, the hart of man giueth hym selfe ouer vnto wickednesse.

12 Bycause an euill person offendeth an hundred times, and god deferreth, giuing him long life, therefore I am sure that it shalgoe wel with them that feare God, whiche haue him before their eyes.

13 Againe, as for the vngodly it shal not bee wel with him, neyther shall he prolong his dayes: but euen as a shadowe, so shal hee bee that feareth not God.

14 Yet is there vanitie vpon earth: There bee iust men, vnto whom it happeneth as though they had the workes of the vngodly: Agayne, there be vngodly, with whome it goeth as though they had the workes of the righteous: This haue I called also a vayne thing.

15 Therefore I commend gladnesse, bycause a man hath no better thing vnder the sunne, than to eate and drinke, and to bee merry: (g) for that shall he haue of his labour, all the dayes of his life whiche God giueth hym vnder the sunne.

16 And so I applied my mind to learne wisdome, and to knowe the trauaile that is in the worlde, and that of suche a fashion, that I suffered not myne eyes to sleepe, neyther day nor nyght.

17 I vnderstoode of all the workes of God, but it is not possible for a man to attayne vnto the workes that are done vnder the sun: and though hee bestowe his labour to seeke them out, yet can he not reach vnto them: yea though a wise man would vndertake to knowe them, yet shal he not fynde them.

g. This he speaketh in the person of a carnal man.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. By no outward thing can man know whom God loueth or hateth. 11. No man knoweth his ende. 19. VVisdome excelleth strength.

1 FOr all these thinges purposed I in my mynde to seeke out: The righteous and wise, yea & their seruants also, are in the hand of God, (a) & there is no man yͤ knoweth either loue or hate, but al things are before thē.

2 It happeneth vnto one as vnto another, it goeth with yͤ righteous as wͤ the vngodly, (b) wͤ the good and cleane, as with the vncleane, with him that offreth, as wͤ him that offereth not: like as it goeth with the vertuous, so goeth it also with the sinner: as it happeneth vnto the periured, so happeneth it also to him that is afrayde to be forswoorne.

3 Among al thinges that come to passe vnder the sunne, this is a miserie, that it happeneth vnto all alike: This is the cause also that the harts of men are ful of wickednesse, and madde foolishnesse is in their hartes as long as they liue, vntil they dye.

4 And why? as long as a man lyueth, he hath an hope: for a quicke (c) dogge (say they) is better than a dead Lion.

5 For they that be liuing, knowe that they shall dye: but they (d) that be dead, knowe nothing, neyther deserue they any more, for their memorial is forgotten.

6 Also their loue, and their hatred, and their enuie, is nowe perished, neither haue they any more parte in the worlde in all that is done

a. By any outward thing in this life, no man knoweth whether he is loued or hated of God.

b. Prosperitie, and aduersitie, commeth in this life, as wel to the godly, as to the wicked.

c. This prouerbe is the saying of the Epicures, the which beleueth not the immortalitie of the soule.

d. Repentance after this lyfe is to late and vnprofitable.

done vnder the sunne.

B 7 (e) Goe thou thy way then, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wyne with a glad hart, for thy workes please God: Let thy garmentes bee alwayes white, and let thy head lacke no oyntment.

e. The wicked flatter themselues to be in Gods fauour, whatsoeuer they doe, for that they do abound in prosperitie.

8 Use thy selfe to liue ioyfully with thy wife, whom thou louest all the dayes of thy lyfe, which is but vaine, that God giueth thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for that is thy portion in this life, of all thy labour and trauaile that thou takest vnder the sunne.

Math.6.b.
Prou.5.c.

9 What so euer thou takest in hande to do, that do with all thy power: for in the graue that thou goest (f) vnto, there is neyther worke, counsayle, knowledge, nor wisdome.

f. There is no time of working or repentance after this lyfe.

10 So I turned me vnto other thinges vnder the sunne, and I sawe that in running, it helpeth not to bee swifte: in battayle, it helpeth not to be strong: to feeding, it helpeth not to be wyse: to ryches, it helpeth not to be a man of muche vnderstandyng: to bee had in fauour, it helpeth not to be cunnyng: (g) but that al lyeth in time and fortune.

g. Thus the wicked worldlings are deceiued, attributing to fortune that whiche is ordered by the secrete prouidence of God, for that the reward, according to mens doings, is not in this life, but chiefly in the life to come.

11 For a man knoweth not his time: but like as the fyshes are taken with the angle, and as the byrdes are caught with the snare: euen so are men taken in the perillous time, when it commeth suddenly vpon them.

12 (h) This wisdome haue I seene also vnder the sunne, and me thought it a great thing:

h. A prayse of wyse men.

13 There was a little citie, and a fewe men within it: so there came a great king and besieged it, and made great bulwarks against it.

C 14 And in the citie there was found a poore man, but he was wyse, which with his wisdome deliuered the citie, yet was there no body that had any respecte to suche a simple man.

15 Then sayde I, wisedome is better than strength: Neuertheless, a simple mans wisdome is dispised, and his wordes are not hearde.

16 A wise mans counsayle that is "folowed in scilence, is farre aboue the crying of a captayne among fooles.

"or, hearde.

3 Before the sunne, the light, the moone, and starres be darkned, and yer the clouds, turne agayne after the rayne:

4 (a) When the kepers of the house shal tremble, and when the (b) strong men shall bowe them selues, when the (c) mylners stand styll, because they be so fewe, and when the (d) sight of the windowes shal wax dymme:

5 When the (e) dores in the streetes shal bee shut, and when the (f) voyce of the mylner shal be layd downe, when men shal rise vp at the voyce of (g) the byrde, and when al the (h) daughters of musycke shall bee brought lowe:

6 When men shall feare (i) in high places, and be afrayde (k) in the streetes, when the (l) Almonde tree shall flory she, and be laden with the (m) grashopper, and when all lust shal passe: bicause man goth to his (n) long home, & the mourners goe about (o) streets:

7 (p) Or euer the syluer lase be taken away, and or the (q) golden vel be broken: Or the (r) potte be broken at the (s) well, and the (t) wheele broken vpon the (v) cesterne:

8 Then shall the dust be turned agayne vnto earth from whence it came, and the spirite shal returne vnto God who gaue it.

9 All is but vayne (sayth the preacher) all is but playne vanitie.

10 The preacher was yet more wise, and taught the people knowledge, he gaue good heede, sought out the ground, and set forth many parables: His diligence was to find out acceptable wordes, right scripture, and the wordes of truth.

11 For the words of the wise, are like prickes and nayles that goe through, of the (x) authours of gatherings (which) are giuen of one sheepehearde.

12 Therefore beware my son of that doctrine that is beside this: for to make many bookes, it is an endlesse worke, and to muche studie weeryeth the body.

13 Let vs heare the conclusion of all thinges: Feare God, and keepe his commaundements, for that toucheth al me. For God shal iudge all workes and secret thinges, whether they be good, or euil.

The Ballet of Ballets of Solomon, called in Latine, Canticum Canticorum.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The familiar talke and myſtical cõmunication of the ſpiritual loue betweene Ieſus Chriſt and his Churche. 6. The domeſticall enimies that perſecute the Churche.

a. The churche deſyreth the peace of Chriſt

1 OThat (a) he wold kyſſe mee with the kyſſes of his mouth: for thy loue is more pleaſant than wine, and that bycauſe of the good and pleaſaunt ſauour of thy moſt pretious baulmes.

b. Chriſts mercie is ſet forth by preaching.

2 (b) Thy name is a ſweete ſmelling oyntement when it is ſhed forth, therefore do the

c. The maydens, that is, they that are pure in hearte.

(c) maydens loue thee.

3 Draw thou me (vnto thee) we will runne after thee. The king hath brought me into his (d) priuie chambers: Wee wil, be glad and reioyce in thee, we thinke more of thy loue than of wine: they that be righteous loue thee.

d. Priuie chambers, that is, his ſecretes and miſteries.

e. Blacke thorough the ſpottes of ſinne & perſecution.

4 (e) I am blacke (O ye daughters of Ieruſalem) but yet (f) faire and wel fauoured, like as the tentes of the Cedarenes, and as the hangynges of Solomon:

f. Fayre thorough faith in the bloud of Chriſte.

5 Maruel not at me that I am ſo blacke, for why? the ſunne hathe ſhyned vpon me: my mothers children haue euil will at me, they made me the keeper of the vineyardes, but mine owne vineyard haue I not kept.

6 Tel me, O thou whom my ſoule loueth, where thou feedeſt the ſheep, where thou makeſt them reſt at the noone day: for why ſhal I be like him that goeth wrong about the flockes of thy companions?

g. After the doctrine of the Apoſtles. Exo. 14. c.

7 If thou know not thy ſelfe (O thou fayreſt among women) then goe thy way forth after the (g) foteſteps of the ſheepe, and feede thy goates beſide the ſhepeheardes tentes.

8 Vnto the hoſt of Pharaos charrets haue I compared thee, O my loue.

9 Thy cheekes and thy necke is beautifull as the turtles, and hanged with ſpangs & goodly iewelles, a neckbande of gold wil we make thee, with ſiluer buttons.

h. So long as the church followeth Chriſt, ſhe ſhall not erre from the true fayth of ſaluation.

10 (h) When the kyng ſytteth at the table, he ſhal ſmel my Nardus: a bundel of Myrrh is my loue vnto me, hee wil lye betwixt my breaſtes: a cluſter of Camphire in the vineyardes of Engaddi is my loue vnto me.

11 Oh how fayre art thou, my loue, Oh how fayre art thou? thou hall doues eyes. O how faire art thou my beloued, how wel fauoured art thou? Cantl.

12 Our bed is deckt with flowres, the ſeelings of our houſe are of Cedar tree, and our croſſe ioyntes of Cipreſſe.

The. ij. Chapter.

3. The Church deſyreth too reſt vnder the ſhadowe of Chriſte. 8. She heareth his voyce. 14. She is compared to the doue. 15. And the enimies to the foxes.

1 I Am the roſe of the feelde, and lillie of the valleys.

2 (a) As the Lyllie among the thornes: ſo is my loue among the daughters.

3 (b) Like as the apple tree among the trees of the woodde: ſo is my beloued among the ſonnes.

4 My delight is to ſyt vnder his ſhadowe, for (c) his fruite is ſweete vnto my throte.

5 He bringeth me into his wine celler, his bāner ſpreade ouer me, which is his loue.

6 Set about me cuppes of wine, comfort me with apples, for I am ſycke of loue.

7 His leafte hand lyeth vnder myne head, and his right hande ſhall embrace me.

8 (d) I charge you (O ye daughters of Ieruſalem) by the Roes and Hindes of the field, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touche hir, tyl ſhe be content hir ſelfe.

9 Me thinke I heare the voyce of my beloued: Loe, there commeth he hoppyng vpon the mountaines, and leaping ouer the little hilles.

10 My beloued is like a Roe, or a young Hart: behold, he ſtandeth behind (e) our wal, he loketh in (f) at the windowe, and peepeth through the grate.

11 My beloued anſwered, and ſayde vnto me, O ſtande vp my loue, my beautifull, and goe to thine owne: (g) for loe the winter is nowe paſt, the rayne is away and gone.

12 (h) The flowres are come vp in the fielde, y time of the byrdes ſinging is come, & the (i) voyce of the turtle doue is heard in our lād.

13 The fig tree bringeth forth hir figs and the vines beare bloſſomes, and haue a good ſmel.

14 D

14 O ſtande vp then, and come my loue, my beautiful, (and come I ſay) O my doue, out of the caues of the rockes, out of the holes of the wall, O let me ſee thy countenaunce, and heare thy voyce: for ſweete is thy voyce, and fayre is thy face.

15 Get vs (k) the foxes, yea the little foxes that hurt the vines: for our vines beare bloſſomes.

16 My loue is myne, and I am his, whiche fedeth among the lilies vntil the day breake, and til the ſhadowes be gone:

17 (l) Come againe, O my beloued, and be like as a Roe, or a young Harte vpon the wyde mountaynes.

The.iij. Chapter.

1. The Churche deſyreth to be ioyned inſparably to Chriſt hir husbande. 6. Hir deliuerance out of the wylderneſſe.

A

1 BY (a) nyght in my bedde I ſought him whom my ſoule loueth: yea diligently ſought I him, but I found him not.

2 I wil get vp (thought I) (b) and goe about the citie, in the wayes in al the ſtreetes will I ſeeke him whome my ſoule loueth: but when I ſought him, I found him not.

3 The watchemen alſo that goe about the citie, founde me (to whome I ſayd) Sawe ye not him whom my ſoule loueth?

4 So whē I was a little paſt them, I found him whom my ſoule loueth: I haue gotten hold vpon him, and wil not let him goe, vntil I bring him into my mothers houſe, and into hir chamber that bare me.

5 I charge you, O yee daughters of Ieruſalem, by the Roes and Hindes of the fielde, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touche hir, till ſhe be content hir ſelfe.

6 Who is this that commeth vp out (c) of the wylderneſſe like vapours of ſmoke, as it were a ſmell of Myrrhe, Frankincenſe, and al manner ſpices of the Apothecarie?

7 Beholde, about (d) Solomons bedſteede there ſtande threeſcore valiant, of the moſte mightie in Iſrael: They hold ſwords euery one, and are expert in warre.

8 (e) Euery man alſo hath his ſworde vpon his thygh, byeauſe of feare in the night.

9 King Solomon had made him ſelfe a palace of the wood of Libanus, the pyllers are of ſiluer, the couering of golde, the ſeate of purple, the ground is pleaſantly paued with loue, for the daughters of Ieruſalem.

10 Goe forth (f) (O ye daughters of Sion) and beholde king Solomon in the crowne wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his maryage, and in the day of the gladneſſe of his hart.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. The praiſes of the Churche. 7. She is without blemiſh in his ſight. 9. The loue of Chriſt towarde hir.

1 GHow (a) fayre art thou my loue, howe fayre art thou? thou haſt (b) doues eies, beſide that which lyeth hyd within: (c) Thy hearye lockes are lyke the wool of a flocke of Goates that be ſhowne vpon mount Gilead.

2 (d) Thy teeth, are like a flocke (of ſheepe) of the ſame bygneſſe whiche went vp from the waſhyng place, where euery one beareth two twynnes, and not one vnfruiteful among them.

3 Thy lippes are like a Roſe coloured riband, thy wordes are louely, thy cheekes are like a peece of a Pomegranate within thine heares.

4 (e) Thy necke is like the towre of Dauid, buylded with coſtly ſtones, lying out on the ſydes, whereupon there hang a thouſande ſhieldes: yea al the weapons of the giaunts.

5 (f) Thy two breſtes are like two twinnes of young Roes, which feede among roſes.

6 O that I might goe to the mountayne of Myrrhe, and to the hyl of Frankincenſe tyll the day breake, and till the ſhadowes be paſt away.

7 Thou art all fayre (O my loue) and no ſpot is there in thee.

8 Come to me from Libanus (O my ſpouſe) come to me from Libanus: looke from the toppe of Amana, from the toppe of Sanir & Hermon, from the Lions dennes, and from the mountaynes of Leopardes.

9 Thou haſt (with loue) bewitched my hart, O my ſyſter, my ſpouſe, thou haſt bewitched my hart with one of thine eyes, and with one chayne of thy necke.

10 O howe fayre are thy breaſtes, my ſiſter, my ſpouſe? Thy breſtes are more pleaſaunt than wine, and the ſmel of thine oyntmentes paſſeth al ſpices.

11 (g) Thy lippes, O my ſpouſe, drop as the hony combe, yea milke and hony is vnder thy tong, & the ſmel of thy garments is like the ſmel of Libanus.

12 (h) A garden well locked is my ſyſter, my ſpouſe: a gardē wel locked, and a ſealed wel.

13 The fruites that are planted in thee, are like a very paradiſe of Pomegranates with ſweete fruites, as Camphire, Nardus, and Saffron, Calamus, Sinamom, with all ſweete ſmelling trees, Myrrhe, Aloes, and al the beſt ſpices, a well of gardens, a well of liuing waters, whiche runne downe from Libanus.

f. He prayeth for the grace of the holye Ghost, towarde the Churche, without the which nothig can prosper in it.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Christ calleth his Churche to the participation of al his treasures. 2. She heareth his voice. 6. She confesseth hir nakednesse. 10. She prayseth Christ hir husbande.

I 1 I Am (a) come into my garden O my sister, my spouse, I haue gathered my myrre with my spice: I haue eate hony with my hony combe, I haue dronken my wine with my milke: Eate, O ye friendes, drinke and be mery, O ye beloued.

a. The gardin signifieth the church of God in the whiche Christe bestoweth his singular benefits

2 I am a sleepe, but my hart is wakyng: I heare the voyce of my beloued whē he knocketh, saying, Open to me, O my sister, my loue, my doue, my darlyng: for my heade is ful of deawe, and the lockes of my heare are ful of the night droppes.

3 I haue put of my coate, howe can I do it on agayne? I haue washed my feete, howe shal I syle them agayne?

4 My loue put in his hand at the hole, and my hart was moued within me.

5 I stode vp to open vnto my beloued, and my handes dropped with Myrre, and the Myrre ran down my fingers vpon the locks.

6 I opened vnto my beloued, but he was departed, and gone his way: Nowe when hee spake, my hart was gon: (b) I sought him, but I coulde not fynde him: I cryed vpon him, neuertheles he gaue me no aunswere.

b. Christ doth leaue his for a tyme, for that he woulde stir vp in them a greater desire of him.

7 So the watchmen that went about the citie, founde me, smote me, and wounded me: yea they that kept the walles toke away my kercheffe from me.

B 8 I charge you therefore, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, if yee finde my beloued, that yee tell him howe that I am sicke for loue.

9 What manner of man is thy loue aboue other louers, O thou fairest among women? Or what can thy loue doe more than other louers, that thou chargest vs so straitly?

10 As for my loue, he is whyte and redde coloured, a (c) goodly person amōg ten thousad.

c. The churche setteth forth Christ to be of most perfectiō and comlines.

11 His head is as the most fyne gold, the lockes of his heare are bushed, and blacke as a crowe.

12 His eyes are the eyes of doues by the water brookes, as though they were washed with milke, and are set like pearles in gold.

"Some reade and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheekes are like a garden bed, wherein the Apothecaries plante all maner of sweete things.

14 His lyppes are lyke Lillyes that droppe sweete smelling Myrre: his handes are like golde rings, hauyng inclosed the precious stone of Tharsis.

15 His body is as the pure Iuorie, deckt ouer with Saphires: his legges are as the pillers of Marble set vpon sockets of golde.

16 His face is as Libanus: and as the beautie of the Cedar trees.

17 The wordes of his mouth are sweete, yea he is altogether louely: such a one is my loue, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, such a one is my loue.

The.vi. Chapter.

2. The Churche assureth hir selfe of the loue of Christ. 3. The prayses of the Churche. 8. She is but one, and vndefyled.

1 WHither is thy loue gone then, O thou fayrest among women? whyther is thy loue departed, & wee wil seeke him wt thee?

I

2 (a) My loue is gone downe into his garden vnto the sweete smelling beddes, that hee may refreshe him selfe in the garden, and gather Lillies.

a. Christ is ueriles Church is dine his Sp

3 My loue is myne, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lillies.

4 Thou art beautifull, O my loue, as is (the place) Thirza, thou art fayre as Jerusalem, feareful as an armie of men with their banners.

5 Turne away thine eyes from me, for they haue set me on fyre: thy heerie locks are like a flocke of goates shorne vpon the mounte of Gilead.

for, set me.

6 Thy teeth are like a flocke of shorne sheepe which go out of the washing place, where euery one beareth twynnes, and not one vnfruitfull among them.

7 Thy cheekes are like a peece of a pomegranate within the lockes of heare.

8 (b) There are threescore queenes, fourescore wiues, and damsels without number.

B

b. There many in the Churche of God, & di orders and grees there

9 (c) One is my doue, one is my darling: she is the onely beloued of hir mother, and deare vnto hir that bare hir: when the daughters saw hir, they sayde shee was blessed, yea the queenes and wiues praysed hir.

c. Diuers particular Ch ches diffe maketh but one Catho Churche.

10 What is she this that looketh forth as the morning, fayre as the moone, cleare as the sunne, and feareful as an armie of men with their banners?

11 (d) I went downe into the nut garden, to see what grewe by the brookes, and to loke if the vineyard flourished, or if the pomegranates were not forth.

d. Christ looketh vpon Churche to iect to affliction, what fruite it bringeth.

12 I knew not that my soule had made me the chariot of ỹ people that be vnder tribute.

13 Turne agayne, turne agayne, O thou perfect one, turne agayne, turne agayne, and we wee wyll loke vpon thee: what will ye see in the (e) Sulamite? She is lyke men of war singing in a companie.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. The beautie of the Churche in all hir members. 10. She is assured of Christes loue towards hir.

1 HOw pleasaunt are thy treadings with thy shoes, thou princes daughter? the ioynte of thy thighes are like a faire iewel, which is wrought by a cūning workmaster.

2 Thy (a) nauel is like a round goblet, which is neuer without drinke.

3 Thy (b) wombe is like a heape of wheate that is set about with Lillies.

4 (c) Thy two breastes are like two twinnes of young Roes.

5 (d) Thy necke is as it were a towre of Iuorie: thyne (e) eyes also are lyke the water pooles that are in Hesebon, beyde the port of Bathrabbim, thy (f) nose is lyke the towre Libanus, which lokyth toward Damascus.

6 (g) That heade that standeth vpon thee is lyke Carmel: and the heare of thy head is lyke purple, and lyke a king dwelling among many water conduites.

7 O how fayre and louely art thou my darlyng in pleasures?

8 Thy stature is like a (h) paulme tree, and thy breastes lyke the grapes.

9 I sayd, I will climbe vp into the Paulme tree, and take hold of his high branches.

10 (i) Thy breastes also shal bee as the wine clusters, the smel of thy nosethrilles like as the smel of apples,

11 And the roofe of thy mouth like the beste wine, whiche is meete for my best beloued, pleasant for his lips, & for his teeth to chawe.

12 I am my beloueds, and he shal turne him vnto me.

13 O come on my loue, we will goe forth into ỹ field, & take our lodging in the villages.

14 (k) In the morning will we goe see the vineyarde, we will see if the vine be sprong forth, if the grapes bee growen, and if the pomegranates be shot out.

15 (l) There will I giue thee my breastes: the Mandragoras giue their sweete smell, and beside our dores are all maner of pleasant fruites both new and old, which I haue kept for thee, O my beloued.

The.viij. Chapter.

2. The churche will be taught by Christ. 3. She is vpholden by him. 16. The vehement loue wherwith Christ loueth hir. 11. She is the vine that bringeth foorth fruite too the spirituall Solomon, which is Iesus Christ.

1 O That (a) I might finde thee without, and kisse thee, whom I loue as my brother whithe suckt my mothers breastes, and that thou shalt not be despised,

2 I will leade thee, and bring thee into my mothers houses, that thou mightest teache me and that I might giue thee drinke of the spiced wine, and of the sweete sap of my pomegranates.

3 His (b) left hande shall be vnder my heade, and his right hand shal imbrace me.

4 I charge you, O ye daughters of Ierusalem, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch hir, tyl she be content hir selfe.

5 (What is she this that cometh vp from the wilderneste, and leaneth vpon hir loue?) I wake thee vp among the apple trees where thy mother conceiued thee, where thy mother (I say) brought thee into the world.

6 (c) O set me as a seale vpon thine heart, and as a seale vpon thine arme: for loue is mightie as the deathe, and gelousie as the hel.

7 His coales are coales of fyre, and a very vehement flambe (of the Lorde:) so that many waters are not able to quench loue, neyther may the streames drowne it: yea if a man would giue all the good of his house for loue, he should count it nothing.

8 (d) Our sister is but young and hath no breastes: what shall we do for our syster when she shalbe spoken for?

9 (e) If she be a wal, we shal buylde a syluer bulwarke therupon: if she bee a dore, wee shal fasten hir with bordes of Cedar tree.

10 I am a wal, and my breasts like towres: then was I as one that hath founde fauour in his sight.

11 Solomon hath a vineyarde at Baalhamon: and this vineyard deliuered bee vnto the keepers, that euery one for the fruite therof shoulde giue him a thousand peeces of siluer.

12 My vineyarde whiche is myne, is in my sight: thou (O Solomon) must haue a (f) thousande, and the keeper two hūdred, which kepe the fruite.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, (g) O let me heare thy voyce, that my companions may harken to the same.

14 (h) O get thee away my loue, and be as a Roe or a young Hart vpon the sweete smelling mountaynes.

¶ The first Chapter.

2. The prophet accuseth the sinnes of the people, namely of ingratefulnesse, stubbornnesse, 11. faythlesse seruice of God, 14. and sheweth Gods terrible iudgement against them, vnlesse they repent.

A

a. A reuelation, or prophecie.

THe (a) vision of Esai the sonne of Amos, which hee sawe vpon Juda and Jerusalem, in the dayes of Uzia & Joathan, Achaz and Jehezekiah, kings of Juda.

2 Heare, O heauens, and harken, O earth: for the Lorde hath spoken, I haue nourished and brought vp children, and they haue done vnfaythfully against me.

3 The Oxe hath knowen his owner, and the Asse his maisters cribbe: (but) Israel hath not knowen, my people hath giuen no heed.

4 Ah, sinneful nation, a people laden with iniquitie, a seede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lord, they haue prouoked the holy one of Israel vnto anger, they are gone backwarde.

5 Why should ye be striken any more? (for) ye are euer falling away: euery head is diseased, and euery heart heauie:

6 Fro the sole of the foote, vnto the head, there is nothing sounde in it: (but) woundes, blaynes, and putrifying sores: they haue not bin salued, neither wrapped vp, neither mollified with the oyntment.

B 7 Your land is wasted, your cities are burnt vp, straungers deuoure your land before your face, and it is made desolate, as it were the destruction of enimies (in the time of warre)

8 And the daughter of Sion shall be left as a cotage in a vineyarde, lyke a lodge in a garden of Cucumbers, like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lorde of hostes had left vs a smal remnaunt, we should haue bin as Sodoma, and like vnto Gomorra.

10 Heare the worde of the Lorde ye lords of Sodoma, and hearken vnto the lawe of our God, thou people of Gomorra.

b. God hateth al maner of seruice and workes seeme they neuer so good and holy, when they be done without faith, and pure nesse of mind.

11 Why offer ye so many sacrifices to me, wil the Lorde say? I am full of the burnt offerings of weathers, and of the fatnesse of fed beastes, (b) I haue no pleasure in the bloud of bullockes, lambes, and goates.

12 When ye come to appeare before me, treading in my courtes, who hath required this at your handes?

13 Offer me no mo oblations, for it is but lost labour: incense is an abominable thing vnto me, I may not away with your newe mones, your sabbothes and solemne meetings, your solemne assemblies are wicked.

C

14 I hate your newe mones, and appoynted feastes, euen from my very hart, they make me weery, I can not abyde them.

15 When you holde out your handes, I will turne myne eyes from you: and though ye make many prayers, yet I wil heare nothing at al, seeing your hands are ful of bloud.

16 Washe you, make you cleane, put away your euill thoughtes out of my sight: ceasse from doing of euil.

17 Learne to do wel, apply your selues to equitie, deliuer the oppressed, help the fatherlesse to his right, let the wyddowes complaint come before you:

18 And then goe to, sayth the Lorde, Let vs talke together: though your sinnes be as red as scarlet, they shal be as white as snow: and though they were like purple, they shal be as whyte as wool.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shal eate the good of the lande:

20 But if ye be obstinate and rebellious, ye shal bee deuoured with the swoorde: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken (it.)

D 21 How happeneth it then that the righteous citie which was full of equitie, is become vnfaythful as a whore? Righteousnesse dwelt in it, but nowe murderers.

22 Thy syluer is turned to drosse, and thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are wicked, and companions of theeues: they loue giftes altogether, and gape for rewardes: As for the fatherlesse they helpe him not to his right, neyther will they lette the wyddowes causes come before them.

24 Therefore sayth the Lord God of hostes, the mightie one of Israel: Ah, I must ease me of mine enimies, and auenge me of mine aduersaries:

25 And I shall laye my hand vpon thee, and purely purge awaye thy drosse, and take away al thy tinne:

26 And set the iudges agayne as they were sometimes, and thy senatours as they were from the beginning: and then thou shalt bee called the righteous citie, the faithfull citie.

27 Sion shall be redemed with equitie, and hir conuertes with righteousnesse.

28 But the transgressours, and the vngodly, and suche as forsake the Lorde, shal altogither be vtterly destroyed.

29 For yee shal bee confounded for the trees whiche yee haue desyred: and ye shal be ashamed of the gardens that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shall be as a tree whose leaues are fallen away, and as a garden that hathe no moysture.

31 And the very strong one (of your idols) shal be as towe, and the maker of it as a sparke (of fire) and they shall both burne togither, and no man quenche them.

The.ij. Chapter.

1. A prophecie of Christe and his kingdome. 12. pryde, couetousnesse, superstition, and idolatrie are reproued. 17. Gods terrible iudgemēt against these.

1 THe selfe same word that Esai the sonne of Amos sawe vpon Juda and Jerusalem.

Christe, his kingdome, and his wordes.

2 And (this) shall come to passe in the latter dayes: the hyll of the Lords house (a) shalbe prepared in the height of the mountayns, and shalbe higher than the hilles, and all nations shall preace vnto him.

3 And a multitude of people shall goe, speaking (thus one to another) Come, let vs ascende to the hill of the Lorde, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will instruct vs of his wayes, and we wil walke in his pathes: for out of Sion shall come a lawe, and the word of the Lorde from Jerusalem.

4 And shall giue sentence among the Heathen, and shall reformme the multitude of people: they shall breake their swordes also into mattockes, and their speares to make sythes: and one people shall not lyft vp a weapon against another, neyther shal they learne to fight from thencefoorth.

5 Come yee, O house of Jacob, and let vs walke in the light of the Lorde:

6 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, (b) bycause they bee replenished (with euils) from the East, and with sorcerers like the Philistines, and in straunge children they thinke themselues to haue ynough.

b. The causes why God forsaketh his people is idolatry heathenish superstition, couetousnes, and trust in other things than in God alone.

7 Their land is full of syluer and gold neyther is there any end of theyr treasure: their land is also ful of horses, and no end is there of their charrettes.

8 Their lande also is full of vayne goddes, and before the worke of their owne handes they haue bowed them selues, yea euen before the thing that their owne fingers haue made.

9 There kneeleth the man, there falleth the man downe (before them) therefore forgiue them not.

10 Get thee into the rocke, and hyde thee in the ground, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glorie of his maiestie.

11 The high lokes of men shall be brought lowe, and the hautynesse of men shall bee bowed downe: and the Lorde alone shal bee exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lorde of hostes (shal be) vpon all the proude, loftie, and vpon all that is exalted, and he shalbe brought low:

13 And vpon all high and stoute Cedar trees of Libanus, and vpon all the okes of Basan, 14 And vpon all the high mountaines, and vpon all the high hilles.

15 And vpon euery hygh towre, and vpon euery fenced wall,

16 And vpon all the shippes of Tharsis, and vpon all pictures of pleasure.

17 And the pride of mā shal be brought down and the loftynesse of men shall bee made lowe, and the Lorde alone shal be exalted in that day:

18 As for the idols he shal vtterly abolish:

19 And they shall creepe into holes of stone, and into caues of the earth, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glorie of his maiestie, whē he ariseth to destroy (the wicked ones of) the earth.

20 In the selfe same day shal man cast away his goddes of syluer, and his goddes of gold into the holes of Howles and Backes, which he neuertheless had made to him selfe to honour them.

21 And they shall creepe into the clyftes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the hard stones for feare of the Lorde, and for the glorie of his maiestie, when he ariseth to destroy (the wicked ones of) the earth.

22 Cease therefore from man in whose nosethrilles there is breath: for wherein is he to be accompted of?

The.iij. Chapter.

1. The mischiefes that God sendeth on common weales for the contempt of his worde. 14. The couetousnesse of rulers reproued. 16. The proude niceneſſe of women punished to their shame.

1 FOr loe, the Lorde God of hostes doth take away from Jerusalem and Juda all manner of staye, all staye of meate and drinke,

a. The prudent that is, ſuch as can foreſee by their prudēcie. things to come

2 The captaine and the ſouldiour, the iudge and the prophet, the (a) prudent and the aged man.
3 The captayne of fyftie, and the honorable, the ſenatour, the cunning artificer, and the eloquent oratour.
4 And I ſhall giue children to be their princes, and babes ſhal rule ouer them,
5 And the people ſhall eche one of them violently oppreſſe another, and euery one againſt his neyghbour: the boy ſhal preſume againſt the elder, and the perſone of lowe degree againſt the honourable.
6 Yea one ſhall take a friende of his owne kynred by the boſome, and ſay, Thou haſte clothing, thou ſhalt be our head, and ſlay this ruine with thy hande.
B 7 Then ſhall he ſweare, and ſay, I can not helpe you: there is neyther meat nor clothing in my houſe, make me no ruler of the people.
8 For Ieruſalem and Iuda muſt decay, becauſe that both their wordes and counſayles are againſt the Lord, to prouoke the preſence of his maieſtie to anger.
6 Their very countenaunce bewrayeth them, yea they declare their owne ſinnes (them ſelues) as Sodome, they hide it not: Wo be to their owne ſoules, for they haue rewarded euyll vnto them ſelues.
10 Say to the righteous that it ſhal go well with them: for they ſhal eat the fruite of their owne ſtudies.
11 (But) wo be vnto the wicked, for it ſhalbe euil with him: for he ſhal be rewarded after his owne workes.
12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women rule ouer them: O my people, thy leaders deceiue thee, and corrupt the way of thy forefathers.
13 The Lorde is here to commune of the matter, and ſtandeth to iudge the people.
C 14 The Lorde ſhall enter into iudgement with the elders and princes of his people, (and ſhal ſay to them) It is ye that haue burnt vp my vineyarde, the ſpoyle of the poore is in your houſes.
15 What meane ye that ye bray (as in a morter) my people, and grynde the faces of the poore, ſayth the Lord God of hoſtes?
16 Moreouer the Lorde hath ſayde, Seeyng the daughters of Sion are waxen proude, and walke with ſtretched forth neckes, and wanton lookes, going and tripping nitely, and tinckling with their feete:
17 Therfore ſhall the Lorde ſmite the heads of the daughters of Sion, and ſhal diſcouer their filthyneſſe.
18 In that day ſhall the Lord take away the gorgiouſneſſe of the attyre about their feete, and the caules, and the round tyres (after the faſhion of the moone,) 19 The ſweete perfumes, and the bracelets, and the muffelers, 20 The bonets, and the ſlops, and the headbandes, and the tablets, and the eareringes.
21 And rings, and noſe iewels:
D 22 The coſtly apparell, and the vayles, and the wimples, and the criſping pinnes, 23 And the glaſſes, and the fyne linnen, and the hoodes, and the lawnes.
24 And in ſteede of good ſmell, there ſhall be ſtincke, and in ſteede of their girdle, a rent, and for wel ſet heare, there ſhal be baldneſſe, in ſteede of a ſtomacher, a ſackclothe, and (ſunne) burning for beautie.
25 Thy men ſhall periſh with the ſword, and thy valiant ſouldiours in the battaile (O Ieruſalem,) 26 And hir gates ſhal mourne and bewayle: and ſhe being deſolate, ſhall ſitte vpon the grounde.

The. iiij. Chapter.

1 The miſerie of the ſtubburne. 3. A promiſe of Gods fauour to the reſidue.

1 AND that day, ſeuen women ſhall take hold of one mā, ſaying, we will find our owne meate and apparel, onely let vs be called by thy name, to take our ſhamefull reproche (from vs)
(a) In that day ſhal the budde of the Lorde be beautiful & glorious, and the fruite of the earth ſhalbe excellent and pleaſant, for them that are eſcaped of Iſrael.
3 Then ſhal the remnaunt in Sion, and the remnaunt at Ieruſalem bee called holy: (namely) all ſuche as are written among the liuing in Ieruſalem,
4 (b) After that the Lord hath waſhed away the filthy ſtate of the daughters of Sion, and hath purged the bloud out from Ieruſalem in the ſpirite of iudgement, and in the ſpirit of fyre.
5 And vpon all the dwellings of the hilles of Sion, and vpon hir congregations, the Lord ſhal create a cloude and ſmoke by day, and the ſhyning of a flamyng fyre by night: for all the (c) glory ſhalbe preſerued.
6 And there ſhall bee a tabernacle for a ſhadowe in the day tyme from the heate, and a ſafe place and refuge from weather and rayne.

a. The [illegible] natiō of Chriſt is the [illegible] the faithfull

b. They [illegible] ned, whoſe ſinnes are remitted & waſhed away in the bloud of Chriſte.

c. Chriſte will preſerue and defende the glorie, that is the faithfull in all [illegible] & temptatiō

b. Their [illegible] ne, their [illegible] and hen [illegible] perſona[illegible]

The.v. Chapter.

1. Of Christ & his vineyard.8. with an execratiō of couetousnesse,11. drunkennesse, 19. and contempt of Gods word.

I 1 NOw wil I sing my beloued friende, a song of my friende touching his vineyarde: My beloued friende hath a vineyard in a very fruitefull plenteous grounde.

2 This he hedged, & gathered out the stones, from it, and planted it with the choysest vine: In the middest of it buylded he a towre, also made a wyne presse therein: (a) and he loked that it shoulde bring him grapes, and it brought forth wylde grapes.

3 Nowe, O citizen of Jerusalem: and man of Juda, iudge, I praye thee, betwixt mee and my vineyarde:

4 What more coulde haue bin done for it that I haue not done? Wherfore then hath it giuen wylde grapes, where I loked to haue had grapes of it?

5 Wel, nowe I shal tell you how I wil do with my vineyarde: I will take the hedge from it, that it may perish, and breake down the wal therof, that it may be troden vnder foote.

6 I wil lay it waste, it shall neyther be digged nor cut, but beare thornes and bryers: I will also forbyd the cloudes that they shal not rayne vpon it.

B 7 As for the vineyarde of the Lord of hostes, it is the house of Israel, and the man of Juda, the plante of his pleasures: of these hee loked for equitie, but see, there is oppressiō for righteousnesse, and loe, it is a crying.

8 Wo vnto them that ioyne one house to another, and bring one lande so nygh vnto another, that there is no more place: Wyll yee bee placed alone in the myddest of the earth?

9 These thinges are in the eares of the Lorde of hostes: of a truthe greate and fayre houses shalbe without any dweller in them.

10 And ten acres of vines shal giue but a quart, and thirtie bushels of seede shal giue but an Epha.

11 Wo be vnto them that rise vp early to folowe drunkennesse, continuyng vntil night, till they be set on fyre with wine.

12 In theyr feastes are harpes and Lutes, Tabrettes and Pipes, and wine: but they regarde not the worke of the Lord, and consider not the operation of his handes.

13 Therefore commeth my folke into captiuitie, bycause they haue no vnderstanding: (b) their glorie is famished with hunger, and their multitude dryed vp with thirst.

14 Therefore gapeth hell, and openeth hir C mouth maruellous wide, that their glorie, multitude, and wealth, with suche as reioyce in hir, may descende into it.

15 Thus hathe man a fall, and is brought lowe, and the high loke of ỹ proude shalbe layde downe.

16 But the Lorde of hostes shalbe exalted in iudgement, and God that is holy, is sanctified in righteousnesse.

17 Then shall the sheepe eate as they were wont, and the riche mens landes that were layde waste, shall straungers deuour.

18 Wo be vnto them that drawe wickednesse with cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as it were with a cart rope:

19 Whiche vse to speake on this manner, Let him make speede and hasten his worke, that we may see it: let the counsell of the holy one of Israel come, and draw nigh, that we may knowe it.

20 Wo be vnto them that cal euyl good, and good euyl, whiche make darkenesse light, and light darkenesse, that make sowre sweete, and sweete sowre.

21 Wo bee vnto them that are wise in their D owne sight, and thinke themselues to haue vnderstanding.

22 Wo bee vnto them that are strong to sup out wyne, & expert mē to set vp drunkennes.

23 Wo be vnto them that giue sentence with the vngodly for rewardes, but condemne the iust cause of the righteous.

24 Therfore like as fyre licketh vpō ỹ straw, and as the flame consumeth the stubble: euen so their rote shal be a corruption, & their blossome shall vanishe away like dust: for they haue cast away the lawe of the Lord of hostes, and despised the word of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled againste his people, and hathe stretched forth his hand vpon them, yea he hath smitten them: and the hylles did tremble, and their carkases dyd lye torne in the open streetes: and in al this the wrath of God hath not ceassed, but his hand stretched out still.

26 And he shall giue a token to a people of a far countrey, and shal hisse vnto them from the ende of the earth: and behold they shall come hastily with speede.

27 There shal not be one faynte nor feeble among them, no not a sluggishe nor sleepie persone: there shall not one of them put off his girdle frō his loynes, nor lose the latchet of his shoe.

28 His arrowes are sharpe, and al his bowes E bent: his horse hoofes are as flint, & his cart wheeles like a whirle winde.

a God loketh to receiue of his people the thankefull fruites of faith, and not the displeasaunt workes of ruthlesse ingratitude.

b. Their glorie, their noble and honorable personages.

29 His crye is as it were of a Lion, and hee roareth lyke Lions whelpes: they ſhall roare and haunche vpon the praye, and no man ſhall recouer it, nor get it from them

c. The land of Iuda ſhal be ouerwhelmed with miſerable affliction.

30 In that day he ſhal be ſo fierce vpon hym as the raging of the ſea: then one ſhal behold the (c) lande, and loe darkeneſſe and ſorow, & the light is darkened in the heauens therof.

The.vi Chapter.

1. Eſai ſawe the glorie of the Lord. 9. And was ſent to prophecie the deſolation of Iurie.

A 1 IN the yeere that king Oziah dyed, I ſawe alſo the Lord ſitting vpon an high and glorious ſeate, and his trayne fylled the temple.

2 And about him ſtode Seraphims, whereof one had ſixe wings, wt twayn eche couered his face, wt twayn his feet, & wt twain did he flee.

3 They cryed alſo eche one to another on this manner, Holy, holy, holy is the Lorde of hoſtes: the whole earth is ful of his glorie.

4 And the lintels of the dore cheekes moued at his crying, & the houſe was ful of ſmoke.

5 Then ſayde I, Wo is me, for I am loſt, in as muche as I am a man of vncleane lips, & dwell among people that hath vncleane lippes alſo: for myne eyes haue ſeene the king, y Lord of hoſtes.

6 Then flewe one of the Seraphims vnto me, hauing a hot coale in his hande, whiche hee had taken from the aulter with the tongs,

B 7 And layde it vpon my mouthe, and ſayde, Loe, (this) hath touched thy (a) lippes, and thine vnrighteouſneſſe ſhal be taken away, and thy ſinne forgiuen.

a. Gods ſacraments are not bare ſignes, but with the ſigne and the word, the matter ſignified, is exhibited to the faithful.

8 Alſo I hearde the voyce of the Lorde on this manner: Whom ſhal I ſende, and who will be our meſſenger? Then I ſayde, Here am I, ſend me.

9 And he ſayde, Goe and tell this people: heare in deede, yet vnderſtande not, ye ſhall playnely ſee, and yet perceiue not.

10 Harden the harte of this people, ſtop their eares, and ſhut their eyes: leſt they ſee with their eyes, heare with their eares, and vnderſtande with their hartes, and conuert, and be healed.

11 Then ſpake I, Lorde, how long? He anſwered, Untill the cities bee vtterly waſted without inhabiters, and the houſes without men, & tyll the lande alſo be vtterly deſolate.

12 For the Lorde ſhall put the men farre away, and (there ſhal be) greate waſte in the middeſt of the land.

13 Yet in it ſhall ſuccede ten kinges, and it ſhall returne, and bee afterwarde waſted: (but) as the Teyle tree and the Oke in y fal of their leaues haue yet the ſap remayning in them, (euen ſo) the holy ſeede ſhal be the ſtay thereof.

The.vij. Chapter.

1 The Syrians moue battayle againſt Ieruſalem. 14. A virgine ſhal beare a childe.

1 IT happened in the time of Ahaz the A ſonne of Iotham, whiche was the ſonne of Uziah king of Iuda, that Razin the king of Syria, and Pecah the ſonne of Romeliah king of Iſrael, wente vp towarde Ieruſalem to beſiege it: but Razin was not able to winne it.

2 Nowe when the (a) houſe of Dauid heard woorde thereof, that Syria and Ephraim was confederate together, his harte quaked, yea and the hartes alſo of his people, like as when the trees of the wood are moued with the winde.

a. Dauids houſe that is, Ieruſalem.

3 Then ſayde God vnto Eſay, Goe meete Ahaz, thou and thy ſonne Sear Iaſub, at the head of the ouer powle in the fortepath by the Fullers ground,

4 And ſay vnto him, Take heede to thy ſelfe, and be ſtyll, feare not, neither be fayntharted, for theſe two tayles, that is, for theſe two ſmoking fyre brandes, the wrath and furiouſneſſe of Razin the Syrian, and Romelies ſonne.

5 Becauſe that the Syrian, Ephraim, & Romelies ſon haue wickedly conſpired againſt thee,

6 Saying, Wee wil goe vp againſt Iuda, vexe them, and bring them vnder vs, and ſet a king there, euen the ſonne of Tabel:

B 7 Thus ſayth the Lord God thereto, It ſhall not ſo goe forth, neyther ſo come to paſſe.

8 For the heade citie of the Syrians is Damaſcus, but the heade of Damaſcus is Razin: and after threeſcore and fiue yeeres ſhall Ephraim be no more a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, but y head of Samaria is Romelies ſon: if ye beleeue not, ſurely ye ſhall not be eſtabliſhed.

10 Moreouer, God ſpake againe vnto Ahaz, ſaying:

11 Require to thy ſelfe a token of the Lorde thy God, whether it bee toward the deapth beneath, or toward the heygth aboue.

12 Then ſayd Ahaz, I will require none, neither wil I tempte the Lorde.

13 The prophet anſwered, Then heare ye of the houſe of Dauid: Is it not ynough for you that ye be greeuous vnto menne, but ye muſt greeue my God alſo?

C 14 Therefore the Lorde him ſelfe ſhall giue you a token: behold, a virgine ſhal conceiue and beare a ſonne, and ſhall call his name Emmanuel.

15 Butter and hony ſhall hee eate, vntyll he knowe to refuſe the euil, and chooſe the good.

16 For or euer the child come to knowledge to eſchewe the euill, and chooſe the good, the land that thou ſo abhorreſt, ſhall be deſolate of both hir kings.

17 The Lorde alſo ſhall ſende a time vpon thee, vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers houſe, ſuche as neuer came ſince the tyme that Ephraim departed from Juda, namely through the king of the Aſſyrians.

18 For at the ſame tyme ſhall the Lorde hiſſe for the flyes that are about the water of Egypte, and for the bees in the Aſſirians land:

19 Theſe ſhall come, and ſhall light all in the deſolate valleys, in the holes of ſtones, and vpon all thorne and buſhie places.

20 At the ſame time ſhal the Lorde ſhaue the (b) heare of the head, and the feete, and the beard cleane off, with the raſer that he ſhall hyre beyonde the waters, namely with the king of Aſſyrians.

21 At the ſame time ſhall a man nouriſhe a young Cowe, and two ſheepe.

D 22 Then bycauſe of the abundance of milke that they giue, he ſhal eate butter: ſo that euery one whiche remayneth in the land, ſhal eate butter and honey.

23 At the ſame tyme all vineyardes, wherein there ſhal be a thouſand vines, worth a thouſande ſyluerlings, ſhall be turned to bryers and thornes.

24 They ſhall come into the lande with arrowes and bowes, bycauſe all the lande ſhal become bryers and thornes.

25 As for all hylles that ſhal be digged with the mattocke, there ſhal not come vpon them any feare of briers and thornes: but the cattell ſhall bee dryuen thither, and the ſheepe ſhall feede there.

b. The heare of the head & the beard, the princes and men of auctoritie, the feete, the common ſort of people.

The. viij. Chapter.

8. The deliueraunce of the lande by Emmanuel. 14. The ſtone of offence, at which many ſhal ſtumble.

A 1 MOreouer, the Lorde ſayde vnto mee, Take thee a great roule, and write in it as men do with a pen: Make haſtie ſpeede to rob, and haſt to the ſpoyle.

2 And I called vnto me faithful witneſſes to recorde, Uriah the prieſt, and Zacharíah the ſonne of Barachiah.

3 After that went I vnto the prophetiſſe, and ſhe conceiued and bare a ſonne: then ſayde the Lorde to me, Giue him his name, a ſpeedy robber, an haſtie ſpoyler.

4 For why? or euer the chylde ſhall haue knowledge to crye my father and mother, ſhal the riches of Damaſcus, and the ſpoyle of Samaria, be taken away before the king of the Aſſyrians.

5 The Lorde ſpake alſo vnto me againe, ſaying.

6 Forſomuche as the people refuſeth the ſtyll running water of Silo, & put their delight in Razin and Romelies ſonne:

7 Beholde, the Lord ſhall bring mightie and great flouddes of water vpon them, namely the king of the Aſſyrians with al his power, whiche ſhal climbe vp vpon all his flouddes, and run ouer al his bankes. B

8 And ſhall breake in vpon Juda, hee ſhall flowe and paſſe through, tyll he come vp to the necke therof: he ſhal fyl alſo the wideneſs of thy lande w̄ his winges, O Emmanuel.

9 Breake downe, O ye people, (a) and ye ſhall be broken downe, hearken to all ye of farre countreys: muſter you, and you ſhal be broken downe, prepare you, and you ſhal bee torne in peeces.

a. Mans policie and deuice without God preuayleth not 10 Take your counſel together, yet ſhal your counſel come to nought: determine the matter, yet ſhall it not proſper: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lorde ſpake thus to me in a mightie propheſie, (b) and warned mee that I ſhould not walke in the way of this people, ſaying:

b. Affiance is to be put in God, and not in mans policie or helpe.

12 Ye ſhal not ſpeake (words) of conſpiracy in al thinges, when this people ſhall ſay cõſpiracie: feare them not, neyther be afrayde of them.

13 But ſanctifie the Lord of hoſtes let him be your feare and dread.

14 For he ſhalbe the holy place to flee to, and ſtone to ſtumble at, the rocke to fall vpon, a C ſnare and net to both the houſes of Iſrael, and the inhabiters of Jeruſalem:

15 And many among them ſhall ſtumble, and fall, and be broken, yea they ſhal be ſnared and taken.

16 Bind vp the teſtimonie, ſeale the lawe in my diſciples.

17 (c) And I wil wayte vpon the Lorde that hydeth his face from the houſe of Jacob, and I wil looke for him.

c. The works of Chriſt.

18 But loe, as for me, and the children which the Lord hath giuen me, we are to be a token and a wonder in Iſrael from the Lorde of hoſtes, whiche dwelleth vpon the hyl of Sion.

19 And if they say vnto you, Aske counsell at the sothsayers, wytches, charmers, and coniurers: (then make them this answere) Is there a people any where that asketh not counsell at his God? should men runne vnto the deade for the liuing?

n. We must seeke in Gods word what to folow, for in meanes without gods word there is no lyght.

20 Get thee to the law, (d) and the testimonie: and if they speake not after this word, there is no light in them.

21 And they shall wander through this land hardly bestead and hungry, and when they suffer hunger, they will bee out of pacience, and curse their king and their God, and shall loke vpwarde and downeward to the earth:

22 And beholde there is trouble and darkenesse, dymnesse is rounde about him, and he shalbe driuen into darkenesse.

23 Neuertheleſſe, the darkenesse shal not bee such as was in hir veration, when at the fyrst hee lightly afflicted the lande of Zabulon, and the lande of Nephthali, and afterward did more greeuously afflict hir by the way of the sea beyond Iordane in Galilee of the heathen.

The. ix. Chapter.

He prophesieth of Christes natiuitie and dominion.

A 1 The people that walked in darkenesse, haue seene a great lyght: As for them that dwell in the lande of the shadowe of death, vpon them hath the lyght shyned.

2 Thou hast multiplied the people, and not encreased their ioy: they reioyce before thee, euen as men make mery in harueſt, and they bee ioyful as men that do diuide the spoyle (after the victorie.)

3 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, the staffe of his shoulder, and the rod of his oppressour, as in the day of Madian.

4 And truely euery battayle that the warrier maketh, is done with confused noyse, and defiling their garmentes with bloud: (but this battayle) shal bee with burning and consumyng of fyre.

a. Christe his kingdome, and his names.

5 For vnto vs a (a) chylde is borne, and vnto vs a sonne is giuen, vpon his shoulder dothe the rule lye, and he is called with his owne name, Wonderfull, the giuer of counsell, the mightie God, the euerlasting father, the prince of peace.

6 He shall make no ende to encrease the rule and peace, and shall syt vpon the seate of Dauid: and in his kingdome, to order the same, and to stablishe it with equitie and ryghteousneſſe frō henceforth for euermore: this shal the zeale of the Lord of hostes bring to passe.

7 The Lorde sente a word into Iacob, the same is come into Israel. B

8 And al the people of Ephraim shal know, and they that dwell in Samaria, that say with pryde and bygh stomackes (on this manner.)

9 The tyle worke is fallen downe, but wee will buylde it with squared stones: the Mulberrie tymber is broken, but we shall set it vp agayne with Cedar.

10 But the Lord shal strengthen the enimies of Razin, and ioyne his aduersaries together against him:

11 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behind, and shall deuour Israel with open mouth. After all this is not the wrath of the Lord ceased, but yet his hande stretched out stil.

12 For the people turneth not vnto him that chastiseth thē, neyther do they seeke the Lord of hostes.

13 Therefore hath the Lord rooted out of Israel both head and tayle, bough and reede in one day.

14 By the heade, is vnderstand the Senatour and honourable man: and by the taile, the prophete that preached lyes. C

15 For the guides of this people are deceiuers, and those that be gouerned are vtterly lost.

16 Therefore shall the Lorde haue no pleasure in theyr young men, neyther haue pitie of theyr fatherleſſe and widowes: for they are altogether hypocrites and wicked, and al their mouthes speake folly: After al this is not the Lordes wrath ceased, but yet his hād is stretched out still.

17 For vngodlyneſſe burneth as a fyre, and shall deuour briers and thornes, and it shall burne as in the thicket of a wood, and (the wicked) aduaunce themselues, as the smoke is caried vp.

18 Through the wrath of the Lorde of hostes is the land ful of darkneſſe, and the people be consumed as it were with fire: no man doth spare his brother.

19 But hee robbeth on the right hande, and doth kampfhe, he eateth on the left hand, and he shall not haue ynough: euery man shall eate the flesh of his owne arme.

20 Manasses (shal eate) Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasses, & they both together shal eate Iuda: After all this is not the Lordes wrath ceassed, but yet his hand stretched out still.

The

The.x. Chapter.

1. He threatneth the oppressours of the poore.
12. And prophesieth against Sennacherib.

A 1 WOe be vnto them that make vnrighteous lawes, and that causeth their actuaries to write grieuousnesse,

2 Wherethrough the poore are put from theyr right, and my seelie people robbed of iudgement, that widowes may be their pray, and that they may robbe the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye do in the time of visitation, and when destructiō shall come from farre? to whome will ye runne for helpe? and wher will you leaue your glory?

4 That when I withdrawe my hande, yee come not among the prisoners, nor lye amōg the dead? After all this dothe not the wrath of the Lorde ceasse, but yet is his hande stretched out still.

5 O Assur which art the staffe of my wrath, in whose hand is the rodde of mine indignation.

6 I will send him among those hypocritishe people: among the people that haue deserued my displeasure will I send him, that he vtterly robbe them, spoyle them, and tread them downe like the mire in the streete.

B 7 Howbeit his meaning is not so, neyther thinketh his hart on this fashion: but he imagineth howe he maye rote out and destroye much people.

8 For he sayth, Are not my princes al kings?

9 Is not Chalno as easie to winne, as Charchamis? Is it harder to conquere Hamath, than Arphad? or is it lighter to ouercome Damascus, than Samaria?

10 (As who say) I were able to winne the kingdomes of the idolaters and their Gods, but not Hierusalem and Samaria.

11 Shall I not doe vnto Hierusalem and hir images, as I did vnto Samaria and hir idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to passe, that as sone as the Lord hath performed his whole worke vppon the hill of Sion and Hierusalem, then will I visite the fruite of the stoute hart of the king of Assyria, with his proude lookes.

13 For he standeth thus in his owne conceyt, Thys do I through the power of mine own hande, and through my wisdome: for I am wise, I am he that remoue the landes of the people, I rob their treasure, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants lyke a valiant man.

C 14 My hande hath founde out the strength of the people, as it wer a nest: and like as egges that were layd here and there, are gathered together, so do I gather all countreys, and there was none (so bolde) as to moue the wing, that dare open his mouthe, or once whisper.

15 Shall the axe boast him selfe against hym that heweth therewith? or shal the saw make anye bragging against him that ruleth it? that were euen like as if the rodde did exalte him selfe against him that beareth it, or as though the staffe should magnifie it selfe (as who say) it were no wood.

16 Therefore shal the Lord the God of hosts send amōg his fatlings, leannesse, and burne vp his glory as it were with a fyre.

17 And the light of Israel shalbe that fire, and his holy one shalbe the flame: and it shal kindle and burne vp his thornes and bryers in one day.

18 Yea all the glory of his woods and fieldes shalbe consumed with body and soule, and they shalbe as an host of men, whose standerd bearer fayleth.

19 The trees also of his wood which remaine, shalbe of such a number that a child may tel them.

20 After that day shall the remnaunt of Israell, and such as are escaped out of the house of Jacob, seeke no more comforte at him that smote them: but vnfaignedly shall they trust vnto the Lord, the holy one of Israell.

21 The remnant, euē the posteritie of Jacob, D shall conuert vnto God the mightie one.

22 For though thy people, O Israell, be as the sande of the sea, yet shall the remnaunt of thē conuert vnto him: The decreed cōsumption ouerfloweth with righteousnesse.

23 And therefore the Lorde of hostes shal perfectly fulfill the thing that he hath determined, in the midst of the whole world.

24 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God of hostes, Thou my people that dwellest in Sion, be not afrayde for the king of the Assirians: he shall smite thee with a rodde, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee, as the Egyptians did sometime.

25 But very sone after shall my wrath and indignation be fulfilled in the destruction of them:

26 Moreouer, the Lord of hostes shall stirre vp a scourge for him, like as was the slaughter of Madian vpon the rocke Oreb, and as the destruction of the Egyptians when hee lifted vp his rodde vpon the sea.

27 Then shall his burden be taken from thy shoulders, and his yoke from thy necke, yea the same yoke shalbe destroyed because of the vnction.

28 He shall come to Aiath, and go through E towarde Migron, at Michmas shall he lay vp his harneſſe.

29 They ſhall goe ouer the ford, Geba ſhall be their reſting place, Rhama ſhal be afrayd, Gibea Saul ſhall flee away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, giue eare to Laiſa thou poore Anathoth.

31 Madmena ſhall tremble for feare, but the Citizens of Gabim are manly.

32 Yet ſhal he remayne at Nob that day: after that ſhall he lift vp his hand againſte the mount of the daughter Sion the hil of Hieruſalem.

33 But ſee, the Lorde God of hoſtes ſhall breake downe the bough with feare, he ſhall hewe downe the proude, and fell the hygh minded.

34 The thickettes alſo of the wood ſhall bee rote out with iron, and Libanus ſhal haue a fall through the mightie.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. He propheſieth of the natiuitie of Chriſte, and of his people. 6. Of the remnaunt of Iſrael. 10. And of the fayth of the heathen or Gentiles.

A

1 AND there ſhall come a ſprigge forthe of the (a) ſtemme of Eſay, and a yong ſhote ſhall growe out of his rote.

a. Chriſt ſhall be borne of the ſeede of Eſaye.

2 The ſpirite of the Lord ſhall reſt vpon him, the ſpirite of wiſedome and vnderſtanding, the ſpirite of counſayle and ſtrength, the ſpirite of knowledge and of the feare of the Lorde,

3 And ſhall make him of deepe iudgement in the feare of God: For he ſhall not giue ſentence after the thing that ſhal be brought before his eyes, neyther reproue after the hearing of his eares:

4 But with righteouſneſſe ſhall he iudge the poore, and with equitie ſhall he reſourme the ſimple of the worlde, and hee ſhall ſmite the world with the rodde of his (b) mouthe, and with the breath of his mouthe ſhall he ſlaye the vngodly.

b. The armour of Chriſte, and of his kingdome.

5 Righteouſneſſe ſhall be the girdle of hys loynes, and faythfulneſſe the gyrding vp of his reynes.

6 The Wolfe ſhall dwell with the Lambe, and the Leoparde ſhall lye downe by the Goate: Bullockes, Lions, and cattell ſhall keepe company together, ſo that a little child ſhall leade them.

B 7 The Cowe and the Beare ſhall feede together, and their young ones ſhall lye together: the Lion ſhall eate ſtrawe lyke the Oxe or the Cowe.

8 The chylde whyle he ſucketh ſhall haue a deſyre to the Serpentes neſt, and when he is weaned, he ſhall put his hand into the Cockatrice denne.

9 No man ſhall doe euill vnto another, no, no man ſhall deſtroye another in the hyll of my holyneſſe: for the earth ſhal be full of the knowledge of the Lorde, euen as the ſea floweth ouer with water.

10 And in that daye ſhall the Gentiles enquire after the rote of Ieſſe, whiche ſhall be ſet vp for a toke vnto the people, and his reſt ſhall be glorious.

11 At the ſame time ſhall the Lorde take in hand agayne to recouer the remnaunt of his people, which ſhalbe left aliue, from the Aſſyrians, Egyptians, Arabians, Morians, Elamites, Chaldees, Antiochians, and from the Ilandes of the ſea, 12 And he ſhall ſet vp a token amõg the Gentiles, and gather together the diſperſed of Iſraell, yea and the outcaſtes of Iuda from the foure corners of the world.

13 The hatred of Ephraim alſo, and enimies of Iuda, ſhall be cleane rooted out: Ephraim ſhall beare no euill will to Iuda, and Iuda ſhall not vexe Ephraim.

14 But they both together ſhall flee vpon the ſhoulders of the Philiſtines towarde the weſt, and ſpoile them together that dwel toward the Eaſt: the Edomites and the Moabites ſhal come vnder their handes, and the Ammonites ſhall be obedient vnto them. C

15 The Lorde alſo ſhall cleane the tongues (c) of the Egyptians ſea, and with his mightie winde ſhall he lift vp his hand ouer Nilus, and ſhall ſmite his ſeuen ſtreames, and make men goe ouer drie ſhod.

c. The tongue, that is, the arme of the ſea, that bendeth the ſtage.

16 And thus ſhall there be a way for his people that remayneth from the Aſſyrians, lyke as it happened to the Iſraelites what tyme they departed out of the land of Egypt.

The.xij. Chapter.

4. The ſong of the Churche for the obteyning of the victorie, and ouercomming of the world.

1 AND in that day thou ſhalt ſay, O Lord, I will praiſe thee, for thou waſt diſpleaſed at me: but refrayne thou from thy wrath, and comfort me.

2 Behold, God is my ſaluation, in whom I will truſt, and not be afrayde: for the Lorde God is my ſtrength and (my) ſong, he alſo is become my ſaluation:

3 Therefore with ioy ſhall ye drawe water out of the welles of ſaluation:

4 And then ſhall yee ſay, Giue thanks vnto the Lorde, call vppon his name, declare hys workes among the people, keepe them in remembraunce byance for his name is excellent.

5 O sing prayses vnto the Lorde, for hee hath done great things, as it is knowne in all the worlde.

6 Crie out, and sing, thou that dwellest in Sion: for great is the holy one of Israell in the middest of thee.

The.xiij. Chapter.

He prophesieth the destruction of Babilon, the captiuitie and the comming againe of the people.

I 1 THis is the (a) burden of Babilon, which Esay the sonne of Amos did see.

a Burden, that is the prophetie.

2 Lift vp the Banner vpon the high hill, call vnto them, wagge your hande, that they maye goe into the Gates of the Princes.

3 I haue commaunded my sanctified, I haue also called my valiant ones, ioying in mine honour to execute my wrath.

4 There is a noyse of a multitude in the mountaynes, like as of a great people, a rushing as though the kingdomes of the Nations came togither: the Lorde of hostes mustereth his armie to battaile.

5 They come out of a farre countrey from the ende of the heauen, euen the Lorde himselfe with the ministers of his wrath, to destroy the whole lande.

6 Mourne ye for the day of the Lorde is at hand, and shall come as a destroyer from the almightie.

B 7 Therefore shal all handes be letten downe, and all mens hearts shall melt away.

8 They shall stand in feare, carefulnesse, and sorrow shall come vpon them, and they shal haue paine, as a woman that trauelleth with childe: One shall bee abashed of another, and their faces shall burne lyke the flame of fire.

9 Beholde, the day of the Lorde shall come terribly, and full of indignation, furie, and wrath, to make the lande waste, and to rote out the sinners thereof.

10 For the starres and planettes of heauen shall not giue their light, the sunne shall bee darkened in the rysing, and the moone shall not shine with hir light.

11 And I will visite the wickednesse of the worlde, and the sinnes of the vngodly. The highe stomackes of the proude will I take away, and will lay downe the boasting of the tyrant.

12 I wil make a man dearer than fine gold, and a woman to be more worth than a golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heauens, and the earth shall remoue out of hir place, in the wrath of the Lorde of hostes, and in the day of his fearefull indignation.

14 And (Babylon) shall be as an hunted or C chased Doe, and as a sheepe that no man taketh vp: Euery man shall turne to his owne people, and flee eche one into his owne land.

15 Who so is founde shall be shot through: and whoso taketh their part, shall bee destroyed with the sworde.

16 Their children shalbe slain before their eies: their house spoyled, & their wiues rauished.

17 For loe, I shall bring vp the Medes against them, which shall not regarde siluer, nor be desirous of golde:

18 With bowes shall they destroy the yong men, & haue no pitie on women with childe, and their faces shall not spare the children.

19 And Babylon, that glorie of kingdomes, and beautie of the Chaldees honour, shall be destroyed, euen as God destroyed Sodome and Gomor.

20 It shall not endure for euer, neyther shall there bee any more dwelling there from generation to generation: The Arabians shall pitch no tents there, neither shall the sheepeheards make their folds there any more.

21 But fearefull wilde beastes shall lie there, D and the houses shalbe full of great Owles, Estriges shall dwell there, and Apes shall daunce there.

22 Wilde cattes shall crie in the palaces, and Dragons shall be in the pleasaunt houses: And as for Babylons time it is at hande, and hir dayes shall not be prolonged.

The.xiiij. Chapter.

1. The returne of the people from captiuitie, the prosperitie of the people of God, and affliction of their enimyes. 13. The pride of Babylon.

1 BVt the Lorde will be mercifull vnto I Jacob, and will yet chose Israell againe, and set them in their owne lande, straungers shall cleaue and get them to the house of Jacob.

2 The people shall take them, and cary them home to their owne lande: and the house of Israell shall possesse them in the land of the Lorde, that they may be seruants and bandmaydes, and they shall take those prisoners whose captiues they had bin before, and rule those that had oppressed them.

3 When the Lorde shall bring thee to rest from thy trauaile, feare, and hard bondage that thou wast laden withall:

4 Then shalt thou vse this mockage vpon the king of Babylon, and say, Howe hath ceased peneth it that the oppreſſour leaueth off? Is the golden tribute come to an ende?

5 The Lorde hathe broken the ſcepter of the vngodly, and the rod of the lordly,

6 Which when he is wroth, ſmiteth the people with continuall ſtrokes, and in wrath raigneth ouer the heathen, whome he perſecuteth without compaſſion.

B 7 And therefore the whole world is now at reſt and quietneſſe, and men ſing for ioy.

8 Yea euen the Firre trees and Cedars of Libanus reioyce at thy fall, ſaying, Nowe that thou art layd downe, ther come no moe vp to hewe downe vs.

9 Hell alſo beneath trembleth to meete thee at thy comming, and for thy ſake hath rayſed his dead, all mightie men and princes of the earth, all kings of the earth ſtande vp from their ſeates,

10 That they maye all aunſwer and ſpeake vnto thee, Art thou become weake alſo as we? Art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe and thy pride is layd downe into the pit, and ſo is the melodie of thy inſtruments. Wormes be layde vnder thee, and wormes be thy couering.

12 Howe art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, thou fayre morning childe? Howe haſt thou gotten a fall euen to the ground, which didſt weaken the nations?

13 For thou ſaydeſt in thine hearte, I wyll climbe vp into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue, beſyde the ſtarres of God, I will ſit alſo vppon the mount of the congregation toward the north.

C 14 I will climbe vp aboue the cloudes, and will be like the higheſt of all.

15 Yet thou ſhalte be brought downe to the deepe of hell, to the ſides of the lake.

16 They that ſee thee, ſhall narrowly looke vpō thee, and thinke in themſelues, (ſaying,) Is this the man that brought all landes in feare, and made the kingdomes afrayde?

17 (Is this he) that made the world in a manner waſte, and layd the cities to the ground, which let not his priſoners goe out?

18 The kings of the nations lye euery one in his owne houſe with worſhip.

19 And thou art call out of thy graue lyke a filthie abhominable braunche, like as dead mens rayment that are ſhotte through with the ſword, and goe downe to the ſtones of the deepe, as a dead coarſe that is troden vnder feete.

20 Thou arte not buryed with them: euen bycauſe that thou haſt waſted thy land, and deſtroyed thy people: The generation of the wicked ſhalbe out of memorie for euer.

D 21 Let there a way be ſought to deſtroy their children that be in their fathers wickednelle, that they come not vp agayne to poſſeſſe the land, and fyll the world full of enimies.

22 I will ſtande vp againſte them, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes, and rote out the name, and remnaunt, ſonne and ſonnes ſonne of Babylon, ſayth the Lord.

23 I wil giue it to the Otters, and wil make water puddles of it, and I will ſweepe them out with the beſome of deſtruction, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes.

24 The Lord of hoſtes hath ſworne an othe, ſaying, It ſhall come to paſſe as I haue determined, and ſhalbe fulfilled as I haue deuiſed.

25 So that Aſſyria ſhall I deſtroye in my lande, and vppon my mountaynes wyll I treade him vnder foot, wherthrough his yoke ſhall come from them, and his burden ſhall be taken from their ſhoulder.

26 This deuiſe hathe God taken through the whole world, and this is his hande ſtretched out ouer all people.

27 For if the Lorde of hoſtes determine a thing, who is able to diſanul it? And if he ſtretch forth his hande, who maye returne it agayne?

28 The ſame yeere that king Ahaz dyed, was E this burden:

29 Reioyce not thou whole Paleſtina, bycauſe the rodde of him that beateth thee is broken: for out of the ſerpents rote ther ſhall come an Adder, and his fruite ſhall be a fiery fleeing worme.

30 But the fyrſt borne of the poore ſhalbe fed, and the ſimple ſhall dwell in ſafetie: Thy rote alſo will I deſtroye with hunger, and it ſhall ſlay the remnaunt.

31 Mourne thou port, weepe thou citie, for, O whole land of Paleſtina, thou art layde waſte: for there ſhall come from the north a ſmoke, that not one alone may abide at home in his times.

32 What ſhall one then aunſwere the meſſenger of the Gentiles? For the Lorde hathe ſtabliſhed Sion, and the poore of his people that be therein, ſhall put their truſt in it.

The .xv. Chapter.

A propheſie againſt Moab.

1 THis is the burden vppon Moab: Ar of Moab was deſtroyed, and ouerthrowē in the night ſeaſon, Kir alſo in Moab was deſtroyed, and periſhed in the night. I

2 Moab went vp to the idolles houſe, euen to Dibon, to the high places, to weepe: for Neba, and Moab ſhal mourne for Medba: All their heads were balde, and all their beardes ſhauen.

ſtauen.

3 In hir ſtreetes are they girded about with ſackcloth: In all the toppes of hir houſes and ſtreetes, ſhall be nothing but mourning and weeping.

4 Heſbon and Elcale ſhall crye, that theyr voyce ſhalbe heard vnto Jahaz: and therfore ẏ armed ſouldiers alſo of Moab, ſhal bleate out and cry for very ſorow of their myndes.

5 My ſhall my hart be for Moabs ſake, they ſhall flee vnto the citie of Zoar, whiche is lyke a fayre young bullocke of three yeeres olde, for they ſhall all goe vp to Luith weeping: euen ſo, by the way towarde Horonaim they ſhall make lamentation for their vtter deſtruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim ſhall be dryed vp, by reaſon whereof the graſſe is withered, the hearbs deſtroyed, and the greene thyngs gone.

B 7 Therfore the goodes that remayneth in Moab, and the riches thereof, they ſhall carry to the broke of wyllowes.

8 For the cry wente ouer the whole lande of Moab, vnto Eglaim, and vnto Beer Elim was there nothing but mourning.

9 Becauſe the waters of Dimon were full of bloud, I will adde more vpon Dimon: and Lions vpon the remnaunt of the lande, and on them that are eſcaped from Moab.

The.xvi. Chapter.

The deſtruction of Moab.

A 1 SEnd the Lorde of the world a lambe, from the rocke that lyeth towarde the deſert, vnto the hil of the daughter of Sion.

The careleſſe and obſtinate deſpiſers of timely repentance, moued by the preaching of Gods word, ſhall repent when it is too late.

2 For as for the daughters of Moab, they ſhal be as a trembling bird that is put out of hir neſt: for they ſhall carrie them vnto Arnon.

3 Gather youre counſell, come togither in iudgement, couer vs with your ſhadow in the midday, as the night doth hide the chaſed, and bewray not them that are fled.

4 Let my perſecuted people dwell among you, Moab be thou their refuge againſte the deſtroyer: for the aduerſarie is brought to nought, the robber is vndone, the tyraunte is walked out of the lande.

5 And in mercy ſhall the ſeate bee prepared, and he ſhall ſitte vpon it in the truth in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and ſeeking iudgement, and making haſte vnto righteouſneſſe.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab, he is very proude, preſumtuous, arrogant, and full of indignation, and vayne are his lyes.

B 7 Therefore ſhall Moab make lamentation, becauſe of the Moabites (that ſhall be ſlayn) yea they ſhall wayle altogether: becauſe of the foundations of the citie that is made of bricke ſhall ye complayne, euen ye lame people that are left only behinde.

8 For the vines of Heſbon are cut downe: as for the vine of Sibma, the Lordes of ẏ heathen haue broken downe his principal branches, they are come euen vnto Jazer, they went on wandering vnto the wildernelle, his goodly braunches were throwen downe as they went ouer the ſea.

9 Therfore will I mourne for Jazer, and for the vine of Sibma, I will powre my teares vpon thee, O Heſbon and Elcale: for the crye of thyne enimies is fallen vpon thy ſommer fruites, and vpon thy haruell.

10 The myrth and cheare is taken away out of the plentifull fielde, and in the vineyardes there ſhall bee no ioy nor gladneſſe: The treader ſhall treade out no wine in theyr preſſes, the ſong of their merrie cheare haue I layd downe.

11 (a) Wherefore my bowels ſhall rumble like an Harpe for Moabs ſake, and mine inward partes for the cities ſake that is made of bricke.

a. The ſuperſtitious and idolaters haue more truſt in one idol, and in ſome one place than in another: but all in vayne.

12 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that when it is ſeene that Moab ſhall be made weery of hys hill chappels, he ſhall come to his temple to pray, (b) but he ſhall not be able.

b. Not be able through werineſſe, or it ſhall not profit him

13 So then this is the ſaying that the Lorde hath ſpoken concerning Moab ſince ẏ tyme.

14 But now the Lorde hath ſpoken, ſaying, In three yeeres, which ſhall be as the yeeres of an hyred ſeruaunt, ſhall the glory of Moab bee turned into contempt throwout all hys multitude, which is very great: and that whiche remayneth, ſhall be very ſmall, and feeble.

The.xvij. Chapter.

A propheſie againſt Damaſcus.

A 1 THis is the burden vpon Damaſcus. Behold, Damaſcus is taken away to be no more a citie, but ſhall be an heape of broken ſtones.

2 The walde ruins of Aroer ſhall be folded for cattell which ſhall lye there, and ther ſhal be none to fray them away.

3 Ephraim alſo ſhall no more be ſtrong, and Damaſcus ſhall no longer be a kingdome, and the remnaunt of Syria ſhall be as the glory of the children of Iſrael, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.

4 And in that day it ſhall come to paſſe, that the glory of Jacob ſhal be made very thinne, and the fatneſſe of his fleſh ſhall ware leane.

5 And

5 And he shall bee as one that gathereth vp corne in harvest, euen like him whose arme reapeth the eares of corne: He shall be also lyke him that gathereth eares of corne in the valley of Rephaim.

6 Some gathering in deede shall there bee left in it, euen as in the shaking of an Oliue tree there remayne two or three berries in the top of the vttermost bowe, and foure or fyue in the broade fruiteful braunches therof, sayth the Lord God of Israell.

B 7 Then shall man turne agayne to his maker, and his eyes shall haue respect to the holy one of Israel.

8 As for the aulters which are his owne handie worke, he shall not regard them, and the things that his fingers hath made, as groues and images, those shall hee not call his eye vnto.

9 In that day shall their strong cities bee as the forsaken shrubbes and braunches, whych they left bycause of the children of Israel, and the lande shall be desolate.

10 Bycause thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not bin mindfull of thy strong rocke: therefore shalte thou sette pleasant plants, and shalt graffe the braunche of another mans vine.

11 In that day shalt thou make thy plante to growe, and early in the morning shalte thou make thy seede to florish: the harvest shall be gone in the day of inheritance, and there shal be sorow without hope of comfort.

12 Wo shal be to the multitude of much people, which shall make a sound like to ỹ noise of the sea, and the violence of ỹ nations, which rage like the rushing in of many waters.

13 Euen lyke many waters shall the people rage, God shall rebuke him, and he shall flee farre off, he shall be chased away lyke as dry strawe vppon the mountaynes before the wynde, and like a thing that turneth before the storme.

C 14 At euen, behold there is trouble, and yer euer it be morning, lo it is gone: This is the portion of them that oppresse vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

The.xviij. Chapter.

1. An exhortation to the Ethiopians, and the countreyes nigh adioyning to them. 7. The vocation of the Gentiles.

A 1 O That land that trusteth vnder the shadowe of wings, (that lande) whiche is beyond the waters of Ethiopia.

2 Sending messengers by the Sea, euen in vessels of reedes ouer the water: Get you hence, ye speedy messengers, to a nation that is scattered abrode, and robbed of that they had, a fearefull people from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by little & little, whose land the floudes haue spoyled.

3 All the inhabiters of the worlde, & indwellers of the earth, looke vp when he setteth vp a token in the mountaynes, and hearken when he bloweth with the trumpe.

4 For so the Lord sayd vnto me (as for me) I will take my rest, and looke vppon the matter in my habitation, like a fayre heate after the rayne, and like a cloude of deawe in the heate of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest, when the braunch is growen, there shall come rype fruite of the floure: and he shall cut downe the increase with sithes, and the branches shall he take away with hookes.

6 Thus shall they be left together vnto the foules of the mountaynes, and to the beasts of the earth, for in sommer the birds shal remayne vpon it, and euery beast of the lande shal be vpon it in winter.

7 In that time shall ther a present be brought B vnto the Lord of hostes, euen a people that is scattered abrode, and robbed of that they had, that same people which haue bin fearefull from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by little and little, whose land the flouds haue spoyled, to the place of the name of the Lorde of hostes, euen to the mount Sion.

The.xix. Chapter.

1. He propheseth against Egypt. 18. and the vocation of the Gentiles to Christ.

A 1 THe burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth vppon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idolles of Egypt shall tremble at the presence of him, and the hart of Egypt shall quake in the middell of hir.

2 And I will set the Egyptians one agaynst another, so that one brother shall fighte against another, and one neighbour agaynste another, citie against citie, and realme against realme.

3 The mynde also of Egypt shall be cleane without counsaile within it selfe, and the deuice that they take, will I destroy: and they shall seeke counsayle at idolles, and at sorcerers, at workers with spirites, and at soothsayers.

4 And the Egyptians will I giue ouer into the hand of a marueylous cruell Lorde, and a mightie king shall haue dominion ouer them, sayth the Lord God of hosts.

5 The waters of the sea shall fayle, and the riuer ryuer shall decrease, and be dryed vp.

6 The waters shall be drawen out, the riuers of Egypt shall be emptied and dryed vp, the reedes and flagges shall be cut downe.
B 7 The grasse in the riuer, and by the riuers banke, and al that groweth by the riuer shall wither away, and be brought to nought.
8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the water, shall make lamentation: and they that lay forth theyr net beside the waters, shall be rooted out.
9 Moreouer, they that worke in flaxe, and make fine workes, shalbe confounded, and so shal they that weaue open workes.
10 For their open workes shall euen be destroyed, and all they that make pondes and slues for fishe, shall come to nought.
11 But you foolishe princes of Zoan, ye wyse counsaylours of Pharao, whose witte is turned vnto foolishnesse, howe say yee vnto Pharao, I am come of wise men, and of auncient kings?
12 Where are thy wise men? lette them tell thee if they can, what the Lord of hostes hath deuised vpon Egypt.
13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles, the princes of Noph are deceyued, they haue deceyued Egypt, euen they that were taken for the chiefe stay thereof.
C 14 In the middest of it hath the Lorde powred the spirite of wickednesse: and they haue deceyued Egypt in euery worke thereof, euen as a drunken man staggereth in his vomite.
15 Neither shal the (a) head or tayle, ỹ braunch or reede, be able to do any worke in Egypt.
16 In that day shal Egypt be lyke vnto women: It shalbe afrayde, and stand in feare at the motion of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shaketh ouer it.
17 And Egypt shall be afrayd of the land of Juda, so that euery one that maketh mentiõ of it, shall be afrayde thereat, because of the counsayle of the Lorde of hostes, whiche hee deuised for it.
18 In that day shall fyue cities in the lande of Egypt speake the language of Chanaan, and sweare by the Lorde of hostes: the citie of desolation shalbe called one of them.
19 In that day shall the aulter of the Lorde be in the middest of the land of Egypt, and this title beside it, Unto the Lord.
20 And it shalbe a token and a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the Land of Egypte: For they shal cry vnto the Lord, because of such as trouble them, and he shal send them a sauiour, and a great man to deliuer them.
D 21 And the Lord shall be knowen in Egypt, and the Egyptians shall knowe the Lorde in that day, and doe sacrifice and oblation: yea they shall bowe a bowe vnto the Lord and performe it.
22 The Lorde also shall smite Egypt sore, and heale them agayne: and they shalbe conuerted vnto the Lorde, and he shall be entreated of them, and shal heale them.
23 In that day shal there be a common way out of Egypt into Assyria, and Assyria shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyria: so that the Egyptiãs and the Assyrians shall serue the Lord together.
24 In that day shall the nation of Israel be the thirde with Egypt & Assyria: and they shall be blessed in the middest of the lande.
25 Whiche lande the Lorde of hostes hathe blessed, saying, Blessed is my people of Egypt, Assur also is the worke of my handes, and Israel is mine inheritance.

a. By the head and braunche are meant the honorable and chiefest of the lande: by the taile and reede, the multitude and lower sort of people.

The.xx. Chapter.

Agaynst Egypt and Ethiopia.

1 IN the yeere that Tharthan came vnto Asdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria had sente him, and had fought against Asdod, and taken it: A
2 At the same tyme spake the Lorde by the hand of Esay the sonne of Amos, saying, Goe and take off the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shoe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked and barefoote.
3 And the Lord sayd, Lyke as my seruaunte Esay hathe walked naked and barefoote, for a signe and wõder, three yeeres vpon Egypt and Ethiopia:
4 Euen so shall the king of Assyria take away out of Egypt and Ethiopia, children and old men, naked and barefoote, with theyr loines vncouered, to ỹ gret shame of Egypt
5 They shall be brought in feare also, and be ashamed of Ethiopia their hope, and of Egypt wherein they are wont to glory.
6 And they that dwel in ỹ same Isle shal say in ỹ day, Beholde, such is our hope, whether shal we flee for help, ỹ we may be deliuered from the king of Assyria? And how shall we escape?

The.xxi. Chapter.

Agaynst Babylon, Idumea, and Arabia.

1 THe burden of the (a) waste sea. Euen as the stormie weather passeth through at the noone day from the wildernesse, so shal it come from the terrible land. A
2 A greeuous vision was shewed vnto me: let one deceytfull offendour come against another, and one destroyed against another: Up Elam, lay siege thou of Medis, all

a. The waste sea is Babylon, or Chaldee.

all their groning haue I layd downe.

3 Therefore are my loynes filled with ſorowe, beauineſſe hathe taken hold vppon me as the pangs of a woman that is trauailing: it made me ſtoupe when I hearde it, and it vexed me when I ſawe it.

4 My hart panted, fearefulneſſe came vppon me: the night of my voluptuouſneſſe hath he turned againſt me into feare.

5 Whyle they garnyſhed the table, the watchman loked: and whyle I was eating and drinking, it was ſayde, Vp ye Captaynes, take you to your ſhielde.

6 For thus hath the Lord ſayd vnto me, Goe and ſet a watchman to tell what he ſeeth.

B 7 And he ſawe a charret which two horſemē ſate vpon, with the cariage of an Aſſe, and the cariage of a Camel: So he loked, and toke diligent heede.

8 And he cryed, A Lion, my Lorde, I ſtande continually vppon the watche towre in the day time, and am appoynted to keepe my watch euery night:

9 And beholde, heere commeth a charret of men, with two horſemen, and he aunſwered and ſayd, Babylon is fallen, it is fallen, and all the images of hir Gods hathe he ſmitten downe vnto the grounde.

10 Thou art he whome I muſt threſhe, and thou beloſgeſt to my corne floure: This that I heard of the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, haue I ſhewed vnto you.

11 The burden of Duma. He calleth to mee out of Seir: Watchman, what haſt thou eſpyed by nyght? watchman, what haſte thou eſpied by night?

12 The watchman ſayd, The morning commeth, and ſo doth the nyght: if ye will aſke me any queſtion, then aſke it: Returne and come agayne.

13 The burden concerning Arabia. In the woodes of Arabia ſhall ye tarie all nighte, euen in the ſtreetes of Dedanim.

C 14 The inhabitours of the lande of Thema brought forth water to him that was thirſty, they preuented him that was fled away with their bread.

15 For bycauſe of ſwordes they are become fugitiue, euen for the drawen ſworde, and for the bent bowe, and bycauſe of the greeuouſneſſe of warre.

16 For thus hath ỳ Lord ſaid vnto me, There is yet a yeere, according to the yeeres of an hyred ſeruaunte, and all the glory of Cedar ſhall fayle.

17 And the number of them that ſhall eſcape from the bowes, ſhall be miniſhed by the mightie children of Cedar: for the Lorde God of Iſrael hath ſpoken it.

The .xxij. Chapter.

A prophecie agaynſt Hieruſalem.

1 The burden of the (a) valley of viſion. What haſt thou to doe heere, that thou clymeſt to the houſe toppes?

a. Hieruſalem is meant by the valley of viſion.

2 Thou that art ful of tumultuouſneſſe, thou troubleſome and proude citie: thy ſlayne men are neyther put to death with ỳ ſworde, nor dead in battayle.

3 All thy captaynes are fugitiue together, the archers haue taken them priſoners: all they I ſay that are found in thee, are in captiuitie together, and they alſo that fledde farre off.

4 Therefore ſayde I, Let me alone, and I will make lamentation: Ye ſhall not be able to comfort me, bycauſe of the deſtruction of the daughter of my people. Luke.19. Ier.9.d.

5 For this is a daye of trouble, of ruine, and of deſtruction, that the Lorde God of hoſtes will bring to paſſe in the valley of viſion, breaking downe the citie, and crying vnto the mountaynes.

6 Elam bare the quiuer with a charret of footemen and horſemen, and the citie of Kir ſhewed the ſhield open.

7 Thy chiefe valley alſo was full of charets, B and the horſemen ſet their faces directly toward the gate.

8 And in that day did the enimie take away the couer of Juda, and then diddeſt thou looke towarde the (b) armour of the houſe of the foreſt.

b. The enimie that Salomon made furniſhed with munition. 1.Reg.7.

9 Ye haue ſeene alſo the broken places of the citie of Dauid, how that they are many, and ye gathered together the waters of the lower poole.

10 As for the houſes of Hieruſalem ye haue numbred them, and the houſes haue ye broke downe, to make the wall ſtrong.

11 A pit alſo haue ye made betweene the two walles for the waters of the old poole, (c) and haue not regarded the maker thereof, neyther had reſpect vnto him that faſhioned it long agoe.

c. The Iſraelite doeth not ſufficiently bid to make prouiſion of ſure defence againſt their enimies, ſo that our truſt be put in him, and not in our fortreſſes and ſtrong holdes. 1.Cor.15.d. Sapi.2.b.

12 And in that daye did the Lorde God of hoſtes call men vnto weeping and mourning, to baldneſſe, and girding about with ſackcloth. Gen.25.

13 And beholde, they haue ioy and gladneſſe, ſlaying oxen, and killing ſheepe, eating fleſh, and drinking wine: Let vs eate and drinke, for to morow we ſhal dye. Sapi.2.b.

14 And it came to the eares of the Lorde of hoſtes, This iniquitie ſhall not be purged from you till ye dye, ſayth the Lord God of hoſtes. C

15 Thus

15 Thus sayth the Lord God of hostes, Get Esay.36.a. ye vnto yonder treasurer, euen vnto Sebna, which is the ruler of the house.
16 What hast thou to do heere? and whome hast thou here? that thou shouldest hewe thee out a sepulchre, as it were one that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, or that graueth an habitation for him selfe on an hard rocke?
17 Behold, O thou man, the Lorde shall ca-rie thee away into captiuitie, and shal surely couer thee with confusion.
18 The Lord shall turne thee ouer lyke a bal with his handes (and shall sende thee) into a farre countrey: there shalt thou dye, & there in stede of the chariets of thy pompe, shall the house of the Lord haue confusion.
19 I will driue thee from thy place, and out of thy dwelling shall he ouerthrowe thee.
20 And in that day shall I call my seruaunt
Eliakim, the sonne of Helkia:
D 21 And with thy garments will I cloth him, and with thy gyrdle will I strengthen him:
thy power also will I commit into his hād, and he shall be a father of suche as dwell in Hierusalem, and in the house of Juda.
Job.12.b. Apoc.3.b. 22 And the key of the house of Dauid will I lay vpon hys shoulder: so that he shall open, and no man shut, he shall shut, and no man open.
23 And I will fasten him as a nayle in a sure place, and hee shall be the glorious seate of his fathers house.
24 Moreouer, all generations and posterities, shall hang vppon him, all the glory of their fathers house, all vessels both greate and small, and all instrumentes of measure and musicke.
E 25 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shal
the nayle that is fastened in the sure place, depart and be broken, and fall: and the burden that was vpon it shall be pluckt away, for so the Lord hath spoken.

The.xxiij. Chapter.

1. A prophecie agaynst Tyrus, 17. and a promise that it shall be restored agayne.

A 1 The burden of Tyre. Mourne ye ships
Gen.25.a. of Tharsis, for there commeth such destruction, that yee shall not haue an house to enter into: and that there shall be no traffike out of the lande of Cittim, they haue knowledge of this plague.
2 Be still ye that dwell in the Ile, the mar-chauntes of Zidon, and suche as passe ouer the sea, haue made thee plenteous.
3 The corne that groweth by the great waters of Nilus, and the fruites of the ryuer were hir vittayles, so that it became a common mart of the nations.
4 Be ashamed thou Zidon: for the (a) Sea, a. By the sea and the stregth of the sea is meant Tyrus.
euen the strength of the sea hath spoken, saying, I haue not trauayled nor brought forth chyldren, nor nourished vp young men, or brought vp virgins.
5 When tydyngs commeth to the Egyptians, they shall be sore for the rumour of Tyre.
6 Get you to Tharsis, mourne you that dwell in the Ile.
7 Is not this that glorious citie of yeares B which hath bin of olde antiquitie? hir owne feete shall carrie hir forthe to be a soiourner into a farre countrey.
8 Who hath deuised this against Tyre that
(b) crowneth hir selfe? whose marchauntes b. That crow-are princes, and whose factours are hono- neth hir selfe, that is, whych boasted hir selfe to be as it were the Queene of all cities on the sea coast.
rable in the worlde.
9 Euen the Lord of hostes hath deuised this, to put downe the pride of all such as be glorious, and to minish all them that be proude vpon the earth.
10 Get thee out of thy land lyke a flood, vnto the daughter of Tharsis, for thou hast no more strength.
11 He that smote the kingdomes together, holdeth out his hande ouer the sea: euen the Lord him selfe hath giuen a commaundēment against the same common place of marchaundise, that they shall vtterly destroy the might therof.
12 And he sayd, Make no more thy boast, O virgin, thou daughter Zidon, thou shalte be brought downe: Vp, get thee ouer vnto Cittim, where neuertheles thou shalte haue no rest.
13 Behold, this people came not of the Chaldees, but Assur made them strong with great shippes: They set vp the strong holds therof, and destroyed his palaces: and hee brought it in decay.
14 Mourne ye shippes of Tharsis, for your C strength is brought downe.
15 And in that day shall Tyre be forgotten seuentie yeeres, according to the yeeres of one king: and after the end of the seuentie yeeres shall Tyre sing as doth an harlot:
16 Take an harpe, and goe about the Citie, thou harlot that hast bene forgotten, make sweete melodie, sing moe songs, that thou mayest be had in remembraunce.
17 And after the ende of the seuentie yeeres shal the Lord visite Tyre, and she shal conuert vnto hir rewarde, and shall committe fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth that are in the worlde.
18 Their occupying also, and their rewarde ſhall be holy vnto the Lorde: their gaynes ſhall not be layde vp, nor kept in ſtore, but it ſhall be theirs that dwell before the Lorde, that they maye eate ynough, and haue clothing ſufficient.

The.xxiiij. Chapter.

A prophecie of tribulation to come vppon the worlde, bycauſe of ſinne.

A 1 BEholde, the Lorde maketh the earthe waſte, and emptie, he turneth it vpſide downe, and ſcatterith abroade the inhabitours thereof.

2 And the prieſt ſhall be as the people, and the maiſter as the ſeruaunte, the maiſtreſſe lyke the mayde, the ſeller lyke the buyer, he that lendeth vpon vſurie, lyke him that boroweth vppon vſurie, the creditour as the dettour.

3 The lande ſhall be cleane waſted and vtterly ſpoyled: for ſo the Lorde hathe ſpoken.

4 The earthe is ſory, and conſumeth away, the worlde is feeble and periſheth, the prioude people of the earth are come to nought.

5 The earth alſo is become vnprofitable vnder the inhabitours thereof, which haue trãſgreſſed the lawes, chaunged the ordinance, broken the euerlaſting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the curſe conſumed ẏ earth, and they that dwell therein are fallen into treſpaſſe: Wherefore, the inhabitours of the earthe are periſhed with drought, and fewe men are left behinde.

B 7 The wine faileth, the wyne hath no might, all they that haue bin merrie of hart are come to mourning.

8 The mirth of tabrettes is layde downe, the noyſes of ſuche as haue made merrie is ceaſſed, the ioy at the harpe is at an ende.

9 They ſhall drynke no more wine with myrth, ſtrong drinke ſhall be bitter to them that drynke it.

10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe, euery houſe is ſhut vp, ẏ no man may come in.

11 In the ſtreetes is there a crying, bycauſe of wyne, al cheare is vaniſhed away, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the citie is left deſolation, and the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.

13 For in the middes of the lande, euen amõg the people, it ſhall come to paſſe: as at the ſhaking of olines, and as the grapes are whē the wyne harueſt is done.

C 14 They ſhall lyft vp their voyce, and make a merrie noyſe: and in magnifying of the Lord ſhall they crie out of the Weſt.

15 Wherefore prayſe ye the Lord in the valleys, euen the name of the Lord God of Iſraell in the Iſles of the ſea.

16 From the vttermoſt part of the earth haue we heard prayſes and mirth, bycauſe of the righteous: And I ſayde, I know a thing in ſecrete, I know a thing in ſecret, woo is me: the tranſgreſſours haue offended, the tranſgreſſours haue greeuouſly offended.

17 Feareſulnes, the pit, and the ſnare are vpon thee, O thou that dwelleſt on the earth.

18 It ſhall come to paſſe, that whoſoeuer eſcapeth the feareſull noyſe, ſhall fall into the pit, and he that commeth vp out of the pitte, ſhall be taken with the ſnare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth are mouꝛd.

19 The earthe is vtterly broken downe, the earth hath a ſore ruine, the earth quaketh exceedingly:

20 The earthe ſhall reele to and fro like a dronkard, and ſhall be remoued lyke a tent, and the iniquitie thereof ſhall be heauie vpon it, it ſhall fall, and not riſe vp againe.

21 And in that day ſhall the Lorde viſite the D hoſt aboue that is on hygh, and the kings of the worlde that are vpon the earth.

22 And they ſhall bee gathered together as they that be in priſon, and they ſhall be ſhutte vp in warde, and after many dayes ſhall they be viſited.

23 The moone ſhall be abaſhed, and the ſunne Luke.21 aſhamed, whē the Lorde of hoſtes ſhal raigne in mount Sion, and in Hieruſalem with worſhip, and in the ſight of ſuch as ſhall be of his counſel.

The.xxv. Chapter.

A thankesgyuing to God for his works.

1 THou art my Lorde my God, I will mag- I nifie thee, I will giue thankes vnto thy name, for thou haſt brought wonderfull thynges to paſſe, according to thine olde counſels, truely and faythfully.

2 Thou haſt made a citie a heape of ſtones, Eby.xiij and brought a ſtrong towne into decay: the habitation of ſtraungers haſt thou made to bee no citie, neyther ſhall it be buylded any more.

3 Therefore ſhall the mightie people gyue glorie vnto thee, the citie of the valiaunte heathen ſhall feare thee.

4 For thou haſt bene a ſtrengthe vnto the poore, and a ſuccour for the needie in his trouble, a refuge againſt euyll weather, a ſhadow againſt the heate: for the blaſt of raging men is like a ſtorme that caſteth down a wall.

5 Lyke as the heate in a drie place walketh al thinges: ſo ſhalte thou ſuppreſſe the noyſe of aliaunte, allaumes, the heate (is abated) with the shadow of the cloude, (euen so shall God) assuage the noyse of the cruell tyrannes.

Luke.14.d. 6 And in this mountayne shall the Lorde of hostes make vnto all people a feast of plenteous and delicate things, euen of most pleasaunt and daintie dishes.

B 7 And in this mountayne shall the Lord destroy the couering that all people are wrapped in, and the hanging that is spread vppon all nations.

8 As for deathe, he hath destroyed it for euer, and the Lorde God shall wipe away teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people shall he take away out of all the earthe: for so the Lord hath sayde.

Oseæ.13.c. Apoc.7.c. and.21.c. 1.Cor.15.f.

9 And in that day it shall be sayd, Loe, this is our God, we haue wayted for him, and he shall saue vs, this is the Lorde in whome we haue hoped, we will be merie, and reioyce in the saluation (that commeth) of him.

Ephes.2.a.

10 For in this mountayne shall the hande of the Lorde reaste, and Moab shall be threshed vnder him, euen as strawe is troden to doung on the doungehill.

11 And he shall stretche out his hande in the middes of them, as he that swimmeth casteth out his handes to swimme: and with the strength of his handes shall he bring downe their pryde.

12 The strong holde also, and defence of thy walles hath he ouerthrowen, and cast down, and brought them to the grounde, euen vnto dust.

The.xxvi. Chapter.

A song of deliuerance of the people.

Rom.5.a. 4 Put ye your trust alway in the Lorde: for in the Lorde God there is strength for euermore.

Esai.25.a. 5 For he hathe brought downe the high minded Citizens: as for the proude Citie, he hath brought it lowe, euen to the ground shall he cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote, euen the foote of the poore, and the steppes of such as be in necessitie, shall treade it downe.

B 7 The path of equitie wilt thou graunt vnto the iust, (O thou most righteous,) thou shalt order the path of him that is righteous.

Prou.6.a. Jere.10.d.

8 Yea in the way of thy iudgements, O Lorde, haue we putte our trust in thee: thy name also, and the remembraunce of thee, is the thing that our soule longeth for.

9 My soule hath longed for thee all the night, and with my spirite which is within me, will I seeke thee early in the mornings. For when thy iudgementes are in the earthe, the inhabiters of the worlde shall learne righteousnesse.

Psal.63.a. and.143.a.

10 Shall the ungodly manne bee fauoured, whiche hath not learned righteousnesse, but doth wickedly in the earthe, where nothing ought to bee done but that whyche is righteouse? hee shall not see the glorie of the Lorde.

11 Lorde, when thy hande is lifted vp to strike, they see it not: but they shall see it, and be confounded with the zeale of the people, and the fyre that consumeth the enimies shall deuour them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou shalte giue peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes in vs.

Phil.1.a.

13 O Lorde our God, other Lordes beside thee hath subdued vs: but we will be mindfull onely of thee, and of thy name.

14 The dead will not lyue, they that be out of lyfe wyll not lyue agayne, therefore hast thou visited and rooted them out, and destroyed all the memorie of them.

15 Thou hast increased the people, O Lorde, thou hast increased the people, thou art glorious, thou hast sente them farre off vnto all the coastes of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee, they powred out their prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

Leuit.26.g.

17 Lyke as a woman with childe that draweth nygh towards hir trauayle, is sory and cryeth in hir paynes: euen so haue we bin in thy sight, O Lorde.

John.16.c.

18 We haue bene with childe, and suffered payne, as though we hadde brought forthe winde: for there is no saluation in the earth, neyther do the inhabiters of the worlde submit themselues.

Rom.8.b.

his place, to viſite the wickednesse of such as dwell vpon earth: the earth also shal disclose hir bloods, and shall no more hide them that are slayne in hir.

The.xxvij. Chapter.

A prophecie of the comming of Christ, and destruction of Idolatrie.

A 1 IN that daye, the Lorde with his sore, great, and mightie sworde, shall viſite (a) Leuiathan the fugitiue serpent, euen Leuiathan that crooked Serpente, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

a. By Leuiathan the greateſt of fyshes in the sea, is ment the kingdome of Satan, and the mighty tiraunts of the world, enimies to Christ, and persecuters of his religion. 1. Cor. 15. c. Apoc. 12. c.

2 In that daye see that ye sing of the congregation, which is the vineyarde that bringeth forth the best wine:

3 Euen I the Lorde doe keepe it, in due seasons shall I water it: and lest the enimie do it any harme, I will both night and day preserue it.

4 There is no displeasure in me, els whē the vineyard bringeth me forth briers & thornes, I would go through it by warre, and burne it vp together.

b. God calleth his word his strength, bycause thereby he winneth men, and bindeth them vnto him selfe.

5 Let it take holde of my (b) strength, and it shall be at one with me, euen at one shall it be with me.

6 The dayes are comming that Iacob shall take rote, Israell shall be greene and floriſhe, and the worlde shall be fylled with fruite.

B 7 Hath he smitten him as sore as he did the other that smote him? Or is he slayne with so sore a slaughter, as they that slue him?

8 Thou wilt punish it in the braunches, yet not beyond measure: for in the daye that the East winde bloweth sore, it taketh away the fruites.

9 By this meanes therefore shall the iniquitie of Iacob be pourged, and this is all the fruite (namely) the (c) taking away of his sin, if he make all the stones of the aulter of idols as chalke stones that are beaten in sunder, that their groues and images ryse not vp agayne.

c. God vseth afflictions, as meanes to call men to repentaunce, wherevpon followeth forgiuenesse of sinnes.

10 Els shall the strong citie be desolate, and the habitation forsaken and left lyke a wildernesse: there shall the Calfe feede, and there shall he lie, and eate vp the graffes thereof.

11 When the braunches of it are drye, they are broken off, and the women come & set them on fyre: for it is a people of no vnderstanding, and therefore he that made them, shall not fauour them, and he that created them, shall giue them no grace. Deut. 32. b.

12 And in that daye shall the Lorde make a threshing, from the middest of the riuer Euphrates, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and yee chyldren of Israell shall be gathered together one to another.

13 In that daye shall the greate trumpe bee blowen, so that they whiche were lost in the land of Assyria, and they that were banished in the lande of Egypt, shall come and worship the Lorde in the holy mount of Hierusalem.

The.xxviij. Chapter.

1. Against the pride of Ephraim, 9. and against false priestes and preachers.

1 WO be vnto the crowne of pride, euen to the drunken people of Ephraim, whose great pompe is as a floure that fadeth away vpon the head of the valley of suche as be in wealth, and are ouerladen with wine. A Eſai. 28.

2 Beholde, there commeth a vehement and sore daye from the Lorde, like an vnmeasurable tayle, and perillous tempest, euen lyke the force of mightie and horrible waters that violentlye beareth downe all thynges. Pet. 1. c.

3 The crowne of the pride of the drunken Ephraimites shall be troden vnder foote:

4 So that the floure of his fayrenesse, and beautie which is in the head of the valley of fatnesse, shall fade away as dothe an vntimely rype fygge before harueſt: whyche when a manne eſpieth, he loketh vppon it, and whyle it is yet in his hande, he eateth it vp. Eſai. 28.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be the crowne of glorie, and diamonde of beautie, vnto the residue of his people.

6 He will be also a spirite of perfect knowledge to him that sitteth in iudgemente, and strength vnto them that turne away the battayle to the gate (of the enimies.)

7 But they are out of the way by reason of wyne, yea farre out of the way are they thorough strong drinke: The priest also and the prophete are gone astray by the meanes of strong drynke, they are drunken with wine, they goe amisse through strong drinke, they fayle in prophecying, and stumble in iudgement. B Eſay. 5.

8 For all tables are full of vomit and filthynesse, that no place is cleane.

9 Whome then shall such one teache knowledge? and whome shall he make to vnderstand the thing that he heareth? for they are as ignorant as yong children that are taken from the milke, and are weaned.

10 For they that be suche, must take after one lesson, another lesson, after one commaundement, another commaundemente, for one rule, another rule, after one instruction, another Eſay. 10. Pſal. 7.

another instruction, there a little, and there a little.

11 For he that speaketh vnto this people, is euen as one that vseth rudenesse of speach, and a straunge language.

12 If any man say vnto them, Loe, this is the rest wherewith ye may ease him that is weery, this is the refreshing: they wyll not hearken.

Cor.14.c. 13 Therefore shall the word of the Lorde be vnto them, lesson vppon lesson, commaundement vpon commaundement, rule vppon rule, instructiō vpō instruction, there a little, and there a little: that they may goe on and fall backwarde, be vsed, tangled, and snared.

C 14 Wherefore heare the worde of the Lorde ye mockers, ye that haue rule of this people which is at Hierusalem.

15 Because ye haue sayde, We haue made a couenaunt with death, and with hell are we at agreement: and though there goe forth a sore plague, it shall not come vnto vs, for we haue made falshode our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid.

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, I lay in Sion for a fundation a stone, euen a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: who so beleeueth, let hym not be (a) hasty.

17 Judgemente also wyll I lay to the rule, and righteousnesse to the ballaunce, so that the (b) hayle shall sweepe away as a browne your bayne confidence, and the priuie place of your refuge shall the waters runne ouer.

18 And thus the couenaunt that ye made with death, shalbe disanulled, and your agreemēt that he made with hell, shall not stande, yea when the sore plague goeth forth, ye shal be troden downe vnder it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you away: for early in the morning euery day, yea both day and night shal it goe through, and when the noyse thereof is perceyued, it shall gender vexation.

20 For the bedde is narrowe, and not large, and the couering so smal that a man cannot winde him selfe (vnder it.)

D 21 For the Lorde shall stande as in mounte Perazim, and shall be wroth like as in the valley Gibeon, that he maye doe his worke, his straunge worke, and bring to passe his acte, his straunge acte.

22 Now therefore see that ye be no mockers, least your punishment increase: for I heard of the Lord of hostes, that there shall come a short end vpon the whole earth.

23 Heare ye then, and harke vnto my voyce, consider and ponder my speach.

24 Dothe not the husbandman plow all the daye, and openeth and breaketh the clotters of his ground, that he may sowe?

25 When he hath made it playne, wil he not spread abroade the Fitches, and sowe Commin, and cast in Wheate by measure, and the appoynted Barley and Rye in their place?

26 God will instruct him to haue discretion, euen his God will teach him.

27 For Fitches shall not be threshed with an harrowe, neyther shall a carte wheele bee brought through the Commin: but the Fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and Commin with a rod.

28 But the seede that bread is made of, is threshed, though it be not alway a threshing, and the cart wheele must be brought ouer it, least he grind it with his teeth. E

29 This also commeth of the Lord of hostes, which worketh with wonderfull wisedome, and bringeth excellent workes to passe.

The.xxix. Chapter.

1. A prophecie agaynst Hierusalem. 13. and agaynst the vayne traditions of men.

1 WO vnto thee, O Ariel, Ariel, thou citie that Dauid dwelte in: Goe on from yeere to yeere, and let the lambes be slayne. A 2.Reg.5.b.

2 I will lay siege vnto Ariel, so that there shall be heauinesse and sorowe in it: and it shall be vnto me euen an aulter of slaughter.

3 I will besiege thee round about, and fighte against thee through a Bulwarke, and will reare vp ditches against thee.

4 Thou shalt be brought downe, and shalte speake out of the ground, and thy speach shal goe lowe out of the dust: Thy voyce also shall come out of the grounde lyke the voyce of a witch, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust:

5 Moreouer, the noyse of the straunge enimies shall be lyke the thinne dust, and the multitude of tyrantes shall be as drie straw that can not tarie: euen sodaynely and in hast shall their blast goe. Psal.1.b.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder, earthquake, and with a greate noyse, with storme and tempest, & with the flame of a consuming fyre.

7 And the multitude of all nations that fight agaynst Ariel, shall be as a dreame seene by night: euen so shall they be that make warre against it, and strong holdes to ouercome it, and that lay any siege vnto it. B Psal.83.c.

8 In conclusion, it shall be euen as when a hungry man dreameth that he is eating, and when he awaketh his soule is empty: or as

(a) Who so trough fayth wil stay hym he vpon Christ in hasting forward, shall not fall, that is, shall not fayle that he hoped to obtayn by the Gospel compared fayle and gods for that breaketh wine and eth away starue and perdition, wherein men must ia vse.

when a thirſtie man dreameth that hee is drinking, and when hee awaketh, he is yet faintie, and his ſoule hathe appetite: euen ſo ſhall the multitude of all nations bee that fighteth agaynſt mount Sion.

9 Ponder theſe thinges once in your mindes, and wonder: Blinded are they them ſelues, and the blind guides of other: they are drunken, but not with wyne: they are vnſtable, but not through ſtrong drinke.

Mat.15.d.

10 For the Lorde hathe couered you with a ſlumbring ſpirite, and hath cloſed your eyes: your prophetes alſo and rulers that ſhoulde ſee, them hath he couered.

11 And the viſion of al the prophets is become vnto you as the words of a booke that is ſealed vp, which me deliuer to one that is learned, ſaying, Read thou in it: & he ſayth, I cannot, for it is ſealed.

Eſay.6.b.

12 And the booke is giuen to him that is not learned, ſaying, Reade thou in it: & he ſayth, I am not learned.

13 Therefore thus hath the Lorde ſayde, Forſomuch as this people when they be in trouble, do honour me with their mouth, & with their lyppes, but their hart is farre from me, and the feare which they haue vnto me proceedeth of a commaundement that is taught of men:

Mat.15.a. Mark.7.a.

C

14 Therefore will I doe marueyles among thys people, euen marueylous thynges (I ſaye) and a wonder: For the wyſedome of their wiſe men ſhall periſhe, and the vnderſtanding of theyr wittie men ſhall hyde it ſelfe.

Abdi.1.c. 1.Cor.1.c.

15 Woe vnto them that keepe ſecrete theyr thoughtes, to hide their counſayle from the Lorde, and to doe theyr workes in darkeneſſe, ſaying, Who ſeeth vs? And who knoweth vs?

16 Doubtleſſe your deſtruction is in reputation as the potters clay: And doth the worke ſaye of him that made it, He made not me? And doth an earthen veſſell ſaye of him that faſhioned it, He had no vnderſtanding.

Eſay.47.b. Eccle.23.d. Ezech.9.d.

17 Is it not harde at hande that Libanus ſhall be turned into a lowe fielde, and that the lowe fielde ſhalbe taken as the wood?

18 And in that day ſhall deafe men heare the words of the booke, and the eyes of the blind ſhall ſee, euen oute of the cloude, and out of darkneſſe.

19 The meeke ſpirited alſo ſhalbe merrie in the Lord, and the poore among them that be lowly, ſhall reioice in ỹ holy one of Iſrael:

20 For he that dyd violence, is brought to nought, and the ſcorneful man is conſumed, and they rooted out that made haſt early to burighteouſneſſe,

21 Making a man to ſinne in the worde, and that toke him in a ſnare, whiche reproued the in the open place, and they that haue turned the cauſe of the righteous to nought. D

22 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord to the houſe of Iacob, euen thus ſayethe he that redeemed Abraham: Iacob ſhal not now be confounded, nor his face pale. Eſay.14.

23 But when he ſeeth his children, the worke of my handes, in the middeſt of him, they ſhall ſanctifie my name, and prayſe the holy one of Iacob, and feare the God of Iſrael.

24 They alſo that haue bin of an erronious ſpirite, ſhall come to vnderſtanding, and they that haue bin ſcorneful, ſhal learne doctrine.

The.xxx.Chapter.

1. Agaynſt them that forſake the counſayle of God, and cleaue to the counſayle of men. 3. The prophet alſo threatneth the remnaunt of the people, that after the deſtruction of Hieruſalem went into Egypt.

1 WAs for thoſe diſobedient children, ſayth the Lorde, that they will take counſayle, and not of me, that they will take a ſecrete aduice, and not out of my ſpirite, and therefore adde they ſinne vnto ſinne. I Eſay.

2 Euen they that walke to goe downe into Egypt, and haue aſked no queſtion at my mouth, but ſeeke ſtrengthe in the mighte of Pharao, and truſt in the ſhadowe of Egypt.

3 Therefore ſhall the ſtrength of Pharao be your confuſion, and the truſt in the ſhadowe of Egypt your ſhame.

4 For his captaynes were at Zoan, and his embaſſadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They were aſhamed of the people that coulde doe them no good, and that myghte not helpe them, nor ſhewe them any profite, but were their confuſion and rebuke. 4.Re.18. Iere.37. Ezec.29.

6 The burden of the beaſts of the South. In a land of trouble and anguiſh, from whence ſhall come the yong and olde Lion, the Viper and fierie Serpent that fleeth agaynſte them that vpon Coltes beare their riches, and vppon Camelles their treaſures, to a people that can do them no good.

7 For vayne and nothing worth ſhal the help of the Egyptians be: therefore haue I cryed vnto Hieruſalem, they ſhall haue ſtrength ynough, if they will ſettle their myndes in quietneſſe. B Eſay.8.a. Deut.4.

8 Now therefore goe thy way, and write this before them in a table, and note it in a booke: that it may fynally remayne, and be kept ſtil for euer.

9 For this is an obſtinate people, and diſſembling Eſay.1.b.

sembling children, children that refuse to heare the lawe of the Lorde.

10 For they say vnto the seers, See not: and to them that be cleare of iudgement, Looke not out right thynges for vs: but speake fayre wordes vnto vs, looke out errours.

11 Get you out of this way, departe out of thys pathe, and turne the holy one of Israel from vs.

12 Wherefore thus sayth the holy one of Israel, Bycause your hartes rise agaynste thys worde, and bycause you trust in wrong dealing, and peruerse iudgement, and put youre confidence therein:

13 Therefore shall ye haue this mischiefe for youre destruction and fall, lyke as an hygh wall that falleth bicause of some ryft or blast, whose breaking commeth sodainely.

C 14 And the hurt thereof, is like an earthen vessel which breaketh without helpe, so that in the bursting of it, there is not found one sheuer to fetch fire in, or to take water withal out of the pit.

15 For thus sayth the Lord God, euen the holy one of Israell, In repentaunce, and in rest shall yee be safe, in quietnesse and sure confidence shal be your strength, but ye haue had no lust thereto.

16 For ye haue sayd, No, but we will escape through horses, therefore shal ye flee: and we will get vs vp vpon swift beasts, and therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one, and at the rebuke of fyue shall ye all flee, till ye bee left as a ship mast vppon the top of a mountayne, and as a beakon vpon an hyll.

18 Therefore dothe the Lorde cause you to wayte, that he may haue mercy vpon you, to the intent that he may haue the preeminence when he is gratious vnto you: for the Lorde is the God of iudgement, Blessed are al they that hope in him.

19 If the people remayne in Sion, and at Hierusalem, thou shalt not be in heauinesse: but at the voyce of thy complainte shall he haue mercy vpon thee, and when he heareth it, he shall giue thee an answer.

20 And though the Lorde giue you the bread of trouble, and the water of aduersitie, thy rayne shall be no more so scante, but thyne eyes shall see thy rayne.

D 21 Yea and thine eare shall heare the talking of hym that dothe speake behynde thee: this is the way, walke ye in it, turne not aside, neyther to the right hande, nor to the lefte.

22 Ye shall destroy also the couering of your syluer images, and the decking of your golden idols, euen as filthynesse shalt thou put them away: And thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shal God giue rayne vnto thy seede, that thou shalt sow the ground withall, and bread, of the increase of the earth, which shal be fat, and very plenteous: in that day also shall thy cattell be fedde in large pastures.

24 The Oxen likewise, and the young Asses that eare the grounde, shall eate cleane prouender, whiche is pourged with the winde, and the fanne.

25 Finally, vpon euery high mountayne and hyll, shall there bee riuers, and streames of waters, in ỹ day of the great slaughter, when the towres fall. 2. Pet. 3. b.

26 Moreouer, the lyght of the mone shall be as the light of the sunne, and the sunne light shall be seuen fold, and haue as much shyne as in seuen days beside, when the Lord bindeth vp the sore of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wounde.

27 Beholde, the name of the Lorde commeth from farre, and his presence is so hot, that no man is able to abyde: his lippes are full of indignation, and his tong is a consumyng fyre.

28 His breath is a behement floud of water, E that reacheth vp to the necke, that he may syft away the Heathen in the siue of vanitie: and his breath is a bridle of errour in the iawes of the people.

29 And ye shall syng, lyke as in the nighte, when the holy solemnitie beginneth, and ye shall haue gladnes of hearte, lyke as when one commeth with a pype vnto the hil of the lord, and to the most mightie one of Israel.

30 And the Lorde shall cause hys glorious voyce to be heard, and shal declare his stretched out arme, with a terrible countenance, and with a flame of consumyng fyre, with noisome lightning, with a showre, and with haylestones.

31 For through the voyce of the Lorde, shall Assur be destroyed, whiche smote other men with the rod. Esai. 10. a.

32 And it shall come to passe, that whether so euer he goeth, the rod shall cleaue vnto hym, whiche the Lorde shall lay vpon him, with Tabrets and Harpes: and with great warre shall he fight against his host.

33 For the fyre of hell is ordeyned from the beginning, yea euen for the king is it prepared: This hath the Lord set in the deepe, and made it wide, the burning whereof is fyre and much wood: the breathe of the Lorde, whiche is lyke a riuer of brymstone, dothe kyndle it. Mat. 25. b.

The.xxxi.Chapter.

He curſeth them that forſake God, and ſeeke for the help of men.

A 1 WOe be vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and truſt in horſes, and put their confidence in charrets, bycauſe they be many, and in horſemen, bycauſe they be luſty and ſtrong: but they regard not the holy one of Iſrael, and they aſke no queſtion at the Lord.

2 And he neuertheleſſe is wiſe, and wil plage the wicked, and goeth not from his worde, hee will ariſe agaynſte the houſholde of the frowarde, and agaynſte the helpe of euill doers.

3 Nowe the Egyptians are men, and not God: and their horſes fleſh, and not ſpirite: and as ſoone as the Lorde ſtretcheth out hys hande, then ſhall the helper fall, and he that ſhould haue bin helped, and they ſhall altogether be deſtroyed.

4 For thus hath the Lord ſpoken vnto mee: lyke as the Lion and Lions whelpe roareth vpon the pray that he hath gotten, and is not afrayde though the multitude of ſhepheards crye out vppon him, neyther be abaſhed for all the heape of them: ſo ſhall the Lorde of hoſts come downe to fight for mount Sion, and defend his hil. Apoc.5.a. Gen.49.b.

Deut.32.d. 5 Like as the byrds flutter about their neſtes, ſo ſhall the Lorde of hoſtes keepe, ſaue, defend, and deliuer Hieruſalem.

6 Therefore O ye children of Iſraell, turne agayne vnto him whome you haue oftentimes forſaken.

B 7 For in that daye euery man ſhall caſt oute his idols of ſyluer, and his idols of golde, which ye haue made with your owne hands vnto your ſinne. Eſai.2.c.

8 Aſſur alſo ſhall be ſlaine with the ſworde, not with a mans ſworde, neyther ſhall the ſworde of any man deuoure him, and he ſhall flee from the ſlaughter, and his choyſe yong men ſhalbe diſcomfited. Eſai.37.c.

9 He ſhall goe for feare to his ſtrong holdes, and his princes ſhall flee from his ſtanderde, ſayth the Lorde, whoſe fire is in Sion, and his furnace in Hieruſalem.

The.xxxij.Chapter.

The conditions of good rulers and officers.

A 1 BEholde, a king ſhall gouerne after the rule of righteouſneſſe, and the princes ſhall rule accordyng to the ballaunce of equitie.

2 And that man ſhalbe vnto me as a defence for the wynde, and as a refuge for the tempeſt, lyke as a riuer of water in a thirſtie place, and the ſhadowe of a great rocke in a dryie lande.

3 The eyes of the ſeeing ſhall not be dimme, and the eares of them that heare, ſhall take diligent heede.

4 The hart of the vnwiſe ſhall atteyne to knowledge, and the vnperfect tong ſhall ſpeake playnely, and diſtinctly.

5 Then ſhall the fowliſh niggard be no more called gentle, nor the churle liberall.

6 But the niggarde will ſpeake niggardly, and his hart will worke euil, and playe the hypocrite, and imagine abhominations againſt God, to make the hungry leane, and to withholde drynke from the thirſtie.

7 The weapons of the churliſh are euill, he B deuiſeth noyſome deuiſes, that hee maye beguile the poore with deceitfull wordes, yea euen there as he ſhoulde giue ſentence with the poore.

8 But the liberall perſon imagineth honeſt Pro.2 things, and commeth vp for liberalitie vnto promotion.

9 Vp ye rich and idle women, hearken vnto my voyce, ye careleſſe daughters marke my wordes.

10 Many yeeres and days ſhal ye be brought in feare, O ye careleſſe women: for the vintage ſhall fayle, and the haruell ſhall not come.

11 Be ye abaſhed you that liue in abundance, tremble you that liue careleſſe, caſt off your raymente, make your ſelues bare, and put ſackcloth about you.

12 For as the infants weepe when their mothers teates are dryed vp, ſo ſhall you weepe for your fayre feeldes, and fruitefull vineyardes.

13 My peoples feelde ſhall bring thornes and thyſtles, and ſo ſhall it be in euery houſe of voluptuouſneſſe, and in euery citie that reioyceth.

14 The palaces alſo ſhall be broken, and the C greatly occupied cities deſolate: the towres and bulwarkes ſhall become dennes for euermore, where wilde Aſſes take their pleaſure, and ſheepe their paſture:

15 Vnto the time that the ſpirite be powred vpon vs from aboue, and that the wildernes be a fruiteful fielde, and the plenteous fielde be reckoned for a wood. Ier.5.c.

16 Then ſhall equitie dwell in the deſert, and righteouſneſſe in a fruitefull lande.

17 And the worke of righteouſneſſe ſhall be peace, and hir fruite reſt and quietneſſe for euer. Rom.5.b

18 And

18 And my people shal dwel in the innes of peace, and in sure dwellings, in safe places of comfort.

19 And when the hayle falleth, it shall fall in the wood, and the citie shalbe set lowe in the valley.

20 O howe happye shall ye be when ye shall safely sowe your seede beside all waters, and dryue thyther the feete of your Oxen and Asses.

The.xxxiij. Chapter.

1. Threatning against the Assyrians. 20. A destruction of them that shal see the Lord.

ℵ 1 WO to thee that destroyest when thou wast not destroyed, thou breakest the league, whereas none hathe broken it with thee: for when thou shalt leaue destroying, thou thy selfe shalt be destroyed: and when thou ceassest from breaking the league, then shall they breake it to thee.

2 O Lorde haue mercy vpon vs, we haue put our whole trust in thee: be an arme to suche early, and our health in the time of trouble.

3 At that confuse noyse the people fledde, and at thyne exalting, the heathen were scattred.

4 And the spoyles shall be gathered, whiche shal be yours, as are the gathering of Bruchus, and the multitude going to it, shal be as Locustes, running to and fro.

5 The Lord is exalted, for it is he that dwelleth on high, he hath fylled Sion w̄ iudgement, and righteousnesse.

6 And a sure stablishing of thy times shal be strength, health, wysdome, and knowledge: and the very feare of the Lorde shall be the treasure of it.

ℶ 7 Behold, the messengers shal crie without: and the embassadours of peace shall weepe bytterly.

8 Their streetes are wast, there walketh no man therein: God hath broken the apoyntment, the cities are cast away, and men are nothing regarded.

9 The desolate earth is in heauinesse, Libanus is shamed and hewen downe, Saron is like a wildernesse, Basan and Charmel are spoyled of their fruites.

10 And therefore, sayth the Lorde, I will vp nowe, nowe will I be aduaunced, nowe wil I be exalted.

11 Ye shall conceiue stubble, and beare straw: and your spirite shal be the fyre, that it may consume you.

12 And the people shal be burnt lyke lime and as thornes burnt, that are hewen of, and cast in the fyre.

13 Nowe hearken to, ye that are farre of how I haue done, and consider my power ye that are at hande.

14 The sinners at Sion are afrayde, a sudayne fearefulnesse is come vpon the hypocrites: What is he among vs say they, that shall dwell by the consuming fyre? Whiche of vs may abyde the euerlasting heate? ℭ

15 He that leadeth a godly lyfe, and speaketh the truthe, he that abhorreth gaynes by violence and deceit, he that kepeth his hand that he touche no rewarde, whiche stoppeth his eares that he heare no counsel against the innocent bloud, which holdeth downe his eyes that he see no euil: Psal.14.a. and.23.a.

16 He it is that shall dwel on hygh, whose safegard shall be in a bulwarke of rockes: to him shal be giuen meat, and his waters shal not fayle.

17 Thyne eyes shall see the king in his glorye, euen the king of the farre countries shal they see.

18 Thyne harte studyed for feare, thinking thus: What shal then become of the scribe? or the receiuer of our money? what of him that tared our fayrest houses? 1.Cor.a.

19 There shalt thou not see a cruell people of a straunge tong, to haue so diffused a language that it may not be vnderstanded, neither so straunge a speache but it shal be perceiued.

20 Loke vpon Sion the heade citie of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall se Jerusalem that glorious habitation, the tabernacle that neuer shall remoue whose nayles shall neuer bee taken oute worlde withoute ende, whose cordes euery one shal neuer corrupt. Heb.9.b.

21 For the glorious maiestie of the Lord shal there be present among vs, as a place where fayre brode riuers and streames are, through the whiche shall neyther galey rowe, nor great ship sayle. ℶ

22 For the Lorde is our iudge, the Lord is our lawe giuer, the Lord is our king, and he him selfe shalbe our sauiour. Iacob.4.c.

23 Thy tacklyng is losed, therefore it can not make fast the mast, nor spreade the saile: then there is dealed great spoyle, yea lame men runne after the pray.

24 There lyeth no mā that sayth, I am sycke: but all euill is taken away from the people that dwell there.

The.xxxiiij. Chapter.

The last destruction of the synagogue, in whiche the kingdome and priesthood of the people was translated to the Churche and congregation of Christ.

1 COme ye heathen, and heare, take heede you people: hearken thou earth, and all that is therin, thou round compaſſe, and all that dwelleth therupon.

2 For the Lord is angry with all people, and his diſpleaſure is kindled againſt al the multitude of them, he hath deſtroyed them, and deliuered them to the ſlaughter.

3 So that their ſlayne ſhall bee caſt out, and theyr bodyes ſhal ſtincke, that euen the very hilles ſhal be wet with the bloud of them.

4 All the ſtarres of heauen ſhall waſte, and the heauens ſhal fold together like a role, and all the ſtarres thereof ſhall fall, like as the leaues fall from the vines and fig trees.

5 For my ſworde ſhal be bathed in heauen, and ſhal immediatly come downe to iudgement vpon Idumea, and vpon the people which I haue curſed.

6 And the Lords ſworde ſhal be full of bloud, and be ruſtie with the fatneſſe and bloud of lambes and goates, with the fatneſſe of the kydneyes of weathers: For the Lorde ſhall kill a great offering in Bozra, and a great ſlaughter in the lande of Idumea.

7 There ſhall the Unicornes fall with them, and the Bulles with the Giants, and theyr lande ſhall be throughly ſoked with bloud, and theyr ground corrupt with fatneſſe.

8 For it is the (a) day of Gods vengeãce, and the yeere of recompence for the reuenge of Sion.

2. God declareth his loue and care to preſerue his churche by his ſeuere puniſhing of the enimies to his church.

9 And his ſtouddes ſhall be turned to pitche, and his earth to brymſtone, & therwith ſhall the lande be kindled.

10 So that it ſhall not be quenched day nor night, but ſmoke euermore, and ſo forth lye waſt: and no mã ſhal go through it for euer.

11 But Pellicanes, Storkes, great Owles, and Rauens ſhall haue it in poſſeſſion, and dwel therin: for God ſhal ſpread out the line of deſolatiõ vpõ it, & ỹ ſtones of emptineſſe.

12 Hir nobles ſhall cal, and there is no kingdome, and all hir princes ſhal be nothing.

13 Thornes ſhall growe in their palaces, nettles and thyſtles in their ſtrong holdes, that the dragons may haue their pleaſure therein, and that they may be a court for Eſtriches.

14 There ſhal ſtraunge viſures, and monſterous beaſtes meete one another, and the wild kepe company together: there ſhal ỹ Lamia lye, and haue hir lodging.

15 There ſhal the Owle make hir neſt, build, be there at home, and bring forth hir young ones: there ſhall the Kites come together, eache one to his like.

16 Seeke through the booke of the Lorde, and reade it: there ſhall none of theſe thinges be left out, ther ſhal not one nor ſuch like fayle: for his mouth commaundeth, and that ſame doth his ſpirit gather together, or fulfyl.

17 He hath caſt the lot for them, and to thoſe beaſtes hath his hand diuided it by the line, therefore thoſe ſhall poſſeſſe it for euer, from generation to generation ſhall they dwell therein.

The.xxxv. Chapter.

Of the time and kingdome of Chriſt.

1 BUt (a) the deſert and wildernes ſhal reioyce, the waſt ground ſhal be glad and floriſhe as the Lillie.

2 She ſhall floriſhe pleaſantly, and be ioyful, and euer be giuing thankes more and more: For the glorye of Libanus, the beautie of Charmel and Saron ſhalbe giuen hir: theſe ſhall knowe the honour of the Lord, and the maieſtie of our God.

3 And therfore (b) ſtrength the weake hands, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say vnto them that are of a fearefull hart, be of good cheare and feare not, beholde, your God commeth to take vengeaunce, and you ſhal ſee the rewarde that God giueth: God commeth his own ſelfe, and will deliuer you.

5 Then ſhal the eyes of the blind be lightned, and the eares of the deafe opened.

6 Then ſhal the lame men leape as an Hart, and the dumbe mans tong ſhal giue thanks: for in ỹ wildernes there ſhal welles ſpring, and ſtouddes of water in the deſert.

7 The dry grounde ſhall turne to riuers, and the thyrſtie to ſprings of water: whereas dragons dwelt afore, there ſhal growe ſweet flowres, and greene ruſhes.

8 There ſhall bee foote pathes and common ſtreetes, this ſhal be called the holy way: no vncleane perſone ſhal goe through it, for the Lord him ſelfe ſhal goe with them that way, and the wayfayrer nor ignorant ſhal not erre.

9 There ſhall be no Lion, and no rauiſhing beaſtes ſhall come therein, nor be there, but men redeemed ſhal goe there free and ſafe.

10 And the redeemed of the Lord, I ſay, ſhall conuert and come to Sion with thankeſgiuing: euerlaſting ioy ſhal they haue, pleaſure and gladneſſe ſhall be among them, and as for all ſorow and heauyneſſe, it ſhall vaniſh.

The.xxxvi. Chapter.

Ieruſalem is beſieged by Sennacherib in the time of king Hezekias.

1 IN the fourtienth yeere of king Hezekias, came Sennacherib king of the Aſſyrians downe, to lay ſiege vnto all the ſtrong strong cities of Juda, to conquere them.

2 And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabsakeh from Lachis towarde Jerusalem, against Hezekias, with an exceeding host, whiche sette him by the conduit of the ouerpoole, in the waye that goeth through the Fullers lande.

3 And so there came forth vnto him Eliakim Helkias sonne, the chiefe ouer the houshold, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs son the secretarie:

4 And Rabsakeh said vnto them, Tel Hezekias that the great king sayth thus vnto him: What presūptiō is this ẏ thou trustest vnto?

5 I sayde surely that thou trustest in vayne wordes, when counsell and strength are necessary to battayle: but nowe wherto trustest thou, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou puttest thy trust in a broken staffe of reede (I meane) Egypt, whiche hee that leaneth vpon, it goeth into his hande, and thrusteth it through: euen so is Pharao the king of Egypt vnto all thē that trust in him:

7 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, Wee trust in the Lord our God: Is not he that God whose high places and aulters Hezekias toke downe, and cōmaunded Juda and Jerusalē to worship only before this aulter?

8 Nowe therefore deliuer hostages, that thou rebel no more against my Lord the king of the Assyrians, and I will giue thee two thousande horses, if thou be able to set men vpon them.

9 Howe darest thou resyst the power of the smallest prince that my Lord hath? how darest thou trust in the charrets and horsemen of Egypt?

10 Moreouer, thynkest thou that I am come vp hither to destroy this lande without the Lords wil? The Lord sayde vnto me, Goe vp against this lande, and destroy it.

11 Then sayd Eliakim, Sobna, and Joah vnto Rabsakeh: Speake to vs thy seruantes, we pray thee, in the Syrians language, for we vnderstande it wel, and speake not to vs in the Jewes tong, lest the folke heare which syt vpon the wal.

12 Then answered Rabsakeh: Hath my master sent me to speake this only to thy maister and thee? hath he not sent me to them also that lie vpon the wall? that they may be compelled to eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne stale with you?

13 And Rabsakeh stoode stiffe, and cryed with a loude voyce in the Jewes tong, and sayd, Howe take heede how the great king of the Assyrians giueth you warning.

14 Thus sayth the king, Let not Hezekia deceiue you, for hee shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Moreouer, let not Hezekia comfort you in the Lord when he sayth, The Lord without doubt shal defende vs, & shal not giue ouer this citie into ẏ hāds of ẏ king of ẏ Assyrias.

16 Hearken not to Hezekia, for thus saith the king of Assyria: Obtayn my fauour, encline to me, so may euery man enioy his vineyardes and fig trees, and drink the water of his cesterne:

17 Vnto the time that I come my selfe, and bring you into a land that is like your own, wherein is wheate & wine, which is both sowen with seed, and planted with vineyards.

18 Let not Hezekia deceiue you, whē he saith vnto you, The Lord shal deliuer vs: Might the gods of the Gentiles keepe euery mans land fro the power of ẏ king of ẏ Assyrians.

19 Wher is the god of Hemath and Arphad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? and who is able to defend Samaria out of my hand?

20 Or which of al the gods of these lands hath deliuered their countrie out of my power? Is the Lorde in deede able to deliuer Jerusalem from my hand?

21 Vnto this Hezekias messengers held their tongs, & answered not one word: for the king had charged them that they should giue him no aunswere.

22 So came Eliakim Helkias sonne, the chiefe ouer the houshold, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs son the secretarie, vnto Hezekia with rente clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabsakeh.

The.xxxvij.Chapter.

1. Hezekia humbleth him selfe before the Lord. 36. The armie of Sennacherib is slayne of the angel of the Lord, 38. and he him selfe is killed of his owne sonnes.

1 When Hezekia heard that, hee rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went into the temple of the Lord.

2 But he sent Eliakim the chiefe ouer the houshold, & Sobna the scribe, with the eldest priestes clothed in sacke, vnto the prophet Esay the sonne of Amos. 4.Re.19.a.

3 And they sayde vnto him, Thus sayth Hezekia: This is the day of trouble, of plague, and of blasphemie: for the chyldren are come to the place of birth, but there is no power to bring them forth. Jonas.3.a.

4 The Lord thy God (no doubt) hath well considered the wordes of Rabsakeh, whō his lord king of ẏ Assyrians hath sent to defye & blaspheme the liuing God, with such wordes as the Lorde thy God hath heard right wel: & therfore lift vp thy prayer for the remnant that are yet left.

5 So

5 So the ſeruantes of the king Hezekia came to Eſai,

6 And Eſai gaue them this aunſwere: Say thus vnto your lord, Thus ſaith the Lord, Be not afrayde of the wordes that thou haſt heard, wherewith the king of the Aſſyrians ſeruauntes haue blaſphemed me.

B 7 Behold, I will rayſe vp a winde againſt him, and he ſhall heare a rumour, and he ſhal goe agayne into his countrey, there will I deſtroy him with the ſworde in his owne lande.

Eſai.31.b.

3.Re.23.c. 8 Now when Rabſakeh returned, he found the king of Aſſyria laying ſiege to Libnas: for he had vnderſtanding that he was departed from Lachis.

9 And there came a rumour that Tharakas king of Ethiopia was come forth to warre againſt him: and when the king of Aſſyria heard that, he ſent other meſſengers to kyng Hezekia with this commaundement, 10 Say thus to Hezekia king of Juda, Let not thy God deceiue thee, in whom thou hopeſt, and ſayeſt Jeruſalem ſhal not be giuen into the handes of the king of Aſſyria.

11 For loe, thou knoweſt well how the kings of Aſſyria haue handled all the landes that they haue ſubuerted: and hopeſt thou to eſcape?

12 Were the people of the Gentiles, whom myprogenitours conquered, deliuered at any time through their goddes? (As namely) Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were at Thalaſſar?

3.R.17.a.

13 Wher is the king of Hemath, and the king of Arphad, and the kyng of the citie Sepharuaim, Hena, and Jua?

C 14 Nowe when Hezekia had receiued the letter of the meſſengers, and read it, he went vp into the houſe of the Lorde, and opened the letter before the Lord,

15 And Hezekia prayed vnto the Lord (on this manner.)

16 O Lorde of hoſtes, thou God of Iſrael, whiche dwelleſt vpon Cherubim, thou art the God that onely is God of all the kingdomes of the world, for thou only haſt created heauen and earth.

Exod.25.c.

Gene.1.a.

Baruc.1.c. 17 Encline thyne eare Lord and conſider, open thyne eyes Lord and ſee, and ponder all the wordes of Sennacherib, whiche hath ſent his embaſſage to blaſpheme the liuyng God.

18 It is true, O Lorde, that the kinges of Aſſyria haue conquered all kingdomes and landes, 19 And caſt theyr gods in the fyre: for thoſe were no gods, but the workes of mẽs hands, of wood, or ſtone, therfore haue they deſtroyed them.

20 Nowe therefore delyuer vs, O Lord our God, from the handes of Sennacherib that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe that thou only art the Lord.

21 Then Eſai the ſonne of Amos ſente vnto Hezekia, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael: Whereas thou haſte made thy prayer vnto mee as touching Sennacherib the king of Aſſyria, D

22 This is the aunſwere that the Lorde hath giuen concerning him: Deſpiſed art thou, and mocked, O daughter Sion, he hath ſhaken his heade at thee, O daughter of Jeruſalem.

23 But thou Sennacherib, whom haſt thou defyed and blaſphemed? Againſt whom haſt thou lyfted vp thy voyce, and exalted thy proude lookes? euen againſt the holy one of Iſrael.

Zach.2. Mat.23. Actes.9.c.

24 Thou & thy ſeruants haſt blaſphemed the Lord, and thus boldeſt thou of thy ſelfe, I wil couer the high mountaines and ſides of Libanus with my horſemen, and there will I cutte downe the high Cedar trees, and the faireſt Fyre trees: I wil vp in the height of it, and into the chiefeſt of his timber woodes.

Re.19.g. Eſai.48.d Eſai.31.b. Ezec.15.

25 If there be no water, I will graue and drinke: and as for waters of defence, I wil drye them vp with the ſoote of myne hoſt.

26 Yea, haſt thou not heard what I haue taken in hande and brought to paſſe of olde time? That ſame will I do nowe alſo, and waſte, deſtroy, and bring ſtrong cities vnto heapes of ſtones.

Re.20.f Par.34.

27 For their inhabitours ſhall bee like lame men brought in feare and confounded: they ſhal be like graſſe and greene hearbes in the field, like the hay vpon the houſe tops, that withereth before it be growen vp. E

28 I knowe thy wayes, thy going forth, and thy comming home, yea and thy madneſſe againſt me.

29 Therefore thy furiouſneſſe againſt me, and thy pryde is come before me, I will put my ring in thy noſe, and my bridle byt in the lawes of thee, and turne thee about euen the ſame way thou cameſt.

Jonas.3.

30 I wil giue thee alſo this token, (O Hezekia) this yeere ſhalt thou eate ſuche as groweth of it ſelfe, and the ſeconde yeere that whiche ſpringeth againe of the ſame, & in the third yeare ye ſhall ſowe and reape, yea yee ſhall plant vineyards, and enioy the fruites therof.

3.Reg.20

31 And ſuche of the houſe of Juda as are eſcaped, ſhall come together, and the remnant ſhall take rote beneath, and bring forth fruite aboue, Joh.10.

32 For the eſcaped ſhall goe out of Jeruſalẽ, and the remnaunt from the mount Sion: and this ſhal the zeale of the Lorde of hoſtes bring bring to passe.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lorde concerning the king of the Assyrians: He shall not come into this citie, and shal shote no arrow into it, there shall no shield hurt it, neyther shall they cast dytches about it.

34 The same way he came, he shal returne, and not come at this citie, sayth the Lord.

35 And I wil keepe and saue this citie (saith he) for myne owne and for my seruaunt Dauids sake.

36 Thus the angel of the Lord went forth, and slue of the Assyrians hoste an hundred fourescore and fiue thousand: and when men arose vp early in the morning, beholde they were slayne, and all lay full of dead bodyes.

37 So Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians brake vp, and dwelt at Ninive.

38 Afterward it chaunced, as he prayed in the temple of Nesroch his god, that Adramalech and Sarasar, his owne sonnes, slue him with the sword, and fled into the lande of Armenia: and Asarhaddon his sonne raigned in his steede.

The.xxxviij.Chapter.

1. Hezekia is sicke vnto death, 5. but is yet reuiued by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeeres after, 10. for which benefite he giueth thankes.

1 IN Bout this tyme was Hezekia sycke vnto death, and the prophet Esai the sonne of Amos came vnto him, and sayde, Thus commaundeth the Lord: Set thine house in order, for thou must dy, and shalt not escape.

2 Then Hezekia turned his face toward the wal, and prayed vnto the Lord,

3 And saide, Remember, O Lord, I beseech thee, that I haue walked before thee in truth and a stedfast hearte, and haue done the thing that is pleasant vnto thee. And Hezekia wept sore.

4 Then sayde God vnto Esai,

5 Goe and speake vnto Hezekia: The Lord God of Dauid thy father sendeth thee this worde, I haue heard thy prayer, and considered thy teares: beholde, I wil put fyftene yeeres moe vnto thy lyfe,

6 And deliuer thee and the citie also from the hand of the king of Assyria: for I will defende the citie.

7 And take thee this token of the Lorde, that he wil do it as he hath spoken.

8 Beholde, I will returne the shadowe of Ahaz dial that nowe is layde out with the sunne, and bring it ten degrees backwarde: So the sunne turned ten degrees backward, the which he was descended afore.

9 A thankesgiuing whiche Hezekia king of Iuda wrote, when he had bin sicke, and was recouered.

10 I thought I should haue gone to the gates of hel when mine age was shortened, and haue wanted the residue of my yeeres.

11 I spake within my selfe, I wilt neuer visite the Lorde (the Lord I say) in this life: I will neuer see man among the dwellers of the world.

12 Myne age is folden together, and taken away from me like a shepheardes cotage, I haue hewen off my life by my sinnes, like as a Weauer cutteth off his webbe: He will with pynyng sicknesse make an end of me, yea, he wil make an ende of me in one day.

13 I thought I would haue liued vntil the morow, but he brused my bones like a Lion, & in one day thou wilt make an ende of me. Iob.4.b.

14 Then chattered I like a swallowe, and like a Crane, and mourned like a Doue, I lifte vp myne eyes into the heyght: O Lord (sayde I) my sickenesse keepeth mee downe, ease thou me. C

15 What shall I say? The Lord hath made a promise to me, yea, and he him selfe hath performed it: I shal therfore so long as I liue, remember this bitternesse of my life.

16 O Lord, to al those that shall liue hereafter, yea, to all men shal it be knowen, that euen in those yeeres I haue a ioyful life, and that it was thou that caused me to sleepe, agayne thou hast giuen lyfe to me.

17 Beholde, bitter as gall was my penfulnesse, so sore longed I for health, and it was thy pleasure to deliuer my life, from the fylthie pit: for thou it is (O Lorde) that hast cast all my sinnes behinde thy backe.

18 For hell prayseth not thee, death dothe not magnifie thee: they that goe downe into the graue prayse not thy truth: Psal.6.a. and.115.b.

19 But the liuing, yea the liuing knowledge thee, as I do this day: the father telleth his children of thy faithfulnesse.

20 To heale me it is the Lordes worke, and we will sing my songs in the house of the Lord al the dayes of our life. Luk.1.g.

21 And Esai saide, Take a plaster of figs and lay it vpon the sore, so shal it be whole.

22 Then sayd Hezekia, O what a myracle is this, that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord?

The.xxxix.Chapter.

3. Hezekia is reproued of Esai, because he shewed his treasure vnto the embassadours of Babilon.

1 At

A 1 AT the same time Merodach Baladan,
4.Re.20.c. Baladans sonne king of Babylon, sent letters and presentes to Hezekia: for he vnderstode that he had bin sycke, and was recouered againe.

2.Par.32.c. 2 And Hezekia was glad therof, and shewed them the house of his treasures of syluer and gold, of spices, and oyntes, of precious oyles, and all that was in his cuphoyes and treasure houses: there was not one thing in Hezekias house, and in throughout al his kingdome, but he let them se it.

3 Then came Esai the prophet to king Hezekia, and sayde vnto him, What haue the men sayd, and from whence came they vnto thee? Hezekia answered, They came out of a far countrey vnto me, out of Babylon.

4 Esai sayd, What haue they loked vpon in thy house? Hezekia answered, All that is in my house haue they seene, and there is nothing in my treasure but I shewed it them.

5 Then sayde Esai vnto Hezekia, Vnderstand the word of the Lord of hostes:

4.Re.24.c. 6 Behold, the time will come, that euery thing which is in thine house, and all that thy progenitours haue layde vp in store vntil this day, shal be caried to Babylon, and nothing left behinde, thus sayth the Lord.

B 7 Yea and part of thy sonnes that shall come of thee, and whom thou shalt beget, shall be caryed hence, and become gelded chamberlaynes in the king of Babylons court.

8 Then sayde Hezekia to Esai, God is the worde of God which thou hast told me, he sayde moreouer, For there shall be peace and faithfulnesse in my time.

Esai.47.c. 4 Al valleys shal be exalted, and euery mountayne and hil laide lowe: what so is croked shal be made straight, and the rough shal be made playne.

Ioh.10.b. 5 For the glory of the Lord shall apeare, for al flesh shall at once see that the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

6 The same voyce spake: Now crye. And the prophet answered, What shall I crye? That Pet.1. Iacob. 1.Pet. all flesh is grasse, and that all the goodlynes therof is as the floure of the field.

Esai.44.d. 7 The grasse is withered, the floure falleth away, for the breath of the Lord bloweth vpon them: of a truth the people are grasse.

8 The grasse withereth, and the floure fadeth away: yet the worde of our God endureth for euer.

Psal. and.1.Pet. Iacob. 9 Goe vp vnto the high hil, O Sion, thou that bringest good tydings, lift vp thy voyce with power, O thou preacher Ierusalem, lift it vp without feare, and say vnto the cities of Iuda: Beholde your God, 10 Behold, the Lorde God shall come with power, and shall of him selfe beare rule with his arme: behold his reward with him, and his workes before him.

Psal.147.a. 11 Hee shal feede his flocke like an heardman, he shall gather the lambes together with his arme, and carie them in his bosome, and shal kindly entreate those that beare yong.

Sap. Rom. 13 Who hath directed the spirit of the Lord or who gaue him counsel, and shewed him?

C 14 Who is of his counsel, and giueth him vnderstanding, and hath taught him the path of iudgement? who taught him cunnyng, & opened to him the way of vnderstanding?

Esai.17.d. 15 Behold, all people are in comparison of him as a droppe of a bucket full, and are counted as the least thing that the ballance weigheth: yea and the Iles he taketh vp as a very little thing.

16 Libanus is not sufficient to minister fyre to his offering, and al the beastes therof are not ynough for one sacrifice.

Psal. 17 All people in comparison of him are reckoned as nothing: if they be compared with him, lesse than nothing, and as it that is not.

18 To who then wil ye liken God? or what similitude wil ye set vp to him?

19 Shall the caruer make him a carued image? And shall the goldsmith couer him with gold, or cast him into a fourme of syluer plates?

20 Moreouer, shall the image maker, that the poore man which is disposed may haue some thing to set vp also, seeke out and chose a tree that is not rotten, and carue therout an image that moueth not?

21 Knowe ye nothing? heard ye neuer of it? D hath it not bin preached vnto you since the beginning? haue ye not bin enfourmed of this by the foundation of the earth?

22 It

22 It is he that sitteth vpon the circle of the world, whose inhabiters are (in comparison of him) but as grashoppers: he spreadeth out the heauens as a couering, he stretcheth them out as a tent to dwel in.
23 He bringeth princes to nothing, and the iudges of the earth as though they were not.
24 So that of them it may be sayde, they be not planted nor sowen againe, neyther their stocke rooted againe in the earth: for as sone as he bloweth vpon them, they wither & fade away like the strawe in a whirle winde.
25 To whom nowe will yee liken me? and whom shal I be like, saith the holy one?
26 Lift vp your eyes on high, and consyder who hath made those things which come out by so great heapes, and he calleth them all by their names: there is nothing hidde from the greatnes of his power, strength, and might.
27 How may then Jacob thinke, or may Israel say, My wayes are hid from the Lord, and my God knowth not of my iudgemets?
28 Knowest thou not, or hast thou not heard that the euerlasting God, the Lorde whiche made all the corners of the earth is neyther weerie nor fainte? and that his wisedome can not be comprehended?
29 It is he that giueth strength vnto ỹ wee-rie, and power vnto fayntie.
30 Children are weerie and fayne, and the strongest men fal:
31 But vnto them that haue their trust in the Lorde, shall strength be encreased: Eagles winges shall growe vpon them, when they runne they shall not fall, and when they goe they shal not be weerie.

20 All this do I, that they altogether maye see and marke, perceiue with their hartes, & consider that the hande of the Lorde maketh D these things, and that the holy one of Israel bringeth

bringeth them to passe.

21 Stande at your cause, sayth the Lorde, and bring forth your strongest grounde, sayth the king of Iacob.

22 Let them bring forth their goddes, and let their goddes tell vs what shall chaunce hereafter, yea let them shewe vs the thinges that are past what they be, let them declare them vnto vs, that we may take them to hart and know them hereafter:

23 Eyther shewe vs things for to come, and tel vs what shal be done hereafter, so shal we knowe that ye are gods: do something either good or bad, so will we both knowledge the same and tel it out.

24 Beholde, yee are goddes of nought, and your making is of nought: yea abhominable is the man that hath chosen you.

Esai.43.a. Cyrus. 25 Neuertheless, I haue waked vp one frō the North, and he shal come from the East, he shal call vpon my name, and shall treade vpon princes as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth downe the myre.

26 Who declared this frō the beginnyng, and we will knowe him: or from the old times, and we will confesse and say that he is righteous? but there is none that sheweth or declareth any thing, there is none also that heareth your words.

27 The fyrst is he that shal say to Sion, Beholde, beholde, they are present: and to Ierusalem it selfe will I giue an euangelist.

28 But when I consyder, there is not a man among them, nor any that can giue counsel, nor that when I examine them can answere one worde.

29 Loe wicked are they, and vaine, with the thinges also that they take in hande, yea their Images are but wynde and vayne things.

The.xlij. Chapter.

The comming of Christ.

Mat.3.b.12. a.17.a. 1 BEholde this is my seruant vpon whom I leane, my elect in whom my soule is pacified: I haue giuen my spirite vpon him, that he may shewe forth iudgement among the Gentiles.

2 He shal not be an outcryer, nor lyfte vp his voyce, his voyce shall not bee hearde in the stretes.

3 And a bruised reede shall hee not breake, and the smoking flax shall hee not quench: but faythfully and truely shal he giue iudgement.

4 He shall not be pensiue nor careful, that hee may restore righteousnesse vnto the earthe: and the Gentiles also shall looke for his lawes.

Eli. am.44. 5 For thus sayth God the Lorde vnto him, Euen he that made the heauens, and spreade them abrode, and set forth the earth with his increase, which giueth breath vnto the people that is in it, and spirite to them that dwel therein.

Eli. 6 I the Lorde haue called thee in righteousnesse, and will holde thee by the hande, and will also defende thee, and giue thee for a couenaunt of the people, to bee the lyght of the Gentiles.

Luc. 7 That thou maiest open the eies of the blind, let out the prisoners from their bonds, and them that sit in darkenesse out of the dungeon house.

B Zach. 8 Euen I am the Lorde, and this is my name, and my glorie wil I giue to none other, neyther myne honour to grauen images.

Phi. 9 Behold olde thinges are come to passe, and newe thinges do I declare, and or euer they come I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lorde a newe songue of thankesgiuing, blowe out his prayse from the ende of the worlde: they that bee vpon the sea, and all that is therein prayse him, the Iles and they that dwel in them.

11 Let the wyldernesse, with the cities, lyft vp hir voyce, the townes also that they of Cedar dwel in: let them be glad that sitte vpon rockes of stone, and let them crye downe from the high mountaynes.

12 Ascribing glory vnto the Lord, and magnifying him among the Gentiles.

13 The Lord shall come forth like a Giant, and take a stomacke to him like a fresshe man of warre: he shall roare and crye, and ouercome his enimies.

C 14 I haue long holden my peace (sayth the Lord) (a) I haue bin stil, and refrayned my selfe, but nowe I wyll crye lyke a trauayling woman, and at once wil I destroy and deuoure.

15 I will make waste both mountaine and hill, and drye vp euery greene thing that groweth thereon: I will dry vp the fludes to become Ilandes, and drinke vp the riuers.

16 I will bring the blinde into a streete that they know not, and leade them into a sote path that they are ignorant in: I shal make darknesse light before them, and the thing that is crooked to be straight: These thynges haue I done vnto them, and not forsaken them.

Esai. 17 They are fallen backe, yea and let them be ashamed earnestly that hope in idolles, and say to the moulten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Heare,

18 Heare, O ye deafe men, and sharpen your eyes to see, O yee blynde.
19 Who is blynde but my seruaunt? or so deafe as (b) my messenger whom I sent vnto them? for who is so blinde as the perfect man, and so blinde as the Lords seruaunt?
20 Thou hast seene muche, and keepest nothing: the eares are open, & no man heareth.
21 The Lorde is mercifull vnto them for his righteousnesse sake, that his worde might be magnified and prayed:
22 (c) But the people them selues is robbed and troden vnder foote, chayned in dungeons, and they al, I say, are shut into prison houses: they be caryed away captiue, and no mā doth lowse thē: they be trodē vnder foot, & no man doth labour to bring thē againe,
23 But who is he among you that pondereth this, that considereth it, and taketh it for a warning in time to come?
24 Who gaue Jacob to bee troden vnder foote, and Israel to be spoyled? Dyd not the Lord? Bycause we haue sinned against him, and haue had no delight to walke in his wayes, neither bin obedient vnto his lawe:
25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his wrathfull displeasure and strong battell, and hath fyred him on euery side, yet will he not vnderstande: he burneth him vp, yet sinketh it not into his heart.

The.xliij.Chapter.

1. God promised to send his Christ, which shal delyuer his people. 25. He forgiueth sins for his owne sake.

1 BVt now the Lorde that made thee, O Jacob, and hee that fashioned thee, O Israel, sayth thus, Feare not, for I haue redeemed thee, I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine owne.
2 If thou goest thorow the water, I wil bee with thee, the strong flouddes shal not ouerwhelme thee: and if thou walkest thorowe the fyre, it shal not burne thee, and the flambe shall not kindle vpon thee.
3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel thy sauiour: I gaue Egypt for thy deliuerance, the Ethiopians and the Sabees for thee:
4 Bycause thou wast deare in my sight and bycause I set by thee, and loued thee: I will giue ouer all men for thee, and deliuer vp al people for thy sake.
5 Feare not, for I am with thee, I will bring thy seede from the East, and gather thee together from the West.
6 I will say to the North, Let goe: and to the South, Keepe not backe: but bring mee my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the worlde. Galat.3.a.
7 (Namely) all those that bee called after my name: for thē haue I created, fashioned, and made for myne honour. B
8 Bring forth that people which is blind, and and yet hath eyes, which are deafe, although they haue eares. Luke.14.c.
9 If all nations come in one, and be gathered together, which among them shall declare suche thinges, and tel vs the things, that are past? let them bring their witnesse, so that they be iust: else let them heare, and say, It is truth. Ephes.2.c.
10 You are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my seruaunt whom I haue chosen: therefore be certified, & giue me faithfull credence, and consyder that I am he before whome there was neuer any god, neyther shal be any after me. Esai.44.b. Apoc.1.b.
11 I am, euen I am the onely Lord, and beside me there is no sauiour.
12 I gaue warning, I made whole, I taught you when there was no straunge god amōg you: and this recorde must ye beare me your selues, saith the Lorde, that I am God. Osee.13.b.
13 I, euen hee am I, who was from the beginning, and there is none that can take any thing out of my hande: I do the worke, and who shall be able to let it? John.10.f.
14 Thus sayth the Lorde, the holy one of Israel your redeemer: For your sake I haue sent to Babylon, and brought it downe: all they are fugitiue with the Caldees, whose sorowfull crie is in their shippes. C Esai.5.d.
15 I am the Lord your holy one, which haue made Israel, and am your king.
16 Thus saith the Lorde, euen he that maketh away in the sea, and a foote path in the mightie waters, Josue.3.c. Exod.14.c.
17 It is he which bringeth forth the chartetes and horses, the host and power of warre, that they may fall together, and neuer ryse, and be extinct, like as towe are they quenched. Esai.10.a. and.27.f.
18 Remember not thinges of olde, and regarde nothing that is past.
19 Behold, I shall make a newe thing, and shortly shall it appeare, and shall you not knowe it? I wil make (a) away in the desart, and riuers of water in the wildernesse.
20 The wilde beastes shall worship me, the dragons and the yong Estriches: for I shall giue water in the wildernesse, and streames in the desart, that they may giue drinke to my people whom I chose.
21 This people haue I made for my selfe, and they shal shewe forth my prayse.
22 For thou Jacob wouldest not call vpō me, but ȳ hadst an vnlust toward me, O Israel. Psal.6.b. Esai.35.b. 41.c.44.a.

24 Thou boughteſt me no deare ſpice with thy money, neither pouredſt the fat of thy ſacrifices vpon me: but ẏ haſt laden me wt thy ſins, & weeried me with thy vngodlyneſſe.

Chriſt promiſeth to deliuer his Church, without any hir deſartes.

Ꝟ 1 HEare nowe, O Jacob my ſeruaunt, & Iſrael whom I haue choſen.

2 For thus ſaith the Lord that made thee, faſhioned thee, and helped thee, euen from the wombe: Be not afrayd, O Jacob my ſeruaunt, thou righteous whom I haue choſe:

3 For I ſhall poure water vpon the drye ground, and riuers vpon the thirſtie: I ſhal poure my ſpirit vpon thy ſeed, and my bleſſing vpon thy ſtocke:

5 One ſhall ſay, I am the Lords: another ſhal cal him ſelfe after the name of Jacob: ẏ third ſhall ſubſcribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and giue him ſelfe vnder the name of Iſrael.

6 Thus hath the Lord ſpoken, euen the king of Iſrael, and his redeemer the Lord of hoſts: I am the firſt and the laſt, and beſydes me there is no God.

8 Be not abaſhed nor afrayde: for haue not I euer tolde you hitherto, and warned you? ye can beare me recorde your ſelues: Is there any God except me, or any maker, that I ſhould not knowe him:

9 All caruers of images are but vayne, and the carued images that they loue can do no good: they muſt beare recorde them ſelues, that ſeeing they can neither ſee nor vnderſtande, they ſhal be confounded.

10 Who dare then make a God, or faſhion an image that is profitable for nothing? Eſai.42.

11 Behold, all the felowſhip of them muſt be brought to confuſion, & truely all the workemaiſters of them are men: they ſhal al be gathered togither, they ſhal ſtand, tremble, and be confounded one with another. Sapi.13.a

12 The ſmith maketh an axe, and tempereth it with hot coales, and faſhioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with all the ſtrength of his armes, yea ſomtime he is faint for very hũger, & ſo thirſty ẏ he hath no more power.

Ier.10.a. Eſai.45.c.

13 The carpenter or Image caruer, taketh meaſure of the tymber, and ſtreadeth forth his line, he marketh it with ſome colour, hee plaineth it, he ruleth it, and ſquareth it, and maketh it after the image of a man, and according to the beautie of a man, that it may ſtande in the houſe.

14 Moreouer, he goeth out to hewe Cedar trees, he bringeth home Elmes and Okes, ℭ and taking a bold courage, he ſeeketh out the beſt tymber of ẏ wood: he him ſelfe hath plãted a Pinetree, which the rayne hath ſwelled, 15 Which wood ſerueth for men to burne: of this he taketh and warmeth him ſelfe withall, he maketh a fyre of it to bake bread, and maketh alſo a God thereof to honour it, and a grauen image to kneele before it.

16 One peece he burneth in the fyre: wt another he roſteth fleſhe, that he may eate roſt his belly full, wt the third he warmeth him ſelfe, & ſaithe, Aha, I am well warmed, I haue bin at the fyre:

17 And of the reſidue he maketh him a god, and grauen image for him ſelfe: he kneeleth before it, he worſhippeth it, he prayeth vnto it, and ſaith, Deliuer me, for thou art my god.

20 Thus doth he but loſe his labour, and his hart, which is deceiued, doth turne him aſide, ſo that none of them can haue a free cõſcience to thinke, Do not I erre?

23 Be glad, yee heauens, for the Lorde hathe dealt gratiously with his people, let all that is here beneath vpon the earth bee ioyfull: reioyce ye mountaynes and woods, with all ỳ trees therof, for ỳ Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and will shewe his glorie vpon Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, euen hee that fashioned thee from thy mothers wombe, I the Lord do all thinges my selfe alone, I onely spread out the heauens, and I onely haue layde abroad the earth by myne owne selfe.

25 I destroy the tokens of witches, and make the soothsayers fooles: As for the wise I turn them backeward, and make their cunning foolishnesse.

26 He doth set vp the purpose of his seruaunt, and fulfilleth the counsel of his messengers: concerning Ierusalem, he sayth, It shal be inhabited: and of the cities of Iuda, They shal be buylded againe, and I will repayre their decayed places.

27 He sayth to the deapth, Be drye, and I wil drye vp water flouddes.

28 He sayth of Cyrus, He is mine heardman, so that he shall fulfil al things after my wil: He sayth also of Ierusalem, It shal be buildded: & of the temple, It shal be fast grouded.

The.xlv.Chapter.

1. The diliueraunce of the people by Cyrus.20. The comming of Christ, and the calling of the Gentiles.

1 Thus sayth the Lord vnto Cyrus his anoynted, whom I haue taken by the right hande, to subdue nations before him? I will lose the (a) loynes of kings, and I will open the gates before his face, and the gates shal not be shut.

2 I wil goe before thee, and make the crooked straight: I shall breake the brasen doores, and burst the iron barres.

3 I shal giue thee hid treasures, and the thing whiche is secretly kept: that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord God of Israel, whiche haue called thee by thy name.

4 For Iacob my seruants sake, and for Israel my chosen, I called thee by thy name, and ordeyned thee or euer thou knewest me.

5 I am the Lord, and there is none other, for without me there is no God: I haue prepared thee or euer thou knewest me.

6 Therfore they shall knowe from the rysing of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same, that all is nothing without me: for I am the lord, and there is else none.

7 It is I that created light and darknesse, I make peace & trouble: yea euen I the Lord do all these thinges.

8 Ye heauens from aboue drop downe, and let the cloudes rayne righteousnesse: let the earth open it self, and let saluation and righteousnesse growe forth, let it bring them forth together: I ỳ Lord haue created him.

9 Wo be vnto him ỳ striueth w̄ his maker, let the potsherd striue with the potsherdes of the earth: Sayth the clay to the potter, What makest thou? or, Thy worke is not perfectly done?

10 Wo be vnto him that sayth to his father, What begettest thou: and to hys mother, What bearest thou?

11 Thus saith the Lorde, euen the holy one and maker of Israel, Aske me of things for to come concerning my sonnes, and put me in remembraunce as touching the workes of my hands.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: With my handes haue I spread forth heauen, and giuen a commaundement for all the host therof.

13 I shall wake him vp with righteousnesse & order all his wayes. He shall build my citie, & let out my prisoners, & that neither for gifts nor rewardes, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus sayth the Lord, the occupiers of Egypt, the marchauntes of the Ethiopians and Sabees, shall come vnto thee with tribute. they shal be thyne, they shal folow thee, and goe with chaines vpon their feete, they shall fal downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee: for God, without whom there is none other God, shal be with thee.

15 O how profounde art thou, O God, thou God and sauiour of Israel?

16 Confounded are they al, and put to dishonor, they are gon bee together with shame, euen the makers of Images.

17 But Israel shal be saued in the Lord w̄ an euerlasting saluation: ye shal not come to shame nor confusion world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord, euen he that created heauen, the God that made the earth and fashioned it, & set it forth: He did not make it for nought, but to be inhabited, euen I the Lord, without whom there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken secretly, neyther in dark places of the earth: I layde not in vaine to the seed of Iacob, Seke me: I am the Lord, which when I speake, do declare the thing that is righteous and true.

20 Gather you and come together, draw nigh hither you that escaped of the people: they haue no vnderstanding that set vp the stocks of their idols, and pray vnto a god that can not helpe them.

D 21 Draw nigh, come hither, and let them aſke counſel one at another, and ſhewe forth what is hee that tolde this before? or who ſpake of it euer ſince the beginning? haue not I the Lord done it? without whom ther is none other God, the true God and ſauior, and there is elſe none but I.

Eſai.46.b.

Eſai.44.b. 22 And therefore turne you vnto me, all yee ends of the earth, that ye may be ſaued: for I am God, and there is elſe none.

23 I ſweare by my ſelfe, out of my mouth commeth the worde of righteouſneſſe, and that may no man turne: but all knees ſhall bow vnto me, and al tongs ſhal ſweare (by my name.)

Rom.14.b. Philip.2.a.

24 Saying, Verely in the Lord is my righteouſneſſe and ſtrength, to him ſhall men come: but all they that thinke ſcorne of him, ſhal be confounded.

25 And the whole ſeede of Iſrael ſhall bee iuſtified, and glory in the Lord.

The word of the Lord againſt Babylon.

I 1 BVt as for thee, O daughter, thou virgine Babylon, ſyt thou downe in the duſt, ſit vpon the ground, there is no throne O thou daughter of Chaldea, for thou ſhalt no more be called tender and pleaſaunt.

2 Bring forth the querne and grynde meale, vntruſſe thy broydred heare, put of thy ſhoes, make bare thy knees, and wade through the water riuers.

3 Thy fylthineſſe ſhal be diſcouered, and thy priuities ſhal be ſeene: for I wil auenge me of thee, and wil ſhewe no mercy to thee, as I do to other men.

Ezec.16.b Naum.4.c

4 Our redeemer is called the Lord of hoſtes, the holy one of Iſrael.

5 Sit ſtil, holde thy tong, get thee into ſome darke corner, O daughter Caldea: for thou ſhalt no more be called lady of kingdomes.

6 I was ſo wroth with my people, that I puniſhed myne inheritaunce, and gaue them into thy power, neuertheleſſe thou ſhewedſt thē no mercy, but euen the very aged of thē diddeſt thou oppreſſe right ſore vnder the yoke.

Pſal.79. Iere.50.b.

7 And thou thoughteſt thus, I ſhal be lady for euer: and beſide all that, thou haſt not regarded theſe thinges, neyther remēbred what was the ende of that citie Ieruſalem.

8 Heare now therefore thou delicate one, that ſittest ſo careles, & ſpeakeſt thus in thine hart, I am alone, & without me is there none, I ſhal neuer be widow, nor deſolate againe.

Eſai.20.b. Apo.18.c.

9 And yet both theſe things ſhal come to thee vpon one day, in the twinckling of an eye: namely, widowhood, and deſolation: they mightily fall vpō thee, for ẏ multitude of thy witches, & for the great heap of thy cōiurers.

Dan.5.c

10 For thou haſt truſted in thy wickednelle, and haſt ſayde, No man ſeeth me: thine own wiſdome and cunning hath deceiued thee, in that thou haſt ſaid in thine hart, I am alone, and without me there is none.

11 Therefore

11 Therefore shall trouble come vpon thee, and thou shalt not knowe frō whence it shal aryse: Mischiefe shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put off, a sudden vtter destruction shall come vpon thee or euer thou be ware.

12 Nowe goe to thy coniurers, and to the multitude of thy witches, with whom thou hast wearyed thy selfe from thy youth, if they may helpe thee, or strengthe thee.

13 Thou hast hitherto had many counsels of them: So let the heauēn gasers, and the beholders of starres, and mone prophets, come on now and deliuer thee, yea and lette them shewe when these newe thinges shall come vpon thee.

C 14 Behold, they shal be lyke straw, whiche if it be kindled with fyre, no mā may rid it for the vehemencie of the flambe, & yet it giueth no sinders to warme a man by, nor cleare fire to sit by.

15 Thus are they with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe, and thus are thy marchaunts that haue bin with thee from thy youth: euery one hath taken his owne way, and none of them shal defende thee.

1. The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reproued. 11. The Lord alone will be worshipped, whiche hath chosen vs, 20. and which succoureth vs for his owne sake.

I 1 HEare this, O thou house of Jacob, yee that are called by the name of Israel and are come out of the stocke with Juda: which sweare by the name of the Lorde, and beare witnesse by the God of Israel, but not with truth and right.

2 For they are named of the holy citie, and are groūded vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lorde of hostes.

3 The thinges that I haue shewed you euer since the beginnyng, haue I not brought them to passe immediatly as they came out of my mouthe, and declared them, and they are come?

4 Howbeit, I know that thou art obstinate, and that thy necke hath an iron sinow, and that thy browe is of brasse.

5 Neuertheleſſe I haue euer since the beginning shewed thee of things for to come, and declared them vnto thee or euer they cam to passe: that thou shouldest not say, Myne idol hath don it, my carued or molte image hath shewed it.

6 Thou hearedest it before, & behold it is come to passe: And shall not ye your selues shewe forth or confesse the same? But as for me, I tolde thee before at the beginning, newe and secrete thinges which thou knewest not of,

7 And some done of olde time, wherof thou neuer hearedest before they were brought to passe, ỳ thou canst not say, Behold I knewe of them. B Esai.38.c.

8 Moreouer, there be some, whereof thou hast neyther heard nor knowen, neyther haue bin opened vnto thine eares afore time: For I knew that thou wouldest malitiously offend, therefore haue I called thee a transgressour, euen from thy mothers wombe.

Deut.23.d. Sapi.3.b.

4 For thus ſayeth the Lorde vnto the gelded that keepeth my ſabboth, (namely) that holdeth greatly of the thing that pleaſeth mee, and keepeth my couenant:

5 Vnto them will I giue in my houſholde and within my walles, a better heritage and name than if they had bin called ſonnes and daughters: I will giue them an euerlaſting name that ſhall not periſhe.

Ioh.1.d.

6 Agayne, the ſtraungers that ſticke to the Lorde, to ſerue him, and to loue his name, and to be his ſeruaunts, and all they whyche keepe themſelues that they vnhalow not the ſabboth, namely that they fulfill my couenaunte:

Ioh.8.c.

7 Them will I bring to my holy mountaine, and make them ioyfull in my houſe of prayer: their burnt offerings and ſacrifices ſhall be accepted vpon myne aulter: for my houſe ſhall bee called an houſe of prayer for all people.

B 3.Reg.8.c. Math.21.b. Mark.11.b. Luke.19.b.

8 Thus ſaith the Lord God which gathereth together the ſcattered of Iſraell, I will bring yet another congregation to him.

9 Come all yee beaſtes of the fielde, that yee may deuoure all the beaſtes of the wood.

10 For his watchmen are all blinde, they haue altogether no vnderſtanding, they are all dumbe dogges not being able to barke, they are ſleepie, ſluggiſhe are they, and lye snoring.

Iere.12.b. Ezec.34.d.

11 They are ſhameleſſe dogges that be neuer ſatisfyed: The ſhepheardes alſo in like maner haue have no vnderstanding, but euery man turneth his owne way, euery one after his own couetousnesse with all his power.

12 Come (say they) I will fetche wyne, so shall we fyll our selues that wee maye bee dronken: and do to morow lyke as to daye, yea and much more.

The.lvij. Chapter.

1. The good men are taken away. 3. The wicked ones take pleasure in idolatrie, the godly receyue comfort, the wicked doth perishe.

1 The righteous perisheth, and no manne regardeth it in his hearte: good godly people are taken away, and no man consydereth it, namely, that the righteous is conueyghed away from the wicked.

2 He commeth into peace, and godly menne rest in their chambers, and before the godly man goeth peace.

3 Come hyther therefore yee charmers childzen, yee sonnes of the adulterer and the whoore.

4 Wherin take ye your pleasure? vpō whom gape yee with youre mouth, and bleare out your tong? Are ye not childzen of transgression, and a seede of dissimulation?

5 Ye make your fyre vnder the okes, and vnder all greene trees, and yee offer childzen in the valleyes, and dennes of stone.

6 Thy part shall be with the stonie rockes by the riuer, yea euen these shall be thy parte: For there thou hast powred meate & drinke offering vnto them: Shoulde I delyght in that?

B 7 Thou hast made thy bed vppon the hyghe mountaynes, thou wentest vp thyther, and there thou hast slayne sacrifices.

8 Behynde the doores and postes hast thou set vp thy remembraunce, when thou hadst discouered thy selfe to another than me, when thou wentest vp and made thy bedde wider, and with those idolles hast thou made a couenaunte, and louedst their couches where thou sawest them.

9 Thou wentest straight to kings with oyle and diuers oyntmentes (that is) thou haste sente thy messengers farre off, & yet art thou fallen into the pit.

10 Thou art weerie for the multitude of thine owne wayes, yet saydest thou neuer, There is no hope: thou hast had the like that thy handes wrought, and therefore thou arte careleste.

11 For whome wilt thou bee abashed or feare, seeing thou hast broken thy promyse, and remembrest not me, neyther hast me in thyne hart? thynkest thou that I also wil holde my peace as afore time, that thou feares me not?

12 Yea verily I will declare thy goodnesse & thy workes, but they shall not profite thee.

13 When thou cryest, let thy chosen heape deliuer thee: but the winde shall blow them forth, and vanitie shal take them all away: nuertheleste, they that put their trust in me, shall inherite the lande, and haue my holy hyll in possession.

14 And therefore thus he saith, Make plaine, make playne, and clense the streete, take vp the stumbling blockes out of the waye of my people.

15 For thus sayth the hygh and excellent, euen hee that dwelleth in euerlastingnesse, whose name is the holy one: I dwell high aboue, and in the sanctuary, and with hym also that is of a contrite and humble spirite dee I dwell, that I maye heale a troubled mind, and a contrite hart.

16 For I chide not euer, and am not wroth without end: but the blasting goeth from me, and is included in ỹ body, and I made the breath.

17 I am wroth with him for his couetousnesse, I smite him, I hide me, and am angry, and he turneth him selfe, and followeth thee by the way of his owne hart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and I heale him, I lead him, and restore to him comfort, and to those that were sory for him.

19 I make the fruites of thankesgiuing, that he may say, Peace, peace, vnto them that are farre off and to them that are nygh, saith the Lord, I make him whole.

20 But the wicked are like the raging Sea that cannot rest, whose water fometh with the myre and grauel.

21 Euē so ỹ wicked haue no peace, saith god.

The.lviij. Chapter.

The Lord (by the mouth of the prophet) reproueth the people for theyr fastings, which were full of hypocrisie.

1 Crye now as loude as thou canst, leaue not off, lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their offences, and the house of Jacob their sinnes.

2 For they seeke me dayly, and will knowe my wayes, euen as it were a people that dyd righte, and had not forsaken the statutes of theyr God: they aske of me concerning right iudgement, and will be nigh vnto God.

3 Wherefore fast we (say they) and thou seest it not? we put our liues to straightnesse, and thou regardest it not.

4 Behold,

Eſay.1.b. 4 Behold, when ye fall, your luſt remayneth ſtill, for ye do no leſſe violence to youre debters: loe, ye fall to ſtrike and debate, and to ſmite with your fiſte without mercy: Nowe ye ſhall not faſt thus, that your voyce might be heard aboue.

Zach.7.a. 5 Thinke ye this fall pleaſeth me, that a man ſhoulde chaſten him ſelfe for a daye? and to hang downe his head like a bulruſhe, and to lye vpon the earth in an hearie cloth? Should that be called faſting, or a daye that pleaſeth the Lorde?

Deu.15.a. 6 Dothe not this faſting rather pleaſe mee, that thou loſe the wicked bandes, that thou take off the ouer heauy burdens, that thou let the oppreſſed goe free, and breake all manner of yoke?

B 7 Ezec.18.b. Math.15.c. To deale thy bread to the hungry, and to bring the poore wandering home into thy houſe? when thou ſeeſt the naked, that thou couer hym, and hyde not thy ſelfe from thy neighbour, and deſpiſe not thine owne fleſhe?

Luke.11.d. 8 Then ſhall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thy healthe flouriſh ryghte ſhortly: righteouſneſſe ſhall goe before thee, and the glory of the Lorde ſhall embrace thee.

Prou.21.b. 9 Then if thou calleſt, the Lord ſhall anſwer thee: if thou cryeſt, he ſhall ſay, Here I am: yea if thou layeſt away from thee thy burdens, and holdeſt thy fyngers, and ceaſſeſt frō vngratious talking:

Zach.7.a. Math.5.b. 10 If thou haſt cōpaſſion vpon the hungrie, and refreſheſt the troubled ſoule: then ſhall thy light ſpring out in the darkneſſe, and thy darkneſſe ſhall be as the noone day.

11 The Lord ſhall euer be thy guide, and ſatiſfye the deſire of thine heart in the tyme of drought, and fill thy bones with marrowe: thou ſhalt bee like a freſhe watered garden, and lyke the fountayne of water that neuer leaueth running.

John.4.b. 12 Then the places that haue euer bin waſte, ſhall be builded of thee, there ſhalt thou lay a foundation for many kinredes: thou ſhalte be called the maker vp of the breache, and the buylder agayne of the way to dwell in.

13 Eſay.56.a. and.66.d. Yea if thou turne thy feete from the ſabboth, ſo that thou doe not the thing whyche pleaſeth thy ſelfe in my holy daye, and thou call the pleaſaunt, holy, and glorious ſabboth of the Lord, and that thou giue him the honour, ſo that thou doe not after thyne owne imagination, neyther ſeeke thyne owne wil, nor ſpeake thyne owne words:

14 Then ſhalte thou haue thy pleaſure in the Lorde and I wil carrie thee high aboue the earthe, and feede thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the Lords own mouth hath ſo promiſed.

The.lix.Chapter.

1. The Lorde is mightie to ſaue, and ready to heare our requeſtes, 12. our ſinnes are the cauſe why GOD heareth not vs, neyther graunteth our requeſtes.

8 But the way of peace they knowe not, in their goings is no equitie: their wayes are ſo crooked, that whoſoeuer goeth therein knoweth of no peace. Rom.3.d.

9 And this is the cauſe that equitie is ſo farre from vs, and that righteouſneſſe commeth not nigh vs: We looke for light, loe, it is darkneſſe: for the morning ſhine, ſee, wee walke in the darke. Eſay.5.d. Job.30.b.

10 We grope lyke the blinde vpon the wall, we grope euen as one that hathe no eyes, we ſtumble at the noone day, as though it were toward night, in the falling places, like men that are halfe dead. Deu.28.f. Joh.11.b.

11 We roare all lyke beares, and mourne ſtill lyke doues: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our offences are many before thee, and our ſinnes teſtifie againſt vs: yea wee muſt confeſſe that we offend, and knowledge that we do amiſſe,

¶ 14 And therefore is equitie gone aside, and ryghteousnesse standeth farre off, truthe is fallen down in the streete, and the thing that is playne and open, may not be shewed:

Cor.4.a.

15 Yea the truthe is taken away, and he that refrayneth hym selfe from euill, must be spoiled: When the Lorde sawe this, it displeased him sore that there was no equitie.

16 He sawe also that there was no man righteous, and hee wondred that there was no man to helpe him: wherefore he held hym by his owne power, and hee sustayned him by his owne righteousnesse.

Ephe.6.b. 1.Thes.5.a. 17 He putte righteousnesse vppon him for a brestplate, he sette the helmet of health vppon his head: he putte on wrath in the steede of clothing, and toke zelousie about hym for a cloke.

18 Euen as when a man goeth forth wrathfully to recompence his enimies, to be auenged of his aduersaries, hee will recompence and reward the Ilandes.

19 They shall feare the name of the Lord frõ the rysing of the sunne, and his maiestie vnto the going downe of the same, for hee shall come as a violent water streame, whyche the winde of the Lord hath moued.

Rom.11.d. Phil.3.a. 20 But vnto Sion there shall come a redeemer, and vnto them in Jacob that turne frõ wickednesse, sayth the Lorde.

21 I will make thys couenaunt with them (sayth the Lord) My spirite that is vpõ thee, and the wordes whiche I haue putte in thy mouth, shall neuer goe out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy childers childzen, frõ thys time forth for euermore, world without end, sayth the Lorde.

He propheſieth that Chriſt ſhall be annointed, and ſent to preach.

I Luke.4.c. and.7.c. Eſay.11.a. Eſay.57.b. and.66.a.

1 The ſpirite of the Lord is vpon me: for the Lord hath annoynted me, and ſente me to preach good tidings vnto the poore, that I might binde vp the wounded hartes, that I mighte preach deliuerance to the captiue, and open the priſon to them that are bounde:

2 That I might declare the acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of the vengeance of our God: that I might comfort al them that are in heauineſſe:

Math.15.a. and.11.a.

3 That I might giue vnto them ẏ mourne in Sion, that I might giue (I ſay) beautie in ſtede of aſhes, ioyfull oyntment for ſighing, pleaſaunt rayment for an heauie minde, that they might be called trees of righteouſneſſe, a planting of the Lorde for him to reioyce in.

4 They ſhall builde the long rough wilderneſſe, and ſet vp the olde deſart: they ſhall repayre the waſte places, and ſuche as haue bin voyde throughout many generations.

5 Straungers ſhall ſtande and feede youre cattell, and the aliauntes ſhalbe your plowmen, and dreſſers of your vines.

Eſay.66.a. Iere.33.d. 6 But yee ſhall bee named the prieſtes of the Lord, and men ſhall call you the ſeruauntes of our God: ye ſhall enioy the goodes of the gentiles, and triumph in their ſubſtaunce.

B 7 For your great reproofe you ſhal haue double ioy, and for ſhame ſhall they haue ioy of their portion: for they ſhall haue double poſſeſſion in their land, and euerlaſting ioy ſhal be with them.

8 For I the Lord which loue right, and hate robberie (though it were offered me) ſhall make their workes full of faythfulneſſe, and make an euerlaſting couenaunt with them.

9 Their ſeede alſo, and their generation ſhal be knowen among the gentiles, and among the people: all they that ſee them, ſhall know that they are the hygh bleſſed ſeede of the Lorde.

10 And therefore I am ioyfull in the Lorde, and my ſoule reioyceth in God: For he hath put vpon me the garment of ſaluation, and couered me with the mantle of righteouſneſſe: He ſhall decke me like a bridegrome, and as a bride that hathe hir apparrell vpon hir. Luke.2.b. Pſal.132. Ezec.16.

A propheſie of the comming of Chriſt.

I 1 For Sions ſake will I not holde my tong, and for Hieruſalems ſake I wyll not ceaſſe vntill righteouſneſſe breake forthe as the ſhining lighte, and theyr ſaluation as a burning lampe.

2 Then ſhall the Gentiles ſee thy righteouſneſſe, and all kynges thy glory: Thou ſhalte be named with a new name, which ẏ mouth of the Lord ſhal ſhewe. Iohn.1.d. Apoc.2.c.

3 Thou ſhalt be a crowne in the hand of the Lord, and a glorious garlande in the hande of thy God.

4 From this time forthe thou ſhalte neuer be called the forſaken, and thy lande ſhall no more be called the wildernes: but thou ſhalt be called, My pleaſure is in hir: and thy land ſhall be called, The maried woman: for the Lord loueth thee, and thy lande ſhall be ioyned in mariage. Eſay.34.b.

5 And like as a yong man taketh a virgin to mariage, ſo ſhall thy ſonnes be maried vnto thee: & as a bridegrome is glad of his bride, ſo ſhall thy God reioyce ouer thee. Ezec.16.b. Oſee.2.c. Eſay.54.a.

6 I haue ſet watchmen vpon thy walles, O Hieruſalem, which ſhall neyther ceaſſe daye nor night to preache the Lorde: and yee alſo that remember the Lorde, yee ſhall not keepe him cloſe,

7 Nor leaue to ſpeake of him, vntill Hieruſalem be ſet vp, and made the praiſe of the worlde. B

8 The Lord hath ſworne by his right hande, and and by his strōg arme, that from hencefoorth he will not giue thy corne to be meate for thine enimies, nor thy wine wherin thou hast laboured, to be drinke for the straungers.

9 But they that haue gathered in the corne, shall eate it, and giue thankes to the Lorde: and they that haue borne in the vine, shall drinke it in the court of my sanctuarie.

10 Goe you, goe you through the gates, make cleane the way for the people, make playne, make playne the foote path, and take awaye the stones out of it, and set out a token for the people.

Ca.40.b. Lib.3.b. Cap.11.a. 11 Beholde, the Lorde proclaymeth vnto the endes of the worlde, tell the daughter Sion, see, thy sauiour commeth, behold, he bringeth his recompence with him, and his worke goe before him.

Cap.54.a. 12 For they whome the Lord deliuereth, shal be called the holy people: and as for thee, thou shalt be named the greatly occupied, and not the forsaken citie.

The.lxiij. Chapter.

Of the redemption promised to the people.

I 1 What is he this that commeth from Edom, with redde coloured clothes from Bosra? He is honourably arayed, and commeth in mightily with his power: I am he that teacheth righteousnesse, and am of power to helpe.

2 Wherefore then is thy clothing redde, and thy raymente lyke his that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue troden the presse my selfe alone, and of all people there is not one with me: Thus will I treade them downe in my wrath, and set my foote vpon them in mine indignation, and their bloud shall bee sprong vpon my clothes, and so will I stayne all my raymente.

Cap.34.b. 4 For the daye of vengeaunce is assigned in my hart, and the yeere when my people shal be deliuered is come.

5 I looked about me, and there was no man to shewe me any helpe, I marueyled that no man held me vp: Then I helde me by mine owne arme, and my feruentnesse susteyned me.

6 And thus will I treade downe the people in my wrath, and bathe them in my displesure, and vpon the earthe will I lay theyr strength.

B 7 I will declare the goodnesse of the Lorde, Exod.15.a. Cap.12.a. yea and the prayse of the Lord for all that he hath giuen vs, for the great good that he hath done for Israell, whiche hee hathe gyuen them of his owne fauour, and according to the multitude of his louing kindnesses.

8 For he sayde, These no doubt are my people, and no shrinking children: and so was he their sauiour.

9 In their troubles, hee was also troubled with them, & the angel that went forth from his presence deliuered them: of very loue and kindnesse that he had vnto them, he redeemed them, he hath borne them and caried them vp euer since the worlde began. Exod.13. 14.d.24.c.

10 But after they prouoked hym to wrathe, and vexed his holy spirite, hee was their enimie, and fought against them him selfe.

11 Yet remembred Israell the olde tyme of Moses and hys people, saying, Where is he that brought them from the water of the sea, with them that feede his sheepe? Where is he that hath giuen his holy spirite among them? Exod.43.c. Psal.77.d.

12 He ledde them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, whereby he gate him selfe an euerlasting name.

13 He ledde them in the deepe as an horse is ledde in the playne, that they shoulde not stumble.

14 As a tame beast goeth in the field, and the spirite of God gyueth him rest: Thus (O God) hast thou led thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious name withall. C

15 Looke downe then from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thy sanctuarie and thy glory: Howe is it that thy gelousie, thy strengthe, the multitude of thy mercies, and thy louing kyndnesse will not be intreated of vs? Deu.26.d. Baruc.2.c.

16 Yet art thou our father: for Abraham knoweth vs not, neyther is Israell acquainted with vs: but thou Lorde art our father and redeemer, and thy name is euerlasting. Math.6.d. Luke.11.a. and.23.a.

17 O Lord, wherefore hast thou ledde vs out of the way? wherefore hast thou hardened our hartes that we feare thee not? Be at one with vs agayne for thy seruaunts sake, and for the generation of thine heritage. Psal.119.b.

18 Thy holy people haue had but a little while thy sanctuarie in possession, for our enimies haue troden downe thy holy place.

19 And wee were thyne from the beginning, whē thou wast not their Lord, for they haue not called vpon thy name.

The. lxv. Chapter.

The reiecting of the Iewes, and the callyng of the Heathen.

A 1 They ſeeke mee, that hitherto haue not aſked for me, they fynd me, that hitherto haue not ſought me: I haue ſayde, I am here, I am here, I am found of a people that neuer called vpon my name. Eſay. 52. c. Rom. 10. a.

2 For thus long haue I euer holde out mine handes to an vnfaythfull people, that go not the right waye, but after their owne imagination:

3 To a people that is euer defying me to my face, they make their oblations in gardens, and their ſmoke vpon aulters of bricke. Deu. 12. and. 14. b. Exod. 20.

4 They lurke among the groues, and lye in the dennes all night: they eate ſwynes fleſhe, and vncleane broth is in their veſſels. Leui. 11. a. Deu. 14. a.

5 If thou commeſt nyghe them, they ſaye, Touch me not, for I am holyer than thou: All theſe men, when I am angry, ſhall be turned to ſmoke and fyre, that ſhall burne for euer. Hath. 26.

6 Beholde, it is written before my face, and ſhall not be forgotten, but recompenced: I ſhall rewarde it them into their boſome. Iere. 7. a. Eſay. 57. Exec. 20.

7 (I meane) youre miſdeedes and the miſdeedes of your fathers together, ſayeth the Lorde, whyche haue made theyr ſmokes vpon the mountaynes, and blaſphemed me vppon the hylles: therefore will I meaſure their olde deedes into their boſome agayne. B

8 Moreouer, thus ſayth the Lorde, Lyke as when newe wine is founde in the cluſter, and one ſayth, Loſe it not, for there is bleſſing therein: euen ſo will I do alſo for my ſeruauntes ſakes, that I will not deſtroye them all. Rom. 11. 4. Reg. 19. Rom. 9.

9 But I will take a ſeede out of Jacob, and out of Juda one, to take poſſeſſion of my hyl: My choſen ſhall poſſeſſe it, and my ſeruauntes ſhall dwell there.

10 Saron ſhall be a ſheepefolde, and the valley of Achor ſhall giue the ſtalling for the cattell of my people that ſeeke after me. Joſu. 7.

11 But as for you, yee are they that haue forſaken the Lord, and forgotten my holy hill: yee haue ſet vp an aulter vnto Jupiter, and gyuen riche drinke offerings vnto the planettes: Pſon. 1. c. Iere. 7. b.

12 Therefore will I number you to ẏ ſword, that ye ſhall be deſtroyed altogether: for that when I called, no man gaue me aunſwer, when I ſpake, ye hearkened not vnto me, but dyd wickednelſe before mine eyes, and chooſe the things that pleaſed me not.

13 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord God, Beholde, my ſeruauntes ſhall eate, but yee ſhall haue hunger: beholde, my ſeruauntes ſhall drinke, but ye ſhall ſuffer thirſt: behold, my ſeruauntes ſhall be merrie, but yee ſhall be confounded:

14 Beholde, my ſeruauntes ſhall reioyce for very quietneſſe of hart: but yee ſhall crye for ſorowe of hart, and complayne for vexation of minde. C.

15 Your name ſhall ye leaue accurſed amōg my my chosen: for God the Lord shall slay you, and call his seruauntes by another name.

16 Who so reioyceth vpon earth, shal reioyce in the true God, and who so sweareth vppon earthe, shall sweare in the true God: for the olde afflictions shall be forgotten, and taken away out of my syght.

17 For loe, I shall make a newe heauen and a newe earth: and as for the olde, they shall neuer bee thought vpon, nor kept in minde:

18 (But the Lord sayth) Be glad, and euermore reioyce for the things that I shall do: For why? beholde, I shall make a ioyfull Hierusalem, and his people ioyfull.

19 Yea, I my selfe will reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with my people: and the voyce of weeping and wayling shall not be heard in hir from thencefoorth:

20 There shall neither be childe nor old man that haue not their full dayes: but when the child commeth to an hundred yeeres olde, it shall die, and if he that is an hundred yeeres of age do wrong, he shall be cursed.

21 They shall buylde houses and dwell in them, they shall plant vineyardes and eate the fruite of them.

22 They shall not builde, and another possesse, they shall not plant, and another eate: but the life of my people shall be lyke a tree, and mine elect shall enioy still the worke of their handes.

23 They shall not labour in vayne, nor beget wyth trouble: for they are the high blessed seede of the Lorde, and their fruites with them.

24 And it shal be, that or euer they cal, I shal aunswere them, while they are yet but thinking how to speake, I shall heare them.

25 The Wolfe and the Lambe shall feede together, and the Lion shall eate hay lyke the bullocke, but earth shall be the Serpents meate: There shall no manne hurte nor slay another in all my holy hyll, sayth the Lorde.

The .lxvi. Chapter.

1. God dwelleth not in temples made by mans hand. 3. He despiseth sacrifices done without mercy and fayth. 5. God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 23. Amõg the Christen the Sabboth is continual.

1 THus sayth ỹ Lord, Heauen is my seate, and the earth is my foteestole: Where shall now the house stand that ye wil buyld vnto me? And where shall be the place that I will dwell in?

2 As for these thinges, my hande hathe made them all, and they are all created sayethe the Lorde: which of them shall I then regard? Euen him that is poore and of a lowly troubled spirite, and standeth in awe of my woordes.

3 For who so slayeth an ore (for me, doth me so great dishonour) as he that killeth a man: He that killeth a sheepe for mee, "knetcheth a dogge: Hee that bringeth mee meate offerings, offereth swines bloud, who so maketh me a memoriall of incense, prayseth the thing that is vnright: Yet take they such wayes in hand, and their soule delighteth in these abhominations.

" That is, cutteth off a dogs necke.

4 Therefore will I also haue pleasure in laughing them to scorne, and the thing that they feare will I bring vpon them: For whē I called, no man gaue aunswere, when I spake, they would not heare, but did wickednesse before myne eyes, and chose the thynges that displeased me.

5 Heare the word of God, all ye that feare the thing which he speaketh: Your brethren that hate you, and cast you out for my names sake, say, The Lorde is heynous against vs, but you shall see him in ioy, when they shall be confounded.

6 Then shall be heard a great noyse from the citie and the temple, the voyce of the Lorde, that will rewarde and recompence his enimies:

7 Like as when a wyfe bringeth forthe a man childe, or euer she suffer the payne of the birth and anguish of the trauayle.

8 Who euer heard or sawe such things? doth the ground beare in one day? or are the people borne all at once, as Sion trauayled in child byth, and bare hir sonnes?

9 For thus saith the Lord, Am I he that maketh other to beare, and beare not my selfe? Am not I be that beareth and maketh barren, sayth thy God?

10 Reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad wyth hir all ye that loue hir, be ioyfull with hir, all ye that mourne for hir.

11 For ye shal sucke comfort out of hir breasts, and be satisfyed: Ye shall taste, and haue delight in the brightnesse of hir glory.

12 For thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will let peace into hir like a water floud, and the glory of the Heathen like a flowing streame: Then shall ye sucke, ye shall be borne vppon hir sydes, and be ioyfull vpon hir knees.

13 For lyke as a childe is comforted of hys mother: so shall I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Hierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce, and youre bones shall florish like an hearbe: Thus shall the hand of the Lorde be knowen among his seruauntes, and hys indignation among his enimies.

15 For behold, the Lord ſhall come with fire, and his charret ſhall be like a whirle winde: that he may recompence his vengeaunce in his wrathe, and in his indignation with the flambe of fyre.

16 For the Lorde ſhall iudge all flesshe wyth the fyre, and with his ſword, and there ſhall be a great number ſlayne of the Lord.

17 Suche as haue made them ſelues holy and cleane in the gardens, and thoſe that haue eaten ſwines flesh, mice, and other abhominations, ſhall be taken away together, ſaith the Lorde.

18 For I do know their workes & thoughts, and I wyll come to gather all people and tongues: then they ſhall come and ſee my glory.

19 Unto them ſhall I giue a token, and ſend certayne of them that bee deliuered among the Gentiles, into Cilicia, Affrica, and Lydia, where men can handle bowes, into Italie, and alſo Greeke land: The Iſles farre off that haue not heard ſpeake of mee, and haue not ſeene my glory, ſhall preache my prayſe among the Gentiles, Eſay.49.a. 52.a.60.a. and.65.a.

20 And ſhall bring all youre brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all the people, vpon horſes, charrettes, and horſlitters, vpon mules and cartes, to Hieruſalem my holy hyll, ſayth the Lorde: lyke as the children of Iſrael bring the offering in cleane veſſels to the houſe of the Lorde.

21 And I ſhall take out certayne of them for to be Prieſts and Leuites, ſayth the Lorde. D Eſay.66.a

22 For like as the newe heauen, and the newe earthe, whiche I will make, ſhall be ſtill ſtablished by me, ſayth the Lord: ſo ſhall youre ſeede and your name continue. 1.Pet.2.b Rom.12.b

23 And it ſhal come to paſſe, that from moone to his moone, frō Sabboth to his Sabboth, all flesshe ſhall come to worſhip before me, ſayth the Lorde.

24 And they ſhall goe forthe, and looke vpon the carrions of them that haue tranſgreſſed againſt me: for their wormes ſhall not dye, neyther ſhall their fyre bee quenched, and all flesh ſhall abhorre them. Mark.9.a

The ende of the booke of the Prophete Eſay.

The booke of the Prophete Ieremie.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

1. The ſtocke of Ieremie, and in what time he propheſied. 6. He excuſeth him ſelfe, and would refuſe the office of a prophet, bycauſe he is young and vnexpert. 8. He is taught of the Lord, and becommeth bolde. 11. God openeth vnto him, that the deſtruction of the Iewes by the Babylonians is at hande. 17. Ieremie is commaunded to ſpeake the word of God vnto the Iewes without feare.

A 1 THeſe are the ſermons of Ieremie the ſonne of Helkiah ỹ prieſt, one of them that dwelte at Anathoth in the land of Beniamin, Iere.11.a.

2 When the Lorde had firſte ſpoken with him in the time of Joſiah the ſonne of Amon king of Juda, the .xiij. yeere of his raygne:

3 And ſo during vnto the time of Jehoakim the ſonne of Joſiah, king of Juda, and vntill the .xj. yeere of Zedekiah the ſonne of Joſiah king of Juda were ended, when Hieruſalem was taken, euen in the fyfth moneth. 4.Reg.25.a Iere.39.a.

4 The word of the Lorde ſpake thus vnto me, Eſay.44.a.

5 Before I faſhioned thee in thy mothers wombe, I did know thee: and or euer thou waſt borne, I ſanctifyed thee, and ordeyned thee to be a prophet vnto the people. and.46.a. Pſal.70.a.

6 Then ſayde I, O Lorde God, I can not ſpeake, for I am yet but yong. Exod.4.c. Iſrs.9.c.

7 And the Lord anſwered me thus, Say not ſo, I am to yong: for thou ſhalte goe to all that I ſhall ſende thee vnto, and whatſoeuer I commaund thee, that ſhalt thou ſpeake. B Math.10.c. 1.Cor.3.a.

8 Be not afrayd of their faces: for I am with thee, to deliuer thee, ſayth the Lorde.

9 And with that the Lorde ſtretched out hys hand, and touched my mouth: and the ſame lord ſaid vnto me, Behold, I put my words in thy mouth. Pſal.6.a. Iere.4.a.

10 And beholde? this day doe I ſet thee ouer the the people and kingdomes, that thou mayest rote out, breake off, destroy, and make wast, and that thou mayest build vp, and plant.

11 After this the Lord spake vnto me, saying, Ieremie what seest thou? And I sayd, (a) I see a rod of an Almonde tree.

a God sheweth to Hierusalem the destructiō of the Iewes by the Babylonians to be at hande.

12 Then sayde the Lord vnto me, Thou hast seene right, for I will make hast speedily vpon my word to performe it.

13 It happened afterwarde that the Lorde spake to me agayne, and sayde, What seest thou? And I sayde, I do see a seething potte, looking from out of the North.

Iob.41.b.

C 14 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, Out of the North shall come a plague vppon all the dwellers of the lande.

Iere.14.b. and.25.b. Dan.1.b.

15 For loe, I will call all the kinredes of the kingdomes of the North, sayth the Lorde: and they shall come, and euery one shall set his seate in the gates of Hierusalem, and in all their walles round about, and in all cities of Iuda.

16 And through them shall I declare my iudgement, vpon all the wickednesse of those men that haue forsaken me, that haue burnt incense vnto straunge gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne hands.

Ezec.3.a.

17 And therefore gyrde vp thy loynes, arise, and tell them all that I giue thee in commaundemente: Feare them not, least I destroy thee before them.

Iere.15.d.

18 For beholde, this daye doe I make thee a strong fenced towne, an iron piller, and a brasen wall, agaynst the whole land, against the kings and mightie men of Iuda, against the priestes and people of the lande.

19 They shal fight against thee, but they shall not be able to ouercome thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, sayth the Lorde.

The.ij. Chapter.

2. God rehearseth his benefytes done vnto the Iewes. 8. Agaynst priestes and prophetes or preachers that contemne or despise God. 12. The Iewes are destroyed bycause they forsooke God, & bycause they ran a whore-hunting after Idolles.

A 1 MOreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe thy way, crie in the eares of Hierusalem, and say, Thus sayth the Lorde, I remember thee, the kindnesse of thy youth, and the loue of thy despousing, in that thou folowedst me through the wildernesse in an vntilled land.

Iere.10.d. Zach.2.d.

3 Israel was an halowed thing vnto the Lord, and was his fyrst fruites: All they that deuoure Israell shall offende, misfortune shall fall vpon them, sayth the Lord.

4 Heare therefore the worde of the Lorde, O thou house of Iacob, and all the generations of the house of Israell.

5 Thus sayeth the Lorde, What vnfaithfulnesse found your fathers in me, that they wēt so farre away from me, falling to lightnesse, and being so vayne.

6 They thought not in their hartes, where is the Lord that brought vs out of the lande of Egypt, that ledde vs through the wildernesse, through a desert & rough land, through a drye and deadly lande, yea a lande that no man had gone through, and wherein no man had dwelt? Exod.14.c.

7 And when I had brought you into a pleasant fertile land, that yee myght enioye the fruites and all the commodities of the same: ye wente forth and defyled my lande, and brought mine heritage to abhomination. B Deut.6.b.

8 The Priests them selues sayde not, Where is the Lorde? They that had the law in their handes knew me not, the shepheardes offended against me, the prophetes did prophecie in Baal, and folowed suche thinges as shall bring them no profite.

9 Wherefore I am constrayned, sayeth the Lorde, yet agayne to contende in iudgemente with you, and with your childers childzen.

10 Goe into the Iles of Cethim, and loke well: send vnto Cedar, take diligent heede, and see whether suche thynges bee done there.

11 Whether the Gentiles them selues haue chaunged theyr goddes, whiche yet are no goddes in deede? but my people hath chaunged their (a) honour, for a thing that may not help them.

a. Honour, that is, the faithfull and euerliuing God, in whom only they ought to glory Iere.17.b. Iohn.4.b. Exod.4.d.

12 Be astonished, O ye heauens, be afrayde and abashed at suche a thyng, sayeth the Lorde.

13 For my people hathe done two euils: they haue forsaken me the well of the water of life, and digged them pittes, yea vile and broken pittes that can hold no water.

14 Is Israel a bonde seruaunte, or one of the household? why is he then so spoyled? C

15 They roare and crye vpon hym as Lions, they haue made his lande wast: his cities are so burnt vp, that there is no man dwelling in them: Esay.1.a.

16 Yea the chyldren of Noph and Thaphnes shall cracke their crowne.

17 Commeth not this vnto thee bycause thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, euen when he led thee by the way? Iere.32.a.

18 And what hast thou nowe to doe in the b God reproueth the people for that they ſoughte remedies, whiche are meant by the water of Nilus, and the floud, agaynſte their euils among the Egyptians and Aſſyrians, whereas theyr onely remedie had bin to haue reconciled theſelues vnto the Lorde with faithfull repentance.

ſtreete of Egypt, to drinke water out of (b) Nilus? Either what makeſt thou in the way to Aſſyria, to drinke water of the floud?

19 Thyne owne wickednelle ſhall reproue thee, and thy turning away ſhall condemne thee: that thou mayeſt know and vnderſtand howe euill and hurtfull a thyng it is, that thou haſt forſaken the Lorde thy God, and haſt not feared me, ſayth the Lorde God of hoſtes.

20 I haue euer broken thy yoke of olde, and burſt thy bondes, yet ſayeſt thou, I will no more tranſgreſſe: but like an harlot thou rūneſt about vpon all hygh hylles, and among all greene trees.

21 Where as I planted thee a noble vine, and wholly a right ſeede: how art thou turned then into a bitter vnfruitefull and ſtraunge grape?

22 (Yea and that ſo ſore) that thoughe thou waſh thee with Nitrus, and make thy ſelfe to ſauour with that ſweete ſmelling hearbe of Borith: yet in my ſyght thou art ſtayned with thy wickednelle, ſayeth the Lorde thy God.

23 Howe ſayeſt thou nowe, I am not vncleane, and I haue not followed Baalim? Loke vpon thine own ways in the valleyes, what haſt thou done? Thou art lyke a ſwifte dromedarie that goeth eaſyly hir way.

24 And thy wantonneſſe is like a wild Aſſe that vſeth the wilderneſſe, and that ſnuffeth and bloweth at hir will: who can tame hir? All they that ſeeke hir, ſhall not fayle but fynd hir, in hir moneth.

25 Keepe thy foote from nakednelle, and thy throte from thirſt. and thou thynkeſt in thy ſelfe, Tuſhe, I will take no ſorow, for I haue loued the (c) ſtraungers, and them wyll I folowe.

26 Lyke as a theefe that is taken with the deede, commeth to ſhame: euen ſo is the houſe of Iſrael come to confuſion, the common people, their kyngs and rulers, theyr prieſtes and prophetes.

27 For they ſay to a ſtocke, Thou art my father: and to a ſtone, Thou haſt begotten me: yea they haue turned their backe vppon me, and not their face: but in the tyme of theyr trouble, when they ſaye, Stande vp, and helpe vs:

28 (I ſhall aunſwer them) Where are nowe thy goddes that thou haſt made thee? bid thē ſtand vp, and helpe thee in the time of thy neede: For loke how many cities thou haſt, O Iuda, ſo many goddes haſt thou alſo.

29 Wherefor then will ye goe to lawe with me? ſeeing ye al are ſinners againſt me, ſaith the Lorde.

30 It is but loſt labour that I ſmite youre children, for they receyue not my correction: your owne ſworde deſtroyeth your prophets, lyke a deuouring Lion. 2. Par. 24.

31 Oh generation, hearken vnto the worde of the Lorde: Am I become a wildernelle vnto the people of Iſrael? or a lande that hath no lyght? Wherefore ſayth my people then, We are Lords, we will come no more vnto thee?

32 Doth a mayde forget hir raymente, or a bryde hir ſtomacher? but my people hathe forgotten me a very long whyle.

33 Why beautifyeſt thou thy wayes ſo highly, to obteyne fauour therethrough? therefore alſo haſt thou taught wickednelle throughe thy wayes. Ier. 1. a. Ier. 2. d. 4. Reg. 17.

34 Upon thy wynges is found the bloud of poore and innocente people, whome thou diddeſt not fynde in corners and holes: but thou ſlueſt the prophetes for reproning all theſe things. Deut. 18. b. Iere. 7. a. Ezec. 20. b. Pſal. 10. c. Exo. 23. b

35 Yet dareſt thou ſay, I am (without ſinne and) gyltleſſe, Tuſh, his wrath cannot come vpon me: Behold, I will reaſon with thee, becauſe thou dareſt ſay, I haue not offended. f

36 Why gaddeſt thou ſo muche hither and thyther to chaunge thy wayes? for thou ſhalt bee confounded as well of Egypt, as thou waſt of the Aſſyrians, 4. Reg. 17.

37 Yea thou ſhalte goe thy way from them, and ſmite thyne handes together vppon thy head, becauſe the Lorde ſhall bring that cōfidence and hope of thine to nought, and thou ſhalt not proſper withall.

The. iij. Chapter.

1 God being mercifull calleth to repentaunce his people, whych he had forſaken for their whoredome with idols. 20. Hee exhorteth Iſraell to repentaunce, promiſing them ſhepheardes that ſhould haue the true knowledge of God. 23. The returne of Iſrael vnto God confeſsing their offences.

1 COmmonly when a man putteth away his wife, and ſhe goeth from him, and marieth with another, then the queſtion is: ſhold he reſort vnto hir any more after that? (Is not that land then defyled & vncleane?) But as for thee, thou haſt played the harlot with many louers, yet turne againe to me, ſayth the Lorde. I Deut. 24. a. Ole. 3. a. Ezec. 16. b.

2 Lift vp thine eyes to the high places, and loke where thou haſt not bin defyled: Thou haſt wayted for them in the ſtreetes, and as a murderer in the wildernelle, through thy whoredome and ſhamefull blaſphemies is the land defyled.

c. The propertie of idolaters, is, not only to cōtemne the voyce of the preacher, calling them to repentance: but ſhamefully to proue the loue of ſtrangers, and the following of them, that is, the worſhipping of ſtockes and ſtones, and ſeruing of God againſt his word, after their owne deuiſes.
Deut. 32. c.

3 This

3 This is the cause that the rayne and cuening dewe hathe ceassed: thou hast gotten the eien whores forehead, and wilte not be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not hereafter say vnto mee, O my father, thou art hee that hast brought me vp, and led me from my youth?

5 Will God continue his wrathe for euer? will hee keepe our faultes in memorie to the end? Neuertheleſſe, thou ſpeakeſt ſuch words, but thou art euer doing worſe and worſe to the vttermoſt of thy power.

6 The Lord sayde also vnto me in the tyme of Iosiah the king, Hast thou seene what that rebellion Israel hath done? how she hath run vp vpon all the hylles, and among all thicke trees, and there played the harlot?

7 Hast thou seene also when she had done all this, how I sayde vnto her, that she shoulde turne agayne vnto me, and yet she is not returned? Iuda that vnfaythfull sister of hirs, also saw this:

8 Namely, that after I had wel seen the adulterie of the shrinking harlot Israell, I put her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: For all this, her vnfaythfull sister Iuda was not ashamed, but wente backe, and played the whore.

9 Yea, and the wantonneſſe of her whoredome hath defyled the whole lande: For she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheleſſe, her vnfaythfull sister Iuda is not turned vnto me again with her whole hart, but faignedly sayth the Lord.

11 And the Lord sayde vnto me, The backeſlyder Israel, is more righteous than the vnfaythfull Iuda.

12 And therefore goe preach these wordes toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, turne agayne, sayth the Lord, and I will not bring my wrath vppon you: for I am mercifull, sayth the Lord, and I wil not alway beare displeasure agaynſt thee:

13 But on this condition, that thou know thy great blaſphemie, namely that thou hast vnfaythfully forsaken the Lord thy God, and hast made thy selfe partaker of strange gods vnder all greene trees, and hast had no wyll to heare my voyce sayth the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne agayne, sayth the Lorde, and I will be maried with you: for I will take one out of the citie, and two out of one generation from among you, and bring you into Sion, 15 And wyll giue you heardmen after mine owne minde, whyche shall feede you with learning and wisedome.

16 Moreouer, when yee bee encreased and multiplyed in the land, then, sayth the Lord, there shall no more boast bee made of the arke of the Lordes testament: No man shal thynke vpon it, neyther shal any man make mention of it: for from thenceforth it shall neyther be visited, neyther shall such thing be done any more.

17 Then shall Hierusalem be called the lords seate, and all Heathen shall be gathered vnto it, for the name of the Lordes sake whyche shall be set vp at Hierusalem: and from that time forthe they shall folow no more the imagination of their owne frowarde hearte. Galat.4.c.

18 Then those that bee of the house of Iuda, shall goe vnto the house of Israell, and they shal come together out of the North, into the same land that I haue giuen your fathers. Math.8.b.

19 I haue thought thus, How shall I take thee to be of my childrē, and giue a pleasant land for thine heritage, yea and a goodly host of the Heathen? And I sayde, Call me father, and shrinke not from me.

20 Truely, like as a woman fayleth her husband, so are yee vnfaythfull vnto me, O yee house of Israel, sayth the Lord.

21 The voyce of the children of Israell was heard on high, weeping and wayling: for that they haue defyled their way, and forgotten God their Lorde. D Iere.31.c.

22 O ye disobedient children, turne agayne, and so shal I heale your backeturnings. Loe we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lorde our God.

23 Truely, in vayne is health hoped for from the hylles, be they neuer so many: but the health of Israel standeth onely vppon God our Lorde. Osee.13.a. Ieſes.4.a.

24 Confusion hathe deuoured our fathers labour from our youth vp, yea their sheepe and bullockes, their sonnes and daughters. Thre.5.a. Dan.9.a. Baruc.1.b.

25 So do we also sleepe in our confusion, and shame couereth vs: for we and our fathers from our youth vp vnto this day haue sinned againſt the Lord our God, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God. Iere.14.a. Pſal.96.a. Eſay.64.a. Iudith.7.c. 1.Eſd.9.c. and.10.b.

8 Wherefore gyrde your ſelues about with ſackcloth, mourne, and wepe: for the feareful wrath of the Lorde is not withdrawen from vs.

9 At the ſame tyme, ſayth the Lord, the heart of the kyng and of the princes ſhall be gone, the prieſtes ſhall be aſtonished, and the prophetes ſhall be ſore afrayde.

16 Remember the heathen, and giue Hieruſalem warning, and preache vnto hir, that watchers ouer hir are comming from farre countreyes, they haue cryed out agaynſte the cities of Juda.

17 And they haue beſette hir about in euery place, lyke as the watchmen in the field: For they haue prouoked me to wrathe, ſayth the Zach.8.c. Lorde.

18 Thy ways and thy thoughts haue brought 3.Re.18.b. thee vnto this, ſuche is thine owne wickedneſſe and diſobedience, and becauſe it is a Jere.2.c. and.14.b. bitter thyng, it hathe ſticken thee to the hart.

19 Ah my belly, ah my bellie ſhalt thou crye, howe is my heart ſo ſore? my heart panteth within me, I can not bee ſtyll, for I haue heard the crying of the trumpets, and peales of warre.

20 They crye murder vpon murder, & whole lande ſhall periſh: Immediatly my tentes were deſtroyed, and my hangings in the twinckling of an eye.

21 How long ſhal I ſee the tokens of warre, D and heare the noyſe of the trumpettes?

22 (Neuertheleſſe, this ſhal come vpō them.) becauſe my people is become fooliſhe, and Eſay.5.b. hath not knowen me: They are the children Baruc.3.b. of fooliſhneſſe, and without any diſcretion: Oſee.4.b. To do euill, they haue wit ynough: but to do well, they haue no wiſedome.

23 I haue loked vpon the earthe, and ſee, it was waſte and voyde: I loked towarde heauen, and it had no ſhine.

24 I beheld the mountaynes, and loe, they trembled, and all the hilles were in a feare.

25 I loked about me, and there was no body: and al the byrdes of the ayre were away.

26 I marked well, and the plowed field was become waſt, yea al their cities were broken downe at the preſence of the Lorde, and indignation of his wrath.

27 For thus hathe the Lord ſayd, The whole lande ſhall be deſolate, yet wyll I not then haue done.

28 And therefore ſhall the earth mourne, and E the heauen be ſore aboue: for the thyng that I haue ſpoken to the Prophetes, purpoſed, and taken vppon me to do, ſhall not repente me, and I will not goe from it.

29 The whole land ſhall flee for the noyſe of horſemen and bowmen, they ſhal runne into dennes, into woodes, and climbe vp the ſtony rockes: all the cities ſhall be voyde, and no man dwelling therein.

The.v. Chapter.

1. In Iurie is there no ryghteous or faythfull man founde, eyther amongſt the people or the rulers, for whoſe ſake the Lorde ſhoulde ſpare the citie. 15. VVherefore Iurie is deſtroyed of the Aſſyrians.

A 1 GOoke through Hieruſalem, behold and ſee, ſeeke through hir ſtreetes alſo within, if ye can finde one man that doth equall and ryghte, or ſeeketh for the trueth, and I ſhall ſpare that citie, ſayth the Lord.

2 For though they can ſaye, The Lorde lyueth: yet they ſweare to deceiue.

3 Whereas thou (O Lord) lokeſt only vpon fayth and truth: thou haſt ſcourged the, but they toke no repentaunce, thou haſt corrected them for amendment, but they refuſed thy correction, they made their faces harder than a ſtone, and would not amende.

4 Therefore I thought in my ſelfe, peraduenture they are ſo ſymple and foliſhe, that they vnderſtand nothing of the Lords way, and iudgements of their God.

Deut.17.d. 5 Therefore will I goe vnto their heads and rulers, and talke with them, if they know the waye of the Lorde, and iudgementes of their G D D: but theſe (in lyke manner) haue broken the yoke, and burſt the bondes in ſunder.

Deut.32.d. 6 Wherefore a Lion out of the wood hathe hurt them, and a woolfe in the euening ſhall deſtroy them, the Leopard dothe lie lurking by their cities to teare in peeces all them that come thereout: for their offences are multiplyed, and their departing away is encreaſed.

B 7 Should I then for all this haue mercy vpon thee? thy chyldren haue forſaken mee, and ſworne by them that are no goddes: and albeit that I fedde them to the full, yet they fall to adulterie, and haunt harlottes houſes.

Soph.1.a. Ezec.22.b. Ier.9.a.

8 In the deſire of vncleanly luſt they are become lyke the ſtoned horſe, euery man neigheth at his neighbours wife.

9 Should I not correct this, ſayth the Lord? ſhoulde I not bee auenged of euery people that is like vnto this?

10 Climbe vp vpon their walles, beate them downe, and (a) deſtroy them not vtterly: take away their battlementes, becauſe they are not the Lordes.

11 For vnfaythfully hath the houſe of Iſraell and Iuda forſaken me, ſayth the Lorde.

12 They haue denyed the Lord, and ſayde, It is not he (that looketh vpon vs) tuſhe, there ſhall no miſfortune come vppon vs, we ſhall ſee neyther ſword nor hunger.

13 As for the warning of the Prophetes, it is but winde, yea there is not the word of God in them: ſuch things ſhall happen vnto them ſelues.

14 Wherefore thus ſayeth the Lorde God of hoſtes, Becauſe ye ſpeake ſuch wordes, behold, the wordes that are in thy mouth wyll I turne to fyre, and make the people to bee wood, that the fyre may conſume them.

15 Loe, I wil bring a people vpon you from farre, O houſe of Iſraell, ſayth the Lorde, a mighty people, an old people, a people whoſe ſpeach thou knoweſt not, neyther vnderſtandeſt what they ſay.

16 Their arrowes are ſuddayne death, yea they them ſelues be very giantes.

17 This people ſhall eate vp thy fruite and thy meate, yea they ſhall deuoure thy ſonnes and thy daughters, thy ſheepe and thy bullockes, they ſhal eate vp thy grapes & figges: as for thy ſtrong and well defenſed cities, wherein thou didſt truſt, they ſhall bring to pouertie, and that through the ſword.

18 Neuertheleſſe, I will not then haue done with you, ſayth the Lorde. Iere.16.b.

19 But if they ſay, Wherefore doth ỳ Lord our God all this vnto vs? Then aunſwere them: Becauſe that lyke as yee haue forſaken me, and ſerued ſtraunge goddes in your land, euen ſo ſhall ye ſerue ſtraungers out of your lande. Deu.28.g.

20 Preach this vnto the houſe of Jacob, and crye it out in Juda, and ſay thus,

21 Heare this thou foliſhe & vndiſcrete people, ye haue eies, but ye ſee not: eares haue ye, but ye heare not. D Eſay.6.b. Iohn.9.d.

22 Feare ye not me, ſayth the Lord? Will ye not tremble at my preſence? whiche bind the ſea with the ſande by a continuall decree, ſo that it can not paſſe his bondes: for though it rage, yet can it do nothing, and though the wawes thereof doe ſwell, yet maye they not goe ouer. Iob.26.d. and.28.a.

23 But thys people hath a falſe and obſtinate hart, they are departed and gone away fro me.

24 They thinke not in their hartes, O let vs feare ỳ Lord our God, who giueth vs rayne early and late when neede is, which keepeth euer ſtill the harueſt for vs yeerely.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hoſtes commanded, Hewe downe hir trees, and ſet vp bulwarkes againſt Hieruſalem: for the tyme is come that this citie muſt be puniſhed, for in hir is all malitiouſneſſe.

ב 7 Like as a conduite ſpouteth out waters, ſo ſhe ſpouteth out hir wickednelle: Robberie and vnrighteouſneſſe is hearde in hir, ſorowe and woundes are euer there in my ſyght.

8 Amende thee (O Hieruſalem) leſt I withdraw my heart from thee, and make thee deſolate, and thy land alſo, that no man dwell in it.

9 For thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, The reſidue of Iſrael ſhal be gathered as the remnaunt of grapes: and therefore turne thyne hande agayne into the baſket, lyke the grape gatherer.

10 But vnto whome ſhall I ſpeake? whome ſhall I warne, that hee maye take heede? Theyr eares are ſo vncircumciſed, that they may not heare: beholde, they take the worde of God but for a ſcorne, and haue no luſt thereto. Jere.4.a. and.9.d. Jere.5.c. and.20.b.

11 And therefore I am ſo full of thyne indignation, O Lorde, that I may ſuffer no longer, but ſhed it out vppon the children that are without, and vpon all young men: yea the manne muſt bee taken priſoner with the wife, and the aged with the creeple.

12 Their houſes with their landes and wiues ſhall be turned into ſtraungers: for I wyll ſtretch out mine hande vpon the inhabitours of this land, ſayth the Lord.

14 Why prolong we the time? Let vs gather our selues together, and goe into the strong city, there shal we be in rest: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water myxt with gal to drinke, because we haue sinned against him.

15 We looked for peace, and we fare not the better, we wayted for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble.

16 The noyse of his horses is heard from Dan, the whole lande is afrayde at the neyghyng of his strong horses: for they are come in, and haue deuoured the land, with al that is in it, the cities, & those ẏ dwel therin.

17 Moreouer, I will send Cockatrices and serpents among you (whiche will not be charmed) and they shal bite you saith the Lord.

18 I would haue had comfort against sorowe: but sorow is come vpon me, and heauinesse vexeth my hart.

19 For loe, the voyce of the crying of my people is heard, (for feare of them that come) from a farre countrey: Is not the Lorde in Sion? Is not hir king in hir? Wherefore then haue they greeued me (shall the Lorde say) with their Images, and folish straunge fashions of a forraine god?

20 The harueſt is gone, the sommer hath an ende, and we are not helped.

21 I am sore vexed because of the hurt of my people, I am heauie and abashed:

22 Is there not triacle at Gilead? Is there no Physition there? why then is not the healthy of my people recouered?

The.ix.Capter.

1. The complaint and bewayling of the prophet. 3. The malice of the people. 24. In the knowledge of God ought we onely to reioyce. 25. The vncircumcision of the hart.

1 O Who wil giue my head water ynough and a well of teares for myne eyes, that I may weepe night and day for the slaughter of my people.

2 Woulde God that I had a cottage some where farre from folke, that I might leaue my people, and goe from them: for they be al adulterers, and a shrinkyng sort.

3 They bend their tongs like bowes to shote out lyes, they ware strong vpon earth: as for the truth, they may nothing away with-all in the world, for they goe from one wickednesse to another, and wil not knowe me, sayth the Lord.

4 Yea, one must keepe him self from another, no man may safely trust his owne brother: for one brother vndermindeth another, one neyghbour beguileth another.

5 Yea one dissembleth with another, and they deale with no truthe: they haue practised their tongs to lye, and taken great paynes to do mischiefe.

6 Thou sittest in the middest of a deceitfull people, which for very dissembling falshod wil not knowe me, sayth the Lorde.

7 Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Behold, I wil melt them, and trye them: for what should I else do to my people?

8 Their tongs are like sharpe arowes to speake deceit: with theyr mouth they speake peaceably to theyr neighbour, but priuily they lay wayte for him.

9 Shoulde I not punishe them for these things, saith the Lord? or should I not bee auenged of any suche people as this?

10 Vpon the mountaynes will I take vp a lamentation and a sorowfull crye, and a mournyng vpon the fayre places of the wildernesse: namely, howe they are so brent vp, that no man goeth there any more, yea a mā shall not heare one beast crye there: byrds and cattel are all gone from thence.

11 I will make Ierusalem also an heape of stones, and a denne of venemous wormes: & I will make the cities of Iuda so waste, that no man shal dwel therein.

12 What man is so wise as to vnderstande this? or to whom hath the Lord spoken by mouth, that hee may shewe this, and say, O thou lande why perysshest thou so? Wherefore art thou so brent vp, and like a wildernesse that no man goeth through?

13 Yea the Lorde himselfe told the same vnto them that forsoke his lawe, and kept not the thing that he gaue them in commaundemēt, neyther liued thereafter:

14 But folowed the wickednesse of their own hartes heartes, and ſerued ſtrange goddes as their forefathers taught them.

15 Therefore, thus ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Beholde, I will feede this people with wormewood, and giue the gall to drinke.

Deut.22.b. Iere.23.c. Deut.20.c. 16 I will ſcatter them alſo among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue knowen: and I wil ſende a ſworde among them to perſecute them, vntil I bring them to nought.

17 Moreouer, thus ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes, Beware of the vengeaunce that hangeth ouer you, and cal for mourning wiues, and ſende for wyſe women, that they come ſhortly, 18 And ſyng a mourning ſong of vs, that the teares may fall out of our eyes, and that our eye lyddes may guſhe out of water.

19 For there is a lamentable noyſe heard of Sion: O how are we ſo ſore deſtroyed? O howe are we ſo pitifully confounded? Wee muſt forſake our owne naturall countrey, and wee are ſhutte out of our owne lodgynges.

20 Yet heare the worde of the Lorde (O yee women) and let your eares regarde the wordes of his mouth: that ye may learne your daughters to mourne, and that euery one may teache hir neighbour to make lamentation.

The.x. Chapter.

2. The conſtellations of the ſtarres are not too be feared. 5. Of the weakeneſſe of idolles, and of the power of God. 21. Of euil curates.

1 HEare the worde of the Lord, that he ſpeaketh vnto thee, O thou houſe of Iſrael. I

2 Thus ſaith the Lorde, Ye ſhall not learne after the manner of the heathen, and ye ſhall not be afrayde for the tokens of heauen: for the heathen are afrayde of ſuch. Eſai.47.c.

3 Yea all the cuſtomes and Lawes of the Gentiles are nothing but vanitie: they hewe downe a tree in the wood with the handes of the workeman, and faſhion it with the axe. Eſai.44.b.

4 They couer it ouer with golde or ſyluer, they faſten it with nayles and hammers, that it moue not.

5 It ſtandeth as ſtyffe as the Palme tree, it can neyther ſpeake, nor goe one foote, but muſt be borne: Be not yee afrayde of ſuch, for they can do do neyther good nor euil. Baruc.6.f. 4.Reg.17.f.

6 But there is none like vnto thee, O Lord, and great is the name of thy power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O king of the Gentiles? for thyne is the dominion: for among all the wiſe men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes, there is none that may be likened vnto thee. B Apo.15.d.

8 They are altogether brutiſhe and vnwiſe in this one thing: (a) wood is the teaching of vanitie.

a. By wood is meant al kind of matter whereof images are woont to be made, whiche although they be garniſhed with golde & ſiluer, and clothed in purple and ſilke, and ſet vp, as ſome men ſay, to be lay mens books, yet teach they nothing ſaith the prophet, but vanitie.

9 Syluer is brought out of Tharſis, and beaten to plates, and golde from Ophir, a worke that is made with the hande of the craftſman, and they are clothed with yelow ſylke and ſcarlet: all theſe are the worke of cunnyng men.

10 But the Lorde is the true God, a liuing God, and an euerlaſting king: if hee bee wroth, the earth ſhaketh, all the Gentiles may not abyde his indignation.

11 (As for their goddes) thus ſhall you ſay to them, They are no goddes that made neyther heauen nor earth, therefore ſhall they periſhe from the earth, and from all thinges vnder heauen. 1.Reg.9.d.

C 14 His wisedome maketh all men fooles, and confounded be casters of images: for ỳ they cast is but a vayne thing, and hath no life.

15 The vaine craftesmen, with their workes that they in their vanitie haue made, shall perishe one wt another in time of visitation.

16 Neuertheless, Iacobs portion is none such: but it is he that hath made all things, and Israel is the rodde of his inheritaunce: the Lorde of hostes is his name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of thy lande, thou that art in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will nowe throwe as with a stone slyng, the inhabiters of this lande at this once, and I wil bring trouble vpon them, that they shall proue true the wordes that I haue spoken by the prophetes.

19 Alas howe am I hurt? alas howe painefull are my scourges vnto me? for I consider this sorowe by my selfe, & I must suffer it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cordes are broken, my children are gone fro me, and can no where be found: nowe haue I none to spreade out my tent, nor to set vp my hangings.

b The kings, the rulers, the prophetes, and the priests, are blinde, and so destroyeth the lacke.

22 Beholde, the noyse is harde at hande, and great sedition out of the North, to make the cities of Iuda a wildernesse, and a dwelling place for dragons.

23 Nowe I knowe (O Lorde) that it is not in mans power to order his owne wayes, or to rule his owne steppes and goings.

24 Therefore chasten thou me, O Lord but with fauour, and not in thy wrath, lest thou bring me vtterly to nought.

25 Powre out thine indignation vpon the Gentiles, that knowe thee not, and vpon the people that cal not vpon thy name, and that because they haue consumed, deuoured, and destroyed Iacob, and haue made his habitation waste.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. A curse to them that obey not the worde of Gods promise. 10. The people of Iuda, following the steppes of their fathers, worshipeth straunge goddes. 15. The Lord saith that hee will not heare the Iewes, and forbiddeth also Ieremie to pray for them.

A 1 This is a sermon which the Lorde commaunded Ieremie for to preach, saying,

2 Heare the wordes of this couenaunt, and speake vnto the men of Iuda, and to al them that dwell at Ierusalem,

3 And say vnto them, thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Cursed be euery one that is not obedient vnto the wordes of this couenant, Deut. 27. and. 28. b. Galat. 3. b.

4 Which I commaunded vnto your fathers what time as I brought them out of Egypt from the iron furnace, saying, Be obedient vnto my voyce, and do according to all that I commaunde you, so shall ye be my people, and I wil be your God: Exod. 19. a.

5 And I will kepe my promise that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, (namely) that I would giue them a lande which floweth wt milke and honie, as ye see it is come to passe vnto this day. Then answered I, and sayd, Amen, let it be euen so Lord as thou sayest. Gene. 15. c. 26. a. and. 72. c

6 Then the Lord sayd vnto me again, Preach this in the cities of Iuda, and round about Ierusalem, and say, Heare the wordes of this couenaunt, and keepe them.

7 For I haue diligently exhorted your fathers, euer since the time that I brought thē out of the lande of Egypt vnto this day, I gaue them warning betimes, saying, Hearken vnto my voyce. B

8 Neuertheless, they woulde not obey me, nor encline their eares vnto me: but followed the wicked imaginatiōs of their own harts, and therefore I haue brought vpon them all the wordes of this couenaunt that I gaue them to keepe, which they (notwithstanding) haue not kept. Iere. 15. c.

9 And the Lord sayde vnto me, It is found out that whole Israel, and all the cities of Ierusalem are gone backe.

10 They haue turned them selues to the blasphemyes of their forefathers, whiche had no lust to heare my wordes: euen likewise haue these also followed straunge goddes, and worshipped them: the house of Israel and Iuda haue broken my couenaunt which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde I wil sende a plague vpon them, whiche they shal not be able to escape: and they shall crie vnto me, and I will not heare them.

12 Then shal the townes of Iuda, and the citizens of Ierusalem goe and call vpon their goddes vnto whom they made their oblations: but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble. Zach. 7. b. Deut. 35. c.

13 For as many cities as thou hast, O Iuda, so many goddes hast thou had also: and loke how many streetes there be in thee, O Ierusalē, so many shamefull aulters haue ye set vp, aulters (I say) to offer vpon them vnto Baal. Iere. 2. b.

14 Therefore

14 Therefore pray not thou for this people, bid neither praiſe nor prayer for them: for though they crye vnto me in their trouble, yet will I not heare them.

Iere.7.d. and.15.a.

15 What part hath my beloued in my houſe ſeeing he hath wrought abhomination, ſeruing many goddes? The holy fleſhe offerings in the temple are gone from thee, (O Iuda) and thou, when thou haſt done euil, makeſt thy boaſt of it.

Agge.2.b.

16 The Lord called thee a greene Oliue tree, a fayre one, a fruiteful one, a goodly one: but with great clamour hath the enimie ſet fyre vpon it, and the branches of it are deſtroyed.

Iere.17.d. Mat.7.b. Rom.11.c.

17 For the Lord of hoſtes that planted thee, hath deuiſed a plague for thee (O thou houſe of Iſrael and Iuda) for the euill that ye haue done to prouoke him to wrath, in that ye did ſeruice vnto Baal.

18 This (O Lorde) haue I learned of thee, and vnderſtande it: for thou haſt ſhewed me their imaginations.

19 But I am as a meeke lambe, an Oxe that is caryed away to be ſlayne, not knowing that they had deuiſed ſuche a counſel againſt me (ſaying) We wil deſtroy his meate with wood, and driue him out of the lande of the lyuing, that his name ſhal neuer be thought vpon.

Eſai.53.b. Iere.18.b.

20 Therefore I will beſeeche thee now (O Lord of hoſtes) thou righteous iudge, thou that trieſt the reines and the harts, let me ſee thee auenged of them: for vnto thee haue I committed my cauſe.

Iere.20.a. and.17.b.

D 21 The Lorde therefore ſpake thus of the citizens of Anathoth that ſought to ſlay me ſaying, Preache not vnto vs in the name of the Lord, or elſe ye ſhalt die of our handes:

Eſai.30.d. Amos.7.d.

22 Thus (I ſay) ſpake the Lord of hoſtes, Behold, I will viſit you, your yong men ſhall periſh with the ſword, your ſonnes and your daughters ſhall vtterly dye of hunger.

23 So that none ſhall remayne: for vpon the citizens of Anathoth will I bring a plague, euen the yeere of their viſitation.

The.xij.Chapter.

1. The prophete marueyleth greatly at the proſperitie of the wicked, although hee confeſſe God to be righteous. 7. The Iewes are forſaken of the Lord. 10. He ſpeaketh againſt curates and preachers that ſeduce the people.

A 1 O Lord, thou art more righteous than that I ſhould diſpute with thee: neuertheleſſe, let me talke with thee in things reſonable. How happeneth it that the way of the vngodly is ſo proſperous? and that it goeth ſo wel with them which without any ſhame offende, and liue in wickednelle?

10 Diuers heardmen haue broken downe my vineyarde, and troden vpon my portion: of my pleaſaunt portion they haue made a wyldernelle and deſert.

Eſai.56.f. Eſai.5.a.

11 They haue layde it waſt, and nowe that it is waſte, it ſigheth vnto me: yea the whole lande lyeth waſte, and no man regardeth it.

12 The deſtroyers come ouer the borders in the deſert euery way: for the ſword of the Lord doth conſume from the one ende of the lande to the other, and no fleſhe hath reſt.

13 They haue ſowen wheat, and reaped thornes: they haue taken heritage in poſſeſſion, but it doth them no good: and they were aſhamed of your fruites, by cauſe of the great wrath of the Lorde.

14 Thus ſaith the Lorde vpon all my euyll neyghbours that lay hande vpon myne heritage which I haue poſſeſſed, euen my people of Iſrael: Beholde, I will plucke them (namely Iſrael) out of their lande, and put out the houſe of Iuda from among them.

16 And if they (namely that trouble my people) wil learne the wayes of them to sweare by my name, The Lord liueth: like as they learned my people to sweare by Baal, then shall they be buylt among my people:

17 But if they wil not obey, then will I rote out the same folke, & destroy the, saith ỳ lord.

The.xiij. Chapter.

1. The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured, and their sparsing abroade. 11. VVhy Israel was receiued too be the people of God, and why they were forsaken.

1 THus saith the Lorde vnto me, Goe thy way, and get thee a linnen gyrdle, and gyrd it about thy loynes, let it not be wet.

2 Then I got me a gyrdle, according to the commaundement of the Lord, and put it about my loynes.

3 After this, the second time the Lorde spake vnto me againe,

4 Take the gyrdle that thou hast prepared, and put about thee, and get thee vp, and goe vnto Euphrates, and hyde it there in a hole of the rocke:

5 So went I, and hid it at Euphrates, as the Lorde commeunded me.

6 And it happened long after this, that the Lorde spake vnto me: Vp, and get thee to Euphrates, and fetch the girdle from thence, whiche I commaanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Euphrates, and dygged vp, and toke the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and behold, the girdle was corrupt so that it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then sayde the Lorde vnto me,

9 Thus sayth the Lorde, Euen so wyl I corrupt the pryde of Iuda, and the high mynde of Ieruſalem.

10 This people is a wicked people, they will not heare my worde, they folow the wicked imaginations of their owne hart, and hang vpon straunge goddes, them they serue and worship, and therefore they shall be as this breech that serueth for nothing.

11 For as straightly as a girdle lyeth vpon a mans loynes, so straightly did I bynde the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iuda vnto me, saith the Lorde, that they might be my people, that they might haue a glorious name, that they might be in honor: but they would not obey me.

12 Therefore lay this riddle before them, and say, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery pot shall be filled with wine. And they shal say vnto thee, Thinkest thou we know not that euery pot shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I shal fill al the inhabitours of this lande with drunkennesse, the kings that sitte vpon Dauids stole, the priestes and prophetes, with all that dwel at Ieruſalem.

14 And I wil set them one against another, C yea the fathers against the sonnes, sayth the Lord: I will not pardon them, I will not spare them, nor haue pitie vpon them: but destroy them.

15 Heare, giue eare, take not disdaine at it: for it is the Lorde him selfe that speaketh.

16 Honour the Lorde your God or he take his light from you, and or euer your feete stumble in darknesse at the hyll: lest when you looke for the light, he turne it into the shadowe and darkenesse of death.

1. Of the death that ſhould come in Iurie. 7. The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lorde. 10. The vnfaythfull people are not hearde. 12. Of prayer, faſting, and of falſe prophetes that ſeduce the people.

I 1 THe word of the Lord ſhewed vnto Ieremie concerning ỳ death of the fruits.

2 Juda hath mourned, his gates are deſolate, they are brought to heauineſſe, euen vnto the ground, and the crye of Ieruſalem goeth vp.

3 The Lords ſent their ſeruants to fetch water, and when they came to the welles, they dyd fynde no water, but caryed their veſſels home emptie: they be aſhamed and confounded, and couer their heades.

Jere.23.b. 4 For the ground is dryed, bycauſe there commeth no rayne vpon it: the plowmen alſo be aſhamed, and couer their heades.

5 The Hinde alſo forſoke the yong fawne that he brought forth in the fielde, bycauſe there was no graſſe.

6 The wilde Aſſes did ſtande in the high places, and drewe in their winde like the dragons, their eyes did fayle for want of graſſe.

B 7 Doutleſſe our owne wickedneſſe doth rewarde vs: but Lorde do thou accordyng to thy name, though our tranſgreſſion and ſins be many, and againſt thee haue we ſinned.

Eſai.49.b. Jere.16.c. and.17.c. 8 For thou art the comfort and helpe of Iſrael in the time of trouble: Why wilt thou be as a ſtraunger in the land, and as one that goeth his iourney, and commeth in onely to remayne for a night?

9 Why wilt thou make thy ſelfe a coward, & as it were a Giant ỳ yet may not help? But thou, O Lorde, art in the middeſt of vs and thy name is called vpō of vs, forſake vs not.

10 Thus hath the Lord ſaide vnto his people, Seeing they haue had ſuche a luſt to wander abroade, and haue not refrayned their feete: therefore the Lord hath no pleaſure in them, but he will nowe bring againe to remembraunce all their miſdeedes, and punith all their ſinnes.

Jere.7.d. 11 Yea euen thus ſaide ỳ Lord vnto me, Thou ſhalt not praye to do this people good.

12 For though they faſt, I will not heare their praiers, and though they offer burnt offeringes and ſacrifices, yet will not I accept them: for I wil deſtroy thē with the ſword, hunger, and peſtilence.

13 Then anſwearyd I, O Lorde God, the prophets ſay vnto them, Tuſh, ye ſhall neede to feare no ſword, and no hunger ſhal come vpon you: but the Lord ſhall giue you ſure reſt in this place. Jere.5.d. Sophon.1.d. Jere.11.d. and.23.c.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde, As for thoſe prophets that preache in my name, whō I neuertheleſſe haue not ſent, and that ſay, Tuſhe, there ſhall no ſword nor hunger be in this lande: with ſworde and with hunger ſhal thoſe prophetes periſhe,

16 And the people to whom they preache, ſhall be caſt out of Ieruſalem, die of hunger, and be ſlayne wt the ſword, and there ſhal be no man to burie them, both they, & their wiues, their ſonnes, and their daughters: for thus will I powre their wickednelſe vpon them. Zach.13. Jere.16.d

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whyther shal we goe? then tell them, The Lorde giueth you this answere: Some vnto death, some to the sword, some to hunger, some into captiuitie.

Ezech.5.c.

3 For I wil bring foure plagues vpon them, sayth the Lord: the sword shall slay them, the dogges shall teare thē in peeces, ỹ fowles of the aire, and beastes of the earth, shall eate them vp and destroy them:

Ier.16.a.

4 I wil scatter them about also in all kyngdomes and lands to be plagued, bycause of Manasses the sonne of Hezekia king of Iuda, for the things that he did in Ierusalem.

2.Kc.21.a.

5 Who shal then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem, who shal be sorie for thee? Or who shall make intercession to obtaine peace for thee?

6 Seeing thou goest from me, and turnest backwarde, sayth the Lord: therefore I dyd stretche out myne hande against thee to destroy thee, and I haue bin sorie for thee so long, that I am weerie.

B 7 I haue scattered them abroade w̄ the fanne, on euery syde of the lande, I haue wasted my people and destroyed them, yet they haue had no lust to turne from their own wayes.

Ier.7.c.

1 THus sayde the Lorde vnto me, A

2 Thou shalt take thee no wife, nor beget chyldren in this place.

3 For of the chyldren that are borne in this place, of their mothers that haue borne them, and of their fathers that haue begotten them in this lande, thus sayth the Lorde,

4 They shall dye an horrible death, no man shal weepe for them, nor bury them, but they shal lye as doung vpon the earth: they shall perishe through the sworde and hunger, and their bodyes shall be meate for the foules of the ayre, and beastes of the earth.

Leuit.10.d. Iere.14.c. Psal.29.a. Iere.15.a.

5 For thus sayth the Lord, Go not thou into the house of mournyng nor come to mourne and weepe for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, sayth the Lorde, yea my fauour and my mercies.

6 And in this lande ſhall they dye olde and young, and ſhal not be buryed: no man ſhal beweepe them, no man ſhall clyp nor ſhaue him ſelfe for them.

B 7 They ſhal not wring their hands in mourning wiſe on their dead, one to comfort another: one ſhall not offer another the cup of conſolation, to forget their heauineſſe for their father and mother.

8 Thou ſhalt not goe into their feaſt houſe, 2.Co.15.b. to ſit downe to eate or drinke with them:

10 Nowe when thou ſheweſt this people all theſe wordes, and they ſay vnto thee, Wherfore hath the Lorde deuiſed all this great plague for vs? or what is the offence and ſin Ierre.5.d. ẏ we haue done againſt the Lord our God?

11 Then make thou them this anſwere, Becauſe your fathers haue forſaken me, ſayth the Lord, and haue walked after ſtraunge gods, Deut.4.d. Ierre.7.d. whom they honoured and worſhipped: but mee haue they forſaken, and haue not kept my lawe.

Ierre.7.d. 12 And ye with your ſhamefull blaſphemies haue exceeded the wickednеſſe of your fathers: for euery one of you hath followed the frowarde and euyll imaginations of his owne hart, and is not obedient vnto me.

Deut.28.c. 13 Therefore wil I caſt you out of this land, into a lande that ye and your fathers knowe not: and there ſhal ye ſerue ſtraunge gods day and night, there wil I ſhewe you no fauour.

C 14 Behold therefore, ſayth the Lord, the dayes Ierre.23.b. are come that it ſhall no more be ſayde, The Lorde liueth which brought the children of Iſrael out of the lande of Egypt:

17 For myne eyes beholde all their wayes, and they can not be hid from my face: neyther can their wicked deedes be kept cloſe out of my ſight.

18 But firſt wil I ſufficiently rewarde their ſhamefull blaſphemies and ſinnes, becauſe they haue defiled my land (a) with their ſtinking carions, & their abhominations, wherwith they haue filled mine heritage.

19 O Lord my ſtrength, my power & refuge in time of trouble: the Gentiles ſhall come vnto thee from the endes of the world, & ſay, Verely our fathers haue cleaued vnto lies, their idols are but vaine and vnprofitable.

20 How can a man make thoſe vnto goddes, which are not able to be goddes?

21 And therefore I wyl once teach thē, ſayth the Lorde, I wil ſhewe them my hande and my power, and they ſhall knowe that my name is the Lord.

8 For since I began to preache, I cryed out against violencie, and exclaymed against oppression: for the which cause they cast the word of the Lord in my teeth, to my reproch continually.

9 Wherefore I thought from henceforth not to speake of him, nor to preache any more in his name: but the word of the Lorde was a verye burnyng fyre in my harte and in my bones, which when I would haue stopped, I might not.

10 Verily I hearde the euyl reportes of ma-ny, terrour was on euery side of me (b) com-playne vpon him, say they, & we will tel his tale: Yea all myne owne companions, and such as were conuersant wt me, lay in wayte for my halting, saying, Peraduenture he wil be deceiued, and so shal we preuayle against him, and be auenged of him.

b. The priestes and such as were in auc-thoritie with the king, styr-redvp the peo-ple to watch narrowly Ie-remies sayings if they could finde him to halt in any thing, where-fore they might accuse him to the king.

Iere.11.d.

11 But the Lorde stode by me like a migh-tie Giaunt, therefore my persecuters fel, and coulde do nothing: they shal be sore confoun-ded, for they haue done vnwisely, they shall haue an euerlasting shame, which shal neuer be forgotten.

12 And nowe, O Lorde of hostes, that tryest the righteous, which knowest ye raynes and the very hearts, let me see them punished: for vnto thee I haue declared my cause.

13 Syng vnto the Lorde, and prayse him, for he hath deliuered the soule of the oppressed from the hande of the violent.

14 Cursed be the day wherein I was borne, vnhappy bee the day wherein my mother brought me forth.

C

Iob.3.a.

15 Cursed be the man that brought my fa-ther the tydynges to make him glad, saying, Thou hast begotten a sonne:

Ier.15.b. Gene.19.c.

16 Let it happen vnto that man, as to the ci-ties (c) which the Lord turned vpside down, and repented not: Let him heare crying in the morning, and at none day lamentable howlyng.

c. The most godly men are sometimes ca-ried away with the vnruly rage of immoderate affection, albe-it in this pro-phet the cause of this immo-derate feare was for that he sawe his trauayle to saue the peo-ple to be in vaine, Gods word contem-ned, and all godlinesse scornefully despised.

17 Why slewest thou not me assone as I came out of my mothers wombe? for that my mo-ther had bin my graue hir selfe, that the birth might not haue come out, but remayned stil in hir?

18 Wherefore came I forth of my mothers wombe? to haue experience of labour and sorowe, and to leade my lyfe with shame?

The.xxi. Chapter.

He prophecieth that Zedekias ſhal be taken, and the citie burned.

1 THeſe are the woꝛdes that the Loꝛd ſpake vnto Ieremie, what time as king Zedekias ſent vnto him Phaſhur the ſonne of Melchias, & Sophonias the ſonne of Maaſias pꝛieſt, ſaying, Iob.10.c. 2 Ake counſel at the Loꝛde (we pray thee) on our behalfe, foꝛ Nabuchodonoſoꝛ the king of Babylon beſiegeth vs: foꝛ if the loꝛd (peraduenture) will deale wꝫ vs accoꝛding to hys marueylous poweꝛ, and take him from vs.

3 Then ſpake Ieremie: Giue Zedekias this anſweare,

4 Thus ſayth the Loꝛd God of Iſrael, Behold, I will turne backe the weapons that ye haue in your handes, wherewith ye fyght againſt the king of Babylon and the Chaldees, whiche beſiege you rounde about the walles, and I will bring them together into the myddeſt of this citie.

5 And I my ſelfe will fyght againſte you with an out ſtretched hand, & with a mightie arme, in greate diſpleaſure, and terrible wrath:

6 And will ſmite them that dwel in this citie, yea both men and cattel ſhall dye of a great peſtilence.

B 7 But after this (ſayth the Loꝛde) I ſhal deliuer Zedekias king of Iuda, and his ſeruauntes, his people, and ſuch as are eſcaped in the citie from the peſtilence, ſwoꝛde, and hunger, into the the poweꝛ of Nabuchodonoſoꝛ king of Babylon, yea into the hands of their enimies, into the handes of thoſe that ſeke vpon their liues, which ſhall ſmite them with the ſwoꝛde, they ſhall not pitie them, they ſhall not ſpare them, they ſhall haue no mercy vpon them.

Iere.31.a.

Deut.30.e. Iere.27.a. 38.a. 8 And vnto this people thou ſhalt ſay, Thus ſaith the Loꝛde, Beholde, I lay before you the way of life and death.

9 Who ſo abydeth in the citie, ſhall periſh, either with the ſwoꝛde, with hunger, oꝛ peſtilence: but who ſo goeth out to holde on the Chaldees part that beſiege it, hee ſhall ſaue his life, and ſhal winne his ſoule foꝛ a pꝛay.

Iere.23.a. 10 Foꝛ I haue ſet my face againſte this citie (ſaith the Loꝛd) to plagne it, and to do it no good: it muſt be giuen into the hande of the king of Babylon, and be bꝛent with fyꝛe.

11 And vnto the houſe of the king of Iuda ſay thus, Heare the woꝛd of the Loꝛd:

Eſai.1.c. Iere.22.a. 12 O thou houſe of Dauid, thus ſayth the Loꝛd: Miniſter righteouſneſſe, and that ſone, deliuer the oppꝛeſſed from violent poweꝛ, oꝛ euer my terrible wꝛath bꝛeake out lyke a fire & burne, ſo ẏ no man may quench it, bycauſe of the wickednes of your imaginations. Zach.7.b. Iere.4.a.

13 Behold, ſaith the Loꝛd, I wil come vpon thee that dwelleſt in the valleys, rockes, and fieldes, and ſay, Tuſhe, who will make vs afrayde? oꝛ who wil come into our houſes? Iere.48.a. Deut.29.c. Eſai.5.c. Iere.5.b. 12.a.13.b. Iere.21.c. Sopho.1.c.

14 Foꝛ I will viſite you ſaith the Loꝛde, bycauſe of the wickednes of your inuentions, and wil kindle ſuche a fyꝛe in your wood, as ſhall conſume al that is about you.

The xxij. Chapter.

2. He exhorteth the king of Iuda to iudgement, and righteouſneſſe. 9. VVhy Ieruſalem is brought into captiuitie. 11. The death of Sellum the ſonne of Ioſua is prophecied.

1 THus ſaith the Loꝛde, Goe downe into the houſe of the king of Iuda, & ſpeake there theſe woꝛdes, I

2 And ſay, Heare the woꝛde of the Loꝛd thou king of Iuda that ſitteſt in the kingly ſeate of Dauid, thou and thy ſeruauntes, and thy people that goeth in and out at theſe gates.

3 Thus the Loꝛd commaundeth, Keepe equitie and righteouſneſſe, deliuer the oppꝛeſſed from the poweꝛ of the violent, do not greeue noꝛ oppꝛeſſe the ſtraunger, the fatherleſſe, noꝛ the wyddowe, and ſhedde no innocente bloud in this place. Eſai.1.c. Iere.21.c. Zach.7.a. 4.Re.21. and.24. Iere.36.

4 And if ye keepe theſe things faythfully, then ſhall there come in at the dooꝛe of this houſe, kings to ſitte vpon Dauids ſeate, they ſhall be carried in charettes, and ryde vpon hoꝛſes, both they & their ſeruants, and their people.

5 But if ye will not be obedient vnto theſe commaundementes, I ſweare by mine own ſelf, ſaith the Loꝛd, this houſe ſhal be waſte. Eſai.1.c. Iere.51.c.

6 Foꝛ thus hath the Loꝛde ſpoken vppon the kings of Iuda, Thou Gilead art vnto me the head of Libanus: Shal I not make thee ſo waſt as the cities that no man dwel in? Hoſe.6.d.

7 I will pꝛepare a deſtroyer with his weapõs foꝛ thee, to hewe downe thy eſpecial Cedar trees, and to caſt them in the fire. B

8 And all the people that goe by this citie, ſhal ſpeake one to another: Wherefoꝛe hath the Loꝛd done thus vnto this noble citie? Deut.29.d. 3.Reg.9.b.

9 Then ſhall it be anſwered, Bycauſe they haue bꝛoken the couenaunt of the Loꝛde their God, and haue woꝛſhipped & ſerued ſtrange goddes. Deu.29.d. 3.Reg.9.b. 4.Re.22.b. 2.Par.7.d. 4.Re.23.c.

10 Mourne not ouer the deade, and bee not woe foꝛ them: but be ſoꝛy foꝛ him that departeth away, foꝛ he commeth not agayne, and ſeeth his natiue countrey no moꝛe.

11 Foꝛ thus ſaith the Loꝛde, as touching Sellum the ſonne of Ioſias kyng of Iuda, which 2.Par.36.c.

which raigned after his father: When he is caryed out of this place, he shall neuer come hither againe.

12 For he shall dye in the place whereunto he is led captiue, and shal see this land no more.

13 Woe worth him that buildeth his house with vnrighteousnesse, and his parlours with the good that he hath gotten by violence, which neuer recompenceth his neyghbours labour, nor payeth him his hyre: Esai.5.c. Iere.1.a.

C 14 Who thinketh in himselfe, I will builde me a wyde house, and goygeous parlours, who causeth windowes to be hewen therein, and the seelings and loftes maketh be of Cedar, and painteth them with Sinoper:

15 Thinkest thou to raigne nowe that thou hast inclosed thy selfe with Cedar? Did not thy father eate and drinke, and prosper well, as long as he dealt with equitie and righteousnesse?

16 Yea, when he helped the oppressed and poore to their right, then prospered he well: from whence came this, but only because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 Neuertheless, as for thine eyes and thine hart, they looke vpon couetousnesse, to shed innocent bloud, to do wrong and violence.

18 And therefore, thus saith the Lord against Iehoakim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, They shall not mourne for him (as they vse to do) Alas brother, alas sister: neyther shall they say vnto him, Alas sir, alas for that noble prince. 4.Re.23.c. and.24.a. Iere.36.b.

19 But as an Asse shall he be buried, corrupt, and be cast without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 Climbe vp the hil of Libanus, (O thou daughter Sion) lift vp thy voyce vpon Basan, crye from al partes: for all thy louers are destroyed.

D 21 I gaue thee warning while thou wast yet in prosperitie, but thou saydest, I will not heare: and this manner hast thou vsed from thy youth, that thou wouldest neuer heare my voyce.

22 All thy heardmen shal be driuen with the winde, and thy darlings shal be caried away into captiuitie: then shalt thou be brought to shame and confusion, because of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest vpon Libanus, and makest thy nest in the Cedar trees, O howe little shalt thou be regarded when thy sorow and panges come vpon thee, as vpon a woman trauayling with childe?

Esai.13.b. and.21.a. Iere.12.b. and.21.c. 4.Re.24.b. or Iechonias. 24 As truely as I liue, saith the Lord, though Conanias the sonne of Iehoakim king of Iuda, weare the signet of my right hād, yet wil I plucke him of.

25 And I will giue thee into the hande of them that seeke thy lyfe, and into the power of thē that thou fearest, euen into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Moreouer, I will sende thee, and thy mother that bare thee, into a straunge lande where ye were not borne, & there shal ye die.

27 But as for the lande ỹ ye will desire to returne vnto, ye shall neuer come at it againe.

28 This man Conanias shall be like an image robbed and torne in peeces, and like a vessel wherein there is no pleasure: Wherefore both he and his seede shall be sente away, & cast into a land that they know not. E

29 O thou earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lorde,

30 Thus sayth the Lorde, Write this man destitute of children: for no prosperitie shall this man haue all his dayes, neyther shal any of his seede be so happy as to sit vpon the seate of Dauid, and to beare rule any more in Iuda.

The.xxiij.Chapter.

1. He speaketh against euyl curates that make hauocke of the flocke of the Lorde. 3. Of the conuersion of the remnant of the Iewes to the faith. 5. The comming of the true shepheard Christ is prophecied. 9. Against false prophetes. 22. VVhen a prophete preacheth the word of God, God conuerteth the harts of the hearers. 26. Againste prophetes that preach lyes vnder the name of God. 32. The myracles of false prophetes.

1 WOe vnto the shepheards that destroy and scatter my flocke, sayth the Lord. A Ezec.34.a.

2 Wherefore this is the saying of the Lorde God of Israel concerning the shepheardes that feede my people, Ye scatter and thruste out my flocke, and loke not vpon them: therfore nowe will I visite the wickednesse of your imaginations, sayth the Lorde.

3 And I will gather together the remnant of my flocke from all landes that I had driuen them vnto, and will bring them againe to their foldes, that they may growe and increase.

4 I wil set shepheards also ouer them, which shall feede them: they shall no more feare and dreade, and there shal none of them be lost, sayth the Lorde.

5 Behold, the time commeth, sayth the Lord, that I will rayse vp the righteous branche of Dauid, which king shal beare rule, & he shal prosper with wisedome, and shall set vp equitie and righteousnesse agayne in the earth. Iere.33.c. Esai.11.a.

6 In his time ſhall Juda be ſaued, and Iſrael ſhall dwel without feare: and this is the name that they ſhall cal him, euen the Lord our righteouſneſſe.

Deut.33.c. 1.Cor.1.d.

B 7 And therefore beholde, the time commeth, ſayth the Lorde, that it ſhal be no more ſaid, The Lord liueth which brought the children of Iſrael out of the lande of Egipt:

Iere.16.c.

8 But, The Lord liueth which brought forth and ledde the ſeede of the houſe of Iſrael out of the north lande, and from all countreys where I had ſcattered them: and they ſhall dwell in their owne lande againe.

9 My hart breaketh in my body, becauſe of the falſe prophetes, all my bones ſhake, I am become lyke a drunken man, that by reaſon of wine can take no reſt, for very feare of the Lorde, and his holy words.

10 Becauſe the lande is full of adulterers, and through ſwearing it mourneth, and the pleaſant paſtures of the deſert are dryed vp: yea the way that men take is wicked, and their power is nothing right.

Iere.14.a.

11 For the prophets and the prieſtes them ſelues are polluted hypocrites, and their wickednelle haue I found in my houſe, ſayth the Lorde.

12 Wherefore their way ſhall be ſlypperie in the darkeneſſe, wherein they may ſtacker & fal: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their viſitatiō, ſaith the Lord.

13 I haue ſeene follie among the prophets of Samaria, that preached for Baal, and deceiued my people of Iſrael.

C 14 I haue ſeene alſo among the prophetes of Jeruſalē foule adulterie, and preſumptuous lyes: they take the moſt ſhameful men by ẏ hand, flattering them, ſo that they can not returne from their wickedneſſe: all theſe, with their citizens, are vnto me as Sodome, and as the inhabitours of Gomorrhe.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes concerning theſe prophetes, Beholde, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gal: for from the prophetes of Jeruſalem is hypocriſie come into all the lande.

Iere.9.b.

16 And therfore the Lord of hoſtes giueth you this warning: Heare not the wordes of the prophetes that preache vnto you and deceiue you, truely they teache you vanitie: for they ſpeake the meaning of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lorde.

Iere.27.b. and.29.b.

17 They ſay vnto them that deſpiſe me, The Lord hath ſpoken it, tuſhe, ye ſhall proſper right well: and vnto all them that walke after the luſt of their owne harte, they ſay, Tuſh there ſhall no myſfortune happē you.

Iere.12.a. and.14.b. Sopho.1.c.

18 For who hath ſitten in the counſel of the Lorde, that he hath heard and vnderſtande what he is about to do? who hath marked his deuice, and heard it?

19 Beholde, the ſtormie weather of the Lord (that is) his indignation, ſhall goe forth, and a violent whirlewinde ſhall fall downe vpon the heade of the vngodly.

Iere.30.d.

20 And the wrath of the Lord ſhal not turne againe, vntil hee perfourme and fulfill the thought of his hart, and in the latter dayes ye ſhall knowe his meaning.

Iere.30.d.

21 I haue not ſent theſe prophetes (ſaith the Lord) and yet they ranne, I haue not ſpoken to them, and yet they preached.

D Iere.14.b.

22 But if they had continued in my counſel, they had opened to my people my wordes, & they had turned my people from their euill wayes, and wicked imaginations.

23 Am I then God that ſeeth but the thing which is nigh at hande, and not that is far off, ſaith the Lord?

Pſal.139.a. Ezec.8.b.

24 May any man hide him ſelfe ſo, that I ſhall not ſee him, ſayth the Lorde? Do not I fulfil heauen and earth, ſaith the Lord?

Pſal.139.a. Amos.9.a. Eſai.71.a. Iere.7.f. and.17.b.

25 I haue heard wel ynough what the prophetes ſay that preache lyes in my name, ſaying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long will this continue in the prophetes hart to tell lies, and preach the craftie ſubtilitie of their owne hart?

27 Whoſe purpoſe is, wt the dreames that euery one tel, to make my people forget my name, as their fathers did when Baal came vp.

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell it, and he that vnderſtandeth my worde, let him ſhewe it faithfully: for what hath chaffe and wheate to do together, ſaith the Lorde?

E 2.Cor.4.d. 1.Pet.4.b.

29 Is not my worde like a fyre, ſaythe the Lorde? and like an hammer that breaketh the harde ſtone?

30 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde, Beholde, I will vpon the prophets that ſtealc my word priuily from euery man.

31 Beholde, here am I, ſayth the Lord, againſt the prophetes ẏ make tongs tender to ſpeake, and to ſay, The Lorde hath ſayde it.

32 Behold, here am I, ſaith the Lord: againſt thoſe prophetes that dare prophecie lying dreames, and deceiue my people with theyr vanities and inconſtant deuiſes, yet I neuer ſente nor commaunded them: they ſhall doe this people no good at all, ſaythe the Lorde.

2. The wicked mens harts were ſo hardened againſt the truth, that they vſed ſcorneiully to ſcoffe at Gods threatning prophecies in mockage, calling them Gods fardel or burden.

33 If this people, eyther any prophete or prieſt aſke thee, and ſay, What is the (a) burden of the Lord? Thou ſhalt ſay vnto thē, What burden? I wil forſake you ſaith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, prieſt, or people that vſeth this this tearme, The burden of the Lorde: hym will I visite, and his house also.

35 But thus shall yee saye euery one to another, and euery man to his brother: What answer hath the Lord giuen? or what is the Lordes commaundement?

F 36 And as for the burden of the Lord, ye shal speake no more of it, for euery mans owne word is his burden: bycause ye haue altered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lorde of hostes, our God.

37 Thus shal euery man say to the prophets: What aunswer hath the Lorde giuen thee? or what sayth the Lorde?

38 And not once to name the burden of the Lorde. Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Forasmuch as ye haue vsed this tearme (the burden of the Lorde) whereas I notwithstanding sente vnto you, & forbade you to speake of the Lords burden:

39 Behold therefore, I will take you vp as a burden, and will cast you farre off from my presence, yea and the citie also that I gaue you and your fathers:

40 And will bring you to an euerlasting confusion, and into a shame that shall neuer be forgotten.

The.xxiiij. Chapter.

1. The vision of the two pannyers of figges. 5. The first vision signifieth, that part of the people should be brought agayne from captiuitie. 8. The second, that Zedekias and the rest of the people should be destroyed.

A 1 The Lord shewed me a vision: Behold, there stode two maundes of fygges before the temple of the Lord, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had led away captiue Iechonias, the sonne of Iehoakim king of Juda, the myghtie men also of Juda, with the workemaisters and cunning men of Hierusalem vnto Babylon. 4.Reg.24.d.

2 In the one maunde were very good figges, euen lyke those that be firste ripe: in the other maunde were very naughtie figges, whych myght not be eaten, they were so euil.

3 Then sayd the Lorde vnto me, What seest thou Ieremie? I sayd, Figges: wherof some be very good, and some so euill that no man may eate them. Dict.9.d.

4 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, after this manner:

5 Thus sayth the Lorde the God of Israell, Like as thou knowest the good figges: so shall I knowe the men led away, whome I haue sent out of this place into the Lande of the Chaldees for their profite:

6 And I will set myne eyes vpon them for the best, for I will bryng them agayne into this lande, I will builde them vp, and not breake them downe, I will plant them, and not rote them out.

7 And I wyll gyue them an hart to knowe howe that I am the Lorde: They shall bee my people, and I wyll be their God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole hearte. B Deut.29.a. Jere.30.d. 31.f.32.c.

8 And like as thou knowest the naughtie figges, whyche may not be eaten they are so euill: euen so will I, sayth the Lord, cause Zedechias the king of Juda, yea and all his princes, and the residue of Hierusalem that remayne ouer in this lande, and them also that dwell in Egypt, to be vexed and plaged in all kingdomes and landes. Jere.29.c.

9 And I will make them to be a reproffe, a common by worde, a laughing stocke and shame in all the places where I shall scatter them. Psal.79.a. Baruc.3.a.

10 I will sende the sword, hunger, and pestilence among them, vntill I haue cleane consumed them out of the land that I gaue vnto them and their fathers.

The.xxv. Chapter.

1. Ieremie prophesieth that they shalbe in captiuitie threescore and tenne yeeres, bycause they contemned and despised the worde of God. 10. He sheweth that after the threscore and ten yeeres, the Babylonians shoulde be destroyed. 14. The destruction of all nations is prophesied. 34. He moueth the priestes of the nations to wayling.

1 A Sermon that was giuen vnto Ieremie vpon al the people of Juda, in the fourth yeere of Iehoakim the sonne of Josias king of Juda (that was in the fyrst yeere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon.) A

2 Whiche sermon Ieremie the prophet made vnto all the people of Juda, and to all the inhabitours of Hierusalem, on this manner.

3 From the thirtenth yeere of Josias ỳ sonne of Ammon kyng of Juda, vnto this presente daye (that is euen twentie and three yeeres) the worde of the Lorde hath bin committed vnto me, and so I haue spoken vnto you, I haue risen vp early, I haue giuen you warning in season: but ye wouldo not heare me. Jere.39.c. 35.c.38.a.

4 Though the Lorde hath sent his seruauntes all the prophetes vnto you in season, yet would ye not obey, yee woulde not encline your eares to heare. 2.Par.36.c.

5 He sayde, Turne agayne euery man from his euill way, and from your wicked imaginations, so shall ye dwell for euer in the land ỳ the Lord promised you & your forefathers. 4.Reg.17.c.

6 And goe not after ſtraunge goddes, ſerue them not, worſhip them not, and anger me not with the worckes of your owne handes, then will I not punish you.

B 7 Neuertheleſſe, ye would not heare me, ſaith the Lorde, but haue prouoked me to anger with the worcks of your hands, to your great harme.

8 Wherefore thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, Iere.1.b. Bycause yee haue not hearkened vnto my worde.

9 Loe, I wyll ſende out and call for the people that dwell in the North, ſayth the Lorde, and will prepare Nabuchodonoſor Eſai.10.a. the kyng of Babylon my ſeruaunt, and will Iere.17.a. bring them vpon this land, and vpon al that dwell therein, and vpon al the people that are about them, and will vtterly rote them out: I will make them amaſed, a mockage, and a continuall deſart.

Iere.8.b. and.16.b. 10 Moreouer, I wyll take from them the voyce of gladneſſe and ſolace, the voyce of the bridegrome and the bryde, the noyſe of the milſtones, and the light of the creſſets.

11 And this whole lande ſhal become a wilderneſſe, and aſtoniſhed: and theſe nations ſhall ſerue the king of Babylon three ſcore yeeres and ten.

Zach.1.b. 13 And will fulfill all my wordes, vpon that land, which I haue deuiſed againſt it: yea al that is written in this booke, whiche Ieremie hath propheſied of all people.

C 14 So that they alſo ſhall bee ſubdued vnto
Iob.34.d. diuers nations and great kings, for I wyll recompence them according to theyr deedes, and worckes of their owne hands.

16 That when they haue drunken therof, they may be madde and out of theyr wyttes, whē the ſword commeth that I wyll ſend amōg them.

17 Then toke I the cup from the Lords hād, and made all people to drinke therof, vnto whome the Lord had ſent me:

18 But fyrſt the citie of Hieruſalem, and all the cities of Iuda, their kings and princes, to make them deſolate, amaſed, deſpiſed, and hiſſed at, and curſed, according as it is come to paſſe this day:

19 Yea and Pharao the kyng of Egypt, his ſeruauntes, his princes, and his people, altogether one with another:

20 And all kings of ỹ land of Hus, all kings of the Philiſtines lande, Aſcalon, Azay, Accaron, and the remnant of Aſdod,

21 The Edomites, the Moabites, and the D Ammonites,

22 All the kynges of Tyrus and Sidon, the kynges of the Iſles that are beyonde the Sea,

23 Dedan, Thema, Buz, and all them that dwell in the vttermoſt partes of the worlde,

24 All the kinges of Arabia, and (generally) all the kings that dwell in the deſart,

25 All the kings of Zimri, all the kinges of Elam, all the kings of Medes, 26 All the kings toward the North, whether they be farre or nigh, euery one againſte hys neyghbour, yea and all the kingdomes that are vppon the whole earthe: and the king of Seſach ſhall drinke alſo after them.

27 Therefore ſaye thou vnto them, Thys is the commaundement of the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſraell: Drinke, and be drunken, spewe, and fall, that yee neuer ariſe, and that through the ſword whyche I wyll ſende among you.

28 But if they will not receiue the cup of thy E hand, and drinke it, then tell them, thus doth the Lorde of hoſtes threaten you, Drinke it you ſhall and that shortly.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the Citie that Iere.49.b. my name is giuen vnto: thynke ye then that Ezec.9.b. I will leaue you vnpuniſhed? yee ſhall not 1.Pet.4.d. goe quite: for why? I call for a ſworde vpon all the inhabiters of the earth, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes.

30 Therefore tell them all theſe wordes, and Joel.4.c. ſay vnto them, The Lorde ſhall crye from Amos.1.b. aboue, and his voyce ſhall be heard from his holy habitation, with a greate noyſe ſhall he cry from his court regal: he ſhall giue a great voyce lyke the grape gatherers, and the ſound thereof ſhall be heard vnto the endes of the worlde.

31 For the Lorde hathe a iudgemente to giue vpon all people, and will holde his courte of iuſtice with al fleſh, and wil deliuer the vngodly to the ſword, ſayth the Lorde.

32 For thus ſayth the Lord of hoſts, Behold, Iere.30.d. a miſerable plague ſhall goe from one people to another, and a great ſtormie water ſhal ariſe from all the endes of the earth.

33 And the ſame day ſhal the Lorde him ſelfe ſlay them from one ende of the earth to another: there ſhall no moane bee made for anye of them, none gathered vp, none buried; but ſhall lye as dung vpon the ground.

34 Mourne, O yee ſhepheardes, and crye, ſprinckle ſprinckle youre ſelues with aſſhes, O ye rammes of the flocke: for the tyme of youre ſlaughter and breache is fulfilled, and ye ſhall fall lyke veſſels that were much ſet by.

Pſal.142.a. 35 The ſhepheardes ſhall haue no way to flee, and the rammes of the flocke ſhall not eſcape.

36 Then ſhall the ſhepheardes crye horribly, and the rammes of the flocke ſhall mourne: for the Lord hath conſumed their paſture, 37 And theyr beſt fieldes lye dead, bycauſe of the horrible wrath of the Lorde.

38 They haue forſaken their folde lyke as a Lion: for theyr lande is waſte, bycauſe of the ſpoylers furious crueltie, and of his fearfull indignation.

The.xxvi.Chapter.

1. Ieremie mooueth the people to amendement. 7. He is taken of the prophetes and prieſtes, and brought to iudgement. 33. Vrias the prophet is killed of Iehoakim, contrary to the will of God.

1 IN the beginning of the raigne of Ieſhoakim the ſonne of Joſias kyng of Juda, came thys worde from the Lorde, ſaying, Jer.7.a. 2 Thus ſayth the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lordes houſe, and ſpeake vnto all them, which (out of the citie of Juda) come to doe worſhip in the Lordes houſe, all the wordes that I commaund thee to ſay: loke that thou kepe not one worde backe.

Deut.4.a. 3 (If peraduenture they wyll hearken and turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may alſo repente of the plague whiche I haue determined to bring vpon them, bicauſe of their wicked inuentions.)

Jer.18.a. Joh.3.b. 4 And after this maner ſhalt thou ſpeake vnto them, thus ſayth the Lord, If ye will not obey me, to walke in my lawes whiche I haue giuen you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my ſeruauntes the prophetes whome I ſent vnto you, riſing vp tymely, and ſtill ſending, yet you haue not hearkened:

Jer.7.a. 6 Then will I do to this houſe as I did vnto Silo, and wil make this citie to be abhorred of all the people of the earth.

B 7 And the prieſtes, the prophetes, and all the people heard Jeremie preach theſe wordes in the houſe of the Lorde.

8 Now when he had ſpoken out al the words that the Lorde commaunded him to preache vnto the people, then the prieſts, the prophets, and all the people toke hold vpon him, and ſayd, Thou ſhalt dye:

9 How darſt thou bee ſo bolde as to ſay in the name of the Lord, It ſhall happen to this houſe as it did vnto Silo, and this citie ſhall bee ſo waſte, that no manne maye dwell therein?

10 And when all the people were gathered about Jeremie in the houſe of the Lorde, the princes of Juda heard of this rumour, and they came ſone out of the kings palace into the houſe of the Lorde, and ſate them downe before the newe dore of the Lord. 4.Re.15.g. Jere.36.d.

11 Then ſpake the prieſtes and the prophetes vnto the rulers, and to all the people theſe wordes, This man is worthy to die: for hee hath preached againſte this citie, as yee your ſelues haue heard with your eares. John.19.a. Mat.16.g.

12 Then ſayd Jeremie vnto the rulers and to all the people, The Lorde hathe ſente me to preach againſt this houſe, and againſte thys citie, all the words that ye haue hearde.

13 Therefore amende your wayes, and youre adiuiſements, and be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God, ſo ſhall the Lord repente of the plague that he hath deuiſed againſt you.

14 Now as for me I am in your handes, do C with me as you thinke expedient and good:

15 But this ſhall yee knowe: if ye put me to deathe, ye ſhall make your ſelues, this citie, and all the inhabitours therof guiltie of innocent bloud: for this is of a trueth, that the Lorde hathe ſente me vnto you, to ſpeake all theſe words in your eares. Math.23.f.

16 Then ſayde the rulers and the people vnto the prieſtes and prophetes, This man maye not be condemned to death, for he hath preached vnto vs in the name of the Lorde oure God.

17 The elders alſo of the lande ſtode vp, and ſayd thus vnto all the people, 18 Micheas the Morathite, which was a prophet vnder Ezekias king of Juda, ſpake to al the people of Juda, thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, Sion ſhall be plowed lyke a fielde, Hieruſalem ſhall be an heape of ſtones, and the hil of the Lordes houſe ſhall be turned to an high wood. Mich.1.a. Mich.3.c.

19 Did Ezekias the king of Juda, and al the people of Juda, put hym to deathe for this? No verily: but rather feared the Lorde, and made their prayer vnto him, for the whyche cauſe alſo the Lord (a) repented of the plague that he had deuiſed againſte them: Shoulde we then do ſuche a ſhameful deede agaynſte our ſoules? Jonas.3.b.

20 Ther was a prophet alſo ẏ preached ſtiffly in the name of ẏ Lord, called Urias the ſonne of Semeiah of Kiriathiarim: this man alſo preached againſte this citie, and againſt thys lande, according to all as Jeremie ſayth.

21 Now

a. In the diuine nature there is no ſuch affections or changeableneſſe; but God is ſayde after the maner of men to repent, when he dothe not execute that he had denounced, or doth defer the plague whiche he had threatened.

3.Re.22.b. Mich.2.c.

21 Now when Iehoakim the king, with all the eſtates and princes, had heard his wordes, the king went about to ſlay him: When Urias perceyued that, he was afrayd, and fled, and departed into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoakim the king, ſente ſeruantes into the lande of Egypt (namely) Elnathan the ſonne of Achbor, and certayne men with him into Egypt:

23 Which fetched Urias out of Egypt, and brought hym vnto kyng Iehoakim, that ſlue him with the ſworde, and caſt his dead body into the common peoples graue.

24 But Ahikam the ſonne of Saphan helped Ieremie, that he came not into the handes of the people to be ſlayne.

The.xxvij.Chapter.

1. Ieremie at the commandement of the Lord ſendeth bondes to the kyng of Iuda, and to the other kings that were nigh, wherby they are admoniſhed to become ſubiectes vnto Nabuchodonoſor.9. He warneth the people, and the kings, and rulers, that they beleeue not falſe prophetes.

A 1 IN the beginning of the raigne of Iehoakim the ſonne of Iollas kyng of Iuda, came this worde vnto Ieremie from the Lorde, which ſpake thus vnto me:

2 Make thee bondes and chaines, and put the about thy necke,

3 And ſende them to the kyng of Edom, to the king of Moab, to the king of Ammon, to the kyng of Tyrus, and to the king of Sidon, and that by the meſſengers whych ſhall come to Hieruſalem, vnto Zedekiah ỹ king of Iuda:

4 And bid them ſay vnto their maſters, Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, ſpeake thus vnto your maiſters, Deut.10.c. 5 I am he that made the earth, the men, and the cattel that are vpon the ground, with my greate power and ſtretched out arme, and haue giuen it vnto whome it pleaſed me.

Eccle.10.a. Iudi.8.b. Iere.32.a. Dan.4.c. Iere.25.b. B 6 And nowe will I deliuer all theſe landes into the power of Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon my ſeruaunte: the beaſtes alſo of the fielde ſhall I giue hym, to doe him ſeruice.

Iere.21.b. 38.a.42.c. 7 And all the people ſhall ſerue him, and hys ſonne, and hys childers childzen, vntill the time of the ſame land be come, and hys time alſo: yea many people and great kyngs ſhall ſerue him.

8 Moreouer, that people and kingdom which will not ſerue Nabuchodonoſor, and that will not put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon: the ſame people will I viſite with the ſworde, with hunger, and peſtilence, vntill I haue conſumed them in hys handes, ſayth the Lorde.

Ier.25.c.

Iere.27. and.29. 9 And therefore followe not your prophetes, ſothſayers, expounders of dreames, charmers, and witches, whiche ſay vnto you, Ye ſhall not ſerue the king of Babylon.

10 For they preache you lyes, to bring you farre from youre lande, and that I might caſt you out, and deſtroy you.

11 But the people that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and ſerue him, thoſe wyll I let remayne ſtill in theyr owne lande, ſayth the Lorde, and they ſhall occupie it, and dwell therein.

Iere.38. A 12 All theſe things told I Zedekiah the king of Iuda, and ſayde, Put youre neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and ſerue him and his people, that ye may liue. m.27.c.

13 Why wilt thou and thy people periſh with the ſworde, with hunger, with peſtilence, like as the Lorde hath deuiſed for all people that will not ſerue the king of Babylon?

C 14 Therefore, gyue no care vnto thoſe prophets that tell you, Ye ſhall not ſerue ỹ king of Babylon: for they preach you lyes. Iere.27. and.29. m.27.c.

15 Neither haue I ſent them, ſayth the Lord, howbeit, they are bolde falſely to prophecie in my name, that I might the ſoner dryue you out, and that ye myght periſh with your preachers.

16 I ſpeake to the prieſtes alſo, and to al thys people, thus ſayth the Lorde, Heare not the wordes of youre prophetes that preache vnto you, and ſay, Behold, the veſſels of the Lords houſe ſhall ſhortly be brought hither agayne from Babylon: for they prophecie lyes vnto you. Iere.28.

17 Heare them not, but ſerue the king of Babylon, that ye may liue: Wherefore will yee make this citie to be deſtroyed? Mich.3.c.

18 But if they be true prophets in very deede, and if the worde of the Lorde be committed vnto them, then lette them pray the Lorde of hoſtes, that the remnaunt of the ornamentes whiche are in the houſe of the Lorde, and in the houſe of the king of Iuda, and at Hieruſalem, be not caried to Babylon alſo.

19 For thus hathe the Lorde of hoſtes ſpoken concerning the pilles, the lauer, the ſeate, and the reſidue of the ornamentes, that yet remayne in this citie,

20 Which Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon toke not, when he caried away Iechonias the ſonne of Iehoakim king of Iuda, with all the power of Iuda and Hieruſalem, vnto Babylon captiue. 4.Re.24.c. Deut.18.

21 Yea thus hath the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell ſpoken, as touching the reſidue of the the ornamentes of the Lordes house, of the king of Juda his house, and of Hierusalem:

22 They shall be caried vnto Babylon, and there shall they remayne vntil I visite them, sayth the Lorde: then will I bring them hyther agayne.

The.xxviij.Chapter.

1. The false prophesie of Hananias the Prophete. 12. Ieremie sheweth that the prophesie of Hananias is false, by the example of the other prophetes. 15. He being inspired of the Lorde, reproueth Hananias, prophesying his death.

A 1 AND it came to passe the same yeere, euen in the beginning of the raigne of Zedekiah king of Juda, in the fourth yeere, the fyfth moneth, that Hananias the sonne of Assur the Prophete of Gibron spake to me in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priestes, and of all the people, and sayde,
2 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israell, I haue broken the yoke of the king of Babylon:
3 And after two yeeres will I bring againe into this place all ỹ ornaments of the Lordes house, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, caried away from thys place vnto Babylon.
4 Yea I wyll bring againe Jechonias the sonne of Jehoakim the king of Juda hym selfe, with all the prisoners of Juda that are caried vnto Babylon, euen vnto this place, sayth the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babylon.
5 Then the prophete Jeremie gaue aunswere vnto the prophete Hananias before all the priestes, and before all the people that were present in the house of the Lorde.
6 And the prophet Jeremie sayde, Amen, the Lord do that, and graunt the thing whyche thou hast prophesied, that he may bring again all the ornamentes of the Lordes house, and restore all the prisoners from Babylon into this place.
B 7 Neuertheless, hearken thou also what I will saye, that thou and all the people may heare.
8 The prophetes that were before vs in time past, whiche prophesied of warre or trouble, or pestilence,
9 Either of peace vppon many nations and greate kingdomes, were proued by this (if God hath sente them in very deede) when the thing came to passe which the prophet tolde before.
10 And Hananias the prophet toke the chaine from the Prophete Jeremies necke, and brake it:
11 And with that sayd Hananias that all the people myght heare, Thus hathe the Lorde spoken: Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, from the necke of all nations, yea and that within this two yeeres. And so the prophet Jeremie went his way.
12 Now after that Hananias the prophet had taken the chayne from the Prophete Jeremies necke, and broken it, the worde of the Lorde came vnto the Prophete Jeremie, saying,
13 Goe and tell Hananias these words, thus sayth the Lord, Thou hast broken the chaine of wood, but in steede of wood thou shalte make chaynes of iron.
14 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israell, I will put a yoke of yron vppon ỹ necke of all this people, that they may serue Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, yea and so shall they doe: and I will giue hym the beastes of the fielde. C
15 Then sayde the prophet Jeremie vnto the prophete Hananias: Heare me Hananias, The Lord hath not sent thee, but thou bringest this people into a false beleefe. Jere.29.c.
16 And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I will send thee out of the lande, and within a yeere thou shalt dye, bycause thou hast falsely spoken against the Lord.
17 So Hananias dyed the same yeere, in the seuenth moneth.

The.xxix.Chapter.

1. The Epistle of Ieremie sent vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10. He prophesieth their returne frō the captiuitie after seuentie yeeres. 16. He prophesieth the destruction of the king and of the people that remayned in Hierusalem. 21. He threatneth two prophetes that seduced the people. 25. The death of Semeiah the Nehelamite is prophesied.

1 THese are the wordes of the booke that Ieremie the Prophete sent from Hierusalem, vnto the prisoners, the senatours, priests, prophetes, and all the people, whome Nabuchodonosor had led from Hierusalem vnto Babylon, A
2 After that time that king Jechonias and his queene, his chamberlaynes, the princes of Juda and Hierusalem, the workemaisters of Hierusalem, were departed thither.
3 Which booke Elasah the sonne of Saphan, and Gamariah the sonne of Helkiah dyd beare, whome Zedekias the king of Juda sente vnto Babylon to Nabuchodonosor the the king of Babylon: Theſe were the wor-des of Jeremies booke.

4 Thus hathe the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſraell ſpoken, vnto al ỹ priſoners that were led from Hieruſalem to Babylon:

Jere.35.d. 5 Builde you houſes to dwell therein, plante you gardens, that you may enioy the fruites thereof.

Gen.1.d. and.2.a. 6 Take you wiues to beare you ſonnes and daughters, prouide wiues for youre ſonnes, and huſbandes for your daughters, that they may get ſonnes and daughters: and that yee may multiply there, and decreaſe not.

B 7 Seeke after the peace and proſperitie of the citie wherein ye be priſoners, and pray vnto Baruc.1.a. 1.Tim.2.a. the Lorde for it: for in the peace thereof ſhall your peace be.

8 For thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes the God
Jere.33.c. and.27.b. of Iſraell, Let not theſe prophetes and ſoth-ſayers that be among you, deceiue you, and beleeue not your owne dreames:

Jere.14.b. 9 For why? they preache you lyes in my name, and I haue not ſent them, ſayeth the Lorde.

1.Par.26.d. Jere.22.b. 1.Eſd.1.a. 10 But thus ſayth the Lorde, When ye haue fulfylled ſeuentie yeeres at Babylon, I will bring you home, and of mine owne gwd-neſſe I will carrie you hyther agayne into this place.

11 For I know what I haue deuiſed for you, ſayth the Lorde: my thoughtes are to gyue you peace, and not trouble, and to giue you an ende as you wiſh and hope to haue.

Deut.4.c. and.30.a. 12 Ye ſhall crye vnto me, yee ſhall goe and call vpon me, and I will heare you.

Joh.n.7.d. 13 Ye ſhall ſeeke me, and fynde me, yea if ſo be that you ſeeke me with your whole harte.

C 14 I will be founde of you, ſayth the Lorde, and will deliuer you out of priſon, and gather you together againe out of all places wherin I haue ſcattered you, ſaith the Lord, and wil bring you agayne to the ſame place from whence I cauſed you to be caried away captiue.

15 But where as ye ſay that God hath rayſed you vp prophetes at Babylon:

16 Thus hath the Lorde ſpoken to the kyng that ſitteth in the throne of Dauid, and to all the people that dwell in this citie, youre
4.Re.14.d. brethren that are gone with you into captiuitie:

17 Thus (I ſay) ſpeaketh the Lorde of hoſtes,
Jere.24.b. Beholde, I will ſend a ſwoorde, hunger, and peſtilence vpon them, and will make them lyke vntimely fygges, that may not be eaten for bitternelle:

18 And I will perſecute thē with the ſwoord, with hunger, and peſtilence, I will delyuer them vp to be vexed of all kingdomes, to be curſed, abhorred, laughed to ſcorne, and put to confuſion of all the people among whom I haue ſcattered them:

19 And that becauſe they haue not bin obedient vnto my commaundementes, ſayth the Lord, whiche I ſente vnto them by my ſeruants the prophetes: I ſtode vp early, and Jere.25.a. and.44.a.
ſente vnto them, but they would not heare, ſayth the Lorde.

20 Heare therefore the word of the Lord, all ye priſoners whome I ſente from Hieruſalem to Babylon.

21 Thus hath the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of D
Iſraell ſpoken, of Ahab the ſonne of Colaiah, and of Zedekiah the ſonne of Maaſiah, which propheſie lyes vnto you in my name: Beholde, I will deliuer them into the hande of Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, that he may ſlay them before your eyes.

22 And all the priſoners of Iuda that are in Babylon, ſhall take this tearme of curſing, and ſay, Nowe God do vnto thee, as he dyd vnto Zedekiah and Ahab, whome the kyng of Babylon roſted in the fyre, 23 Becauſe they ſinned ſhamefully in Iſraell: for they haue not only defiled their neybours wiues, but alſo preached lying words in my name, whiche I haue not commaunded them: this I tellthe and aſſure, ſayth the Lord.

24 But as for Semeiah the Nehelamite thou ſhalte ſpeake vnto hym,

25 Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, Becauſe thou haſt ſente letters in thine owne name vnto all the people that is at Hieruſalem, & to Sophoniah the ſonne of Maaſiah the prieſt, yea and ſent them to all the prieſtes, wherein thou writeſt thus vnto him, 26 The Lorde hath ordeyned thee to be prieſt in the ſteede of Iehoiada the prieſt, that thou 4.Re.11.a. 2.Par.24.b.

ſhouldeſt be chiefe in the houſe of the Lorde aboue all prophetes and preachers, and that thou mighteſt ſet them vpon the pyllorie, or in the ſtockes:

27 How happeneth it then that thou haſt not reproued Jeremie of Anathoth, which neuer leaueth off his prophecying.

28 And beſide all this, he hathe ſente vs worde E vnto Babylon, and tolde vs playnely, that Jere.29.d.
our captiuitie ſhall long endure, that we ſhoulde buylde vs houſes to dwell therein, and to plant vs gardens, that we may enioy the fruites thereof.

29 Whiche letter Sophonias the prieſt read, and let Jeremie the prophet heare it.

30 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jeremie, ſaying,

31 Sende worde to all them that be in captiuitie, uitie, on this manner, Thus hathe the Lorde spoken concerning Semeiah the Nehelamite: Because that Semeiah hath prophecied vnto you without my commission, and brought you into a false hope:

32 Therefore thus the Lord doth certifie you, Behold, I will visite Semeiah the Nehelamite and his seede, so that none of hys shall remayne among this people, and none of the shall see the good that I will do for my people saith the Lord: for he hath preached falsely of the Lorde.

The.xxx. Chapter.

1. The returne of the people from Babylon. 8. God by his chastening sheweth that the people is sinfull. 16. The destruction of the enimies of Israell.

1 These are the words that the Lorde sheweth vnto Ieremie, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Write vp diligently all the words, that I haue spoken vnto thee in a booke.

3 For loe, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I will bring agayne the prisoners of my people of Israell and Iuda, saith the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the lande that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall haue it in possession.

4 Agayne, these wordes spake the Lord concerning Israell and Iuda.

5 Thus sayeth the Lorde, We haue hearde a terrible crie, feare, and disquietnesse.

6 For what els doth this signifie that I see? (Namely) that all strong men smite euery man his hand vpon his loynes, as a woman in the payne of hir trauayle: Who euer sawe a man trauayle with childe? Enquire thereafter, and see, yea all their faces are maruey-lous pale.

7 Alas for this day, which is so dreadfull that none may be likened vnto it, and alas for the time of Iacobs trouble, from the whiche he shall yet be deliuered.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I will take his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and straungers shall no more haue dominion ouer them:

9 But they shall doe seruice vnto God theyr Lorde, and to Dauid their king, whome I will raise vp vnto them.

10 And as for thee, O my seruaunte Iacob, feare not, saith the Lord, and be not afrayde, O Israell: For loe, I will help thee also frō farre, and thy seede from the land of their captiuitie: And Iacob shall turne againe, he shall be in rest, and haue a prosperous lyfe, and no man shall make him afrayde:

11 For I am with thee to helpe thee, sayeth the Lorde: And though I shall destroy all the people among whome I haue scattered thee, yet will I not destroy thee, but correct thee, and that with discretion: for I will not vtterly destroy thee.

12 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Thy bru-sings are perillous, and thy wounds ready to call thee into sickenesse.

13 There is no man to medle with thy cause, or to lay a plaster vpon thee, or to binde vp thy woundes to heale thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee, & care nothing for thee: for I haue giue thee a cru-ell stroke, and chastened thee roughly, and that for the multitude of thy misdeeds: for thy sinnes haue had the ouer hand.

15 Why makest thou mone for thy harme? In deede thou art sore wounded, and in iopar-die: but for the multitude of thy misdeedes and sinnes I haue done this vnto thee.

16 And therfore, al they that deuoure thee, shal be deuoured, & all thine enimies shal be ledde into captiuitie: al they that make thee waste, shall be wasted themselues and all those that robbe thee, will I make also to be robbed.

17 For I will giue thee thy healthe agayne, and make thy woundes whole, sayeth the Lorde, because they reuyled thee as one cast away and despised: Sion (sayde they) is she whome no man regardeth.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wyll bring againe the captiuitie of Iacobs tentes, and defend his dwelling place: the citie shall be builded in hir olde estate, and the houses shall haue their right foundation.

19 And out of them shall go thanksgiuing, and the voyce of ioy: I will multiply them, and they shall not be fewe, I shall endue them wt honour, & no man shal subdue them.

20 Their children shall be as afore time, and their congregatiō shal continue in my sight: and all those that vexe them wyll I visite.

21 A captayne also shall come of them, and a prince shall spring out from the middest of them, him will I chalenge to my selfe, and he shall come vnto me: For what is he that giueth ouer his hart to come vnto mee, sayth the Lorde?

22 Ye shall be my people also, and I will be your God.

23 Beholde, on the other side shall the wrathe of the Lorde breake out as a stormie water, as a mightie whirle winde, and shall fall vpon the heads of the vngodly.

24 The terrible displeasure of the Lord shall not leaue off, vntill hee haue done and per-fourmed the intent of his hart, whiche in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand.

The.xxxi. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth that the people of Iſraell ſhall be reſtored agayne vnto their proſperitie. 18. To be turned from ſinne is the gyft of God. 27. The byrth of Chriſt is prophecied. 30. All the wicked ſhal dye in their wickedneſſe. 31. The newe Teſtamente and couenaunt is prophecied. 33. The Chriſtians are taught and inſtruct of the Lorde. 34. Our ſinnes ſhall ſo be remitted that they ſhall not once bee thought vpon. 36. God promiſeth that he will caſt off the Iewes. 38. The buylding agayne of Hieruſalem.

A 1 AT the ſame time, ſayth the Lord, ſhall I be the God of all the generations of Iſrael, and they ſhall be my people.

2 Thus ſayth the Lord, The people of Iſrael which eſcaped in the wildernelle from the ſwoꝛd, found grace to come into their reſt. Num. 13. c.

3 Euen ſo ſhall the Lorde now alſo appeare vnto me from farre (and ſay) I loue thee with an euerlaſting loue: therefore by my mercy I haue dꝛawen thee vnto me. Iohn. 6. k.

4 I wyl repayre thee agayn, O thou daughter of Iſraell, that thou mayeſt be faſt and ſure: thou ſhalte take thy tabzettes agayne, and goe foꝛthe with them that leade the daunce:

5 Thou ſhalte plante vines agayne vpon the hylles of Samaria, and the grape gatherers ſhall plant, and commonly eate of it.

6 Foꝛ the dayes ſhall come, when the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephꝛaim, ſhall crie, Aryſe, let vs goe vp vnto Sion to our Lord God. Elai. 2. a.

B 7 Foꝛ thus ſayeth the Lorde, Reioyce with gladneſſe bycauſe of Iacob, crye vnto the head of the Gentiles, ſpeake out, ſyng and ſay, O Lorde ſaue thy people the remnaunte of Iſraell.

8 Beholde, I will bꝛing them agayne from out of the Noꝛth lande, and gather them from the endes of the woꝛlde, wyth the blynde and lame that are among them, with the women that be great with chylde, and ſuch as be alſo deliuered: and the companie of them that come agayne, ſhall bee great.

9 They ſhall come weeping, and with mercifull pitie will I bꝛing them hither againe: I will leade them into the riuers of water, in a ſtraight way, wher they ſhall not ſtumble: Foꝛ I am Iſraels father, and Ephꝛaim is my fyꝛſt bozne. Deut. 23. a. Gen. 47. d.

10 Heare the woꝛd of the Lord, O yee Gentiles, pꝛeach in the Iſles that lye farre off, and ſay, He that hath ſcattered Iſraell, ſhall gather him together agayne, and ſhall keepe him, as a Shepheard doth his flocke.

11 Foꝛ the Lorde hathe redeemed Iacob, and rid him from the hand of the vyolent.

12 And they ſhall come, and reioyce vpon the hyl of Sion, and ſhall haue plentꝛouſneſſe of goodes, whiche the Lorde ſhall giue them, (Namely) wheate, wine, oyle, yong ſheepe, and calues: and their ſoule ſhall be as a well watered garden, foꝛ they ſhall no moꝛe bee hungry.

13 Then ſhall ỹ mayde rꝛeioyce in the daunce, yea both yong and olde folkes: foꝛ I wyll turne their ſoꝛowe into gladneſſe, and wyll comfoꝛt them from their ſoꝛowes, and make them ioyfull. Pſal. 5. a. 11. d.

14 I will powꝛe plentꝛouſneſſe vpon the hartes of the pꝛieſtes, and my people ſhall be ſatiſfyed with my goodneſſe, ſayth the Lorde. C

15 Thus ſayth the Lorde, The voyce of heauineſſe, weeping, and lamentation was heard on high, euen of Rachel mourning foꝛ hir children, and woulde not bee comfoꝛted, bycauſe they were not. Ierm. 31. c. Mat. 2. c. Deut. 28. Ier. 32. c. Lach. 8. c.

16 But now, ſaith the Lorde, Leaue off from weeping and crying, withholde thyne eyes from teares: foꝛ thy labour ſhall be rewarded, ſayth the Lorde, and they ſhall come agayne out of the land of their enimies. Gen. 18. a 17 Yea euen thy poſteritie ſhall haue conſolation in this, ſayth the Lord, that thy children ſhall come againe into their owne lande.

18 Moꝛeouer, I hearde Ephꝛaim, that was leade away captiue, complayne on this maner, O Lorde, thou haſt coꝛrect me, and thy chaſtening haue I receiued as an vntamed Calfe, conuert thou me, and I ſhall be conuerted: foꝛ thou art my Lord God. Ezec. 20. Thr. 5. Zach. 10.

19 Yea aſſone as thou turneſt me, I ſhall rꝛepente my ſelfe, and when I vnderſtande, I ſhall ſmite vpon my thygh: Foꝛ verily I haue committed ſhamefull thinges: foꝛ I haue bozne the rꝛepꝛoſe and confuſion of my youth. Heb. 10. b.

20 Vpon this complaynt, I thought thus by my ſelfe, Is not Ephꝛaim my deare ſonne? Is he not the chylde with whome I haue had all my mꝛyth and paſtime? Foꝛ ſince the time that I fyrſte communed with him, I haue him euer in remembꝛaunce: therefoꝛe my hart dꝛiueth me vnto him, gladly and louingly wyll I haue mercy vpon him, ſayth the Lorde. Gene. 43. Exp. 51. Ier. 24. b. 30. d.

21 Make thy ſelfe markes, ſet vp heapes of ſtone, ſet thyne hart vpon the way that thou dyddeſt walke, and turne agayne, O thou daughter of Iſraell, turne againe to theſe cities of thyne. D Gene. 1. b.

22 How long wilt thou goe aſtray, O thou ſhrinking thynking daughter? for the Lord wil worke a new thing vppon earthe: A woman shall compasse a man.

23 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israell, It will come thereto, that when I haue brought Iuda out of captiuitie, these wordes shall bee hearde in the lande, and in his cities, The Lorde blesse thee, O thou dwelling place of righteousnesse, O thou holy hyll.

24 And there shal dwell Iuda, and all hir cities, the shepherdes, and husbandmen:

Eth.5.a. 25 For I shal feede the hungry soule, and refresh all faynt hartes.

m.u.d. 26 When I heard this, I came agayne to my selfe, I sawe lyke as I had bin waked out of a sweete sleepe.

27 Beholde sayth the Lorde, the dayes come, that I will sowe the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda, with men and with cattell.

E 28 Yea it shall come thereto, that lyke as I haue gone about in tymes past to roote them out, to scatter them, to breake them downe, to destroy them, and chasten them: euen so will I also goe diligently about to buylde them vp agayne, and to plant them, sayeth the Lorde.

Deut.28.g. Ier.32.c. Zach.8.c.

Ezec.18.a. 29 Then shal it no more be sayde, The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 For euery one shall dye for his owne misdeedes: so that who so eateth a sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

Heb.8.b. 31 Beholde, the dayes will come, sayeth the Lorde, that I will make a newe couenante with the house of Israell, and the house of Iuda:

32 Not after the couenant that I made with their fathers, whē I toke them by the hand, and ledde them out of the lande of Egypt, which couenant they brake, yea euen when I as an husbande had rule ouer them, sayeth the Lorde.

Heb.10.b. 33 But this shall be the couenaunte that I will make with the house of Israell after those dayes, sayth the Lorde: I will plante my lawe in the inward partes of them, and write it in their hartes, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

Hey.51.b. Ier.24.b. and.30.d.

34 And from thencefoorth shall no man teach his neighbour or his brother, and say, Know the Lord: but they shall all knowe me from the lowest vnto the highest, sayth the Lorde: for I will forgiue their misdeedes, and will neuer remember their sinnes any more.

Gene.1.b. 35 Thus sayeth the Lorde, whiche gaue the sunne to bee a lyghte for the daye, and the moone and the starres to shine in the nyghte, whiche moueth the sea, so that the floudes thereof waxeth fierce, his name is the Lorde of hostes.

36 Lyke as this ordinaunce shall neuer be taken out of my syght, sayeth the Lorde: so shall the seede of Israell neuer ceasse, but alway be a people before me.

37 Moreouer, thus sayeth the Lorde, Lyke as the heauen aboue cannot be measured, and as the foundations of the earth beneath may not be sought out: so will I also not cast out the whole seede of Israell for that they haue committed, sayth the Lorde. Rom.11.a.

38 Behold, the dayes come, sayeth the Lorde, that the citie of ỹ Lorde shal be enlarged frō the towre of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner wall. 2.Esdr.3.a. Zach.14.b.

30 From thence shall the right measure bee taken before hir, vnto the hyll toppe of Gareb, and shall come about Gaath. Iere.19.b.

40 And the whole valley of the dead carkases, and of the asshes, and all the fieldes, vnto the brooke Cedron, and vnto the corner of the horse gate towarde the East, it shall be holy vnto the Lorde, and shall neuer be broken nor cast downe any more.

The.xxxij.Chapter.

1. Ieremie is cast into prison, bycause he prophecied that the citie shoulde be taken of the kyng of Babylon. 7. By the field that Ieremie bought at the commaundement of the Lorde, is signified that the people shoulde come agayne to their owne possession. 38. The people of God are his seruauntes, & he is their Lord. 40. To feare God, is gods gift, to the intent that sinnes may be eschewed.

1 THese wordes spake the Lord vnto Ieremie in the tenth yeere of Zedekias king of Iuda, which was the eyghteenth yere of Nabuchodonosor, I

2 What time as the king of Babylons host layde siege vnto Hierusalem: but Ieremie the prophet lay bound in the court of ỹ prison, which was in the king of Iudas house,

3 Where Zedekias the king of Iuda caused him to be layd, bycause he had prophecied on this maner, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will deliuer this citie into the handes of the king of Babylon, which shall take it. Iere.34.c. 38.a.& 39.

4 As for Zedekias the king of Iuda, he shall not be able to escape the Chaldees: but surely he shall come into the handes of the king of Babylon, whiche shall speake with hym mouth to mouth, and one of them shal loke another in the face.

5 And Zedekias shall be caried vnto Babylon, and there shall he be vntill the time that I visite him, sayth ỹ Lord: but if thou takest in hande to fight againſt the Chaldees, thou ſhalt not proſper.

6 And Jeremie ſayde, Thus hath the Lorde ſpoken vnto me:

B 7 Beholde, Hananeel the ſonne of Sellum, thyne vncles ſonne, ſhall come vnto thee, and require thee to redeeme the lande that lyeth in Anathoth vnto thy ſelfe: for by reaſon of kindred it is thy right to redeeme it, and buye it out.

Leuit.25.d. Num.24.a and.36.a. Ruth.4.a.

8 And Hananeel myne vncles ſonne came to me in the court of the priſon, according to the word of the Lorde, and ſayde vnto me, Buye my land, I pray thee, that lyeth in Anathoth in the countrey of Beniamin, for by heritage thou haſt right to loſe it out for thy ſelfe, therefore redeeme it. Then I perceyued that this was the commaundemente of the Lorde:

9 And ſo I bought the lande from Hananeel of Anathoth myne vncles ſonne, and wayed him there the money, euen ſeuen ſicles and ten ſiluer pence:

10 And I writ it in a booke, and ſealed it, and toke witneſſes, and wayed him there the money vpon the weightes.

11 So I toke the euidence with the copie, whē it was orderly ſealed, and read it ouer:

12 And I gaue the euidence to Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, the ſonne of Maaſiah, in the ſyght of Hananeel my coſin, and in the preſence of the witneſſes that be named in ẏ euidence, and before all the Jewes that were thereby in the court of the priſon.

13 I charged Baruch alſo before them, ſaying,

C 14 The Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell commaundeth (thee) to take this ſealed euidence with the copy, and to lay it in the earthen veſſel, that it may long continue.

15 For the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, hath determined, that houſes, fieldes, and vineyardes, ſhall be poſſeſſed agayne in this lande.

16 Now when I had deliuered the euidence vnto Baruch the ſon of Neriah, I beſoughte the Lorde, ſaying, Gene.1.a. Jere.10.b.

17 O Lorde God, it is thou that haſt made heauen and earth with thy greate power and high arme, and ther is nothing hid frō thee:

18 Thou ſheweſt mercy vpon thouſands, thou recompenceſt the wickednelle of the fathers into the boſome of the children that come after them:

19 Thou art the great and mightie G O D, whoſe name is the Lorde of hoſtes, great in counſayle, and excellent in worke, thine eyes loke vpon all the wayes of mens children, to reward euery one after his way, and according to the fruites of his inuentions:

20 Thou haſt done greate tokens and wonders in the land of Egipt, as we ſee this day, vppon the people of Iſraell, and vppon thoſe men, to make thy name greate, as it is come to paſſe this day:

Exod.7. vnto the.15. Chapter. Jere.2.

21 Thou haſt brought thy people of Iſraell out of the lande of Egypt, with tokens, with wonders, with a mighty hand, with a ſtretched out arme, and with great terriblenelle: D

Jere.8.

22 And haſt giuen them this lande, lyke as thou haddeſt promiſed vnto their fathers, (namely) that thou wouldeſt giue them a land that floweth with milke and hony.

23 Now when they came therein, and poſſeſſed it, they folowed not thy voyce, and walked not in thy lawe: but all that thou commandedſt thē to do, that haue they not done, & therfore come all theſe plagues vpon them.

Judg.2.3. 4.6.8. Esther.5.

24 Behold, there are bulwarkes made nowe againſte this citie to take it, and it ſhall bee wonne of the Chaldees that beſiege it, with ſworde, with hunger, and death: and loke what thou haſt ſpoken, that ſame ſhall come vppon them: for loe, all things are preſente vnto thee.

Deut.3

25 Yet ſayeſt thou vnto me, O Lorde God, and commaundeſt me that I ſhall buye a peece of lande vnto my ſelfe for money, and take witneſſes thereto: and yet in the meane ſeaſon the citie is deliuered into the power of the Chaldees.

Pſal.11

26 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jeremie, ſaying,

Ezec.3

27 Behold, I am the Lord God of al fleſhe: is there any thing then to hard for me?

28 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord, Behold, I ſhall deliuer this citie into the power of the Chaldees, & into the power of Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, they ſhal take it. E Jere.25. and.39.b.

Deut.3 Jere.21

29 For the Chaldees ſhall come and winne this citie, and ſet fyre vppon it, and burne it, with the gorgeous houſes, in whoſe parlours they haue made ſacrifice vnto Baal, & powred drinke offerings vnto ſtraunge Gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath:

30 For the children of Iſrael, and the children of Juda, haue onely bin doing wickednelle before me from their youth vp, they haue bin only prouoking me to wrath with ẏ workes of their owne handes, ſayth the Lorde.

31 For what hath this citie bin els, but a prouoking of my wrath euer ſince the day that they builded it, vnto this houre wherein I caſt it out of my ſyght?

32 Becauſe of the greate blaſphemies of the children of Iſraell and Juda, whiche they haue done to prouoke me, yea they, their kinges, their princes, their prieſtes, their prophetes,

prophetes, the men of Juda, and the citizens of Hierusalem:

Jer.2.b. 33 When I stode vp early and taught them, and instructed them, they turned their backes to me, and not their faces, 34 They woulde not heare to be reformed Jer.8.d. and correct: but set their idols in the house that is halowed to my name, to defyle it.

F 35 They haue buylded high places for Baal in the valley of the childzen of Hennom, to cause their sonnes and daughters to passe thzough (fyre) in the honour of Moloch, whiche I neuer commaunded them: neyther came it euer in my thought to make Juda sinne with such abhomination.

36 And nowe therefore thus hath the Lorde God of Israell spoken concerning thys citie, which as ye your selues confesse, shall be deliuered into the hand of the kyng of Babylon, (when it is wonne) with the swozde, with hunger, and with pestilence.

Deut.30.a. 37 Beholde, I will gather them together frō all landes, wherein I haue scattered them in my wzath, in fearefull and great displeasure, and will bzing them agayne vnto this place where they shall dwell safely:

38 And they shal be my people, and I wil be their God.

Psal.119.e. 39 And I will giue them one hart and one way, that they maye feare me all the dayes of their life: that they and their childzen after them may pzosper.

Ezec.35.c. 40 And I will set vp an euerlastnig couenaunt with them (namely) that I will neuer ceasse to doe them good, and that I will put my feare in their hartes, so that they shall not runne away from me.

Deut.30.b. Jer.21.c. 41 Yea I will haue a lust and pleasure to do them good, and faythfully to plant them in this lande with my whole heart, and with my whole soule.

42 For thus sayth the Lozde, Like as I haue bzought all this great plague vpon this people: euen so will I also bzing vpon them all the good that I haue pzomised them.

43 And men shall haue their possessions in this lande, whereof ye say nowe, that it shall neyther be inhabited of the people, nor of cattell, but be deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees.

44 Yea lande shal be bought for money, and euidences made thereupon, & sealed before witnesses in the countrey of Beniamin, and round about Hierusalem, in the cities of Juda, in the cities that are vpon the mountaynes, and them that lye beneath, yea and in the cities that are in the South: for I wil bzyng their pzisoners hither agayne, sayeth the Lozde.

The.xxxiij.Chapter.

1. The prophete is monished of the Lorde, to pray for the deliuerance of the people, whiche the Lorde promiseth. 8. God forgyueth sinnes, and doth gratiously to the people for his owne renowme. 15. Of the byrthe of Christe. 20. The kingdome of Christe in the Churche shall neuer be ended.

1 MOzeouer, the wozde of the Lozde came A vnto Jeremie againe, when he was yet Jere.20.
bound in the court of the pzison. and.32.a.

2 Thus sayth the Lozde who made Hierusalem, who fashioned the same to establishe it, whose name is the Lozde:

3 Crye vnto me, and I wyll aunsweare, and Exod.14.
shew thee great and bigh things, which wer 1.Reg.7.d.
vnknowen vnto thee.

4 Thus (I say) speaketh the Lozd GOD of Israell, concerning the houses of this citie, and the houses of the kings of Juda, that are bzoken thzough the ozdinaunce and the swozde.

5 The inhabitours of this citie haue come to fyght against the Chaldees, and they are filled with the dead carkasses of men, whom I haue slayne in my wzathe and displeasure, when I turned my face from this citie, bycause of all hir wickednesse.

6 Beholde, sayeth the Lozd, I wyll repayze and heale their woundes, and make them whole: I will open them the large treasure of peace and truth.

7 And will returne the captiuitie of Juda B and Israell, and will set them vp againe as they were before:

8 From all misdeedes wherein they offended Jere.44.d.
against me, I will clense them and all theyr blasphemies which they haue done agaynste me when they regarded me not, I will forgiue them.

9 And this shall get me a name, a prayse and honour among all the people of the earthe, whiche shall heare all the good that I wyll shewe vnto them, yea they shall bee afrayde and astonied at all the good deedes and benefites that I will do for them.

10 Mozeouer, thus sayeth the Lozd, In this place (whereof ye say it shal be a wildernes, wherin neyther people nor cattell shal dwel) in like manner in the cities of Juda, and in the streetes of Hierusalem (which also shall bee so voyde, that neyther people nor cattell shall dwell there,) and his mercy endureth for euer, and ỹ voyce of them that offer vp giftes in the houſe of the Lorde: for I will reſtore the captiuitie of thys lande as it was afore, ſayeth the Lorde.

11 Shall the voyce of gladnesse be hearde agaynst, the voyce of the bzidegrome and of the bzyde, the voyce of them that shall syng, Prayse the Lozde of hostes, for he is louing, Psal.108.a.

12 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, It ſhall come yet thereto, that in thys lande whyche is voyde from men and cattel, and in all the cities of the lande, there ſhall be ſet vp shepheards cotages to reſt their flockes.

13 In the cities vpon the mountaynes, and in the cities that lye vppon the playne, and in the cities of the South, in the land of Beniamin, and round about Hieruſalem, and in the cities of Juda, ſhall the sheepe paſſe agayne vnder the hande of him that telleth them, ſayth the Lorde.

C 14 Behold, the time commeth, ſayth ỹ Lord, that I wil perfourme that good thing which Jere.23.a. I haue promiſed vnto the houſe of Iſraell, and vnto the houſe of Juda.

15 In thoſe dayes, and at the ſame time, I will bring forth vnto Dauid the braunche of righteouſneſſe, and he ſhall do equitie and righteouſneſſe in the lande.

Eſay.32.d. 16 In thoſe dayes ſhall Juda be ſaued, and 17 For thus the Lord promiſeth, Dauid ſhal neuer want one to ſit vpon the throne of the houſe of Iſraell:

18 Neyther ſhall the Prieſtes and Leuites want one to offer alway before me burnt offerings, to kindle the meate offerings, and to prepare the ſacrifices.

19 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremie, after this manner.

20 Thus ſayth the Lord, May the couenant whyche I haue made with day and nyght be broken, that there ſhould not be daye and night in due ſeaſon?

D 21 Then may my couenante alſo be broken
2.Pet.2.a. which I made with Dauid my ſeruant, and ſo he not to haue a ſonne to raigne in his throne: ſo ſhall alſo the Prieſts and Leuites nether kayle, but ſerue me.

22 For like as the ſtarres of heauen maye not

23 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came to Jeremie, ſaying,

24 Conſydereſt thou not what thys people ſpeaketh? Two kynredes (ſay they) had the Lorde choſen, and thoſe ſame two hathe he caſt away: for ſo they haue deſpiſed my people, and they reputed them as though they were no people.

25 Therefore, thus ſayeth the Lorde, If I haue made no couenant with day and night, and giuen no ſtatute vnto heauen and earth:

26 Then will I alſo caſt away the ſeede of Jacob and Dauid my ſeruaunt, ſo that I will take no prince out of his ſeede to rule the poſteritie of Abraham, Iſahac, and Jacob: but yet I will turne agayne their captiuitie, and be mercifull vnto them.

The.xxxiiij. Chapter.

2. He threatneth that the citie, and the kyng Zedekias alſo ſhall be gyuen into the hands of the kyng of Babylon. 11. Hee rebuketh them that brought ſuche of their brethren into captiuitie, as were pardoned to goe at theyr libertie.

Deut.15. Exod.21.

1 THeſe are the wordes whiche the Lorde I ſpake vnto Jeremie, what time as Na- Jere.39.a. buchodonoſor the king of Babylon, and all his hoſt, and all the kingdomes that were vnder his power, and all his people, foughte againſte Hieruſalem, and all the cities thereof.

2 Thus ſayth the Lorde God of Iſrael, Go and ſpeake to Zedekias the king of Juda, and tell hym, The Lorde ſendeth thee this worde: Behold, I will deliuer this citie into 4.Reg.25.a Jere.32.a. the hande of the king of Babylon, hee ſhall 39.a. burne it with fyre,

3 And thou ſhalt not eſcape his handes, but ſhalte be taken priſoner, and deliuered into his power: Thou ſhalt loke the king of Babylon in the face, and he ſhall ſpeake to thee mouth to mouth, and then ſhalt thou goe to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekias thou king of Juda, thus ſayth the Lord 1.Reg.21.c. vnto thee, Thou ſhalt not be ſlayne with the ſworde,

5 But ſhalt dye in peace: and as thy forefathers the kinges thy (a) progenitours were brent, ſo ſhalt thou be brent alſo, and in thy mourning they ſhall ſay, O Lorde: for thus haue I determined, ſayth the Lord. a. Zedekias promiſed to be brent after his deathe, that is, to haue his funeralles honourably done

6 Then ſayd Jeremie the Prophete all theſe wordes vnto Zedekias king of Juda, in Hieruſalem, 7 What time as the kyng of Babylons hoſt B Gen.15.b. beſieged Hieruſalem, and the remnaunte of 2.Par.11.d. the cities (namely) Lachis and Azecah, whiche yet remayned of the ſtrong defenſed cities of Juda.

8 Theſe are the wordes that the Lorde ſpake vnto Jeremie the prophete, when Zedekias was agreed with all the people at Hieruſalem, ỹ there ſhould be proclaymed a libertie: Exod.21.a. Pſal.79. Leuit.26.f. Jer.7.d

9 So that euery man ſhould let his ſeruant & Deut.15.b. handmayde goe free, Hebrue and Hebruelle,

and

and no Iew hold his brother as a bondmã.

10 Nowe as they had consented, all the princes and all the people whiche had gathered vnto this agreement, that euery man shoulde set at libertie his bondeseruaunt and bondewoman, and no longer to holde them bond: euen so they were obedient, and let them go free.

11 But afterward they repented, and toke agayne the seruauntes and handmaydens whome they had lette goe free, and so made them bonde agayne.

12 For whiche cause, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremie from the Lord himselfe, saying,

Deut.15.a. 13 Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israell, I Exod.21.a. made a couenaunt with your fathers when I brought them out of the land of Egypte, out of the house of bondage, saying, ℄ 14 Whē seuen yeeres are out, euery man shall let his bought seruant an Hebrue goe free, if he haue serued him syxe yeeres: but youre fathers obeyed me not, and hearkened not vnto me.

15 Ye for you ye were nowe turned, and dyd right before me, in that ye proclaymed euery manne to let his neighbour goe free, and in that yee made a couenaunt before me in the temple that beareth my name.

16 But yet ye turned your selues agayne, and blasphemed my name, in thys, that euery man hathe required his seruaunte and handmayde agayne, whome ye had let goe quite and free, and compelled them to serue you agayne, and to be bondmen and bondwomen.

17 And therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde, Ye haue not obeyed me, euery manne to proclayme freedome vnto his brother & neyghbour: wherefore I will call you vnto freedome, sayth the Lord, euen vnto the swoorde, to the pestilence, and to hunger, and will make you to be plagued in all kingdomes of the earth.

18 Yea those men that haue broken my couenant, & not kept the wordes of the appointment which they made before me, when they Gen.15.b. hewed the calfe in two, and when they went thorowe the two halfes thereof.

19 The Princes of Iuda, the princes of Hierusalem, the gelded men, the priestes and all the people of the lande, which went thorow the two sides of the calfe:

20 Those men wyll I giue into the power of their enimyes, and into the handes of Psal.79.a. them that folow vppon their lines: and theyr Iere.7.d. dead bodies shall be meate for the foules of the ayre, and beasts of the fielde.

D 21 As for Zedekias the king of Iuda, and his princes, I will deliuer them into the power of their enimies, and of them that desire to slay them, and into the hande of the kyng of Babylons host, whiche nowe is departed Iere.37.c. from you.

22 But through my commaundement (sayth the Lorde) they shall come agayne before this citie, they shall fight against it, winne it, and burne it: Moreouer, I will lay the cities of Iuda so waste, that no manne shall dwell therein.

The.xxxv.Chapter.

1. He propoundeth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes. 6. The commaundemente of Ionadab the father of the Rechabites. 17. He threatneth punishment vnto the rebellious Iewes. 19. Hee promiseth prosperitie vnto the Rechabites for their obedience.

1 THe wordes which the Lorde spake vnto A Ieremie, in the raigne of Iehoakim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, are these:

2 Goe vnto the house of the Rechabites, and 4.Re.10.c. call them out, and bring them to the house of the Lord, into some commodious place, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then toke I Iazaniah the sonne of Ieremie, the sonne of Habazsiniah, and his brethren, and al his sonnes, and the whole household of the Rechabites,

4 And brought them into the house of the Lorde, into the closet of the children of Hanan the sonne of Igdaliah, the man of God, which was by the closet of the princes, that is aboue the closet of Maasiah the sonne of Sellum, which is the treasurer.

5 And before the sonnes of the kinred of the Rechabites, I set pots full of wine, & cups, and sayd vnto them, Drinke wine:

6 But they sayd, We will drinke no wyne: for Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father commaunded vs, saying, Yee and youre sonnes shall neuer drinke wine, buylde houses, sowe no seede, plant no vines, Iere.29.b.

7 Yea ye shall haue no vineyardes, but for al B your time ye shall dwel in tents, that ye may liue long in the land wherin ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue we obeyed the commaundement of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that hee hathe charged vs, and so wee drinke no wine all our life long, we nor our wiues, our sonnes and our daughters,

9 Neyther buyld we any house to dwel therin: wee haue also among vs neyther vineyardes, nor corne lande to sowe:

10 But we dwell in tentes, we obey, and do according vnto all that Jonadab our father commaunded vs.

11 But now that Nabuchodonoſor the kyng of Babylon came vp into the lande, wee ſayde, Come, let vs goe to Hieruſalem, that we may eſcape the hoſt of the Chaldees and the Aſſyrians: and ſo we dwell nowe at Hieruſalem.

12 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jeremie, ſaying, 13 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, Goe and tell the men of Juda, and the inhabitours of Hieruſalem: Will ye not be reformed to obey my wordes, ſayth the Lorde?

C 14 The words whiche Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab commaunded his ſonnes, that they ſhould drinke no wine, are faſt ſurely kept, for vnto this day they drinke no wine, but obey theyr fathers commaundemente: but as for me I haue ſtande vp early, I haue ſpoken vnto you, and giuen you earneſt warning, and yet haue ye not bene obedient vnto me.

Jere.18.a. and.25.a.

15 Yea I haue ſente my ſeruauntes all the prophetes vnto you, I roſe vp early, and ſent you worde, ſaying, O turne you nowe euery man from his wicked way, amende youre lyues, and goe not after ſtraunge Gods to worſhip them, that ye may continue in the lande whyche I haue giuen vnto you and your fathers: but ye would neyther heare me, nor folow me.

16 The children of Jonadab Rechabs ſonne, haue ſtedfaſtly kept their fathers commaundement that he gaue them: but this people is not obedient vnto me, 17 And therefore thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, Beholde, I will bring vpon Juda, and vpon euery one that dwelleth in Hieruſalem, all the trouble that I haue deuiſed againſt them: For I haue ſpoken vnto them, but they woulde not folow, I haue called vnto them, neuertheleſſe they would giue me no aunſwere.

Prou.1.c. Eſay.45.b. Jere.7.b.

18 Jeremie alſo ſpake vnto the houſholde of the Rechabites, Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, For aſmuche as ye haue obeyed the commaundement of Jonadab youre father, and kept all his preceptes, and done according to all that hee hath bidden:

19 Therefore, thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſraell, Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab ſhall not fayle, but haue one out of his ſtocke to ſtand alway before me.

Jere.33.c.

The.xxxvi. Chapter.

1. Baruch writeth (as Ieremie enditeth) the booke of the curſes againſt Iuda and Iſraell. 9. He is ſente with the booke vnto the people, and readeth it before them all. 14. He is called before the rulers, and readeth it before them alſo. 20. The rulers ſhew vnto the king the wordes of the booke. 23. Iehudi taketh the booke, and readeth a little of it, and caſteth it into the fyre. 28. There is another written at the commandement of the Lord.

Jer.25.

1 IN the fourthe yeere of Jehoakim the ſonne of Joſias the kyng of Juda, came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jeremie ſaying, A

2 Take a booke, and write therein all the wordes that I haue ſpoken to thee agaynſt Iſraell, agaynſt Juda, and agaynſt all the people, from the tyme that I beganne to ſpeake vnto thee in the raigne of Joſias vnto this day: Jere.30.a.

3 That when the houſe of Juda heareth of the plague whiche I haue deuiſed for them, they maye peraduenture turne euery manne from his wicked way, that I may forgyue their offences and ſinnes.

4 Then did Jeremie call Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote in the booke at the mouth of Jeremie, all the wordes of the Lord which he had ſpoken vnto him. Jere.45.a.

5 And Jeremie commaunded Baruch, ſaying, I am inpriſon, ſo that I may not come into the houſe of the Lorde:

6 Therefore goe thou thyther, and reade the booke that thou haſt written at my mouthe (namely) the wordes of the Lord, and reade them in the Lordes houſe vppon the (a) faſting daye, that the people, whole Juda, and all they that come out of ỹ cities may heare.

7 Peraduenture they will pray meekely before the face of the Lord, and turne euery one from his wicked way: for great is the wrath and diſpleaſure that the Lord hath taken againſt this people.

8 So Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, did according to all that Jeremie the Prophete commaunded hym, reading the wordes of the Lorde, out of the booke, in the Lordes houſe.

9 And this was done in the fyfth yeere of Jehoakim the ſonne of Joſias king of Juda, in the ninth moneth, when it was commaunded that all the people of Hieruſalem ſhould faſt before the Lorde, and they alſo that were come from the cities of Juda, vnto Hieruſalem:

10 Then read Baruch the wordes of Jeremie out of the Booke within the houſe of the Lorde, out of the treaſurie of Gamariah the ſonne of Saphan the ſcribe, whyche

a. When Iehoakim the king of Iuda heard that the king of Babylon his armie was comming to beſiege Hieruſalem, he appoynted a ſolemne and publique faſt for al the people, commanding them to reſort vnto the temple at the time appoynted, and there to make their humble prayers vnto God for peace and his fauour, as the maner of Gods people was in all their diſtreſſes to faſt and pray in faythfull repentaunce. Ioſu.3.a. 1.Mac.

is Iere.25.a. is beside the higher ioft of the newe doze of the Lordes house, that all the people myghte heare.

11 Nowe when Micheas the sonne of Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, heard all the wozds of the Lord out of the booke, 12 He went downe to the kings palace into the scribes chambers, foz there all the princes were set, Elisama the scribe, Dalaiah the sonne of Semei, Elnathan the sonne of Achboz, Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, Zedekias the sonne of Hananias, with all the princes.

13 And Micheas tolde them all the wozdes that he heard Baruch reade out of the booke before the people.

C 14 Then all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nathaniah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Chusi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thyne hande the booke whereout thou hast reade before all the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah toke the Booke in hys hande, and came vnto them.

15 And they sayd vnto him, Sit downe, and reade the booke, that we may heare also: so Baruch reade, that they might heare.

16 Now when they had heard all the wozds, they were abashed one vpon another, and sayd vnto Baruch, We wil certifye the king of all these wozdes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs, how diddest thou write all these wozdes out of his mouth?

18 Then Baruch aunswered them, He spake all these wozds vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them in the booke.

19 Then sayd the princes vnto Baruch, Goe thy way, hyde thee with Ieremie, so that no man knowe where ye be.

20 And they went in to the king to the Court (but they kept the booke in the chamber of Elisama the scribe) and told the king all the wozds, that he might heare.

D 21 So the king sent Iehudi to fetch him the booke: which he brought out of Elisama the scribes chamber and Iehudi, read in it, that the king and all the princes which were about him might heare.

22 Nowe the king sate in the winter house (foz it was in the ninth moneth) & there was a fyre before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read three oz foure leaues thereof, he cutte the booke in peeces with a penknyfe, and cast it into the fyre vpon the harth, vntill the booke was all brent in the fyre vpon the harth.

Iere.3.c. 24 Yet no man was abashed thereof, noz rent his clothes, neyther the king him selfe, noz his seruaunts, though they heard al these wozdes.

25 Neuertheless, Elnathan, Dalaiah, and Gamariah, besought the king that he would not burne the booke: notwithstanding, the king would not heare them, 26 But commaunded Ierahmel the sonne of Amelech, Saraiah, the sonne of Esriel, and Selemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to lay handes vpon Baruch the scribe, and vpon Ieremie the Prophete: but the Lorde kept them out of syght.

27 Nowe after that the king had brente the booke, and the sermons which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremie, the wozde of the Lord came vnto Ieremie, saying,

28 Take another booke, and write in it all the E afoze sayde sermons that were written in the fyrst booke, which Iehoakim the king of Iuda hath brent.

29 And tell Iehoakim the king of Iuda, thus saith the Lord, Thou hast brent ỹ booke, and thoughtest within thy selfe, Why haste thou written therein, that the king of Babylon shall come and make this land waste, so that he shall make both people and cattell to be out of it?

30 Therefore thus the Lord sayeth of Iehoakim the king of Iuda, There shall none of his generation sit vpon the throne of Dauid, his dead coarse shal be cast out, that the heate of the daye, and the frost of the night, maye come vpon him. 4.Re.24.b. Iere.22.c.

31 And I will visite the wickednesse of hym, of his seede, and of his seruauntes: Moreouer, all the euill that I haue promised them, though they heard me not, will I bring vpon them, vppon the inhabitours of Hierusalem, and vpon all Iuda.

32 Then toke Ieremie another booke, and gaue it to Baruch ỹ scribe the sonne of Neriah, whiche wrote therein out of the mouthe of Ieremie, all the sermons that were in the first booke which Iehoakim the king of Iuda did burne: and there were added vnto the many moe sermons, like vnto the former.

The.xxxvij. Chapter.

1. Zedekia succeedeth Cononiah, 3. he sendeth vnto Ieremie to pray for him, 12. Ieremie going into the lande of Beniamin is taken, 15. he is beaten and put in prison, 17. he is deliuered by kyng Zedekia.

1 ZEdekia the sonne of Iosiah, which was I made king through Nabuchodonosoz king of Babylon, raigned in the lande of Iuda, in the steede of " Cononiah the sonne of Iehoakim. 4 Reg. 24. " or, Iechoniah.

2 But neyther he, nor his ſeruauntes, nor the people in his land, would obey the wordes of the Lorde whiche he ſpake by the Prophete Jeremie.

Jere.31.a. 3 Neuertheleſſe, Zedekiah the king ſent Jehucal the ſonne of Selemiah, and Sophoniah the ſonne of Maaſiah the prieſt, to the prophet Jeremie, ſaying, O pray thou vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 Nowe Jeremie walked free among the people at that time, and was not put in priſon as yet.

Ezec.17.b. 5 Pharaos hoſt alſo was come out of Egypt: which when the Chaldees whiche beſieged Hieruſalem perceyued, they departed from thence.

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the prophet Jeremie, ſaying,

B 7 Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael, This aunſwere ſhall ye giue to the king of Juda

Jere.46.a. that ſent you vnto me for counſayle, Behold, Pharaos hoſt whiche is come forth to helpe you, ſhal returne into Egypt into his owne lande.

8 But the Chaldees ſhall come agayne, and fyght againſt this citie, winne it, and ſet fyre vpon it.

9 For thus ſayth the Lord, Deceiue not your own minds, thinking on this maner, Tuſh, the Chaldees goe now their way from vs: no, they ſhal not goe their way.

10 For though ye had ſlayne the whole hoſt of the Chaldees that beſiege you, and that none remayned of them but wounded men, yet ſhould they ſtande vp, and ſet fire vppon this citie.

11 Now when the hoſt of the Chaldees was broken vp from Hieruſalem for feare of the Egyptians armie, 12 Jeremie went out of Hieruſalem toward the land of Beniamin, to get him frō among the people.

13 And whē he came vnder Beniamins port, there was a porter called Jeriah, the ſonne of Jere.28.b. Selemiah, the ſonne of Hananiah, whiche fell vppon him, and toke him, ſaying, Thy minde is to runne to the Chaldees.

C 14 Then ſaid Jeremie, It is not ſo, I go not to the Chaldees: neuertheleſſe, Jeriah would not beleeue him, but brought Jeremie bound before the princes.

15 Wherefore, the princes were angry with Jeremie, and ſmote him, and layde hym in priſon in the houſe of Jonathan the ſcribe: for they had made that houſe the priſon.

16 Thus was Jeremie put into a dungeon and priſon, and ſo lay there a long time.

Jere.38.c. 17 Then Zedekiah the king ſent for him, and called him, and aſked him quietly in his own houſe, ſaying, Thinkeſt thou this buſineſſe (that is now in hand) commeth of the Lord? Jeremie aunſwered, Yea that it dothe: and thou (ſayd he) ſhalt be deliuered into the king of Babylons power.

18 Moreouer, Jeremie ſaid vnto king Zedekia, What haue I offended againſt thee, againſt thy ſeruauntes, or againſt this people, that ye haue put me in pryſon?

19 Wher are your prophets which haue prophecied vnto you, and ſayd, That the king of Babylon ſhould not come againſt you and this lande? Jere.28.c.

20 And therefore heare now, O my Lord the king, let my prayer be accepted before thee, and ſende me no more into the houſe of Jonathan the ſcribe, that I die not there.

21 Then Zedekia commaunded to put Jeremie in the fore entrie of the priſon, & dayly to be giuen him a cake of breed of the bakers ſtreete, vntill all the breade in the citie was eaten vp: thus Jeremie remayned in the fore entrie of the priſon.

The.xxxviij. Chapter.

1 By the motion of the rulers, Ieremie is put into a dungeon. 14. At the requeſt of Abedmelech the chamberlayne, the kyng commaundeth Ieremie to be brought foorthe of the dungeon. 17. Ieremie ſheweth the kyng how he might eſcape death.

1 SAphatiah the ſonne of Mathan, Gedaliah the ſonne of Pashur, Jucal the ſonne of Selemiah, and Pashur the ſonne of Melchia, perceyued the wordes that Jeremie had ſpoken vnto all the people, namely, on this manner: A

2 Thus ſayth the Lorde, Who ſo remayneth in this citie, ſhall periſh either with ỹ ſword, with hunger, or with peſtilence: but who ſo falleth vnto the Chaldees ſhall eſcape, wynning hys ſoule for a pray, and ſhall lyue. Jere.21.b. and.27.d. Jer.37.

3 For thus ſayth ỹ Lord, This citie no doubt muſt be deliuered into the power of the king of Babylon, and he alſo ſhall winne it. Jere.22.d.

4 Then ſayde the Princes vnto the King, Sir, we beſeech you let this man be putte to death: for thus he diſcourageth the handes of the ſouldiers that bee in this citie, and the handes of all the people, when hee ſpeaketh ſuch wordes vnto them: this manne laboureth not for peace of the people, but miſchiefe. Jer.27

5 Zedekia the king anſwered, and ſaid, Loe, he is in your handes: for the king may denye you nothing.

6 Then toke they Jeremie, and caſt hym into into the dungeon of Melchiah the sonne of Amelech, that dwelt in the fore entrie of the prison, and they let downe Ieremie with cordes into a dungeon, where there was no water, but myre: so Ieremie stacke fast in the myre.

B 7 Now when Abedmelech the Mozian, being a chamberlayne in the kings court, vnderstode that they had cast Ieremie into the dungeon,

8 He went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, which then sat vnder the port of Beniamin, these wordes:

9 My Lorde the king, where as these men meddle with Ieremie the prophete, they do him wrong (namely) in that they haue put him in prison, there to dye for hunger: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the king commaunded Abedmelech the Mozian, and sayde, Take from hence thirtie men, whom thou wilt, and drawe vp Ieremie the prophete, out of the dungeon before he dye.

11 So Abedmelech toke the men with him, and went to the house of the king, and there vnder the treasurie he gate olde ragges and worne cloutes, and let them downe by a corde into the dungeon to Ieremie.

12 And Abedmelech the Mozian sayde vnto the prophete Ieremie, Put these ragges & cloutes vnder thine arme holes, betwixt them and the cordes: and Ieremie dyd so.

13 So they drewe vp Ieremie with cords, and toke him out of the dungeon: and he remayned in the fore entrie of the prison.

14 Then Zedekia the king sent, and caused C Ieremie the prophete to be called vnto him, Ier.37.c. into the thyrde entrie that is in the house of the Lord, and the king sayde vnto Ieremie, I will aske thee some what, but hyde nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremie answered Zedekia, If I be playne vnto thee, thou wilt cause me to suffer death: if I giue thee counsel, thou wilt not folowe me.

16 So the king swore an othe secretly to Ieremie, saying, As the Lord liueth that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hads of thē ẏ seeke after thy life.

17 Then saide Ieremie vnto Zedekia, Thus Ier.27.a. saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, If case be that thou wylt goe forth vnto the king of Babylons princes, thou shalt saue thy life, and this citie shal not be brent, yea both thou and thy household shal escape with your lyues:

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babylons princes, then shall this citie be deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees, which shal set fyre vpō it, and thou shalt not be able to escape them.

19 And Zedekia sayde vnto Ieremie, I am afrayde for the Iewes that are fledde vnto the Chaldees, lest I come into their handes, and so they to haue me in derision.

20 But Ieremie answered, No, they shall not betray thee: O hearkē vnto ẏ voyce of ẏ Lord, I beseeche thee, which I speake vnto thee, so shalt thou be well, and saue thy lyfe:

21 But if thou wilt not goe forth, the Lorde D hath tolde me this playnely, 22 Beholde, all the women that are leaft in the king of Judahs house, shal be led forth vnto the king of Babylons princes: and they shall say, thou art deceiued, and the men in whom thou diddest put thy trust, haue gotte thee vnder, and set thy feete fast in the myre, and gone their way from thee.

23 Therefore al thy wiues, with thy children, shall they leade forth vnto the Chaldees, and thou shalt not escape their handes: but shalt be the king of Babylons prisoner, and this citie shalt thou cause to be burnt.

24 Then sayd Zedekia vnto Ieremie, Loke that no body knowe of these wordes, and thou shalt not dye:

25 But if the princes perceiue that I haue talked wt thee, and come vnto thee, saying, O speake, what sayd ẏ king to thee, hyde it not frō vs, & we wil not put thee to death: Tell vs (we pray thee) what sayd the king to thee?

26 See thou giue them this answere: I haue humbly besought the king, that he will lette me lye no more in Ionathans house, that I dye not there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Ieremie, and asked him: and he tolde them after the manner as the king bad him. Then they helde their peace, and let him alone: for they perceiued nothing.

28 So Ieremie abode stil in the fore entrie of the prison, vntil the daye that Ierusalem Iere.39.e. was wonne.

The.xxxix. Chapter.

1. Nabuchodonosor besiegeth Ierusalem. 4. Zedekia fleeth. 5. he is taken of the Chaldees. 6. his sonnes are slaine. 7. his eyes are thrust out 11. Ieremie is prouided for. 25. Abedmelech is deliuered from captiuitie, by cause of the confidence that he had in God.

1 NOw when the citie of Ierusalem was I taken, for in the ninth yeare of Zedekia king of Juda, the tenth moneth, came Iere.32.a. Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon and 4.Re.25.a. al his host, and besieged Ierusalem, & fought against it,

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedekia, in the fourth moneth, the ninth daye of the moneth, he breake into the citie.
3 Then all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and ſate them downe vnder the port: Neregel Sereſer, Samgarnebo, Sarſachim, Rabſares, Neregel Sereſer, Rabmag, with al the other princes of the king of Babylon.
Iere.34.a. 4 And when Zedekia the kyng of Iuda with his ſouldiers ſawe them, then they fled & departed out of the citie by night through the kings garden, and through the port that is betweene the two walles, and ſo the kyng went towarde the wildernesſe.
5 But the Chaldees hoſt followed faſt after them, and toke Zedekia in the fielde of Hiericho, and brought him priſoner to Nabu-chodonoſor the king of Babylon, vnto Reblath, that lyeth in the land of Hemath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.
6 So the king of Babylon cauſed the chyldren of Zedekia, and all the nobles of Iu-da, to be ſlayne before his face at Reblath,
B 7 And made Zedekias eyes to bee put out, and bounde him with two chaynes, and ſent him to Babylon.
4.Re.25.d. 8 Moreouer, the Chaldees burnt vp the kings Iere.22.d. palace, with the other houſes of the people, and brake downe the walles of Ieruſalem.
9 As for the remnant of the people that were in the citie, and ſuche as were come to him, and whatſoeuer was lefte of the common ſort, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne cary-ed them to Babylon.
10 But Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine let the raſcal people, and thoſe that had nothing dwel ſtyl in the lande of Iuda, and gaue them vineyardes and corne fieldes at the ſame time.
11 Nabuchodonoſor alſo the king of Babylon, gaue Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne a charge concerning Ieremie, ſaying, 12 Take and cheriſhe him, and make much of him, ſee thou do him no harme, but entreate him after his owne deſire.
13 So Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne,
Nabuzarban, Rabſares, Neregel Sereſer,
Rabmag, and all the king of Babylons
Lordes, ſent for Ieremie,
C 14 And cauſed him to be fet out of the fore en-
Iere.38.d trie of the pryſon, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam, the ſonne of Saphan, that he ſhould cary him home: and ſo he dwelt among the people.
Iere.40.b. 15 Now when Ieremie lay yet bound in the fore entrie of the pryſon, the word of the lord came vnto him, ſaying, 16 Goe and tell Abedmelech the Moriam, thus ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Beholde, the cruel and ſharpe plague that I haue deuiſed for this citie, will I bring vpon them, that thou ſhalt ſee it:
17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, ſayth
the Lord, & thou ſhalt not come in the hands of thoſe men whom thou feareſt:
18 For doubtleſſe I will ſaue thee, ſo that thou ſhalt not periſhe with the ſworde: but thy lyfe ſhal be ſaued, and that bycauſe thou haſt put thy truſt in me, ſaythe the Lorde.

The.xl.Chapter.

1. Ieremie hath licence to goe whither he wil. 8. he dwelleth with the people that remayneth at Ieruſalem, ouer whom Gedaliah ruleth 14. Iehanan propheſieth death vnto Gedaliah.

1 THis is the word that the Lord ſpake vn- A to Ieremie, when Nabuzaradan the Iere.43.a. chiefe captayne had let him goe free from Ramath, whyther he had led him bounde among all the priſoners that were caryed Iosu.18.d.
from Ieruſalem and Iuda vnto Babylon.
2 The chiefe captayne called for Ieremie, & ſayde vnto him, The Lord thy God ſpake mightily before of ỳ miſerie vpon this place.
3 Nowe the Lord hath ſent it, and perfourmed it, as he hath promiſed: for ye haue ſin-ned againſt the Lord, and haue not bin obedient vnto his voyce, therefore commeth this plague vpon you.
4 Beholde, I loſe the bandes from thy hands this day: if thou wylt nowe goe with mee vnto Babylon, vp thē, for I will ſee to thee, and prouide for thee: but if thou wilt not go with me to Babylon, then remaine here: be-holde, all the lande is at thy will, loke where Gene.13.b.
thou thinkeſt conuenient and good for thee to Tobi.1.b.
abyde, there dwel.
5 For as yet he was not gone backe again to Gedaliah: therefore hee ſaide to him, Goe backe to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahicam the ſonne of Saphan, whom the king of Baby- 4.Re.25.f.
lon hath made gouernour ouer the cities of Iuda, and dwel with him among the people, or remaine where ſo euer it pleaſe thee.
So the chiefe captayne gaue him his expen-ces with a rewarde, and let him goe.
6 Then went Ieremie vnto Gedaliah the ſon of Ahicam to Miſpa, and dwelt there wyth him among the people that were left in the Iere.39.d.
lande.
7 Now when the captaynes of the hoſt of Iu- B da, which with their felowes were ſcattered abroade on euery ſide in the land, vnderſtode that

that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour in the lande, and that man, wife, and childe, yea & the poore men in the lande that were not led captiue vnto Babylon, should be vnder hys iurisdiction:

8 They came to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, (namely) Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sonnes of Careah, Sareah the sonne of Thanchumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophatite, Jezeaniah the the sonne of Maachati, with theyr companions.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, the sonne of Saphan, sware vnto them and their felowes in this manner: Be not afrayde to serue the Chaldees, dwel in the land, & do the king of Babylon seruice, so shal ye prosper. 4.Re.25.c.

10 Beholde, I dwel at Mispa, to be an officer in the Chaldees behalfe, and to satisfie suche as come to vs: therfore gather wine, corne, and oyle, and kepe them in your ware houses, and dwel in your cities that ye haue in keeping.

11 Yea al the Iewes also ẏ dwelt in Moab, vnder the Ammonites, Idumea, and in all the countreyes, when they heard that the kyng of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sone of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan gouernour, vpon all them that were left in Juda:

12 All the Iewes (I say) returned out of all places where they were fledde vnto, & came into the lande of Juda to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, and gathered wine and other fruites, and that very much.

13 Moreouer, Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the host that were scattered on euery side in the lande, came to Gedaliah to Mispa, and sayde vnto him,

C 14 Knowest thou not that Baalis the kyng of the Ammonites hath sent Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam beleeued them not.

15 Then sayde Johanan the sonne of Careah vnto Gedaliah in Mispa these wordes secretly, Let mee goe, I pray thee, and I wyll slay Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, so that no body shall knowe it: Wherefore wyll he kyll thee, that all the Iewes which resort vnto thee myght be scattered, and the remnãt in Juda perishe?

16 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam sayde to Johanan the sonne of Careah, Thou shalt not do it, for they are but lyes that thou sayest of Ismael.

The.xli.Chapter.

2. Ismael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 11. Iohanan foloweth after Ismael.

1 BVt in the seuenth moneth, it happened that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah the sonne of Elisama, one of the kings blood came, and the greatest about the king, and tenne men with him, vnto Gedaliah the son of Ahicam to Mispa, and they did eate together in Mispa. A 4.Re.25.a.

2 And Ismael the son of Nathaniah, & those ten men that were with him, starte vp, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan with the swoorde, and slue him, whom the king of Babylon had made a gouernour of the lande.

3 Ismael also slue all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mispa, and all the Chaldees that he founde there waytyng vpon him, and those that were able to fight, he slue with him.

4 The next day after that he had slaine Gedaliah, the matter was yet vnknowen:

5 And there came certayne men from Sichem, from Silo, and Samaria, to the number of fourescore, whiche had shauen theyr beardes, rent their clothes, & were all beanie, bringyng meate offerings & incense in theyr handes, to offer it in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah went forth of Mispa weeping, to meete thẽ: nowe when he mette them, he sayd, Goe your way to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam. Ecc.12.

7 And when they came in the middest of the city, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, wyth them that were with him, slue them, euen at the middest of the pyt. B

8 Among these fourescore men, there were ten that sayde vnto Ismael, O slay vs not, for we haue yet a great treasure in the fielde, of wheate, barley, oyle, and honie: so he spared them, & slue them not with their brethrẽ.

9 Now the pyt wherein Ismael did cast the dead bodyes of the men whom he slue bycause of Gedaliah, had king Asa caused to be made for feare of Baasa the king of Israel, and the same pyt dyd Ismael fyl with slayne men. 2.Chr.16.a.

10 As for the remnant of ẏ people, the kyngs daughters, and all the people that were leste at Mispa, vpon whom Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah caryed them away prisoners towarde the Ammonites. 4.Re.15.c.

11 But when Johanan the sonne of Careah, & al they whiche had bin captaines ouer the kings host vnto him, heard of al the wickednes that Ismael the son of Nathaniah had done. Gen.12.c.

out for to fyght with Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah, and founde him by the greate waters that are at Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whome Iſmael led captiue, ſawe Iohanan the ſonne of Careah, and all the other captaynes of the hoſt, they were glad.

¶ 14 So al ỳ people that Iſmael had caryed away from Miſpa, were brought againe: and when they returned, they came to Iohanan the ſonne of Careah.

15 But Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah fled from Iohanan with eight companions, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then Iohanan the ſonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoſt that were with him, tooke all the remnant of the people, whō Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah had ledde away when he had ſlayne Gedaliah the ſon of Ahicam, whom they alſo had reſerued from him, fighting men, women, and chyldren, and gelded men, whom they brought agayne from Gibeon,

17 And wente from thence, and take them downe at Geruth Camaam, which lieth beſide Bethlehem, that they might goe into Egypt for feare of the Chaldees:

Iere.12.f.

The.xlij.Chapter.

1. The captaines aske counſel at Ieremie what they ought to do. 19. Ieremie adminiſheth the remnaunt of the people not to goe into Egypt.

¶ 1 THen all the captaynes of Iohanan the ſonne of Careah, Iezaniah the ſonne of Oſiah, came, with all the people, from the leaſt to the moſt,

2 And ſayde vnto Ieremie the prophete, Oh heare our petition, that thou mayeſt pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, (namely) for all the remnant, wherof there be fewe of vs leaft of many, as thou ſeeſt vs:

Iere.21.a. and.37.a.

3 That the Lord thy God may ſhewe vs a way to goe in, & tel vs what we ſhould do.

4 Then Ieremie the prophete ſayde vnto them, I haue heard you, beholde, I wil pray vnto God your Lorde as ye haue required me: and loke what anſwere the Lord giueth I ſhall certifie you therof, and keepe nothing backe from you.

Ioſu.1.c. 1.Mac.2.d. Iere.14.a.

5 And they ſaide vnto Ieremie, The Lord be a true and faythfull wytneſſe betwixt vs, that we wyll do all that the Lord thy God commaundeth vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we wyll harken vnto the voyce of the Lorde God, to whom we ſende thee, that we may proſper when we haue followed the voyce of ỳ Lord our God.

Iere.42.a.

7 And after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremie.

B

8 Then called he Iohanan the ſonne of Careah, and all the captaynes of the people that were with him, yea and all the people from the leaſt to the moſt,

9 And ſayde vnto them, Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael, vnto whom ye ſent me to lay forth your prayers before him:

Iere.42.b. Ba.3.c.

10 If ye wil dwel in this lande, I ſhall build you vp, and not breake you downe, I ſhall plante you, and not rote you out: for I (a) repent as concerning the trouble that I haue done to you.

a. Gods repentance is not as any thing elſe is, that he doth not profeſſe to the vtmoſt his wrath according vnto deſertes of the people.

11 Feare not the king of Babylon, of whom ye ſtande in awe, O be not afraide (ſayth the Lorde) for I will be with you to helpe you, & deliuer you out from his hande.

12 I wil pardon you, I will haue mercy vpon you, and cauſe him to pitie you, and bring you againe into your owne land.

13 Neuertheleſſe, if yee purpoſe not to dwel in this lande, nor to folow the voyce of the Lord your God:

14 But wil ſay thus, Wee wyll not dwell here, but goe into Egypt, where wee ſhall neyther ſee warre, heare the noyſe of the trūpe, nor ſuffer hunger, there will we dwel.

Iere.42.a

15 Wherefore heare nowe the word of the Lorde, O ye remnant of Iuda, Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, If ye be wholly purpoſed to goe into Egypt, and to dwel there as ſtrangers, Iere.27.d.

16 The ſworde that ye feared, ſhall ouertake you in Egypt: and the hunger whereof ye be here afrayde, ſhal hang vpon you, and folow you into Egypt, and there ſhal ye dye.

Iere.41.b.

17 And all they that of ſet purpoſe vndertake to goe into Egypt to ſoiourne there, ſhall peryſhe with the ſworde, with hunger, and peſtilence, not one of them ſhall remayne, there ſhall none eſcape the plague that I wil bring vpon them.

Iere.41.c.

18 For thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Like as my wrath and indignation is moued againſt the inhabitours of Ieruſalem: ſo ſhall my diſpleaſure be kyndled againſt you alſo if ye goe into Egypt, and there ye ſhal be reuiled, abhorred, brought to ſhame and confuſion, and as for this place ye ſhal neuer ſee it more.

19 The Lord forbiddeth you, (O ye remnant of Iuda) that ye ſhall not goe into Egypt:

and

and forget not that I haue warned you earnestly this day.

20 For ye haue dissembled with me: for yee sent me vnto the Lorde your God, and sayd, Iere.42.a. Pray thou the Lord our God for vs, and loke what answere the Lord our God giueth thee, that bring vs againe, & we shal do thereafter:

D 21 Nowe haue I shewed and declared vnto you, but ye haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde your God, for the which cause he hath sente me vnto you.

Iu.18.c. 22 Nowe therefore, be sure that ye shall perysshe with the swoorde, with hunger, and pestilence, euen in the same place where your lust is to goe and dwell.

The.xliij.Chapter.

1. Iohanan caryeth the remnant of the people into Egypt, cõtrary to the minde of Ieremie. 8. Ieremie prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

A 1 NOwe when Ieremie had ended all the woordes of the Lord his God vnto the people, which to declare the Lord their God had sent him to them, euen all these woordes (I say.)

2 Azariah the sonne of Osaiah, and Iohanan the sonne of Careah, with all the stubburne persons, saide vnto Ieremie, Thou lyest, the Lorde our God hath not sent thee to speake Iere.42.a. vnto vs, that we should not goe into Egypt, and dwel there:

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prouoketh thee against vs, that he myght bring vs into the captiuitie of the Chaldees, that they might slay vs, and cary vs away prisoners vnto Babylon.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaynes of the host, and all the people, folowed not the cõmaundement of the lord, (namely) to dwel in the land of Iuda:

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaynes of the host, caryed away al the Iere.41.c. remnant of Iuda that were come together agayne from all the heathen, among whom they had bin scattered, to dwel in the lande of Iuda,

6 Men, women, children, the kyngs daughters, all those that Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Saphan: they caryed away also the prophete Ieremie, Baruch the sonne of Neriah,

7 And so came into Egypt: for they were not obedient vnto the commaundement of God. Thus came they to Thaphnis.

8 And in Thaphnis the woorde of the Lorde happened vnto Ieremie, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hande, and hide thẽ in ẏ bryck wal, vnder the doore of Pharaos house in Thaphnis, that all the men of Iuda may see,

10 And say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil sende & cal for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant, and will set his seate vpon these stones that I haue hid, and hee shall spreade his tent ouer them. Iere.46.c.

11 And when he commeth, he shall smite the land of Egypt, some vnto slaughter, some with banishment, and some with the swoorde.

12 He shall set fire vpon the temple of the Egyptians goddes, and burne them vp, & take themselues prysoners: Moreouer, he shal aray him selfe with the lande of Egypt, lyke as a shepheard putteth on his coate, and shal depart his way from thence in peace.

13 The pyllers also of the temple of the sunne that is in Egypt, shall be breake in peeces, and burne the temples of the Egyptians goddes.

The.xliiij.Chapter.

1. He reproueth the people for their idolatrie. 15. They that set light by the threatning of the Lord are chastened. 26. The destructiõ of Egypt and the Iewes therein is prophecied.

1 THis is the woorde that was shewed to A Ieremie, concerning all the Iewes which dwelt in Egypt, at Migdol, at Thaphnis, at Noph, and in the lande of Pathures.

2 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Ye haue seene all the miserie that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iuda: so that this day they are desolate, and no man dwelling therein,

3 And that bycause of the great blasphemies, which they committed to prouoke me vnto anger, in that they went backe to do sacrifice and worship vnto strange goddes, whom neyther they, nor ye, nor your fathers haue knowen.

4 Howbeit, I sent vnto them my seruauntes all the prophetes, I rose vp early, I sent vnto them, and gaue them warning, O do no suche abhominable things and things that I hate. Iere.25.a. and.29.a.

5 But they woulde not folowe, nor hearken, to turne from their wickednesse, and to do no more sacrifice vnto straunge goddes.

6 Wherfore, mine indignation & wrath was kindled, and it brent vp the cities of Iuda, with the streetes of Ierusalem, so that they were were made walke and deſolate, as it is come to paſſe this day.

B 7 Now therefore, thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, How happeneth it that ye do ſo greate euil vnto your owne ſoules, thus to deſtroy the men and women, children and babes of Iuda, ſo that none of you is left?

8 Bycauſe ye prouoke me to wrath with the workes of your owne handes, when ye offer vnto ſtrange goddes in the lande of Egypt, where as ye be gone to dwel, that ye myght vtterly perylhe, and that ye might be reuiled, and ſhamefully entreated of al nations?

9 Or haue ye now forgotten the wickednelle of your forefathers, the wickednelle of the kings of Iuda, and their wiues, the wickednelle that yee your ſelues and your wiues haue done in the lande of Iuda, and in the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem?

10 Yet are ye not ſorie this day, ye feare not, neyther walke ye in my lawe, and in my commaundementes that I haue giuen vnto you and your forefathers.

11 Therefore, thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, I am ſtedfaſtly aduiſed and determined to punyſhe you, and to rote out all Iuda.

12 As for the remnant of Iuda that purpoſely went into Egypt there to dwel, I wil take them, and they ſhall all bee deſtroyed, in the lande of Egypt ſhall they perilhe being cõſumed with the ſworde, and with hunger: for from the leaſt vnto the moſte, they ſhall perylhe with the ſworde, and wyth hunger: moreouer, they ſhall be reuiled, abhorred, ſhamed, and confounded.

Ezec.39.a. 13 For I wil viſite them that dwel in Egypt, as I haue viſited Ieruſalem, with the ſworde, with hunger, and with peſtilence.

C 14 So that none of the remnant of Iuda which are gone to dwel in Egypt, ſhall bee left to come againe into the land of Iuda, although they thinke to come thyther again, and to dwel there: for none ſhall come agayne but ſuch as are fled away.

15 Then all the men which knewe that theyr wiues had offered vnto ſtrange goddes, and a great forte of wiues that ſtode there, yea and al the people that dwelt there in Egypt in the citie of Phatures, anſwered Ieremie, and ſayde,

16 As for the words that thou haſt ſpoken vnto vs in the name of the Lord, we wil in no wiſe heare them:

17 But whatſoeuer goeth out of our owne mouth, that will we do, we will do ſacrifice, and offer oblations vnto the queene of heauen like as we and our forefathers, our kings & Iere.7.b.

our heades haue done in the cities of Iuda, and in the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem: for then had we plentifulneſſe of victuals, then were we in proſperitie, and no miſfortune came vpon vs:

18 But ſince we left to offer, and to do ſacrifice vnto the queene of heauen, we haue had ſcarceneſſe of all things, and periſhe with the ſworde and hunger. 1.Ma.1.

19 (Laſt of all) when we (women) dyd ſacrifice and offered vnto the queene of heauen: dyd we make hir cakes, and powre vnto hir drinke offerings to do hir ſeruice, without our husbandes wylles?

20 Then ſayde Ieremie vnto all the people, to the men, to the women, and to al the folke which had giuen him that anſwere, Ie.35.a.

21 Dyd not the Lord remember the ſacrifices D that yee, your forefathers, your kynges and rulers, with all the people, haue offered in the cities of Iuda, in the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem? and hath he not conſydered this in hys mynde?

22 In ſomuch that the Lord myght no longer ſuffer the wickednelle of your inuentions, and the abhominable things which yee did: Is not your lande deſolate and voyde, yea and abhorred, ſo that no man dwelleth therein any more, as it is come to paſſe this day? Eſai.1.d. Ie.36.a.

23 Did not all this happen vnto you, bycauſe ye made ſuch ſacrifice, and ſinned againſt the Lord? ye haue not followed his voice, to walke in his lawe, in his ordinances & ſtatutes: yea this is ẏ cauſe ẏ al miſfortune happened vnto you, as it is come to paſſe this day. 3.Re.11. Iere.22. 3.c.&.56. Bacuc.1.

24 Moreouer, Ieremie ſpake vnto al the people, & to al the womẽ, Heare the word of the Lord, al Iuda that be in the land of Egypt:

25 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Ye and your wiues haue ſpoken with your owne mouth, the thing that ye haue fulfilled in deede, yea thus haue ye ſayd, We wil not fayle but perfourme the vowes that we haue vowed, we wil do ſacrifice, & poure out drinke offerings to the Queene of heauen, purpoſely will yee ſet vp your owne meanings, and perfourme your vowes. Iere.44.b.m.11.b.

26 And therefore heare the word of the Lord al Iuda ẏ dwel in the land of Egypt, Behold, I haue ſworne by my great name, ſayth the Lord, that my name ſhall not bee rehearſed through any mans mouth of Iuda in all the land of Egypt, to ſay, The lord God liueth. Gen.22.c. Exo.19.a. Nu.20.a. Iere.29.a. 32.31.

27 For I wil watch to plague them, and not for their wealth: And all the men of Iuda that be in the lande of Egypte, ſhall periſhe with the ſworde, and with hunger, vntil they Iere.44.c. 4.Re.24.

C 28 Neuertheleſſe thoſe that fledde away for the ſwoꝛde, ſhall come againe out of Egypt into the lande of Juda, but there ſhal be very fewe of them, and al the remnant of Juda that are gone into Egypt there to dwel, ſhall knowe whoſe woꝛdes ſhall be founde true, theirs oꝛ myne.

29 Take this foꝛ a token, that I will viſite you in this place, ſayth the Loꝛd, and that ye may know howe ỹ I wout doubt wil perfourme my purpoſe vpon you, to punith you:

30 Behold, ſayth the Loꝛde, I will deliuer Pharao Hephꝛea king of Egypt, into the hands of his enimies that ſeeke after his life: euen as I gaue Zedekia the king of Juda into the handes of Nabuchodonoſoꝛ king of Babylon his enimie, which ſought after his lyfe.

The.xlv.Chapter.

Baruch is reproued of Ieremie.

A 1 THeſe are the woꝛdes that Ieremie the pꝛophet ſpake vnto Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, after that he had writ ten theſe ſermons in a booke at the mouth of Ieremie, in the fourth yeere of Jehoakim the ſon of Joſias king of Juda, ſaying,

2 Thus ſayth the Loꝛd God of Iſrael vnto thee, O Baruch:

3 Inſomuch as ỹ thoughteſt thus (when thou waſt writing) Wo is me, the Loꝛd hath giuen me payne foꝛ my trauayle, I haue weeried my ſelfe wᵗ ſighing, and haue founde no reſt:

4 Therefoꝛe tell him, O Jeremie, that the Loꝛde ſayth thus, Beholde, the thing that I haue builded, will I breake downe agayne, and roote out the thing that I haue planted, yea this whole lande:

5 And ſeekeſt thou yet pꝛomotion? (loke not for it, and) deſire it not, foꝛ I will bꝛing a miſerable plague vpō al fleſh, ſaith the Loꝛd: but thy lyfe will I giue thee foꝛ a pꝛay in al places whither ſo euer thou goeſt.

The.xlvi.Chapter.

1. He prophecieth the deſtruction of Egypt. 27. Deliueraunce is promiſed to Iſrael.

A 1 HEre folow the woꝛds of the Loꝛd to ỹ pꝛophet Jeremie, which he ſpake againſt (all) the Gentiles.

2 Theſe woꝛdes folowing pꝛeached he to the Egyptians, concerning the hoſte of Pharao Necho king of Egypt, wch he was in Charchamis beſide the water of Euphꝛates, what tyme as Nabuchodonoſoꝛ the king of Babylon ſlue him, in the fourth yeere of Jehoakim the ſonne of Joſias king of Juda.

3 Make ready buckler and ſhielde, and goe foꝛth to fight. Jere.36.a.

4 Harneſſe your hoꝛſes, and ſet your ſelues vpon them, ſet your ſallets faſt on, bꝛing foꝛth ſpeares, ſcoure your ſwoꝛdes, and put on your bꝛeaſt plates.

5 But alas, howe happeneth it that I ſee you ſo afrayde? why ſhꝛynke ye backe? Theyꝛ woꝛthyes are ſlaine, yea they runne ſo faſt away, that none of them loketh behinde him: fearefulneſſe is fallen vpon euery one of thē, ſayth the Loꝛd.

6 The lightеſt of foote ſhal not flee away, and the woꝛthies ſhall not eſcape: towarde the Noꝛth, by the water of Euphꝛates they dyd ſtumble and fal.

7 But what is hee this that ſwelleth vp as it were a floud, roaryng and raging lyke the ſtreames of water? B

8 It is Egypt that ryſeth vp lyke the floud, & calleth out the waters with ſo great noyſe, and he ſayde, I will goe vp, and will couer the earth, I wil deſtroy the citie, with them that are therein.

9 Get ye vp ye hoꝛſes, rolle foꝛth ye charets, come foꝛth woꝛthies, ye Ethiopians, ye Libyans with your bucklers, ye Lydians with your bowes.

10 But this day of the Loꝛde God of hoſtes, is a day of vengeance, that he may auenge him of his enimies: The ſwoꝛd ſhal deuour, it ſhall be ſatiſfied and bathed in their bloud, foꝛ the Loꝛd God of hoſtes ſhal haue a ſlaine offeryng towarꝺ the Noꝛth, by the water of Euphꝛates.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, and bꝛing triacle, O virgin thou daughter of Egypt: but in vaine ſhalt thou go to ſurgerie, foꝛ thy wound ſhal not be ſtopped.

12 The heathen haue hearde of thy ſhame, and the lande is full of thy confuſion, foꝛ one ſtrong man did ſtumble vpon another, and they are fallen both together.

13 Theſe are the the woꝛdes that the Loꝛde ſpake to the pꝛophet Jeremie, concerning the comming of Nabuchodonoſoꝛ the kyng of Babylon, whiche was ſent to deſtroy the lande of Egypt: Jere.43.b.

14 Pꝛeache out thꝛough the lande of Egypt and cauſe it to be pꝛoclaymed at Migdol, Noph, and Thaphnis, and ſay, Stande ſtyl, make thee redy, foꝛ the ſwoꝛd ſhall conſume thee rounde about. C

15 How happeneth it that thy mightie woꝛthies are fallen? why ſtood they not faſte? euē bycauſe the Loꝛd thruſt them downe.

16 The ſlaughter was great, foꝛ one fel euer ſtyl vpon another: & they ſaide, Vp, let vs goe agayn to our owne people, and to our owne natural natural countrey, from the cruel ſwoꝛd.

17 They did crye euen there, Pharao the king of Egypt, is a king of troubleſomeneſſe, he hath ouerpaſt the appointed time.

Eſai. 48. b. 18 As I liue (ſayth the king whoſe name is the Lord of hoſtes) ſo ſurely as Thaboꝛ ſtandeth among the mountaynes, and Charmel in the ſea: euen ſo aſſuredly ſhall this miſchiefe come (vpon Egypt.)

19 O thou daughter of Egypt, make redy thy geare to flit: foꝛ Noph ſhal be voyde and deſolate, ſo that no man ſhall dwel therein.

20 The lande of Egypt is like a goodly faire calfe: but deſtruction ſhall come out of the noꝛth, (I ſay) it commeth.

D 21 Hir waged ſouldiours that be with hir, are lyke fat calues, they alſo ſhall flee away together, & not abyde: foꝛ ẏ day of their ſlaughter, and the time of their viſitation ſhal come vpon them:

22 The crye of them ſhall make a noyſe, as the hiſſing of ſerpentes: foꝛ they ſhal enter in with their hoſtes, and come againſt hir with axes, as it were hewers doꝛwne of wood.

a. Hir wood, that is, the whole multitude of the people, whiche was like a great wood.

23 And they ſhall cut doꝛwne hir (a) wood, ſaith the Lord, they ſhall be innumerable: foꝛ they ſhall be moe in number than the graſſehoppers, ſo that no man ſhal be able to tel them.

24 The daughter of Egypt is confounded, and deliuered into the handes of the people of the noꝛth.

25 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Beholde, I will viſite that reſtleſſe people of Alexandria, Pharao, & Egypt, yea both their gods & their kings, euen Pharao and all them that put their truſt in him:

26 Yea I will deliuer them into the handes of thoſe that ſeeke after their lyues, (namely) into the power of Nabuchodonoſoꝛ the king of Babylon, and into the power of his ſeruauntes: and after all theſe things, it ſhall be inhabited as afoꝛetime, ſayth the Lord.

27 Be not thou afrayde, O my ſeruaunt Iacob, feare not thou, O Iſrael: foꝛ loe, I will helpe thee from farre, and thy ſeede from the lande of their captiuitie: Iacob alſo ſhall come agayne, and be in reaſt, he ſhal proſper, and no man ſhall do him harme.

E 28 Feare thou not (O Iacob my ſeruaunt) ſayth the Lorde, foꝛ I am with thee, and wil deſtroy all nations among whom I haue ſcattered thee: neuertheleſſe, I wil not conſume thee, but chaſten thee, and coꝛrect thee, yea and that with diſcretion, neyther will I vtterly deſtroy thee.

The. xlvij. Chapter.

The word of the Lord againſt the Philiſtines.

1 THeſe are the woꝛdes that ẏ Lord ſpake I vnto Ieremie the pꝛophete againſt the Philiſtines, beꝛore that Pharao ſmote (the citie of) Azah.

2 Thus ſayth the Lord, Behold, there ſhall waters aryſe out of the noꝛth, and ſhal gꝛow to a great floud, running ouer, and couering the lande, and all that is therin, the cities and them that dwel therein: and the men ſhall crye, and all they that dwel in the land ſhal mourne,

3 At the noiſe and ſtamping of their ſtrong barbed hoꝛſes, at the ſhaking of their charrettes, and at the rumbling of the wheeles: the fathers ſhall not looke to their chyldꝛen, ſo feeble and weerie ſhall their handes be,

4 At the ſame tyme when he ſhall be there to deſtroy the whole lande of the Philiſtines, he ſhall make waſt both Tyrus, Sidon, and the reſidue of theyr ayde: foꝛ the Lorde will deſtroy the Philiſtines, the remnant of of the Ile of " Caphtoꝛ.

" or, Cappadocia.

5 Baldneſſe is come vpon Azah, Aſcalon is put to ſilence with the reſt of their baleys: how long wilt thou teare thy ſelfe?

6 O thou ſwoꝛd of the Lord, how long wilt thou not ceaſſe? turne agayn into thy ſheath, reſt, and leaue of.

7 But how can it ceaſſe, when the Lord him B ſelfe hath giuen it a charge againſt Aſcalon, and rayſed it vp againſt the cities of the ſea coaſt?

The. xlviij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lord againſt the Moabites.

1 THus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, the god A of Iſrael, againſt Moab, Wo be to the citie of Nebo, foꝛ it is layde waſte, bꝛought to confuſion, and Kiriathaim is taken: Miſgab is bꝛought to ſhame, and afrayde. Eſai. 15. d. 16. a. 25. d. Ezec 25. d. Soph. 2. d.

2 Moab can boaſt no moꝛe of Heſbon, foꝛ they haue deuiſed a miſchiefe againſt it: come (ſhal they ſay) let vs rote them out, that they may be no moꝛe a nation, thou alſo ſhalt be deſtroyed, O Madmena, and the ſwoꝛd ſhal perſecute thee.

3 A voyce ſhall crie from Hoꝛonaim, Great waſting & deſtruction ſhall come vpon thẽ, 4 Moab is made deſolate: hir little ones haue cryed out.

5 Foꝛ at the going vp vnto Luith he aroſe with lamentations and mournyng, & down towarde Hoꝛonaim they hearde a cruel and deadly crye,

6 Get you away, ſaue your liues, and be like vnto the heath in the wyldernelle.

7 Foꝛ bycauſe thou haſt truſted in thyne B owne owne wozkes and treasure, thou shalt be taken: Chamos with his priestes and princes shal goe away into captiuitie.

8 The destroyer shall come vpon all cities, none shall escape: The valleys shall be destroyed, and the fieldes shall be layde wast, like as the Lozd hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that she get hir away speedyly: foz hir cities shal be made so desolate, that no man shal dwel therein.

10 Cursed bee hee that doth the wozke of the Lozd fraudulently, & cursed be he that kepeth backe his swozd from shedding of bloud.

11 Moab hath euer bin riche and careleſſe frō hir youth vp, shee hath bin stil settled vpon lyes, she was neuer yet put out of one vessell into another (that is) she neuer went away into captiuitie, therefoze hir tast remayneth, and hir sauour is not yet changed.

12 But loe, the time commeth, sayth the Lozd: that I shal sende hir trussers to trusse hir vp, which shall remoue hir from hir dwelling, and emptie hir vessels, and breake hir wine pottes.

13 And Moab shal be ashamed of Chamos, like as Israel was ashamed of Bethel, wherin she put hir trust.

C 14 Wherefoze do ye thinke thus, Wee are mightie, and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, and hir cities brent vp, hir chosen yong men be slaine, sayth the king, whose name is the Lozd of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab commeth on apace, and hir fal is at hande.

17 All ye neyghbours mourne foz hir, and all ye that knowe hir name, say, O how happeneth it that the strong staffe and the gwdly rodde is thus broken?

18 And thou daughter Dibon, come downe from thy glozie, and sit in thirst: foz he that destroyeth Moab, shall come vp to thee also, and breake downe thy strong holdes.

19 And thou that dwellest in Aroer, get thee to the streete, and loke about thee, aske them that are fledde and escaped, and say, What thing is happened?

20 Oh Moab is confounded and ouercome: mourne and crye, tel it out at Arnon, that Moab is destroyed.

D 21 Foz iudgement shall come vpon the playne lande, (namely) vpon Holon, and Jahzah & vpon Mephaath.

22 And vpon Dibon, vpon Nabo, and Beth Deblathaim,

23 Upon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth Gamul, vpon Beth Maon, 24 And vpon Carioth, vpon Bozra, and all the cities in the lande of Moab, whether they lye farre oz neare.

25 The hozne of Moab is smitten downe, & hir arme broken, sayth the Lozd.

26 Make hir drunken, foz she magnified hir selfe aboue the Lozd that men may clap their handes at hir vomite, and that she also may be laughed to scozne.

27 Dyddest not thou laugh Israel to scozne, as though he had bin taken (with theft) among theeues? foz so often as thou makest mention of him, thou skippest foz ioy.

28 Ye Moabites, leaue the cities, and dwell E in rockes of stone, and become lyke doues that make their nestes in holes.

29 Is foz Moabs pride we haue hearde of it, she is very hygh minded, I know hir stoutnesse, hir boasting, hir arrogancie, and the pryde of hir stomacke, (sayth the Lorde.) Esai.16.b. Iere.49.c.

30 I knowe, (sayth the Lozd) hir indignation, she doth not right, hir wozdes are lyes, & they haue not dealt truely.

31 Therefoze will I mourne foz Moab, foz whole Moabs sake: my hart shall lament the men of Kirchares.

32 O thou vineyarde of Sabamah, I will weepe foz thee as foz Jazer: thy vine bracches shall come ouer the sea, vnto the sea of Jazer, the destroyer shall breake into thy haruest and grape gathering.

33 Myrth and cheare shall be taken away frō the fertile fielde, and from the lande of Moab: there shal be no sweet wine in the presse, the treader shall haue no stomacke to crye, yea there shall be none to crye vnto him, 34 Whiche afozetyme were heard from Helbon to Eleale, and Jahaz, whiche lyfted vp their voice from Zoar vnto Hozonaim, that bullocke of three yeeres olde, the waters also of Nemrim shal be dryed vp.

35 Mozeouer, I will make Moab ceasse saith F the Lozde, from the offerings and censyng that shee hath made vnto hir gods in hygh places.

36 Wherefoze my hart mourneth foz Moab, lyke a crowde playing an heauie song, and foz the mens sake of Kirchares my harte mourneth also, euen as a pype that pypeth a doleful song: foz their riches whiche they haue gathered shal be destroyed.

37 All heades shal be shauen, and all beardes Esai.15.d. clipped of, all handes bound, and all loynes gyrded about with sackcloth.

38 Upon all the house toppes and streetes of Moab there shall be lamentable mourning: foz I wil breake Moab like an vnprofitable vessel, sayth the Lozd.

39 O how is she destroyed? O how mourneth she? O how doth Moab hang downe hir heade and is ashamed? Thus shal Moab be a laughing stocke, and had in derision of al them that be rounde about hir.

Deut.28.c. Jere.49.d. 40 For thus sayth the Lord, Behold, the enimie shal come fleeing as an Eagle, & spread his wings vpon Moab.

G 41 They shall take the cities, and winne the strong holdes: then the mightie mennes harts in Moab, shall be like the hart of a woman trauelling with childe.

42 And Moab shall be made so desolate, that she shall no more bee a people, bycause she hath set vp hir selfe against the Lord.

Esai.24.c. 43 Feare, pit, and snare, shall come vpon thee, O Moab, sayth the Lord.

44 Who so escapeth the feare, shall fall into the pit, and who so getteth out of the pit, shal be taken in the snare: for I wil bring a yere of visitation vpon Moab sayth the Lord.

45 They that are able to flee, shall stand vnder the shadow of Hesbon, for there shal goe a fyre out of Hesbon, and a flambe from Sion, & shal burne vp ỳ proude people of Moab and the toppe of those seditious children.

46 Wo be vnto thee, O Moab, thou people of Chamos shalte perishe: yea thy sonnes and daughters shall be led away captiue.

47 Yet at the last will I bring Moab out of captiuitie againe, sayth the Lorde: Thus farre is of the plague of Moab.

The xlix. Chapter.

1. The worde of the Lorde against the Ammonites. 7. Against Idumea. 23. Damascus. 28. Cedar. 34. Elam.

A 1 AS concerning the Ammonites, thus the Lord saith, Hath Israel no children? or is he without any heire? Why hath your king then taken Gad in? Wherfore doth his people dwel in his cities?

Ezec.21.d. and.25.a. Amos.1.a.

2 Beholde therefore, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I will bring a noise of warre into Rabath of the Ammonites, and it shall be layde on a desolate heape, and hir cities brent vp, and the Israelities shall be Lordes ouer those that had them in possession afore, sayth the Lord.

3 Hesbon shall mourne, for Ai shall be rooted out of the grounde, (sayth the Lorde) the citie of Rabbath shall crye out, and gyrde thē selues with sackcloth, they shal mourne and runne about the walles, for their kyng shall be led away prisoner, yea his priestes, and princes with him.

a. The plentifulnesse of the soyle, the strōg situation of the place, & their great wealthe causeth the Ammōits, like a reckelesse, to wāton girle to blaspheme the Lord, to annoy his people, and to be without all feare of enimies.

4 Wherefore glorieſt thou in the (a) valley? thy valley hath flowed away, O thou rebelious daughter, and thinkest thou that thou art so safe by reason of thy treasure; ỳ no mā shall come to thee?

5 Beholde, I will bring a feare vpon thee, sayth the Lord God of hostes, from all those that be about thee, so that ye shal be scattered euery man from another, and no man shall gather them together againe that be fledde.

6 But after that, I will bring the Ammonites also out of captiuitie agayne, sayeth the Lord.

7 Vpon the Edomites hathe the Lorde of hostes spoken on this manner, Is there no more wysedome in Theman? Is there no more good counsel among his people? Is their wisdome thē turned cleane to nought?

B Esai.21. Erod.3. 17.b. and.35.a.

8 Get you hence, turne your backes, crepe downe into the deepe, O ye citizens of Dedan: for I will bring destruction vpon Esau, yea and the day of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come vpon thee, shuld they not leaue some grapes? If ỳ night robbers come vpon thee, should they not take so much as they thought were ynough?

10 But I wil make Esau bare, and discouer his secretes, so that he shal not be able to hide them: His seede shal be wasted away, yea his brethren and his neighbours, and hee hymselfe shall not be left behinde.

11 Thou shalt leaue thy fatherlesse children behinde thee, & I will keepe them, and thy widdowes shal take their comfort in me.

12 For thus hath the Lorde spoken, Beholde, they that men thought were vnmeete to drynke of the cup, haue dronken with ỳ first, and thinkest thou then to be free? No, no, thou shalt neither be quit nor free: but thou must drinke also.

Jere.25. Ezec.35. 1.Pet.4.

13 For why? I haue sworne by my selfe, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shall become a wyldernesse, an open shame, a laughing stocke, and curſing, and all hir cities shall be a continual desert.

14 For I am perfectly informed of the lord, that he hath sent a message already vnto the heathen: Gather you together, and go forth against hir, make you redy to battel.

C

15 For loe, I wil make thee but smal among the heathen, & little regarded among men.

Abdi.1.

16 Thy high stomacke, and the pryde of thy hart hath deceiued thee, bycause thou doest dwel in the holes of stony rockes, and hast ỳ high moūtaynes in possession: Neuertheles, though thy nest were as high as the Egles, yet will I cast thee downe, saith the lord.

Esai.48.d. Jere.48.d.

17 Moreouer, Idumea shal be a wildernesse, who so goeth by it, shal be abashed, & wonder at all hir miserable plagues.

Jere.18.d. 19.d.& 50.b.

18 Lyke as Sodom, Gomor, and the cities that lay there about, were turned vpsyde downe, saith the Lord: so shal no body dwel in Idumea, and no man shall haue his habitation there.

Gen.19.c.

19 Beholde,

19 Behold, like as the Lion, so shall a destroyer come vp from the pleasant medowes of Iordaine, vnto the strong dwelling place, & when I haue made him quiet, I will make him to flee from hir and all chosen men wil I set in aray against hir: Who is like vnto me? what is he ỹ will stryue with me? what shepheard may stande in my handes?

20 Therefore, heare the counsel of the Lorde that he hath taken vpon Idumea, & his purpose that he hath deuised vpon the citizens of Theman: The least of the flocke shal trayle thē, & loke what faire habitation they haue, they shal make it waste, and them selues also.

D 21 At the noyse of their fall the earth shall quake, the crye of their voyce shall be heard vnto the red sea.

22 Behold, the enimie shall come and flee vp hither like as it were an Egle, and spread his wings vpon Bozrah: then shall the hartes of the worthies in Edom, be as the harte of a woman trauailing of childe.

23 Upon Damascus, Hemath, and Arphad, shall come confusion: for they shall heare euyl tidings, they shall be tossed to and fro like the sea that can not stande styl.

24 Damascus shall be sore afrayde, and shall flee: trembling commeth vpon hir, sorowe and paine shall ouertake hir, as a woman trauayling of childe.

25 But howe happeneth it that the famous citie, the citie of my ioy, is not spared?

26 Hir young men shall fall in the streetes, & all hir men of warre shal be taken away in that time, saith the Lord of hostes.

27 I will kindle a fyre in the walles of Damascus, which shall consume the pallace of Benhadad.

E 28 As for Cedar and the kyngdome of Hazor, whō Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon smote, the Lord hath spoken thus vpon them: Aryse, and get you vp vnto Cedar, & destroy the people toward the East.

29 Their tentes and their flockes shall they take away, yea their hangings and their vessels, their Camels also shal they carry away with them: they shall crye to them, feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you far away, creepe into caues, that ye may dwel there, O ye inhabiters of Hazor, saith the Lorde: for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath holden a counsel concerning you, and concluded his deuise against you.

31 Aryse, and get you vp against yonder rich and careles people, sayth the Lorde, whiche haue neither gates nor dore barres, but dwel alone.

32 Their Camels shall be a pray, & the droues of their Cattel dryue away: Moreouer, those will I scatter towarde all the windes, and to the farthest partes of the world, yea from al the sides therof wil I bring their destruction sayth the Lorde.

33 Hazor also shal be a dwelling for dragons, and an euerlasting wyldernesse, so that no body shal dwel there, and no man shal haue there his habitation.

34 These are the wordes that the Lord spake to the prophete Jeremie concerning Elam, in the beginning of the raigne of Zedekias king of Juda. Ezec.32.a. Dan.8.a.

35 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, F I will breake the bow of Elam, their principal strength.

36 And vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, & wil scatter thē against the same foure windes: and there shall be no people, but some of Elam shall flee vnto them.

37 For I will cause Elam to be afrayde of their enimies, and of them that seeke their liues, and wil bring vpon them a mischiefe, euen my wrath saith the Lord: And I will persecute them with the sworde so long til I haue brought them to nought.

38 I wil set my throne in Elam, I will destroy both ỹ kings and princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in processe of time I will bring Elam out of captiuitie agayne, sayth the Lorde.

The.l. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

1 The wordes that the Lord spake vnto the A prophet Jeremie, concerning Babylon, and the lande of the Chaldees:

2 Preach among the Gentiles, let your voyce be heard, make a token, crye out, keepe no silence, but saye, Babylon is won, Bel is confounded, and Merodach is ouercome, yea their goddes be brought to shame, and their images burst in peeces: Esai.13.a. and.47.a. and.51.a. Jere.25.b. Esai.46.a. Dan.5.a.

3 For out of the north there doth come a people against hir, which shall make hir land so waste that no body shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast, for they shall flee, and depart from thence.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shal come, they & the children of Juda, weeping and making hast, and shal seeke the Lord their God. 1.Esd.1.a.

5 They shall aske the way to Sion, thither shall they turne their faces, saying, Come, & we will cleaue to the Lorde in a couenaunt that neuer ſhal be broken.

Iere.23.a. Ezec.36.f. 6 My people haue bin a loſt flocke, my ſhepheardes haue deceiued them: and haue made them go aſtray vpon the hylles, they haue gonne from the mountayne to the little hil, and forgotten their folde.

B 7 Al they that came vppon them, haue deuoured them, and their enimies ſayde, We haue made no fault againſt them, for they haue diſpleaſed the Lorde, (yea euen the Lorde which is) the habitation of their righteouſneſſe, and the hope of their fathers.

8 Flee from Babylon, and depart out of the lande of the Chaldees, and be ye as the rammes that goe before the flocke.

Iere.50.g. 9 For lo, I will wake vp an hoſt of people from the northren land, and bring them vpon Babylon, theſe ſhall lay ſiege to it, and winne it: their arrowes ſhal not miſſe, like as a cunning archer ſhooteth not wrong.

10 And the Chaldees ſhall be ſpoyled, and al they that ſpoyle them, ſhal be ſatisfyed, ſayth the Lord:

Elai.47.a. 11 Although ye were ſo chearefull and glad, to treade downe myne heritage, and fulfilled your pleaſures as the calues in the graue, and triumphed ouer them lyke bulles (when ye had gotten the victorie.)

12 Your mothers ſhall be ſore confounded, and they that bare you ſhall come to ſhame, ſhe ſhall be the leaſt ſet by among the nations, voyde, walled and dryed vp.

Iere.18.b. 19.b.c.49.c. 13 No man ſhal be able to dwel there for the feare of the Lord, but ſhe ſhal be whole deſolate: al they that goe by Babylon, ſhal ſtand ſtyl, and be abaſhed, and ſhall wonder at al hir plagues.

C 14 Goe forth in your aray againſt Babylon rounde about, al ye that can handle bowes, ſhoote at hir, ſpare no arowes: for ſhe hath ſinned againſt the Lord.

15 Crye out againſt hir round about, ſhe ſhal yeeld hir ſelf, hir foundatiõs ſhal fal, and hir walles ſhal com down, for it ſhal be the vengeance of the Lord, yea vengeance ſhal be taken of hir: & as ſhe hath don, ſo deale ye wt hir.

Exod.21.b. Leui.24.d. Ioel.3.b. 16 Roote out the ſower from Babylon, and him that handleth the ſicle in harueſt: for feare of the ſword of the enimie euery man ſhall get him to his owne people, and euery man ſhall flee to his owne land.

17 Iſrael is a ſcattered flocke, the Lions haue diſpearſed them: Firſt the kyng of the Aſſyrians deuoured them, laſt of al this Nabuchodonoſor kyng of Babylon hath bruiſed all their bones.

4.Re.17.c. Elai.10.a. 3.Re.25.d. 18 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will viſite the kyng of Babylon, and his kyngdome, as I haue viſited the kyng of the Aſſyrians,

3.Re.19.g. Elai.14.b. 19 And will bring Iſrael againe to his pleaſant paſture, that he may feede vpon Charmel and Baſan, and be ſatiſfied vppon the mount of Ephraim and Galaad.

20 In thoſe dayes, and at the ſame time, ſayth the Lord, if the offence of Iſrael be ſought for, there ſhall none be found, if men enquire for the ſinne of Iuda, there ſhall be none: for I will be mercifull vnto them whom I ſuffer to remayne.

D 21 Goe downe (O thou auenger) into the enimies land, and viſite them that dwel therin: downe with them, and ſmite them vppon the backes, ſayth the Lord, do according to al that I haue commaunded thee.

22 There is gone about the lande a crye of a ſlaughter and great murder (namely on this manner.)

23 Howe happeneth it that the hammer of the whole world is thus broken and bruyſed in ſunder? How chaunceth it that Babylon is become a wylderneſſe among the Heathen (on this manner.)

24 I my ſelfe haue layde a ſnare for thee, and thou art taken vnawares, thou art trapped and ſnared: for why? thou haſt contended againſt the Lord.

25 The Lorde hath opened his houſe of ordinaunce, & brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for the thing ẏ is done in the lande of the Chaldees, it is the Lord of hoſtes worke.

26 Come againſt hir, for this is hir end, breake vp hir chefles, threſhe hir as ye threſhe corne, deſtroy hir, that nothing ſhal be left.

27 Slay all theyr mightie ſouldiers, and put them to death: Wo be vnto them, for the day and time of their viſitation is at hand.

28 (Me thinke) I heare (alredy) a crye of the E that be fled and eſcaped out of the lande of Babylon, which ſhew in Sion ẏ vengeance of the Lorde our God, the vengeance of his temple, (yea a voyce of the that crye againſt Babylon.)

Iere.50.b. Apo.18.c.

29 Cal vp all the archers againſt Babylon, pitch your tentes rounde about hir, ẏ none eſcape, recõpence hir as ſhe hath deſerued, and according as ſhe hath done, ſo deale with hir againe: for ſhe hath ſet vp hir ſelfe againſt the Lord, againſt the holy one of Iſrael.

Iere.50.b. Apo.18.b. 2.Theſ.1.b.

30 Therefore ſhall hir yong men fal downe in the ſtreetes, and al hir men of warre ſhall be rooted out in that day, ſaith the Lord.

Iere.49.c. 31 Behold I ſpeake vnto thee, O thou proud, ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes, for thy day ſhal come, euen the time of thy viſitation.

32 And the proude ſhall ſtumble and fal, and no man ſhall helpe him vp, I wil burne vp his cities wt fire, & it ſhall conſume al that is round

rounde about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The children of Israel and Iuda suffer violence together, all they that haue them in captiuitie keepe them fast, and will not let them goe.

34 But their reuenger and redeemer is mightie, whose name is the Lorde of hostes, he shall maynteyne their cause, he shall make the lande shake, and iudge them that dwell therein, (one with another.)

F 35 The sworde shal come vpon the Chaldees, sayth the Lorde, vpon them that dwell in Babylon, vpon their princes, and vpon their wise men.

36 The sworde vpon their soothsayers, as for those they shall become fooles: the sworde vpon their worthyes, so that they shall stande in feare.

37 The sworde vpon their horsemen and charrets, and vpon all the common people that dwel among them, so that they shall all become lyke women: The sworde vpon their treasure, so that it shal be stollen away.

38 A drought vpon their waters, so that they shall be dryed vp: for the lande worshippeth images, & delighteth wonderfully in idolles.

39 Therefore shall wilde beastes, Lamia, and Cat of mountaynes, and Estriches dwel therein: for there shall neuer man dwell there, neyther shal any man haue his habitation there for euermore.

Gene.19. 40 Lyke as God destroyed Sodome and Gomorre, with ỹ cities that lay there about, sayth the Lorde, So shal no man dwel there also, neyther shall any man haue there hys habitation.

Iam.50.b. Ion.2.c. 41 Beholde, there shall come a people from the North with a great bond of men, and many kings shal stande vp from the ends of the earth.

G 42 They beare bowes and bucklers, cruel are they and vnmerciful: their voyce roreth lyke the raging sea, they ryde vpon horses, & come weaponed to fight against thee, O Babylon.

43 Assone as the kyng of Babylon heare tel of them, his handes shall waxe feeble, sorow and heauinesse shall come vpon him as a woman trauayling with childe.

Ier.49.c. 44 Beholde, lyke as the Lion commeth vp from the swelling of Iordane vnto the dennes of Ethan, so wil I driue them forth, and make them runne against hir: But whom shall I chose out and ordeyne to suche a thing? for who is like me? or who wil striue with me: or what shepheard may stande against me?

45 Therefore heare the counsayle that the Lord hath giuen vpon Babylon, & the deuice that he hath taken vpon the land of the Chaldees, The least among the people shal draw them out, and loke what pleasant houses, they haue, they that lay them west.

46 The noyse at the wynning of Babylon shall moue the earth, and the crye shall bee heard among the Gentiles.

The.li. Chapter.

1. How Babylon shoulde be ouerthrowen. 59. Ieremie giueth his booke to Saraias.

1 THus hath the Lord sayde, Beholde, I wil raise vp a perylous winde against Babylon, and hir citizens that deare euyll wil against me. I. Ier.25.b. and.50.a.

2 I will send also into Babylon fanners to fanne hir out, and to destroy hir lande: for in the day of hir trouble they shall be about hir on euery side.

3 Moreouer (the Lorde wyll say) vnto the bowmen, and to them that aduaunce themselues in their armour: Ye shall not spare hir young men, kyl downe all hir host.

4 Thus the slayne shal fal downe in the land of the Chaldees, and the wounded in the streetes.

5 As for Israel and Iuda they shall not bee forsaken of their God, of the Lord of hostes, yea (a) for the holy one of Israels lake haue the Chaldees filled their lande ful of sinne. Ier.50.b.

a. For the holy one of Israels sake, that is, for the greeuous afflictios and great iniurie done to gods people which he reputeth as done vnto himself.

6 Flee away from Babylon, euery man saue his life, that ye be not rooted out in hir wickednesse: for the time of the Lords vengeance is come, yea he shall reward hir againe.

7 Babylon hath bin in the Lordes hande a golden cup, that maketh all landes drunken: of hir wine haue all people drunken, therfore are they out of their wittes. Esai.48.b. Ier.25.c. Esai.21.b. Apo.18.a.

8 But sodainely is Babylon fallen and destroyed: mourne for hir, bring plaisters for hir woundes, if shee may peraduenture bee healed agayne.

9 We would haue made Babylon whole, say they, but shee is not recouered, therefore wil we let hir alone, and goe euery man into his owne countrey: for hir iudgement is come into heauen, & is gone vp to the clouds.

b. How so euer the Iewes had deserued to be plagued at Gods hand, yet had the Chaldees no cause on their partes why to deale so cruelly with them: and so God desireth the iust ordre in reuenge to the Chaldees, by punishing them, and deliuering his people.

10 The Lorde hath brought forth our (b) righteousnesse: & therefore come on, we wil shewe in Sion ỹ worke of ỹ Lord our God.

11 Make sharpe your arrowes, and multiply your shieldes: for the Lord shall raise vp the spirite of the king of the Medes, which hath already a desire to destroy Babylon: this shal be the vengeance of the Lorde, and the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set vp tokens vpon the walles of Babylon, make your watche strong, set your watchmen in aray, yea holde pruie watches, and yet for all that shall the Lord goe forth with his deuice whiche he hath taken vpon them that dwel in Babylon.

13 O thou that dwellest by the great waters, O thou that hast so great treasure and riches, thyne ende is come, and the reckening of thy winnings.

C 14 The Lord of hostes hath sworne by hym self, ỹ he will ouerwhelme thee wt men lyke grashoppers in number, which wt a courage shall crye alarum, alarum, agaynst thee:

Amo.6.c. Iere.22.a.

Iere.35.b. 15 Yea euen the Lord of hostes that with his power made the earth, with his wysedome prepared the rounde worlde, and with discretion spread out the heauens:

16 Assone as he letteth his voice be heard, the waters in the ayre ware fierce: he draweth vp the cloudes from the endes of the earth, he turneth the lightnynges to raine, he bringeth the windes out of their secret places.

17 (If they be esteemed by their wisedome, al men are become fooles: confounded be al the casters of images, for the thing that they make, is but deceit, and hath no breath.

Esai.44.c. Baruc.6.a.

18 Vayne is it, and an erronious worke, and in the time of visitation it shall perishe.

19 The portion of Jacob is none suche: but he ỹ made al things, whose name is the Lord of hostes, he is the rod of his inheritaunce.

20 (c) Thou hast bin myne hammer and weapons for warre: for with thee haue I broken the people in peeces, and with thee haue I destroyed kingdomes.

c. Thou hast bin, this God speaketh vnto Babylon.

D 21 Through thee I haue beaten to powder horse and horsemē, yea the charrets, and such as sate vpon them.

22 Through thee haue I broken man & woman, olde and yonng, bacheler and mayden.

23 Through thee I haue destroyed the shepherde and his flocke, the husbandman and his cattel, the princes and the rulers.

24 Therefore will I rewarde the citie of Babylon, and all the inhabitauntes of Chaldea, with all the euil which they haue done vnto Sion, yea that ye your selues shal see it, saith the Lorde.

25 Beholde, I come vpon thee thou noysome (d) hill, saith the Lorde, thou that destroyest all landes, I will stretche out my hand ouer thee, and cast thee downe from the stonye rockes, and will make thee a burnt hil,

d. Babylon is called an hil, although it stood in a lowe place, & no hilles about it: for that hir walles and buildings were so great and high as mountaynes.

26 So that neyther corner stones shall be taken any more out of thee: but wast & desolat shalt thou lye for euermore, saith the Lorde.

27 Set vp a token in the lande, blowe the trumpettes among the Heathen, prouoke the nations against hir, call the kingdomes of Ararat, Menni, and Ascanez, against hir, set the prince agaynst hir, bring as great a sorte of terrible horses agaynst hir, as if they were grashoppers.

28 Prepare against them the people of the E Medes, with their kings, princes, and al their chiefe rulers: yea the whole land that is vnder him.

Ier.1.a. Esai.46. Dan.14.

29 The lande also shall shake, and be afrayde when the deuice of the Lorde shall come forth against Babylon, to make the lande of Babylon so waste, that no man shall dwell any more therein.

Esa.52.b. Ier.6.c

30 The worthies of Babylon shall leaue the battayle, and keepe them selues in strong holds, their strength hath fayled them, they shal be like womē, their dwelling places shal be burnt vp, their barres shal be broken.

31 One pursuant shal mete another, yea one post shal come by another, to bring the king of Babylon tidynges that his citie is taken on euery side, 32 The fordes occupyed, the fennes burnt vp, and the souldiers sore afrayde.

33 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, (e) The daughter of Babylon hath bin in hir time lyke as a threshing floure, but shortly shall hir haruest come.

e. The complaint of the people.

Ier.50.c

34 Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babylon hath deuoured and destroyed me, hee hath made me an emptie vessell, he swalowed me vp like a Dragon, and filled his belly wyth my delicates, he hath cast me out.

35 My substaunce whereof he hath spoiled me, and the thing that was left mee, whiche hee hath caryed away, crye out against Babylon saith the daughter that dwelleth in Sion, yea and my bloud also against the Chaldees, sayth Jerusalem.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I wil defende thy cause, and auenge thee, I wil drinke vp hir sea, and drye vp hir water springs.

Ier.49.d

37 Babylon shall become an heape of stones, Esai.14. a dwelling place for Dragons, a fearefulnes and wondering, & no man shal dwel there.

38 They shal roare together like Lions, and as the yong Lions when they be angry, so shall they bende them selues.

39 In their heate I will giue them a dinner, Ier.51. and they shal be drunken for ioy: then shall they sleepe an euerlastyng sleepe, and neuer wake, sayth the Lord.

40 I shall cary them downe to be slaine lyke sheepe, like weathers and goates:

41 O howe was Sesach wonne? O howe was the glory of the whole lande taken? howe happeneth it that Babylon is so wondred at among the heathen?

42 The

42 The sea is risen ouer Babylon, and hath couered hir with hir great waues.
43 Hir cities are layde wast, the lande lyeth vnbuilded and voyde, it is a lande where no man dwelleth, and where no mā trauayleth through.
Ier.1.a. 44 Moreouer, I will visite Bel at Babylō,

Dan.14.d. shall I plucke out of his mouth: the Gentiles also shall runne no more vnto him, yea and the walles of Babylon shal fal.
Esa.52.b. 45 O my people, come out of Babylon, that Apoc.6.c. euery man may saue his lyfe from the feareful wrath of the Lord.
46 Be not fainte harted, and feare not at e-uery rumour that shal be heard in the land:
for euery yeere bringeth newe tydings, and in the yeere folowyng newe tydyngs, & robbiug in the lande, and Lord vpon Lord.
47 And loe the tyme commeth that I will visite the images of Babylon, and the whole land shal be confounded, yea and hir slayne shall lye in the middest of hir.
48 Heauen and earth, with all that is therin, shall reioyce ouer Babylon, when the destroyers shall come vppon hir from the north, sayth the Lord.
Ier.50.c. 49 Lyke as Babylon hath beaten downe, & slaine many out of Israel, so shall there fall many & be slaine in all hir kingdome.
50 Ye that haue escaped the sword, hast you, stande not styll, remember the Lorde a farre off, and thinke vpon Jerusalem.
51 For we are ashamed to heare the blasphemies, our faces wer couered with shame, by-cause the strange aliantes came into the sanctuarie of the Lord.
52 Wherefore beholde, sayth the Lord, The tyme commeth that I wil visite the images of Babylon, and through the whole lande they shall mourne and fall.
Ier.49.d. 53 Though Babylon climed vp into heauen, & kepte hir power on hygh, yet shall I send hir destroyers, saith the Lord.
54 A piteous crye (shal be heard) from Babylon, and a great miserie from the lande of the Chaldees:
55 When the Lord destroyeth Babylon, and when he driueth out the high stomacke and proud boasting, wherewith they haue bin as furious as the waues of the great water floods, & made great crakes vō their wordes.
56 For the destroyers shall come vpon hir, euen vpon Babylon, whiche shall take theyr worthies, & breake their bowes: for the God of recompence, euen the Lorde shall sufficiently recompence them.
57 Yea (saith the Lord) I will make their princes, their wise men, their chiefe rulers, their nobles, and their worthies drunken, so that they shall sleepe an euerlasting sleepe, and neuer wake: thus saith the kyng, whose name is the Lord of hostes.
58 Moreouer, thus saith the Lorde of hostes,
The thicke wall of Babylon shal be broken, and hir high gates shall bee burnt vp, and the thing that the Gentiles and the people hath wrought vō great trauaile and labour, shal come to nought, & be consumed in ỹ fire.
59 This is the charge that Jeremie the pro-phete gaue vnto Saraiah the son of Neria, the son of Maasiah, when he went towarde Babilon with Zedekiah the king of Juda, in the fourth yeere of his raigne: now this Saraiah was a peaceable prince.
60 Jeremie wrote in a booke all the miserye ỹ should come vpon Babylon, yea & al these sermons that be written against Babylon.
61 And gaue Saraiah this charge: When thou commest vnto Babylon, see that thou reade these wordes,
62 And say, O Lord, thou art determined to rote out this place, so that neither people nor cattel shall dwel there any more, but to lye wast for euer.
63 And when thou hast read out the booke, bynde a stone to it, and cast it in the middest of Euphrates,
64 And say, Euen thus shall Babylon sincke, and be thrust downe with the burden of trouble that I wil bring vpon hir: so that she shal neuer come vp againe. Thus far are the preachings of Jeremie.

The lij. Chapter.

1 He repeteth the taking of Zedekiah. 4. Ierusalem is take of the Chaldees. 10. Zedekias sons are kylled before his face, and his eyes put out. 13. The citie is burned. 14. The temple is spoyled and robbed. 25. They that were leste in Ierusalem are caryed to Babylon. 31. Kyng Iehoakim is brought foorth of prison, and fed like a king.

1 ZEdekiah was one and twentie yeeres olde when he was made king, and raig-ned eleuen yeeres in Jerusalem: his mothers name was Hamutal, Jeremies daughter of Libna.
4.Re.24.d. 2.Par.36.b.
2 He liued wickedly before the Lord, euen as Iehoakim dyd:
3 For the Lord was angry at Jerusalem and Juda, so long til he had cast them out of hys presence: and Zedekiah fel from the king of Babylon.
4 But in the ninth yeere of his raigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the kyng Jere.39.a. 4.Re.25.a.

of Babylon, with al his hoſt came before Ieruſalem, and beſieged it and made bulwarkes rounde about it.

5 And this beſieging of the citie, endured vnto the eleuenth yere of king Zedekiah.

4.Reg.25.a. Ier.27.b. and.39.a.

6 And in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, there was a great hunger in the citie, that there were no more victuals for the people of the lande.

B 7 So all the ſouldiers brake away, and fled out of the citie by night, through the way of the porte betweene the two walles by the kings garden: (nowe the Chaldees had cõpaſſed the citie rounde about) yet went theſe men their way through the wildernesſe.

8 And ſo the Chaldees followed vpon them, & toke Zedekiah the king in the fielde of Iericho, when his hoſt was run from him.

9 So they caryed the king away priſoner to Reblath, vnto the king of Babylon, in the lande of Hemath, where he gaue iudgement Ier.39.b. vpon him.

10 The king of Babylon alſo cauſed Zedekiahs ſonnes to be ſlayne before his face, yea and put all the princes of Juda to death at Reblath.

11 Moreouer, he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and cauſed him to be bound with two chaynes, to be caryed vnto Babylon, and let him lye in priſon til he dyed.

12 Now the tenth day of the fifth moneth, in the nineteenth yere of Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, and the king of Babylons ſeruauntes came vnto Ieruſalem, 13 And burnt vp the houſe of the Lorde: hee burnt vp alſo the kings palace, all the houſes, and al the gorgeous buildings in Ieruſalem.

C 14 And the whole hoſt of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captayne, brake downe all the walles of Ieruſalem round about.

15 As for the poore people, and ſuch folke as was yet left in the citie, which alſo were fallen to the king of Babylon, yea & what people as yet remayned, Nabuzaradan ỳ chiefe captaine caryed them away priſoners.

16 But the poore people of the countrey dyd Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne leaue in ỳ lande, to occupie the vineyardes and fields.

17 The Chaldees alſo brake the braſen pyllers that were in the houſe of the Lorde, yea the ſeate and the braſen lauer that was in the houſe of the Lorde, and caryed al the mettal of them vnto Babylon.

18 They toke away alſo the chaldernes, ſhouels, fleſh hookes, ſprincklers, ſpones, and all the braſen veſſels that was occupyed in the ſeruice.

19 With the baſons, colepannes, ſprinklers, pottes, candelſtyckes, ſpones, and cuppes, whereof ſome were of gold, & ſome of ſiluer:

20 The chiefe captayne toke alſo the two pyllers, the lauer, the twelue braſen bullockes that ſtoode vnder the ſeate which king Solomon made in the houſe of the Lorde: and all the veſſels conteined ſo much mettal, that it might not be weighed. 3.Reg.7

21 For euery pyller was eighteene cubits high, and the rope that went about it was twelue cubites, and foure fyngers thicke, and rounde. D

22 Nowe vppon the rope were braſen knops, and euery knoppe was fiue cubites high, and vpon the knoppes were hoopes, and pomegranates rounde about of cleane braſſe.

23 After this manner were both the pillers faſhioned with the pomegranates, whereof there were an hundred ninetie and fiue, which hanged vpon the hoopes rounde about.

24 The chiefe captaine alſo toke Saraiah ỳ high prieſt, and Sophoniah that was chiefe next him, & the three keepers of the doore: Reg.4.

25 He toke out of the citie a chamberlayne whiche was captaine of the ſouldiers, and ſeuen men that were the kings ſeruauntes, which were founde in the citie: and Sopher a captayne that vſed to muſter the men of warre, with threeſcore men of the countrey that were taken in the citie: Reg.15 Ier.6.b.

26 Theſe Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine toke, and caried them to the king of Babylon vnto Reblath:

27 And the king of Babylon cauſed them to bee put to death at Reblath, in the lande of Hemath: and thus Juda was led away captiue out of his owne lande.

E 28 This is the ſumme of the people whom Nabuchodonoſor ledde away captiue: in the ſeuenth yeere of his raigne he caryed away of the Iewes three thouſand twentie & three, Ier.52.

29 In the eightenth yeere Nabuchodonoſor caryed away from Ieruſalem eight hundred thirtie and two perſons:

30 In the three and twentie yeere of Nabuchodonoſor, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captain toke away ſeuen hundred fourtie & fiue Iewes priſoners. The whole ſum of the priſoners, is foure thouſand, and fiue hundred.

31 In the ſeuen and thirtieth yeere after that Iehoakim the king of Juda was caryed away, in the fiue & twentith day of the twelfth moneth, Euilmerodach kyng of Babylon (the ſame yere that he raigned) gaue Iehoakim the king of Juda his pardon, and let him out of priſon,

32 And ſpake louingly to him, and ſet his throne aboue the thrones of the other kyngs that that were with hym in Babylon.

33 He chaunged also the clothes of his prison, yea and did eate with hym all his life long.

34 And he had a continual liuing giuen him of the king of Babylon, euery day a certaine thing allowed him, all the dayes of his lyfe, vntill he dyed.

The ende of the booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The Lamentations of the prophete Ieremie.

¶ The first Chapter.

It happened after Israel was brought into captiuitie, and Hierusalem destroyed, that Ieremie the Prophete sate weeping, and sorowfully bewayled Hierusalem, and sighing and howling with an heauie and wofull hart, sayde, א 1 ALas) howe sytteth the Citie so desolate, that sometyme was full of people? Howe is she become lyke a widowe whiche was greate among nations? How is she brought vnder tribute that ruled landes?

.Reg.4.d. .Reg.15.a

2 She weepeth sore in the night, so that the teares runne downe hir cheekes: for among all hir louers, there is none that giueth hir any comfort, yea hir next friends transgresse against hir, and are become hir enimies.

Iud.6.b.

3 Iuda went away by reason of the affliction and great bondage: she dwelleth among the heathen, she fyndeth no rest, all they that persecuted hir, toke hir in straighte places (where she could not escape.)

4 The streetes of Sion mourne, bycause no mã commeth no more to the solemne feasts: all hir gates are desolate, hir priestes make lamentation, hir maidens are carefull, and she hir selfe is in great heauinesse.

5 Hir enimies haue bin rulers ouer hir, and hir enimies haue prospered, bycause the Lord hath chastened hir for hir great wickednesse: hir chyldren are ledde away captiue before their enimies.

Iere.52.c.

6 All the beautie of the daughter of Sion is away, hir princes are become lyke Hartes that fynde no pasture, they are driuen away before their enimie, so that they haue no more power.

ב 7 Nowe Hierusalem remembred in the time of hir miserie and bare estate, all hir ioy and pleasure that she hath had in times past, seeing hir people is brought downe vnder the power of their enimies, and there is no man for to help hir: hir enimies stande looking at hir, and laugh hir sabboth dayes to scorne.

8 Hierusalem hath sinned greeuously, therefore is she come in decay: all they that had hir in honour, despise hir, for they haue seene hir filthynesse, yea she sighcth and is ashamed of hir selfe.

"or, and is turned backeward.

9 Hir skirtes are defiled, she remembred not hir last ende, therefore is hir fall so wonderfull, and there is no man to comfort hir: O Lord, consyder my trouble, for mine enimie hath the vpper hande.

10 The enimie hath put his hande to all the precious things that she had, yea euen before hir eyes came the heathen in and out of the Sanctuarie, whome thou (neuertheless) Deut.23.c. hast forbidden to come within thy congregation.

11 All hir people seeke their bread with heauinesse, and loke what precious thing euery man hath, that giueth he for meate to saue his life: Consyder, O Lord, and see how vile I am become. 4.Reg.6.e. Treno.2.c.

12 Haue ye no regarde all ye that goe forby, beholde and see if there be any sorowe lyke vnto mine, wherewith the Lorde hath troubled me in the day of his fearefull wrath.

13 From aboue hath he sent downe a fyre into my bones, and it burneth them cruelly: he hathe layde a net for my feete, and throwen me wyde open, he hath made me desolate, so that I must euer be mourning.

14 The (a) yoke of my transgressions is bounde fast to his hande, they are wrapped (or writhen) and come vp about my necke: hee hathe caused my strength to fayle, the Lorde hathe deliuered me into those handes whereout I can not quit my selfe.

a. The bõdage through sinne is moste greeuous, whiche, therfore is called the yoke of sinnes, fastened in or to Gods hand, bicause by no meanes it can be shakẽ off, or remitted, but onely of Gods speciall grace and mercie.

15 The Lorde hath destroyed all the myghtie men that were in me, he hath proclaymed an appoynted tyme to slaughter all my best menne: the Lord hath troden downe the daughter of Iuda, like as it were in a wine presse.

Jere.4.c. Treno.2.c. 16 Therfore do I weepe, and mine eyes guſh out of water: for the comforte that ſhoulde quicken me, is farre from me, my children are driuen away: for why? the enimie hath gotten the vpper hande.

17 Sion ſtretcheth out hir hands, and there is no man to comfort hir, the Lorde hath layd the enimies rounde about Jacob, and Hieruſalem is become abhomination in the myddeſt of them.

Dani.9.a. 18 The Lorde is righteous, for I haue prouoked his countenaunce vnto anger, O take heede all ye people, and conſider my heauineſſe, my maydens and my yong men are led away into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they beguyled me, for my prieſtes and counſaylers, but they periſhed, euen whyle they ſought for meate to ſaue their liues.

Treno.2.c. 20 Conſider (O Lord) how I am troubled, my wombe is diſquieted, my heart turneth about me, and I am full of heauineſſe, bycauſe I rebelled ſtubburnly: the ſworde hurteth me without, and within I am lyke vnto death.

D 21 They heare my mourning, but there is none that will comforte me: all myne enimies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad thereof, bycauſe thou haſt done it: and thou haſt brought forth the time which thou calledſt, when they alſo ſhall be like vnto me.

22 Let al their wickednes come before thee, and do thou to them as thou haſt done vnto me for all my treſpaſſes: for my ſorow is very great, and my hart is heauie.

The.ij. Chapter.

A Treu.3.b. 1 ALas) how hathe the Lorde darkened the daughter of Sion in his wrath? Is for the honour of Iſraell, he hathe caſt it downe from heauen vnto the earthe, and he remembred not his owne (a) footeſtoole when he was angry?

a. By the footeſtoole is ment the temple of Hieruſalem.

2 The Lorde hath caſt out all the habitations of Jacob without any fauour, all the ſtrong places of the daughter of Juda hathe he broken in his wrathe, and throwen them downe to the ground, hir kingdome and hir princes hath he prophaned.

b. The horne, that is the power or ſtregth

3 In the wrath of his indignation he hathe broken all the (b) horne of Iſraell, he hathe withdrawe his right hand from the enimie, yea a flambe of fyre is kyndled in Jacob, and hath conſumed vp all round about.

4 He hathe bent his bowe like an enimie, he hath faſtened his right hande as an aduerſarie, and euery thing that was pleſaunte to ſee, he hathe ſlayne: he hath powred out hys wrath lyke a fyre, into the tabernacle of the daughter of Sion.

5 The Lord is become like as it were an enimie, he hathe deuoured Iſrael, and all hys palaces, yea all his ſtrong holdes hath he deſtroyed, and fylled the daughter of Juda with much ſorowe and heauineſſe.

6 His tabernacle as a garden hath he deſtroyed, his ſolemne meetings hath he put downe: the Lord hath brought it ſo to paſſe, that the hygh ſolemne feaſtes and ſabbothes in Sion are cleane forgotten: in hys heauie diſpleaſure hathe he deſpiſed the king and prieſtes. Jere.7.b

7 The Lorde hath forſaken his owne aulter, and hath abhorred his owne ſanctuarie, and hathe giuen the walles of their towres into the handes of the enimie: their enimies made a noyſe in the houſe of the Lorde, as it had bin in a ſolemne feaſt day. B Dani.4.c.

8 The Lorde thought to breake downe the walles of the daughter of Sion, he ſtreatched out his line, and drew not in his hande tyll he had deſtroyed them: therefore mourne the turrettes, and the broken walles fall downe together.

9 Hir gates are ſunke downe to the grounde, hir barres are broken and ſmitten in ſunder, the king and princes are caried away to the Gentiles: they haue neyther lawe nor prophetes, nor yet any viſion from the Lorde. Jere.9.b

10 The ſenatours of the daughter Sion ſit vpon the grounde in ſilence, they haue ſtrawed aſſhes vppon theyr heads, and gyrded them ſelues with ſackcloth: the maydens of Hieruſalem hang downe their heads to the grounde.

11 Myne eyes begin to fayle me through weeping, my body is diſquieted, my liuer is powred vppon the earthe, for the great hurt of the daughter of my people, ſeeing the children and babes dyd ſowne in the ſtreetes of the citie. Treno.2.

12 Euen when they ſpake to their mothers, Where is meate and drinke? for whyle they ſo ſayde, they fell downe in the ſtreetes of the citie, like as they had bin wounded: and ſome dyed in their mothers boſome.

13 What ſhal I ſay vnto thee, O thou daughter Hieruſalem? to whome ſhall I lyken thee? to whome ſhall I compare thee, O thou daughter Sion, to comfort thee withall? thy hart is like a mayne ſea, who maye heale thee? Jere.5.b.14 b.24.c.27.b and.29.b.

14 Thy (a) prophetes haue loked out vayne and fooliſh things for thee, they haue not ſhewed

a. The falſe prophets vſed vpon them the name of ſeers, which was proper to the true prophetes: but theyr vayne burdens, that is, theyr falſe propheſies brought the people vnder the grieuous burden of affliction and baniſhment.

wed thee of thy wickednesse, to keepe thee from captiuitie: but they haue seene out for thee burdens of banitie and banishmente.

15 All they that goe by thee, clap their handes at thee, hissing and wagging their heads vpon the daughter Hierusalem, (and say) Is this the citie that men call so fayre, wherein the whole land reioyceth?

16 All thine enimies gape vpon thee, whispering and grinding their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure, for the time that we loked for is come, we haue found and seene it.

17 The Lorde hath fulfilled the thing that he was purposed to doe, and performed that he had decreed long ago: he hathe destroyed and not spared, he hath caused thyne aduersarie to triumph ouer thee, & set vp the horne of thyne enimie.

18 Their heart cryed vnto the Lord, O thou citie of the daughter Syon: let thy teares runne downe lyke a ryuer daye and nyght, reste not, and let not the apple of thyne eye leaue off.

19 Stande vp, and make thy prayer in the fyrst watche of the nyght, poure oute thyne heart lyke water before the Lorde: lifte vp thyne handes for the lyues of thy young children that die of hunger in the streetes.

D 20 Beholde, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done this: shall the women then eate their owne fruite, euen children of a span long? shall the Priests and prophets be slayne in the sanctuarie of the Lord?

21 Young and olde lye through the streetes vpon the grounde, my maydens and young men are slayne with the sworde, whom thou in the day of thy wrathfull indignation hast put to death, yea euen thou hast put them to death, and not spared them.

22 My neighbours that are round about me, hast thou called as it were to a feast day, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped, neyther was any left behinde: those that I haue brought vp and nourished, hath mine enimie destroyed.

The iij. Chapter.

A 1 I Am the man that through the rod of his wrath haue experience of miserie.

2 He droue me forthe and ledde me, yea into darknesse, but not into light.

3 Against me is he turned, he turneth his hād dayly against me.

4 My flesh and my skinne hathe hee made olde, and my bones hath he bruised.

5 He hathe builded rounde about mee, and closed me in with gal and trauayle.

6 He hath set me in darknesse, as they that be dead for euer.

7 He hathe so hedged me in, that I can not B get out, and hathe layde heauie linkes vpon me.

8 Though I crie and call piteously, yet heareth he not my prayer.

9 He hathe stopped vp my wayes with foure squared stones, and made my paths crooked.

10 He layeth wayte for me like a beare, and as a Lion in a hole.

11 He hath marred my wayes, and broke me in peeces, he hathe layd me waste altogether.

12 He hathe bent his bowe, and made me as it were a marke to shote at.

13 The arrowes of his quiuer hath he shot, euen vnto my reynes.

14 I am laughed to scorne of all my people, Iere. 20. b.
they make songs vpon me all the day long. C

15 He hath filled me with bitternesse, and giuen me wormewood to drinke.

16 He hath smitten my teeth in peeces with stones, and rolled me in the dust.

17 He hath put my soule out of rest, I forget all good things.

18 I thought in my selfe, I am vndone, there is no hope for me in the Lorde.

19 O remember yet my miserie, my trouble, the wormewood, and the gall.

20 Yea thou shalte remember them, for my soule melteth away in me.

21 Whyle I consyder these things in my D hart, I get a hope agayne.

22 (Namely) it is of the Lordes mercies that we are not vtterly consumed, for truely hys pitifull compassion hath not ceassed.

23 New mercies shall the Lorde shewe vpon thee early in the day springing (O Lorde) great is thy faythfulnesse.

24 The Lord is my portion, sayth my soule, Psal. 16. a.
therefore will I hope in him.

25 O how good is the Lorde vnto them that put their trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh after him.

26 The good man with stilnesse and patience, tarieth for the health of the Lorde.

27 O howe good is it for a man to take the yoke vpon him from his youth vp?

28 He sitteth alone, he holdeth hym stil, because he hath taken (the Lordes yoke) vppon him.

29 He layeth his face vpon the earth, if there happen to be any hope.

30 He offereth his cheeke to the smiter, he will E

43 Thou hast couered vs in thy wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slayne vs without any fauour.
Eccle.35.d. 44 Thou hast hidde thy selfe in a cloude, that our prayer should not goe through.

50 O Lorde, when wilte thou loke downe from heauen, and consyder?
51 Myne eyes breaketh mine hart, bycause of all the daughters of my citie.
G 52 Mine enimies hunted me out sharply like a birde, yea and that without a cause.
53 They haue put downe my life into a pit, and they haue cast stones vpon me.
54 They haue powred water vpon my head: then thought I, now am I vndone.
55 I called vpon thy name, O Lorde, out of the deepe pit.
56 Thou hast heard my voyce, and hast not turned away thine eyes from my sygbing and crying.
57 Thou hast enclined thy selfe vnto mee when I called vppon thee, and hast sayde, Feare not.
58 Thou (O Lorde) hast mayntayned the cause of my soule, and hast redeemed my lyfe.
59 O Lord, thou hast seene my wrong, take thou my cause vpon thee.
60 Thou hast well considered how they goe about to doe me harme, and that all theyr counsels are against me.
61 Thou hast heard their deuilfull myndes, O Lorde, yea and all the imaginations against me:
62 The lyppes of myne enimies, and theyr deuises that they take against me all the day long.
63 Thou seest also their sitting downe, and theyr rising vp, they make their songs of nothing but of me.
64 Reward them, O Lord, according to the workes of their handes.
65 Giue them an obstinate heart, euen thy curse.
66 Persecute them, O Lorde, with thine indignation, and roote them out from vnder the heauen.

The.iiij.Chapter.

1 HOwe is the golde become so dimme? I how is the moste fyne golde so sore chaunged? and the stones of the sanctuary thus scattered in the corner of euery streete?
2 The children of Sion that were alway in honour, and clothed with the most precious golde: howe are they nowe become like the earthen vessels, which be made with the potters hande?
3 The dragons giue their yong ones sucke with bare breastes: but the daughter of my people is cruell, like the Estriches in the wildernesse.
4 The tongues of the sucking childre cleaue to the rofe of their mouthes for very thyrst: the yong children aske bread, but there is no man that giueth it them.
5 They that were wont to fare delicately, perishe in the streetes: they that afore were brought vp in purple, make nowe muche of doung.
6 The sinne of the daughter of my people is become greater than the (a) wickednesse of Sodome, that suddainely was destroyed, and not taken with handes.
7 Hir "abstayners were whyter than the snowe or milke, their colour was fresh, red as Coral, their beautie like the Saphire.
8 But nowe their faces be very blacke, in so much that thou shouldest not know them in the streetes: their skinne cleaueth to theyr bones, it is withered and become like a drye stocke.
9 They that be slayne with the swoorde, are happier than such as dye of hunger, and perish away, famishing for the fruites of the fielde.
10 The women (which of nature are pitifull) haue sodden their owne children with theyr hands, a. The grieuousnesse of the punishment sheweth that sinnes to exceede the sinne of the Sodomits. The Sodomites were sodainly consumed with fyre, but the Iewes were miserably consumed with hunger, pestilence and the sworde in a long and cruell siege.

handes, that they might bee their meate in the miserable destruction of the daughter of my people.

Lam.2.a. 11 The Lorde hathe perfourmed his heauie wrath, he hathe powred out the furiousnesse of his displeasure: he hathe kindled a fyre in Syon, which hath consumed the foundations thereof.

12 Neyther the kynges of the earth, nor all the inhabitours of the worlde, woulde haue beleued, that the enimie and aduersarie should haue come in at the gates of ỹ citie of Hierusalem:

13 Which neuertheleſſe is come to passe, for the sinne of hir prophetes, and for the wickednesse of hir priestes, that haue shed innocentes bloud within hir.

Lam.4.a. ℭ 14 As blind men went they, stumbling in the streetes, and stained them selues with bloud, insomuch that the heathen would in no wise touch their garments.

15 But they cried vnto them, Flee ye polluted, away, get you hence, touch not: for they are vncleane, and be remoued, yea they haue sayde among the heathen, They shall no more dwell in this citie.

16 The countenance of the Lord hath banished them, and shall neuer loke more vppon them: for they them selues neyther regarded the priestes, nor pitied their elders.

17 Wherefore yet our eyes fayled vs, whyles we loked for our vayne helpe, seeing we euer wayted vpon a people that coulde do vs no good.

18 They lay so sharpe wayte for vs, that we can not goe safe vppon the streetes, for oure ende is come, our dayes are fulfilled, our ende is here.

19 Our persecuters are swifter than the Eagles of the ayre: they followed vpon vs ouer the mountaynes, and layde wayte for vs in the wildernesse.

Gen.2.b. 20 The very breath (a) of our mouth, euen the annoynted of the Lord him selfe was taken in their net, of whome we saye, Vnder hys shadowe we shall be preserued among the heathen.

21 And thou, O daughter Edom, that dwellest in the lande of Huz, be glad and reioyce, for the cup shall come vnto thee also, thou shalte be dronken, and discouer thy nakednesse.

22 Thy sinnes are well punished, O thou daughter Sion, he shall not suffer thee to be caried away: but thy wickednesse, O daughter Edom shall he visite, and wyll discouer thy sinnes.

(a) The breath, that is, the life, meaning the king, who is called the lyfe of the people, for that the people are like an headlesse body that hath no life in it, where they be left without a king or gouernour.

The.v. Chapter.

The Prayer of Ieremie.

1 CAll to remembraunce, (O Lorde) that we haue suffered, consider and see our confusion. A

2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, and our houses to the aliantes.

3 We are become carefull and fatherlesse, and our mothers are as the widdowes.

4 We are fayne to drinke oure owne water for money, and our owne wood muste we buye for money.

5 Our neckes are vnder persecution, we are weerie, and haue no rest.

6 (Aforetime) we yeelded our selues to the Egyptians, (and now) to the Assyrians, only that we might haue bread ynough.

7 Our fathers (whiche now are gone) haue synned, and we muste beare theyr wickednesse. B Ierem.31.f. Eze.18.a.

8 Seruauntes haue the rule of vs, and no man deliuereth vs out of their handes.

9 We muste get our liuing with the perill of our liues, because of the drouth of the wildernesse.

10 Our skinne is as it had bin made blacke in an ouen, for very sore hunger.

11 The wiues are rauished in Sion, and the maydens in the cities of Juda.

12 The princes are hanged vp with the hande of the enimies, they haue not spared the olde lage men.

13 They haue taken yong men to grinde, and the boyes fayntyd vnder the burdes of wood.

14 The elders syt no more vnder the gates, and the yong men vse no more playing of musicke. ℭ

15 The ioy of our hart is gone, our melodious meeting is turned into mourning.

16 The garlande of our head is fallen: alas that euer we sinned so sore.

17 Therefore our hart is full of heauinesse, and our eyes dimme. Ierem.31.f.

18 Because of the hyll of Sion that is destroyed: insomuche that the foxes runne vpon it.

19 But thou, O Lorde, that remaynest for euer and thy seate woꝛld without ende:

20 Wherefore wilt thou still forget vs, and forsake vs so long?

21 O Lord, turne thou vs vnto thee, and so shall we bee turned, renue our dayes as in olde times:

22 But thou hast banished vs vtterly, and hast bin displeased at vs.

The booke of the Prophete Ezechiel.

1. The time wherein Ezechiel prophesied, and in what place. 3. His kinrede. 5. The vision of the foure beastes. 16. The fashion and worke of the wheeles. 26. The vision of the Throne.

A 2. After the Iubilee, in which yere, the boke of the lawe was founde, which was the xviii. yeere of Iosias, so that xv. yeeres after this boke was found, Iechoniah was ledde awaye captiue with Ezechiell (and many of the people) who the fyfth yere after sawe these visions. Ezech. 3. d. and 37. a

1 IT came to passe in the (a) thirtieth yeere in ỹ fourth (moneth) in the fifth daye of the moneth, that (I beeyng in the middes of the captiuitie, by the riuer Chebar) ỹ heauens were opened, and I sawe visions of God:

2 In the fifth (day) of the moneth, which was the fyfth yeere of king Ioakins captiuitie,

3 The worde of the Lord came to Ezechiell the priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the lande of the Chaldeans, by the riuer Chebar, where the (b) hand of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I loked, and behold a (c) stormie wind came out of the north, a great cloude, and a fyre folding it selfe (in the cloude) and a brightnesse round about it, and forth of the middes thereof as the colour of Amber out of the middes of the fyre.

5 And out of the middes thereof, the likenesse of foure (d) beastes (appeared) and this was their fourme, they had the likenesse of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one of them had foure wings.

7 Their feete were straight feete, and the sole of their feete lyke the sole of Calues feete, and they glistered as the appearance of brasse burnished.

8 From vnder their wings vpon all the foure corners they had mens handes: and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were ioyned one to another: when they wente they loked not backe, but each one went straight forwarde.

10 But (touching) the similitude of their faces, they foure had the (e) face of a man, and the face of a Lion on the ryghte syde, and they foure had the face of an Ore on the lefte syde, they foure also had the face of an Egle.

11 Thus were their faces, and their winges were spread out aboue, so that two winges of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two winges couered euery one of their bodies.

12 Euery one wente straighte forwarde: (f) whyther as the spirite led them, thyther they went, and returned not in their going.

13 And the fashion of the beastes, their appearance was lyke coales of fyre, burning lyke the appearance of cressettes, it ranne among the beastes, and the fyre gaue a glister, and out of the fyre there went lightning.

14 And the beastes ranne, and returned lyke lightning.

15 And when I had considered the beastes, beholde a wheele vpon the earth nigh to the beastes, to euery of the foure before his face.

16 The fashion and worke of the wheeles was lyke the colour of (g) Tharsis, and they foure had one fashion, and their fashion and their worke (was) as though it were a wheele in the middle of a wheele.

17 When they wente, they went vpon their foure sides: they returned not backe whē they went.

18 They had (h) ringes, and heigth, and were fearefull to beholde: and their rings were full of eyes round about them foure.

19 When the beastes went, the wheeles went also by them: and when the beasts were lyft vp from the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whyther so euer the spirite (was) to goe, they went, and thyther (was) the spirit to goe, and the wheeles were lift vp before them: for the spirite of the beastes were in the wheeles.

21 When the beastes wente, they went, and when they stode, they stode, and when they were lifted vp from the earthe, the wheeles were lifted vp before them, for the spirite of the beastes was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beasts was lyke the colour of Chrystall, wonderfull, spread ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmamente their winges were stretched forth one towardes another, euery one had two couering them, and (i) euery one had two couering them, (euen) their bodies.

24 And

B

c. By this diuersitie of wordes, he signifieth the fearefull iudgemēts of God, & the greate afflictions that shuld come vpon Ierusalem.

d. Which were the four Cherubims that represented the glorie of god, as Eze. 3. d e. Euery Cherub had foure faces, the face of a man, and of a Lion on the right side, and the face of a bullocke and of an Eagle on the left side.

f. Whyther their will & mind was goe.

C

g. That is Pretious stone of a goodly colour, thought to be the Thurkis.

h. The vse compasse of wheeles, which some call straker.

i. He noteth two manner of couerings, the one with wings, stretched vpward to couer their faces, and the other with the neather wings to couer their bodies.

24 And when they wente, I heard the noyse of their wings, like the noyse of greate waters, as it had bin the voyce of the almightie, the voyce of speache, as the noyse of an hoste: when they stood, they let downe theyr wings.

25 And there was a noyse from aboue ỹ firmament that was ouer their heads: when they stode, they let downe their wings.

26 And aboue the firmament that was ouer their heads, there was the fashion of a throne lyke a Saphire stone, and vppon the similitude of the throne by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber (and) as the similitude of fire round about within, from the appearance of his loynes vpwarde: and from the appearance of hys loynes downeward, I sawe as the likenesse of fyre, and brightnesse round about it.

E 28 As the lykenesse of a bowe that is in a cloude in a raynie day, so was the appearāce of the brightnesse round about: this was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of God, and when I sawe it, I (k) fell vpon my face, and hearkened vnto the voyce of one (l) that spake.

The .ij. Chapter.

The prophete is sent to call the people from their errour.

I 1 And then sayde he vnto me, Stande vp vpon thy feete (O thou sonne of man) and I will talke with thee.

2 And the spirite entred into me, when he had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my feete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israell, to a rebellious people, which haue rebelled against me, both they and their forefathers haue wickedly behaued them selues against me, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are children of a "hard face, and styffe hart, I doe sende thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God.

5 And whether they will heare or refuse (for they are a rebellious house) yet they maye knowe that there hath bin a prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man feare them not, neyther be afrayde of their wordes, for "byers and thornes are with thee, and thou dwelst among Scorpions: feare not theyr wordes, nor be abashed at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

B 7 And thou shalt speake my words vnto the, whether they will heare or refuse, for they are rebellious.

8 Therefore, thou sonne of man, obey thou all things that I say vnto thee, and be not thou rebellious like the rebellious house: open thy mouth, and (a) eate that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked, behold a hande was sent vnto me, and lo, in it was a roule of a booke,

10 And he opened it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, (b) lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

a. That is, printe in thy memorie, or receyue in thine heart all my wordes, as Ezech. 3. b.

b. That is, Gods iudgements againste the wicked.

The .iij. Chapter.

1. The prophete beyng fed with the word of God, and with the constant boldnesse of the spirite, is sente vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17. The office of true preachers.

I 1 After this sayde he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, eate whatsoeuer thou fyndest, eate this roule and go thy way, and speake vnto the house of Israell.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he fedde me with this roule.

3 And he sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thy belly shall eate, and thy bowelles shalte thou fyll with this roule that I giue thee. Then dyd I eate, and it was in my mouth sweeter than hony. Psal. 19. b. and. 119.

4 And he sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, goe, get thee vnto the house of Israell, and declare my wordes vnto them.

5 For not to a people of "profounde lippes, and hard language art thou sente, but vnto the house of Israell: "Straunge speache.

6 Not to many nations which haue profound lippes, and hard languages, whose wordes thou vnderstandest not: otherwise if I had sent thee vnto them, they woulde haue hearkened vnto thee.

B 7 But the house of Israell will not hearken vnto thee, for they will not hearken vnto me: for all the house of Israell haue stiffe foreheads, and stubborne harte.

8 Beholde, therefore I haue made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 As an Adamant, harder than the flint stone haue I made thy forehead: thou shalte not feare them, nor be abashed at their lookes: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He sayd moreouer vnto me, Thou sonne of man, all my wordes that I shall speake vnto thee, receiue in thine hart, and hearken with thine eares.

11 And goe, get thee to the captiuitie, to the children of thy people, and thou shalt speake vnto vnto them, and thalte say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, whether they wil heare, or leaue.

12 With that the spirite toke me vp, and I heard behind me a voyce of a great rushing, (to wit,) Blessed bee the glory of Iehouah from his place.

13 (I hearde) also the noyse of the winges of the beastes ioyning one with another, and the rattling of the wheeles that were before them, euen a noyse of great rushing.

C 14 Nowe when the spirite lift me vp, and toke me away, I wente in bitternesse and furie of my spirite: but the hand of the Lord vpon me was strong.

15 Then I came to the captiues in Thelabib, that dwelte by the riuer Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and I remayned there seuen dayes, astonished among them.

16 And when the seuen dayes were expired, the Lord sayd vnto me,

17 Thou sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israell: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from me.

Ezec. 33. b.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely dye, and thou giuest not hym warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his euill way, and so to liue: then shall the same vngodly man dye in his owne vnrighteousnesse, but his bloud will I require of thine hande.

19 Neuertheless, if thou giue warning vnto the wicked, and he yet turne not from hys vngodlynesse, and from his wicked way: he shall die in his owne wickednesse, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Nowe if a righteous man goe from hys righteousnesse, and do the thing that is euil, I will lay a stumbling blocke before hym: and he shall die, because thou hast not gyuen him warning, dye shal he in his owne sinne, so that his righteousnes which he hath done, shall not be thought vpon: but his bloud wil I require at thine hande.

D 21 Neuertheless, if thou exhortest that ryghteous that he sinne not, and so the righteous do not sinne: then shall he liue, because he hath receyued thy warning, and thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And there came the hande of the Lord vpon me, and he sayde vnto me, Stande vp, and goe into the fielde, that I maye there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forthe into the fielde, beholde, the (a) glorie of the Lorde stode there, like the glorie whiche I sawe by the riuer Chebar, then fell I downe vpon my face.

a. Meaning the vision of the Cherubims, and the wheles

24 And the spirite came into me, whiche set me vp vppon my feete, and spake vnto me, and sayde vnto me, Goe thy way, and shut thy selfe in thine house.

25 Behold, O thou sonne of man, they haue prepared bandes against thee, and they wyll binde thee with them, and thou shalt not goe out among them.

26 And I will make thy tong (b) cleaue to the rooke of thy mouth, that thou shalte bee dumbe, and not be as a reprouer vnto them: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I speake vnto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalte saye vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Who so heareth, let him heare, who so leaueth off, let hym leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

The. iiij. Chapter.

1. The siege of the citie of Hierusalem is signified. 9. The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israell. 16. A hunger is prophecied to come in the captiuitie.

1 THou sonne of man, take thee a tile stone, and lay it before thee, and purtray vpon it the citie Hierusalem, I

2 And lay siege against it, and builde a forte against it, and cast a mount against it, set the campe also against it, and lay engins of warre against it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an iron panne, and set it betwixt thee and the citie, in steede of an iron wall, then set thy face towarde it, to beslege it, and make an assault against it: this shall be a token vnto the house of Israel.

4 But thou shalte sleepe vpon thy left syde, and lay the sinne (a) of the house of Israel vpon it, (according) to the number of the dayes that thou shalt sleepe vpō it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue layde vppon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes (euen) three hundred and ninetie "dayes, so shalte thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israell.

6 When thou hast fulfilled these dayes, lye downe agayne, and sleepe vpon thy (b) right syde, and beare the sinnes of the house of Iuda: forty dayes haue I appointed thee, (c) a day for a yeere (euen) a day for a yeere.

7 Therefore, set nowe thy face towarde the siege of Hierusalem, & discouer thine arme, that thou mayest prophecie against it.

8 Behold, I will lay chaynes vpon thee, that thou shalte not turne thee from one syde to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy besieging.

9 Wherefore take vnto thee wheate, barley, beanes beanes, lintels, millet, and lytches, and put these together in a vessell, & make thre loaues of bread thereof, according to the number of the dayes that thou must lye vpon thy syde, that thou mayest haue bread to eate for three hundred and ninetie dayes.

10 And thy meate that thou eatest shall haue a certayne wayght appointed (namely) twentie sicles euery day: and from time to tyme shalt thou eate thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke also a certayne measure of water (namely) the syxth (part) of an Hin, from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 Barley cakes shalte thou eate, and them shalte thou bake in (d) mans doung before their eyes.

13 And with that, sayd the Lord, Euen thus shall the children of Israel eate their defyled bread, among the Gentiles whyther I wyll cast them.

14 Then sayd I, Oh Lord God, Beholde, my soule was yet neuer stayned, for fro my youth vp vnto this houre, I did neuer eate of a dead carkase, or of that which was slaine of wilde beastes, neyther came there euer any vncleane flesh in my mouth.

15 Whereunto he aunswered me, Loe, I will graunte thee (e) cowcalfes in steede of mans doung, and thou shalt make thy bread with them.

16 And he sayde vnto me, Behold thou sonne of man, I will breake the (f) staffe of bread in Hierusalem, and they shal eate their bread with wayght and with care, and their water in measure and astonishement shall they drinke, 17 That they may cause a lacke of bread and water, and be astonyed one at another, and be consumed in their iniquitie.

The.v. Chapter.

1. The signe of the heares, by which is signified the destruction of the people. 6. The causes of the anger of God toward the people.

1 THou sonne of man, take thee then a sharpe knife (namely) a barbers rasour, take that to thee, and cause it to (a) passe vpon thy head and vpon thy beard: then take thee waight scales, and diuide (the heare.)

2 Thou shalt burne with fyre the third parte in the middest of the (b) citie when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other thirde part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the winde, and I will drawe out a sword after them.

3 Thou shalte also take thereof a fewe in number, and bind them in thy lappe.

4 Of them yet shalt thou take, and cast them into the middest of the fyre, and burne them in the fyre: thereof shall a fyre come forth into all the house of Israell.

5 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lorde GOD, This same is Hierusalem, whiche I set in the middest of nations and countries rounde about hir.

6 But she hathe chaunged my iudgementes into wickednesse more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries that are rounde about hir: for they haue refused my iudgements and my statutes, and not walked in them.

7 Therefore, thus saith the Lorde God, For your (c) multiplying more than the Gentiles that dwell round about you, and bycause ye haue not walked in my lawes, neyther haue ye kept my ordinances, no ye haue not done according to the iudgementes of the nations that are round about you:

8 Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde GOD, Behold, I will also come againste thee, I my selfe I say, for in the middest of thee wil I execute iudgemente in the syghte of the Heathen.

9 And I will handle thee of such a fashion as I neuer did before, and as I will neuer do from that time forth, and that bycause of all thine abhominations.

10 For in thee the fathers shall be sayne to eate their owne sonnes, and the sonnes theyr owne fathers, I will execute iudgemente in thee, and the whole remnaunt of thee will I scatter into all the windes.

11 Wherefore, as truely as I liue sayeth the Lorde God, seeing thou haste defyled my sanctuarie with all manner of abhominations, and with all shamefull offences:

12 For this cause will I also destroy thee, mine eye shall not spare thee, neyther will I haue any pitie.

13 One third part within thee shall dye of the pestilence, and be consumed of hunger, another third part shall be slayne downe round about thee with the sworde, the other thirde part that remayneth, will I scatter abroade towarde all the windes, and drawe out a sword after them.

14 Thus will I perfourme mine indignation, and make my wrathe to settle vppon them, and I will be (d) comforted: so that when I haue fulfilled mine anger againste them, they shall knowe that I am the Lord, whiche with a feruente ielousie haue spo-

The. vi. Chapter.

1. He ſheweth that the people ſhal be plagued for the ſinne of idolatrie. 8. He prophecieth the repentaunce of the remnant of the people, and their deliueraunce. 11. The deſtruction of the froward is prophecied.

I 1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying, Ezech. 30. a.

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face to the mountaynes of Iſraell, that thou mayeſt prophecie againſt them,

3 And ſay, Heare the worde of the Lorde God, Ye mountaynes of Iſrael: Thus hath the Lorde God ſpoken to the (a) mountaynes, hylles, riuers, and dales, Beholde, I (euen I) will bring a ſworde vppon you, and deſtroy your high places.

a. He ſpeaketh to all the places where the Iſraelites accuſtomed to commit theyr idolatries, threatning the deſtructiō.

4 Your aulters ſhall be deſtroyed, and youre images of the ſunne broken downe, youre ſlayne men will I caſt downe before youre idolles.

4. Reg. 23. b

5 And the dead carkaſes of the children of Iſraell will I caſt before their idolles, youre bones will I ſcatter rounde about youre aulters.

4. Reg. 23. c.

6 In all youre dwelling places, youre cities ſhall be deſolate, and the high places layde waſte, ſo that youre aulters ſhall be made waſte and deſolate, your idols ſhall be broken and aboliſhed, and your images of the ſunne ſhall be cut downe, and your workes quite taken away.

B 7 Youre ſlayne men ſhall fall among you: and ye ſhall knowe that I am the Lorde.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnaunte, that you may haue (ſome) that ſhall eſcape the ſworde among the nations, when as ye ſhal be ſcattered through the countries.

9 And they that eſcape of you, ſhal thinke vpon me among the Heathen where they ſhall be in captiuitie, becauſe I haue bin broken with their whoriſh hart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes that haue gone a whoring after their idolles: and they ſhall be abhorred before their owne eyes, for the euils which they haue committed in all theyr abhominations.

10 And they ſhall knowe that I am the Lorde, and that I haue not ſayde in vayne, that I would do this euil vnto them.

11 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, (b) Smite thine handes together, and ſtampe with thy feete, and ſay, Wo worth all the abhominations and wickednes of the houſe of Iſraell: for they ſhall fall with the ſworde, with hunger, and with peſtilence.

12 Who ſo is farre off ſhall die of the peſtilence, hee that is nigh at hande ſhall periſhe with the ſworde, and the other that are beſieged ſhall dye of hunger: Thus will I ſatiſfie my wrathfull diſpleaſure vpon them.

13 And ſo ſhall ye know that I am the Lorde, when their ſlayne men ſhall be among theyr idolles rounde about their aulters, vpon euery high hill, and tops of mountaynes, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oke, (euen) in the places where they did offer ſweete ſauour to all their idols.

14 I will ſtretch mine hand out vpon them, and will make the lande waſt and deſolate, (c) from the wilderneſſe vnto Deblathath, throughout all their habitations: and they ſhall know that I am the Lorde.

2. The ende of all the land of Iſraell ſhall ſuddaynely come. 20. The cauſe of the deſtruction thereof. 23. The prophet is commaunded to ſhew the ſumme of the euils that are at hande.

I 1 THE worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 And thou ſonne of man, thus ſaith the Lord God, An ende is come vnto the land of Iſrael: yea verily the ende commeth vpon the foure corners of the lande.

3 Now ſhall the ende come vpon thee: for I will ſende my wrath vpon thee, and wyll punith thee according to thy wayes, and reward thee after all thine abhominations.

4 Myne eye ſhall not ſpare thee, neyther wyll I haue pitie, but rewarde thee according to thy wayes, and declare thine abhominations: then shall ye knowe that I am the Lorde.

5 Thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, one euill shall come after another:

6 The ende is here, the ende (I say) is come, it watcheth for thee: behold, it is come already.

B 7 The (a) morning is come vnto thee that dwellest in the land, the time is at hand, the daye of trouble is hard by, and not the (b) sounding agayne of the mountaynes.

8 Nowe I will shortly powre out my sore displeasure ouer thee, and fulfill my wrathe vpon thee: I will iudge thee after thy wayes, and recõpence thee all thyne abhominatiõs.

9 Myne eye shall not spare, neyther wyll I haue pitie, but rewarde thee after thy wayes, and thyne abhominations shall be in ỹ midst of thee: and yee shall knowe that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Beholde the daye, beholde, it is come, the morning is gone forth, the rodde (c) flourisheth, pride hath budded.

11 Crueltie is waxen to a rodde of wickednesse, none of them shall remayne, none of their riches, "not one of their seede, and no lamentation shall be made for them.

12 The time commeth, the day draweth nigh: who so buyeth, let him not reioyce, he that selleth, let him not be sory: for why? wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 So that the seller shall not come agayne to the thing that he solde, although their life be (d) yet with the liuing: for when the prophecie was preached vnto all the people, none returned, no man shall (e) strengthen him selfe in the iniquitie of this life.

14 (f) They haue blowen the trumpet, and made all ready, but none goeth to the battayle: for my wrath is vpon the whole multitude.

15 The swoord shall be without, pestilence and hunger within: so that who so is in the field, shall be slayne with the swoord, and he that is in the citie, shall be deuoured with hunger and pestilence.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape and shall be in the mountaynes lyke ỹ doues of the valleys, all they shal mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 All hands shall be let downe, and al knees shall be weake as the water.

18 They shal gyrd thẽ selues with sackcloth, feare shall couer them, shame shall be vppon all faces, and baldnesse vpon their heads.

19 Their syluer shall they cast forthe in the streetes, and their golde shall be despised: yea their syluer and gold shall not be able to deliuer them in ỹ day of the wrath of ỹ Lord, they shall not satisfie their soules, neyther fill their bellies therewith, because (g) it was a stumbling blocke of their iniquitie.

20 He had also set the beautie of his (h) ornament in maiestie: but they made images of their abhominations and filthynesse in it, therefore haue I set it farre from them.

21 Moreouer, I will giue it into the handes of strangers to be spoyled, and to the wicked of the earthe for to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turne from them, my secret place shall be defyled: for burglers shall goe into it, and pollute it.

23 Make a chayne: for the lande is full of the (i) iudgement of blood, and the citie is ful of extortion.

24 Wherefore, I wil bring the most wicked of the Heathen to take their houses in possession, I will make the pompe of the mightie to ceasse, and their (k) sanctuaries shall be defyled.

25 When destruction is come, they shall seeke peace, but they shall haue none.

26 One mischiefe shall folow another, and one rumour shall come after another: then shall they seeke a vision in vayne of theyr prophet, the law shall perish from the priest, and counsayle from the auncients.

27 The king shall mourne, the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people in the land shall be troubled: I will do vnto them after their owne wayes, according to their owne iudgements will I iudge them: and they shall know that I am the Lorde.

The. viij. Chapter.

2. An apperance of the similitude of GOD. 3. Ezechiel is brought to Hierusalem in the spirite. 6. The Lorde sheweth the idolatries of the house of Israell, and chiefly of the priestes.

1 AND it was in the (a) syxth yeere, in the syxth (moneth) in the fyfth (day) of the moneth, I sate in my house, and the elders of Iuda sate before me, and the hand of ỹ Lord God fell there vpon me.

a. Of the captiuitie of Ieconiah, so that ther was fourtiene moneths betwixte the first vision and this.

2 Then I behelde, and loe, there was a likenesse as the appearance of fyre: from the appearance of his loynes downeward, fyre: and from his loynes vpwarde, as the appearance of brightnesse, lyke the colour of amber.

3 And he stretched out the likenesse of an hande, and toke me by an hearie locke of my head, and the spirite lift me vp betwixte earth and beauen, and (b) brought me in a diuine viſion to Hieruſalem, into the entrie of the inner (c) gate that lieth towarde the North, where remayned the image of (d) emulation (and) of gayne.

4 And behold, the glorie of the Lord God of Iſraell was in the ſame place, (euen) as I had ſeene it afore in the field.

5 And he ſayd vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now towarde the North: then lift I vp mine eyes toward the North, and behold, northward, at the gate of the (e) aulter, this image of emulation (was) in the entrie.

6 And he ſayde furthermore vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, ſeeſt thou what theſe do? ſeeſt thou the great abhominations that the houſe of Iſrael commit in this place, to driue me from my ſanctuarie? but turne thee aboute, and thou ſhalte ſee yet greater abhominations.

7 And with that brought he me to the courte gate, and when I loked, behold, there was a hole in the wall.

8 Then ſayde he vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, digge now in the wall: and when I digged in the wall, behold, there was a dore.

9 And he ſayde vnto me, Goe thy way in, and loke what wicked abhominations they do here.

10 So I wente in, and ſawe, and beholde, there were all manner of creeping beaſts, and (f) abhominable beaſtes, and all the idols of the houſe of Iſraell, poynted vppon the wall round about.

11 There ſtood alſo before the images, threeſcore and ten menne of the auncientes of the houſe of Iſraell, and in the middeſt of them ſtood Iaazaniah the ſon of Saphan, with euery manne his cenſor in his hande, and the ſmoke of the incenſe aſcended as a cloude.

12 Then ſayde he vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, haſt thou ſeene what the auncientes of the houſe of Iſrael do ſecretly, euery one in the (g) chamber of his imagerie? for they ſaye, The Lord ſeeth vs not, the Lord hath forſaken the earth.

13 And he ſayd vnto me, Turne thee yet agayne, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abhominations that they do.

14 And with that, he brought me to the dore of the gate of the Lordes houſe, towarde the North, and behold, there ſate women mourning for (h) Thammuz.

15 Then ſayde he vnto me, Haſte thou ſeene this thou ſonne of man? turne thee yet about, and thou ſhalte ſee greater abhominations than theſe are.

16 And ſo he brought me into the inwarde court of the Lordes houſe, and beholde, at the dore of the Lordes houſe, betwixt the porche and the aulter, there were about twentie and fyue men, that turned their backes vpon the temple of the Lord, and their faces towarde the Eaſt, and theſe worſhipped the ſunne Eaſtward.

17 And he ſayd vnto me, Haſt thou ſeene this thou ſonne of man? Thinketh the houſe of Iuda that it is but a trifle to do theſe abhominations, which they do here? for they haue filled the lande full of wickednes, and haue returned to prouoke me to anger, and loe, (i) they are putting the braunches to their noſes.

18 Therefore wyll I alſo doe ſomethyng in my wrathfull diſpleaſure, ſo that mine eye ſhall not ſpare them, neyther will I haue pitie: yea and though they crye in mine eares with a loude voyce, yet will I not heare them.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. The deſtruction of the citie. 4. They that ſhall be ſaued are marked. 8. A complaynte of the prophete for the deſtruction of the people.

1 HE cried alſo with a loude voyce in mine eares, ſaying, Draw neare ye (a) viſitations of the citie, euery man with a deſtroying weapon in his hand.

2 And beholde, then came there (b) ſixe men, out of the ſtreete of the vpper gate towarde the North, and euery man a ſlaughter weapon in his hande: There was one amongſt them that had on him linnen rayment, and a writers (c) inckhorne by his ſide: theſe wente in, and ſtoode beſyde the braſen aulter.

3 And the glory of the Lorde of Iſrael was gone from the Cherub whereupon it was, to the dore of the houſe: and he called to ỹ man that had the linnen rayment vpon him, and the writers inckhorne by his ſide,

4 And the Lord ſayd vnto him, Goe through the citie, euen through Hieruſalem, and ſet a marke vppon the foreheads of them that mourne, and are ſorie for all the abhominations that be done therein.

5 And to ỹ other he ſayd, that I might heare, Goe yee after him through the citie, and ſmite, let youre eye ſpare none, neyther haue ye any pitie:

6 Kill and deſtroy both olde men and young mayderns, children, and women: but as for al thoſe that haue the marke vpon them, ſee that ye touch them not, and begin at my ſanctuarie. Then they began at the auncient men which were before the houſe.

8 Nowe when they had done the slaughter, and I yet escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and cried, saying, Ah Lorde GOD, wilt thou then destroy all the residue of Israell, in powring out thy wrath vpon Hierusalem?

9 Then sayd he vnto me, The wickednesse of the house of Israell and Juda is exceeding great: so that the land is full of blould, and the citie full of reuolting (from God) for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earthe, and the Lord seeth it not. Ezech.1.c.

10 As touching me also, myne eye shall not spare them, neyther will I haue pitie: but will recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

The.x. Chapter.

2. Of the man that tooke hote burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims. 8. A rehearsal of the vision of the wheeles, of the beastes, and of the Cherubims.

I 1 AND as I loked, behold, in the firmamẽt that was aboue the head of the (a) Cherubims, as it were a Saphire stone (made) lyke the similitude of a throne, was ouer them. Ezech.1.d.

a. Which in the first Chapter and 5yith verse he called the four beasts

2 Then spake he to him that had the linnen rayment vpon him, and sayd, Creepe in betweene the wheeles that are vnder the Cherub, and take thyne hande full of hote coales out from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the citie. And he crept in, that I myght see.

3 (Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

4 And the glory of the Lord remoued from the Cherubims, and came vppon the doore of the house: so that the temple was full of cloudes, and the court was full of the shine of the Lords glory.

5 Yea ẏ the sounde of the Cherubims wings was heard into the fore court, like as it had bin the voyce of the almightie God when he speaketh.)

6 Nowe when he had bidden the man that was clothed in linnen, saying, Take fyre from the middest of the wheeles which were vnder the Cherubims: he went, and stood beside the wheeles.

7 Then one Cherub reached forth his hande B from betweene the Cherubims, vnto the fyre that was betweene the Cherubims, and toke thereof, and gaue it into the handes of hym that had on the linnen rayment: which toke it, and went out.

8 And vnder the winges of the Cherubims, there appeared the likenesse of a mans hande.

9 I loked also, and behold, four wheeles beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another by another Cherub, and the wheeles were to loke vpon after the fashion of the pretious stone Tharsis.

10 As touching their appearance (they were Ezech.1.c. all foure of one fashion, as if one wheele had bin in another.

11 When they went forth, they went vppon their foure sides, not turning backe in their going: for which way the (head of the) fyrste loked, after it they went, so that they turned not backe in their going.

12 And their whole bodies, their backes, their handes, and winges, yea and the wheeles also, were full of eyes round about the foure wheeles.

13 And to the wheeles, he cryed to them in my hearing, O wheele.

14 Euery one of them had foure faces, so that C the face of the fyrst was the face of a Cherub, and the face of the second the face of a man, and of the third the face of a Lion, and of the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: This Ezech.1.e. is the best that I saw at ẏ water of Chebar.

16 Nowe when the Cherubims wente, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp frō the earthe, the same wheeles also turned not from besides them.

17 Shortly, when they stoode, these stood also, and when they were lifted vp, the wheeles lift vp them selues also with them: for the (b) spirite of the beast was in the wheeles.

b. There was one consent betweene the Cherubims & the wheeles.

18 Then the glory of the Lorde departed frō aboue the doore of the temple, and remayned vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims flackered wyth their wings, and lift them selues vp frō the earth, so that I sawe when they went, and the wheeles besides them, and they stood at the doore of the East gate of ẏ house of the Lord, so the glory of the God of Israell was vpon them on high.

20 This is the (c) beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israell, by the riuer of Chebar, and I perceyued that it was the Cherubims.

c. That is, the whole body of the. iiii. beasts or Cherubims.

D 21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one four wings, and vnder their wings, the likenesse of mens hands.

22 Touching the similitude of their countenaunces, they were the very same countenaunces which I sawe at the riuer Chebar, and the selfe same appearances: euery one in his going, went straight forwarde.

The.xi. Chapter.

1 MOreouer, ỹ spirit lift me vp, & brought me vnto the east gate of the Lordes house, which lieth eastward: and beholde, at the entrie of the gate were fiue and twentie men, among whome I saw Iaazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Pheltiah the son of Banaiahu, the rulers of the people.

2 Then sayde he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, these menne imagine mischiefe, and a wicked counsayle take they in this citie,

a. We shal not be pulled out of Hierusalē, till the houre of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron till it be sodde.

4 Therefore thalte thou prophecie against them: yea prophecie, O sonne of man.

5 And with that fell the spirite of the Lorde vpon me, and sayde vnto me, Speake, thus sayth the Lord: On this maner haue ye spoken (O ye house of Israell) and I knowe the imaginations of your harts.

6 Many one haue ye murdered in this citie, and fylled the streetes full of the slayne:

B 7 Therefore, thus sayth the Lord God, The slayne men that ye haue layde on the ground in the citie, are the (b) flesshe, and this citie is the cauldron: but I will bring you out of it.

b. Contrary to their vayne confidence he sheweth in what sense this citie was the cauldron, that is, bicause of the dead bodyes that haue bin murdered therein, and so lie as flesshe in the cauldron.

8 Ye feared the sworde, and I will bring a sworde ouer you, sayth the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the middest thereof, and deliuer you into the handes of strangers, and wyll execute iudgementes among you.

c. That is, In Riblath. 4. Reg. 24. a.

12 That ye may knowe that I am the Lord, in whose commaundementes yee haue not walked, nor kept my lawes: but haue done after the customes of the Heathen that lye round about you.

13 Nowe when I prophecied, (d) Pheltiah the sonne of Banaiahu died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Ah Lorde God, wilte thou then vtterly destroy all the remnaunte in Israel?

2 Thou sonne of man, thou dwellest in the middest of a rebellious house, whiche haue eyes to see, and yet see not, eares haue they to heare, and yet heare they not: foꝛ they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefoꝛe (O thou sonne of man) "prepare thee instruments to slit with, and remoue on the day tyme, that they may se, yea (euen) in theyꝛ syghte shalte thou goe from thy place to another place, if peraduenture they will consider that they be a rebellious house.

4 Thou shalt bꝛing foꝛth thine instruments, as stuffe to slit with by the day time in their syghte, and thou thy selfe shalte goe foꝛth also at euening befoꝛe their eyes, as they that goe foꝛth to slit.

5 Digge thꝛough the wall in their syght, and carrie out thereby.

6 In their syghte shalt thou beare vpon thy shoulders, and carie it foꝛth in the darke: hide thy face, that thou see not the earth, foꝛ I haue made thee a (a) shewe token vnto the house of Israell.

7 And I did so as I was commaunded, I bꝛought foꝛth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and in the euening I digged thꝛough the wall with my hands, and bꝛought it foꝛth in the darke, and bare it vppon my shoulder in theyꝛ syght.

8 And in the morning came the woꝛde of the Lozd vnto me, saying,

9 Thou sonne of man, hathe not the house of Israell, the rebellious house, sayd vnto thee, (b) What doest thou?

10 Then tell thꝛ, Thus sayth the Lozd God, This "burden toucheth the prince at Hierusalem, and all the house of Israell that dwell among them.

11 Tell them, I am your shew token, like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them, they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 The prince that is among them shal loade his shoulders in the darke, and get him away, they shall bꝛeake downe the wall to carie thꝛough by it: he shall couer his face, that hee see not the grounde with hys eyes.

13 My net will I (c) spꝛead out vpon hym, and he shall be caught in my "net, and I will bring him to Babylon in the lande of the Chaldees, which he shall not se, and yet shall he die there.

14 As foꝛ all his helpers, and all his bandes that be about him, I will scatter them toward all the windes, and dꝛawe out a swoꝛd after them.

15 So when I haue scattered them among the heathen, and stꝛawed them in the landes, they shall know that I am the Lozde.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the swoꝛde, hunger, and pestilence, to tell all theyꝛ abhominations among the heathen where they come, that they may knowe how that I am the Lozde.

17 Moꝛeouer, the woꝛde of the Lozde came vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, with a fearefull trembling shalt thou eate thy bꝛead, with vnquietnesse and soꝛowe shalte thou dꝛinke thy water.

19 And vnto the people of the lande speake thou: Thus saith the Lozd God to them that dwell in Hierusalem, and to the land of Israell, They shall eate their bꝛead with soꝛowe, and dꝛinke their water with desolation: yea the lande with the fulnesse thereof shall be layde waste, foꝛ the wickednesse of al them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that nowe be well inhabited, shal be voide, and the land desolate, that ye may know that I am the Lozd.

21 Yet came the woꝛde of the Lozd vnto me agayne, saying.

22 Thou sonne of man, what maner of pꝛouerbe is that which ye vse in the land of Israel, saying, (d) The dayes are slacke in comming, and all visions fayle?

23 Tell them therefoꝛe, thus sayth the Lozde God, I will make that pꝛouerbe to cease, and they shall no moꝛe vse it as a pꝛouerbe in Israell: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of euery vision.

24 There shall no vision be any moꝛe in vayne, neyther any flattering diuination within the house of Israell:

25 Foꝛ I the Lozde speake it, & what so euer I shall speake, it shall be perfourmed, and not be slacke in comming any moꝛe, yea euen in your dayes, O rebellious house, wyll I speake the thing, and bꝛing it to passe, saith the Lozd God.

26 And the woꝛde of the Lozd came vnto me, saying,

The.xiij. Chapter.

1 The worde of the Lorde againſt falſe prophetes, which teach the people the counſels of theyr owne hartes.

I 1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, propheſie againſt thoſe prophetes of Iſrael which propheſie, and ſay vnto them that propheſie out of their owne harts, Heare the word of the Lorde, Iere.23.c. 3 Thus ſayeth the Lorde God, Wo be vnto thoſe folliſh prophets that folow their owne ſpirite, and haue ſeene nothing.

4 O Iſraell, thy prophetes are like the foxes in (a) deſart places.

a. Watching to deſtroy the vineyardes. reade. Can.2.c.

5 For ye haue not ſtand vp in the gappes, nor made a hedge for the houſe of Iſraell, to ſtand in the battayle in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue ſeene banitie, and lying diuination, ſaying, The Lorde ſayeth it, and the Lorde hathe not ſent them, and they haue made me hope that they would confirme the worde.

B 7 Haue ye not ſeene vayne viſions, and ſpoken falſe propheſies, when ye ſay, The Lorde hath ſpoken it, whereas I neuer ſayd it?

8 Therefore, thus ſayth the Lorde GOD, Bycauſe ye haue ſpoken banitie, and haue ſeene lyes: therefore beholde, I am agaynſte you, ſayth the Lord God:

9 Mine handes ſhall come vpon the prophets that ſee banities, and diuine lyes: they ſhall not be in the counſell of my people, nor written in the booke of the houſe of Iſraell, neyther ſhall they come in the lande of Iſraell, that ye may knowe how that I am ỳ Lord God:

Iere.6.c. b. What one falſe prophete did ſay (which is here called the building vp of a wall) another falſe prophet would affirme the ſame, though he had neither occaſion nor good grounde ſo beare hym.

10 And that for bycauſe they haue deceyued my people, and told them of peace, where no peace was: one ſetteth vp a (b) wall, and they daube it with vntempered clay.

11 Therefore tell them which daube with vntempered mortar, that it ſhall fall: for there ſhall come a great ſhowre of rayne, I wyll ſend hayleſtones to cauſe it to fall, & a great ſtorme of winde ſhall breake it.

12 And lo, when the wall is fallen, ſhall it not then be ſayde vnto you, Where is nowe your mortar that ye dawbed it withall?

13 Therefore, thus ſayth the Lorde God, I will cauſe a ſtormie winde to breake out in my wrathfull diſpleaſure, ſo that in myne anger there ſhall come a mightie ſhowre of rayne, and hayleſtones in my wrath to deſtroy it.

14 As for the wall that ye haue dawbed with vntempered morter, I will breake it downe, and make it euen with the ground, ſo that the foundation thereof ſhall be diſcouered, and it ſhall fall: yea and ye your ſelues ſhall periſh in the middes thereof, and yee ſhall know that I am the Lorde. C

15 Thus will I perfourme my wrath vpon this wall, and vpon them that haue dawbed it with (c) vntempered morter, and then will I ſay vnto you, The wall is gone, and the daubers of it,

16 (To wit) the prophets of Iſraell, whyche propheſie vnto Hieruſalem, and loke out viſions of peace for it, whereas no peace is, ſayth the Lord God.

17 Wherefore, O thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face againſte the daughters of thy people, which propheſie out of their owne harts, and propheſie againſt them:

18 And ſay, thus ſayth the Lorde God, Wo be vnto them that ſowe (d) pillowes vnder all armeholes, and put kerchiefes vpon the heads of euery (e) ſtature to hunt ſoules. Will ye hunt the ſoules of my people, and (f) giue life to the ſoules that (come) vnto you?

19 And will ye pollute me to my people for handfuls of Barley, and for peeces of bread, to kill the ſoules of them that die not, and promiſe (g) life to them that liue not, in lying to my people that heareth your lyes?

20 Wherefore, thus ſayeth the Lorde God, Behold, I will vpon your pillowes wherewith yee hunt the ſoules, to (h) make them flee. & I will teare them from your armes, and will let the ſoules goe, (euen) the ſoules that ye hunt to make them to flee.

21 Your kerchiefes alſo will I teare in peeces, and deliuer my people out of your hãds, ſo that they ſhall come no more in youre handes to be hunted: and yee ſhall knowe that I am the Lorde.

22 Seeing that with your lyes you diſcomfort the hart of the righteous whome I haue not diſcomforted: agayne, forſemuch as ye encourage the hand of the wicked, ſo that he may not turne from his wicked way, in promiſing him life:

23 Therefore ſhall yee ſee no more banitie, neyther ſhall ye diuine diuinations, for I wyll deliuer my people out of your hande, that yee maye knowe howe that I am the Lorde.

c. That is, whatſoeuer man of him ſelfe ſeeth foorth vnder the authoritie of Gods word, and ſo allowe th it.
d. Theſe ſuperſtitious men for lucre would propheſie and ſay euery man his fortune, giue them pillowes to leane on and kerchiefes to couer their heds, that they might the more allure them and bewitch them.

f. Thinke you the liues of my people to be in your hands, to make them long or ſhort?

The.xiiij. Chapter.

2. The Lord denyeth his word to the people for their sinnes sake. 9. The despisers of the word doth the Lorde sometime deceyue by false prophetes. 22. A comfort of the that fled vnto Babylon.

1 THere resorted vnto me certain of the elders of Israel, and sate downe by me.
2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying.
3 Thou sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idolles in their harts, and put the stumbling blocke of iniquitie before their face: shulde I then answere them at their request?
4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, thus sayth the Lorde God, euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idolles in his harte, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the prophete: vnto that manne will I the Lord my selfe giue answere whē he commeth, according to the (a) multitude of his idolles:
5 That the house of Israel may be stated in their (b) owne harts, bycause they be cleane gone from me, al of them through their Idolles.
6 Wherefore, tell the house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and (c) cause to returne fro your idolles, & turne your faces from all your abhominations.
7 For euery man, whether he be of the house of Israel, or a straunger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth vp his idolles in his harte, and putteth the stumbling blocke of hys wickednesse before his face, and commeth to a prophete for to aske counsel at me thorowe him: vnto that man will I the Lord giue answere by myne owne selfe.
8 I will set my face against that man, & will make him to be an example for other, yea & a cōmon byword, and will rote him out of my people, that ye may knowe how that I am the Lord.
9 And if that prophete be deceiued when hee telleth a thing, then I the Lorde my selfe haue deceiued that prophete, and will stretch out my hande vpon him, to destroy him out of my people of Israel:
10 And they shall be punished for their wickednesse, according to the sinne of him that asketh, shall the sinne of the prophet be:
11 That the house of Israel be led no more from me through errour, and be no more defiled in all their transgressions: but that they may be my people, and I their God, saith the Lord God.
12 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
13 Thou sonne of man, when the land sinneth against me by committing a trespasse, I will stretch out my hande vpon it, and breake their staffe of bread, and send dearth vpon the to destroy man and beast with of it. Ezec.4.b. and.5.c.
14 And though Noe, Daniel, and Job, these three men were among them: yet shall they in their righteousnesse deliuer but their own soules, saith the Lord God. C Iere.15.a.
15 If I bring noysome beasles into the land and they spoyle it, and it be so desolate that no man may passe through it for beasles,
16 If these three men were also in the land: as truely as I liue, saith the Lorde God they shal saue neyther sonnes nor daughters, but be only deliuered them selues, and as for the lande, it shal be wast.
17 Or if I bring a swoorde vppon this lande, and say, Sword go through the lande, so that I slay downe man and beast in it,
18 And if these three men were therein: as truely, as I liue, saith the Lorde God, they shall deliuer neyther sonnes nor daughters, but onely be saued them selues.
19 If I sende a pestilence into this lande, and powre out my soare indignation vpon it in bloud, so ỹ I rote out of it both mā & beast.
20 And if Noe, Daniel, & Job were therein: as truly as I liue, saith ỹ lord God, they shal deliuer neither sonne nor daughter, but saue their owne soules in their righteousnesse.
21 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord God, How much more whē I send my foure troublous plagues vpon Ierusalem, the sword, hunger, perillous beasles, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it? Ezec.5.c.
22 Beholde, there shall bee a remnant saued therein, which shall bring forth their sonnes and daughters, beholde, they shal come forth vnto you, and ye shall see their way and their enterprise, and ye shall be comforted concerning the euyl that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, (euen) concerning all that I haue brought vpon it.
23 They shall comfort you, when ye shal see their way and workes: and ye shal knowe how that it is not without a cause, that I haue done all against Ierusalem as I dyd, saith the Lord God.

The.xv. Chapter.

As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fyre, so sayth he that Ierusalem shall be brent.

A 1 The woꝛd of the Lozd came vnto mee, ſaying.
2 Thou ſonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree, moꝛe than of the wilde vine ſtocke among other trees of the foꝛreſt?
3 Do men take wood of it to make any woꝛke withal? oꝛ will men take a pynne of it to hang any veſſel thereon?
4 Beholde it is caſt in the fyꝛe to be bꝛent, the fire cõſumeth both ẏ endes of it, the myddes of it is bꝛent: is it meete thẽ foꝛ any woꝛke?
5 Seeing then that it was meete foꝛ no woꝛke being whole, much leſſe may there any thing be made of it when the fire hath conſumed and bꝛent it.
6 And therefoꝛe thus ſayth the Lozde God, As the vine tree (that is) among the trees of the foꝛreſt, which I haue giuen to the fire to be conſumed: ſo will I giue the inhabitauntes of Ieruſalem.
B 7 And I will ſet my face againſt them, they ſhal goe out from the fyꝛe, and yet the (a) fyꝛe ſhal conſume them: then ſhall ye know that I am the Lozde, when I ſet my face againſt them,
8 And when I make the lande waſte, bycauſe they haue ſo foꝛe offended, ſaith ẏ lozd God.

A 1 AGayne, the woꝛde of the Lozd came vnto me, ſaying,
2 Thou ſonne of man, ſhew Ieruſalem their abhominations.
3 And ſay, Thus ſayth the Lozde God vnto Ieruſalem, Thy habitation and kynred is of the lande of (a) Chanaan, thy father was an Amoꝛite, thy mother an Hittite.
4 In the day of thy bꝛyth (b) whẽ ẏ waſt bozne, the ſtring of thy nauel was not cut of, ẏ waſt not bathed in water to make thee cleane, ẏ waſt not ſalted wt ſalt, noꝛ ſwadled in clouts
5 No eye pitied thee to do any of theſe things foꝛ thee, foꝛ to haue compaſſion vpõ thee: but ẏ waſt vtterly caſt out vpon the fielde in contempt of thy perſõ in ẏ day of thy bꝛyth.
6 Then came I by thee, & ſawe thee defiled, in thine owꝛn bloud, & I ſayd vnto thee when ẏ waſt in thy bloud, Liue: (euen) whẽ ẏ waſt in thy bloud, I ſayde vnto thee, Liue.
7 I cauſed thee to multiplie as the budde of the fielde, thou art gꝛowen vp, and waxen great, thou haſt gotten a maruelous pleaſant beautie, thy bꝛeaſtes are faſhioned, thy heare is goodly gꝛowen, whereas thou waſt naked and bare.
8 Now when I went by thee, & loked vpon thee, beholde, thy time was come (euen) the time to woo thee: then ſpꝛeade I my clothes ouer thee: to couer thy (c) diſhoneſtie, yea I made an othe vnto thee, & contracted my ſelfe with thee (ſaith the Lozd God) and ſo thou becameſt myne owne.
9 Then waſhed I thee with water, and purged thy bloud from thee, and I annoynted thee with oyle.
10 I clothed thee wt bꝛoydꝛed woꝛk, and ſhod thee wt badgers ſkin, & I giꝛded thee about wt fine linnen, and couered thee with ſylke.
11 I decked thee with coſtly apparel, I put bꝛacelettes vpon thy handes, a chayne about thy necke:
12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earerings vpon thyne eares, and a beautifull cꝛowne vpon thyne heade.
13 Thus waſt thou deckt with gold and ſyluer, and thy rayment was of fyne lynnen, and of ſilke, and of bꝛoydꝛed woꝛke: thou diddeſt eate fine floure, honie, and oyle, marueilous beautifull waſt thou, and thou diddeſt luckily pꝛoſper into a kingdome.
14 And thy name was ſpꝛeade among the heathen foꝛ thy beautie: foꝛ it was perfect thꝛough thy beautie which I put vpon thee, ſayth the Lozd God.
15 But thou haſt put thy confidence in thyne owne beautie, and played the harlot bycauſe of thy renowme, and haſt (d) powꝛed out thy foꝛnications, with euery one that went by, thou waſt his.
16 Thou dydſt take thy garments, and deckt thy high places with (e) diuers colours, and played the harlot thereupon, (f) they come not, and it ſhall not be.
17 The goodly iewels which I gaue thee of myne owne golde and ſilueꝛ, haſt thou taken and made thee mens images therof, and commytted whoꝛedome with them.
18 Thy bꝛoydꝛed garmentes haſt thou taken, and deckt them therewith: mine oyle and incenſe haſt thou ſet befoꝛe them.
19 My meate whiche I gaue thee, as fyne floure, oyle, and honie, to feede thee withall, that haſt thou ſet befoꝛe them foꝛ a ſweete ſauour: & thus it was, ſayth the Lozd God.
20 Thou haſt taken thyne owne ſonnes and daughters whom thou haſt begotten vnto me, & theſe haſt thou offeꝛed vp vnto them to be (g) deuoured: is this but a ſmal whoꝛedome of thyne?
21 And thou haſt ſlayne my childꝛen, and deliuꝛed them, to cauſe them to paſſe (thꝛough the 22 And yet in all thyne abhominations and whoredomes, thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, howe naked and bare thou wast at that tyme, and wast defiled in thine owne bloud.

23 After al these thy wickednesses (wo, wo vnto thee, sayth the Lorde God,)

24 Thou hast built vnto thee an high place, & hast made thee an high place in euery street.

25 Thou hast builte thine high place at euery "head of the way, thou hast made thy beautie to be abhorred, thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that came by, and multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast cõmitted fornication with the (h) Egyptians, thy neighbours which were great in flesh, & thus hast thou increased thy whoredome to anger me.

27 Behold, I did stretche out my hande ouer thee, and did minishe thy sloare of fode, and deliuered thee ouer into the wylles of them that hate thee (euen) the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thyne abhominable wayes.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, bycause thou wast insatiable: yea thou hast (I say) with them played the harlot, and yet hadst thou not ynough.

29 Thus hast thou furthermore multiplied thy fornication from the lande of Chanaan vnto the Chaldees, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weake is thyne hart, sayth the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these workes of a presumptuous whorishe woman?

31 Building thy high places at the head of euery way, and makest thy hygh places in euery streete: thou hast not bin as another whore that holdeth scorne of a rewarde:

32 But as a wife that breaketh wedlocke, and taketh other in steede of hir husbande.

33 Gifts are giuẽ to al other whores: but thou giuest rewardes vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them to come vnto thee on euery syde for thy fornication.

34 It is come to passe with thee in thy whoredomes, contrary to the vse of other women, yea there hath no such fornication bin committed after thee: seeing that thou giuest gifts vnto other, and no reward is giuen thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Therefore heare the worde of the Lord, O thou harlot.

36 Thus saith the Lorde God, Bycause thou hast (i) powred out thy brasse, and discouered thy filthinesse through thy fornicatiõs with thy louers, and with all the idolles of thyne abhominations, and in the bloud of thy children whom thou hast giuen them:

37 Beholde therefore, I will gather together all thy (k) louers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, yea & al thẽ whom ỹ hast loued, and euery one that ỹ hatest: I will (I say) gather them together rounde about agaynst thee, and will discouer thy shame before thẽ, that they may see al thy filthinesse.

38 Moreouer, (l) I will iudge thee as a breaker of wedlocke and a murderer, and recompence thee thyne owne bloud in wrath and gelousie.

39 I wil giue thee ouer into their hands, and they shall destroy thy high place, and breake downe thy high places, they shal strippe thee also out of thy clothes: thy fayre iewels shall they take from thee, and so leaue thee naked and bare.

40 Yea they shall bring a company vpon thee, which shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swordes.

41 They shall burne vp thy houses with fire, and punishe thee in the sight of many women: thus wil I make thee ceasse from playing the harlot, so that thou shalt giue out no more rewardes.

42 So will I make my wrath towarde thee to rest, & my ielousie shall departe from thee, and I wil ceasse, and be angry no more.

43 Seeing thou remembrest not the dayes of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things: beholde therefore, I will bring thine owne wayes vpon thy heade, sayth the Lord God, so that (m) thou shalt not commit (any more) mischiefe vpon al thine abhominations.

44 Beholde, all they that vse common prouerbes, shall vse this prouerbe also against thee, saying, Suche a (n) mother, suche a daughter.

45 Thou art euen thy mothers owne daughter, that hath cast off hir husband and hir children: yea ỹ art the sister of thy (o) sisters, which forsoke their husbandes and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 Thyne eldest sister is Samaria, shee and hir (p) daughters that dwel vpon thy lefte hande: but thy yonger sister that dwelleth on thy right hand is Sodoma & hir daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways nor done after their abhominations, as a litle and little: but in all thy wayes thou hast bin more corrupt than they.

48 As truely as I liue, saith the Lorde God, Sodoma thy sister with hir daughters, haue not done as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Beholde, the sinnes of thy sister Sodoma were 55 And thy syster Sodome and hir daughters, shall returne to their former state, Samaria also and hir daughters shall returne to their former state, when thou and thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy syster Sodom was not (x) heard of by thy reporte in the day of thy pryde, 57 Before thy wickednesse was (y) discouered, according to the time of the reproche of the daughters of Aram, and of al the daughters of the Philistines roũd about hir, which dispised thee on all sydes.

58 Thou hast borne thy wickednesse and thine abhomination, sayth the Lord.

59 For thus sayth the Lorde God, I might by right deale with thee as thou hast done, which hast dispised ỹ (z) othe in breaking the couenant:

60 Neuertheless, I will remember my couenant with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will establishe vnto thee an euerlasting couenant.

61 Then shalt thou remember thy wayes and be ashamed when thou shalt receiue thy (aa) systers, (both) thy elder and thy yonger: and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy couenant.

62 And I will establishe my couenant with thee, that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lorde.

63 That thou mayest thinke vpon it, and be (bb) ashamed, and neuer open thy mouth any more for shame of thy selfe, when I am pacified toward thee for al that thou hast done, sayth the Lord God.

The.xvij.Chapter.

The parable of the two Eagles.

1 THe word of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, put forth a parable, & speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lorde God, There came a great (a) Eagle, with great wyngs, yea with a mightie long body, and full of feathers of diuers colours, vpon the mounte of Libanus, & toke the highest branche of a Cedar tree,

4 And brake off the top of his twigges, and caried it into the lande of (b) marchantes, & set it in a citie of marchantes.

5 He toke also of the (c) seede of the land and planted it in a fruiteful grounde, he brought it vnto greate waters, and set it in an open trenche.

6 Then dyd it growe, and was a (d) spreading vine, but (e) lowe of stature, whose branches towarde "it, and the rootes of it were vnder it: thus there came of it a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buddes.

7 But there was another (f) Eagle, a great one, which had great winges, and many feathers: and beholde, the rootes of this vine turned towardes it, and spread out hir branches towardes it, that she might water it by the trenches of hir plantation.

8 It was planted vpon a good soyle beside great waters, so that it should haue brought out branches, and borne fruite, and haue bin a goodly vine.

9 Speake thou therefore, thus saith the Lorde God, Shall this vine prosper? shall (g) hee not pul vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to drye? all the leaues of hir bud shal wither without great power, or many people to plucke it vp by the rootes therof.

10 Beholde, it was planted: shall it prosper therefore? shal it not be dryed vp and wythered? when the (h) east winde shal touch it, it shal wyther in the trenches where it grew.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me saying:

12 Speake nowe to the rebellious house, Knowe ye not what these things (do signifie?) Tel them, behold, the king of Babylon is 15 But he rebelled agaynst hym, and sent his Embassadours into Egypt, that he might haue horses & much people: Should he prosper? shal he escape that doth such thinges? or shal he breake the couenaunt, and escape free?

16 As truely as I liue, sayth the Lorde God, he shall die at Babylon in the place where the King dwelleth that made hym King, whose othe he hathe despised, and whose couenant he hath broken.

17 Neyther shal Pharao with his great hoste and multitude of people, maynteyne him in the war, when they haue caste vp mountes, and buylt a fort to destroy many persons.

18 For seeing he hathe despised the othe, and broken the couenaunt (where as he yet gaue his (k) hand therupon) & done all these things he shall not escape.

19 Therfore, thus sayeth the Lord God, As truly as I liue, I wil bring myne oth, that he hath despised, and my couenaunt that hee hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 I will spread my net vpon hym, and he shal be caught in my net: and I will bring him to Babylon, and enter into iudgement with him there, for the trespasse whiche hee hath committed agaynst me.

21 As for those that flee from him, with all his host, they shall be slayne with the sword, and the residue shall bee scattered towardes all the wyndes: and ye shall knowe that I the Lorde haue spoken it.

22 Thus sayth the Lorde God, I will also take off the toppe of this highe Cedar, and will sette it, and cut off the top of the tender plante thereof, and will plante it vpon an high hill, and a greate.

23 (Namely) vpon the high hill of Israel wil I plant it, that it may bring forth boughes, and gyue fruite, and be an excellent Cedar: and vnder it shall remayne all byrdes, and euery foule shall remayne vnder the shadow of the braunches therof.

24 And all the trees of the fielde shall knowe that I the Lorde haue broughte downe the high tree, and exalted the lowe tree, that I haue dryed vp the greene tree, and made the drye tree to flourishe (euen) I the Lord that spake it, haue also brought it to passe.

The. xviij. Chapter.

4. He sheweth that euery man shall beare his owne sinne. 21. To him that amendeth, is saluation promised. 24. Death is propheſied to the righteous whiche turneth backe from the right way.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 What meane ye by this common prouerb, that yee vse in the lande of Israell, saying: The (a) fathers haue eaten soure grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

a. The people murmured at the chastisings of the Lord, & therefore vsed this prouerbe, meaning that their fathers had sinned, & they were punished for their trāsgressions, reade Ier. 31. d

3 As truly as I liue, sayth the Lord God, ye shal vse this byword no more in Israell.

4 Beholde, all soules are myne: lyke as the soule of the father is myne, so is the soule of the sonne myne also: the soule that sinneth, shall dye it selfe.

5 But if a man be iust, and do that whiche is lawfull and right.

6 He hath not (b) eaten vppon the hilles, hee hath not lyfte his eyes to the idolles of the house of Israell, neyther hathe defyled hys neyghbours wife, neither hath come nere a (c) woman remoued:

7 Neyther hathe oppressed any man, but hath restored to the debter his pledge: hee that hath not spoyled any by violence, hath giuen his bread to the hungrye, and hathe clothed the naked.

8 And hathe not giuen forthe vppon vsurie, neyther taken anye increase, hee hath withdrawen his hande from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgemente betweene man and man:

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and kept my iudgementes to deale truely: this is a righteous man, he shall surely lyue, sayeth the Lord God.

10 If he now get a sonne that is a robber, a shedder of blud, & do any one of these things.

11 Though he do not all these things, but eyther hath eaten vpon the hilles, or defiled his neighbours wyfe:

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needye, or spoyled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lifte vp his eyes vnto the Idols, or hath committed abhomination, 13 Or hath giuen forth vppon vsurie, or hath taken encrease: shall this man lyue? he shall not lyue: seeing he hathe done all these abhominations, he shall die the death, his blood shall be vpon him.

14 Nowe if this man get a sonne also, that seeth al his fathers sinnes which he hath done and feareth, neyther doth suche lyke.

15 (Namely) hee hathe not eaten vppon the hylles, hee hathe not lyfte vp his eyes to the idols idols of the houſe of Iſrael, nor defiled hys neighbours wife.

16 Neither hath oppreſſed any, nor hath withholden the pledge, neither hath ſpoyled by violence: (but) hath giuen his breade to the hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment:

17 Neither hath withdrawen his hande from the afflicted, nor receiued vſurie nor encreaſe, (but) hath executed my iudgementes, and walked in my ſtatutes: this man ſhal not die in his fathers ſinne, but ſhall lyue wythout fayle.

18 As for his father, bycauſe he hath cruelly oppreſſed and ſpoyled his brother by violence and hath not done good among his people, loe he dyeth in his owne ſinne.

19 And yet ſay ye, Wherefore then ſhoulde not this ſonne beare his fathers ſinne? Bycauſe the ſonne hath done iudgement and righteouſneſſe, he hath kept all my ſtatutes & done them: therfore ſhall he liue in deede.

Deut. 24.c. 4.Re.14.c. 2.Par.25.a. 20 The ſame ſoule that ſinneth ſhall dye, the ſonne ſhall not beare the fathers iniquitie neyther ſhall the father beare the ſonnes iniquitie: the righteouſneſſe of the righteous ſhall be vpon him, and the wickedneſſe of the wicked ſhall be vpon himſelfe alſo.

D 21 But if the vngodlye wyll turne awaye from all his ſynnes that he hathe done, and kepe all my ſtatutes, and do the thing that is iudgement and right, doubtleſſe he ſhal liue, and not dye.

22 As for all his ſinnes that he dyd before, they ſhall not be mentioned vnto him: but in his righteouſneſſe that he hath done, he ſhal liue.

2. Pet.3.b. Ezec.33.b. 23 For haue I any pleaſure in the death of a ſinner, ſaith the Lord God? ſhall he not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

24 Agayne, if the righteous turne from his righteouſneſſe, and do iniquitie, and ſhall do accordyng to all the abhominations that the wicked man doth, ſhal he liue? al the righteouſneſſe that he hath done, ſhal not be remembred, but in his tranſgreſſion that he hath committed, in his ſinne that he hath ſinned, in them he ſhal dye.

25 And yet ye ſay, The way of the Lorde is not (d) indifferent. Heare therfore ye houſe of Iſrael, is not my way equal? or are not your wayes father vnequal?

d. In puniſhing the fathers with the children.

26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteouſneſſe, and committeth iniquitie, and dyeth in the ſame: in his iniquitie whiche he hath committed, ſhall he dye.

27 Agayne: when the wicked turneth away from his wickedneſſe that he hath done and doth iudgement and ryght, he ſhall ſaue his ſoule aliue.

28 Bycauſe hee "ſeeth, and turneth away & from al his iniquitie that he hath committed he ſhall ſurely liue, and not dye. "Conſider or remember his iniquitie.

29 And yet, ſayth the houſe of Iſrael, The way of the Lord is not equal. Are my ways vnequal, O ye houſe of Iſrael? are not your wayes rather vnequal?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, euery man accordyng to his wayes, O ye houſe of Iſrael, ſayth the Lord: returne, and bring your ſelues agayne from all your wickednelle, ſo iniquitie ſhall not be your deſtruction.

31 Caſt away frō you al your tranſgreſſions whereby ye haue tranſgreſſed, and make you a newe hart, and a newe ſpirite: for why will ye dye, O ye houſe of Iſrael?

32 Seeing I haue no pleaſure in the death of him that dyeth, ſayth the Lorde God, bring agayne your ſelues then, and ye ſhal liue.

The.xix. Chapter.

2. The captiuitie of Iehohas and Iehoakim is ſignified by the Lions whelpes, and by the Lion. 20. He ſetteth out the proſperitie of the citie of Ieruſalem that is paſt, and the miſerie thereof that is preſent.

3 One of hir whelpes ſhe brought vp, and it became a Lion, it learned to catche the pray, and to deuour folke.

4 The (b) heathen heard of him, and caught him in their ſnare, and brought him in hookes vnto the lande of Egypt.

5 Now when ſhe ſawe that ſhe had wayted, and hir hope was loſt, ſhe toke another (c) of hir whelpes, and made a Lion of him,

6 Whiche went among the Lions, and became a fierce Lion, learned to catche the pray and to deuour folke:

7 He deſtroyed their palaces, and made their cities waſt, in ſo much that the whole lande and euery thing therein, were vtterly deſolate through the voyce of his roaring.

8 Then ſet the (d) heathen together on euery ſyde of the countreyes againſt him, layde their nettes for him, and toke him in their pit.

9 So they put him in priſon in chaynes, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they put him in holdes, that his voyce ſhould no more be heard vpon the mountaynes of Iſrael.

The.xx. Chapter.

3. The Lorde denieth that he will aunsweare them when they pray, for the offence of vnkindnesse whiche he here obiecteth. 33. He promiseth that his people shall returne from captiuitie. 46. By the forrest that shoulde be burnt, is signified the burning of Hierusalẽ.

1 IN the (a) seuenth yeare, the tenth day of the fifth moneth, certayne of the elders of Israell came for to aske counsayle at the Lorde, and sate downe before me.

2 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, saying,

3 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto the elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Are ye come to enquire of me? As truely as I liue, I wil not be (b) sought of you, sayth the Lorde God.

4 Wilt thou not iudge them sonne of man, wilt thou not iudge (them:) cause thẽ to vnderstand the abominations of theyr fathers,

5 And tell them, Thus saith the Lorde God, In the day when I chose Israel, and (c) lyft vp myne hand vpon the seede of the house of Iacob, and was knowen vnto them in the lande of Egypt, yea when I lift vp myne hande ouer them, and sayde, I am the Lorde your God:

6 Euen in the daye that I lifte vp myne hande vnto them, to bryng them out of the lande of Egipt, into a lande that I had prouided for them, whiche floweth with mylke and hony, and is pleasaunt among all other landes:

7 Then sayde I vnto them, Cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idols of Egypt: for I am the Lorde your God.

8 But they rebelled agaynst me, and would not hearken vnto me, they did not cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, neither dyd they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I sayde I would powre out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplishe my wrath vpon them, yea euen in the middest of the lande of Egypt.

9 And I wrought for my names sake, that it should not be polluted before the Heathen among whom they were, to whom I was manifestly knowen, in brynging them forth of the lande of Egypt.

10 Now when I had caused them to goe out of the lande of Egypt, and brought them into the wildernesse:

11 I gaue them my statutes, and shewed the my iudgements: whiche who so dothe, shall lyue in them. Rom.10.a. Galat.3.b.

12 I gaue them also my Sabboth dayes, to be a token betwirt me and them, and therby to know that I am the Lorde, which halow them. Leuit.18.a. Exod.20.b.

13 And yet the house of Israell rebelled against me in the wildernesse, they would not walke in my statutes, they haue caste away my iudgements, whiche who so dothe, shall liue in them, and my Sabboth dayes haue they greatly polluted: then I sayd, I would powre out mine indignation vpon them, and consume them in the wildernesse. Num.14.d.

14 And I wrought for my names sake, lest it should be defiled before ỹ Heathen, in whose sight I brought them out. C

15 Yet neuertheless I lift vp my hande vnto them in the wildernesse, that I would not bryng them into the lande whiche I gaue them, that floweth with milke and hony, and is a pleasure of all landes:

16 And that bycause they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue defiled my Sabbothes: for theyr harte was gone after their idols.

17 Neuertheless, myne eye spared them, so that I would not destroy them, nor consume them in the wildernesse.

18 Moreouer, I sayd vnto their sonnes in the wildernesse, Walke not in the statutes of your (d) fathers, keepe not their iudgements, and defile not your selues with their idols.

19 I am the Lorde your God, walke in my statutes, keepe my iudgemẽts, and do them.

20 Halowe my Sabbothes, for they are a token betwirt me & you: that ye may knowe, how that I am the Lorde your God.

21 Notwithstanding, their sonnes rebelled agaynst me also, they walked not in my statutes,

22 Neuertheleſſe, I withdrewe my hande, & wrought for my names ſake, leſt it ſhoulde be defyled in the ſight of the Heathen, before whom I had brought them forth.

23 I lyft vp my hande to them alſo in the wilderneſſe, that I woulde ſcatter them among the Heathen, and ſtrawe them among the nations:

24 Bycauſe they had not kept my iudgemẽts, but caſt alyde my ſtatutes, and broken my Sabbothes, and their eyes were after theyr fathers idoles.

c. Bycauſe they woulde not obey my lawſe, I gaue them vp to themſelues, that they ſhuld obey their own fantaſyes, as verſe. 39. Rom. 1. d.

28 For after I had brought them into the land, for the whiche I lifted vp my hande to giue it vnto them, when they ſaw euery high hil, and al thicke trees, they offered there their ſacrifices, & there they preſented their offering of (g) anger, ther alſo they made their ſweete ſauours, and poured out their wine offrings.

31 For when ye offer your giftes, and make your ſonnes to paſſe through the fyre, you are polluted with all your idols vnto this day: ſhall I aunſwere you when I am aſked, O houſe of Iſrael? As I liue, ſaith the Lorde God, I will not be ſought of you.

32 And (that which) commeth into your minde, ſhal not be at al, which you ſay, We will be as the Gentiles, as the kynredes of countreys, to ſerue wood and ſtone.

38 And I wil "purge out of you the rebels, and them that tranſgreſſe againſt me, & bring them out of the lande of their habitation: as for the lande of Iſrael they ſhall not come in it, that you may knowe howe that I am the Lorde.

" or, rid.

39 As for you, O houſe of Iſrael, thus ſayth the Lorde God, Goe you and ſerue euery man his idols, ſeeing that ye obey not me: & pollute no more my holy name with your giftes and your idols.

40 For vpon my holy hyl, euen vpon the high hyl of Iſrael, ſayth ỳ Lord God, ſhall all ỳ houſe of Iſrael, and all that is in the lande worſhip me: and in the ſame place will I fauour them, and there will I require your heaue offerings, and the fyrſtlings of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your ſwete ſauour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you togither out of the landes wherein ye haue bin ſcattered, that I may be halowed in you before the Heathen.

42 And ye ſhall knowe that I am the Lord, when I ſhall bring you into the lande of Iſrael, into the lande for the which I lift vp my hande to giue it vnto your fathers.

43 There ſhall ye cal to remembraunce your owne wayes, and all your workes wherein ye haue bin defiled, and ye ſhall be cut off in your (l) owne ſight, for all your wickednelle that ye haue done.

l. Your owne conſcience ſhall condẽne you as worthy to be cut off from the earth.

45 Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying, 46 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face towarde the way of Themanah, & drop thy word) towarde the (m) South, and prophecie toward the forreſt of the South fielde.

m. That is toward Ieruſalem and Iudea which was South from Babylon.

48 And al fleſh ſhal ſee that I the Lord haue kindled it, and it ſhal not be quenched.

49 Then ſayde I, Ah Lorde God, they ſay of me, Doth not he ſpeake (o) parables?

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face toward Hieruſalem, and (a) dꝛop (thy worde) toward the holy places, and prophecie agaynſt the lande of Iſrael.

3 Say to the lande of Iſraell, thus ſayth the lord, Behold I am againſt thee, & wil dꝛaw my ſworde out of the ſheath, and cut of from thee both the (b) righteous and the wicked.

4 Seyng then that I will cut of from thee both the righteous and the wicked: therefoꝛe ſhal my ſworde goe out of his ſheath againſt al fleſhe from the (c) South to the Noꝛth,

5 That al fleſhe may know how that I the Lorde haue dꝛawen my ſworde out of the ſheath, and it ſhal not be put in agayne.

6 Mourne therefoꝛe, O thou ſonne of man, yea, (euẽ) with the (d) breaking of thy loynes, mourne bitterly in their preſence.

7 And if they ſay vnto thee, Wherefoꝛe mourneſt thou? Then tel them, Foꝛ the (e) tidings that commeth all hartes ſhal melt, al handes ſhal be letten downe, all ſtomackes ſhall faynt, and al knees ſhal (f) goe as water: beholde it cõmeth, and ſhal be bꝛought to paſſe, ſayth the Lorde God.

8 Agayne, the woꝛde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

9 Thou ſonne of man, prophecie and ſpeake, thus ſayth the Lorde God, Speake, The ſworde, the ſworde is ſharpened, and wel furbiſhed.

10 Sharpened is it to make a great ſlaughter, and furbiſhed that it may glitter: Shall we then make mirth? It contemneth the (g) rodde of my ſonne (as) (h) all other trees.

11 He hath gyuen it to be furbiſhed, to holde it in the hand: this ſwoꝛde is ſharpened, and furbiſhed, to gyue it into the hande of the (i) ſlayer.

12 Crye and houle ſonne of man, foꝛ it commeth vpon my people (it commeth) vpon all the pꝛinces of Iſraell: the terrours of the ſwoꝛde ſhal be vpon my people, ſmyte therefoꝛe thou vpon thy thigh.

13 Bicauſe it is a trial: and what if (k) it contemne the rodde? It ſhal be no moꝛe, ſayth the Lorde.

14 Pꝛophecie thou ſonne of man, & ſmite thy (l) handes together, & let the ſwoꝛde be doubled thꝛiſe, (euen) the ſwoꝛde of the greate ſlaughter, entring into their pꝛiuie chãbers, 15 To make them faynt at the hartes, and to multiply their falles, in al their gates haue I giuen the terrour of the ſwoꝛde: Ah it is made bꝛight, and dꝛeſſed foꝛ the ſlaughter.

16 Get thee (m) one way oꝛ other, eyther vpon the right hande, oꝛ vpon the left, whither ſoeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will ſmyte my handes together alſo, and make my wꝛathfull indignation to reſt: euen I the Lorde haue ſayde it.

18 The woꝛde of the Lorde came yet vnto me agayne, ſaying, 19 Thou ſonne of man, appoynt thee two (n) waies, that the ſwoꝛde of the king of Babylon may come: Bothe theſe wayes ſhall goe out of one lande, and chooſe thee a place, at the head of the citie wayes chooſe it.

20 Appoint a way, that the ſwoꝛde may come towarde Rabbath of the Ammonites, and towarde (o) Iuda in the defenced Hieruſalem.

21 Foꝛ the kyng of Babylon ſtoode at the (p) partyng of the wayes, at the head of the two wayes, conſultyng by diuination, he made his arrowes bꝛight, conſulted with images, and lookt in the liuer.

22 At his right hande was the ſoothſaying foꝛ Hieruſalem, to appoynt captaynes, to open (their) mouth to the ſlaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with the alarum, to ſet battlerãmes againſt the gates, to caſt a bulwarke, (and) to buylde a foꝛt.

23 And it ſhall be vnto them as a falſe diuination in their ſight, foꝛ the (q) othes made vnto them: but (r) he wyll call to remembꝛance their iniquitie, to the intent they may be taken.

24 Therefoꝛe, thus ſayth the Lorde God, Bicauſe ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembꝛed in diſcouerynge your tranſgreſſions, ſo that in all your woꝛkes your ſinnes might appeare, bicauſe ye are come to remẽbꝛaunce, ye ſhal be taken by hande.

3. The worde of the Lorde againſt Hieruſalem for manſlaughter, and denying due honour to their fathers and mothers, and other wickedneſſes. 25. Of the wicked doctrine of the falſe prophetes and prieſtes, and of their vnſatiable couetouſneſſe. 27. The tyrannie of rulers. 29. The wickedneſſe of the people.

1 Moꝛeouer, the woꝛde of the Lorde came vnto me, and ſayde,

2 Thou ſonne of mā, wilt thou not (a) iudge, wilt thou not iudge this blouddy citie? wilt thou not ſhew hyꝛ al hyꝛ abominations?

3 And tell them, thus ſayth the Lorde God, The citie ſheddeth bloud in ẏ middeſt of it, that hyꝛ (b) tyme may come, and maketh idols (c) againſt hyꝛ ſelfe, to defile hyꝛ ſelfe.

4 Thou haſte made thy ſelfe gyltie in the bloud that thou haſt ſhed, and defiled thee in the idols whiche thou haſt made: thou haſte cauſed thy dayes to dꝛawe nighe, and made the tyme of thy yeares to come: therfoꝛe wil I make thee a reꝛpoche among the Heathen, and to be a mockyng in all landes.

5 Whether they be nigh, oꝛ farre from thee, they ſhall laugh thee to ſcoꝛne, thou that haſt gotten thee ſo foule a name, and art full of trouble.

6 Beholde the rulers of Iſraell, euery one in thee (was ready) to his powꝛer to ſhed bloud.

7 In thee haue they deſpiſed father and mother, in thee haue they oppꝛeſſed the ſtranger, in thee haue they vexed the widdowe and the fatherleſſe. B

8 Thou haſte deſpiſed my holy things, and defiled my Sabbothes.

9 "Tale tellers are there in thee to ſhedde bloud, in thee are ſuche as eate vpon the hils, and in thee they commit abomination. "or, picke thanks.

10 In thee they diſcouer their fathers ſhame, in thee they haue humbled hyꝛ that was ſet apart foꝛ pollution. Leui. 18.

12 Yea gyftes haue bene receyued in thee to ſhedde bloud, thou haſt taken vſurie and encreaſe, thou haſte oppꝛeſſed thy neyghbours by extoꝛtion, and foꝛgotten me, ſayth the Lorde God.

13 Beholde, I haue (d) ſmitten my handes vpō thy couetouſneſſe that thou haſt vſed, & vpon the bloud whiche hath bene ſhed in thee. d. As ſcorning and laughting their wickedneſſe: in token of his wrath & vengeaunce.

14 Is thy harte able to endure? oꝛ may thy handes be ſtrengthened in the dayes that I ſhal haue to do with thee? Euen I the Lorde that ſpeake it, wyll bꝛyng it alſo to paſſe. C

15 I wyll ſcatter thee among the Heathen, & ſtꝛaw thee about in the landes, and wil cauſe thy filthyneſſe to (e) ceaſſe out of thee. e. I wil take away the occaſiō of thy wickedneſſe.

16 Yea and thou ſhalt be thyne (f) owne inheritaunce in the ſight of the Heathen, that thou mayeſt know that I am the Lorde. f. Where before thou waſt Gods inheritāce, now thou ſhalt be left in thy ſelfe miſerable and forſaken.

17 And the woꝛde of the Lorꝺ came vnto me, ſaying,

18 Thou ſonne of man, the houſe of Iſrael is vnto me as dꝛoſſe: all they are bꝛaſſe, tinne, iron, and leade in the middeſt of the furnace, euen dꝛoſſe of ſiluer are they.

19 Therfoꝛe, thus ſayth the Lorde God, Foꝛaſmuch as ye all are turned into dꝛoſſe, therfoꝛe beholde, I will bꝛyng you together vnto Hieruſalem.

20 Lyke as they gather ſiluer, bꝛaſſe, iron, tinne, & lead into the middeſt of the furnace, and the fire is blowen there vnder to melt them: euen ſo will I gather you in mine anger and in my wꝛath, and let you remaine (there) and cauſe you to (g) melt. g. Meaning thereby that the godly ſhoulde be tried, & the wicked deſtroyed.

21 I will bꝛyng you together, and blowe the fire of my wꝛath vpon you, and you ſhal be molten in the middeſt thereof.

22 Lyke as the ſyluer is molten in the furnace, D nace, so shall ye also be molten therein, that ye may know howe that I the Lorde haue poured my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying:

24 Thou sonne of man, tell hir, Thou art an vncleane lande, which is not (h) rayned vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a (i) conspiracie of hir prophetes in the middest thereof: as a roaring Lyon, rauening his praye, they deuoure soules, they haue taken the riche and precious thynges, they haue made hir many widdowes in the middest therof.

26 Hir Priestes haue broken my lawe, and defiled my holy thinges, they put no difference betweene the holye and vnholy, neyther discerne they betweene the cleane and vncleane: they turne their eyes from my Sabothes, and I am defyled among them.

27 Thy rulers in thee are like Wolues rauening the praye, to sheade bloud, and destroye soules, for their owne couetous lucre.

28 As for hir (k) prophetes, they daube wyth vntempered morter, they see vanities, & diuine lies vnto them, saying, The Lord sayeth so: where as the Lorde hath not spoken.

29 The people in the lande vseth wicked extortion and robberie, they vexe the poore and needye, and oppresse the straunger agaynst ryghte.

30 And I sought among them for a manne that woulde (l) make vp the hedge, and set himselfe in the gap before mee in the landes behalfe, that I should not destroye it: but I coulde fynde none.

31 Therfore haue I poured out my cruel displeasure vpon them, and consumed them in the fyre of my wrath: their owne ways wil I recompence vpon their heades, sayeth the Lord God.

The.xxiij.Chapter.

4. Of the fornication, that is to say, of the idolatrie of Samaria and Hierusalem, vnder the name of Aholah & Aholibah. 11. In cõparison of Samaria, he sheweth that the fornication of Hierusalem is the filthier. 22. The destruction of Hierusalem is prophecied. 36. The adulterie of both the whoores is found out. 47. Their destruction.

1 THe worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying:

2 Thou sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of (a) one mother:

3 And they committed fornication in (b) Egypt, they played the harlots in their youth: there were their breastes pressed, and there they bruised the teates of their virginitie.

4 The (c) names of them (were) Aholah the elder, and Aholibah hir sister, and they were myne, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus (were) their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Hierusalem Aholibah.

5 Aholah played the harlot (d) when she was myne, and she was set on fyre with hir louers the Assyrians hir neighbours.

6 Whiche were clothed wyth blewe silke, (both) captayns & princes, they were al pleasant yong men, and horsemen ryding vpon horses.

7 Thus she committed hir whoredome with them (beeing) all chosen men of Ashur, and with all, on whome she doted, and defiled hir selfe with all their idolles.

8 Neyther lefte she the fornication that shee vsed with the Egyptians: for in hir youthe they (e) laye with hir, they bruised the breastes of hir maydenhead, and poured their whoredome vpon hir.

9 Wherefore I deliuered hir into the handes of hir louers, (euen) into the handes of the Assyrians, vpon whom she doted.

10 These discouered hir shame, toke hir sonnes and daughters, and slewe hir with the sworde, an euill name had she among women: for (f) they hadde executed iudgement vpon hir.

11 Hir sister Aholibah saw this, and destroyed hir selfe with inordinate loue more than she, and with hir fornications, more than hir syster with hir fornications.

12 She doted vpon the Assyrians captaynes and princes hir neyghbors, clothed with all maner of gorgeous apparel, horsmen riding vpon horses, being al pleasant yong men.

13 Then I sawe that she was defiled, and they toke bothe one way.

14 But she encreased still in whoredome: for when she sawe (g) men paynted vppon the wall, the images of the Chaldees paynted with vermilion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon theyr loynes, and with dyed attyre vpon their heads, loking all lyke Princes, after the manner of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the lande where they were borne.

16 As sone as she sawe them, she burnte in loue vpon them, and sente messengers vnto them into the lande of the Chaldees.

17 Now when the Babylonians came vnto hir in the bed of loue, they defiled hir with their whoredome: and so was she polluted with them, & hir lust was abated frõ them,

18 And she discouered hir whoredome, & disclosed hir shame: then my heart forsoke hir, lyke as my hart was gone frõ hir sister also.

20 She burnt in luſt vpon their concubines, whoſe fleſhe was lyke the fleſhe of Aſſes, and their iſſue lyke the iſſue of hoꝛſſes.

D 21 Thus thou haſte called to remembꝛaunce the filthineſſe of thy youth, when thy teates were bꝛuiſed by the Egyptians, foꝛ the pappes of thy youth.

22 Theꝛefoꝛe O Aholibah, thus ſayeth the Lozd GOD, I will ꝛayſe vp thy louers agaynſt thee, from whonne thy heart is departed, and gather them togethꝛ agaynſte thee on euery ſyde, 23 (Namely) the Babylonians, and all the Chaldees, rulers, welthy and mightie men, with all the Aſſyrians, all pleaſaunt young men, captaynes, and pꝛinces, all valyaunt and renoumed, riding vpon hoꝛſes.

24 They ſhall come vpon thee with charets, wagons, and wheeles, and greate multitude of people, with buckler, ſhield, and helmet, they ſhall beſet thee on euery ſyde "I will giue iudgement befoꝛe them, yea they themſelues ſhall iudge thee accoꝛdyng to their owne iudgement.

25 I will laye myne indignation vpon thee, ſo that they ſhal deale cruelly with thee: they ſhall cutte off thy noſe and thyne eares, and thy remnant ſhall fall by the ſwoꝛde, they ſhall carie away thy ſonnes and daughters, and the reſidue ſhal be deuoured by the fyre.

26 They ſhall ſtrippe thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickedneſſe to ceaſſe from thee, and thy foꝛnication out of the land of Egypt: ſo that thou ſhalt turne thyne eyes no moꝛe after them, and caſt thy mynde no moꝛe vpon Egypt.

E 28 Foꝛ thus ſayth the Lozde God, Behold, I wil deliuer thee into the hands of the whom thou hateſt, yea euen into the handes of them from whom thyne hart is departed.

29 And they ſhall deale hatefully with thee, and take awaye all thy (h) labour, and leaue thee naked and bare, and the ſhame of thy foꝛnications (i) ſhall be diſcouered, both thy wickedneſſe and thy whoꝛedome.

30 I will do theſe things vnto thee, bicauſe thou haſt gone a whoꝛing after the Heathen, & bicauſe thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou haſt walked in the way of thy ſiſter, theꝛfoꝛe will I giue hir cup in thyne hande.

32 Thus ſayth the Lozde God, Thou ſhalte dꝛynke of thy ſyſters cup, deepe and large, thou ſhalt be laughed to ſcoꝛne, and had in deriſion, bicauſe it conteyneth muche.

33 Thou ſhalt be filled with (k) dꝛunkenneſſe and ſoꝛowe (euen) with the cup of deſtruction and deſolation, with the cup of thy ſyſter Samaria.

34 Thou ſhalt dꝛinke it, and ſucke it out, and thou ſhalt bꝛeake the ſheardes theꝛeof, and teare thyne owne bꝛeaſtes: foꝛ I haue ſpoken it, ſayth the Lozde God.

35 Theꝛefoꝛe thus ſayth the Lozd God, Foꝛaſmuch as thou haſte foꝛgotten me, and caſt me alyde behynde thy backe, ſo beare nowe thyne owne wickedneſſe and whoꝛedome.

36 The Lozd ſayd moꝛeouer vnto me, Thou ſon of man, wilt thou not iudge Ahola and Aholiba? ſhewe them theyꝛ abhominatiõs:

37 (Namely) that they haue bꝛoken their wedlocke, and blond is in their handes: & with their idolles haue they committed adulterie, and haue alſo cauſed theyꝛ ſonnes whome they bare vnto mee, to paſſe (by the fyre) to be their (l) meate.

38 Ye and this haue they done vnto me alſo, they haue defyled my ſanctuarie in the ſame day, and haue pꝛophaned my Sabothes.

39 Foꝛ when they had ſlayne their chyldꝛen foꝛ their idols, they came the ſame daye into my ſanctuarie to defile it: and loe thus haue they done in my houſe.

40 And bowe muche moꝛe (is it) that they ſente foꝛ men to come from (m) farre, vnto whome a meſſanger was ſente, and lo they came? foꝛ whome thou diddeſt waſhe thy ſelfe, and paynted thyne eyes, and deckedſt thee with oꝛnamentes.

41 Thou ſatteſt vpon a ſtately bed, and a (n) table ſpꝛead befoꝛe it, whereupon thou haſte ſet myne incenſe and myne oyle, 42 And a noyſe of a merie companie at "it and with the men, beſyde the multitude of the people, were bꝛought men of Saba out of the deſart, which gaue them bꝛaceletes vpon their handes, and beautifull cꝛownes vpon their heades.

43 And I ſayde vnto hir that was woꝛne in hir adulteries, Nowe ſhall hir foꝛnications come to an ende, and ſhe alſo.

44 And they went in to hir as they go vnto a cõmon harlot: euen ſo wente they (I ſay) to Aholah and Aholibah, thoſe wicked women.

45 And the righteous men, they ſhal iudge them after the maner of harlottes, and after the maner of murderers: foꝛ they are harlottes, and blond is in their handes.

46 Wheꝛefoꝛe, thus ſaith the Lozd God, I wil bꝛing a great multitude of people vpon the, and giue them to be ſcattered and ſpoyled: Ezech. 16.

47 And the multitude ſhall ſtone them with ſtones, and cutte them downe wyth theyꝛ ſwoꝛds, they ſhal ſlay their ſons & daughters

The.xxiiij. Chapter.

3. He proueth the firyng of Hierusalem by a parable of a seethyng pot. 16. The parable of Ezechiels wyfe beyng dead, whiche he after expoundeth.

1 IN the (a) nienth yeare, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the (b) moneth, came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 O thou sonne of man, write the name of this day, yea euen of this present day: for the kyng of Babylon set himselfe agaynst Hierusalem this selfe same day.

3 Shewe the rebellious house a parable, and speake vnto them, thus sayth the Lord God, Prepare a (c) pot, set it on, and powre water into it.

4 Gather the (d) peeces thereof into it, euery good peece, the thigh, and the shoulder, and fil it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, and a heape of (e) bones vnder it: let it boyle wel, and let the bones thereof seeth well therein.

6 With that sayde the Lorde God on this maner, Wo vnto the blouddy citie, to the pot whose (f) scumme is therin, & whose scumme is not gone out of it: bryng it out (g) peece by peece, let no (h) lot fall vpon it.

7 For hyr bloud is yet in it, vpon a hygh (i) dyze stone hath she powred it: & not vpon the ground, that it might be couered with dust:

8 That it might cause wrath to aryse, & take vengeaunce: I haue set hir bloud vpō a high dzie rocke, that it should not be couered.

9 Wherefore, thus sayth the Lorde God, O wo be vnto the bloudthirstie citie, for whom euen I my selfe will make a great fire,

10 And set much wood, and (k) kindle the fire, and seeth the flesshe, and spice the pot, so that the very bones shal be brent.

11 Moreouer, I wil set the pot emptie vpō the coales, so that the brasse therof may be hote & burnt, & the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and the scumme of it shal be consumed.

12 She hath wered hyr selfe with labour, yet hyr great scumme is not gone off hyr, in the fire hyr scumme (must be consumed.)

13 In thy filthynesse is wickednesse: bicause I (l) would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged from thy filthinesse, thou shalt not be purged any-more, till I haue caused mine indignation to rest in thee.

14 Euen I the Lorde haue spoken it: yea it is come thereto already that I wil do it, I wil not go backe, I will not spare, I will not repent: but accordyng to thy wayes and imaginations, shal they (m) iudge thee, sayth the Lorde God.

15 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, beholde, I wyll take away from thee the (n) pleasure of thine eyes with a plague, yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neyther shall thy teares runne downe.

17 Mourne in silence, make no (o) mourning of the dead, binde the tyre of thy head vpon thee, and put on thy shoes vpon thy feete, couer not thy lippes, & (p) eate no mans bread.

18 So I spake vnto the people betimes in the morning, and at euen my wyfe died: then vpon the next morow I did as I was commaunded.

19 And the people sayde vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what this signifieth towarde vs, that thou doest so?

20 I aunswered them, The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

21 Tell the house of Israell, thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will (q) pollute my sanctuarie, euen the glorie of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, & your hartes delight: and your sonnes, and daughters, whom ye haue left, shall fall through the swoorde.

22 Lyke as I haue done, so shall ye do also: ye shal not couer your lippes, ye shal eate no mans bread.

23 And your tyre (shal be) vpon your heades, and your shoes vpon your feete: ye shal neyther mourne nor weepe, but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and mourne one towardes another.

24 Thus Ezechiel is your shewtoken, accordyng to all that he hath done, ye shall do: when it commeth, then ye shall knowe that I am the Lorde God.

25 Also thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take frō them their power, the ioy of their honour, the pleasure of theyr eyes, and the (r) lyfting vp of their soules, theyr sonnes, and their daughters, 26 In that day shal come one that is escaped, vnto thee, (and bring it) to the (s) hearyng of (thyne) eares.

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, that thou mayest speak, and be no more dumbe: yea thou shalte be their shewtoken, that they may know howe that I am the Lorde.

The.xxv. Chapter.

1. The worde of the Lorde vpon the ſonnes of Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Hieruſalem. 8. Againſt Moab and Seir, againſt Idumea, againſt the Philiſtines.

A 1 The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face towarde the Ammonites, and prophecie vpon them,

3 And ſay vnto the Ammonites: heare the worde of the Lord God, thus ſayth the Lord God, For ſomuch as thou ſaydeſt (a) Haha ouer my ſanctuarie, bycauſe it was polluted, and ouer the lande of Iſraell, bycauſe it was deſolate, and ouer the houſe of Juda, bycauſe they went into captiuitie:

4 Beholde therefore, I wyll deliuer thee to the people of the (b) Eaſt that they may haue thee in poſſeſſion: theſe ſhall ſettle their (c) palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee, they ſhall eate thy fruyte, and drynke vp thy mylke.

5 As for (d) Rabbath, I wil make of it a ſtable for cămels, & of the Ammonites a ſheepefolde: & ye ſhal know that I am the Lorde.

6 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, Inſomuch as thou haſt clapped with thyne handes, and ſtamped with thy feete, yea and reioyced ouer the lande of Iſraell with al thy "deſpite in hart:

B 7 Behold therfore, I wil ſtretch out my hād ouer thee, and deliuer thee to be ſpoyled of the heathen, and rote thee out from among the people, & cauſe thee to periſh out of the lands: yea I wyll make thee to be deſtroyed, that thou mayeſt know that I am the Lorde.

8 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, Forſomuche as Moab and Seir, do ſay, Behold, the houſe of Juda is lyke as all Gentiles be:

9 Therfore beholde, I wyll open the ſide of Moab from the cities, from his cities (I ſay) of his frontiers, the pleaſures of the countrey, (as namely) Bethieſimoth, Baalmeon, and Kiriathaim:

10 (e) Unto the children of the Eaſt, againſt ỳ Ammonites, and wil giue it into poſſeſſion, ſo that the Ammonites ſhall no more be had in remembrance among the Heathen.

11 And I will execute iudgements vppon Moab, and they ſhall knowe that I am the Lorde.

12 Thus ſayth the Lorde God: For that Edom hath done in auengyng reuengement vpon the houſe of Juda, and hath done great offence, and auenged himſelf vpon them:

13 Therfore, thus ſayth the Lord God, I will reache out my hande vpon Edom, & deſtroy man and beaſt out of it, I will make it deſolate from Theman, and Dedanah ſhall fall by the ſworde.

14 And I will execute my reuengement vpō Edom by the hande of my people Iſraell, they ſhal do in Edō according to my wrath and indignation, ſo that they ſhal know my vengeaunce, ſayth the Lorde God.

15 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, for that the Philiſtines did in vengeaunce, (namely) in auengyng reuengement, with a deſpitefull hart to deſtroy it for the olde enmitie:

16 Therefore thus ſayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will ſtretch out my hande ouer the Philiſtines, & deſtroy ỳ (f) Cerethites, & cauſe all the remnaunt of the ſea coaſt to periſhe:

17 A great vengeaunce wil I take vpō them, with puniſhmentes of my wrath, that they may knowe that I am the Lorde, when I ſhall lay my vengeaunce vpon them.

a. Bycauſe ye reioyced when the enimie deſtroyed my citie and temple.

b. That is, to the Babiloniās

c. They ſhall chaſe thee away, and take thy gorgeous houſes to dwel in.

d. Called alſo Philadelphia, which was the chiefe citie of the Ammonites & full of conduites as, 2. Reg. 12. d.

"or, tickling of hart.

c. Vnderſtand out of the next verſe, I wil open. &c.

The.xxvi. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth that Tyrus ſhal be ouerthrowen, bycauſe it reioyced at the deſtruction of Hieruſalem. 15. The wondring and aſtoniſhment of the marchaunts for the deſolation of Tyrus.

A 1 And it came to paſſe in the (a) eleuenth yeare, the firſte day of the moneth, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, bycauſe that Tyre hath ſpoken vpon Hieruſalem, Ha ha, the gates of the people is broken, (b) it is turned vnto me, for nowe that ſhe is deſtroyed, I ſhal be (c) filled:

3 Therefore, thus ſayth the Lorde God, Behold, O Tyre, I wyll vpon thee, I will rayſe vp many nations againſt thee, like as when the ſea aryſeth with his waues.

4 They ſhal breake the walles of Tyre, and caſt downe hyr towres, I wyll ſcrape hyr duſt from hyr, and make hyr a drye rocke.

5 She ſhal be for a ſpreadyng of nets in the ſea, for I haue ſpoken it, ſayth the Lord God, and ſhe ſhalbe for a ſpoyle to the nations.

6 (d) Hyr daughters that are in the field ſhal be ſlayne with the ſworde, that they may know how that I am the Lorde.

7 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, Behold, I will bryng vpon Tyrus, Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon from the North, a kyng of kings, with horſes, charrettes, horſemen, with a multitude, and much people.

8 Thy daughters that are in the field ſhal be ſlay with the ſworde: but againſt thee he ſhal make bulwarkes, and caſt a mount againſt thee, and lift vp his ſpeare againſt thee.

9 He ſhall ſet engyns of warre before hym againſt

a. Either of the capitaine of Ieconias of the raigne of Zedekias.

b. The traffique of marchaundiſe that was vſed in Hieruſalem, ſhal be turned to my gayne.

c. My riches and fame ſhal encreaſe thus the wickednes ioyce at their fal, by whom they may haue any profite or aduauntage.

d. Meaning the ſmall townes & villages that were in the countrey or territorie of Tyrus.

"or, tickling hart, as the often haue ſwhiche were in ſeeking garniſons of Philiſtines whereby oft moleſted the Iewes. the Cerethites Dauid alſo a garde. 2. Reg. 11.

againſt thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The duſt of his horſes ſhall couer thee, they ſhal be ſo many: thy walles ſhall ſhake at the noyſe of the horſmen, wheeles, and chariots, when he ſhall enter into thy gates, as into the entrie of a citie broken downe.

11 With the hoofes of his horſes ſhal he treade down al thy ſtreetes, he ſhall ſlay the people with the ſword, and the pillers of thy ſtrength ſhall fall downe to the grounde.

12 They ſhall rob thy riches, and ſpoyle thy marchandiſe, thy walles ſhall they breake downe, and deſtroy thy houſes of pleaſure, thy ſtones, thy tymber, and duſte ſhall they caſt into the middeſt of the water.

Jer.7.b. 13 Thus will I cauſe the ſound of thy ſongs to ceaſſe, and the noyſe of thy harpes ſhal no more be heard.

14 I will bring thee into a dry rocke, thou ſhalt be for a ſpreading of nettes, thou ſhalt neuer be built agayne: for euen I the Lorde haue ſpoken it, ſayth the Lorde God.

15 Thus hath the Lord God ſpoken concerning Tyre: Shall not the Iles tremble at the noyſe of thy fall, and at the crye of the wounded, when they ſhall be ſlayn & murdered in the middes of thee?

a. The gouernors & rulers of other countries by the ſea whereby he ſignifieth that hir deſtruction ſhoulde be ſo horrible, that all the worlde ſhoulde heare thereof, and be afrayde.

16 All princes of the (c) ſea ſhall come downe from their throones, they ſhall lay away their robes, and put off their broidred garmentes, yea with tremblyng ſhall they bee clothed, they ſhall ſitte vppon the grounde, they ſhall be aſtonified at euery moment, and be amazed at thee.

f. Meanyng marchauntes which by their traffike did enriche hir wonderfully, and encreaſe hir power.

17 They ſhall mourne for thee, and ſay vnto thee, How art thou deſtroyed that waſt inhabited of the (f) ſeas, the renoumed Citie, which was ſtrong in the ſea, ſhe and hir inhabitantes, which cauſed their feare to be on all that haunted therein?

18 Now ſhall the inhabiters of the Iles bee aſtonished in the daye of thy fall: yea the Iles that are in the ſea ſhall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, When I make thee a deſolate Citie as other cities bee that no man dwell in, and when I bring vp the deepe vpon thee, that great waters may couer thee:

g. Which are dead long ago

20 Then will I caſt thee downe vnto them that deſcende into the pitte, vnto a people of of (g) olde tyme, and ſet thee in a lande that is beneath, lyke the olde ruines, with them whiche goe downe to the graue, ſo that no man ſhall dwell more in thee: but I will reſerue honour for the (h) land of the liuing.

h. Meaning Iudea, when it ſhall be reſtored.

21 I will make thee terrours, and thou ſhalte be no more: though thou be ſought for, yet ſhalt thou not be founde for euermore, ſayth the Lorde God.

The.xxvij. Chapter.

1. The propheté is moued to bewayle the deſolation of Tyrus. 12. Hee ſetteth oute the prayſe of Tyrus for the hauntyng of marchantes thereto.

1 THe worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying:

2 O thou ſonne of man, take vp a lamentable complaynt vpon Tyre, I

3 And ſay vnto Tyre that is ſituate at the entrie of the ſea, which is the marte of the people for many Iles, thus ſayeth the Lorde God, O Tyre, thou haſt ſaid, I am of perfect beautie.

4 Thy borders are in the middes of the ſeas, thy buylders haue made perfect thy beautie.

5 They haue made all thy (ſhippe) bordes of fyre trees of (a) Shenir, frō Libanus haue they take Cedar trees to make thee maſtes.

a. This mountaine was called Hermon, but the Amorites called it Shenir. Deut. 3. b.

6 And the Okes of Baſan to make thee ores, they haue made thy benches of Iuorie, gotten in Aſſyria, brought out of the Iles of (b) Chittim.

b. Whiche is take for Greece and Italie.

7 Fyne linnen with broydred worke out of Egypt, was ſpread ouer thee to be thy ſayle: blewe ſilke and purple oute of the Iles of Eliſhah was thy couering.

8 The inhabitoures of Sydon and Aruad were thy maryners, and thy wyſe men, O Tyre, ẏ were in thee, were thy ſhipmaſters.

c. or, Calkers, meaning that they buylt the walles of the citie, which is here ment by the ſhip. And of theſe were the buylders of Solomons temple. 3. Reg. 5. c.

9 The ancient and wiſe men of Gebal were in thee, thy (c) ſtoppers of chinkes: all ſhips of the ſea with their ſhipmen were in thee, to occupie thy marchandiſe.

d. Gammadims of Cappadocia, whiche were called Pygmeis and dwarfes, bycauſe that out of thy high towres they ſemed little.

10 The Perſes, Lydians, and Phutens were in thyne armies, thy men of warre: theſe hanged vp their ſhieldes and helmettes in thee, theſe ſet forth thyne honour.

11 They of Aruad were with thyne hoſt rounde about thy walles, and the (d) Pygmenians were thy watchemen vpon thy towres: theſe hanged vp their quiuers rounde aboute thy walles, they made thy beautie perfect.

e. By ſellyng bondmen, ſeruants, & ſlaues

12 They of Tharſis (were) thy marchauntes for the multitude of all ryches, in ſyluer, iron, tinne, and lead, whiche they brought to thy fayres.

13 Iauan, Tubal, and Meſech were thy marchantes concerning the (e) lyues of men, and they brought veſſels of braſſe for thy marchandiſe.

14 They of the houſe of Thogarma brought vnto thee at the tyme of thy marte, horſes, courſers, and mules. C

15 They of Dedan were thy marchauntes, and many Iles the marchandyſe of thy handes, and broughte thee (f) hornes, teethe, and (g) Hebenus, for preſentes.

16 They of Aram (were) thy marchantes for the multitude of thy workes, and occupied in thy faires with Emeraulds, purple, broyderd worke, fyne linnen, Coral, and pearle.

17 Juda, and the lande of Iſraell occupyed with thee, and broughte vnto thy markettes wheate of (h) Minnith and Pannag, honye, oyle, and triacle.

18 Damaſcus alſo vſed marchandyſe wyth thee, in the wyne of Helbon, and whyte woll: bycauſe thyne occupying was ſo greate, and thy wares ſo manie.

19 Dan, Janan, and Meuzal, haue broughte vnto thy markets wrought iron, Caſſia and Calanus were among thy marchandiſe.

20 They of Dedan were thy marchantes in pretious clothes for chariots.

ד 21 Arabia & al the princes of Cedar haue occupied with thee, in weathers, rammes, and goates: in theſe were they thy marchantes.

22 The marchaunttes of Seba and Rema, haue occupied alſo with thee, in all chiefe ſpices, in all precious ſtones and gold, whiche they brought vnto thy markets.

23 Haran, Chenne, and Eden, the merchants of Seba, Aſſyria, and Chelmad, were doers with thee:

24 Theſe were thy marchaunts in all ſortes (of things) in rayment of blew ſilke, and of broyderd worke, and in coffers for the riche apparel, whiche were truſſed with coardes, and Cedar bowd among thy marchandiſe.

25 The ſhippes of Tharſis were the chiefe of thyne occupying: thus thou waſt repleniſhed, and in great worſhip, euen in the middes of the ſea.

i. That is, Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon.

26 Thy rowers haue brought thee into great waters, the (i) eaſt wynde hath broken thee in the middes of the ſea.

27 Thy riches, and thy faires, thy marchandiſe, thy mariners and ſhipmaiſters, thy Calkers, and the occupiers of thy marchandyſe, and all thy men of warre that are in thee, and all thy multitude that is in the middes of thee, ſhall fall in the middes of the ſea, in the day of thy fall.

ה 28 The (k) ſuburbes ſhall ſhake at the loude crye of thy ſhipmen.

k. That is, the towns and villages nere adioyning vpon the maine lād.

29 All that handle the oze, mariners, and all ſhipmaiſters of the ſea, ſhall come downe from their ſhips, and ſtande vpon the lande.

30 And they ſhal cauſe their voice to be heard againſt thee, and ſhall crye bitterly, and ſhal caſt duſt vpon theyr heades, and wallow in the aſhes.

l. Whiche was the manner of the heathen in mournings & myſeries.

31 They ſhal (l) make themſelues bald for thee, and gird them with ſackcloth, and they ſhal weepe for thee, with ſorowfull hearte, and bitter mourning.

32 And they ſhall take vp a lamentation for thee in their mourning, and lamente ouer thee, (what citie) is lyke Tyrus ſo deſtroyed in the middes of the ſea?

33 When thy wares went forth of the ſeas, thou filledſt many people: the kings of the earth haſt thou made riche, thorow the multitude of thy riches and marchandiſe.

34 When thou ſhalt be broken by the ſeas in the depthes of the waters, thy marchandiſe and all thy multitude that was in the middes of thee, ſhall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the Iſles ſhal be aſtonied at thee, and all their kings ſhall be ſore afrayd, and troubled in their countenance.

m. Whether meaning a long time: for it was prophecied to be deſtroyed but ſeuentie yeares. Ezech. 26.

36 The marchantes of the nations ſhall hiſſe at thee: thou ſhalte be a terrour, and ſhalte (m) neuer be any more.

The. xxviij. Chapter.

1. The word of God againſt the king of Tyrus for his pride. 12. Ezechiel the prophete is moued to bewaile the king of Tyrus. 20. The worde of the Lorde againſt Sydon. 25. The Lorde promiſeth that he will gather together the children of Iſraell.

א 1 The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying:

2 Thou ſonne of man, tel the prince of Tyre, thus ſayth the Lord God, Bycauſe thou haſt a proude hearte, and haſte ſayde, I am (a) a God, I ſit in the ſeate of God, in the mids of the ſea: whereas thou art but a man, and not God (b) though thou ſet thyne heart as the heart of God.

a. Like as God is ſafe in heauen, euen ſo I am ſafe, that none ſhall come to hurt me.

b. Though thou dydeſt think in thine heart that thou waſt equall with God.

3 Beholde, thou thynkeſt thy ſelfe wyſer thā (c) Daniell, that there is no ſecretes hidde from thee.

c. Thus he ſpeaketh by deriſion, for Daniel had declared notable figures of his wiſedome in Babilon, when Ezechiel wrote this.

4 With thy wiſedome and thine vnderſtanding thou haſt gotte thee great wealthines, and gathered treaſure of ſiluer and golde.

5 With thy great wiſedome and occupying haſt thou encreaſed thy power, and bycauſe of thy great riches, thy heart is proude.

6 Therfore thus ſayth the Lorde God, Forſomuche as thou haſte ſet thine hearte as the heart of God.

ב 7 Behold, I will bring ſtrangers vpon thee, euen the terrible nations, theſe ſhall drawe out their ſwordes vppon the beautie of them be ſlayne in the middes of the ſea.

8 They ſhall caſte thee downe to the pit, ſo that thou ſhalt dye the death of them that be ſlayne in the middes of the ſea.

9 Wilt thou ſaye then before them that ſlaye thee, I am a God? where as thou art but a man man, and not God, in the hands of them that slay thee.

10 Dye shalte thou the death of the (d) vncircumcised in the hands of the straungers: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the king of Tyre, and tell him, thus saith the Lorde God, Thou sealest vp the sunne, (e) full of wisedom, & perfect beautie.

13 Thou hast bin in the pleasaunte garden of God, thou art deckt with all manner of precious stones, with Ruby, Topas, Diamond, Churkis, Onix, Jasper, Saphir, Emeralde, Carbuncle, and golde: the workmanship of thy tymbrels and of thy pypes (that be) in thee, was prepared in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art an (f) annoynted Cherub, that couereth, and I haue (g) set thee (in this dignitie) thou wast vpon the holy mount of God, thou hast walked in the middes of the (h) stones of fyre.

15 From the time of thy creation thou haste bin perfect in thy wayes, till wickednesse was found in thee.

16 By ỹ multitude of thy marchandise they haue fylled the myddes of thee with cruelties, and thou hast sinned: I will cast thee as prophane out of the (i) mount of God, and I will destroy thee, O couering Cherub from the middes of the stones of fire.

17 Thy hart was proude in thy beautie, and through thy brightnesse, thou hast destroyed thy wisedome: I will cast thee downe to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou haste defiled thy (k) sanctification with the great wickednesse of thine vnrighteous occupying: I will bring a fyre from the middes of thee to consume thee, and will make thee to ashes vpō the earth, in the sight of all them that loke vpon thee.

19 All they that haue bin acquainted with thee among the heathen, shall be abashed at thee: thou hast bin a terrour, and neuer shalte thou be any more.

20 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Thou sonne of man, set thy face againste Sidon, and prophesie vpon it,

22 And speake, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Behold O Sidon, I will vpon thee, and I will be glorified in thee: that it may be knowen how that I am the Lord, when I shall haue executed iudgements in hir, and shal be sanctified in hir.

23 For I will send pestilence and bloudshedding into hir streetes, and the slayne shall fall in the middes of hir, by the sword, (comming) vpon hir on euery side: and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

24 They shall be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israell, nor a greeuous thorne of all that are round about them and despise them: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus sayth the Lord God, When I gather the household of Israell together againe from the nations among whome they be scattered, then shall I be sanctified in them in the sight of the Gentiles, and they shall dwell in the land that I gaue to my seruant Jacob.

26 They shall dwel with confidence therein, builde houses, and plante vineyardes: yea, with confidence shall they dwell therein, when I haue executed iudgements vpon all those that despise them rounde about: and then shall they knowe that I am the Lorde their God.

The.xxix. Chapter.

1. He propheseth against Pharao, and of the desolation of Egypt, with the sparkling abroade of the Egyptians. 13. The Lord promiseth that he will restore Egypt againe after fortie yeeres. 20. Egypt is the reward of king Nabuchodonosor for the labour which he tooke against Tyrus.

1 IN the (a) tenth yeere, vpon the twelfth day of the tenth moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face againste Pharao the king of Egypt, prophesie against him, and against the whole land of Egypt.

3 Speake and tell him, thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, O Pharao thou king of Egypt, I will vpon thee thou great (b) Dragon that lieth in the middes of his riuers, thou that sayest, The riuer is mine, I haue made it for my selfe.

4 I will put (c) hookes in thy chawes, and hang the fysshe in thy riuers vpon thy skales: after that will I drawe thee out of thy riuers, yea and all the fisshe of thy riuers shall hang vpon thy skales.

5 I will leaue thee in the wildernesse (both) thee and all the fysh of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open fielde: thou shalte not be brought together, nor gathered: I haue giuen thee for meate to the beastes of the field, and to the foules of the ayre, a dragon, or Crocodile, which was wont to haunt the riuer Nilus.

c. I will send enimies against thee, which shall plucke thee and thy people that trust in thee, out of thy sure places.

1 Like the pride of the heart and infidels, which are Gods enimies.

1 He derideth the vayne opinion and conscience that the Tyrians had in their riches, strength, and fortures.

1 He meaneth the royall state of Tyrus, which for the excellēcie and glory thereof, is compareth vnto the Cherubims which couered the arke and by this worde annointed, he signifieth the same.

g. I appoynted and admitted thee to that honoure of one of the builders of my temple: which was when Hiram sent to Salomō things necessarie to the worke. 3. Reg. 5. b.

h. That is, as the common opinitours say, among my people Israel, whiche abided as precious stones.

i. Thou shalte haue no parte among my people.

k. That is, the honoure wherevnto I called thee.

a. To wit, of the captiuitie of Iechoniah, and of the raigne of Zedekia: But note that the disposition of these visions are not set foorth according to the order of the times: but according to the nearenesse and distaunce of the countries against whom they wer written. As the vision of Tyrus seene in the eleuenth yeere, is set before this, seene in the tenth yere, bycause it was nearer to Iurie than Egypt b. He compareth Pharao to

4. Reg. 18. c Eſay. 36. a.

6 That all they which dwell in Egypt may knowe that I am the Lorde, bycauſe they haue bene a ſtaffe of reede to the houſe of Iſraell.

ℵ 7 When they toke holde of thee with theyr hande, thou brakeſt and rent all theyr ſhoulder: and when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakeſt, and madeſt all their loynes to ſtande (d) vpright.

d. When they felt their hurt, they woulde ſtay no more vpon thee, but ſtoode vppon their feete, and put their truſt in others.

8 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, I wil bring a ſword vpon thee, and deſtroy out of thee both man and beaſt.

9 Yea the land of Egypt ſhal be deſolate and waſte, and they ſhall knowe that I am the Lord, bycauſe he ſayd, The riuer is mine, I my ſelfe haue made it.

10 Beholde, therefore I will vpon thee, and vppon thy riuers, I will make the lande of Egypt vtterly waſte and deſolate, from the towre of Seuench vnto the borders of (e) Ethiopia.

e. Which ſome call the land of the blacke Moores.

11 No foote of man ſhall paſſe by it, nor foote of beaſt ſhal paſſe by it, neyther ſhall it be inhabited fortie yeeres.

12 I will make the land of Egypt to be deſolate, among other waſte countries, and hir cities deſtroyed fortie yeeres among other deſtroyed cities: and I will ſcatter the Egiptians among the nations, and ſtrawe them through the countries.

13 Agayne, thus ſayeth the Lorde GOD, Jere. 46. d. When the fortie yeeres are expired, I wyll gather the Egyptians together agayne, out of the nations among whome they were ſcattered.

ℭ 14 And I wyll bring the captiuitie of Egypt agayne, and cauſe them to returne into the lande of Pathros, the land of their habitation, and they ſhall be there a (f) ſmal kingdome.

f. Meaning that they ſhuld not haue full dominion, but be vnder the Perſians, Gretians, and Romanes: and the cauſe is, that the Iſraelites ſhoulde no more, put their truſt in them, but learne to depende on God.

15 Yea it ſhall be the ſmalleſt among other kingdomes, neyther ſhall it exalt it ſelfe any more aboue the nations: for I will ſo miniſh them, that they ſhall no more rule ỹ natiõs.

16 And they ſhall be no more vnto the houſe of Iſraell a truſt, whiche bringeth their iniquitie to remembrance, when they ſhal looke after them: and they ſhall knowe that I am the Lord God.

17 In the (g) twentie and ſeuenth yeere, the firſt day of the firſt moneth, came the worde of the Lord vnto me, ſaying,

g. Counting from the captiuitie of Ieconiah.

18 Thou ſonne of man, Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, cauſed his armie to ſerue a great ſeruice agaynſt Tyrus: euery head [illegible] made balde, and euery ſhoulder bare, yet had neyther he nor his armie any wages for Tyrus, for the ſeruice whiche he ſerued againſt it.

19 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, I will giue the lande of Egypt vnto Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, that he may take away hir multitude, and ſpoyle hir ſpoyles, and take hir pray to pay his hoſt theyr wages withall.

20 For the "worke which he wrought about it, I haue giuen him the land of Egypt, bycauſe they wrought for me, ſayth the Lord God.

The. xxx. Chapter.

The deſtruction of Egypt, and of hir cities is bewayled.

1 The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ℵ ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, prophecie, and ſpeake, Thus ſayeth the Lorde God, Howle, wo worth this day.

3 For the day is neare, the day of the Lorde is at hand, the darke day, the time of the nations ſhall be.

4 And the ſworde ſhall come vpon Egypt, and feare ſhall be in Ethiopia, when the ſlayne ſhal fall in Egypt: and they ſhal take away hir multitude, and hir foundations ſhall be broken downe.

5 Yea Ethiopia, Libya, and Lidya, all theyr common people, and Chub, and all that be confederate vnto them, ſhall fall with them through the ſworde.

6 Thus ſayth the Lord, The maynteyners of the land of Egypt ſhall fall, the pride of hir powr. ſhal come downe: euen from ỹ towre of (a) Seuench ſhall they fall downe in it with the ſword, ſayth the Lord God.

a. Which was a ſtrong citie of Egypt. Ezec. 29. b

8 And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I haue ſet a fyre in Egypt, and when all hir helpers ſhall be deſtroyed.

9 In that daye ſhall meſſengers goe forthe from me in ſhippes, to make the careleſſe Mozians afrayde, and feare ſhall come vpon them, accoyding to the day of Egipt: for loe it commeth.

10 Thus ſayeth the Lorde God, I wil cauſe the multitude of Egypt to ceaſſe by ỹ hand of Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon.

11 He, and his people with him, the terrible nations ſhall be brought to deſtroy the land: they ſhall drawe out theyr ſwordes vpon

Egypt,

Egypt, and fill the land full of slayne men.
12 I will make theyr riuers drie, and sell the land into the handes of wicked people: the lande and all that is therein I will destroy through the hande of strangers: euen I the Lord haue sayd it.
13 Thus sayth the Lord God, I will destroy the idolles, and bring the images of (b) Noph to an ende: there shall no more be a prince of Egypt, and a fearefulnesse will I send into the Egyptians lande.
14 As for Pathros, I will make it desolate, and kindle a fire in (c) Zoan, and I wyl execute iudgements in (d) No.
15 And I will powre my wrathfull indignation vpon Sin the strength of Egypt, and I will destroy the multitude of No.
16 And I will kindle a fire in Egypt, Sin shall be in great trauinesse, No shall be rooted out, and Noph shall haue dayly sorowe.
17 The yong men of "Aun, and of "Phibeseth, shall fall by the sword, and these (cities) shall go into captiuitie.
18 At Thaphnehes the day shall be (e) darke, when I breake there the barres of Egypt, and when the pompe of hir power shal ceasse in hir: a cloude shal couer hir, and hir daughters shall goe into captiuitie.
19 Thus will I execute my iudgementes in Egypt, and they shal know how that I am the Lorde.
20 And in the (f) eleuenth yeere, vppon the seuenth day of the firste moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
21 Thou sonne of man, I haue (g) broken the arme of Pharao king of Egypt: and loe, it shall not be bound vp to be healed, to put a roller to binde it, to make it strong to holde the sworde.
22 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will vpon Pharao king of Egypt, and breake his arme that was strong, but is broken: and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hande.
23 As for the Egyptians, I will scatter them among the nations, and strawe them in the landes about.
24 Agayne, I will strengthen the arme of the king of Babylon, & giue him my sword in his hande: but I will breake Pharaos armes, and he shall grone the gronings of a deadly wounded man before him:
25 Yea I wyll strengthen the king of Babylons armes, and ỹ armes of Pharao shall fall downe: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shal (h) giue my sword into the hande of the king of Babylon, that he may stretche it out vpon the land of Egypt.
26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and straw them in the landes about: and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

The. xxxi. Chapter.

1. A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharao, with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10. He propheseth a lyke destruction to them both.

1 MOreouer, in the (a) eleuenth yeere, the first day of the thirde moneth, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,
2 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto Pharao king of Egypt, and to al his people: Whom art thou (b) lyke in thy greatnesse?
3 Beholde, Assur is a Cedar in Libanon, with fayre braunches, and with thicke shadowing boughes of a high stature, and hys top was among thicke boughes.
4 The waters made him great, and the deepe set him vp on high, with hir riuers running rounde about his plantes, and sente out hir (c) little riuers vnto all the trees of the fielde.
5 Therefore was he hyghet than all the trees of the fielde, and his boughes were multiplied, and his braunches were long, bycause of the multitude of the waters, whiche the deepe sent out.
6 All foules of the ayre made their nestes, in his braunches, vnder his boughes did all the beastes of the fielde bring forth their yong, and vnder his shadowe dwelte all mightie nations.
7 Beautifull was he in his greatnesse, and in the length of his braunches: for his rote stode beside great waters.
8 No Cedar tree might (d) hide him in the garden of God, there was no fyrre trees lyke his braunches, the chestnut trees were not like the boughes of him: all the trees in the garden of God, might not be compared vnto him in his beautie.
9 I made him fayre with the multitude of hys braunches: in somuch that all the trees in the pleasant garden of God had enuie at him.
10 Therefore, thus sayth the Lord God, For somuch as he hath lift vp him selfe so hygh, and hathe shot vp hys toppe among the thicke boughes, and his hart is lift vp in hys heighth:
11 I haue therefore deliuered hym into the hands of the (e) mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, (for) in his wickednesse haue I cast him away.

leues haue his boughes fallen, and hys boughes are (f) broken by all the riuers of the lande: and all the people of the earth are departed from his ſhadowe, and haue forſaken him.

13 Upon his ruine ſhall all the foules of the ayre remayne, and all the beaſtes of the fielde ſhall be vpon his branches.

14 So that none of al the trees by the waters ſhall be exalted in their heigth, nor ſhoote vp their toppes among the thicke boughes, neyther ſhal their trees ſtand in their heigth, as many of them as drinke water: for they are all deliuered vnto deathe in the neather parts of the earthe, in the middes of the chyldren of men, among them that goe downe to the pit.

15 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, In the daye when he went downe to the graue, I cauſed a lamentation to be made, I (g) couered the deepe for him, I reſtrayned the flouds therof, and the great waters were ſtayed, I cauſed Libanus to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field faynted.

16 I made the heathen ſhake at the ſounde of his fall, when I caſt hym downe to hel with them that deſcend into the pit: all the excellent trees of Eden, and the beaſt of Libanus, all that (h) drinke waters, ſhall be (i) comforted in the neather parts of the earth.

17 They alſo went downe to hell with him, vnto them that be ſlayne with the ſworde, which were his arme (and) dwelt vnder hys ſhadowe in the middeſt of the nations.

18 To whome (k) art thou thus lyke in glory and in greatneſſe among the trees of Eden? yet thou ſhalt be caſt downe with the trees of Eden vnto the neather parts of the earthe: in the middeſt of the (l) vncircumciſed ſhalte thou ſleepe with them that are ſlayne with the ſworde: This is Pharao, and all his multitude, ſayth the Lorde God.

2 Thou ſonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon Pharao the king of Egypt, and ſay vnto him, Thou art (b) like a Lion of the heathen, and as a whale fyſh in the ſea: thou draweſt out thy riuers, thou (c) troubleſt the waters with thy feete, and ſtampeſt in theyr ryuers.

4 For I will leaue thee vpon the lande, and caſt thee vpon the open fielde, and I wyll cauſe all the foules of the ayre to remayne vpon thee, and fill all the beaſtes of the fielde with thee.

5 Thy fleſh will I lay vpon the hylles, and fyll the valleyes with thy (d) highneſſe.

6 I will (e) water thine ouerflowing lande with thy bloud, euen to the mountaynes, and the riuers ſhall be full of thee.

7 When thou art (f) put out, I will couer the heauen, and make his ſtarres dimme: I will ſpread a cloude ouer the ſunne, and the moone ſhall not giue hir light.

8 All the lights of heauen wil I make darke for thee, and bring (g) darkeneſſe vppon thy land, ſayth the Lord God.

9 I will ſtirre vp to anger the harts of many people, when I bring thy deſtruction among the heathen, and vpon the countreyes which thou knoweſt not.

10 Yea I will make many people amaſed at thee, and their kings ſhall be aſtoniſhed with feare for thee, when I ſhall make my ſworde to glitter againſt their faces: and they ſhall be afrayde at euery moment, euery man for his owne lyfe in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus ſayth the Lord God, The kyng of Babylons ſworde ſhall come vpon thee:

12 With the ſwordes of the mightie will I ſmite downe thy multitude: they all ſhall be terrible nations, and they ſhall deſtroy the (h) pompe of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof ſhall be conſumed.

13 I will deſtroy alſo all the beaſtes thereof, from the great waters ſydes, neyther ſhall the foote of man trouble them any more, nor the houes of beaſtes trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters (i) deepe, and cauſe their riuers to runne lyke (k) oyle, ſayth the Lord God, 16 This is the mournyng when they ſhall lamente hir, the daughters of the nations ſhall lament hir, they ſhall make the lamentation ouer Egypt & ouer al the people therof, ſayth the Lorde God.

23 Whose graues are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude are rounde about hys graue, (to wit) all the slayne and fallen by the swoord, which cause a feare (to be) in the land of the liuing.

24 There is (p) Elam also, with all his people round about his graue: whiche all beyng slayne and fallen with the swoorde, are gone downe vncircumcised vnder the earth, which neuertheless sometime brought feare into the land of the (q) liuing: they beare theyr owne shame, with the other that be gone downe to the graue.

25 They haue made his bed in the middest of the slayne, with all hys multitude, theyr graues are rounde about him: all these vncircumcised, slayne by the swoorde, although they caused theyr feare in the lande of the liuing, yet haue they borne theyr shame with them that goe downe to the pitte, they are layde in the midst of them that are slayne.

The .xxxiij. Chapter.

He setteth out the office of the gouernours & ministers, 14. He strengthneth them that despayre, & boldneth them with the promise of mercy. 30. The word of the Lord against the remnant of the people, against the mockers of the wordes of the prophete.

1 AGayne the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, speake to ẏ children of thy people, and tell them, When I sende a swoord vpon a land, if the people of the lande take a man of their costes, and set him to be their (a) watchman:

3 If when he seeth the swoorde come vpon the land, he shall blow the trumpet and warne the people:

4 Then he that heareth the noyse of the trumpet, and will not be warned, and the swoorde come and take him away, his bloud shall be vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be warned, therefore his bloud be vpon him: but he that receyueth warning, he shall saue his life.

6 Agayne, if the watchman see the swoorde come, and blowe not the trumpet, so that the people is not warned, if the swoorde come then, and take any man from among them: the same shall be (b) taken away in his owne sinne, but his bloud will I require at the watchmans hande.

7 And thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israell: therefore thou shalt heare the worde at

a. He sheweth that the people ought continually to haue gouernours and teacher, which may haue a care ouer them, and to warne them euer of the dangers which are at hande.

b. Signifying that the wicked shall not escape punishment, though the watchmen be negligent: but if the watchmē blow the trumpet, and then he will not obey, he shal deserue double punishment.

at (c) my mouth, and thou ſhalt warne them from me.

c. Which teacheth that he that receyueth not his charge and watche-word at the Lords mouth, is a ſpye, and not a true watchman.

8 If I ſaye vnto the wicked, Thou wicked, thou ſhalte ſurely die, and thou ſpeakeſt not to admoniſhe the wicked of his way: that wicked man ſhall die in his owne ſinne, but his bloud will I require at thy hande.

9 Neuertheleſſe, if thou warne the wicked of his way to turne from it, and he yet will not be turned from his way: then ſhall he die in his iniquitie, but thou haſte deliuered thy ſoule.

10 Therefore, O thou ſonne of man, ſpeake vnto the houſe of Iſraell, yea ſay thus, If our offences and ſinnes lye vpon vs, and we be conſumed in them, (d) how ſhould we then lyue?

d. Thus the wicked when they heare of Gods iudgemẽts for their ſinnes, diſpaire of his mercies, and murmure. Ezec. 18. c.

11 Tell them, as truely as I liue, ſayeth the Lord God, I haue no pleaſure in the death of the wicked, but much rather that the wicked turne from his way, and liue: Turne you, turne you from youre wicked wayes, for why will ye die, O yee of the houſe of Iſraell?

Ezec. 18. c.

12 Therefore, thou ſonne of man, tell the children of thy people, The righteouſneſſe of the righteous, ſhall not ſaue him in the day of his iniquitie: agayne, The wickednеſſe of the wicked, ſhall not ouerthrowe him for it, in the daye that he returneth from his wickednеſſe: neyther ſhall the righteous liue for (e) it, in the day that he ſinneth.

e. Namely, his righteouſneſſe.

13 If I ſay vnto the righteous, He ſhall ſurely lyue, and ſo he truſt to his owne ryghteouſneſſe, and do ſinne: then ſhall his righteouſneſſe be no more thought vppon, but in his wickednеſſe that he hathe done, in it he ſhall die.

C

14 Agayne, if I ſay vnto the wicked, Thou ſhalte ſurely dye: and ſo he turne from his ſinnes, and (f) do the thing that is lawfull and right,

f. Hereby he condemneth all them of hypocriſie, which pretend to forſake wickednеſſe, and yet declare not theſelues ſuch by theyr fruites; that is, in obeying Gods cõmandements, and by godly life.

15 Inſomuch that the ſame wicked man gyueth the pledge agayne, reſtoreth that he had taken away by robberie, walketh in ỹ commaundements of life, and doth none iniquitie: then ſhall he ſurely lyue, and not dye.

16 None of the ſinnes that he hathe committed ſhall be mentioned vnto hym: for in ſo much as he doth now the thing that is lawfull and right, he ſhall liue, 17 And yet the children of thy people ſay, The way of the Lorde is not equall: but theyr owne way is rather vnequall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteouſneſſe, and dothe the thing that is wicked, he ſhall die therein.

19 But if the wicked turne from his wickednеſſe, doing the thing that is lawfull and right, he ſhall liue therefore.

20 Yet ye ſay, The way of the Lorde is not equall, O ye houſe of Iſraell, I will iudge euery one of you after his wayes.

21 In the twelfth yeere, the fifth day of the tenth month of our (g) captiuitie, one which was eſcaped out of Hieruſalem, came vnto me and ſayd, The citie is ſmitten.

g. When the prophete was led away captiue with Ieconiah.

22 Nowe the (h) hande of the Lorde had bene vpon me the euening afore this man whiche was eſcaped came vnto me, and had (i) opened my mouth vntill the morning that he came to me: yea, my mouth was opened, ſo that I was no more dumbe.

h. I was indued with the ſpirit of propheſie, as Chapter. 1. i. Whereby is ſignified the miniſtery of God to ſpeake right, to giue them warnage and to open their mouth. Chapt. 24. k.

23 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto me, and ſayde.

24 Thou ſonne of man, theſe that dwell in the waſted land of Iſraell, talke and ſay, (k) Abraham was but one man, and he had the land in poſſeſſion: nowe are we many, and the land is giuen vs to poſſeſſe alſo.

25 And therefore tell them, Thus ſayeth the Lord God: In the bloud haue ye eaten, your eyes haue ye lift vp to idolles, and haue ſhed bloud: ſhall yee then haue the land in poſſeſſion?

26 Ye (l) leane vpon your ſwordes, yee worke abhominations, euery one defileth his neighbours wife: and ſhall yee then poſſeſſe the lande:

27 Say thou thus vnto them, Thus ſayeth the Lord GOD, As truely as I liue, they that are in the deſolate places ſhall fall by the ſword, and him that is vppon the fielde, will I giue vnto the beaſtes to be deuoured: and they that be in the ſtrong holdes and dennes, ſhall die of the peſtilence.

28 For I will make the land ſo deſolate and waſte, that the pompe of hir ſtrength ſhall ceaſſe: the mountaynes of Iſraell ſhall be ſo waſte, that no man ſhall trauayle thereby.

Ezec. 7. b.

29 Then ſhall they knowe that I am the Lord, when I make the lande deſolate and waſte, byrauſe of all theyr abhominations that they haue wrought.

30 And thou ſonne of man, the children of thy people that talke of thee by the waters, and in the dores of their houſes, and ſpeake one to another, euery one to his brother, ſaying, Come, I pray you, let vs heare what word is gone forth from the Lorde:

31 They come vnto thee as the people vſeth to come, and my people ſit before thee, & heare thy wordes, but they do not thereafter: for in their mouthes they make a (m) ieſt of them, and their hart goeth after their couetouſneſſe.

m. This declareth that we ought to heare Gods word with such zeale and affection, that we ſhould not onely delight therein to heare it preached, but alſo in all poyntes obey it: els we abuſe the word to our owne condemnation, and make of the miniſters as though they were ieſtes to ſerue mens fantaſies.

32 And loe, thou art vnto them as a (n) iesting song, of one that hath a pleasant voyce, and can sing well: for they heare thy wordes, but do them not.

33 When this commeth to passe (loe, it commeth:) then shall they know that there hathe bin a prophet among them.

The .xxxiiij. Chapter.

2. Against shepheards that despise the flocke of Christe, and seeke theyr owne gayne. 7. The Lorde sayeth that he wyll visite his dispersed flocke, and gather them together. 18. He reproueth the malice of certayne of the flocke. 23. He promiseth the true shepherde Christ, and with him peace.

1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, prophesie against the shepheardes of Israell, prophecie and speake vnto them, thus sayeth the Lorde God vnto the shepheardes, Wo be vnto the (a) shepeheardes of Israell that feede them selues: shoulde not the shepheards feede ỹ flockes?

3 Ye eate vp the (b) fat, ye cloth you with the woll, the best fedde do ye slay: but the flocke do ye not feede.

4 The (c) weake haue ye not strengthned, the sicke haue ye not healed, the broken haue yee not bound together, the driuen away haue ye not brought againe, the lost haue yee not sought: but with force and crueltie haue yee ruled them.

5 They are scattered without a shepherde, yea all the beastes of the fielde (d) deuoure them, and they goe astray.

6 My sheepe go wandring vpon all mountaynes, and vppon euery hygh hill, yea my flocke is scattered through all the face of the earth, and there is no man that seeketh or searcheth (after them.)

7 Therefore, O ye shepheards, heare the word of the Lorde.

8 As truely as I liue, sayth the Lorde God, forsomuch as my sheepe are robbed, and deuoured of all the wilde beastes of the fielde, hauing no shephearde, and seeing that my shepheardes seeke not my sheepe, but the shepheardes feede them selues, and feede not my sheepe:

9 Therefore, heare the word of the Lord, O ye shepheardes,

10 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will vpon the shepheardes, and require my sheepe from their handes, and make them cease from feeding of the sheepe, yea the shepheardes shall feede them selues no more: for I will (e) deliuer my sheepe out of their mouthes, so that they shall not deuoure them after this.

11 For thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, I (euen) I will loke to my sheepe my selfe, and seeke them out.

12 Like as a shephearde when he hathe bin among the flocke, seeketh after the sheepe that are scattered abroade: euen so will I seeke after my sheepe, and deliuer them out of all places where they haue bin scattered, in the (f) cloudie and darke day.

13 I will bring them out from the people, and gather them togeather out of the lands, I wil bring them into their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaynes of Israell, by the riuers, and in all the places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in right good pastures, and vpon the high mountaynes of Israell shall theyr foldes be: there shall they lie in a good folde, and in a fat pasture shal they feed, euen vpon the mountaynes of Israell.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 Such as be lost, will I seeke: suche as are driuen away, will I bring againe: suche as be broken, will I bind vp: such as be weake, will I make strong: such as be fat & strong, those will I rote out, and feede them wyth (g) iudgement.

17 And as for you, O my sheepe, sayeth the Lord GOD, I will iudge betweene cattayle and cattaile, betweene the Rammes and the Goates.

18 Seemeth it a small thing to you to haue eaten vp the good (h) pasture, and to treade downe the residue of your pasture with your feete also? to drinke the deepe waters, and to trouble the rest also with your feete?

19 Thus my sheepe must be faine to eate the thing that ye haue troden downe with your feete, and to drinke it that ye with your feete haue defyled.

20 Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde GOD vnto them, Beholde, I (euen) I will iudge betweene the fatte cattayle, and the leane cattayle.

21 Forsomuch as with syde and shoulder yee haue shoued, and with your hornes haue pushed all the weake, til ye haue scattered them abroade.

22 I will saue my sheepe, so that they shall no more be spoyled, yea I wyll iudge betweene cattayle and cattayle.

23 I will set vp ouer them a shepheard, and he shall feede them, euen my seruaunt (i) Dauid, he shall feede them, and he shall bee their shepheard.

24 And I the Lord wyll be theyr God, and my Iere.30.b.

The.xxxv.Chapter.

The deſtruction that ſhall come on the mount Seir, that is, on the Idumeans, bycauſe they troubled the people of the Lorde.

א 1 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face toward the mount (a) Seir, propheſie againſt it, Eſay.34.a.

a. Where the Idumeans dwelt.

3 And ſay vnto it, thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, O thou mount Seir, I will vpon thee, I will reache out my hande ouer thee, yea waſte and deſolate will I make thee,

4 Thy cities will I lay waſte, & thou ſhalte lye voyde, that thou mayeſt know how that I am the Lord,

5 Forſomuch as thou beareſt an old enmitie, and haſte put the children of Iſrael to flight by the force of the ſword, in the time of their calamitie, (when their) iniquitie had an end:

6 Therefore, as truely as I liue, ſayeth the Lorde God, I will prepare thee vnto bloud, yea bloud ſhall folow vpon thee, except thou (b) hate bloud, euen bloud ſhall perſecute thee.

b. Except thou repent thy former crueltie.

7 Thus will I make the mount Seir deſolate and waſt, and cut out from it him that paſſeth out, and him that returneth. ב

8 His mountaynes wyll I fyll with hys ſlayne men, thy hylles, valleyes, and all thy riuers, the ſlayne with the ſwoord ſhall fall in them.

9 I will make thee a perpetuall wilderneſſe, ſo that thy cities ſhall not (c) return: that ye may know that I am the Lord.

c. To wit, their former eſtate.

10 And bycauſe thou haſt ſayd, (d) Both theſe nations, and both theſe lands muſt be mine, and we will haue them in poſſeſſion, whereas the Lord was there:

d. Meaning Iſrael, and Iuda.

11 Therefore, as truely as I liue, ſayeth the Lord GOD, I will euen do accoꝛding to thy (e) wrath, and accoꝛding to thine enuying, whiche thou haſt vſed in thine hatred againſt them: and I wil make my ſelfe knowen amongſt them when I haue iudged thee.

Ezod.25.

e. As thou haſt done cruelly, ſo ſhalt thou be cruelly handled.

12 Yea, and thou ſhalt know, that I ỹ Lord haue heard all thy blaſphemies, whiche thou haſt ſpoken againſte the mountaynes of Iſraell, ſaying, They are made waſt, and gyuen vs to deuoure.

f. Shewing how God hath ouer theſe ſo praiſe his name: and that the wicked rage in there were God, till they feele his to their deſtruction.

13 Thus with youre mouthes ye haue made your boaſtes againſt me, yea and multiplyed youre woꝛdes againſte me, whyche I haue heard.

14 Thus ſaith the Lorde God, To the ioy of all the woꝛld will I make thee waſt.

15 And lyke as thou waſt glad bycauſe the heritage of the houſe of Iſraell was deſtroyed, euen ſo will I doe vnto thee: thou ſhalte be deſtroyed, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, wholly, and they ſhal know that I am the Lorde. ג

The.xxxvi.Chapter.

1. He promiſeth to deliuer Iſraell from the Gentiles. 22. The benefites done vnto the Iewes, are to bee aſcribed to the mercy of God, not vnto their deſeruings. 26. God reneweth our harts, that we may walke in hys commaundementes.

א 1 Thou ſonne of man, propheſie vnto the mountaynes of Iſraell, and ſpeake, Heare the woꝛde of the Lorde, O ye mountaynes of Iſraell.

Ezech.6.a.

2 Thus ſayth the Lord God: Bycauſe your (a) enimie hathe ſayde vpon you haha, the (b) high places of the woꝛlde are nowe become ours in poſſeſſion:

a. That is, the Idumean.

b. That is, the hilly countrie of Iuda.

3 Propheſie therefore, and ſpeake, thus ſayeth the Lorde God, For bycauſe that they haue made you deſolate, and ſwalowed you vp on euery ſide, that ye might be a poſſeſſion vnto vnto the residue of the Gentiles, and yee are taken vp in the (c) lippes and tongs of men, and to the reproch of the people:

c. Ye are made a matter of talke and derision to al the worlde.

4 Therefore, heare the worde of the Lorde God, O ye Mountaynes of Israell, thus sayth the Lord God to the mountaynes and hilles, to the riuers and valleyes, to the wast and desolate places, and to the cities that are forsaken, which are spoyled and had in derision on euery syde, among the residue of the Heathen:

5 Therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde GOD, Surely in the fyre of my gelousie haue I spoken against the residue of the Gentiles, and against all Edom, whiche haue (d) appoynted my land for their possession, whiche also reioyced from their whole hart with a despitefull stomacke, to cast it out for a pray.

d. They appointed with themselues to haue it, and therfore came with Nabuchodonosor against Hierusalem for this purpose.

6 Prophecie therefore vpon the land of Israel, and speake vnto the mountaynes and hylles, to the riuers and dales, thus sayth the Lord God: Beholde, thys haue I spoken in my ielousie, and terrible wrath, bycause ye haue borne the (e) shame of the Heathen:

e. Bycause ye haue bene a laughing stock vnto them.

7 Therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde God, I haue (f) lift vp my hand, surely the Heathen that are about you shall beare their shame.

f. By making a solemne oth, Chap. 20. 2.

8 But you, O mountaynes of Israel, ye shal (g) shoote out your braunches, & bring forth your fruite to my people of Israell: for they are at hand to come.

g. God declareth his mercies and goodnesse towarde his Church, who still preserueth his, euen when he destroyeth his enimies.

9 Behold, I come vnto you, and vnto you will I turne my face, that they may be tilled and sowen.

10 I will multiply men vpon you, (euen) all the house of Israell wholly, the cities shall be inhabited, and the decayed places shall be repayred agayne.

11 And I will multiply vpon you man and beast, which shall encrease and bring fruite: and I will cause you to dwell after youre old estate, and be better (h) vnto you than at the beginning: and ye shall know that I am the Lorde.

h. Which was accomplished vnder Christ, to whome all these temporal deliuerances did direct the.

12 Yea I will cause men to walke vpon (i) you, (euen) my people Israell, and they shal possesse (k) thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalte no more henceforth deprine them of (men.)

i. That is, vpon the mountains of Iuda.

k. You, changing the nũber

13 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Forsomuch as they say vnto you, Thou art an (l) eater vp of men, and a waster of thy people:

l. Thus the enimies imputed as the reproch of the land, whiche God did for the sinnes of the people, according to hys iust iudgmẽts.

14 Therefore thou shalt eate no more men, neyther destroy thy people any more, sayeth the Lord God.

15 Neyther wil I cause men to heare in thee the shame of the Heathen any more: neyther shalt thou beare the reproch of the people any more, nor cause thy folk to fall any more, sayth the Lord God.

16 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

17 O thou sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt vpon their owne ground, they defyled them selues with their owne wayes and imaginations: so that in my syght, their way was like the vncleannes of a remoued woman.

18 Wherefore I powred my wrathfull displeasure vpon them, bycause of the bloud that they had shedde in the lande, and bycause of their idolles wherewith they had defyled it:

19 I scattered them also among the Heathen, so that they wer strawed about in the lands: according to their ways, and after their own inuentions, so did I iudge them.

20 And when they entred vnto the Heathen whyther they wente, they polluted my holy name, when they sayd of them, These are the people of God, and are gone out of his land. Esay. 52. a. Rom. 25. d.

21 Then spared I my holy (m) name, whyche the house of Israell had dishonored among the Gentiles where they came.

m. And therefore would not suffer my name to be had in contempt, as the Heathē would haue reproched me, if I had suffered my church to perish.

22 Therefore, tell the house of Israell, thus sayth the Lorde God: I (n) do not thys for your sakes, O house of Israell, but for my holy names sake, whiche ye dishonoured among the Heathen, where ye came.

n. This excludeth from men all dignitie and meane to deserue any thig by, seeing that God referreth the whole to him selfe, and that only for the glory of his holy name.

23 Therefore I will halow my great name againe, whiche among the Gentiles is polluted, for ye youre selues haue dishonoured it among them: and the Gentiles shal know that I am the Lorde, sayeth the Lord God, when I shall bee sanctified in you before your eyes.

o. That is, his spirit, wherby he refourmeth the hart, and regenerateth his. Esay. 44. a. Jere. 23. g.

24 As for you, I will take you from among the Heathen, and gather you together out of all countries, and bring you agayne into your owne lande.

25 Then will I sprinckle cleane (o) water vpon you, and ye shall be cleane: yea from all youre vncleannesse, and from all youre idolles shall I clense you.

26 A newe hart also will I giue you, and a new spirite wyll I put into you: as for that stony hart I will take it out of your flesh, and giue you a fleshy hart.

27 I will giue my spirit among you, and cause you to walk in my commaundemẽts, and ye shall keepe my iudgementes, and do them.

28 And so ye shall dwell in the lande that I gaue to your fathers: and yee shall be my people, and I will be your God.

p. Vnder the abundance of temporal benefites he concludeth the spirituall graces.

29 I wil deliuer you from all your vncleanesse, I will call for the (p) corne, and wyll encrease it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 I will multiply the fruites of the trees, and the encreaſe of the fielde: ſo that ye ſhall receyue no more reproch of hũger amõg the Heathen.

31 Then ſhall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and youre imaginations whiche were not good: ſo that ye ſhall be (q) irkſome in your owne eyes for your ſinnes and abhominations.

32 But I will not doe this for youre ſakes, ſayth the Lorde God, be ye ſure of it: therefore, O ye houſe of Iſraell, be aſhamed and confounded of your owne wayes.

33 Moreouer, thus ſayth the Lord GOD, What time as I ſhall cleanſe you from all your iniquities, then will I make the cities to be inhabited agayne, and the places that be decayed ſhall be repayred.

34 The deſolate lande ſhall be tilled agayne, whiche afortetime lay waſt in the ſight of all them that went by.

F 35 And they ſhall ſay, This waſt lande was lyke the garden of Eden: and theſe waſt and deſolate and ruinous cities (were) ſtrong (and) inhabited.

36 Then the reſidue of the Heathen that lye rounde about you, ſhall knowe that I the Lorde, (r) repayre that was broken downe, & plant agayne that, that was made waſte: euen I the Lorde haue ſpoken it, and will do it in deede.

37 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, I will yet for this be ſought of the houſe of Iſraell, to doe it for them, I wil multiply them as a flocke of men, 38 Like as the holy flocke, and the flocke of Hieruſalem are in the high ſolemne feaſtes, ſo ſhall alſo the waſted cities be fylled with flockes of men: and they ſhall know that I am the Lorde.

q. Ye ſhal come to true repentance, & think yourſelues vnworthy to be of the number of Gods creatures, for your ingratitude againſt him.

r. He declareth that it ought not to be referred to the ſoyle or fertylitie of the earth, that any countrey is rich and abũdaunt but only to Gods mercies, as hys plagues & curſes declare when he maketh it barren.

The. xxxvij. Chapter.

12. He prophecieth the bringing agayne of the people being in captiuitie. 16. He ſheweth the vnion of the ten tribes with the two.

A 1 THe hand of the Lord was vpon me, and caried me out in the ſpirit of the Lorde, and ſet me downe in the middeſt of a plaine field that was full of (a) bones.

2 And he ledde me round about by them, and beholde, there were very many in the open field, and loe, (they were) very drie.

3 Then ſayde he vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, thinkeſt thou theſe bones may lyue againe? I anſwered, O Lorde God, thou knoweſt.

4 And he ſayde vnto me, Prophecie thou vpon theſe bones, and ſpeake vnto them: Yee drie bones, heare the word of the Lorde,

5 Thus ſayeth the Lorde GOD vnto theſe bones, Beholde, I will cauſe breath to enter into you, that ye may liue.

6 I will giue you ſinowes, and make fleſhe growe vpon you, and couer you ouer wyth ſkinne, and ſo giue you breath, that ye maye liue, and know that I am the Lorde.

7 So I prophecied as I was commaunded: B and as I was prophecying, ther was a noiſe, and loe a greate motion, ſo that the bones came neare together, bone to his bone.

8 Nowe when I had loked, beholde, they had ſinowes, and fleſh grew vpon them, and aboue they were couered with ſkin: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then ſayd he vnto me, Thou ſonne of mã, prophecie thou towarde the winde, prophecie and ſpeake to the winde, thus ſayth the Lord God: Come, O thou ayre from the feure (b) windes, and blow vpon theſe ſlain, that they may liue.

10 So I prophecied as he had commaunded me: then came the breath into them, and they recepued life, and ſtode vp vpon their feete, a marueylous great armie.

11 Moreouer, he ſayd vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, theſe bones are the whole houſe of Iſraell: Behold, they ſay, Our bones are dryed vp, our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore prophecie thou, and ſpeake vnto them, thus ſayeth the Lorde GOD, Behold, I will open your graues, O my people, and cauſe you to come vp out of your ſepulchres, and bring you into the land of Iſraell againe.

13 So ſhall yee knowe that I am the Lorde, when I open youre graues, O my people, and bring you (c) out of your ſepulchres.

14 My ſpirit alſo will I put in you, and ye ſhall lyue, I will ſet you againe in youre owne lande: and ye ſhall knowe that I the Lorde haue ſayde it, and fulfilled it indeede, ſayth the Lord.

15 The word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

16 Thou ſonne of man, take one ſticke, and write vpon it, Unto Juda, and to the chyldren of Iſraell hys companions. Then take another ſticke, and write vpon it, Unto Joſeph the ſtocke of Ephraim, and to al ỹ houſhold of Iſraell his companions.

17 And (d) ioine thee them one to another into one ſticke: and they ſhall be as one in thy hande.

18 Nowe if the children of thy people ſpeake vnto thee, ſaying, Wilt thou not ſhewe vs what thou meaneſt by theſe?

19 Then

a. By this viſion, he prophecieth that the people of Iſraell ſhall be deliuered, whome he cõpares to bones of dead men: for as drye bones ſeeme without all hope of life againe, ſo the Iſraelites thought they ſhould neuer returne into their countrey, as appeareth by their words in the eleuenth verſe, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone, &c.

(e) This is the house of Israel.

20 And the stickes whereupon thou writest, shalte thou haue in thy hande, that they may see.

21 And thou shalt say vnto them, thus sayth the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the chyldren of Israell from among the Heathen, vnto whome they be gone, and wyll gather them together on euery side, and bring them againe into their owne lande.

22 Yea, I will make one people of them in the land vpon the mountaynes of Israel, and one king shall be king to them all: they shall no more be two peoples, neyther be diuided from henceforth into two kingdomes.

Esai. 10. c.

23 They shall also defile them selues no more with their idolles and abhominations, and all their wicked doings: I wyll saue them out of all theyr dwelling places wherein they haue sinned, and will so clense them, that they shal be my people, and I wil be theyr God.

24 Dauid my seruaunt shall be theyr kyng, and they all shall haue one shepheard only: they shall walke in my iudgements, and my commaundements shall they keepe, and fulfyll them.

26 Moreouer, I will make a bonde of peace with them, whiche shall be vnto them an euerlasting couenaunt: I will settle them also, and multiply them, my sanctuarie will I set among them for euermore.

27 My tabernacle shall be with them: yea I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 Thus the heathen also shall knowe that I the Lorde do sanctifie Israell, when my sanctuarie shall bee among them for euermore.

The. xxxviij. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth that Gog and Magog shall come with an appoynted host into the land of promise. 12. Theyr intent. 17. He rehearseth that the comming of Gog was before prophecied of the Prophetes. 21. The destruction of him.

1 AND the word of ỹ Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face towarde (a) Gog, the lande of Magog, whiche is the chiefe prince at Meschech and Tubal: prophecie against him,

3 And say, thus sayth ỹ Lord God, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Meschech, and Tubal, behold, I will vpon thee:

4 And I wil turne thee backe, and put hookes in thy chawes, I will bring thee forth, and all thine host, both horse and horsemen, al armed with all sortes of armour, a great multitude with pearces and shieldes, all handling swordes.

5 They of (b) Paras of Cush, and Phut, with them (euen) all (hauyng) shields and helmets.

6 (c) Gomer and all his bandes, the house of Togarma out of the North quarters, and all his hosts, yea and much people with thee.

7 Therefore prepare thee, set thy selfe in aray with all thy people that are come vnto thee by heapes, and be thou their defence.

8 After many days thou shalt be visited: and in the latter yeeres thou shalt come into the land that hath bin turned (and tost) with the sword, and gathered together againe out of many people, vpon the mountaynes of Israell, which haue bene always (subiect) to wast: but it is brought out of the people, and they dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalte ascende and come vp like a storme, as a cloude to couer the lande shalte thou be, thou with all thyne hostes, and a great multitude of people with thee.

10 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lorde GOD, At the same tyme shall thynges come vnto thy minde, so that thou shalt thinke (d) euill thoughtes,

11 And say, I wyll vp to the lande of (e) vnwalled villages, I wyll goe to them that be at rest, whiche dwell safely, all dwelling without walles, they haue neyther barres nor gates:

12 To spoyle the pray, and to take a bootie, to turne thy hand vpon the desolate places that are (now) inhabited, and vpon that people that is gathered together from among the Heathen, whyche haue gotten cattell and goodes, and dwell in the middest of the lande.

13 Then shall Saba and Dedan, and the marchauntes of Tharsis, with all their Lions, say vnto thee, (f) Art thou come to spoyle a pray? hast thou gathered thy people together to take a bootie, to take away syluer and golde, to carie away cattell and good, and to haue a great pray?

a Which was a people that came of Magog the sonne of Iapher. Genesis. 10. a. Magog also here signifieth a certain countrey, so that by these countries whiche had the gouernemente of Grecia and Italy, he meaneth the principall enimies of the Church. Apoc. 20. b.

b. The Persians, Ethiopias, and men of Affrica.

c. Gomer was Iaphets sonne, and Togarma the sonne of Gomer, and are thought to be they that inhabite in Asia minor.

d. That is, to molest and destroy the Church.

e. Meaning Israell, which had now bin destroyed, and was not yet built againe, declaring here by also the simplicitie of the godly, who seeke not so much to fortifie them selues by outwarde force, as to depend on the prouidence and goodnesse of God.

f. One enimie shall enuie another, bicause euery one shal thinke to haue the spoyle of the people of God.

14 Therefore, O thou ſonne of man, thou ſhalt prophecie and ſay vnto Gog, thus ſayth the Lord God, In that day when my people Iſraell (g) dwelleth ſafe, ſhalte thou not know it?

15 And thou ſhalt come from thy place out of the North parts, thou and much people with thee, which ride all vpon horſes (euen) a great multitude, and a mightie armie.

16 Yea thou ſhalte come vpon my people of Iſraell, as a cloude to couer the lande: this ſhall come to paſſe in the (h) latter days, and I will bring thee vp into my lande, that the Heathen may know me, when I ſhall be (i) ſanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus ſayeth the Lorde GOD, Art not thou he of whome I haue ſpoken in olde time (k) by the handes of my ſeruauntes the prophetes of Iſraell, whiche prophecied in thoſe dayes and yeeres, that I ſhould bring thee vpon them?

18 At the ſame time, when Gog commeth vp into the land of Iſraell, ſayth the Lord God, ſhall mine indignation riſe in my wrath:

19 For in my ielouſie, and fyre of my wrathe haue I ſpoke it, ſurely at that time there ſhal be a great ſhaking in the land of Iſraell.

20 The very fyſſhes in the Sea, the fowles in the ayre, the beaſtes of the fielde, and all that moue and creepe vpon the earthe, and all the men that are vpon the earth, ſhal trembie at my preſence: the hylles alſo ſhall be turned vpſyde downe, the (l) ſtayres ſhall fall, and all walles ſhall fall downe to the grounde.

21 I will call for a ſworde vpon (m) him in al my mountaynes, ſayth the Lorde GOD: ſo that euery mans ſworde ſhall be vpon another.

22 With peſtilence and blond will I pleade againſt him: ſtormie rayne, and hayleſtones, fyre and brimſtone will I cauſe to rayn vpon him, and all his boſtes, yea and vpon all that great people that is with him.

23 Thus wyll I be magnifyed, ſanctifyed, and known in the eyes of many nations: and they ſhall know that I am the Lorde.

g. Shalt not thou eſpie thine occaſions to come againſte the Churche, when they ſuſpect nothing?

h. Meaning in the laſt age, and from the comming of Chriſt vnto the ende of the world.

i. Signifying that God will be ſanctifyed by maynteyning his churche, and deſtroying his enimies, as Chap. 36. c. and. 37. d.

k. Hereby he declareth that none afflictiõs can come to the Churche, whereof they haue not bin aduertiſed aforetime, to teach them to endure al thinges with more patience when they knowe that God hath ſo ordeyned.

l. All meanes whereby man ſhould thinke to ſaue hym ſelfe ſhal faile, the afflictions in thoſe dayes ſhal be ſo great, and the enimies deſtruction ſhall be ſo terrible.

m. Againſt the people of Gog and Magog. Chap. 36. c. and. 27. d.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1. He ſheweth the deſtruction of Gog and Magog. 11. The graue of Gog, and hys hoſt. 17. He prophecieth that Gog and hys company ſhall be deuoured of byrdes and beaſts. 23. VVherefore the houſe of Iſraell is waſted. 25. Their bringing agayne from captiuitie is promiſed.

1 THerefore, O thou ſonne of man, prophecie againſte Gog, and ſpeake, thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, O Gog, thou chiefe prince at Meſech and Tubal, I wyll vpon thee.

2 And I will turne thee about, and I wyll (a) prouoke thee forwarde, and cauſe thee to come vp from the North partes, and bring thee vp to the mountaynes of Iſraell.

3 As for thy bowe, I will ſmite it out of thy left hand, and cauſe thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou with all thine hoſt, and all the people that is with thee, ſhal fall vpon ỳ mountaynes of Iſraell: then will I giue thee vnto the (b) flockes of byrdes (euen) to all feathered foules, and beaſtes of the fielde, to be deuoured.

5 Thou ſhalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue ſpoken it, ſayth the Lord God.

6 Into Magog, and among thoſe that ſyt ſo careleſſe in the (c) Iles, will I ſend a fyre, & they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

7 I will make alſo the name of my holyneſſe to be knowen among my people of Iſraell, and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more: but the very Heathen alſo ſhall know that I am the Lord, the holy one of Iſraell.

8 Behold it is (d) come, and it is done, ſayth the Lord GOD: this is the day whereof I haue ſpoken.

9 They that dwell in the cities of Iſraell, ſhall goe forth, and (e) ſet fyre vpon the weapons, and burne them, ſhields and ſpeares, bowes & arrowes, hand ſtaues and ſwordes, and they ſhall burne them with fyre ſeuen yeeres.

10 So that they ſhal els bring no wood from the feld, neyther hewe downe any out of the wood: for with weapons ſhall they make their fyre, they ſhall robbe thoſe that robbed them, and ſpoyle thoſe that ſpoyled the, ſayth the Lord God.

11 At the ſame time will I giue vnto Gog, a place to be buried in Iſraell, euen the valley wherethrough men goe toward ỳ Eaſt ſea: thoſe that trauaile thereby, ſhall (f) ſtop theyr noſes, there ſhall Gog, and all his multitude be buried, and it ſhall be called the valley of the "multitude of Gog.

12 Seuen monethes long ſhall the houſe of Iſraell be burying of them, that they maye clenſe the land.

13 Yea all the people of the lande ſhall burie them, and they ſhall haue a name when I ſhall be glorified, ſayth the Lord God.

14 They ſhall chooſe out men to goe continually through the land, to (g) burie, as they paſſe through, thoſe that remayne vppon the ground, to clenſe it: after the ende of ſeuen moneths, moneths, shall they make their search.

15 And the trauaylers that passe thorough the lande, where they see a mans bone, they shall set vp a token by it, til the dead buryers haue buried it also in the valley of the multitude of Gog.

16 And the name of the citie shall bee called (h) Hamonah: thus shall they make the land cleane.

h. So called, for the multitude of the people of Gog that should be slayne there.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus sayth ỳ Lord God, Speake vnto the byrdes, and all feathered foules, yea and to all the beasts of the field, Assemble you together, and come, gather you round about to my (i) sacrifice that I sacrifice for you, (euen) a great sacrifice vpon the mountaynes of Israell, that ye may eate flesh, and drinke blood.

i. Such solemne sacrifices were common feasts to great multitudes of people assembled, so was this slaughter as a great sacrifice and feast for al byrdes and beasts to feede vpon.

18 Ye shall eate the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the blood of the princes of the land, of the Rammes, of ỳ Weathers, of ỳ Goates, and of the Bullockes, that be all fedde at Basan.

19 Ye shall eate the fatte your belly full, and drinke blood till ye be dronken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Ye shall fyll you at my table with horses, and horsemen, with the valiant and men of warre, sayth the Lord God.

21 I will set my glory also among the Gentiles, that all the Heathen may see my iudgemente that I haue executed, and my hande which I haue layd vpon them.

22 And the house of Israell shall knowe that I am the Lorde their God, from that daye, and so forwarde.

23 And the Heathen shall know, that wheras the house of Israell was led into captiuitie, it was for their (k) wickednesse sake, bycause they offended me: for the which cause I hyd my face from them, and deliuered them into the hands of their enimies, that they might all be slayne with the swoorde.

k. The Heathē shal know that they ouercame not my people by their owne strength, neyther yet by the weakenesse of myne arm, but that this was for my peoples sinnes.

24 Accoording to their vncleannesse, and accoording to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therfore, thus saith the Lord God: Now will I bring agayne the captiues of Jacob, and haue mercy vpon the wholehouse of Israel, and be iealous for my holy names sake.

26 After that they haue borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed againste me when they dwelt safely in their lande, and no man to feare them:

27 And when I haue brought them agayne from among the people, when I haue gathered them together out of their enimies lands, and am sanctified in them in the syght of many nations:

28 Then shall they knowe that I am the Lorde their God, whiche caused them to be led into captiuitie among the Heathen, but haue gathered them againe into their owne lande, and not left one of them any more there. E

29 After that will I hide my face no more from them, but wyll powre out my spirit vpō the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

The.xl. Chapter.

The restoring of the cities, and of the temple that was to come, is shewed vnto the prophete.

1 IN the fyue and twentie yeere of oure captiuitie, in the (a) beginning of ỳ yere, the tenth day of the moneth, that is, the fourteenth yeere after the citie was smitten, the selfe same day came the hand of the Lord vpon me, and brought me thither: I

a. The Iewes counted the beginning of the yeere after two sorts: for feasts, they began to cout in March: and for their other affayres in September: so that this is to be vnderstande of September.

2 Euen into the land of Israell brought bee me in the visions of God, and set me downe vppon a marueylous hygh mountayne, whereupon there was as it had bin the building of a citie toward the South.

3 Thyther he caried me, and behold ther was a (b) man, whose similitude was like brasse, which had a twisted line of flaxe in his hand, and a cane to measure with: and he stode in the dore.

b. Which was an angell in forme of a mā, that came to measure out this buildnig.

4 And that man sayde vnto me, Thou sonne of manne, marke well with thine (c) eyes, hearken to with thine eares, and fasten it in thy hart, whatsoeuer I shall shewe thee: for to the intent that they might be shewed thee, therefore art thou brought hither, and whatsoeuer thou seest, thou shalt certifie the house of Israell thereof.

c. By this and the like Hebrue phrases, he exhorted him to beholde, and marke diligetly as a thing worthy noting

5 Behold, there was a wall on the (d) outside of the house, round about: the cane to measure with that he had in his hande, was sire cubites long by the (e) cubite, and a hande breadth: so he measured ỳ breadth of ỳ building with one cane, and the height with one cane.

d. Which compassed the whole hill of Sion, in the top whereof the temple was builded.

e. The cubite which he speaketh of, was larger thā the common cubite by a hand breadth: that is, four inches, and it was called the holy cubite: the common cubite conteyned but fyue hand breadth, and this sixe. Read Chap. 43

6 Then came he to the gate which loketh toward the East, and went vp the stayres therof, and measured the post of ỳ gate one cane broade, and the other post of ỳ gate one cane broade.

7 And (euery) chamber was one cane long, and one cane broad, and betweene the chambers were fyue cubites: and the post of the gate by the porch of ỳ gate within, was one cane.

8 He measured also ỳ porch of the gate within with one cane.

9 Then measured he the porche of the gate

eyght cubites: and the * pentiſes thereof two cubites, and the porche of the gate (was) inwarde.

10 And the chambers of the gate Eaſtwarde, were three on this ſide, and three on that ſide: they three were of one meaſure, and the pentiſes had one meaſure on this ſide, and one meaſure on that ſide.

11 After this he meaſured the breadth of the entrie of the gate ten cubites, and the heyght of the gate thirtiene cubites.

12 The ſpace alſo before the chaumbers was one cubite (on thys ſyde) and the ſpace one cubite on that ſide: and the chaumbers ſyxe cubites on this ſyde, and ſyxe cubites on that ſyde.

13 He meaſured the gate from the roſe of a chamber to hys owne roſe the breadth of fiue and twentie cubites: doze againſt doze.

℄ 14 He made * frontes alſo of threeſcoze cubites, (euen) vnto the front of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the fozefront of the entrie of the gate, vnto the fozefront of the gate within (were) fyftie cubites.

16 And there were narrowe windowes in the chaumbers, and in the frontes within the gate rounde about, and ſo in the arches: and the windowes (went) rounde aboute within, and vpon the frontes were Paulme trees.

17 Then brought he me into the outwarde court, where as were chambeers, and a pauement made foz the court round about: thirty chambers were vpon the pauement.

18 And the pauement (was) by the ſyde of the gates, ouer againſt the length of the gates: and the pauement (was) beneath.

19 Then he meaſured the breadth, from the fozefront of the lower gate without, vnto the fozefront of the court within, a hundzeth cubites Eaſtward and Nozthward.

20 And the gate in the outward court, that loked toward the Nozth, meaſured he after the length and breadth thereof.

℈ 21 And the chambers thereof (were) three on this ſide, and three on that ſide: and the fronts thereof, and the arches thereof, were after the meaſure of the (f) firſt gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fyue and twentie cubites.

22 And their windowes and their arches with their paulme trees (were) after the meaſure of ỹ gate that loketh toward the Eaſt: and the going vp vnto it (had) ſeuen ſteppes, and the arches thereof (were) before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court (ſtoode) ouer againſt the gate toward the Nozth, and toward the Eaſt, and he meaſured from gate to gate a hundzed cubites.

24 After that he brought me toward the South, where there ſtode a gate toward the South, and he meaſured the fronts thereof, and the arches thereof, accozding to thoſe meaſures.

25 And (there were) windowes in it, and in the arches thereof rounde about like theſe windowes: the length (was) fiftie cubites, and the breadth fyue and twentie cubites.

26 And (there were) ſeuen ſteppes at the going vp to it, and the arches thereof before the: and it had Paulme trees, one on thys ſyde, and another on that ſide, vppon the fronte thereof.

27 And (there was) a gate in the inner courte toward the South, and he meaſured from gate to gate toward the South, a hundzed cubites.

28 So he brought me into the inner courte thozough the South gate, and he meaſured ỹ South gate accozding to thoſe meaſures. ℄

29 And the chaumbers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, accozding to theſe meaſures, and windowes in it: and in the arches thereof round about, fyftie Cubites long, and fyue and twentie Cubites broade.

30 And the arches rounde about (were) fyue and twentie cubites long, and fyue cubites broade.

31 And the arches thereof (were) toward the vtter courte, and Paulme trees vppon the frontes thereof, and the going vp to it (had) eyght ſteppes.

32 He brought me alſo into the inmoſt courte toward the Eaſt, and meaſured the gate accozding to thoſe meaſures.

33 And the chaumbers thereof, and frontes thereof, and the arches thereof (were) accozding to theſe meaſures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof roũd about: it (was) fyftie cubites long, and fyue and twentie cubites broade.

34 And the arches thereof (were) toward the vtter court, and palme trees vpon the fronts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide, and the going vp to it had eyght ſteppes.

35 And he brought me to the Nozth gate, and meaſured it accozding to thoſe meaſures. ℣

36 The chambers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, and (there were) windowes therein rounde about, and the length (was) fyftie cubites, and the breadth fyue and twentie cubites.

37 And the frontes thereof (were) toward the vtter courte, and pauline trees (were) vppon the frontes thereof on this ſide, and on that ſyde, and the going vp to it had eyght ryght steppes.

38 And a chamber, and the entrie thereof (was) vnder the fronts of the gates: there they washed the (g) burnt offerings.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slue the burnt offering, & the sinne offering, and the trespasse offering.

40 And at the side without the steppes at the entrie of the North gate (stoode) two tables, and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate (were) two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure on that side, by the syde of the gate (euen) eyghte tables, whereupon they slue (theyr sacrifices.)

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a Cubite and a halfe long, and a cubite and a halfe broade, and one cubite high, whereuppon were layde the instrumentes wherewith they slue the burnte offering, and the sacrifice.

43 And within there were hookes one handbreadth (long) fastned round about, and vpon the tables was the offering flesh.

44 And without the inner gate (were) the chambers of the syngers in the inwarde court, whiche was at the side of the North gate, and their prospect was towarde the South: and one was at the syde of the East gate, hauing the prospect towarde the North.

45 And he sayde vnto me, Thys chaumber, whose prospect is towarde the South, (is) for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chaumber whose prospect is towarde the North (is) for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the aulter: these are the sonnes of Sadoc, whiche of the sonnes of Leui come neare to the Lorde, to minister vnto him.

47 So he measured the court, whiche had in length a hundred cubites, and a hundred in breadth, (euen) foure square: and the aulter stoode before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the (h) house, and measured the porche fyue Cubites on this side, and fyue cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on thys syde, and three cubites on that side.

49 The (i) length of the porche was twentie cubites, the breadth eleuen cubites, and by steppes went men vp to it: by the fronts also were pillers, one on this side, and another on that side.

g. That is, the inwarde entrayles of the sacrifice that was offered for a burnt offring

h. That is, of the temple.

i. From North to South.

The. xli. Chapter.

1. The disposition and deuice of building agayne the temple, and of the other thinges thereto belonging.

1 AFter this he brought me to the temple, and measured the frontes fiue cubites broade on the one side, and fiue cubites broade on the other syde (which was) the breadth of the tabernacle. A

2 The breadth of the dore was ten cubites, and the sides of the dore (were) fyue cubites on the one side, and fyue cubites on the other side, and he measured the length (a) thereof foortie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

3 Then went he in, and measured the fronte of the dore two cubites: but the dore it selfe was syxe cubites, and the breadth on the other syde of the dore was seuen cubites.

4 He measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the temple. And he sayd vnto me, Thys is the most holy (place.)

5 He measured also the wall of the house fiue Cubites, and the breadth of a chamber foure cubites rounde about the house on euery side.

6 And the chambers were, chamber vppon chamber, three and thirtie in order: and they entred the wall whiche was of the house for the chambers round about, that they myghte be fastned, and not be fastned in the wall of the house.

7 There was an enlarging, and a winding about, mounting still vpward to the chambers: for the staire of ẏ house was mounting still vpward round about the house, therefore the house was larger vpward: so they wente vp from the lowest (chamber) to the hyghest by the middest. B

8 And I saw the house high rounde aboute: the foundations of the chaumbers (were) a full cane of syxe Cubites (b) vp to the armeholes.

9 The thickneſſe of the wall whiche was for the chamber without (was) fyue cubites, and that whiche remayned, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the wideneſſe of twentie cubites rounde about the house on euery side.

11 And the dores of the chambers were toward the "place that remayned, one dore toward the North, and another towarde the South: and the breadth of the place that remayned, was fyue cubites round about.

a. Of the temple, from thys dore to the most holy place.

b. That is, great, and of the largest size.

" or, voyde space.

12 Nowe the buylding that was before the ſeparate place at the ende toward the weſte (was) ſcuentie cubites broade: and the wall of the building was fyue cubites thicke rounde about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he meaſured the houſe, whyche was a hundred cubites long, and the ſeparate place, and the building with the walles, wer a hundred cubites long alſo.

14 The breadth alſo of the forefront of the houſe, and of the ſeparate place towarde the eaſt, was a hundred cubites.

15 And he meaſured the length of the building ouer againſte the ſeparate place, whiche was behinde it, and the chambers on the one ſide, and on the other ſide a hundred cubites, with the temple within, and the porches of the courte.

16 The dore poſtes, and the narrowe windowes, and the chambers rounde about, on three ſides ouer againſt the dore, ſeeled with wood round about, and from the ground vp to the windowes: and the windowes themſelues were ſeeled.

17 And from aboue the dore vnto the houſe within and without, and vpon euery wall round about within and without (tooke he) meaſure.

18 And it was made with (c) Cherubims and Palme trees, ſo that a Palme tree was betweene a Cherub and a Cherub, and euery Cherub had two faces.

c That is, Cherubims and Palme trees were grauen and carued in the walles.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the Palme tree on the one ſide, and the face of a Lion towarde the Palme tree on the other ſide: (thus) was it made through all the houſe round about.

20 From the grounde vnto aboue the dore were Cherubims and Palme trees made: and (thus was) the wall of the temple.

D 21 The poſtes of the temple were foure ſquared, and the faſhion of the ſanctuarie was (d) appearance like appearance.

d. That is, the dore poſts or cheekes of the ſanctuarie, wer lyke the doore cheekes of the temple.

22 The aulter of wood was three Cubites hygh, and two cubites long: the corners, the length, and the walles thereof, were of wood. And he ſayd vnto me, This is the table that ſhall be before the Lorde.

23 The temple and the holyeſt of all had eyther of them two dores.

24 And the dores had two (e) dores (a peece, (euen) two folding dores, two for the one dore, and two dores for the other.

e. That is, two leaues, one on the one ſide, and the other on the other ſide, of eyther of the dores.

25 And vpon the dores of the temple, there were made Cherubims and Palme trees, lyke as was made vpon the walles: and thicke beames vpon the forefront of ỹ porche without.

26 And (there were) narrowe windowes and Palme trees on the one ſide and on the other ſyde, by the ſides of the porche, and vppon the ſydes of the houſe, and thicke beames.

The.xlij. Chapter.

Of the chambers of the temple for the prieſtes, and the holy things.

1 Then led he me into the vtter courte by the way towarde the northe, and he brought me into the chamber that (was) ouer againſte the ſeparate place, whiche (was) before the building toward the North. A

2 Before the length of a hundred Cubites (was) the North dore: and the breadth (was) fiftie cubites.

3 Ouer againſt the twentie cubites, which were for the inner court, and ouer againſte the pauement, which was for the vtter court (was) chamber agaynſte chamber three (orders.)

4 And before the chambers, there was a walking place of tenne cubites wide inwarde, the way of one cubite: and theyr dores toward the North.

5 Thus the vpper chambers were alway narower: for thoſe chambers (ſeemed) to eate vp theſe (to wit) the lower and the middlemer of the building.

6 For they were in three orders, but had no pillers as the pillers of the courtes: therefore were they ſmaller than the neathermoſt and the middlemoſt (to reckon) from the grounde.

7 And ỹ wall that was without ouer againſt the chaumbers, towarde the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, ỹ length therof was fiftie Cubites. B

8 For the length of the chaumbers that were in the vtter court was fiftie Cubites: and loe, before the temple was a hundred cubites.

9 And vnder theſe chambers (was) the entrie from the eaſt, as one goeth vnto them from the vtter court:

10 In the thickneſſe of the wall of the court toward the eaſt before the ſeparate place, and before the building of the chambers.

11 And the way before them, after the appearance of the chambers which were towarde the North, as their length, ſo was theyr breadth: and al their entries (were) according to theyr faſhion, and according to theyr dores.

12 And according to the dores of the chaumbers that were towarde the South, (was) a dore in the head of the way, (euen) the way waye directly before the wall towarde the east, as one entreth.

13 Then sayde he vnto mee, The chaumbers towarde the northe, and the chaumbers towarde the south, which are before the separate place, those be holy chambers, wherein the Priestes that (a) approche vnto the Lord must eate the moste holie thyngs, and there must they lay the moste holy things, and the meate offering and sinne offering, and trespasse offering: for it is a holy place.

14 When the Priestes come therein, they shal not goe oute of the holy place into the vtter courte, but there they shall lay vp their garmentes wherein they minister, for they are holy: and shall put on (b) other garmentes, and so shall approche to those which are for the people.

15 Now when he hadde finished the measuring of the house within, he led me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and he measured it rounde aboute.

16 He measured the east syde with the measuring cane fyue hundred canes, (euen) with the measuring cane rounde about.

17 And he measured the north syde fiue hundred canes (euen) with the measuring cane rounde about.

18 The south syde also measured he fiue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

19 He turned aboute (also) to the weste syde, and measured fyue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

20 So he measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall round aboute, fyue hundred canes long, and fyue hundred brode, to make a separation betweene the (c) sanctuarie, and the prophane place.

a That is, which exercise the priests office, as more fully is declared in the next chapter following, verse. 19.

b That is, their common apparel, which they vsed among the people: and as some saye, was such as the cōmon people vsed.

c That is, betwene the temple and the citie, whiche in respect of the sanctuarie and temple, was counted prophane.

The. xliij. Chapter.

1. He seeth the glorie of God goyng into the temple, from whence it had before departed. 7. Hee mencioneth the idolatrie of the children of Israell for the whiche they were consumed and brought to nought. 10. He is commaunded to call them agayne to repentaunce.

1 AFterwarde he brought me to the gate (euen) the gate that turneth towarde the east.

2 And beholde, then came the glorie of the God of Israell from out of the east, whose voyce was lyke a greate noyse of waters, and the earth was lightned with his glorie.

Ezech. 9. a. 3 And according to the appearance of the vision whiche I sawe (euen) according to the vision whiche I sawe (a) when I came to destroye the citie: and the visions were like the visions whiche I sawe by the riuer Chebar, and I fell vpon my face.

a When I prophesied the destruction of the citie by the Chaldeans.

4 And the (b) glorie of the Lorde came into the house, by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east.

5 So a winde toke mee vp, and broughte me into the innermore courte, and beholde, the house was full of the glorie of the Lord.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house, and there stode a man by me:

7 And hee sayde vnto me, O thou sonne of man, this rome is my seate, and the place of my fotesteps, whereas I will dwel among the children of Israell for euermore: so that the house of Israell shall no more defile my holy name, neyther they, nor their kinges through their whoredome, and through the dead bodies of their (c) kings (in) their high places.

8 Albeit they haue set theyr threshols by my threshoides, and their postes by my postes, and a wall betwixte me and them, yet haue they defiled my holie name with their abominations that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrathe.

9 But nowe lette them put awaye theyr whoredome, and the dead bodyes of theyr kings out of my sight, and I will dwell among them for euermore.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, shewe thou the house of Israell this house, that they may be ashamed of their wickednesse, and measure themselues an example therat.

11 And if they be ashamed of all their workes, then shewe them the forme of the house and paterne therof, the going out, the comming in, all the manner thereof, yea all the ordinaunces therof, the figures, and all the lawes thereof, and write it in theyr sight, that they may kepe the whole fashion therof and all the ordinaunces therof, and do them.

12 This is the (d) lawe of the house: Upon the top of the mounte shall all the limites thereof bee, rounde aboute the moste holye place: loe, this is the lawe of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the aultar in cubites: the cubite is a cubite and a hande breadth, the bottome (shall be) a cubite, and the breadth a cubite, and the border therof, by the edge thereof rounde about, was one spanne, and thys (shall be) the heyghthe of the aultar.

14 And from the bottom vpon the grounde, vnto the lower peece (shall be) two cubites, and the breadth one cubite: and from the little peece to the great peece (shall be) foure cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 The aultar was foure cubites hygh, and from the aultar vpward stode foure hornes.

16 And the aultar was twelue cubites long, and twelue cubites broade, ſquare in the foure corners therof.

17 The frame of the aultar (ſhal be) foureteene cubites long, and foureteene brode in the foure ſquare corners therof, and the border aboute it ſhall be halfe a cubite, and the bottome therof (ſhal be) a cubite about, and the ſteppes therof (ſhal be) turned towarde the eaſt.

18 And hee ſayde vnto mee, Thou ſonne of man, thus ſayeth the Lord God, Theſe are the ordinaunces of the aultar, in the daye when it is made, to offer burnte offerings therupon, and to ſprinkle bloud therupon.

19 And thou ſhalt giue to the Prieſtes, to the Leuites that be of the ſeede of Sadoc, and approche vnto mee, ſayth the Lorde God, to miniſter vnto mee, a young bullocke for a ſinne offering.

20 And thou ſhalte take of the bloud therof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus ſhalt thou cleanſe it, and purge it.

D 21 Thou ſhalte take the bullocke alſo of the ſinne offeryng, and burne him in the appointed place without the ſanctuarie.

22 The ſeconde daye, take a Goate bucke without blemiſhe for a ſynne offeryng, to cleanſe the aulter withall, lyke as it was cleanſed with the bullocke.

23 Nowe when thou haſte made an ende of cleanſing it, then offer a yong bullock without blemiſhe, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemiſhe alſo.

24 Offer them before the Lorde, and let the Prieſtes caſt ſalte therupon, and giue them ſo vnto the Lorde for a burnt offering.

25 Seuen dayes ſhalt thou prepare euery day a goate bucke for ſinne, a yong bullock and a ramme of the flocke, bothe withoute blemiſhe ſhall they prepare.

26 Seuen dayes ſhal they reconcile and cleanſe the aulter, and (e) fill the place therof.

e. Or, conſecrate it.

27 When theſe dayes are expired, then vpon the eight daye, and ſo forth the prieſts ſhall make youre burnt offerings, and peace offerings vpon the aultar: ſo I will accept you, ſayth the Lord God.

1. He ſheweth what doore of the Temple is ſhutte. 6. He is commanded to vpbrayd the people with their offence. 9. VVho are to be admitted to the ſeruice of the tẽple, & who to be refuſed. 15. He ſheweth what Prieſtes hee woulde haue admitted into the holye place, and alſo their office.

1 AFter this, he broughte me agayne to the vtterwarde gate of the ſanctuarie on the eaſt ſyde, and that was ſhut.

2 Then ſayd the Lorde vnto me, This gate ſhall be ſtill (a) ſhut, and not opened, neyther ſhall any man goe through it: for the Lorde God of Iſraell hathe entred by it, and it ſhall be ſhut.

a. Meaning from the common people, but not from the prieſtes and the prince. Chapt. 46.b.

3 It is for the prince, the prince himſelfe ſhall ſit in it, to eate bread before the Lord: he ſhal enter by the way of the porche of that gate, and ſhall goe out by the waye of the ſame.

4 Then brought he mee towarde the northe gate before the houſe: and as I lowked, behold, the glorie of the Lorde filled the houſe of the Lorde, and I fell vpon my face.

5 So the Lord ſpake vnto me, O thou ſonne of man, ſet thyne hearte, and beholde wyth thyne eies, & heare with thine eares all that I ſay vnto thee concerning all the ordinances of the houſe of the Lorde, and all the lawes therof, and marke well the entring in of the houſe, vñ euery going forth of the ſanctuarie.

6 And thou ſhalt ſay to the rebellious (euen) to the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſayth the Lord God, O houſe of Iſraell, ye haue ynoughe of all your abhominations.

7 Seyng ye haue brought into my ſanctuarie (b) ſtrangers hauing vncircumciſed hearts, & vncircumciſed fleſhe, to be in my ſanctuarie, to pollute my houſe, when ye offer my bread fat, and bloud, and they haue broken my couenant, becauſe of all your abhominations:

B b. For they had brought idolaters whiche were of other countreyes, to teache them their idolatrie Chapt. 23.g.

8 And ye haue not kepte the (c) ordinances of my holie thinges, and ye haue ſet keepers to keepe my ſanctuarie (d) for you.

c. Ye haue not offred vnto me accordyng to my lawes.
d. In your place.

9 Therfore thus ſayeth the Lord God, Of all the ſtrangers that dwell among the children of Iſraell, no ſtraunger vncircumciſed in heart, nor vncircumciſed in fleſhe, ſhall enter into my ſanctuarie.

10 But the Leuites that wente backe from me when Iſraell went aſtray, which ſtrayed from me after their idols, (c) ſhall beare their iniquitie:

c. That is, the Leuites which had cõmitted idolatrie, were put from their dignitie, and couldе not be receiued into the priests office, although they had bene of the houſe of Aarõ, but muſt ſerue in the inferiour offices, as to watch & to keepe the doores. 4. Reg. 23. b.

11 And they ſhall be miniſters in my ſanctuarie, and keepe the gates of the houſe, and miniſter in the houſe: they ſhal ſlay ẏ burnt offrings and the ſacrifice for the people, and they ſhal ſtand before them to ſerue them.

12 Becauſe they ſerued before theyr idols, and cauſed the houſe of Iſraell to fall into iniquitie: therfore haue I lifte vp my hand againſt them, ſayth the Lord God, and they ſhall beare their iniquitie.

13 And they ſhall not come neare vnto me to do the office of a prieſt vnto mee, neither ſhal they come neare vnto anye of myne holye things in the moſt holy place: but they ſhal beare beare theyr owne shame and abominations which they haue done.

C 14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the house for all the seruice thereof, and for al that shal be done therein.

15 But the priestes, the Leuites, the sonnes of Sadoc, that (f) kepte the charge of my sanctuary, when the chyldren of Israell strayed from me, shal come to me to do me seruice, to stande before me, and to offer me the fat and the bloud, sayth the Lorde God.

f. Which obserued the law of God, and fel not to idolatry.

16 They shal goe into my sanctuarie, and approche vnto my table to do me seruice, and they shal keepe my charge.

17 Now when they goe in at the gates of the innermer court, they shal put on linnen clothes, so that no woollen come vpon thē while they do seruice vnder the gates of the innermer court, and within.

18 They shal haue linnen bonnets vpō theyr heades, and linnen "breeches vppon their loynes: they shall not gyrde them selues in the "sweate.

" In the places of sweate, ye tis not ouer strayte, to make them to sweate.

19 And when they goe forth into the vtter court (euen) to the vtter court of the people, they shal put of the clothes wherin they haue ministred, and lay them in the chamber of the sanctuarie, and put on other apparell, and they shal not sanctifie the people with theyr clothes.

g. For that, as S. Ierome layth, was the manner of the Gentiles, and Infidels.

20 They shall not (g) shaue theyr heades, nor suffer theyr heare to growe long, but poule theyr heades only.

Lmit. 20. b.

D 21 All the priestes that goe into the innoſt court, shal drynke no wine.

22 They shall mary no wydowe, neyther one that is put from hyr husband, but a mayde of the seede of the house of Israel, or a widowe that hath had a priest before.

23 They shall shewe my people the difference betweene the holy & vnholy, & cause them to discerne betwixt the cleane and vncleane.

24 And in controuersie they shall stande to iudge, and giue sentence after my iudgements: and my lawes and my statutes shall they keepe in al my solemne feastes, and halow my sabbothes.

Lmi. 21. b.

25 They shall come at no dead person to defile them selues: but with father or mother, sonne or daughter, brother or sister, that hath had yet no husband, (h) may they be defiled.

h. They may beat theyr burial, which was termed a defiling.

26 And when he is cleansed, there shal be reckoned vnto him seuen dayes.

27 And when he goeth into the sanctuarie, vnto the inner courte, to minister in the sanctuarie, he shal bryng his sinne offeryng, sayth the Lorde.

E 28 There shal be to them an inheritance, (euen) I theyr inheritance: but possession shall ye gyue them none in Israell, for I am their possession.

Num. 18. a.

29 The meate offeryng, sinne offeryng, and trespasse offeryng shall they eate: and euery dedicate thyng in Israel shalbe theyrs.

30 And al the first of all the first borne, and euery oblation, (euen) al of euery sorte of your oblations shal be the priests: ye shal also giue vnto the priestes the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessyng to reste in thyne house.

The. xlv. Chapter.

1. Out of all the lande of promyse are there separated foure portions, of whiche the first is giuen to the priestes and to the temple, the second to the Leuites, the thirde to the citie, the fourth to the prince. 10. Of iust weightes and measures. 13. Of the first fruites.

1 WHen ye diuide the lād by the lot for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation to the Lorde, a holy (a) portion of the lande, twentie and fiue thousande canes long, and ten thousande broade: this shal be holy in al the borders thereof rounde about.

A

a. Of al the lande of Israel, the Lord requireth onely this portiō, for the temple, & for the priestes, for the citie, & for the prince.

2 Of this parte there shall belong vnto the sanctuary fiue hundred cubites (in length) with fiue hundred (in breadth) square, rounde about: and fiftie cubites rounde about for the suburbes.

3 And of this measure shalte thou measure, (namely) of the length of twentie and fiue thousande, and the breadth of ten thousande: and in it shal be the sanctuarie, and the most holy place.

4 That holy portiō of the land shal parteyne vnto the priestes whiche do seruice in the sanctuarie, which come neare to serue the Lord: and it shall be vnto them a place for theyr houses, and a holy place for the sanctuarie.

5 And in the twentie and fyue thousande length, and ten thousande breadth, shall the Leuites that minister in the house, haue their possession for twentie chambers.

6 Ye shall giue also vnto the citie a possessiō of fiue thousande canes broade, and twentie and fiue thousand long, ouer against the oblation of the holy portion, that shal be for the whole house of Israell.

7 And (a portion shal be) for the prince on this side and on that side, of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the citie, (euen) before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the citie, frō the west corner westwarde, and from the east corner eastward: and the length shal be by one of the portions, from the west border vnto the east border.

8 In this lande shall be his possession in Israell: and my princes shall no more oppresse my people, and (the rest) of the land shal they giue to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

b. The prophete sheweth that the heads must be first reformed, afore any good order can be established among the people.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde God, (b) Let it suffise you, O ye princes of Israell: leaue off crueltie and oppression, and execute iudgement and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, sayth the Lorde God.

10 Ye shall haue a true Ballance, a true (c) Ephah, and a true Bath.

c. Ephah and Bath were both of one quantitie, for the Ephah conteyned in drie things, that as the Bath did in liquide.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shal be alyke: one Bath shall conteyne the tenth part of an Homer, and an Ephah the tenth parte of an Homer: the equalitie therof shal be after the Homer.

Leuit. 5. b. Exod. 30. c. Leuit. 27. d. Num. 3. g.

12 The Sicle maketh twentie Gerahs: and twentie Sicles, and (d) twentie and fiue, and fiftiene Sicles make a Maneh.

d. That is, threescore Sicles make a weight called Maneh: for he ioyneth these three partes to a Maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer: the sixth parte of an Ephah out of an Homer of wheate, and the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of barley.

14 Concernyng the ordinaunces of the oyle, (euen) of the Bath of oyle, (yea shal offer) the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor: tenne Bathes (shal be) a Homer, because tenne Bathes (fyl) a Homer.

15 And one lambe from two hundred sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel, for a meate offryng, burnt offryng, and peace offryng, to reconcile them, sayth the Lord God.

16 All the people of the lande shall giue this oblation for the prynce in Israel.

17 Agayne, it shal be the princes part to offer burnt offerings, meate offerings, and wyne offerings, in the holy dayes, new moones, sabbothes, and in all the high feastes of the house of Israel: he shal prepare the sinne offeryng, meate offering, burnt offeryng, and peace-offeryng, to reconcile the house of Israel.

e. Which was Nisan, conteynyng part of March, & part of Aprill.

18 Thus sayth the Lorde God, The first day of the first (e) moneth, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemishe, and cleanse the sanctuarie.

19 So the priest shall take of the bloud of the sinne offeryng, and put it vpon the postes of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the aulter, and vpon the postes of the gate of the inner courte.

20 And thus shalt thou do also the seuenth day of the moneth, for suche as haue sinned of ignorance, or beyng deceyued, to reconcile the house withal.

D 21 Upon the fourtienth day of the firste moneth, ye shall haue the Passouer, a feast of seuen dayes, and yee shall eate vnleauened bread. Leuit. 23. d. Deut. 16. a.

22 Upon the same day shall the prynce prepare for him selfe, and all the people of the lande, a bullocke for a sinne offeryng.

23 And in the seuen dayes of the feast, he shall make a burnt offeryng to the Lorde, (euen) of seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes without blemishe dayly, for seuen dayes, and a hee goate dayly for a sinne offeryng.

24 And he shall prepare a meate offeryng of an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ramme, and a (f) Hin of oyle for an Ephah.

f. Reade Exod. 29. g.

25 In the seuenth (moneth) in the fiftienth day of the moneth, on the feast, he shall do accordyng vnto these for seuen dayes: accordyng to the sinne offeryng, accordyng to the burnt offeryng, and accordyng to the meate offeryng, and accordyng to the oyle.

The. xlvi. Chapter.

1. The sacrifice of the Sabbothes, and of the newe Moones. 8. Through whiche doores they must goe in, or come out of the temple.

1 Thus sayth the Lorde God, The gate of A the inner courte towarde the East, shal be shut the sixe worckyng dayes: but in the sabboth and in the day of the newe moone it shal be opened.

2 And the prynce shall enter by the way of the porche of the gate without, and shal stand by the poste of the gate: and the priests shall make his burnt offeryng, and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate, and goe forth: and the gate shall not be shut tyll the euenyng.

3 On the same manner shall the people of the lande also do theyr worshyp before the Lord at the doore of this gate, vpon the Sabbothes, and new Moones.

4 The burnt offeryng that the prynce shall bryng vnto the Lorde vppon the Sabboth, shall be sixe lambes without blemishe, and a ramme without blemishe.

5 And the meate offeryng shal be an Ephah for a ramme, and the meate offeryng for the lambes a (a) gift of his hande, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

a. That is, as much as he will.

6 In the day of the newe moneth (it shall be) a young bullocke without blemyshe, and sixe lambes, and a ramme also without blemishe.

7 With the bullocke he shall gyue an B Ephah, and with the ramme an Ephah also for a meate offeryng: but to the lambes (b) accordyng as his hande shall take, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

b. Accordyng to his habilitie.

8 And when the prynce shall enter, he shall goe go in by the way of the porche of that gate: he shall go forth by the way therof.

9 But when the people of the land come before the Lorde in the hyghe solemne feaste, as many as come in by the north gate to do worshippe, shall go out agayne at the south gate: and they that come in at the southe gate, shall goe forth agayne at the northe gate: there shall none returne by the gate where hee came in, but shall go right forth ouer on the other side.

10 And the prince, hee shall go in the middest of them when they go in, and so come forth when they come forth.

11 Upon the solemne and hygh feaste dayes, this shall be the meate offering: an Ephah, to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ramme, and to the lambes the gyft of his hande, and a Hin of Oyle to an Ephah.

12 Nowe when the Prince shall make a free burnt offering, or peace offerings freely vnto the Lorde: one then shall open hym the gate that turneth towarde the east, and hee shal make his burnt offerings, and his peace offerings as he dyd on the sabboth daye: after hee shall go forth, and when hee is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt dayly make a burnt offering vnto ỹ Lorde of a lābe of one yeere without blemishe, thou shalt do it euery morning.

14 Thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it euery morning, the sixth part of an Ephah, & the third parte of an Hin of oyle, to mingle with the fyne flowre: this meate offering shalbe continually by a perpetuall ordinance vnto the Lorde.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lambe, the meate offering, and oyle euery morning, for a continuall burnt offering.

16 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord God, If ỹ prince gyue a gyfte vnto any of his sonnes, the inheritance therof shalbe his sonnes, their possession shalbe by inheritance.

17 But if he gyue a gyft of his inheritance to one of his seruantes, then it shalbe his to the (c) yeere of libertie, and then returne to the prince: but the inheritance thereof is his sonnes, and shall be theirs.

18 The prince also (d) shall take none of the peoples inheritance, nor put them from their possession: but to his sonnes shal hee giue his owne possession, that my people be not scattered abrode euery man from his possession.

19 And he brought mee through the entrance at the side of the gate, to the holy chambers of the priestes, whiche stode towarde the north, and beholde there was a place vppon the west syde of them.

20 Then sayde he vnto me, This is the place where the priestes shal seeth the trespasse and sinne offerings, & bake the meate offerings: that they neede not beare them into the outwarde couert, and to (e) sanctifie the people.

21 So hee brought mee into the vtter courte, and caused mee to go by the foure corners of the court: and behold, in euery corner of the court, there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the courte there were courts ioyned of fourtie cubites long, and thirtie broade: these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there went a wall rounde aboute them (euen) about those foure: and vnder the walls there were "kitchins made round about.

24 Then sayde hee vnto mee, These are the cookes houses, where the ministers of the house shal boyle the sacrifice of the people.

1 AFterwarde he brought mee agayne vnto the dore of the house, and beholde, there gushed out (a) waters from vnder the threshoulde of the house eastwarde: for the forefront of the house stode toward the east: and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right syde of the house, which lyeth to the aulter southwarde.

2 Then ledde he mee out to the north gate, & ledde mee about by the waye without vnto the vtter gate, by the way that turneth eastwarde: and beholde, there issued forth waters from the right side.

3 Nowe when the man that had the lyne in his hande went forth eastwarde, he measured a thousande cubites, & then he brought mee through the waters, the waters were to the ancles.

4 So hee measured yet a thousande, and brought mee through the waters, the waters were to the knees: yet measured he a thousande, and brought mee through, the waters (were) to the loynes.

5 After this he measured a thousande againe, then was it suche a (b) ryuer that I myght not wade through it, the waters was rysen, and the waters dyd flowe as a ryuer that myght not be waded ouer.

banke of the ryuer were verie many trees(c) on the one ſyde, and on the other.

8 Then ſayde hee vnto mee, Theſe waters flowe out towarde the eaſt countreye, and runne downe into the plaine, and come into the (d) ſea: whiche when it commeth into the ſea, the(e) waters ſhall be wholſome.

9 Yea, all that lyue and moue, whereunto this riuer commeth, ſhall lyue, and there ſhall be a verie great multitude of fyſh, becauſe theſe waters ſhal come thither, for they ſhall be wholſome: and euerye thyng ſhall lyue whither the riuer commeth.

10 By this ryuer ſhall the (f) fyſhers ſtande, from En gaddi, vnto (g) En Eglaim, and there ſpread out their nettes: for their fyſhe ſhall bee accordyng to their kyndes, as the fyſhe of the (h) mayne ſea, exceeding many.

11 But the (i) marſhes therof, and the pittes therof, ſhall not be made wholſome, they ſhall be made ſalte pittes.

12 By this ryuer vpon the bankes thereof on this ſide and on that ſyde, ſhall growe all trees for meate, whoſe leaues ſhall not fade, neyther ſhall the fruite thereof fall, but ſhal bring forth new fruit according to his monethes, for the waters thereof runne out of the ſanctuarie: and the fruite therof ſhall be for meate, and the leaues thereof for "medicine.

13 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, Let thys bee the border wherby ye ſhall inherite the land, according vnto the twelue tribes of Iſraell, Joſeph ſhall haue two portions.

14 And ye ſhall inherite it one as wel as another, concernyng the whiche I lyfte vp my hande to giue it vnto your fathers: and this lande ſhall fall vnto you for inheritance.

19 The ſouth ſyde ſhall be towarde Teman, from Thamar to the waters of ſtrife in Cades, and the ryuer to the mayn ſea: and that is the ſouth parte towarde Teman.

20 The weſt parte alſo ſhall be the great ſea, from the borders tyll a man come ouer againſt Hamath: this is the weſt part.

21 This lande ſhall ye part among you, according to the tribes of Iſraell, 22 And diuide it by lot to be an heritage for you, and for the ſtrangers that dwell among you, and beget children among you: for ye ſhall take them among the children of Iſraell like as though they were of your owne countreye, and they ſhall haue (l) heritage with you among the children of Iſraell.

l. Meaning that in this ſpiritual kingdome, there ſhoulde be no difference betwene Iew nor Gentile, but that al ſhoulde be partakers of this inheritāce in their head Chriſte.
Chapt.44.c
h. Meanyng that it ſhould be ſquare.
a. That is, the portion of the ground, which they ſhal ſeparate & appoint to the Lorde, which ſhall be diuided into three partes: for the prieſts, for the prince, & for the citie.
c. Euery way it ſhal be fifteene and twentie thouſande.

this holy oblation: towarde the nozth fiue and twentie thousande (long) and towarde the weſt ten thousand bzode, towarde the eaſt ten thousand bzode also, & towarde the south fiue and twentie thousande long, and the ſanctuarie of the Lozde ſhall be in the middeſt thereof.

Chapt. 44. c. 11 This ſanctified poztion ſhal be the pzieſtes that are of the childzen of Sadoc, which haue kept my charge, whiche went not aſtray in the errour of the chyldzen of Iſraell, lyke as the Leuites went aſtray.

12 Therfoze this oblation of the lande that is offered, ſhal be theyrs, as a thyng moſt holy, harde vpon the bozders of the Leuites.

13 And ouer agaynſt the bozder of the pzieſts, ſhal the Leuites haue fiue and twentie thousand long, and ten thousand bzoade: all the length ſhall be fiue and twentie thousande, and the bzeadth ten thousande.

℄ 14 Of this poztion they ſhal ſell nothing, noz make any permutation thereof, noz alienate the firſte fruytes of the lande: foz it is holy vnto the Lozde.

15 And the fiue thousande that are left in the bzeadth ouer agaynſt the fiue and twentie thousande, ſhal be a pzophane place foz the citie, foz bouſing, and foz ſuburbes: and the citie ſhal be in the middeſt thereof.

16 And theſe ſhal be the meaſures thereof: the nozth part fiue hundzed and foure thouſande, and the ſouth (b) parte fiue hundzed and foure thouſand, and the eaſt part fiue hundzed and foure thouſande, and the weſt part fiue hundzed and foure thouſande.

b. Meanyng that it ſhoulde be ſquare.

17 The ſuburbes of the citie ſhal haue toward the nozth two hundzed and fiftie, toward the ſouth two hundzed and fiftie, towarde the eaſt two hundzed and fiftie, toward the weſt alſo two hundzed and fiftie.

18 And the reſidue in length ouer agaynſt the oblation of the holy poztion, ſhall be tenne thouſande towarde the eaſt, and ten thouſand toward the weſt: and it ſhal be ouer agaynſt the oblation of the holy poztion, and the increaſe thereof ſhall be foz theyr meate that ſerue the citie.

19 And they that ſerue the citie, they ſhal ſerue it out of al the trybes of Iſrael.

c. Euery way it ſhal be fiue and twentie thouſande. 20 All the oblation ſhall be fiue and twentie thouſande, (c) with fiue and twentie thouſande: yee ſhall offer this oblation foure ſquare, foz the ſanctuarie, and foz the poſſeſſion of the citie.

D 21 And the reſidue ſhall be foz the pzynce, on the one ſide, & on the other of the holy oblation, and of the poſſeſſion of the citie, ouer againſt the fiue and twentie thouſande, of the oblation towarde the eaſt bozder: and weſtwarde, ouer againſt the fiue & twentie thouſand towarde the weſt bozder, ouer agaynſt ſhal be the poztion foz the pzynce: this ſhall be the holy oblation, and the houſe of the ſanctuarie ſhall be in the middeſt thereof.

22 Moreouer, from the poſſeſſion of the Leuites, and the cities poſſeſſion, that whiche is in the middeſt ſhall be the pzynces, betwixte the bozder of (d) Iuda, & the bozder of Beniamin ſhal be the pzynces.

d. So that Iuda was on the north ſide of the princes & Leuites porcions, and Beniamin on the ſouth ſide.

23 Nowe of the other trybes, from the eaſt part vnto the weſt, ſhall Beniamin haue his poztion.

24 Upon the bozders of Beniamin, from the eaſt ſide vnto the weſt, ſhal Simeon haue his poztion.

25 Upon the bozders of Simeon, from the eaſt ſide vnto the weſt, ſhal Iſachar haue his poztion.

26 Upon the bozders of Iſachar, from the eaſt ſide vnto the weſt, ſhall Zabulon haue his poztion.

27 Upon the bozders of Zabulon, from the eaſt part vnto the weſt, ſhall Gad haue his poztion.

28 Upon the bozders of Gad at the South ſide towarde Temanah, the bozder ſhall be from Thamar, vnto the waters of ſtryfe to Cades, and to the ryuer (that runneth) into the mayne ſea. E

29 This is the lande whiche ye ſhall diuide by lot foz an inheritaunce vnto the tribes of Iſraell, and theſe be theyr poztions, ſayth the Lozde God.

30 Theſe be the bondes of the citie, vpon the Nozth part fiue hundzed and foure thouſand meaſures.

31 The gates of the citie ſhal haue the names of the trybes of Iſraell, three gates of the Nozth ſide: one gate of Ruben, another of Iuda, the thirde of Leui.

32 Upon the Eaſt ſide fiue hundzed and foure thouſande meaſures, with three gates, the one of Joſeph, another of Beniamin, the thyrde of Dan.

33 Uppon the South ſide fiue hundzed and foure thouſande meaſures, with the three gates: the one of Simeon, another of Iſachar, the thirde of Zabulon.

34 And vpon the Weſt ſide fiue hundzed and F fiue thouſande meaſures, with theyr three gates alſo: the one of Gad, another of Aſer, the thyrde of Nephthali.

35 Thus ſhall it haue eyghtiene thouſande meaſures round aboute: and the name of the citie from that time forth, ſhal be, The Lozd is there.

The ende of the Prophete Ezechiel.

¶ The booke of the prophete Daniell.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The prophete sheweth the captiuitie of Iehoachim king of Iuda. 4. Of the children that were in captiuitie, the kyng commaundeth to chooſe whiche of them ſhoulde be taught the learnyng and language of the Chaldeans. 5. They are allowed the kyngs feedyng. 8. Daniel abſteyneth from the meate of the king of Babylon.

a. Reade, 4.Reg.24.a. Iere.25.a.

A 1 IN the (a) thyrde yeare of the raygne of Iehoachim kyng of Iuda, came Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylō vnto Hieruſalē, and beſieged it.

2 And the Lorde deliuered Iehoachim the kyng of Iuda into his hande, with parte of the veſſels of the houſe of God, whiche he caried away into the lande of (b) Sennar to the houſe of his God, and he brought the veſſels into his goddes treaſurie.

b. Whiche was a plaine by Babylon, where was the temple of the great God, and is here taken for Babylon.

3 And the kyng ſpake vnto Aſphenaz the (c) chiefe chāberlayne, that he ſhould bring him certayne of the chyldren of Iſraell, of the kings ſeede, and of the princes,

c. Or, maiſter of the Eunuches.

4 Syngulare without any blemiſhe, but well fauoured, ſtudious in all wyſedome, ſkilfull for knowledge, able to vtter knowledge, and ſuche as haue liuelineſſe in them, that they (d) may ſtande in the kings palace: and whom they might teache the learnyng, and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

d. Aſwel to ſerue at the tables, as in other offices.

5 Vnto theſe the kyng appoynted a dayly prouiſion euery day, of a portiō of the kings meate, and of the wyne whiche he dranke, ſo to nouriſhe them three yeares, that afterward they might ſtande before the kyng.

6 Among theſe nowe were certayne of the chyldren of Iuda: (namely) Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias.

B 7 Vnto theſe the chiefe chamberlayne gaue (e) other names, and called Daniel, Baltaſſar: Ananias, Sidrach: Miſael, Miſach: and Azarias, Abednego.

e. Eyther becauſe they would declare their power, as cōquerours, to change the names of thē they ouercam, or els for hatred of their hebrue names.

8 But Daniel purpoſed in his harte, that he would not defile himſelfe with the portion of the kings meate, nor with the wine which he dranke: therefore he requyred the chiefe chamberlayne that he might not defile hym ſelfe.

9 (And God brought Daniel into fauour & tender loue with the chiefe chamberlayne.)

10 And the chiefe chamberlayne ſayde vnto Daniel, I am afrayde of my lorde the kyng, whiche hath appoynted you your meate and your drynke: wherefore ſhoulde he ſee your faces worſe lykyng than the ſyngulares of your age, and ſo ye ſhall make me indanger my head vnto the kyng.

11 Then Daniel ſayde vnto Melaſſar, whom the chiefe chamberlaine had ſet ouer Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias:

12 O proue but tenne dayes with thy ſeruants, and let vs haue pulſe to eate, and water to drynke.

13 Then let our countenances be loked vpon before thee, and the countenaunces of the chyldren that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thou ſeeſt, deale with thy ſeruantes.

14 So he conſented to them in this matter, C and proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the ende of ten dayes, theyr countenaunces appeared fayrer & (f) fatter in fleſhe than al the chyldrens which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

f. Or better lyking.

16 Thus Melaſſar toke away the portion of their meate, and the wyne that they ſhoulde drynke, and gaue them pulſe.

17 As for theſe foure children, God gaue them knowledge and vnderſtandyng in (g) al learnyng and wiſedome: alſo he gaue Daniell vnderſtanding of al (h) viſions and dreames.

g. Meanyng liberall ſcience and naturall knowledge, whiche was vſed where they were conuerſant.

h. So that he onely was a prophete, and none of the other, for by dreames and viſiōs God appeared to his prophetes. Num.12.

18 Now when the (i) tyme was expired, that the kyng had appoynted to bryng them in, the chiefe chamberlayne brought them before Nabuchodonoſor.

i. Of the three yeares aboue mentioned, verſe.5.

19 And the king communed with them: but among them all were founde none ſuche as Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias: therfore ſtode they before the kyng.

20 In all matters of wyſedome and vnderſtandyng that the kyng enquired of them, he founde them tenne tymes better than all the wyſe men and ſothſayers that were in al his realme.

21 And Daniel abode ſtill vnto the (k) firſte yeare of kyng Cyrus.

k. That is, he was eſteemed in Babylō as a prophete, & in aucthorite lōg as the cōmon weale

The ſeconde.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. The dreame of Nabuchodonoſor. 2. Hee calleth vnto him ſoothſayers, and requireth of them both the dreame and the interpretation thereof. 10. They anſwere, they can not ſhewe it. 13. The king commaundeth all the wyſe menne of Babylon to be ſlaine. 16. Daniel requireth tyme to ſolute the queſtion. 19. The Lorde openeth the myſterie vnto Daniell. 24. Daniel is broughte to the king, and ſheweth hym his dreame, and the interpretation thereof. 44. Of the euerlaſting kingdome of Chriſte.

1 IN the (a) ſeconde yeare of the raigne of Nabuchodonoſor, had Nabuchodonoſor a dreame, wherethrough his ſpirite was troubled, and his ſleepe brake from him.

2 Then the King commaunded to call the wyſe men, and ſothſayers, and ſorcerers, and the (b) Chaldees, for to ſhewe the kyng his dreame: So they came, and ſtode before the king.

3 And the kyng ſayd vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my ſpirite was troubled to knowe the dreame.

4 Vppon this the Chaldees aunſweared the king in the (c) Syrians ſpeache, O king, god ſaue thy lyfe for euer: Shewe thy ſeruantes the dreame, and we ſhall ſhew the interpretation.

5 The king anſwered, and ſayd to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone fro me: If ye wil not make mee vnderſtande the dreame with the interpretation therof, ye ſhall be drawne in peeces, and your houſes made a iakes.

6 But if ye tell me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof, yee ſhall receyue of mee guiftes, rewardes, and great honour, therefore ſhewe me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They anſwered agayne, and ſayde, The kyng muſt ſhewe his ſeruauntes the dreame, and ſo ſhall wee declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the kyng anſweared, ſaying, I perceyue of a trueth that ye woulde (d) redeeme the tyme, for ſo muche as ye ſee the thing is gone fro me.

9 Therfore if ye will not tell me the dreame, this is your onely purpoſe, ye haue prepared lying and corrupte wordes to ſpeake before me, till the tyme be chaunged: therefore tell me the dreame, that I may knowe that yee can declare me the interpretation therof.

10 Vppon this, the Chaldees gaue anſwere before the king, and ſayde, There is no man vppon earth that can tell the thyng whiche the king ſpeaketh of, yea there is neither king prince, nor lord, that euer aſked ſuche things at a wyſe man, ſothſayer, or Chaldean.

11 For it is a rare matter that the king requireth, neyther is there any that can certifie the king therof, except the goddes, whoſe dwelling is not with fleſhe.

12 For the whiche cauſe the king was wrothe with greate indignation, and commaunded to deſtroy all the wyſe men at Babylon.

13 So the decree went forth, and the wiſe me were ſlain: they ſought alſo to ſlay Daniel, with his companions.

14 Then Daniell ſtayed the counſell and decree with Arioch the captaine of the kyngs gard, who was gone forth to put to death the wyſe men of Babylon. C

15 He anſwered, and ſayde vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the ſentence ſo haſty from the kyng? Then Arioch tolde Daniel the matter.

16 Vpon this went Daniell, and deſired the king that he woulde giue him leyſure, and that he woulde ſhewe the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his houſe, and ſhewed the thing to Ananias, Miſaell, and Azarias his companions:

18 That they ſhould beſeeche the God of heauen for grace in this ſecrete, that Daniel and his felowes, with other ſuch as were wiſe in Babylon, periſhed not.

19 Then was the ſecret reuealed vnto Daniel in a viſion by nyghte: then Daniel prayſed the God of heauen.

20 Daniel alſo anſwered, & ſayde, The name of God be prayſed for euer and euer: for wiſdome and ſtrength are his. Pſal. 113. 8.

21 He chaungeth the times and ſeaſons, he taketh away kings, he ſetteth vp kings: he gyueth wiſedome to the wiſe, and vnderſtanding to thoſe that vnderſtande. D

22 Hee reuealeth the deepe and ſecrete things, he knoweth ỹ thing that lyeth in darkeneſſe, for the lyght dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee, and prayſe thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou haſte gyuen mee wiſedome and ſtrength, and haſt ſhewed mee nowe the thyng that wee deſired of thee: for thou haſt declared the kings matter vnto vs.

24 Vpon this went Daniel in vnto Arioch, whome the king had ordeyned to deſtroy the wiſe men at Babylon: he went & ſayd thus vnto him, Deſtroy not the wiſe men of Babylon, but bring mee before the kyng, and I ſhall ſhewe the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the kyng in all the haſte, and ſayde thus vnto him, a. The father and the ſonne were both called by this name, ſo that it is ment of the ſonne when he raygned alone: for he raygned alſo after a ſort with his father Or elſe in the ſecõd yeere of his generall conqueſt of other barbarous nations.

b. He vnderſtandeth men geuen to ſuperſtition & ſtudy of vayne artes and ſciences. It appeareth by the nature of the woorde which ſignifieth as deuyls, that they wrought their wonders by the power of the deuill.

c. That is, the Chaldeans tõg which the prophet mẽtioned here, becauſe he minded to write his viſiõs not in the Hebrue tong but in the Chaldeans, whyche was familiar and knowen in many nations.

d. Ye ſeeke occaſion of delayes, vntyll ſome other affayres might happen, and make me forget the matter.

him, I haue founde a man among the children of Juda, that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then answered the king, and sayde vnto Daniel, whose name was Baltassar:
Art thou able to shewe me the dreame whiche I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniell aunswered in the presence of the king, and sayde: As for thys secrete for the which the king maketh inquisition, there can neyther the men of vnderstanding, nor soth-sayers, nor the wyse men, nor readers of destinies, declare it vnto the king:

28 But there is a (c) God in heauen that re-uealeth secretes, and sheweth the king Na-buchodonosor, what is for to come in the later dayes. Thy dreame, and that which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this.

29 O king, when thou wast in thy bed, thou-ghtes came into thy mynde what shoulde come hereafter: so hee that is the opener of mysteries, telleth thee what is for to come.

30 As for me, this secrete is not shewed mee for any wysedome that I haue more than any other lyuing: but onely that I mighte shewe the king the interpretation, and that thou mygheest know the thoughtes of thine owne heart.

31 Thou king sawest, and behold, ther (was) a great image: this greate (f) image, whose brightnesse was excellent, stode before thee, and the fourme therof was terrible.

32 This images (g) heade was of fine golde, his breast and armes of siluer, his belly and his thighes of brasse.

33 His legges were of iron, his feet were part of iron, and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cutte without handes, which smote the image vp-on his feete that were of iron and claye, and brake them to peeces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brasse, the siluer, and golde, broken altogyther, and became lyke the chaffe of sommer floures, and the wynde caried them awaye, that no place was founde for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame: and nowe will we shewe before the king what it meaneth.

37 O king, thou art a king of kyngs: for the God of Heauen hathe giuen vnto thee a kingdome, power, strength, and glorie.

38 And in all places whereſoeuer the children of men dwell, the beastes of the fielde, & the foules of the ayre, hathe hee giuen into thy hande, and hath made thee ruler in them al:
thou art this (h) head of golde.

39 After thee shall aryse (i) an other kingdome inferior to thee, and an other (k) third kingdome shall be of brasse, whiche shall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 The (l) fourthe kingdome shall be strong as yron: for as yron breaketh in peeces, and subdueth all things, and as yron bruiseth all these thinges, (so) shall it breake in peeces and bruise (all.)

41 Where as thou sawest the feete and toes, part of potters clay, and parte of iron: the kingdome shall bee (m) diuided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, for so muche as thou sawest the iron mixt with the clay and earth.

42 And (as) the toes of the feete (were) part of iron, and parte of clay: (so) shall the kyngdome be part strong, and part broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest yron mixt with claye and earthe, they shall mingle themselues with the (n) seede of men, and yet not ioyne one with an other, as iron will not be mixt with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these kings, shall the God of heauen, set vp a (o) kyngdom, which shall neuer be destroyed, and this kingdome shall not bee giuen ouer to an other people:
but it shall breake and destroy al these king-domes, and it (p) shall stande for euer.

45 Lyke as thou sawest that (q) without any handes there was cut oute of the mounte a stone, whiche brake the iron, the brasse, the claye, the siluer and golde in peeces: so the great God hath shewed the king what shall com to passe after this: This is a true dream and the interpretation of it is sure.

46 Then the kyng Nabuchodonosor fell downe vpon his face, and bowed hym selfe vnto Daniel, and commaunded to offeryne
(r) rewardes, and sweete odours for him.

47 The king aunswered Daniel, and sayde,
Of a truth (s) your God is a God of gods, and the Lorde of kinges, and a reuealer of secrets, seing thou couldest reuele this secret.

48 So the king made Daniel a greate man, and gaue hym many and greate giftes: he made him ruler of all the countreys of Babylon, and the chiefe of the rulers about all the wise men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniell (t) made requeste to the king, and he set Sydrach, Mysach, and Abednego ouer the charge of the Prouince of Babylon: but Daniell sate (v) in the kinges gate.

v. Remayned in the Courte, as one of the kinges chiefe Counsaylours.

e. Hereby he smyteth the king with a certain feare & reuerence of God, that hee might be the more apt to re ceiue the high mysteries that should be re-uealed.

f. By this is vnderstanded the worlde.

g. By gold, siluer, brasse, and iron, are ment the Chaldean, Persian, Macedonian, & Romane kingdome, whiche should succes-siuely rule the world til christ (which is here called the stone) come him selfe and destroye the last.

o. Meaning the kingdome of Christe.

p. It shall be eternall, for the spirit that is in the Church, is lyfe eternall. Rom. 8. b.

q. That is, that the kingdome of Christ shuld be sette vp by God, not by men.

r. To perform his promise made to him that shuld interprete his dreame, as verse. 6.

s. This confession was but a sodain motion as it was also in Pharao, Exod. 9. 6. but his heart was not touched, as appeared soon afterward.

t. This he did not for ambition, or priuate

The.iij. Chapter.

1. The kyng setteth vp a golden image, whiche he commaundeth to be worshypped. 8. Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego are accused, bycause they despised the kings commaundement. 13. They are brought vnto the king, and commaunded to woorshyp the image. 16. They refuse to doo it, and are put into a burnyng ouen. 25. By beleefe in God they are deliuered from the fire. 28. Nabuchodonosor confesseth the power of God, after the sight of the miracle.

1 Nabuchodonosor the kyng made an image of golde, whiche was threescore cubites hygh, and sixe cubites thicke: he set it vp in the playne of Dura, in the prouince of Babylon.

2 Then Nabuchodonosor the kyng sente forth, to gather together the Dukes, Lordes, and nobles, the iudges and officers, the deputies, and sheriffes, with all the rulers of the prouinces, that they might come to the (a) dedication of the image whiche Nabuchodonosor the kyng (b) had set vp.

3 So the Dukes, Lordes, and Nobles, the iudges, and officers, deputies, and sheriffes, with all the rulers of the prouince, gathered them together vnto the dedicatyng of the image that Nabuchodonosor the kyng had set vp, and they stode before the image which Nabuchodonosor had set vp.

4 Then an heralde cryed aloude: To you it is commaunded, O (c) people, nations, and languages,

5 That when ye heare the noyse of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, shawme, psalteries, dulcimer, and all maner of instruments of musicke, ye fall downe and worshyp that golden image that Nabuchodonosor the kyng hath set vp.

6 Who so then falleth not downe, and worshipperh, shall euen the same houre be cast into the middes of a hote fyrie furnace.

7 Therefore, when all the folke hearde the noyse of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, shawme, psalteries, and all instruments of musicke, then all the people, nations, and languages fell downe, and worshypped the golden image that Nabuchodonosor the kyng had set vp.

8 Nowe were there certayne men of the Chaldees that went euen then, and (d) cryed out an accusation of the Iewes.

9 They spake, and sayde vnto kyng Nabuchodonosor, O kyng, lyue for euer.

10 Thou, O kyng, haste made a decree, that euery man that shall heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, shawme, psalteries, dulcimer, and all instruments of musicke, shall fall downe, and worshyp the golden image:

11 And who so then fell not downe, and worshipped not, that he shoulde be caste into the middes of an hote fyrie furnace.

12 Nowe are there certayne Iewes, whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon, (namely) (e) Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: these men, O kyng, regarded not thy commaundement: yea they will not serue thy goddes, nor worshyp the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 Then Nabuchodonosor in his anger and wrathe commaunded, that Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego should be brought vnto him: so these men were brought before the king.

14 Then Nabuchodonosor spake vnto them, and sayde, Is it true, O Sidrach, Misach, & Abednego, wyl not you serue my goddes, nor worshyp the golden image that I haue set vp?

15 Nowe therefore be ready when ye heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpette, harpe, shawme, psalteries, dulcimers, and all instruments of musicke, to fall downe, and worshyp the image whiche I haue made: for if ye worshyp it not, ye shal be cast immediatly into the myddes of a hote fyrie furnace: for who is that God, that can deliuer you out of my handes?

16 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego answeared the kyng, and sayde, O Nabuchodonosor, we are not (f) carefull to aunsweare thee in this matter:

17 Beholde, our God whom we serue, is (g) able to deliuer vs from the hote fyrie furnace: and he wyll deliuer vs out of thy handes, O kyng:

18 And though he wyll not, yet shalt thou knowe, O kyng, that we wyll not serue thy gods, nor worshyp the golden image whiche thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nabuchodonosor full of indignation, so that the countenaunce of hys face chaunged vppon Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: therefore he charged and commaunded, that they should heate the furnace, one seuen tymes more than it was wont to be heate.

20 And he charged the moste valiant men of warre that were in hys armie, to binde Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, & to cast them into the hote fyrie furnace.

21 So these menne were bounde in theyr coates, hosen, head attyre, with theyr other garments, and caste into the middes of the hote fyrie furnace.

22 Ther-

a. Shewyng that the idol is not knowē for an idol so long as it is with the workemā: but when the ceremonies & solemnes are ended and vsed, and the cōmon of the people is there, the idol is a blocke they thinke may haue made a God.

b. This was sufficient with the wicked at all tymes to approue theyr religion, if the kynges auctho-rite were alleaged for the stablishment therof, not cōsidering in the same tyme what Gods worde did per-swade.

c. The two dangerous weapons wherwith Satan assayleth the children of God, is the cōsent of the multitude, and the cruelte of the punishment.

d. That is, accused the Iewes with an out crye.

e. It seemeth that they named not Daniel, bicause he was greatly in the kings fauour, thinking if these three had bene destroyed, they might haue better occasion to accuse Daniel after: and this declareth that this policie of erecting this image, was inuented by the malitious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destructiō of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

f. They should haue done injurie to God, if they shoulde haue doubted in this holy cause, & therfore they say that they are resolued to die for gods cause.

g. They ground on two poynts: first on the power and prouidence of God ouer thē: secondly on theyr cause, whiche was Gods glory, & the testifying of his true religion with theyr bloud, & so make open confession that they wil not so much as outwardly cōsent to idolatrie.

22 Therefore, bycause the kyngs commaundement was strayte, and the furnace was receyuyng hote, the men that put in Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, the flambe of the fire destroyed them.

23 And these three men Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, fell downe in the middes of the hote fyrie furnace bounde.

24 Then Nabuchodonosor the kyng was astonyed, and rose vp in all hast: he spake vnto hys counsell, and sayde, Dyd not we caste three men bounde into the myddes of the fire? They answeared and sayde vnto the kyng, It is true, O kyng.

25 He answeared and sayde, Loe, I see foure men loose, walkyng in the middes of the fyre, and they haue no hurte: and the fourme of the fourth is lyke the (h) sonne of God.

h. That is, an angel of God, as verse. 28.

26 Upon this went Nabuchodonosor vnto the mouthe of the hote fyrie furnace, he spake also, and sayde, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, ye seruants of the hygh God, goe forthe and come hither. And so Sidrach, Misach, & Abednego came forth of the middes of the fyre.

27 Then the dukes, lordes, and nobles, and the kyngs counsell, came together to see these men, vpon whome the fyre had no maner of power in their bodyes: in so muche that the heare of their head was not burnt, and their clothes vnchaunged, yea there was no smell of fyre felt vpon them.

¶ 28 Then spake Nabuchodonosor, and sayde, Blessed be the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, which hath sent his angel, and deliuered his seruants that put their truste in hym, and haue altered the kyngs commaundement, and ioparded their bodyes, rather than they would serue or worship any God, except their owne God onely.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that euery people, nation, and language which speake any blasphemie agaynst the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, shall be drawen in peeces, and their houses shall be made a iakes: bycause there is no God that can deliuer after this sorte.

30 So the kyng promoted Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, in the prouince of Babylon.

The iiij. Chapter.

4. Nabuchodonosor dreameth agayne. 8. Daniel interpreteth it. 29. Nabuchodonosor is put out of his realme, and eateth with beasts. 34. He confesseth the power of God, and is restored vnto his kyngdome.

1 NAbuchodonosor kyng, vnto all people, nations, & languages, that dwel vpon the (a) whole earth, peace be multiplyed among you.

A

a. Meanyng so farre as his dominion extended.

2 I thought it good to shewe the signes, and marueylous workes that the hygh God hath wrought vpon me.

3 O how great are his signes, & how mightie are his wonders? hys kyngdome is an (b) euerlastyng kingdome, and his dominiō is from generation to generation.

b. Reade chapt. 2. f.

4 I Nabuchodonosor beyng at reste in my house, and flouryshyng in my palace,

5 Sawe (c) a dreame, whiche made me afrayde, and the thoughts vppon my bedde, with the visions of my head troubled me.

c. This was another dreame beside that which before of the foure empires.

6 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bryng all the wyse men of Babylon before me, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

7 So came the wyse men, the sothsayers, the Chaldeans, and wysardes, to whom I tolde the dreame: but they could not shewe me the interpretation thereof.

B

8 Tyll at the laste Daniel came before me (whose name was Baltassar, accordyng to the name of my God) which hath the spirite of the holy gods in hym, and before hym I tolde the dreame, saying,

9 O Baltassar, thou prynce of wyse men, for somuch as I know that thou hast the spirite of the holy gods, & no secrete troubleth thee: tel me therfore the visions of my dreame that I haue seene, and the interpretation therof.

10 Thus were the visions of my head vpon my bedde: And beholde, I sawe a tree in the middes of the earth, and the heyght therof was great,

11 A great tree and strong, and the heyght therof reached vnto the heauen, and the sight therof to the endes of all the earth.

12 The leaues therof were faire, and the fruite therof mucke, and in it was meate for all: the beastes of the fielde had shadowes vnder it, and the foules of the ayre dwelt in the bowes therof: all flesshe fedde of it.

13 I sawe in the visions of my head vpon my bed, and beholde a (d) watcher, and a holy one came downe from heauen,

d. Which was an angel of God.

14 And cryed mightyly, saying thus, Hewe downe the tree, breake off hys braunches, shake off his leaues, and scatter his fruyte abrode: that the beastes may get them away from vnder hym, and the foules from his branches.

C

15 Neuertheless, leaue the stumpe of hys rootes styll in the earth, and with a bande of iron and brasse (bynde it) among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the deawe of of heauen, and lette his portion be with the beastes among the grasse of the fielde.

16 Let his hart be (e)changed from mans(nature) and let a beasts heart be giuē vnto him, and let seuen tymes be passed ouer him.

17 This sentence (is) according to the (f) decree of the watchers, & the request according to the worde of the holy ones: because liuing men should knowe that the highest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whome it lyketh him, and setteth vp ouer it the basest among men.

18 This is the dreame that I king Nabuchodonosor haue seene: therefore thou, O Baltassar, declare the interpretation therof, forsomuche as all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to shew me what it meaneth: but thou canst doe it, for the spirite of the holie Gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, helde his peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughtes (g) troubled him. So the king spake and sayde, O Baltassar, let neyther the dreame, nor the interpretation therof trouble thee. Baltassar annswered, saying, O my Lorde, thys dreame bee to them that hate thee, and the interpretation therof to thyne aduersaries.

20 As for the tree that thou sawest, whiche was greate and myghtie, whose heigth reached vnto the heauen, and the syght thereof through all the worlde,

21 Whose leaues were fayre, and the fruite thereof muche, and in it was meate for all, vnder the which the beastes of the fielde had their habitation, and vpon whose braunches the foules of the ayre did sit:

22 It is thou, O king, whiche art great and myghtie, for thy greatnesse increaseth, and reacheth vnto the heauen, so doth thy dominion to the endes of the earth.

23 But whereas the king sawe a watcher, and a holie one that came downe from heauen, and sayde, Hewe downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the roote thereof in the earthe, and with a bande of yron and brasse, bynde it among the grasse of the fielde, and lette it bee weat with the dewe of the heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes of the fielde, till (h) seuen tymes passe ouer him.

24 This, O king, is the interpretation, yea it is the very decree of the most highest of all, and it toucheth my Lorde the king.

25 Thou shalt be cast out from men, and thy dwelling shall bee with the beastes of the fielde: with grasse shalt thou be fedde like (i) Oxen, thou shalt be wet with the dewe of the heauen, yea seuen tymes shall passe ouer thee, till thou (k) know that the highest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom he list.

26 Moreouer, whereas it was sayde, that the stumpe of the roote of the tree should be left vnto it: it betoketh that thy kingdome shall remayne whole vnto thee, after thou haste learned to know that the power commeth from heauen.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable vnto thee, and (l) breake off thy sinnes by righteousnesse, and thyne iniquities by mercie toward the poore: loe, let there be a healing of thyne errour.

28 All these thynges touche the kyng Nabuchodonosor.

29 So after (m) twelue monethes, the kyng walked in the palace of the kingdome of Babylon.

30 And the king spake and sayde, Is not this greate Babylon that I haue buylte for the house of the kingdome by the myght of my power, and for the honour of my maiestie.

31 Whyle these wordes were yet in the kinges mouth, there fell a voyce from heauen, saying, O king Nabuchodonosor, to thee bee it spoken, The kingdome is departed from thee.

32 And thou shalt be cast out of mens companie, thy dwelling shall be with the beastes of the fielde: so that thou shalte eate grasse like oxen, & seuen tymes shal passe ouer thee, vntil thou know well that the highest hath power vpon the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whom it pleaseth him.

33 The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor, & he was cast out of mens companie, and did eat grasse lyke Oxen, and his bodie was weat with the dewe of heauen, til his heares were growne as Eagles (feathers) and his nayles lyke byrdes clawes.

34 When this kyng was past, I Nabuchodonosor decree. lyft vnto heauen, and myne vnderstanding was restored vnto me: then gaue I thankes vnto the highest, I magnified, and praysed him that liueth for euermore, whose power is an euerlasting power, and his kingdome is from one generation to an other.

35 And all they that dwell vpon the earth, are to be reputed as nothyng, and according to his will he worketh in the armie of heauen, among the inhabitoures of the earth: and there is none that may resist his hand, or say vnto him, What doest thou?

36 At the same time was myne vnderstanding giuen me againe, and I was (restored) to the honour of my kingdome, my glorie, k. Daniel sheweth the cause why God thus punished him.

l. Cease from prouoking God to anger any longer by thy sinnes: and where thou haste cruelly oppressed many poore, be now mercifull vnto them in righteousnes: so shall the errours of thy former life be redressed.

m. After that Daniel had declared this vision, & this his pride declared in the nexte verse, sheweth that it is not in man to conuert to God, except his spirit moue him, seing that these terrible threatenings could not moue him to repent.

n. That is, the seuen times or yeres mentioned in the verses 16. and 23. and 25. and 32.

and my beaute was restored vnto me, and my counsellours and (o) Princes sought vnto mee, and I was established in my kingdome, and my glorie was augmented towarde mee.

37 Nowe therefore, I (p) Nabuchodonosor, praise, and extoll and magnifie the king of heauen, whose workes are all truth, and his wayes iudgement, and those that walke in pride he is able to abase.

o. By whom it semeth he was put from his kingdome before.

p He doth not onely prayse god for his deliuerance, but also confesseth his fault, that God only may haue the glorie, and man the shame, and that he may be exalted and mã cast downe.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Balthasar king of Babylon, abusing the vessels of the temple, seeth an hande writing in the wall. 8. The soothsayers called of the king, can not expounde the writing. 13. Daniel is called, which readeth it, and interpreteth it also. 30. Balthasar being slayne, Darius succeedeth in his roome.

1 KIng (a) Balthasar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and dranke wine (b) before the thousande.

2 And Balthasar, when he hadde tasted the wine, commaunded to bring hym the golden and syluer vessells, whiche his (c) father Nabuchodonosor hadde broughte from the temple in Hierusalem, that the kyng, and his princes, and his wyues, and his concubines might drinke therin.

3 So were brought the golden vessells that they hadde taken out of the Temple of the Lords house at Hierusalem: and the king, and his Princes, his wyues, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and praysed the gods of gold, siluer, brasse, iron, wood, and stone.

5 In the selfe same houre there appeared fyngers of a mannes hande, writyng right ouer (d) against the candelsticke, vpon the plaster of the wall of the kinges Palace, and the king sawe the knuckles of the hande that wrote.

6 Then changed [illegible] his countenance, and his thoughtes [illegible] him, so that the ioynts of his loynes were loosed, and his (e) knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the king cryed mightily, that they should bring the soothsayers, Chaldeis, and wysardes: The king spake also to the wyse men of Babylon, and sayde, Who so can reade this writing, and shewe me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and haue a chayne of gold about his necke, and shall bee the thirde ruler in the kingdome.

8 Vpon this came all the kinges wyse men, but they coulde neyther reade the writyng, nor shewe the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Balthasar greatly troubled, and his countenance was chaunged in him, and his princes were astonyed.

10 Now the (f) queene by reason of the talke of the king and his Princes, came into the banket house, and the queene spake, and sayd, O king lyue for euer, let not thy thoughtes trouble thee, and let not thy countenaunce be chaunged.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome, that hath the spirite of the holy Goddes within him: and in the dayes of thy father, lyght, and vnderstandyng, and wysedome, lyke the wysedome of the goddes, was found in him, whome the king Nabuchodonosor thy father, the kyng (I say) thy father, made chiefe of the (g) wyse men, soothsayers, Chaldeans, and wysardes:

12 Bicause that suche an abundaunt spirite, knowledge, & vnderstanding, to expounde dreames, to open secretes, and to declare harde doubtes, was found in him, yea euen in Daniel, whome the king named Baltassar: let Daniel be called, and he shall declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the king: so the king spake vnto Daniell, and sayde, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Juda, whome my father the king brought out of Jurie?

14 I haue heard of thee, that thou hast the spirite of the holie goddes, and that lyght and vnderstanding, and excellent wisedome is founde in thee.

15 Now haue ther bin brought before me wise men, and soothsayers to rede this writing, and to shewe mee the interpretation therof: but they coulde not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee that thou couldest shewe interpretations, and dissolue doubts: nowe if thou canst reade this writing, and shewe me the meaning thereof, thou shalte be clothed with purple, and haue a chayne of golde aboute thy necke, and be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel aunswered, and sayde before the kyng, As for thy rewardes keepe them to thy selfe, and giue thy gyfts to an other: yet I will reade the writing vnto the king, and shewe him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the most high God gaue vnto (h) Nabuchodonosor thy father, a kingdome, and maiestie, and honour, and glorie.

19 And for the maiestie that hee gaue hym, all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before hym: he slue whome he would, he smote whom it pleased hym: againe, whome he would he sette vp, and whome

a. Daniel reciteth this historie of king Balthasar Euil-Merodachs sonne, to shewe Gods iudgements against the wicked, for the deliuerance of his churche, and how the prophecie of Ieremie was true, that they shoulde be deliuered after seuentie yeares.

whom he lyſt he put downe.

20 But becauſe his hart was loftie, and hys minde ſtrengthened in pryde, he was depoſed from his kyngly throne, and they toke hys glory from hym.

21 He was dryuen out from the ſonnes of men, hys harte was made lyke the beaſtes, and his dwellyng was with the wylde Aſſes, they fed hym with graſſe lyke Oxen, and his body was wet with the deawe of the heauen, till he knewe that the moſte hyghe God bare rule ouer the kyngdome of men, and that he appoynteth ouer it whom ſo euer he pleaſeth.

Baldaſar. 22 And thou his ſonne, "O Balthaſar, haſte not ſubmitted thine hart, though thou knoweſt all theſe things:

23 But haſte lifte vp thy ſelfe againſt the Lorde of heauen, ſo that the veſſels of hys houſe were brought before thee, that thou and thy prynces, with thy wiues and concubines, might drynke wyne thereout: and thou haſte prayſed the goddes of ſiluer and golde, of braſſe and iron, of wood and ſtone, whiche neyther ſee, heare, nor vnderſtande: As for the God in whoſe hande conſiſteth thy breath, and all thy wayes, thou haſte not glorified hym.

24 (i) Then was the knockles of the hande ſent from hym, and hath written this wryting.

25 And this is the wryting that he hath written: MENE, (k) MENE, THECEL, VPHRASIN.

26 Nowe the interpretation of the thyng is this: MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and brought it to an ende.

27 THECEL, Thou art wayed in the balance, and art founde wantyng.

28 PHERES, Thy kyngdome is diuided, and gyuen to the Medes, and Perſes.

29 Then commaunded Balthaſar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and a chayne of golde aboute his necke, and made a proclamation concernyng him, that he ſhoulde be the thyrde ruler in the kyngdome.

30 The very ſame night was Balthaſar the kyng of the Chaldees ſlayne.

31 And (l) Darius of the Medes toke the kyngdome, being threeſcore and two yeeres of age.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Daniel is made ruler ouer the lordes. 5. The imagination of an acte againſt Daniel. 7. The proclamation of the acte whereof Daniel is accuſed vnto the kyng as a tranſgreſſour. 16. He is put into a denne of Lions by the commaundement of the kyng. 23. He is deliuered by fayth in God. 24. Daniels accuſers are put vnto the Lions to be torne aſunder. 26. Darius by the proclamation of a decree, magnified the God of Daniel.

1 IT pleaſed Darius to ſet ouer his kingdome an hundred and twentie gouernours, which ſhould be ouer the whole kingdome. A

2 Aboue theſe he ſet three prynces, of whome Daniel was one, that the gouernours might gyue accomptes vnto them, and the kyng ſhould haue no damage.

3 Nowe this Daniel was preferred aboue ỹ princes & gouernours, for the ſpirite of God was plenteous in him: ſo that the kyng was minded to ſet hym ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore, the rulers and gouernours (a) ſought an occaſion againſt Daniel concernyng the kyngdome, but they coulde finde none occaſion nor faulte: for he was ſo faithfull, that there was no blame nor fault found in hym.

5 Then ſaid theſe mẽ, We ſhal find none occaſion againſt this Daniel, except we find it againſt him cõcerning the lawe of his God.

6 Upon this went the princes and lords together vnto the kyng, and ſayde this vnto him, Kyng Darius, lyue for euer.

7 All the rulers of thy kyngdome, the officers and gouernours, the counſellers & dukes, haue conſulted together to make a decree for the kyng, and to eſtabliſhe a ſtatute, That who ſo deſireth any petition eyther of any God or man within theſe thyrtie dayes, except of thee, O kyng, he ſhall be caſt into the Lions denne. B

8 Nowe, O kyng, confirme the decree, and ſeale the wryting, that it be not changed accordyng to the lawe of the Medes and Perſians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore, kyng Darius ſealed the wryting and decree.

10 Nowe when Daniel vnderſtode that he had ſealed the wryting, he went into his houſe, and the (b) wyndowes of his chamber towarde Hieruſalem ſtode open, there kneeled he downe vpon his knees three tymes a day, he made his petition, and prayſed hys God, as he dyd afortetyme.

11 Then theſe men aſſembled, and found Daniel makyng his petition, and praying vnto his God.

12 So they came to the kyng, and ſpake before hym concernyng hys commaundement, ſaying, O kyng, haſte thou not ſealed the decree, that within thirtie dayes, who ſo requyreth his petition of any God or man,

a. Thus the wicked cannot abyde the graces of God in others, but ſeeke by al occaſions to deface thẽ, therefore againſt ſuch aſſaultes there is no better remedie than to walke vprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conſcience.

b. Becauſe he would not by his ſcilence ſhew that he conſented to this wicked decree, he ſet open his windowes toward Hieruſalem whẽ he praied, both to ſtirre vp himſelfe with the remẽbrance of gods promiſes to his people, when they ſhould pray towarde that temple: & alſo that others might ſee, that he woulde neuer conſent in hart nor deede for theſe fewe dayes, to any thyng cõtrarie to Gods glory.

but onely of thy ſelfe, O king, he ſhall be caſt into the denne of Lions? The kyng anſweared, and ſayde, Yea, it is true, accordyng to the lawe of the Medes and Perſes that altereth not.

13 Then anſweared they, and ſayde vnto the kyng, This Daniel, whiche is of the chyldren of the captiuitie of Juda, O kyng, regardeth neyther thee, nor thy decree that thou haſte ſealed: but maketh his petition three tymes a day.

C 14 When the kyng hearde theſe wordes, hee was ſoare diſpleaſed with hymſelfe, and ſet his hart on Daniel to deliuer him, and he laboured till the ſunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then theſe men aſſembled vnto the kyng, and ſayde vnto hym, Knowe this, O kyng, that the lawe of the Medes and Perſes (a), that the commaundement and ſtatute whiche the kyng maketh, may not be (c) altered.

16 Then the kyng commaunded, and they brought Daniel, and they caſte hym into the Lions denne. Nowe the kyng ſpake vnto Daniell, and ſayde, Thy God whom thou alway ſerueſt, euen hee wyll deliuer thee.

17 And there was brought a ſtone, and layde vppon the mouthe of the denne, this the kyng ſealed with his owne ryng, and with the ſignet of his prynces, that the purpoſe concernyng Daniel, ſhould not be changed.

18 So the kyng went into his palace, and remayned faſtyng, neyther was there any inſtruments of muſicke brought in before him, and his ſleepe went from hym.

19 But betymes in the morning at the breake of the day, the kyng aroſe, and went in all haſte vnto the denne of the Lions.

20 Nowe as he came nygh vnto the denne, he cryed with a piteous voyce vnto Daniell, yea the kyng ſpake, and ſayde vnto Daniel, O Daniel, thou ſeruaunt of the lyuyng God, is not thy God, whome thou ſerueſt alway, able to deliuer thee from the Lions?

21 Then Daniel ſayd vnto the king, O king, lyue for euer:

22 My God hath ſente hys Angell, whiche hath ſhutte the Lyons mouthes, ſo that they myght not hurte mee, for myne (d) vngyltineſſe is founde out before hym: and as for thee, O kyng, I neuer (e) offended thee.

23 Then was the kyng exceedyng gladde for hym, and commaunded to take Daniel out of the denne: ſo Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no manner of hurte was founde vpon hym, for he (f) put his truſte in his God.

24 And as for thoſe men whiche had accuſed Daniel, the kyng commaunded to bryng them, and to (g) caſte them into the Lions denne, them, theyr children, and theyr wyues: ſo the Lions had the mayſterie of them, and brake all their bones aſunder, or euer they came at the grounde of the denne.

25 After this, wrote kyng Darius vnto all people, nations, and tongues, that dwell in al landes, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

26 My commaundement is in all my dominion and kingdome, that men feare & ſtande in awe of Daniels God: for he is the liuing God whiche abideth euer, his kingdome ſhal not fayle, and his power is euerlaſtyng.

27 It is he that delyuereth and ſaueth, he doth wonders, and maruelous workes in heauen, and in earth, he hath preſerued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

28 So this Daniel proſpered in the raygne of Darius, and in the raygne of Cyrus of Perſia.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. A viſion of foure beaſts is ſhewed vnto Daniel. 4. The viſion is interpreted of foure kingdomes of the worlde. 27. Of the euerlaſtyng kyugdome of Chriſt.

1 IN the firſt yeare of Balthaſar kyng of Babylon, ſawe Daniel a Dreame, and there were viſions in his head vpon his bed, whiche (a) dreame he wrote, and declared the ſumme of the matter,

2 Daniel ſpake, and ſayde, I ſawe in my viſion by night, & beholde, the foure (b) windes of heauen ſtroue vpon the great ſea,

3 And foure great beaſtes came vp from the ſea, one diuers from another.

4 The firſt was as a (c) Lion, and had Eagles wings: I beheld till his wings were pluckt from hym, and he lyfted vp from the earth, and ſet vpon his feete like a man, and there was gyuen him a mans hart.

5 Behold another beaſt, (whiche was) the ſeconde, was like a (d) Beare, and ſtode vpon the one ſide: betwixt his teeth in his mouth he had three ribbes, & it was ſayde vnto him thus, Ariſe, eate vp muche fleſhe.

6 Then I loked, and beholde, there was an

Whereas the people of Iſrael looked for a cōtinuall quietneſſe after theſe ſeuentie yeeres, as Ieremie had declared: he ſheweth that this reſt ſhuld not be a deliuerance frō all troubles, but a beginning, & therefore moued them to looke for a cōtinual afflictiō til the Meſſias be vttered and reuealed, by whome they ſhoulde haue a ſpirituall deliuerance, and al the promiſes fulfilled, whereof they ſhould haue a certayne token in the deſtruction of the Babylonical kingdome. b. The beaſts are kings, kingdomes, or Monarchies: By the Lion, the kingdome of Babylō is vnderſtanded, which ſpeedily vanquiſhed the nations adioyning: but after his wings were pluckte, and his kingdome taken away, he returned to the condition of a man, and no Lion. d. The ſeconde Monarchie of the Perſians and Medes.

an other like vnto a (e) Leoparde, this had wings as a foule, euen (f) foure vppon the backe: this beast had foure heads, and there was power giuen him.

7 After this I sawe in a vision by nyght, and beholde, the fourth beaste was grimme and horrible, and marueylous strong: (g) it had great iron teeth, it deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feete, it was vnlike the other beasts that were before it, for it had (g) ten hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another little horne, before whome there were three of the fyrste hornes pluckt away: and beholde, this horne had eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the thrones were set vp, and the (h) auncient of dayes did syt: whose garment was white as snowe, and the heares of his head lyke the pure wool: his throne was like the fierie flambe, and his (i) wheeles as burning fyre.

10 There issued forth a fyerie streame, and went out from before him: a thousand thousands ministred vnto him, and ten thousande thousandes stode before him: the iudgement was set, and the (k) bookes opened.

11 Then toke I heede therevnto, bycause of the voyce of the proude wordes whiche the horne spake: I beheld til the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and giuen to be brent in the fyre.

12 As concerning the other beastes, they had their dominion taken away, but their lyues were prolonged for a certaine tyme and season.

13 I sawe in visions by nighte, and beholde there came (l) one in the cloudes of heauen, like the sonne of man: which went vnto the auncient of dayes, before whom they brought him.

14 And he gaue hym dominion and honour, and a kingdome, that al people, nations, and languages shoulde serue him: his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shall neuer be taken away, and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirite in the middest of my body, and the visions of my head made me afrayde.

16 I gate me vnto (m) one of them that stod by, and asked him the trueth concerning all these thynges: so he tolde me, and made me vnderstande the interpretation of these thynges.

17 These great beastes whiche are foure, are foure kynges whiche shall aryse out of the earth:

18 But the (n) hygh saintes shall receyue a kingdome, and possesse a kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this, I required to knowe the truth concerning the fourth beast, whiche was so vnlike the other beastes, & so horrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nayles of brasse, which deuoured, and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feete:

20 (I desyred) also (to knowe the trueth) as touching the ten hornes that he had vpon hys head, and this other whiche came vp afterward, before whose face there fell downe three, which horne had eyes, and a mouth that spake presumptuous things, and looked with a grimmer visage than his (o) felowes.

21 I beheld, and the same horne made battaile against the saints, yea and preuayled against them.

22 Untill the auncient of dayes came, that the iudgemente was giuen to the high saintes, and till the time came that the saints had the kingdome in possession.

23 He gaue me this answeare: That fourth beast, shall be the fourth kingdome vppon earth, it shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes: it shall deuour, treade downe, and destroy al other landes.

24 The ten hornes, are ten kynges that shal arise out of that kingdome: after whome there shall stande vp another, which shall be vnlyke to the fyrste, and he shall subdue three kynges:

25 And he shall speake wordes against the hyghest of all, hee shall destroy the high saintes, and thynke that he may chaunge times and lawes: they shall be giuen into hys hand vntill a tyme, and tymes, and the dividing of a tyme.

26 But the iudgement shal sit, and they shal take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the ende.

27 And the kingdome and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen, shall be giuen to the (p) people of high saintes, whose kyngdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and all powers shall serue and obey it.

28 Hitherto the end of the wordes: I Daniel had many cogitations (which) troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but the wordes I kept still in mine hart.

VIII 1 IN the third yeere of the raygne of king Balthaſar, there appeared a viſion vnto me (euen) vnto mee Daniel, (a) after that which I had ſeene in the beginning.

2 I ſaw in a viſion (and when I ſawe it, I was in the palace of Suſis, whiche is in the prouince of (b) Elam) and in the viſion me thought I was by the riuer of Ulai.

3 Then I loked vp and ſawe, and beholde, there ſtode before the riuer a (c) ramme which had two hornes: and theſe two hornes were high, but (d) one was higher than the other, and the higheſt came vp laſt.

4 I ſaw that this ramme puſhed wyth hys hornes againſt the weſt, againſte the nozth, and againſt the ſouth: ſo that no (e) beaſtes might ſtande before him, nor defende them from his power, but he did as him lyſted, and became great.

5 And as I conſydered, behold there came a hee (f) goate from the weſt, ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and thys goate had a (g) horne appeared betwixt hys eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes, (whome I had ſeene ſtandyng by the riuer) and ranne fiercely vpon hym with his might.

7 And I ſawe hym drawe nygh vnto the ramme, being very fierce vpon him, yea he (h) ſmote the ramme, and brake his two hornes, neyther hadde the ramme ſo muche ſtrength as to ſtande before him: but he caſt him downe to the ground, trode him vnder his feete, and there was none able to deliuer the ramme out of his power.

8 Therfore the goate waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the ſtrongeſt, his great (i) horne was broken: then grew there other (k) foure notable ones in the ſteede of it, toward the foure windes of the heauen.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little (l) horne, whiche waxed very great towarde the (m) ſouth, toward the (n) eaſt, and toward the (o) pleaſant lande.

10 (p) It grewe vp vnto the hoſt of heauen, wherof it did caſt ſome down to the grounde, and of the ſtarres alſo, and trode them vnder foote.

11 Yea it grewe vp againſte the (q) prince of the hoſt, from whom the (r) dayly (ſacrifice) was taken away, and the places of his ſanctuarie caſt downe.

12 And power was giuen vnto it ouer the dayly (ſacrifice) for the iniquitie, and it ſhall (s) caſt downe the trueth to the ground: and thus ſhall it do, and proſper.

13 Upon this, I heard one of the ſaintes ſpeaking, and one of the (t) ſaintes ſpake vnto (v) Palmoni, ſaying, Howe long ſhall the viſion of the dayly (ſacrifice) and of the iniquitie of deſolation (endure) to giue both the ſanctuarie and the power to be troden vnder foote:

14 And he anſweared me, Vnto the (x) euening and the morning two thouſande and three hundred: then ſhall the ſanctuarie bee cleanſed.

15 Now when I Daniel had ſeene thys viſion, and ſoughte for the vnderſtanding of it: beholde there ſtode before me (y) like the ſimilitude of a man.

16 And I hearde a mans voyce (z) betweene Ulai, whiche cryed, and ſayde, O Gabriel (aa) make this manne vnderſtande the viſion.

17 So he came, and ſtode by me: but I was afrayd at his comming, and fell downe vpon my face: Then ſayd he vnto me, Vnderſtande O thou ſonne of man: for at the (bb) time of the ende this viſion (ſhalbe.)

18 Now as he was ſpeaking vnto me, I fell in a ſlumber vpon my face to the ground: but he touched mee, and ſet me vp in my place.

19 And he ſayde, Beholde, I will ſhewe thee what ſhall be in the laſt wrathe: for in the time appoynted, it ſhall be fulfilled.

22 But whereas it brake, and four other roſe vp in the ſteede: (it ſignifyeth,) that out of this people ſhall ſtande vp four kingdomes, but not ſo mightie as it.

23 And in the end of their kingdome, when the wicked are come to the full, a king of a (cc) fierce countenance, and vnderſtandyng hard ſentences, ſhall ſtand vp.

24 His power ſhall be mightie, but not in (dd) hys ſtrength, and he ſhall deſtroy wonderfully, he ſhall proſper and practiſe, and deſtroy the (ee) mightie, and the holy people.

25 And through his policie alſo he ſhal cauſe craft to proſper in his hands, he ſhall extoll hym ſelfe in his hart, and in proſperitie hee ſhall deſtroy many, and many one ſhall be put to deathe in hys wealthyneſſe: he ſhall ſtand vp againſte the (ff) prince of princes, but

1 IN the firste yeere of Darius the sonne of (a) Assuerus, whiche was of the seede of the Medes, and was made king ouer the (b) realme of the Chaldees.

2 Euen in the fyrste yeere of his raigne, I Daniel vnderstode by (c) bookes the nũmber of the yeeres, whereof the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie the prophet, that he would accomplishe seuentie yeeres in the desolation of Hierusalem.

3 And I turned my face vnto the Lorde God, and sought by prayer and supplication, with fasting, sackcloth and ashes.

4 I prayed vnto the Lorde my God, and made my confession, saying, O Lord God, great and fearefull, which keepeth couenant and mercy with them that loue "him, and keepe his commaundments:

5 We haue sinned, and haue committed iniquitie, and haue done wickedly, yea we haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.

6 We would not obey thy seruauntes the prophets, ỳ spake in thy name to our kinges and princes, to our forefathers, and to all the people of the lande.

7 O Lorde, rychteousnesse belongeth vnto thee, vnto vs open shame, as is come to passe this daye vnto euery man of Juda, and to them that dwell at Hierusalem, yea vnto al Israll, whether they bee farre or nigh thorowout all the landes whyther thou hast driuen them, bycause of their offences that they haue done against thee.

8 Yea Lorde, vnto vs, to our kings, and princes, to oure forefathers that haue offended thee, belongeth open shame.

9 Unto the Lorde our God pertayneth compassion and forgiuenesse, though we haue rebelled against him.

10 And we haue not obeyed the (d) voice of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes, which he layd before vs, by the hand of his seruants the prophetes.

11 Yea all Israel haue transgressed and gone backe from thy lawe, so that they haue not hearkened vnto thy voyce: wherefore the (e) curse and othe that is written in the lawe of Moses the seruaunt of God, against whome we haue offended, is powred vpon vs.

12 And he hath confirmed his wordes, whyche he spake against vs, and against our iudges that iudged vs, to bring vpon vs such a great plague as neuer was vnder heauen, lyke as it is now come to passe in Hierusalem.

13 Yea, all this plague, as it is written in the law of Moses, is come vpon vs: yet made we not our prayers before the Lord our god, that we might turne agayne from our wickednesse, and vnderstand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lorde watched vpon the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his workes whiche he doth: for we would not hearken vnto his voyce.

15 And nowe, O Lorde our God, thou that with a myghtie hande hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt to get thy selfe a name, which remayneth thys day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

16 O Lorde, according to all thy (f) rychteousnesse, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from thy citie of Hierusalem, thy holy hyll: for bycause of our sinnes, & for the wickednesse of our fathers, Hierusalem and thy people are a reproche to all them that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare ỳ prayer of thy seruaunt, and his intercession: O let thy face (g) shyne ouer thy sanctuarie that lyeth wast, for the (h) Lords sake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare, and hearke, open thyne eyes, beholde how we be desolated, yea, and the citie also which is called after thy name: for we doe not presente oure prayers before thee in our (i) owne righteousnesse, but in thy great mercies.

19 O Lord heare, O forgiue Lord, O Lorde (k) consyder and doe it, defarre not for thyne owne sake, O my God, bycause thy name is called vpon thy citie, and vpon thy people.

20 And I was yet a speaking at my prayers, knowledging mine owne sinnes, and the sinnes of my people Israell, presenting so myne intercession before the Lorde my God,

The. x. Chapter.

1. There appeareth vnto Daniel a mā clothed in lynnen, 11. which ſheweth him wherefore he was ſent.

1 IN the (a) thyrd yeere of Cyrus king of Perſia, there was ſhewed vnto Daniel, otherwiſe called Baltaſſar, a matter, yea, a true matter, but it is yet a long time vnto it: he vnderſtood the matter, and perceyued what the viſion was.

a. He notes this thyrde yeere, bycause at this time the buildinge of the temple began to be hindred by Cambiſes, Cyrus ſonne, who the father made warre in Aſia minor, againſt the Scithians, which was a diſcouraging to the godly, and a great feare to Daniel.

2 In the ſame time, I Daniel mourned for the ſpace of thyree weekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleaſant bread, as for fleſhe and wine, ther came none within my mouth: no, I dyd not once annoynte my ſelfe, till the whole thyree weekes of dayes were fulfilled.

4 Vpon the four and twentieth daye of the fyrſt moneth, I was by the ſyde of the great ryuer, (euen) Hiddekel.

5 I lift vp mine eyes, and loked: and behold a man clothed in linnen, whoſe loynes were girded vp with fyne golde of Vphaz.

6 His body was like the Thurkis ſtone, hys face to loke vpon was lightning, hys eyes as lampes of fyre, his armes and feete were like in colour to pulliſhed braſſe, and the voyce of his wordes, was like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone ſawe this viſion, for the men that were with me, ſawe not the viſion: but a great fearefulneſſe fell vpon them, ſo that they fleede away, and hidde themſelues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and ſawe thys great viſion, and there remayned no ſtrength in me: for my colour was turned in mee into corruption, and I retayned no ſtrength.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of hys wordes: and when I heard the voyce of his wordes, I fell aſtonied vpon my face, and my face towarde the earth.

10 And behold, a hand touched me, whiche ſet me vp vpon my knees, and vpon the paulmes of my handes.

11 And hee ſayde vnto me, O Daniel, thou welbeloued man, take good heede to the wordes that I ſay vnto thee, and ſtand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now ſent. And when he had ſayde theſe wordes vnto me, I ſtoode vp trembling.

12 Then ſayde he vnto me, feare not Daniel, for ſynce the fyrſt day that thou diddeſt ſet thyne hart to vnderſtande, and to chaſten thy ſelfe before thy God, thy wordes were harde, and I am come for thy wordes.

13 But

15 But the (b) prince of the kingdome of Perſia withſtode me one and twentie dayes: but loe, Michael one of the chiefe princes came to helpe mee, and I remayned there by the kings of Perſia.

14 And I am come to cauſe thee what ſhall come vnto thy people in the latter dayes: for it wyl be long yet or ỹ viſion be fulfilled.

15 Nowe when he had ſpoken theſe wordes vnto mee, I caſt downe my head to the grounde.

16 And beholde, there touched my lippes one very like vnto a man: then opened I my mouth, and ſpake, and ſayde vnto him that ſtode before me, O my Lorde, by the viſion my ioyntes are turned out of (their) place, & I haue reteyned no ſtrength.

17 For how can the ſeruant of thys my Lord talke with my Lord (beyng) ſuch a one? And as for me, ſtraightway there remayned no ſtrength in mee, neyther is there breath lefte in me.

18 Then there came agayne, and touched me, one like the appearance of a man, and hee ſtrengthened me.

19 And ſayd, O man, greatly beloued, feare not, peace be vnto thee, be ſtrong, and of good courage. So when he had ſpoken vnto me, I was ſtrengthened, and ſayde, Speake on my Lord, for thou haſt ſtrengthened me.

20 Thus ſayd he, Knoweſt thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? Now will I returne to fyght with the prince of the Perſes: as ſoone as I goe forthe, loe, the (c) prince of Greke land ſhall come.

21 Neuertheleſſe, I will ſhewe thee that, that is noted in the ſcripture of truth: and ther is none that helpeth me in theſe thinges, but (d) Michael your prince.

1 AND in the fyrſt yeere of Darius of Media, (a) I ſtode to comforte him, and to ſtrengthen him.

2 And now will I ſhew thee the truth: Behold, there ſhall ſtande vp yet (b) three kings in Perſia, but the fourth ſhall be farre richer than they all: and by his ſtrength, and by hys riches, hee ſhall ſtyrre vp (c) all againſte the realme of Greke land.

3 Then ſhall there ariſe yet a (d) mightie king, that ſhall rule with greate dominion, and do what him liſt.

4 And when he ſhall ſtand vp, his kingdome ſhall be (e) broken, and ſhall be diuided toward the foure windes of the heauen, and not toward his poſteritie, nor according to hys dominion which he ruled: for his kingdome ſhal be pluckt vp, euē for others beſides theſe.

5 And the (f) king of the ſouth ſhal be mightie, and (g) (one) of his princes, and he ſhall preuayle againſt him, and beare rule: his dominion ſhall be a great dominion.

6 And in the ende of yeeres they ſhall be ioyned together, and the kinges (h) daughter of the ſouth, ſhall come to the king of ỹ north, for to make an agreement, but he ſhall not reteyne the power of the (i) arme, neyther ſhall be continue, nor his arme: but he ſhall be deliuered (to death) & they that brought hir, and he that begate hir, and he that comforted hir in theſe times.

7 But out of the budde of hir (k) roote ſhall one ſtande vp in his ſteede, whiche ſhall (l) come with an armie, and ſhall enter into the fortreſſe of the king of the north, and do with them (as he lyſt,) and ſhall preuayle.

8 And ſhall alſo carry captiues into Egypt, their Goddes, with their moulten images, with their precious veſſelles of ſyluer and of golde, and he ſhall continue more yeeres thā the king of the north.

9 So the king of the ſouth ſhall come into his kingdome, and ſhall returne into hys owne lande.

10 Wherefore his ſonnes ſhall be ſtirred vp, (m) and ſhall gather togeather a mightie greate hoſt of people, and (n) one ſhall come and ouerflow, & paſſe through: then ſhall he turne again, & be (o) ſtirred vp at his fortreſſe.

11 Then the king of the ſouth ſhall be angry, and ſhall come forth to fyght with hym, (euen) with the king of the north, for he ſhal ſet forth a great multitude, and the multitude ſhall be giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude ſhall be proude, and their harts ſhall be lifted vp, for he ſhall caſt downe thouſandes, but he ſhall not ſtil preuayle.

13 For the (p) king of the north ſhall returne and ſhall ſet forth a greater multitude than afore, and ſhall come forthe (after certaine yeres) with a mightie arme, & great richeſſe.

14 And

b. Meaning Cambiſes, who raged in hys fathers abſēce, did not only hinder thus long the building of the temple, but wolde haue further raged, if God had not ſent me to reſiſt hym: and therefore haue I ſtayed for the proteyne of the Church.

14 And at the same time there (q) shall many stand vp against the king of the south, so that the (r) seditious children of thy people also shall exalt themselues to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the north shall come and cast vp a mount, and take the strong cities: and the (s) armes of the south shall not resist, neyther his chosen people, neyther shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 And when hee commeth, hee shall handle him as he list, and no mã shall stand against him: he shall stande in the pleasant (t) lande, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 Agayne, he shall set his face to enter wyth the power of his whole kingdome, and hys confederates with him, thus shall he do: and he shall giue him the (v) daughter of women to destroy hir: but she shall not stand (on hys syde,) neyther before him.

18 After this, shall he turne his face vnto the (x) Iles, and shall take many: but a (y) prince shall cause his shame to lyght vpon him, beside that, hee shall cause his owne shame to turne vpon hym selfe:

19 For he shall turne his face toward the forts of his owne lande, but he shall be (z) ouerthrowen, and fall, and be no more founde.

20 Then shall (aa) stand vp in his place a raiser of taxes (in) the glory of the kingdome, and after a few dayes he shall be destroyed, neyther in wrath nor in battayle.

21 In his steede there shal stand vp a (bb) vile person, to whome they shall not giue the honour of the kingdome: but he shall come in peaceably, and obteyne the kingdome wyth flatteries.

22 And the (cc) armes shall be ouerflowed with a flood before him, and shall be broken, and also the prince of the couenant.

23 And after the (dd) league made with hym, he shall worke deceitfully: for he shall come vp and ouercome with a (ee) small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentiful prouince, and he shall do that whiche (ff) his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shall diuide among them the pray, and the spoyle, and the substance, yea, and hee shall forecast his deuises against the strong holds, (euen) for a time.

25 Also his power and hart shall be styrre vp with a greate armie against the king of the south, the king of the south shal be moued vnto battayle with a greate and a mightie host also: neuertheless, he (gg) shall not stande, for they shall forecast deuises against hym.

26 Yea, (hh) they that feede of the portion of his meate, shall destroy him, and his armie shall (ii) ouerflowe and many shall fall, and be slayne.

27 These two kynges hartes shall be to doe (kk) mischiefe, and they shall talke of deceit at one table, but it shall not prosper, for yet the end shall be at the time appoynted.

28 Then shall he goe home againe into hys lande with (ll) greate substance, and set hys hart against the holy couenant, so shal he do, and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appoynted hee shall come againe, and goe toward the south: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships of (mm) Chittim shall come against him, therefore he shal be sorie, and returne, and fret against the holy couenant: so shall he do, he shall (euen) returne and haue intelligence with them (nn) that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And (oo) armes shall stande on his parte, and they shall pollute the sanctuarie of (pp) strength, and shall take away the dayly (sacrifice) and they shall set vp the abhominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the couenant, shall hee cause to synne by flatterie, but the people that knowe their God, shall preuayle, and prosper.

33 Those also that haue (qq) vnderstanding among the people, shall enfourme the multitude, and for a long season they shal (rr) fall with swoorde, with fyre, with captiuitie, and with the taking away of their goods.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a (ss) little help, but many shall cleaue
